Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1.362(d), effective Nov. 1, 1984, provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for a six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(k) or (l), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985. If the maintenance fee is not paid in a patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on Jan. 3, 1984, for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,423,523 through 4,424,594
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M, Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e) and (h), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR §1.20 Post-issuance fees

"(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant . . . $ 225.00"

"(h) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 225.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 450.00"

The amounts of the surcharges as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20 (k) and (l) which are reproduced below:

"(k) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982 . . . . . $ 110.00"

"(l) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 55.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 110.00"

Section 1.20 paragraph (m) as amended as a result of enactment of Public Law 98–622 effective Nov. 8, 1984, is reproduced below:

"(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable . . . . . $ 500.00"

Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fees

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Interference Practice: Response to Order to Show Cause Under 37 CFR 1.640

37 CFR 1.640(e) provides that when an order to show cause under 37 CFR 1.640(d) is issued against an interference party, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences will enter judgment against that party "unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party against whom the order issued files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order." In the application of this rule, some confusion has arisen as to the nature of the "paper" which the party must file when the basis of the order is 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1), i.e., where "[a] decision on a motion is entered which is dispositive of the interference against the party on any count."

Normally, the "paper" filed in response to such an order to show cause should be a simple request that final hearing (see 37 CFR 1.654) be set to review the decision on the motion which was dispositive of the interference against the party, as well as any other decision on motion which the party may wish to have reviewed by the Board.* When such a response is filed, the Examiner-in-Chief will normally set the times for filing briefs under 37 CFR 1.656. The response should be accompanied by a motion requesting a testimony period, if the party desires to take testimony. See 37 CFR 1.640(e), last sentence. Also, an opposing party may request a testimony period, even if the party responding to the order to show cause does not. Such a request should be filed promptly after the Examiner-in-Chief enters an order setting the brief times, but in no event more than twenty (20) days after entry of such order. Cf. the Commissioner's Notice of June 15, 1981, 1008 O.G. 9 (July 14, 1981).

Instead of filing a request that final hearing be set, the party under order to show cause may file a paper containing a full discussion of the reasons why judgment should not be entered. However, before deciding to file such a paper, the following should be taken into consideration:

(1) Such paper will be construed as a request for final hearing if a testimony period is requested;

(2) Such paper will be deemed a waiver of any opportunity to present oral argument concerning the matters discussed therein, and the matter will be decided by the Board based upon the content of the paper and any response thereto;

(3) An opposing party may still request final hearing and/or a testimony period within twenty (20) days of the date of service of the paper, and if either request is granted it will be necessary for the parties to file briefs under 37 CFR 1.656.

It is the policy of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences that when final hearing is set pursuant to a request therefor following an order to show cause issued as a result of a decision on preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 or 1.634, the parties must raise at that hearing for consideration by the Board all matters specified in 37 CFR 1.655(b) which were decided on the merits by the Examiner-in-Chief and which they wish to have considered. In other words, once the brief times are set for such a final hearing, every matter which was decided by an Examiner-in-Chief in connection with a motion under 37 CFR 1.633 or 1.634 must be raised in the parties' main briefs if the parties wish to have those matters considered by the Board. A party cannot wait to see what the Board's decision on one such matter will be and then, if the decision is unfavorable to the party and the case continues, raise that matter or any other such matter at a subsequent final hearing.

DONALD W. PETERSON,
Deputy Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Dec. 8, 1986.

*It should be recognized that the decision of the Board following the final hearing may not terminate the interference. For example, if the order to show cause resulted from an Examiner-in-Chief's grant of a motion for judgment, and the Board after final hearing reversed the Examiner-in-Chief's decision, the case might then proceed to the taking of priority testimony. The Board's decision would however be final with regard to the basis of the motion for judgment.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries, receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections are open to public use and each of the Patent Depository Libraries, in addition, offers the publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System (e.g. The Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, etc.) and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. With one exception, as noted in the table following, the collections are organized in patent number sequence.

Facilities for making paper copies from either microfilm in reader-printers or from the bound volumes in paper-to-paper copies are generally provided for a fee.

Owing to variations in the scope of patent collections among the Patent Depository Libraries and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours, so as to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

INFORMATION AND CORRESPONDENCE

(1) Official Patent Office Mailing Address Remains Washington, D.C.

The official mailing address for all communications sent to the Patent Office remains:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Any telegrams sent to the Patent Office must also bear the above identical address.

The physical location of the Patent Office is 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia. This address must not be used when addressing mail to the Patent Office.

No reference to Crystal Plaza, Virginia, should be made in the address of any communication intended for delivery to the Patent Office by the Post Office Department or Western Union.

Compliance with this instruction will help prevent any unnecessary delay in the delivery of mail, telegrams, etc.

C. A. KALK,
Feb. 20, 1969. Director of Administration.

(Office name change per Public Law 93–596, Jan. 2, 1975)

[860 O.G. 662]

(2) Group Number on all Communications Going to the Examining Groups

Applicants and their attorneys or agents are reminded that the Group number should be typed on amendments and other communications relating to matters handled in the examining groups in order to expedite the processing of mail. The number of the Group should be placed on right-hand side, opposite the serial number or name of the applicant.

This reminder does not apply to notices and reasons of appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. These communications should be sent to the Solicitor at the address below:

Solicitor
Box 8
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

Attention to these details will improve the efficiency and reduce the time necessary to process incoming mail.

THERESA A. BRELSFORD,
Nov. 23, 1983. Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[1037 OG 25]

(3) Mailing of Papers to the PTO in Patent Interference Proceedings

Effective immediately, attorneys and agents are requested to address all papers mailed to the Patent and Trademark Office in connection with an interference proceeding, and any patent or application involved in an interference proceeding, as follows:

BOX INTERFERENCE
Washington, D.C. 20231

Use of this address will considerably assist the Board in its administration of patent interference proceedings.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Nov. 28, 1983. Deputy Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

[1037 OG 25]

(4) Identification for Application Correspondence

The Office is continuing to experience difficulty in matching incoming papers with the corresponding application files. This applies especially to responses to Office Actions, powers of attorney, changes of address, status letters, requests for extensions of time, and petitions.

A very necessary part of a complete identification of a pending application is the three-digit Group or Art Unit number, e.g., 110 or 111. Frequently, the Group Art Unit number is entirely omitted, or there are errors in this number. In the latter situation the error often occurs as a result of the case having been reassigned within the Office, and the communication is directed to an Examining Group other than that indicated in the most recent Office Action.

Where the Group Art Unit number is entirely omitted, the routine operations of the Application Branch must be interrupted solely for the purpose of determining the location of the application so that the communication can be properly routed. Under these circumstances the efficiency of the Application Branch is impaired and the incoming paper is delayed in reaching its proper destination. Where such papers are not essential to compliance with a statutory period or time limit for response, they may be returned for completion to identify the location of the files.

To assist the Office in expediting its business, it is requested that ALL papers relating to a pending application include the following information:

1. Serial number (checked for accuracy),
2. Group Art Unit number (copied from filing receipt or most recent Office Action),
3. Filing date,
4. Name of the Examiner who prepared the most recent Office Action.
5. Title of the invention.

To further reduce the burden on Application Branch and the Examining Groups, it is also requested that the submission of additional or supplemental papers on a newly filed application be deferred until a filing receipt has been received. In the same vein, it would be appreciated if the filing of additional papers, relating to an allowed application were deferred until a notice of allowance (POL-85) was received.

If the above suggestions are adopted the processing of both new and allowed applications could proceed more efficiently and promptly through the Patent Office.

RICHARD A. WAHL,
Mar. 5, 1971. Assistant Commissioner.

[885 O.G. 2]

(5) Identifying Application Correspondence With Issue Batch Number

Applicants or their attorney or agent can facilitate matching incoming papers with the corresponding application file by indicating the Issue Batch Number on all papers filed in the Office after receiving the Notice of Allowance and before the time the Issue Fee Receipt is received.

The Issue Batch Number is printed on the Notice of Allowance form in Box 4 in the lower left-hand corner below the address. The Issue Batch Number consists of a capital letter followed by two digits, for example; "A03," "D18," "F42," "J79." Any lower case letters before the Issue Batch Number should be ignored since they are the typist's initials. Use of the Issue Batch Numbers is important since the allowed applications are filed by these numbers.

Any paper filed after receiving the Issue Fee Receipt should include the indicated patent number rather than the Issue Batch Number. At this time in the processing, the Issue Batch Number is no longer useful since the application has been removed from the batch at the time the patent number was assigned.

RICHARD J. SHAKMAN,
Jan. 16, 1976. Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[943 O.G. 519]

(6) Hand Delivery of Papers

The notices of November 10, 1969 (869 O.G. 345) and September 8, 1970 (879 O.G. 667), regarding "Hand Delivery of Papers," are superseded and the practice indicated below is hereby made effective.

Any paper which relates to a pending application may be personally delivered to an Examining Group. However, the Examining Group will accept the paper only if: (1) the paper is accompanied by some form of receipt which can be handed back to the person delivering the paper; and (2) the Examining Group being asked to receive the paper is responsible for acting on the paper.

The receipt may take the form of a duplicate copy of such paper or a card identifying the paper. The identifying data on the card should be so complete as to leave no uncertainty as to the paper filed. For example, the card should contain the applicant's name(s), Serial No., filing date and a description of the paper being filed. If more than one paper is being filed for the same application, the card should contain a description of each paper or item.

Under this procedure, the paper and receipt will be date stamped with the Group date stamp. The receipt will be handed back to the person hand delivering the paper. The paper will be correlated with the application and made an official paper in the file, thereby avoiding the necessity of processing and forwarding the paper to the Examining Group via the Mail Room.

The Examining Group will accept and date stamp a paper even though the paper is accompanied by a check or the paper contains an authorization to charge a Deposit Account. However, in such an instance, the paper will be hand carried by Group personnel to the Office of Finance for processing and then made an official paper in the file.

WILLIAM FELDMAN,
Jan. 29, 1974. Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

[919 O.G. 1070]

(7) Post Card Receipt Reminder

Applicants and their attorneys or agents are reminded of the provision in Section 717.01(a) (now Section 503) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure relating to the use of post cards as "receipts" of papers filed in the Patent Office.

If a receipt for any paper filed in the Patent Office is desired, it may be had by enclosing with the paper a self-addressed post card identifying the paper. The Patent Office will stamp the receipt date on the card and place it in the outgoing mail.

The identifying data on the card should be so complete as to match the paper with the application or other document to which it is to be associated. For example, the document should be identified by the applicant's name(s), Serial No., filing date, appeal number, interference number, etc., and the paper should be identified by specifying the type thereof, viz, affidavit, amendment, appeal, application papers, brief, drawings, fees, motions, supplemental oath or declaration, petition, etc.

When papers for more than one document are filed under a single cover a return post card should be attached to the paper for each document for which a receipt is desired.

RICHARD A. WAHL,
Nov. 21, 1968. Assistant Commissioner.

[857 O.G. 667]

(8) Acknowledgement of Receipt of a Patent or Trademark Application

When early notification of the serial number of newly filed application papers is desired, a stamped, self-adressed post card should be submitted with each application. Immediately after the mail has been opened in the Patent and Trademark Office, the post card will be stamped with both the receipt date and the serial number, and then returned to the addressee.

Within recent months, hundreds of cards could not be successfully returned because of insufficient postage or incomplete or nonexistent forwarding addresses. Accurate and complete addresses, including ZIP codes, are necessary to ensure prompt acknowledgement of the receipt of patent and trademark applications.

To assist in easy identification once the post card has been returned, it is suggested that the post card include applicant's names and title of invention.

When more than one set of application papers is filed under one cover, a return post card should be attached to each set of papers for which a receipt is desired.

THERESA A. BRELSFORD,
July 19, 1982. Acting Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[1021 O.G. 96]

(9) Status Inquiries

In an effort to sharply reduce the volume and need for status inquiries, the past policy that diligence must be established by making timely status requests in connection with petitions to revive is hereby discontinued.

When an application has been abandoned for an excessive period before the filing of a petition to revive, an appropriate terminal disclaimer may be required. It should also be recognized that a petition to revive must be accompanied by the proposed response unless it has been previously filed (Rule 137). Also, under Rule 113, "Response to a final rejection or action must include cancellation of, or appeal from the rejection of, each claim so rejected and, if any claim stands allowed, compliance with any requirement or objection as to form."

New Applications

Current examining procedures now provide for the routine mailing from the Examining Groups of Form POL-327 in every case of allowance of an application except where an Examiner's Amendment is promptly mailed. Thus, the separate mailing of a Form POL-327 or an Examiner's Amendment in addition to a formal Notice of Allowance (POL-85) in all allowed cases would seem to obviate the need for status inquiries even as a precautionary measure where the applicant may believe his new application may have been passed to issue on the first examination. However, as an exception, a status inquiry would be appropriate where a Notice of Allowance is not received within three months from receipt of either a Form POL-327 or an Examiner's Amendment.

Current examining procedures also aim to minimize the spread in dates among the various examiner dockets of each Art Unit and Group with respect to actions on new applications. Accordingly, the dates of the "oldest new applications" appearing in the Official Gazette are fairly reliable guides as to the expected time frames of when the Examiners reach the cases for action.

Therefore, it should be rarely necessary to query the status of a new application.

Amended Applications

Amended cases are expected to be taken up by the examiner and an action completed within two months of the amendment date. Accordingly, a status inquiry is not in order after response by the attorney until five or six months have elapsed with no response from the Patent Office. A post card receipt for responses to Office actions, adequately and specifically identifying the papers filed, will be considered prima facie proof of receipt of such papers. Where such proof indicates the timely filing of a response, the submission of a copy of the post card with a copy of the response will ordinarily obviate the need for a petition to revive. Proof of receipt of a timely response to a final action will obviate the need for a petition to revive only if the response was in compliance with Rule 113.

In General

It is expected that this new policy will result in sharply reducing the number of status inquiries and permit the time now spent on them to be used in increasing Patent Office efficiency in other more essential areas.

Such status inquiries as may be still necessary may be more expeditiously processed by the Patent Office if each inquiry includes the application Serial Number, filing date, name of the applicant, name of the Examiner who prepared the most recent Office action, and Group Art Unit (taken from the most recent Office communication) in addition to the last known status of the application, and is accompanied by a stamped return-addressed envelope. Telephone inquiries regarding the status of applications should be directed to the group clerical personnel and not to the examiners. Inasmuch as the official records and applications are located in the clerical section of the Examining Groups, the clerical personnel can readily provide status information without consulting the examiners.

Status replies will be made by the Patent Office clerical support force and will only indicate whether the application is awaiting action by the Examiner or the applicant's response to an Office action. In the latter instance the mailing date of the Office action will also be given.

The Notices of Dec. 5, 1969 (869 O.G. 1031) and Sept. 22, 1965 (819 O.G. 444) are hereby superseded.

RICHARD A. WAHL,
Nov. 24, 1971. Assistant Commissioner of Patents.

[893 O.G. 810]

(10) Change of Address

There recently has been an increased incidence in the number of applications suffering from disruptions in communications stemming from failure to notify the Patent and Trademark Office of a change of address on the part of applicant's representative (attorney or agent of record) in each application wherein he holds an active power of attorney. Applications have become abandoned as a result of an Office action being mailed to the old, uncorrected address and thereby failing to reach the representative at his new address sufficiently early to permit him to file a timely response. Accordingly, the requirement set out below is published as a reminder and is designed to ameliorate this problem.

Where an attorney or agent of record (or applicant, if he is prosecuting his application pro se) changes his correspondence address, he is responsible for promptly notifying the Patent and Trademark Office of his new correspondence address (including ZIP code number). A separate notification must be filed in each application for which he is intended to receive communications from the Office. The notification should also include his telephone number.

While the notification need take no particular form, it should be provided in a manner calling attention to the fact that a change of address is being made. Thus, the mere inclusion, in a paper being filed for another purpose, of an address different from the previously provided correspondence address, without mention of the fact that an address change is being made, would not ordinarily be recognized or deemed as instructions to change the address on the file record.

It is emphasized that the above-delineated responsibility is additional to the separate obligation (see 37 CFR 1.347) of a registered attorney or agent to notify the Attorney's Roster of any change of his address for entry on the register, which must be done in a letter separate from any notice or change of address filed in individual applications. That obligation continues without change.

The degree of care exercised in adhering to the foregoing requirement for notification of change of address in each concerned application will be a factor for consideration in deciding petitions filed under 37 CFR 1.137 to revive applications which have become abandoned because of a failure to timely receive an Office action addressed to the old address. In such instances, the showing of the cause of unavoidable delay must include an adequate showing that a timely notification of the change of address was filed in the concerned application, in a manner reasonably calculated to call attention to the fact that it was a change of address. If no such notification was made, or was made belatedly, the showing must include an adequate explanation of that failure or delay. A showing that notification was made on a paper filed in the Patent and Trademark Office listing plural applications as being affected will not be considered a proper notification.

WILLIAM FELDMAN,
May 28, 1975. Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

[935 O.G. 1352]

(11) Change of Address or Practitioner in a Plurality of Patent Applications

Change of Address

This notice is supplemental to the Notice of May 28, 1975, 935 O.G. 1352.

In those instances where a change in the correspondence address of a registered attorney or agent is necessary in a plurality of applications, and the number of applications is such as to cause undue hardship, the notification filed in each application may be a reproduction of a properly executed, original notification. The original notice may be sent to the Office of the Solicitor as notification to the Attorney's Roster of the change of address, or may be filed in one of the applications affected, provided that the notice includes an authorization for the public to inspect and copy the original notice in the event one of the applications containing a copy matures into a patent and the application containing the original paper is either pending or has become abandoned. The copies submitted in each affected application must identify where the original paper is located. Otherwise, the practice governing the filing of notifications of change of address remains the same.

Powers of Attorney

In the event of a need to file a change in the power of attorney in a plurality of applications of a common assignee or inventive entity, and the number of applications is such as to cause undue hardship, a single, original paper may be used provided that a reproduction of this original paper is supplied in each of the affected applications. The copy of the original paper must identify in which application the original paper is located and authorize the public to inspect and copy the original paper in the event one of the applications containing a copy matures into a patent and the application containing the original paper is pending or has become abandoned. The procedures and usual prerequisites for the filing of grants and/or revocations or power of attorney otherwise remain the same.

WILLIAM FELDMAN,
Sept. 9, 1976. Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

[951 O.G. 454]

(12) Express Mail

This notice is in response to a number of inquiries received in the Patent and Trademark Office regarding the notice on Express Mail of February 11, 1975, published in the Official Gazette of March 11, 1975 (932 O.G. 340).

There are two types of Express Mail delivery offered by the U.S. Postal Service—"Post Office to Addressee" and "Post Office to Post Office." The only type of service which can be used for Express Mail directed to the Patent and Trademark Office is "Post Office to Addressee." This service provides for delivery to one of our employees in Room 1627, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D.C., no later than 3:00 p.m. of the next workday following its deposit before 5:00 p.m. at any postal facility with an Express Mail window.

The only address that should be used for Express Mail sent to the Patent and Trademark Office is:

Washington, D.C. 20231."

"Post Office to Post Office" Express Mail does not provide for delivery but instead is retained at the postal facility of the addressee for pickup. The Postal Service does not notify the addressee that this type of Express Mail has been received and is awaiting pickup. If not picked up, this mail is held for 15 days and then returned to the sender.

Therefore, since the Patent and Trademark Office does not have resources for picking up any mail, including Express Mail, the "Post Office to Post Office" Express Mail will not reach the Patent and Trademark Office.

WILLIAM I. MERKIN,
May 15, 1975. Acting Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[936 O.G. 1554]

(13) Certificate of Mailing Procedures

On November 1, 1976, the Patent and Trademark Office instituted the Certificate of Mailing Procedure by promulgating 37 CFR 1.8 in an attempt to reduce the number of problems resulting from late receipt of responses due to mail delays. This notice was published in the Official Gazette on October 26, 1976 (951 O.G. 1342 and TM 210). Guidelines relative to this procedure were published in the Official Gazette on November 16, 1976 (952 O.G. 918 and TM 174).

Although the new procedure has gained wide acceptance, it has not been entirely without problems. One major problem involves the correlation of the certification with the appropriate papers when presented on a separate sheet. In order to curtail this problem and other minor ones, the guidelines published on November 16, 1976, are superseded by the following guidelines. They are applicable to responses in both patent and trademark matters, as permitted by 37 CFR 1.8.

Guidelines

A) The certification requires a signature. Specifically, if the certification appears on a paper that requires a signature, two signatures are required, one for the paper and one for the certification. Although not specifically required by 37 CFR 1.8, it is preferred that the certificate be signed by the applicant, assignee, or registered practitioner.

B) When possible, the certification should appear on a portion of the paper being submitted. However, if there is insufficient space to make the certification on the same paper, such as in the case of the patent issue fee transmittal form PTO-85, the certification should be on a separate sheet securely attached to the paper.

C) When the certification is presented on a separate sheet, the sheet must (1) be signed and (2) fully identify and be securely attached to the paper it accompanies. The required identification should include the serial number and filing date of the application as well as the type of paper being filed, e.g., responses to rejection or refusal, Notice of Appeal, etc. An unsigned certification will not be considered acceptable.

Moreover, without the proper identifying data, a certification presented on a separate sheet will not be considered acceptable if there is any question or doubt concerning the connection between the sheet and the paper filed.

If the sheet should become detached from the paper and thereafter not associated with the appropriate file, evidence that this sheet was received in the Office can be supported by submitting a copy of a post card receipt specifically identifying this sheet and the paper and by submitting a copy of the sheet as originally mailed. Attention is directed to the notice of November 21, 1968 published in the Official Gazette (857 O.G. 667) relative to the use of post cards as receipts.

D) In situations wherein the correspondence includes papers for more than one application (e.g., a single envelope containing separate papers responding to Office actions in different applications) or papers for various parts of the Office (e.g., a patent issue fee transmittal form PTO-85 and an assignment), each paper must have its own certification as a part thereof or attached thereto.

E) In situations wherein the correspondence includes several papers directed to the same application (e.g., a proposed response under 37 CFR 1.116 and a Notice of Appeal), each paper should have its own certification as a part thereof or attached thereto.

Use of Stamped Certification

Some practitioners are placing the certification language on the first page of a paper with an inked stamp. Such a practice is encouraged because the certification is not only readily visible but also forms an integral part of the paper. An example of a preferred stamp is:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being deposited with the United States Postal Service as first class mail in an envelope addressed to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, on _____ (Date of Deposit)

Name of applicant, assignee, or Registered Representative

Signature

Date of Signature

Interpretations

The phrase "prior to expiration of the set period" in 37 CFR 1.8(a) includes the last day of the set period, which last day may be the "next succeeding secular or business day" as set out in 35 U.S.C. 21. Also, the filing of a 37 CFR 3.54 form to effect a filing under 37 CFR 1.60 is considered the filing of an application and is, therefore, excluded from the Certificate of Mailing Procedure.

[962 O.G. 20]

(14) Change in Legal Holidays

The Commissioner's Notice of Sept. 25, 1979, "Change in Legal Holidays," is hereby rescinded, in view of Public Law 98-144, enacted Nov. 2, 1983, which amended the listing of legal public holidays in 5 USC §6103. That amendment took effect in 1986 and added a new legal holiday relating to the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. This new holiday is designated for the third Mon. in Jan.

Section 6103, as amended, reads as follows:

New Year's Day, Jan. 1.
Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr., the third Mon. in Jan.
Washington's Birthday, the third Mon. in Feb.
Memorial Day, the last Mon. in May.
Independence Day, July 4.
Labor Day, the first Mon. in Sept.
Columbus Day, the second Mon. in Oct.
Veterans Day, Nov. 11.
Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thurs. in Nov.
Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

Each of the holidays enumerated will constitute a "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia," as referred to in Section 21, Title 35, United States Code. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.6(a) and 1.10(a), the Patent and Trademark Office will not receive papers on these holidays. Actions required to be taken on such days may be taken on the next succeeding day that the Office is open for business in accordance with 37 CFR 1.7.

(15) Change in Drafting Practice

Effective Apr. 12, 1982, the Patent and Trademark Office is terminating its drawing correction service.

In order to effect any changes in the drawings, applicants will be responsible for submitting either new drawings or having the drawings corrected by a bonded commercial draftsman, at applicant's expense, in the manner specified below. The new practice will permit applicants to delay correction of drawings in almost all cases until after the Notice of Allowance is mailed.

The initial list of bonded commercial draftsmen appears below. This list will be expanded as more commercial draftsmen are bonded. Applicants will, at least initially, be supplied with a current list of the bonded draftsmen with all Office actions requiring a drawing change.

The following is a letter which will be supplied, at least initially, to applicants in all Office actions requiring a drawing change. This letter explains the procedures for accomplishing the above, sets forth the time period within which the drawings must be corrected, and lists all of the currently bonded commercial draftsmen.

U.S. Department of Commerce, Patent and Trademark Office	Attachment to Paper Number Serial No.

INFORMATION ON HOW TO EFFECT DRAWING CHANGES

1. Correction of Informalities (Draftsman's objections on PTO–948)

In order to correct any informalities in the drawings, applicants MUST comply with options (a) or (b) below. Failure to do so will result in ABANDONMENT of the application.

a) File new drawings with the changes incorporated therein. Applicant may delay filing the new drawings until the application is allowed by the examiner. If delayed, the new drawings MUST be filed within the THREE MONTH statutory period set for payment of the base issue fee in the "NOTICE OF ALLOWANCE AND BASE ISSUE FEE DUE" (PTOL–85). Also, if delayed, the drawings should be filed as a separate paper with a transmittal letter addressed to the Official Draftsman and which indicates the following in the upper right hand corner:

Date of the Notice of Allowance
Issue Batch Number
Serial Number

b) Request a commercial bonded drafting firm (see list below) to make the necessary corrections.

A BONDED DRAFTSMAN MUST BE AUTHORIZED, THE CORRECTIONS EXECUTED AND THE CORRECTED DRAWINGS RETURNED TO THE OFFICE DURING THE THREE MONTH STATUTORY PERIOD SET FOR PAYMENT OF THE BASE ISSUE FEE IN THE "NOTICE OF ALLOWANCE AND BASE ISSUE FEE DUE" (PTOL-85). NOTE THAT THE STATUTE DOES NOT PERMIT EXTENSION OF THE THREE MONTH PERIOD SET TO PAY THE BASE ISSUE FEE.

2. Corrections other than Informalities Noted by the Draftsman on the PTO-948

All changes to the drawings, other than informalities noted by the Draftsman, MUST be made in the same manner as above except that, if delayed option (a) is selected, normally, a sketch of the changes to be incoroprated into the new drawings MUST be approved by the examiner before the application will be allowed. If option (b) is selected, normally, applicants must submit, in duplicate, a separate paper containing a sketch of the proposed changes before the application will be allowed. No changes will be permitted to be made, other than correction of informalities, unless the examiner has approved the proposed changes.

IT IS SUGGESTED THAT APPLICANTS DETACH THIS LETTER FROM THE OFFICE ACTION AND ATTACH IT TO THE FRONT OF APPLICANT'S FILE AS A REMINDER THAT, IN ORDER TO AVOID ABANDONMENT, A BONDED DRAFTSMAN MUST BE AUTHORIZED, THE CORRECTIONS EXECUTED AND THE CORRECTED DRAWINGS RETURNED TO THE OFFICE, OR NEW DRAWINGS SUBMITTED, DURING THE THREE MONTH STATUTORY PERIOD SET FOR PAYMENT OF THE BASE ISSUE FEE. NOTE THAT THE STATUTE DOES NOT PERMIT EXTENSION OF THE THREE MONTH PERIOD SET TO PAY THE BASE ISSUE FEE.

Currently there is a large backlog of applications pending before the Office draftsmen. Applicants whose applications are part of this backlog are strongly encouraged to have the necessary drawing corrections made by one of the bonded commercial draftsmen to expedite the issuance of their applications. If there has been authorization to charge a deposit account for these corrections, the authorization will not be processed. If a fee has been paid with cash, a refund will be processed.

The requirement of 37 CFR §§1.85, 1.86(b) and 1.123(a), specifying that drawings, or corrections to the drawings, may or must be made by the Office, is hereby waived.

Mar. 16, 1982. GERALD J. MOSSINGHOFF, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

[1017 O.G. 4]

(16) Submission of Drawings

As further clarification of the O.G. Notice of Oct. 29, 1985, drawings for patent applications do not need to be submitted on bristol board.

Since corrections are now the responsibility of applicants, it is more convenient for the original drawings to be kept in their possession. Copies only need to be supplied to the Patent and Trademark Office. Whether or not bristol board is used for the copies is the applicant's choice. However, the copies that are submitted to the Office must be on strong, white, smooth, and non-shiny paper. High quality copies are necessary not only for the patent examination process, but for printing purposes.

If corrections are necessary, they should be made to the original drawings. Either a good copy of the corrected drawings or the corrected original can then be submitted after the Notice of Allowability is mailed.

We will be revising 37 CFR to clarify the requirements for drawing submissions.

This change is being made for the convenience of applicants and attorneys.

Nov. 25, 1985. THERESA A. BRELSFORD, Assistant Commissioner, for Administration.

[1061 OG 12]

(17) Discontinuation of Drawing Comparison Fee

The Patent and Trademark Office no longer requires a $10 (ten dollar) comparison fee payment with the submission of formal sheets of drawings to replace originally filed informal drawings. Accordingly, no fee should be submitted, and all existing requirements for a drawing comparison fee are hereby rescinded.

June 9, 1982. THERESA A. BRELSFORD, Acting Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[1020 O.G. 10]

(18) New Patent Drawing Correction Procedures

Drawings charged out from the Patent and Trademark Office, for the purpose of making changes or corrections, will be released from the Drafting Branch after the mailing of the Notice of Allowance. Most drawings should be available for charge out one week to ten days after the Notice of Allowance mail date. The major exception to this procedure will be when the examiner requires that drafting corrections be made prior to the Notice of Allowance issuance. We anticipate that this exception requirement will occur only for Design applications being appealed.

Unless a duplicate copy of the Drafting Letter has been filed by the attorney/applicant, the Office will not normally provide the commercial bonded draftsman with copies of either examiner approved drawing correction letters or a copy of the Patent and Trademark Office draftsman's noted informalities. It is the applicant's responsibility to provide copies of the necessary drawing corrections and the noted informalities. When drawings are borrowed from the Office draftsman, the serial number, batch number, and Notice of Allowance mailing date should be identified.

If for any reason a corrected and/or substitute drawing is not acceptable, a letter will be sent to the attorney/applicant. A bonded commercial draftsman must present a copy of this letter in order to borrow the unacceptable drawings.

(20) Submission of Corrected Drawings in Allowed Applications

When drawings need to be corrected in an allowed application, the applicant is required to submit acceptable corrected drawings within a three-month shortened statutory period. Within that three-month period, two weeks should be allowed for review of the correction by the Office. If a correction is determined to be unacceptable by the Office, the applicant must arrange to have an acceptable correction re-submitted within the original three-month period to avoid the necessity of obtaining an extension of time and of paying the extension fee. Therefore, the applicant should file corrected drawings as soon as possible following the setting of the three-month shortened statutory period.

(21) Regulations for the Use of the Facilities of the Patent and Trademark Office

Revision of Regulations

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office gives notice of a revision of its "Regulations for the Public Use of Records in the Public Search Room for Patents of the

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

Patent and Trademark Office," published in the Federal Register of July 14, 1976, 41 FR 29009. The regulations published in the Federal Register of July 14, 1976, are limited to the use of the Public Search Room for Patents. The revision is intended to allow public use of other Patent and Trademark Office record facilities with minimum risk to the security of Patent and Trademark Office personnel and government property.

Effective Date: June 26, 1979.

For Further Information Contact: Bradford R. Huther, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, 703-557-2290.

Supplementary Information: This revision is an extension of the present regulations, published in the Federal Register of July 14, 1976, 41 FR 29009, to allow public use of Patent Examining Group Facilities and the Scientific Library under conditions which are as nearly as possible the same as those which apply to the Public Search Room for Patents.

All persons seeking use of the Public Search Room for Patents and/or the Patent Examining Group Facilities must obtain a User Pass. The guards at the entrances to the Public Search Room for Patents can direct prospective users to the pass issuance desk. User Passes will be issued to persons not under prohibition from using the facilities who agree to abide by the regulations of the Public Search Room for Patents and the Patent Examining Group Facilities.

The use of the Group facilities for search purposes by members of the public is strictly limited to the search of materials not available in the Public Search Room for Patents or the Scientific Library and when it does not conflict with the regular business of Patent and Trademark personnel and only between the hours of 8:45 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. on regular business days.

The Public Search Room for Patents is open 8:00 a.m.–8:00 p.m., Monday through Friday except on legal holidays. The hours of the Record Room are 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. on the days the Public Search Room for Patents is open.

The revised regulations appear below:

Regulations

Regulations for members of the public using the facilities of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, including but not limited to the Public Search Room for Patents.

The Public Search Room for Patents is defined as that area comprising the foyers of the lobbies of Buildings 3 and 4 of Crystal Plaza; the offices; Microfilm Center; restrooms and telephone areas off these foyers; the stacks; Record Room public reception area; study and copier areas between the foyers; and the Mezzanine.

The facilities of the Patent Examining Groups are defined as those areas in Buildings 3, 34 and 4 of Crystal Plaza designating Examining Groups.

These regulations supersede all previous regulations on the subject.

1. All persons using the facilities of the Patent and Trademark Office are subject to the regulations governing conduct on property under the charge and control of the General Services Administration which appear in 41 CFR Subpart 101-20.3 [41 CFR §§101-20.300 through 101-20.314].

8. Messages shall not be affixed to walls, desks, phone booths, or other public property, except designated message boards.
9. Patent records and any other property of the Patent and Trademark Office shall not be removed from their normal location without permission from an authorized official; nor shall such records or property be mutilated. Authorization will not be given to remove from any Group Facility, U.S. patents or any other material readily available through the Scientific Library.
10. The use of equipment such as reproducing machines, typewriters and photographic equipment is prohibited without prior permission from an authorized official. Relative to the Public Search Room, the use of dictation equipment is prohibited except in designated areas. Whenever permission is obtained, the use of such equipment must not conflict with Regulation 5.
11. In the Public Search Room for Patents, library trucks or carts are to be used for transporting bundles only. The trucks or carts are not to be used for storage while making searches.

17. A valid User Pass must be worn and visible at all times when Patent and Trademark Office facilities are being used. In addition, all persons holding User Passes must register with the designated representative in each Examining Group where they search and must sign a log (sign-in, sign-out sheet) indicating time-in, time-out, name, User Pass number, class(es) and subclass(es) users after 6:00 p.m.
18. User Passes are nontransferable and must be surrendered to authorized Patent and Trademark personnel upon request for cause.
19. Packages, briefcases or other personal effects brought into the Public Search Room for Patents or the Group Facilities are subject to search by authorized Patent and Trademark Office personnel upon request.
20. All packages, briefcases or other personal effects brought into the Group Search Rooms must be removed when leaving the Group Search Room areas.

21. Patents and other documents must not be removed from the Group patent shoes for any reason other than for cursory study thereof while kept in close proximity with the shoe and must not be moved out of their normal sequence.
22. All patent shoes must be promptly replaced in their proper location in the shoe cases.
23. All textbooks, journals and the like must be returned to their proper location.
24. All persons using the facilities of the Patent and Trademark Office are to refrain from engaging in any conduct which (1) is criminal in nature or (2) which causes or appears to cause an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office to violate the conflicts of interest regulations of the Department of Commerce [15 CFR §§0.735-1 through 0.735-41].
25. All verbal requests for compliance with these regulations or other posted Patent and Trademark Office Notices pertaining to activity in the Public Search Room for Patents and the Group Facilities, when made by authorized Patent and Trademark Office personnel, must be promptly complied with.

These regulations will be enforced in accordance with the Procedures for Enforcement published in the Federal Register of May 17, 1978, 43 FR 21345 (970 O.G. 114, published May 30, 1978).

Persons violating these regulations may be denied the use of the facilities in the Public Search Room for Patents and the Patent Examining Group Facilities and may further be subjected to prosecution under the Criminal Code. Additionally, the name of any person violating these regulations who is registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office may be forwarded to the Solicitor for appropriate action under 37 CFR 1.348.

These Regulations have been instituted in order to maintain high quality and completeness of patent files and to provide, an orderly environment for exploring, or studying in depth, the wealth of scientific and technological information contained in United States Patents. Although the Regulations may cause some inconvenience, the understanding and cooperation of users will insure that, for future users, the knowledge contained in United States Patents will be available in an environment conducive to study in the Public Search Room for Patents and the Patent Examining Group Facilities.

DONALD W. BANNER,
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(22) Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records Facilities

Establishment of Enforcement Procedures

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Notice.

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is adopting procedures for enforcing existing regulations governing the use of the Public Search Room for Patents and the Patent Examining Group Search Facilities by members of the public. Enforcement of the existing regulations is necessary, and is intended by these procedures, to carry out the commitment of the Office to the public to promote an atmosphere conducive to research and maintain the integrity of the files in the Public Search Room for Patents and in the Examining Group Search Facilities.

Effective Date: 6-30-78.

For Further Information Contact: Bradford R. Huther, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, (703) 557-2290.

Supplementary Information: The procedures will apply in enforcing the regulations for the public use of records of the Public Search Room for Patents and the Patent Examining Group Facilities. The regulations of the Public Search Room for Patents were published in the Federal Register for July 14, 1976, 41 F.R. 29009, and incorporated in a Search Room User Agreement entered into by each person who is issued a User Pass. Regulations for Users of the Patent Examining Group Search Facilities were established under Rule 2 of the regulations of the Public Search Room for Patents and were published in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of March 22, 1977, 956 O.G. 1118. The procedures appear below.

PROCEDURES FOR ENFORCEMENT OF THE REGULATIONS FOR THE PUBLIC USE OF RECORDS IN THE PUBLIC SEARCH ROOM FOR PATENTS AND THE PATENT EXAMINING GROUP SEARCH FACILITIES

Under applicable statutes and regulations, including 40 U.S.C. 486(c); 41 CFR 101-20.3; and appropriate sections of Department Organization Orders 30-3A and 30-3B of the Department of Commerce, the procedures appearing below are established.

Violation Involving the Security System

1. Unauthorized removal of government property.

(a) The Public Search Room for Patents is equipped with a security system designed to sound an alarm when an attempt to remove government property from the Public Search Room is detected. Each alarm signal triggered by a person passing through an exit to the Public Search Room will be investigated by security guards stationed at the Public Search Room exits. The person involved will be required to stop and allow the security guards to determine the cause of the alarm. If non-government property is the cause for the alarm, the person will be allowed to proceed without further delay. If unauthorized possession of government property is found to be the cause of the alarm, the person in whose possession the property is found will be advised that a violation has occurred and will be required to surrender the property to the Manager of the Public Search Room. An oral explanation for the possession of such property will be requested by the Manager.

(b) The Manager of the Public Search Room will immediately report each incident involving unauthorized possession of government property to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration by telephone, and if requested submit a written report, together with the government property and User Pass involved to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

(3) If it shall appear to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration that unauthorized possession of government property, detected by the security system, was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional, no further action will be taken. Otherwise, the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration will request the person involved to show cause in writing why his or her User Pass should not be suspended or revoked pursuant to the terms of the Search Room User Agreement. A written decision will be rendered by the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration after consideration of any timely submitted response.

Other Violations of the Public Search Room Regulations

2. All other violations of the Public Search Room Regulations.

(a) Each observed or reported violation will be investigated by the Manager of the Public Search Room. If a violation has occurred and is not denied, the person involved will be verbally requested by the Manager to comply with the regulations. If the person involved denies that a violation has occurred, or refuses to comply with a verbal request of the Manager to comply with the regulations, or violates the regulations after having agreed to comply with them, the person will be required to surrender his or her User Pass to the Manager of the Public Search Room.

(b) The Manager of the Public Search Room will submit a written report of each violation, and the UserPass, if surrendered, to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

(c) If the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration is satisfied that a reported violation was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional, the User Pass, if surrendered, will be returned and no furt er action will be taken. In all other cases, the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration will request the person involved to show cause in writing why his or her User Pass should not be suspended or revoked pursuant to the terms of the Search Room User Agreement. A written decision will be rendered by the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration after consideration of any timely submitted response.

Violations of the Patent Examining Group Search Facilities Regulations

3. Violations of the Regulations for Users of the Patent Examining Group Search Facilities.

(a) Each observed or reported violation will be investigated by Authorized Official. If a violation has occurred, and is not denied, the person involved will be verbally requested to comply with the regulations. If the person involved denies that a violation has occurred, or refuses to comply with a verbal request to comply with regulations, or violates the regulations after having agreed to comply with them, the person involved will be required to surrender his or her User Pass to the Authorized Official.

(b) The Authorized Official will submit a written report of each violation, and the User Pass, if surrendered, to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

(c) If the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents is satisfied that violation was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional, the User Pass, if surrendered, will be returned and no further action will be taken. In all other cases, the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents will request the person involved to show cause in writing why his or her User Pass should not be suspended or revoked. A written decision will be rendered by the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents after consideration of any timely submitted response.

Penalties

4. Factors to be Considered in Assessing Penalties.

(a) Penalties will be determined on a case-by-case basis. A record of penalties imposed for given violations will be kept and made available to the public upon request.

(b) Due weight may be given to prior violations of the regulations in assessing whether any given violation is willful, deliberate or intentional.

(c) Prior violations of the regulations will be considered in determining any specific penalty to be imposed. Depending upon the circumstances, the penalty for a first offense may range from an oral or written warning to a 60-day suspension of the User Pass. For a second offense, the penalty may be a suspension of from 5 days to 1 year. For a third offense, the penalty may range from a 30-day suspension to revocation of the User Pass.

General Provisions

5. Use of Search Facilities During Suspension or After Revocation of User Pass.

No individual will be permitted to use the Public Search Room for Patents or the Patent Examining Group Search Facilities while his or her User Pass is suspended or revoked.

6. Temporary User Pass.

Any person whose User Pass was surrendered, but not suspended or revoked, may be issued a temporary User Pass which shall be valid until the User Pass is returned or a decision is rendered pursuant to paragraph 1(c), 2(c), 3(c).

7. Absence of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

In the absence of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration, the Director of the Office of Patent and Trademark Services will carry out the functions and responsibilities assigned to the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration in paragraph 1(b) and (c) and 2(b) and (c).

8. Absence of the Manager of the Public Search Room.

In the absence of the Manager of the Public Search Room, the Acting Manager will carry out the duties and responsibilities assigned to the Manager in paragraphs 1(a), 1(b), 2(a) and 2(b).

9. Assistance.

The Manager of the Public Search Room and the Authorized Official may, when necessary request the Security Officer of the Patent and Trademark Office or the GSA to provide assistance in carrying out their function in paragraphs 1(a), 2(a), and 3(a).

10. Petitions.

A decision rendered by the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration, the Director of the Office of Patent and Trademark Services, or the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents may be reviewed on petition to the Commissioner.

May 5, 1978. Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(24) Unlawful Removal of Labels

We have found a large number of security labels, torn from Search Room patent copies, in stack areas of the Public Search Room. We remind persons removing security labels or otherwise mutilating Search Room patent copies, or removing Search Room patent copies from the Search Room without authorization, that such acts are criminal offenses punishable by fine, imprisonment or both.

You should be aware that engaging in such acts violates the prohibition against "the willful destruction of or damage to property; the theft of property." 41 Code of Federal Regulations §101-20.303. Violations are punishable by "a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment of not more than 30 days, or both." 41 Code of Federal Regulations §101-20.315.

You should also be aware that engaging in such acts subjects you to punishment under the following criminal provision in Title 18 U.S. Code, §2071:

> (a) Whoever willfully and unlawfully conceals, removes, mutilates, obliterates, or destroys, or attempts to do so, or, with intent to do so takes and carries away any record, proceeding, map, book, paper, document or other thing * * * shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both.
> (b) Whoever, having custody of any such record, proceeding, map, book, document, paper, or other thing, willfully and unlawfully conceals, removes, mutilates, obliterates, falsifies, or destroys the same, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and shall forfeit his office and be disqualified from holding any office under the United States.

UNLESS THE REMOVAL OF SECURITY LABELS FROM SEARCH ROOM PATENT COPIES CEASES, THE OFFICE WILL TAKE APPROPRIATE ACTION, SUCH AS EXERCISING ITS AUTHORITY UNDER 41 CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS§101-20.301 TO INSPECT PACKAGES, BRIEFCASES AND OTHER CONTAINERS BROUGHT INTO, WHILE ON, OR BEING REMOVED FROM THE SEARCH ROOM.

(25) Out-of-Town Request for Files

Delays are being experienced in receiving files ordered from the Federal Records Center in Suitland, Md. Therefore, more time must be allowed when out-of-town requestors are ordering patented files or abandoned or registered trademark files in advance of their arrival in the area. Until recently, a five-day notice was sufficient to obtain a file located in the Federal Records Center. Now we are suggesting that ten days be allowed when ordering Suitland files. A 24-hour notice is still normally adequate when the file is located in the PTO File Repository in Crystal City. Out-of-town requests for files should be directed to Ms. Jacqueline Waldo on (703) 557-2977. Requestors will be notified by phone, prior to planned arrival date, whether or not the requested file will be available.

(26) Use of Certificate of Correction Forms

The purpose of this notice is, to once again, remind patentees and their attorneys and agents to submit the text of any correction under 37 CFR 1.322 and 1.323 on the Certificate of Correction form, PTO-1050, which is available free of charge from the Patent and Trademark Office. The presentation of all corrections on this form permits its use as camera copy for prompt, direct offset printing of the Certificate of Correction.

Instructions for use of Form PTO-1050 are printed on the top portion thereof, and are also set forth, in further detail, in Section 1402.02 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedures. It is especially important that the typing be clean and clear. Both thin, light type and heavy, smudged type should be avoided. Changes and corrections are preferably made by use of white opaque correction fluid.

The typing should be within the borders printed on the form and a two-inch blank space should be left at the bottom of the last page of the form for the placement of the signature of the Attesting Officer.

Both sheets of the printed form should be forwarded to the Office. The copies should be stapled together only at the upper left-hand margin at the indicated location.

Copies of form PTO-1050 may be obtained, as needed, from either the Correspondence and Mail Division in Building 2, or from the receptionist in the lobby of Building 3, Crystal Plaza, Arlington, Va.

(27) ARS Patent Culture Collection Initiation of Fees

As a result of recent policy changes, the ARS Culture Collection (NRRL) henceforth will charge a user fee for deposit and distribution of microbial cultures maintained in conjunction with U.S. and foreign patent applications. User fees apply to patent cultures only; as it has in the past, the ARS Culture Collection will continue to exchange other microbial germplasm with the scientific community without charge. The fee schedule will apply to all patent eultures deposited after Sept. 30, 1983. A fee of $500.00 will be charged for each strain, payable at the time of deposit. A $20.00 fee will be charged for the distribution of all released patent cultures that have been deposited after Sept. 30, 1983. There will be no charge for distribution of patent cultures already on deposit or for others received before this date. Checks, in U.S. dollars, should be made payable to the Agricultural Research Service, USDA. USDA laboratories and designated cooperators will be exempt from fee assessment. The types of microorganisms accepted by the ARS Culture Collection are the same as announced in the past and include industrially important bacteria, yeasts, molds, and Actinomycetales. Viruses and highly pathogenic or especially fastidious microorganisms are not accepted. Further information on types of microorganisms accepted and conditions for deposit may be obtained by contacting A. J. Lyons, Curator, ARS Patent Culture Collection, Northern Regional Research Center, USDA-ARS-NCR, 1815 N. University St., Peoria, Ill. 61604 (Tel. 309/685-4011).

(32) Patent and Trademark Office Services

The Patent and Trademark Office is making every effort to utilize its resources as effectively and efficiently as possible. However, delays in some services are being experienced. To improve services, the PTO is taking the following steps:

Beginning with the issue of January 1, 1980, the original formal drawing which is supplied by the patent applicant and is 8 1/2 by 14 inches (21.0 by 29.7 cm.) is being stored within the patented file in the Patent Search Division. This is a change from the earlier practice under which the drawing is stored in a separate location from the patent file wrappers. The new procedure will simplify obtaining the complete patented file. This procedure will be used for a three month trial period and then reevaluated for its effectiveness.

Effective December 3, 1979, sale of tokens and maintenance of all token operated photocopy and microfilm reader-printer equipment throughout the Patent and Trademark Office are being performed by a private contractor, T S Info Systems, Inc. (TSI). Improved quality and timeliness of copy service to the public are anticipated.

All token sales are made between the hours of 8:30 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. at the token sales booth in the Record Room located in Building CP-4. When purchasing tokens by check, please make the check payable to "TSI" rather than "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks." Tokens will not be sold at the cashier's window in CP2.

Effective February 1, 1980, charges for tokens to PTO customer deposit accounts will no longer be accepted.

Effective immediately, no requests for new patent or trademark drawings will be accepted by the Patent and Trademark Office. New drawings will be prepared only for requests already received. All currently available drafting time and facilities are required to correct the backlog of drawings needing correction prior to issue. When this backlog has been eliminated, a notice will be issued to that effect and new drawings can again be prepared for the public.

Effective immediately, three additional special mail room boxes will be established in the PTO:

Box 4 will be used for all mail for the Office of Legislation and International Affairs.

Box 5 will be used for documents which are related to trademarks and for which no fee is required at the time of filing; e.g., amendments to applications and requests for extensions of time to file an opposition. For mail directed to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, put "Attention TTAB" on the envelope in addition to "Box 5."

Box 7 will be used for reissue applications which are involved in litigation and any subsequently filed papers for these applications.

Mail appropriately addressed will be sorted and forwarded on a more timely basis.

Applicants and other users of the PTO services can assist in improving the efficiency of office by doing the following:

Use the following special PTO box numbers for forwarding particular types of mail. The boxes should be used only for the specified purpose.

Box 2—Replenishment of funds in deposit accounts.

Box 4—Mail for the Office of Legislation and International Affairs.

Box 5—"No fee" mail related to trademarks.

Box 7—Reissue applications for patents involved in litigation and any subsequently filed papers for these applications.

Box 8—All papers for the Office of the Solicitor.

Box 9—Coupon orders for U.S. patent and trademark copies.

Box 10—Orders for certified copies of patent and trademark applications.

Box PCT—Mail related to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty.

Only that material for which the special box was established should be enclosed.

The special box numbers have been established to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded directly to the appropriate area without being opened. Therefore, if any documents other than the specified type identified for each box are addressed to that box, they will be delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they were intended.

Envelopes should be addressed:

Box _____
Washington, D.C. 20231

Consider the fact that some PTO services are experiencing delays, and allow sufficient lead time for services requested of the Office. Where possible, urgent items which require no fee should be hand delivered to the appropriate area.

Minimize the number of inquiries to the PTO regarding acknowledgment of receipt of applications, fee papers, orders for patent copies, etc.

Include a self addressed return post card with newly filed applications. The serial number assigned the application will be stamped on the post card, which will constitute the means by which the application can be identified.

Use commercial services for preparation of new patent and trademark application drawings.

On all papers which are filed in patent and trademark applications and are being sent to an examining group, include the appropriate identifying data, such as examining group number, examiner's name, and the number of the application paper to which the response is directed. The paper should also identify the type of document being presented (e.g., response to Office action #___, amendment, etc.). The name and telephone number of the individual representing the applicant also should appear on all papers.

These steps have been devised in an effort to minimize delays in services. We solicit the help and cooperation of the public.

Jan. 4, 1980. Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(33) Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Those having occasion to serve papers associated with court proceedings by mail are reminded that a special mailing address has been established to provide prompt forwarding to the Office of the Solicitor. The use of this address will ensure that the papers will not be delayed in dispatch. In court proceedings in which the Commissioner is a party, the notices of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and all service copies of papers filed in courts should be addressed:

Solicitor
Box 8
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

Service copies of briefs and papers hand-carried to the Mail Room of the Patent and Trademark Office should likewise be addressed as shown above.

(34) Sale of Copies of Reexamination Requests

Copies of reexamination requests, all cited references, and the file wrapper and contents of the patent file for which reexamination is requested are available at a charge of $0.30 per page. Orders for such copies must indicate the control number assigned the reexamination request. Orders should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Customer Services Division.

(35) Electronic Patent Data Dissemination Guidelines

Introduction

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) has undertaken a program to fully automate its operations. As a result of the automation, new forms of patent data will be created and new techniques will become available to facilitate the end use of one of the largest technical information resources of the nation, the files of U.S. and foreign patents. To fulfill its mission to disseminate such information and to aid in the management of the electronic information resources, the PTO has formulated the following general principles and guidelines regarding electronic, digital patent data dissemination and distribution.

To the extent that formal regulations will be necessary to carry out these guidelines, separate formal rulemaking procedures will be undertaken. The purpose of this notice is to inform the public as early as possible of the PTO's present policies in automating its patent operations.

The public is urged to consider and submit comments on these guidelines. Please address comments to:

J. Howard Bryant
Administrator for Automation
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

Background

In response to P.L. 96–517, the PTO prepared and submitted to Congress on Dec. 13, 1982, its plan for the complete automation of its operations by 1990. The mandate to develop the plan stemmed from the recognition that problems of increasing magnitude threaten the effectiveness of the U.S. patent system. These problems relate to the increasing difficulty of maintaining the integrity of the all-paper hand-file and retrieval search files on which patent examination depends. Surveys indicate that at any one time, about seven percent of the search files are missing or misfiled. The process of matching the 20,000 documents of correspondence and other items that arrive in the PTO daily to the 240,000 pending patent applications is prone to a high rate of error. The already enormous data base in the patent examining search files alone — more than 25,000,000 documents— is projected to double by the end of the century. The solution to these problems is the application of computer technology to the functions of the PTO. The automation plan was developed around the concept of an essentially paperless office, using computer processable, electronic data bases to replace the existing paper files. Data will be converted to computer processable form from applications and patent search files using a variety of technical methods — optical character recognition, digital facsimile scanning, and word·processing. Once the electronic data base is created, patent examiners and other PTO personnel will use it to perform searches, conduct examinations, and prepare office actions. A specially configured electronic workstation will be used to support these functions. The electronic data base also will provide the data to print the Official Gazette and to make copies of patents for sale to the public.

Automation is being accomplished in three stages, beginning with the installation of a proof-of-concept system to prove and refine the application of the technology to the patent process. Once proven, the test installation will be expanded in the second stage to support all of the internal functions of the PTO. In the third stage, public access to patent information will be expanded, and electronic interconnections between cooperating foreign patent offices will be established.

Considerable progress has been made in implementing the automation plan. A $300 million contract has been awarded to the Planning Research Corp., teamed with the Chemical Abstracts Service (a not-for-profit arm of the American Chemical Society) to provide computer software and equipment, together with supporting services, for an Automated Patent System (APS). Installation of the Automated Patent System for Stage 1 will begin late in 1984 and its evaluation will be completed in the summer of 1985. Part of the electronic data base — the text of patents from 1970 to the present — is available as a by-product of patent printing. Two pending procurement actions will provide for the conversion into computer processable form of the remainder of the backfile of U.S. patents and all future applications. Agreements have been reached with the European and Japanese Patent Offices to exchange electronic patent data bases. In brief, the most significant initial steps leading to the automation of the PTO have been carried out as planned.

As a result of the automation program, the PTO plans to create or obtain and maintain the following electronic data bases in its Automated Patent System(APS):

1. All U.S. patents, patent application files, and releated patent data such as bibliographic, classification, status, and ownership information;
2. A comprehensive collection of foreign patent documents and related patent data such as bibliographic and classification information, captured by the PTO or obtained through exchanges with other patent offices, intergovernmental organizations, or other entities.
3. A collection of selected non-patent technical literature.

These data bases will be accessed using electronic workstations with dual, high-resolution displays, and software that provides the capability to use index and full text search techniques. These search techniques include the ability to search according to the current U.S. Patent Classification System, and an international patent classification system. The patent examiners will also be provided with access to selected commercial search data bases using their electronic workstations.

The PTO considered several approaches to the dissemination of patent data, and adopted the following general principles and guidelines.

I. Dissemination Goals and Objectives

It is the goal of the PTO to achieve effective, widespread dissemination of patent information to all segments of the U.S. public.

A. This will be accomplished directly by providing electronic data base search and retrieval services in public search facilities located in the PTO and other locations which may be established by the Government. To the extent technically feasible and economically viable, services also will be provided in cooperation with Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), under provisions of 35 U.S.C. 13. PDLs are Federal, state and local government or non-commercial university libraries designated by the PTO to offer public, non-profit access to patent collections.
B. The PTO will pursue its dissemination goal indirectly by encouraging the private sector to offer commercial patent search and retrieval services outside the public search facilities and PDLs. The PTO will seek to avoid competition with private sector firms in providing such services to the public.

II. Direct Dissemination to the Public

A. The PTO will seek to provide the following in the public search facilities:
   1. Electronic access to all the capabilities of the Automated Patent System (APS) that will be available to patent examiners, excluding pending and abandoned applications not accessible under 35 U.S.C. 122, at user fee rates based on the marginal cost of providing the access; and
   2. Access at commercial rates, to commercial data bases that are available to the patent examiners.
B. To the extent that it is technically feasible and economically viable, the PTO will seek to provide in the PDLs access to the capabilities of the Automated Patent System, excluding pending and abandoned applications not accessible under 35 U.S.C. 122, at user fee rates based on the marginal cost of providing those services.

III. Distribution to Commercial Data Base Vendors

The PTO will pursue its dissemination goals indirectly by making its electronic patent data available to commercial data base vendors that provide commercial search and retrieval services to the public. The PTO will provide its data to such commercial data base vendors under the following conditions:

A. All U.S. patent data created by the PTO will be made available in bulk form, that is on magnetic tape or another suitable medium.
B. In general, the PTO will not distribute the data received from another patent office but will seek to have contractual arrangements established directly between the other patent office and the commercial data base vendor. The PTO will not act as a service agent or representative of another office unless there is a special need that cannot be met otherwise.
C. Fees charged to commercial data base vendors for bulk U.S. patent data will be based on the marginal cost of providing such distribution services plus a fair market value charge for the data, as set by the PTO.
D. Normally, arrangements with commercial data base vendors will be non-exclusive. Bulk resale of PTO data by commercial data base vendors will be prohibited by the terms of the bulk sale agreement.

IV. Exchange of International Data

International electronic patent data exchanges between the PTO and other patent offices will be made when deemed to be advantageous. Dissemination of data obtained through data exchanges will be based on the following guideline: all data obtained by exchanges from other patent offices will be obtained under agreements that will permit the data to be incorporated into the Automated Patent System (APS). If the data cannot be incorporated into the Automated Patent System (APS), it will be governed by these guidelines as they apply to commercial data bases.

(36) Computer Aided Search for Class 364 Subclasses 200 and 900

In 1975 the Patent and Trademark Office installed an experimental computer search system for searching the computer and digital data processing system arts classified in Class 364/200 and 900. This system, known as Computer Controlled Microform Search System (CCMSS), functioned until 1983 when it could no longer be kept operational.

A new computer aided search system, Computer Aided Search and Patent Image Retrieval (CASPIR), has been installed and is available to the public. The new system possesses features similar to the previous system in that each subclass is searchable using a topic index list of approximately 400 terms, which may be combined with Boolean logic into a search question. The user is able to view from 5 to 12 pages of documents meeting the search strategy under computer control of a microfilm viewer.

CASPIR has all of the original data base of the CCMSS (which covered patents dated 1950–1981). In addition, its data base, coded and filmed, has been updated through Sept., 1984.

It is anticipated that CASPIR will be updated according to the following schedule. Once a month the codes assigned to new documents will be entered into the data base by Patent and Trademark Office personnel. Documents thus entered will not be available on the microfilm viewer but will show up on the data terminal in response to search questions. Users would need to consult search room paper files to see the documents. To assure efficient filming and maximum use of the film strips, the filming of coded documents will take place on a quarterly basis — Jan., Apr., July and Oct. Following this procedure, the coded data base should not be more than one to two months behind current patent issue dates and the filmed copies of coded documents should not be more than three to four months behind current patent issue dates.

Terminals are currently available for public use in Crystal Plz. 2, Room 5C–22. Reservations for terminal use may be made by calling 703–557–3651 during normal business hours. Patent and Trademark Office personnel are available to assist the user in terminal operation. Effective Mar. 11, 1985 these public terminals will be moved to the Public Search Room in Crystal Plz. CP3–1A–3. Reservations for use may then be made by contacting Mr. Bernard Thomas at 703–557–2276.

(37) Availability of Concordance — Fifth Edition

The Patent and Trademark Office announces the availability of the "Concordance Fifth Edition-1985 United States Patent Classification to International Patent Classification" which relates the U.S. Patent Classification, as revised through Feb. 29, 1984, (Classification Order No. 929) to the Fourth Edition of the International Patent Classification, 1984, as published for the World Intellectual Property Organizations by Carl Heymanns Verlag K. G., Munich.

Copies of the Concordance are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, Stock Number 003-004-00611-1. The price for this publication is $6.50 for U.S. and $8.15 for foreign mailing.

(38) Availability of Copies of the Magnetic Tape of the Fourth Edition of the International Patent Classification (IPC)

The Assembly of the IPC Union has decided to make available copies of the magnetic tapes of the IPC through the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization.

The IPC Assembly made the following decisions:

"The International Bureau should put at the disposal of the Industrial Property Offices of any country member of the IPC Union which so wishes the magnetic tape. . .of the IPC at cost, provided that any such Office receiving a tape accepts the three conditions set forth. . .below:

(i) the tape is used by those Offices. . .for the purposes of carrying out their functions,

(ii) no reproduction of the tape or its contents, in whole or in part, is made in the form of paper copies or microfiches, except in the case of online printouts, and

(iii) the tapes or copies thereof, in whole or in part, are not made available to any third party."

The Committee of Experts of the IPC Union decided that the tape (in English or French language) would be made available to Industrial Property Offices of countries being members of the IPC Union at the price of 1,000 Swiss francs.

In order to carry out its function of disseminating patent information contained on IPC tapes, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office may need the assistance of qualified U.S. public organizations or private companies. Accordingly, the Office will consider requests from such organizations or companies interested in disseminating such information.

The Committee also decided that, subject to the conditions enumerated in (ii) and (iii) above, the tapes would be made available for the following prices to any public organization or private company authorized by its government:

- for internal use only, at the price of 5,000 Swiss francs; and
- for exploitation of the tape on a commercial basis, at the price of 30,000 Swiss francs.

The Patent and Trademark Office will authorize United States public organizations and private companies to purchase the tape under these conditions and at the agreed upon prices quoted.

(39) Simultaneous Issue of Patents

Applicants and their attorneys who desire the simultaneous issue of allowed applications must submit the request to:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of Publications
CP-2, Room 5C26

The request must contain the following information about each allowed application for which simultaneous issue is requested:

(1) serial number
(2) filing date
(3) name(s) of inventor(s)
(4) title of invention
(5) date of allowance

Separate copies of the request must accompany each Issue Fee Transmittal (PTO-85b).

Questions concerning this practice may be directed to Mr. Stanley J. Bania, Director, Office of Publications, Area Code (703) 557-3794.

RECORDS AND FILES

(40) Assignee Names

Effective April 1, 1976, only the first appearing name of an assignee will be printed on the patent where multiple names for the same party are identified on the Base Issue Fee Transmittal form, POL-85b. Such multiple names may occur when both a legal name and an "also known as" or "doing business as" name is also included. This printing practice will not, however, affect the existing practice of recording assignments with the Office in the Assignment Division. The assignee entry on form POL-85b should still be completed to indicate the assignment data as recorded in the Office. For example, the assignment filed in the Office and therefore the POL-85b assignee entry might read "Smith Company doing business as (d.b.a.) Jones Company." The assignee entry on the printed patent will read "Smith Company."

For purposes of compiling and publishing the 1976 Annual Index of Patentees, this change will be retroactive to patents issuing on January 6, 1976.

RICHARD J. SHAKMAN,
Dec. 17, 1975. Assistant Commissioner
for Administration.

[942 O.G. 186]

(41) Submission of Uniform Assignee Names on the Issue Fee Payment Form PTOL-85b

The Patent and Trademark Office is experiencing problems when computer-sorting assignee names for the Patentee Index because of the non-uniform use of the names of certain companies and corporations on the issue fee payment form PTOL-85b. The use of different spellings or nomenclature for the same company requires the Office to expend time and effort to determine whether the various name forms are in fact for the same company. If such inconsistencies are not corrected, patents to the same company will appear in different locations in the Patentee Index. An example of inconsistent use is "ABC Company, Ltd." and "ABC Co., Limited."

Therefore, persons who list assignee names on issue fee payment form PTOL-85b should ensure that the same company name form is used for all patents issuing to a particular company.

[965 O.G. 8]

(42) Assignments Affecting Applications of Joint Inventors

Over the past several years, the Assignment Branch of the Patent and Trademark Office has been charging a single fee for recording the assignment of a patent or patent application of joint inventors when separate assignment documents are executed by the joint inventors and then filed together for recording.

This practice is in error because it conflicts with 37 CFR 1.21 Miscellaneous Fees and Charges (h) Recording of Documents which states:

(1)For recording each assignment, agreement or other paper relating to the property in a patent or applications . . . . . $20.00.

Effective Nov. 1, 1984, the Assignment Branch will charge in accordance with the above regulation, the fee of $20.00 for each assignment document of the joint inventors which relates to the patent or patent applications.

THERESA A. BRELSFORD,
Oct. 1, 1984. Assistant Commissioner
for Administration.

[1047 O.G. 49]

(43) Title of Invention Carried on Office Records

The Patent and Trademark Office is experiencing an increased incidence in the number of newly filed applications in which the title of the invention is inconsistent within the papers. This has resulted in applicants requesting correction of the official filing receipt in many instances to indicate the title preferred by applicants.

Hereafter, whenever the title of the invention appears inconsistent within the papers of a newly filed application for patent, the records of the Office will carry the title as indicated on the first page of the specification and no corrected filing receipt will be issued to indicate another title. Note that 37 CFR 1.72(a) indicates that the title of the invention should appear as a heading on the first page of the specification.

It should also be noted that applicant may amend the title under 37 CFR 1.115 if any changes are subsequently desired before issuance of a patent.

(44) Notice to Patent Owners and Parties Responsible for Paying Maintenance Fees Concerning Fee Address and Payor Number

37 CFR 1.363, effective Nov. 1, 1984, provides for a "fee address" to be entered in the Office patent file records for use in all correspondence relating to maintenance fees. The "fee address" is in addition to the "correspondence address" under 37 CFR 1.33 which will continue to be used for all reexamination and interference purposes. If no separate "fee address" is specified, the "correspondence address" will also be used for maintenance fee correspondence.

In order to simplify changes in address by patent owners having several patents, and data input by the Patent and Trademark Office, a "payor number" will be assigned to each "fee address" when a "fee address" is presented to the Office in a patent or earlier upon request. A request for a "payor number" before a maintenance fee is paid or due will permit a patent owner to request that the "fee address" or "payor number" be recorded in the Office records of the patents owned on which maintenance fees are due so that all notices relating to maintenance fees will be sent to the "fee address".

The Patent and Trademark Office has established a procedure for assigning a "payor number" upon request by a patent owner or a party responsible for paying maintenance fees. Such a party may be, for example, the finance office of a corporation or of a separate organization specializing in maintenance fee payments. Under the procedure, a patent owner or other party may request a "payor number" for a particular "fee address" by writing to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231. Each request for a "payor number" should include:

— the "fee address" to be used by the Office, and — the telephone number of the fee addressee to be used to resolve problems.

After receipt of a "payor number", it may be used to indicate to the Patent and Trademark Office the "fee address" to be used in particular patents on which maintenance fees will become due and in applications in which issue fees have been or are being paid. Any request for entry of a "payor number" or "fee address" in the Office records of a patent, however, must be signed by the patent owner or his or her attorney or agent of record.

After a "payor number" has been assigned, it should be used in all future maintenance fee payments and related correspondence. However, where a "payor number" has not been previously entered in the Office records for a patent, the mere indication of a "payor number" at the time of payment of the maintenance fee, without the signature of the patent owner or the owner's attorney or agent of record, will not serve to make the "payor number" of record in the Office for that patent.

(45) New System To Monitor Patent Applications

During this summer the Patent and Trademark Office will begin implementation of a new office-wide computer system, the Patent Application Locator and Monitor System (PALM 3), for monitoring the location and status of pending patent applications. The system will also have the ability to print data on certain form letters such as the Notice of Allowance, using computer-controlled printers located in the Examining Groups. This will permit the Notice of Allowance to be printed and mailed by the Groups shortly after the Examiner has decided that an application is in condition for allowance. Under the new system, the Notice of Allowance will be mailed

Amendment is required, it will normally be mailed as an attachment to the Notice of Allowance.

When existing printing backlogs have been eliminated, this accelerated mailing should reduce the time between allowance by the examiner and issuance of the patent grant in most cases. The nature and/or extent of the revisions or processing requirements subsequent to mailing of the Notice of Allowance may result in little or no reduction in the time required for the printing of a few patents. In addition, it is possible that, as a result of this additional processing, withdrawal or correction of the Notice for a given application may be required. For instance, prosecution might be reopened as a result of the Quality Review Program. In situations where the Base Issue Fee has been paid and the Notice of Allowance is subsequently withdrawn, the applicant may request that a refund be made or that the fee be credited to a Deposit Account.

Applicants will continue to receive a three part Notice of Allowance packet, but, as a result of automated printing, the Notice will be produced in a slightly revised format. This new format will have the following application data printed thereon:

—Serial Number
—Filing Date
—Total Claims Allowed
—Date of Mailing
—Examiner Name and Group Art Unit
—First Named Applicant
—Title of the Invention
—Base Issue Fee Due (Utility Applications Only)
—Attorney's Docket Number
—Class and Subclass Where Issued

Copy (a) of the new Notice of Allowance will be used as applicant's record copy in the current manner. Copy (b) will continue to be used as a transmittal for the fee with copy (c) required when a charge to a deposit account is authorized. The new version of copy (c) will also have a section to notify the Office of a change in an inventor's address. Note that this address change need not be signed by the inventor. This procedure eliminates the need for the separate Inventor's Address Change form (PTOL-231) now in use.

One other change to current practice will also be implemented as a result of the new system. Beginning with patents issuing in the late fall of this year, advance orders for patent copies will only be sent to the correspondence address of record in the application. This practice will permit computer generation of mailing labels for the orders and thereby eliminate the need for the separate, pink Advance Order form (PTO-721) now in use. Requests for advance orders will now be made in a special section of copy (b) of the Notice of Allowance. During the transition from the old order method to the new, it will be necessary to send some advance orders to the correspondence address of record in the application rather than some other address as has been requested on an earlier submitted Advance Order Form.

While the major impacts on the public will be limited to those discussed above, one other minor matter should be mentioned. It is anticipated that, due to the absence of data in the master data base, some information occasionally may not be printed on the Notice of Allowance or on other form correspondence. However, this does not necessarily mean that a corrected Notice or form letter is required. Furthermore, since the data base is not used for printing of the patent grant, the missing information should appear on the final issued patent if it is in the application file wrapper. This problem is expected to diminish as the implementation of the system proceeds and the data base becomes more complete. The cooperation of applicants and their representatives during this system implementation is sincerely appreciated by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(46) Policy Regarding Storage, Retention and Availability of the Foreign Patent Documents in the Numeric Collection of the Patent & Trademark Office

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) maintains the largest collection of foreign patent documents in the United States. This collection is a major technical information resource that supports the patent examination function as well as the PTO's mission of disseminating technical information. The collection is divided into two parts—the classified collection which is distributed among the examiners' search files, and the numeric collection which is maintained by the PTO's Scientific Library. A large portion of the numeric collection is in paper form, but it also includes considerable microfilm with some overlap between the two forms. Some of the documents are republished versions of earlier publications (e.g., unexamined and examined applications). One of the PTO's objectives has been to reduce the bulky paper foreign patent files in the numeric collection by replacing them, where possible, with good quality microfilm and by eliminating duplicates. A number of other considerations bear on the management of this collection. Because of the importance of the collection, the PTO has established a policy intended to ensure the effective storage, retention, and availability of the foreign patent documents in its numeric collection. The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of this policy which is set forth below.

The public is invited to consider and submit comments on the policy. Please address comments to:

William S. Lawson
Administrator for Documentation
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

General Policy

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (1) is the National repository for all foreign patent documents, except design patents; (2) will maintain, in numerically retrievable collections, as many as possible of these documents for which there is or may be a reasonable level of need, and (3) will make these documents conveniently accessible to the PTO and to the public.

Implementation

1. The Scientific Library is responsible for policy implementation.

2. At least all post-1920 foreign patent documents needed to meet "Minimum Documentation" requirements of the Patent Cooperation Treaty will be housed in the Scientific Library in either paper or microfilm form.

3. All paper copies of foreign patent documents not needed to meet "Minimum Documentation" requirements will be housed either in the Scientific Library or other storage space in accordance with usage activity. The documents with greater activity will be housed in the Scientific Library until space therein is exhausted and the remaining documents will be housed in the other storage space.

4. All foreign journals (official gazettes) will be housed in the Scientific Library.

5. All paper copies of foreign patent documents needed for copy request fulfillment will be stored in a form accessible for prompt retrieval.

6. Whenever feasible, paper copies of foreign patent documents will be replaced by good quality microfilm.

7. 16mm roll microfilm will be the microform preferred for PTO use and archival storage. If 16mm microfilm is not available or is unacceptable, the Library may decide, on a case-by-case basis, whether a different microform should be obtained.

8. All microfilm of foreign patent documents intended for use by the PTO and the public will be housed in the Scientific Library. All archival microfilm will be housed in a facility that is suitable for the preservation and protection of the microfilm and for needed access.

9. Paper copies of foreign patent documents will be disposed of if good quality microfilm of the corresponding documents is available in the Library, good quality archival microfilm is available in the PTO, and the PTO has the legal rights to sell paper copies made from the microfilm and to reproduce the microfilm for internal use; paper copies for which there is little or no demand may be disposed of despite the availability of only marginal-quality microfilm. Paper copies for which good quality microfilm is available in the Library, but for which the other conditions noted above are not met, will be retained, although they need not be stored in a form accessible for prompt retrieval. However, such documents will be stored in accordance with a procedure designed to ensure preservation of the documents, adequate records of stored material and efficient utilization of space.

10. Where an application has been republished, a decision will be made on a "country-by-country" basis as to whether the duplicate version or versions of the initial document will be retained. The basis for this decision will be the current or anticipated utility of the duplicate documents to the PTO and the public.

11. Collections of paper copies that are not needed by the PTO will be disposed of promptly. Such collections will first be offered, for a limited time, to developing countries through the World Intellectual Property Organization. Collections which cannot be disposed of in this manner may then be disposed of, preferably by offering them for sale, as part of some exchange, or as gifts. However, if unneeded paper copy collections cannot be disposed of in a beneficial manner within a reasonable period of time, they will be discarded.

12. Requests for copies of foreign patent documents from within the PTO and from the public will be fulfilled promptly.

13. Fees to the public for copies of foreign patent documents will be set at a level commensurate with full cost recovery and with the provision of prompt, efficient copy service.

14. As the complete text of foreign patent documents is captured in electronic form and becomes retrievable, numerically and otherwise, to the PTO and to the public, in the automated patent system, paper copies will be disposed of and the retention of microfilm reconsidered.

15. It is recognized that this policy does not provide for all possible circumstances regarding the foreign patent document collection and there may be limited instances where some deviation from the policy is justified. In such cases, the deviation will be justified in writing by the Program Manager of the Scientific Library and approved by the Administrator for Documentation and the Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

WILLIAM S. LAWSON,
Nov. 26, 1984. Administrator for Documentation.

[1052 OG 3]

*(46) The PTO also maintains a very large, technologically classified collection of foreign patent documents. This policy does not apply to the classified collection.

FEES AND PAYMENT OF MONEY

(47) DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Parts 1 and 2

Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to establish fee related procedures and fees in amounts which would comply with the requirements of either Public Law 96–517 or H.R. 6260, dependent upon which is effective on Oct. 1, 1982. This action is necessary at this time in view of the requirements to establish fees and procedures contained in Public Law 96–517 and the requirements which would also be present under H.R. 6260 enacted as a Public Law. This final rule is being issued in two sections with the first section relating to patent fees and the second section relating to trademark fees. This final rule is also being issued in alternative form so that the proper fees and procedures will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, under either Public Law 96–517 or the Public Law which results from enactment of H.R. 6260. Thus, if Public Law 96–517 remains fully effective on Oct. 1, 1982, the rule changes contained herein which are common to Public Law 96–517 and H.R. 6260, as well as those specific to Public Law 96–517, contained in Alternative A of each section, will become effective. Upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, the rule changes contained herein which are common to Public Law 96–517 and H.R. 6260, as well as those specific to H.R. 6260, contained in Alternative B of each section, will become effective. Thus, the intended effect of this action is to adopt rules which will be effective on Oct. 1, 1982, establishing patent and trademark fees and procedures regardless of whether Public Law 96–517 remains fully effective or whether H.R. 6260 has been enacted.

Effective Date: Oct. 1, 1982. However, prior to Oct. 1, 1982, the Department of Commerce will publish a document confirming the amendments under either Alternative A or Alternative B set forth herein depending upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law.

For Further Information Contact: As to the trademark rules contact Miss Maude Williams by telephone at (703) 557–2222 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Attention: Miss Maude Williams, Rm. 3–11C17, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information:

SECTION I—REVISION OF PATENT FEES

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on June 28, 1982, at 47 FR 28042–28063 and in the Official Gazette on June 29, 1982, at 1019 O.G. 57-120. An oral hearing was held on July 9, 1982. Fourteen written letters and statements were submitted. Five persons testified at the oral hearing. Full consideration has been given to all of the letters, statements, and testimony.

Objectives of Rule Changes

These rule changes are designed primarily to implement the Patent and Trademark Office fees which are provided for by Public Law 96-517, or which would be set in, or provided for by, the Public Law resulting from H.R. 6260.

Public Law 96-517

Public Law 96-517 presently requires that fees be established by the Commissioner for the processing of patent applications from filing through issuance or abandonment, for maintaining a patent in force, and for providing all other services and materials related to patents. Public Law 96-517 requires that by Oct. 1, 1982, fees for the processing of patent applications, other than design patents, be set by the Commissioner to recover in aggregate 25 per centum of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Similarly, fees for processing design patents are to be set to recover in aggregate 50 per centum of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. By Oct. 1, 1982, fees for all other services or materials related to patents are to be set to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of performing the service or furnishing the material.

Public Law 96-517 also requires that fees be set for maintaining all patents filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, other than design patents, in force. It also requires that maintenance fees must recover 25 per centum of the estimated cost to the Office of processing patent applications, other than design patent applications, by the fifteenth fiscal year following Dec. 12, 1980. Under Public Law 96-517, the maintenance fees are due 3½, 7½, and 11½ years after grant of the patent.

Public Law 96-517 is presently effective and this rule change is designed to implement the fee provisions of that law if it remains fully effective on Oct. 1, 1982. The changes which will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, under Public Law 96-517 (without enactment of H.R. 6260) are (1) the rule changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260, and (2) the rule changes under only Public Law 96-517, which appear in Alternative A.

On June 8, 1982, the House of Representatives passed H.R. 6260. H.R. 6260 would establish a number of statutory fees which the Commissioner is required to charge. Among the more significant of these are fees for filing a patent application, issuing, and maintaining a patent in force. The fees for filing a patent application and issuing a patent would be set forth in §41(a) of Title 35, United States Code, as proposed to be amended by H.R. 6260. Certain other fees, such as appeal fees, the fee for filing a disclaimer, and fees for filing petitions seeking to revive an abandoned application and for extensions of time, would also be set in §41(a) of Title 35, United States Code. Section 41(b) of Title 35, United States Code, as proposed to be amended by H.R. 6260, would set forth the fees for maintaining a patent in force. These fees would be due 3½, 7½, and 11½ years after grant of the patent or within a grace period of six months thereafter. Section 41(c) of Title 35, United States Code, as proposed to be amended by H.R. 6260, would provide for the acceptance of maintenance fees after the statutory grace period under certain conditions and with certain effects.

H.R. 6260 would also provide for the reduction by 50 per centum in the fees paid under §41(a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations, who meet the definitions established, and to be established therefor.

Section 41(d) of Title 35, Untied States Code, as proposed to be amended by H.R. 6260, would also provide that the Commissioner establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents which are not covered in §41(a)–(c) of Title 35, United States Code, to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the processing, services, or materials.

The changes which will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, are (1) the rule changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260, and (2) the rule changes under H.R. 6260, which appear in Alternative B. H.R. 6260 includes other provisions which would be the subject of other proposals for rulemaking.

DISCUSSION OF SIGNIFICANT CHANGES

This rulemaking places into the appropriate sections of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, the various fees which are due on filing, during the pendency of a patent application, or during the term of a patent. A number of significant changes are made in order to implement either Public Law 96-517 or H.R. 6260.

Under H.R. 6260, and Alternative B of this rule making, fees under §41(a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, would be reduced by 50 per centum for independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations. H.R. 6260 would give the Commissioner authority to establish regulations defining independent inventors and nonprofit organizations. H.R. 6260 defines small business concerns by reference to §3 of the Small Business Act and regulations established by the Small Business Administration. This rulemaking, in Alternative B, implements the fee system which would be established by H.R. 6260 and lists all applicable fees.

Another significant change relates to fees established under Public Law 96-517 and which would be established by H.R. 6260 for petitions for extensions of time to take actions required by the Commissioner in an application. H.R. 6260 would establish a fee of $50 for filing a petition for a first one-month extension of time, an additional fee of $100 for filing a petition for a second one-month extension of time which would expire two months after the end of the time period set for taking action, and an additional fee of $200 for filing a petition for a third one-month extension of time which would expire three months after the end of the time period set for taking action. A fourth one-month extension with an additional fee of $200 could be requested if additional time was available under the statute. Under H.R. 6260, the Commissioner would have authority to issue regulations providing when, within any maximum time period permitted by statute, petitions for extensions of time, and the required fee therefor, may be filed. The Commissioner would also not be precluded by H.R. 6260 from waiving the fee for filing a petition for an extension of time where the Office extends the period due to equity considerations or sufficient cause. This rulemaking implements the extension of time provisions of H.R. 6260 by permitting applicants in the majority of situations to file the petition for an extension of time and the fee at the time of and along with the filing of the response for which a non-statutory or shortened statutory time period has been set. This will reduce the amount of paperwork involved and should significantly reduce the expenses of applicants and the Office since resources now devoted to the separate processing of petitions for extensions of time will no longer be required to be expended thereon. The fees are set to provide a proper control on the number of extensions of time given. The same procedures relating to extensions of time which would be established under Alternative B and H.R. 6260 will also be established under Alternative A and Public Law 96-517. Thus, whether the rules are effective on Oct. 1, 1982, under Public Law 96-517 and Alternative A, or under H.R. 6260 and Alternative B, the same procedures for obtaining extensions of time will be in effect with the only differences being in the amount of the fees.

Another significant change relates to the implementation of the fee for revival of an unintentionally abandoned application which would be authorized under H.R. 6260. H.R. 6260 would establish two different fees for filing petitions with different standards to revive abandoned patent applications. The same two fees would be applicable to petitions to accept the delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent. Under H.R. 6260, a fee of $50 is established in §1.17(l) for filing a petition for revival under §§133 or 151 of Title 35, United States Code, in accordance with standards presently in effect where the delay resulting in the abandonment, or the delay in payment of the issue fee, was unavoidable. Under H.R. 6260, a fee of $500 is established in §1.17(m) for filing each petition for revival, or for acceptance of the delayed payment of an issue fee, where the abandonment or the failure to pay the issue fee was unintentional. A mere statement that abandonment was unintentional plus the $500 fee is all that is required in this case for this purpose. Under H.R. 6260 and this rulemaking an applicant would have a choice of which petition and fee to file seeking revival depending on the circumstances involved. The changes discussed in this paragraph cannot be made effective without enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law.

The rulemaking also provides for fees for filing certain petitions which have, in some cases, heretofore, been decided without a charge. These fees are established under Public Law 96-517 and are provided for by the amendment of §41(d) of Title 35, United States Code, which would be introduced by H.R. 6260. Under §41 of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 96-517 or as it would be amended by H.R. 6260, fees are authorized for the processing of various petitions desiring certain actions to be taken regarding patent applications, for the recording of assignments, for reexamination of patents, and for the processing of international applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. In general, fees are not being required for those petitions which are supervisory in nature. For example, where applicants are petitioning from an allegedly improper action of the examiner, it is felt that such petitions should be processed and decided without charge since they are not asking for any special privilege but are attempting to correct an allegedly incorrect Office holding. The changes discussed in this paragraph will be in effect on Oct. 1, 1982, whether the rules become effective under Public Law 96-517 and Alternative A, or under H.R. 6260 and Alternative B.

Many of the fees currently set forth in §1.21 are being increased to reflect the cost of currently performing that service.

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC SECTIONS CHANGED

The sections changed are grouped in this proposal under three different categories. Those changes which are common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 appear first and are numbered 1–54. Those changes which relate only to Public Law 96-517 appear as Alternative A and are numbered 55–62. Those changes which are dependent upon enactment of H.R. 6260 appear as Alternative B and are numbered 63–71. The changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, whether or not H.R. 6260 is enacted as a Public Law.

* * * * *

Upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, Alternative B will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, in which case Alternative A will not become effective.

Rule Changes Common To Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260

The following sections are changed, effective Oct. 1, 1982, under either Public Law 96-517 or H.R. 6260:

Section 1.11 is amended to change the reference for the reexamination request fee to §1.20(c).

Section 1.12 is amended to break the section into four paragraphs. Paragraph (a) maintains current practice but adds specific reference to §1.19(a)(5) which sets the cost of copies.

Paragraph (b) maintains current wording except for inserting "patent" after "abandoned" and changing "his" to "applicant's". Paragraph (c) includes new language relating to obtaining copies of assignment records not open to the public. Access can be obtained only with the applicant's permission or by petition with fee to the Commissioner for such access in particular situations. No change in the showing required by petition to obtain access is intended by this amendment. Paragraph (d) contains present language except for reference to the specific rule which sets forth the charge for time consumed in making assignment searches.

New paragraph (e) of §1.14, sets forth the two ways in which access can be obtained to patent applications which are not open to the public. The two ways are (1) by petitioning and paying the petition fee and approval of the Commissioner of such petition and (2) by obtaining written approval from the applicant.

New §1.19 provides fees for copies of various documents supplied by the Office. The fees have been grouped into 5 paragraphs. New paragraph (a) provides fees for uncertified copies. Subparagraphs (a)(1) and (2) indicate the prices of printed patent copies. Subparagraph (a)(3) provides a single fee for a copy of an application, as filed, for each 50 pages, or fraction thereof. This practice should make it much easier to determine the amount of the required fee. Subparagraph (a)(4) sets a single fee for a copy of each 100 pages, or fraction thereof, of a patent file wrapper. Subparagraph (a)(5) provides for a charge of 30 cents per page for copies of Office records other than those covered by subparagraphs (a)(1) through (4). Subparagraph (a)(6) provides a fee for a microfiche copy of a microfiche.

Paragraph (b) of §1.19 sets fees for certified copies of Office documents. Subparagraph (b)(1) sets a fee for certifying Office records. Subparagraph (b)(2) provides a single fee for searching assignment records, preparing an abstract of the title and certification thereof. Subparagraph (b)(3) provides a fee for comparing copies not prepared by the Office prior to certification in order to provide basis for certification. Paragraph 1.19(c) sets the fees for subscribing to all of the patents issued annually in particular subclasses. This charge is in addition to the normal copy charge under §1.19(a)(1) and (2). Paragraph 1.19(d) sets the fee for providing patent copies to libraries under 35 U.S.C. 13. Paragraph 1.19(e) provides fees for lists of United States patents in particular subclasses.

Section 1.21 is amended to contain those miscellaneous fees which do not relate to the topics covered in §§1.16–1.20. All of the fees in §1.21 are established under the authority given the Commissioner by 35 U.S.C. 41(d) as amended by Public Law 96-517 or as proposed in H.R. 6260. Paragraph 1.21(a) establishes fees for admission to the examination for registration to practice, registration, reinstatement and issuance of certificates of good standing of patent attorneys and agents. Subparagraph 1.21(b)(1) sets forth the fee for establishing and reinstating deposit accounts, while subparagraph 1.21(b)(2) sets forth the fee due when the balance at the end of each month is below $40. Paragraph 1.21(c) sets the fee for filing a disclosure document. Paragraph 1.21(d) sets the fee for renting a delivery box. Paragraph 1.21(e) sets the fee for an international-type search report. Although all national applications now receive what is known as an international-type search, if a report thereof is desired in addition to an Office action, the fee set in §1.21(e) is required. Paragraph 1.21(f) sets a fee for searching Office records for purposes not otherwise specified. Paragraph 1.21(g) sets the fee for tokens for copying machines. Paragraph 1.21(h) sets the fee for recording assignments, agreements, and other documents. Paragraph 1.21(i) sets forth the fee for publishing a notice of availability of a patent for licensing or sale in the Official Gazette. Paragraph 1.21(j) sets the fee for the Office providing a duplicate or replacement of a permanent Office user pass. Paragraph 1.21(k) indicates that the Commissioner may specify charges for items and services not otherwise specified at a level to recover the actual cost of providing such an item or service by the Office.

Section 1.24 is revised so that the denomination of coupons sold by the Office will be in more convenient amounts.

Section 1.25 is amended to provide, in paragraph (a), a reference to the fee for establishing a deposit account and a service charge if the end of the month balance is below $40.00. Paragraph (b) is amended by revising the present sentence to refer to post-issuance fees and by adding a second sentence which would specifically provide in the regulations for the possibility of an applicant giving a general authorization to charge any fee due under §§1.16–1.18 in a particular application to a deposit account during the entire pendency of the application. This general authorization would not apply after the patent issues, e.g., to maintenance fees. The last sentence of paragraph (b) permits fees during reexamination to be charged to a deposit account by filing an authorization with the request for reexamination.

Section 1.26 is amended to provide in paragraph (a) that a withdrawal of a request for an oral hearing will not entitle appellant to a refund. Paragraph 1.26(a) raises the amount which will not be refunded without specific request from fifty cents to one dollar. Paragraph (b) relating to refunds of international search fees during subsequent examination of a national application is deleted since such refunds are now covered by reductions in the appropriate fees paid under §1.445 rather than solely by direct refunds. Paragraph (c) is amended to bring the spelling of "requester" into conformance with that used in other sections of the regulations.

Section 1.45 is amended to provide in paragraphs (b) and (c) for a petition and petition fee to be filed to correct misjoinder of inventorship situations in pending applications. The fee will cover the additional time required by the Office to process such applications.

Section 1.47 is amended to provide for petitions and fees for filing applications signed by less than all inventors, or a person not the inventor.

Section 1.51 is amended to refer to the filing fees in new §1.16 and to add a new paragraph (c) indicating that applicants may file authorizations to charge fees required under any of §§1.16–1.18 to deposit accounts.

Section 1.52 is amended to add a reference in paragraph (a) to new paragraph (d). New paragraph (d) provides in the rules for filing an application in a language other than English if a verified English translation and fee under §1.17(k) are timely submitted.

Section 1.55 is amended in paragraph (b) to require a petition and fee for processing priority papers submitted after the issue fee is paid.

Section 1.75 is amended to add a reference to §1.16 and a sentence referring to the fee for multiple dependent claims set forth in §1.16(d).

Section 1.85 is amended to delete the sentence relating to mounting of informal drawings.

Section 1.86 is removed to delete the reference to the Office draftsman making drawings since such service is no longer available.

Section 1.102 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding new paragraphs (c) and (d). Revised paragraph (a) refers to paragraph (b) and added paragraphs (c) and (d). Paragraph (c) requires a petition but no fee where the basis for the petition to make special is the applicant's age or health or the impact of the invention on improving the environment or conservation of energy. Paragraph (d) requires a petition and the fee set forth in §1.17(i) for petitions to make special on grounds other than those above.

Section 1.103 is amended in paragraph (a) to provide for filing a petition and the fee set forth in §1.17(i) for a suspension of action except that no fee would be required where the reason for the suspension is the fault of the Patent and Trademark Office. Paragraph (b) is amended to clearly indicate that suspensions are directed to actions by the Office and not responses by the applicant.

Section 1.104, paragraph (d) is amended to change the fee reference to correspond to §1.21(e).

Section 1.134 is added to indicate that unless applicant is notified of any non-statutory or shortened statutory period in an Office action, a maximum period for response of six months is allowed.

Section 1.135 is amended to provide that if no response is filed within the time set in the Office action under §1.134 or as it may be extended under §1.136, the application will be abandoned unless an Office action indicates that another consequence, such as disclaimer, will take place. Paragraph (b) is amended to include a reference to paragraph (a). Paragraph (c) is amended to add that applicant's reply must be a bona fide attempt to respond as well as to advance the case to final action in order for applicant to be given an opportunity to supply any omission.

Section 1.136 is amended to revise the title and provide for two distinct procedures to extend the period for action or response in particular situations. The procedure which is available for use in a particular situation will depend upon the circumstances. Paragraph 1.136(a) permits an applicant to file a petition for extension of time and a fee as in §1.17(a), (b), (c), or (d) up to four months after the end of the time period set to take action except (1) where prohibited by statute, (2) in interference proceedings, or (3) where applicant has been notified otherwise in an Office action. The petition and fee can be filed prior to or with the response. The filing of the petition and fee will extend the time period to take action up to four months dependent on the amount of the fee paid except in those circumstances noted above. Paragraph 1.136(a) will effectively reduce the amount of paperwork required by applicants and the Office since the extension will be effective upon filing of the petition and payment of the appropriate fee and without acknowledgment or action by the Office and since the petition and fee can be filed with the response. Paragraph (b) provides for requests for extensions of time upon a showing of sufficient cause when the procedure of paragraph (a) is not available. Although the petition and fee procedure of §1.136(a) will normally be available within 4 months after a set period for response has expired, an extension request for cause under §1.136(b) must be filed during the set period for response. The sentence in paragraph (b) relating to who may grant an extension under paragraph (b) is eliminated thereby providing additional flexibility to designate persons to act on requests under paragraph (b). Extensions of time in interference proceedings are governed by §1.245.

Section 1.165, paragraph (b) is amended to delete therefrom the last sentence which refers to a fee for mounting copies. Since little or no need has been found for this provision in the rules, it is deleted.

Section 1.171, as amended, adds a reference to §1.19 (b)(2) which sets forth the fee for title reports.

Section 1.177 is amended to require a petition and fee as set forth in §1.17(i) where it is desired that divisions of a reissue issue on different dates.

Section 1.181 is amended to indicate in paragraph (d) that if a petition to the Commissioner is filed under the provisions of a section which requires a petition fee and the required fee is not paid, the petition will be dismissed. The amendment to paragraph (g) deletes the reference to §1.183.

Section 1.182 is amended to add a sentence requiring any petition filed under this section to be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in §1.17(h).

Section 1.183 is amended to specifically refer to the inherent authority of the Commissioner to suspend or waive the rules at the Commissioner's initiative. The amendment also indicates the Commissioner's authority to designate others to act for the Commissioner in appropriate circumstances. The rule language also requires the payment of the petition fee set forth in §1.17(h) if a petition to suspend or waive the rules is filed.

Section 1.191 is amended to change the fee reference for filing a notice of appeal to §1.17(e) and delete the word "primary" since some actions which are subject to appeal are not made by a "primary" examiner.

Section 1.192, paragraph (a), is amended to refer to the fee for filing an appeal brief set forth in §1.17(f). The present language requiring a showing of sufficient cause for extensions of time for filing the brief and an indication that an oral hearing is desired at the time of filing the brief are removed from paragraph 1.192(a). Under the amendment to paragraph 1.192(a), the provisions of §1.136 will apply to extensions of time for filing the brief. The time for requesting an oral hearing is now set in §1.194(b).

Section 1.194 is amended to revise paragraphs (b) and (c) to refer to the fee for oral hearing in §1.17(g) and to indicate in paragraph (b) that any request for an oral hearing must be made within one month after the mailing date of the examiner's answer.

Section 1.197, paragraph (b), is amended to modify the last sentence relating to extensions of time to make the provisions of §1.136 applicable thereto. Paragraph 1.197(b) is also amended to limit requests for rehearing, reconsideration or modification of a Board decision to one. This will not significantly change present practice since such requests are now required to be filed within thirty days from the date of the original decision.

Section 1.231, paragraph (a)(1), is amended to change the reference to the fee for filing a request for reexamination to §1.20(c).

Sections 1.245 and 1.246 are amended to indicate that the provisions of §1.136 do not apply to time periods in interferences.

Section 1.263 is amended to add a reference to the fee for filing a disclaimer contained in §1.20(d).

New section 1.268 is added to provide a rule relating to the filing of interference settlement agreements. The rule generally follows 35 U.S.C. 135(c) and provides for filing of petitions and fees in paragraphs 1.268(b) and (c).

Section 1.292, paragraph (a), is amended to require the payment of the fee set forth in §1.17(j) with any petition for the institution of public use proceedings.

Section 1.304, paragraph (a), is amended to provide for extension of the time period for filing an appeal or civil action to be subject to the provisions of §1.136 and refer to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rather than to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

Section 1.311 is amended to designate the present section as paragraph (a) and revise it in several ways. Paragraph (a) indicates that the notice of allowance will be sent to the correspondence address as indicated under §1.33. The issue fee (§1.18) is indicated as being due 3 months from the date of mailing of the notice of allowance. Paragraph 1.311(b) permits an authorization to be filed either before or after the mailing of the notice of allowance to charge the issue fee to a deposit account.

Section 1.312 is amended to divide the section into two paragraphs and require a petition and payment of the fee under §1.17(i) for any amendment filed after payment of the issue fee.

Section 1.313 is amended to provide in paragraph (a) clear basis for the Office withdrawing applications from issue on its own initiative or upon petition by applicant accompanied by the petition fee set forth in §1.17(i). Any accompanying amendment must comply with the requirements of §1.312. Paragraph (b) clarifies when an application will be withdrawn from issue after assignment of the issue date and patent number.

Section 1.314 is amended to revise the wording to eliminate reference to a portion of the issue fee and adds reference to the possibility that an application in which the issue fee was paid can be withdrawn from issue under§1.313 or the issuance thereof deferred pursuant to a petition by the applicant and the payment of the petition fee under §1.17(i).

Section 1.321 is amended to include references in both paragraphs (a) and (b) to the statutory disclaimer fee in §1.20(d) and delete the reference to §1.21.

Section 1.324 is amended to include reference to the fee in §1.20(b) and change the word "application" to "petition".

Section 1.331, paragraph (a), is amended to add a new sentence which gives the citation of the fee for recording assignments and to indicate that instruments recorded on the Government register under Part 7 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, do not require payment of such fee.

Section 1.332 is amended to refer to the fee in §1.21 (h) for recording an assignment.

Section 1.334 is amended to divide the rule into three paragraphs and also require an address of the assignee so that correspondence can be directed to the assignee if required. New paragraph (c) provides for filing a petition and the fee set in §1.17(i) seeking to have the patent issue to the assignee where such assignment has not been recorded at the time the issue fee is paid.

Section 1.341, paragraph (h), is amended to refer to the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(2) for registration of an attorney or agent.

Section 1.347 is amended to add a sentence referring to the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(3) for reinstatement of an attorney or agent.

Section 1.445 is amended to increase the PCT transmittal fee and search fee to a level needed to cover the cost of performing the required functions. Paragraph 1.445(a)(2) is also amended to provide, in effect, for a reduction in the international search fee due to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as an International Searching Authority where a corresponding United States national application with fee has been filed. In addition, paragraph 1.445(a)(4) is amended to credit the national fee required under §1.16(a)–(d) where an international search fee has been paid on the corresponding international application to the United States as an International Searching Authority. Where the amount of the credit is in excess of that required for the national fee a request for a refund of the excess under §1.446(b) may be filed at the time of paying the national fee. The supplemental search fee for inventions in addition to the first, where lack of unity of invention has been found, is reduced since the present fee is more than is required to cover the costs. The national fee amount is the same as the national application filing fees in §1.16(a)–(d).

Section 1.446(b) is revised to permit a refund of a portion of the search fee to the extent set forth in §1.445(a)(4), if such refund is requested at the time of paying the national fee.

Section 1.451 is amended in paragraph (b) to revise the citation of the fees for a certified copy.

Section 1.510 is amended to cite the section which sets forth the fee for requesting reexamination. There is no change in the amount of this fee.

Alternative B—Rule Changes Under H.R. 6260

The following sections will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to that date:

Section 1.16 in Alternative B establishes in the regulations those statutory fees which would be charged by the Commissioner for filing patent applications under H.R. 6260. Section 1.16 also includes additional filing fees set in 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(1) to cover the cost of examining complexities presented by certain applications, e.g., applications containing more than a specified number of claims and any application containing a multiple dependent claim. Section 1.16 also provides that fees will be charged when the number of claims is increased above the specified number or when a multiple dependent claim is first presented, whether on filing or at a later point in processing.

Under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) as it would be amended by H.R. 6260, the filing fee for an original patent, except in design or plant cases, is $300. In addition, on filing or on presentation at any other time, $30 is due for each claim in independent form which is in excess of three, $10 is due for each claim (whether independent or dependent) which is in excess of twenty, and $100 is due for each application containing a multiple dependent claim. The latter fee is a one-time charge per application due the first time a multiple dependent claim is presented for examination. For the purpose of computing fees, a multiple dependent claim as referred to in §112 of Title 35, United States Code, or any claim depending therefrom, is considered as separate dependent claims in accordance with the number of claims to which reference is made.

The fees in §1.16 are reduced by 50 per centum for applications filed by small entities, i.e., independent inventors, nonprofit organizations and small business concerns, in accordance with H.R. 6260. Therefore, two fees are listed under each paragraph.

New §1.16 relates to application filing fees. Paragraph (a) sets a basic filing fee of $300 which will be required in all original patent applications. The term "original" as used in the regulations means "non-reissue". An "original" application can be a first filing, a division, a continuation, or a continuation-in-part application. Paragraph 1.16(b) provides for an additional fee of $30 for each independent claim in excess of 3 in an original application. New paragraph 1.16(c) provides for an additional fee of $10 for each claim in excess of 20, whether independent or dependent. A multiple dependent claim is considered to be that number of claims to which direct reference is made. Also, any claim which refers to a multiple dependent claim is considered for fee calculation purposes to be the number of claims to which direct reference is made in the multiple dependent claim. Paragraph 1.16(d) provides for a new fee of $100 in each application which contains one or more multiple dependent claims. The note following paragraph 1.16(d) is intended to clearly indicate that the applicant, attorney, or agent may pay any additional fees required under paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of §1.16, or cancel such claims without payment of such additional fees, either at the time of filing or by the time a response is due to any notice of fee deficiency mailed by the Office. If the fees are not paid or the claims cancelled by the end of the period set for response to the notice of fee deficiency, the application will be held abandoned. New paragraph 1.16(e) establishes the amount of the surcharge for filing the basic filing fee or oath or declaration on a date later than the filing date of the application. This fee is being established at this time, but will only be made effective when the statutory authority for the late filing of the fee or the oath or declaration becomes effective under 35 U.S.C. 111, as it would be amended by H.R. 6260. New paragraph 1.16(f) provides for a filing fee of $125.00 for a design application.

Paragraphs 1.16(g) and (h) incorporate into the regulations the filing fees for plant and reissue applications.

Paragraphs 1.16(i) and (j) set forth the additional claims fees required in reissue applications based on claims in excess of those in the original patent.

New §1.17 relates to patent application processing fees which are normally due during the time a patent application is pending. New paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) provide for the payment of an extension fee for obtaining an automatic extension of time upon filing a petition as provided for in §1.136(a). The extension fee can be paid during the period for which an extension of time to respond is desired, or after the original period for response has expired, provided that any maximum statutory period which may apply has not expired. The fees set forth in §1.17 are the total fees required under §1.136(a) for the periods indicated and any extension fee previously paid to extend a particular period is credited toward the total extension fee required. Paragraph (e) sets forth the fee for filing a notice of appeal to the Board of Appeals. Paragraph (f) sets forth the fee for filing an appeal brief for appellant. Paragraph (g) provides for a new fee for requesting an oral hearing before the Board of Appeals. Paragraphs (h) and (i) set forth fees which will be required with petitions to the Commissioner under those sections of the regulations which specifically indicate that such petition fees are required. The amount of the fees are set at two levels based on the degree of complexity of the petitions in order to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing the petitions. Paragraph (j) provides for a fee to be paid with any petition for institution of a public use proceeding to cover the estimated average cost of such a proceeding. Paragraph (k) sets forth a new fee for processing an application filed with a non-English language specification. The fee will cover the additional processing costs involved in such applications. New paragraph (l) incorporates into the regulations the fee which will be charged for filing a petition to revive or to accept late payment of the issue fee where the delay was unavoidable. New paragraph (m) incorporates into the regulations the fee which will be established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a)7, as amended by H.R. 6260, to be charged for a petition for the revival of an unintentionally abandoned application for patent or for the unintentionally delayed payment of an issue fee.

Since paragraphs 1.17(h), (i), (j) and (k) are established under the authority given the Commissioner under 35 U.S.C. 41(d) as it would be amended by H.R. 6260, only one level of fee is set. H.R. 6260 only provides for the reduction of fees charged to small entities of those fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b).

New §1.18 sets the amount of the issue fees specified by H.R. 6260. New paragraph (a) establishes an issue fee of $500.00 for all original and reissue patents except for designs and plants. New paragraph (b) sets the amount of the issue fee for a design patent. New paragraph (c) sets forth the issue fee for a plant patent. All fees in §1.18 will be reduced by 50 per centum for small entities.

New §1.20 sets fees for various post-issuance functions performed by the Office. New paragraph (a) sets forth a fee for providing a certificate of correction of an applicant's mistake. New paragraph (b) sets a fee to accompany a petition to correct inventorship in a patent under §1.324. New paragraph (c) transfers the $1,500.00 fee for requesting reexamination from present §1.21(x) to this new section. New paragraph (d) provides for a fee for filing a disclaimer under §1.321. Maintenance fees required by Public Law 96-517 and which would be set in H.R. 6260 are placed in this section. Specific maintenance fees, which are required by Public Law 96-517, for those patents resulting from applications filed on and after Dec. 12, 1980 and up to the date of enactment of H.R. 6260 are being established at this time in paragraphs 1.20(e)–(g). New paragraphs 1.20(h)–(j) incorporate into the regulations the maintenance fees which would be provided in 35 U.S.C. 41(b) by H.R. 6260. The fees in paragraphs 1.20(a)–(c) are only set at one level because they are established under 35 U.S.C. 41(d). The fees in paragraphs 1.20(e)–(g) are only set at one level because they are established under Public Law 96-517 and are not subject to reduction for small entities. The details implementing the payment of maintenance fees are not being established at this time.

Section 1.66 is amended to provide for the use of an apostille of a foreign official to attest to oaths or affirmations made in foreign countries in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 115 and 261, as amended by H.R. 6260.

Section 1.137, as amended, designates the existing section as part of paragraph (a), adds a reference to the new fee under §1.17(l) for a petition for revival where the delay which resulted in abandonment was unavoidable, indicates that the petition must be promptly filed, and states when the showing that the delay was unavoidable must be verified. New paragraph 1.137(b) provides for filing a statement and a fee under §1.17(m) for revival of an application which was unintentionally abandoned, and also indicates when such petitions can be filed. Paragraph (c) requires that any petition for revival under paragraph (a) of §1.137 be promptly filed and that a terminal disclaimer, equivalent to the period of abandonment of the application, be filed with any petition under paragraph (a) filed more than six months after the date of abandonment.

Section 1.155 is amended to refer in paragraph (a) to §1.18(b) which sets forth the issue fee for a design application. Paragraph 1.155(b), as amended, includes a reference to the fee for delayed payment of the issue fee set forth in §1.71(l) where the delay in payment was unavoidable, indicates that the petition must be promptly filed, and states when showings that the delay was unavoidable must be verified. New paragraph 1.155(c) provides for acceptance of the late payment of the issue fee where the delay was unintentional upon petition and payment of the fee set forth in §1.17(m). New paragraph 1.155(c) also indicates when such petitions can be filed. Paragraph 1.155(d) is added to require a terminal disclaimer equivalent to the period of abandonment of the application where petition under paragraph (b) of §1.155 is not filed within six months of the date of abandonment.

Section 1.316 is amended to implement the statutory provisions of 35 U.S.C 41(a) with regard to petition fees for revival of applications abandoned for failure to pay the issue fee. Paragraph (b) is amended to provide for petitions for revival with the fee in §1.17(l) where the delay in payment was unavoidable, to indicate that the petition must be promptly filed, and to state when showings that the delay was unavoidable must be verified. Paragraph (c) is added to provide for petitions for revival with the fee in §1.17(m) where the delay was unintentional. New paragraph (c) also indicates when such petitions can be filed. Paragraph (d) is added to require a terminal disclaimer equivalent to the period of abandonment of the application where a petition under paragraph (b) of §1.316 is not filed within six months of the date of abandonment.

Section 1.317 is amended to implement the statutory provisions of 35 U.S.C. 41(a) with regard to petition fees for patents lapsed for failure to pay the remaining balance of the issue fee. Paragraph (a) is amended to show that it applies only to patents in which the issue fee was paid prior to Oct. 1, 1982. Issue fees paid on or after that date will be in accordance with §1.18. Paragraph (b) is amended to provide for petitions with the fee in §1.17(l) where the delay in payment was unavoidable, to indicate that the petition must be promptly filed, and to state when showings that the delay was unavoidable must be verified. Paragraph (c) is added to provide for petitions with the fee in §1.17 (m) where the delay was unintentional. New paragraph (c) also indicates when such petitions can be filed. Paragraph (d) is added to require a terminal disclaimer equivalent to the period of lapse of the patent where a petition under paragraph (b) of §1.317 is not filed within six months of the date of lapse.

RESPONSE TO COMMENTS ON THE RULES

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. All of the comments, including the written comments and the oral testimony, were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein.

Written comments were received from three patent law groups and eleven individuals. The three patent law groups were (1) the American Patent Law Association whose membership includes several thousand lawyers involved in the practice of law before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office; (2) the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Section of the Virginia State Bar; and (3) the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Law Section of The Bar Association of the District of Columbia.

Oral comments were presented at the hearing on behalf of two patent law groups and by 3 individuals on their own behalf.

These comments appear below along with responses thereto.

Comments received relating to §§1.9, 1.27 and 1.28 and the forms of Part 3 are not discussed in substance in this rule change since additional time for submitting written comments is provided until Aug. 13, 1982. All comments presented to these rules will be discussed in a later rule promulgation.

Comment:

One person argued that it is unreasonable to require fees to lengthen a shortened statutory period.

Reply:

A shortened statutory time is provided for by statute. The shortened period helps reduce patent pendency time and speed the disclosure of technology and information about patent rights. Many applicants can reply within the present three month shortened period which has been in effect for over fifteen years. The fee for extending the time provides a positive method for applicants to obtain an extension of time while still expediting the prosecution of their applications.

Comment:

Another person commented that H.R. 6260 should be rejected in that the fee levels are too high.

Reply:

The consideration of the merits of H.R. 6260 is not before the Office in this rule change.

Comment:

Three patent bar groups and two individuals presented comments relating to the effect of the new extension of time fees in §1.17 and the effect thereof on the current practice of granting an automatic one-month extension of time if a timely first response to a final rejection is filed by the applicant.

Reply:

The Office plans to terminate the automatic one-month extension of time practice on Oct. 1, 1982. It is felt that the extensions of time which are readily available under §§1.17 and 1.136 will meet the needs of applicants. The amount of the fees required to obtain an extension will be the same for periods of response before and after final rejection.

Comment:

One suggestion was made to permit the filing of an appeal without the appeal fee where the Office has not acted on a timely response after final rejection by applicant.

Reply:

Such a procedure is not possible under the provisions of H.R. 6260 since it calls for the appeal fee "On filing an appeal" in §41(a)6.

Comment:

Two comments were received requesting that the rules be changed to make the due date for paying the fee for an oral hearing on appeal after the examiner's answer on appeal.

Reply:

A change in the rules has been made to provide that the fee for an oral hearing is due no later than one month after the date of mailing of the examiner's answer.

Comment:

Two comments were received requesting that no charge for revival of an abandoned application be made where the abandonment resulted from the non-receipt of an Office action by the applicant.

Reply:

It is present Office practice to remail any Office action which is not received at applicant's correspondence address and start anew the response period. This procedure will continue in the future under the revised rules.

Comment:

Three patent bar groups and two individuals indicated that the proposed deletion of the refund provisions due to PCT search reports in §1.26(b) and §1.446(b) would make the cost of filing under the Patent Cooperation Treaty prohibitively high and does not recognize the benefit of an earlier search on a corresponding application.

Reply:

In view of these comments, proposed §1.445(a) (2) and (4) and §1.446(b) have been amended to provide a credit of $250 where there is a corresponding application.

Comment:

One individual requested that the multiple dependent claim practice set forth in §1.75(c) be changed to permit one multiple dependent claim to refer to another multiple dependent claim as permitted under European practice.

Reply:

This suggestion cannot be adopted since it is contrary to 35 U.S.C. 112 and cannot therefore be changed by rule.

Comment:

One suggestion was made to change "official" to "Office" in §1.135(b).

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

One suggestion was made to allow refund of the oral hearing fee if an oral hearing is not held.

Reply:

This suggestion was not adopted since such refund is not appropriate in view of the fact that the fee is stated to be "for requesting an oral hearing" and not the actual conduct thereof.

Comment:
Three patent bar groups raised the question as to whether an applicant would be permitted to revive an unintentionally abandoned application under §1.137(b) after having been unsuccessful in the unavoidable approach under §1.137(a) and suggested that this be made clear when the proposed rules are promulgated.
Reply:
Yes, an applicant under certain conditions could use §1.137(b) after having been unsuccessful in the unavoidable approach under §1.137(a).
Comment:
Several comments related to the possibility of reviving applications unintentionally abandoned up to 15 years ago.
Reply:
In view of the comments received, §1.137(b) is being implemented to provide only for the revival of applications which were unintentionally abandoned for a reasonable but limited period of time. This should create no substantial problems in regard to intervening rights situations. It would permit some greater flexibility than that originally proposed but should have no significant effect on the current case backlog, pendency or number of interferences pending.
Comment:
One comment was received pointing out that the availability of an "unintentional abandonment" revival under §1.137(b) should not result in stricter holdings in "unavoidable abandonment" revival petitions under §1.137(a).
Reply:
The Office plans to continue to use the current criteria used to decide petitions to revive applications unavoidably abandoned.
Comment:
One written comment questioned whether the Commissioner has statutory authority to revive unintentionally abandoned applications.
Reply:
If Congress did not intend the Commissioner to have such authority there would have been no reason to establish fees in §41(a)7 in H.R. 6260. The legislative history of H.R. 6260, House Report No. 97-542 (Committee on the Judiciary), also makes the Congressional intent clear. The provisions in H.R. 6260 relating to unintentional abandonment are substantive in addition to setting the fee.
Comment:
One letter questioned what is intended by the statement in §1.137(b) that the Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the abandonment was unintentional.
Reply:
Additional information would be required only where there is an indication that the abandonment was intentional, for example, where an express abandonment has been filed. The record should be clear how such an express abandonment was unintentional if the petition is to be granted.
Comment:
One comment raised the question as to whether in a petition to revive on grounds that the delay was unavoidable under §1.137(a), it would be sufficient that a registered attorney's statement be submitted which merely recites facts as related to him or her by another.
Reply:
Statements must be made, where possible, by the person having direct personal knowledge of the facts. No change in the "showing" required or the persons making them is intended in such petitions. The rule merely clarifies that a statement by a registered attorney or agent need not be in the form of an oath or declaration.
Comment:
One comment suggested that §1.317 be changed to provide for the situation where there was a lapse in a patent due to the unintentional delay in paying a balance of issue fee due.
Reply:
Section 1.317 has now been changed to provide for this lapse situation.
Comment:
Three patent bar groups and one individual indicated that a full credit of the amount equal to the international search fee be made where both a U.S. national and international seach are made by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.
Reply:
While a complete credit is not considered proper in view of additional processing work (including searching) required in the second application, a credit of $250 has been provided in revising §1.445(a) (2) and (4).
Comment:
One person commented that the term "patent" should be inserted after "abandoned" in §1.12(b).
Reply:
The suggestion has been adopted.

DISCUSSION OF SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN PROPOSED AND FINAL RULES

A number of other changes which have been made as a result of the comments received and further review of the proposed rulemaking are identified below.

Implementation of the changes to §1.9, new §§1.27 and 1.28, and the deletion of Part 3 are being deferred for further comments by Aug. 13, 1982. See the discussion below.

Subparagraph (a) (5) of §1.19 has been changed from that proposed by referring to subparagraphs (1) through (4) rather than (3) and (4) in order to clarify that copies of patents cannot be ordered at the rate set in subparagraph (a) (5). Instead, copies of patents must be ordered under paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) of §1.19.

Section 1.24 has been changed from that proposed to provide for the sale of 40-cent coupons. Coupons in this denomination may be useful in view of the charge of forty cents for a printed copy of a registered mark in §2.6(m) of Alternative A of the trademark rules.

Sections 1.137, 1.155 and 1.316 have been changed from that proposed in Alternative B to further specify the conditions under which unintentionally abandoned applications can be revived.

Sections 1.192 and 1.194 have been changed from that proposed so as to allow a request for an oral hearing and the payment of the required fee therefor to be made one month after the date of the examiner's answer. Previously, appellant was required to indicate a desire for an oral hearing at the time of filing the brief. The sections will now permit appellant to consider the examiner's answer before deciding whether to request an oral hearing and pay the required fee.

Section 1.317 has been changed in Alternative B to provide for the situation where there was a lapse in a patent due to the unintentional delay in paying a balance of issue fee due.

Section 1.445(a) (2) and (4) have been changed from that proposed to provide for a reduction in the international search fee where there has been a corresponding United States national application and a credit to the national fee where an international search fee has been paid in a corresponding international application and the international search has been made by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.446(b) has been changed from that proposed to permit a refund of a portion of the search fee to the extent set forth in §1.445(a) (4), if such refund is requested at the time of paying the national fee.

IMPLEMENTATION OF PATENT FEE REVISION

The effective date of the patent fee revisions contained in this rulemaking is Oct. 1, 1982.

* * * * *

The changes which will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, are (1) the rule changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260, and (2) the rule changes under H.R. 6260, which appear in Alternative B. The rule changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, whether or not H.R. 6260 is enacted as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982.

* * * * *

Upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, the rule changes in Alternative B will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, in which case the rule changes in Alternative A will not become effective on Oct. 1, 1982.

Any fee which is due and payable on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amount and in accordance with the procedures contained in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing under §1.8 will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office. In order to ensure clarity in the implementation a discussion of the implementation of specific sections is set forth below:

IMPLEMENTATION OF SPECIFIC SECTIONS

The various sections will be implemented in the manner set forth below:

§1.16 National application filing fees.

Any national patent application filing fees paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section. Any additional fees which become due under §1.16 in pending applications on or after Oct. 1, 1982, or which have not been paid prior to Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section even though the application was filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982. For example, if an application filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982, is amended on or after Oct. 1, 1982, to include a multiple dependent claim for the first time, the fee set forth in §1.16(d) must be paid.

The surcharge in §1.16(e) of Alternative B is being established at this time, but will only be made effective when the statutory authority for the late filing of the fee or the oath or declaration becomes effective under 35 U.S.C. 111, as it would be amended by H.R. 6260. The statutory authority for the late filing of the fee or the oath or declaration becomes effective six months after enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law.

Any patent application processing fees paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section.

The extension fees which must accompany a petition for an extension of time become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, and apply to any application for which the period for responding, i.e., taking action, expires on Oct. 1, 1982, or thereafter. If a response or action by the applicant was due before Oct. 1, 1982, and was not filed timely or an extension of time until Oct. 1, 1982, or thereafter, was not obtained, then §1.136(a) cannot be used to obtain an extension. Any response or action required before Oct. 1, 1982, cannot have its time extended by using §1.136(a). If one or more previous extensions have been granted prior to Oct. 1, 1982, extending the time for taking action unitl Oct. 1, 1982, or thereafter, the fees which are due for additional extensions under §1.136(a) will be as set forth in §1.17(a)-(d) under either Alternative A or B.

* * * * *

The previous practice of extending the shortened statutory period an additional month upon the filing of a timely first response to a final rejection is being discontinued effective with any first response to a final rejection filed on or after Oct. 1, 1982. Applicants can obtain additional time for response after that date by paying the appropriate fee for the same. An object of the previous practice, as expressed in §714.13 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, was to obviate the necessity for appeal or filing a continuing application merely to gain time to consider the examiner's position in reply to a response timely filed after final rejection. Under §1.136(a) the object of the previous practice can be achieved without continuing the previous practice. Thus, under §1.136(a) an applicant can file a timely first response to a final rejection within the initial period without having to file an appeal or a continuing application if the examiner's response is not received prior to the expiration of the initial period for response. If the timely first response places the application in condition for allowance no additional response and no extension fee from applicant is required. If the examiner's advisory action indicates the timely first response did not place the application in condition for allowance the applicant may then consider the examiner's position to determine whether further prosecution is desirable. If further prosecution is not desired the application can be abandoned without further response or expense. If further prosecution is desired, the applicant can petition and pay the necessary fee to extend the time to the extent appropriate up to the maximum permitted by statute. The availability of this flexibility under §1.136(a) eliminates the necessity for the previous practice. Further, under H.R. 6260 extensions of time would be granted in most instances by virtue of the payment of fees rather than without fees as in the previous practice. The elimination of the previous practice after final rejection is thus consistent with the letter and spirit of H.R. 6260.

After an applicant has petitioned and paid the extension fees of $550 for response within the fourth month pursuant to §1.136(a), any further extensions which are permitted under the statute must be obtained under §1.136(b).

A petition for extension of time under §1.136(a) may incorporate by reference a previously filed response without including an additional copy of the response in circumstances where the response was received late and the petition is filed to extend the time so that the response will be considered timely.

The appeal fees set forth in §1.17(e)-(g) are due for notices of appeal or briefs filed, or requests for oral hearings filed, on or after Oct. 1, 1982. If more than one appeal occurs in an application, the fees are due for each notice of appeal, each brief, and each request filed for an oral hearing as long as a decision on the merits by the Board of Appeals resulted from the first notice of appeal, brief, and request for an oral hearing. If the examiner reopens prosecution in the application after appeal and prior to the decision by the Board of Appeals then the fee for the notice of appeal, brief, and request for an oral hearing will apply to a later appeal which does result in a decision by the Board of Appeals. No refund of any appeal fees is permitted since such are due on filing or on requesting an oral hearing. No fee is required for a reply brief.

The fees for petitions set forth in §1.17(h)-(j) and (l) apply to any such petition filed on or after Oct. 1, 1982. The fee set forth in §1.17(m) of Alternative B would apply, with enactment of H.R. 6260 prior to Oct. 1, 1982, to petitions (1) for revival of an unintentionally abandoned application or (2) for the unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent. Section 1.137(b) of Alternative B would apply to applications unintentionally abandoned by failure to prosecute, e.g., failure to respond to an Office action. Sections 1.155(c) and 1.316(c) of Alternative B would apply to applications in which the payment of the fee for issuing a patent is unintentionally delayed. These sections would be implemented, with enactment of H.R. 6260 prior to Oct. 1, 1982, by making them effective as to any applications which would be covered by the literal language of the sections. In addition, and for a transition period between Oct. 1, 1982, and Dec. 31, 1982, a petition to revive an unintentionally abandoned application would be granted if (i) the application received a decision on a petition to revive the application on or after Oct. 1, 1981, and before July 30, 1982, or (ii) a petition was filed or renewed on or after Oct. 1, 1981, and before July 30, 1982, provided in the case of both (i) and (ii) that a petition to revive was filed within one year of the date of abandonment. The dates in question were chosen so as to permit this remedial provision to be given as wide an application as possible to benefit applicants whose applications have previously been unintentionally abandoned, but who could not meet the previous requirements for a showing that the delay resulting in the abandonment was unavoidable. The dates were also chosen to prevent an applicant whose application has been abandoned for an unduly long period from attempting to take advantage of this new provision, possibly to the detriment of individuals or companies who had begun to make, use, or sell the subject matter of the application after the date of abandonment of the application. By using these dates the possibility of reviving the application of an applicant who has, in effect, abandoned the invention under 35 U.S.C. 102(c) is minimized. Implementing these sections in the manner set forth would be appropriate and proper in view of the legislative history of H.R. 6260, contained in House Report No. 97-542 (Committee on the Judiciary), which indicates that the Commissioner can establish time limits within which petitions to revive or to accept late payment of issue fees can be filed. Thus, it is entirely proper to limit such petitions in the manner set forth in order to prevent abuses from occurring. To ensure that abuses do not occur, §§1.137(b), 1.155(c), 1.316(c), and 1.317(c) specifically indicate that waivers of the time periods involved will not be considered via petitions under §1.183.

The fee set forth in §1.17(k) is required for any application filed on or after Oct. 1, 1982, with a specification in a non-English language.

§1.18 Patent issue fees.

Any patent issue fee paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section even if the notice of allowance was mailed prior to Oct. 1, 1982, and indicates different amounts due. If the issue fee is paid prior to Oct. 1, 1982, any balance of issue fee due must be paid in accordance with §1.317.

§1.19 Document supply fees.

The document supply fees set forth in this section will apply to all orders and requests received by the Patent and Trademark Office on or after Oct. 1, 1982.

§1.20 Post-issuance fees.

The post-issuance fees set forth in §1.20(a)-(d) apply to any petitions, requests, or actions filed on or after Oct. 1, 1982. The amounts of the maintenance fees are included in §1.20.

Maintenance fees will be required for any patent actually applied for on or after Dec. 12, 1980, whether or not the patent is entitled to the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120 or a right of priority under 35 U.S.C. 119. For reissue patents, the controlling date would be the filing date of the original patent. For example, maintenance fees would only be required where the application for the original patent was filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. As to patents resulting from international applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty, maintenance fees will be required on all patents resulting from international applications having PCT filing dates on or after Dec. 12, 1980.

The details implementing payment of the maintenance fees are not being established at this time since such fees will not be due for some time and additional consideration of the problems thereof is required.

§1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

The miscellaneous fees and charges set forth in this section will apply to all orders and requests received by the Patent and Trademark Office on or after Oct. 1, 1982.

§1.445 International application filing and processing fees.

Any international application filing and processing fees paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section.

Implementation Of Certain Sections Deferred For Further Comments

In view of the comments and the recommendations received at the hearing on July 9, 1982, the period for written comments on §1.9(c), (d), (e), and (f), and on §§ 1.27 and 1.28, has been extended until Aug. 13, 1982 (see 47 FR 32458, July 27, 1982). Comments received at the hearing on July 9, 1982, expressed the view that there is no necessity to publish final rules on §1.9(c), (d), (e), and (f), and on §§1.27 and 1.28, by August 2, 1982, and that further time for consideration and comment was necessary. Persons commenting stated a belief that the pressure of time does not apply to §§1.27 and 1.28 as it does apply to the fee rulemaking. Accordingly, the period for written comments on these sections is extended until Aug. 13, 1982. After receiving written comments by Aug. 13, 1982, the changes to §1.9 and proposed §§1.27 and 1.28 will be adopted as final rules with such modifications as are found to be appropriate after review of the comments. These rule changes, with any appropriate modifications thereof, must become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, with enactment of H.R. 6260 prior to Oct. 1, 1982. Accordingly, adoption of the changes to §1.9 and new §§1.27 and 1.28 is being deferred at this time to permit additional written comments by Aug. 13, 1982. However, these rule changes will be adopted, with any appropriate modifications, as soon as possible after receipt of the additional written comments. No additional proposal will be published and no additional hearing will be held prior to adoption of final rules on the changes to §1.9 and on new §§1.27 and 1.28.

As a result of additional comments presented during the hearing on the proposed trademark fees, the period for written comments on the deletion of Part 3 was also extended until Aug. 13, 1982, to provide an additional opportunity for interested persons to comment on this proposed change. Since it is not essential that this deletion be published by Aug. 2, 1982, it is appropriate to extend the period for comments. No additional proposal will be published and no additional hearing will be held prior to a decision on whether or not to delete Part 3 as proposed.

SECTION II—REVISION OF TRADEMARK FEES

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on June 28, 1982, at 47 FR 28063-28065 and in the Official Gazette on June 29, 1982, at 1019 TMOG 110-119. An oral hearing was held on July 9, 1982. Three written letters and statements were submitted. Three persons testified at the oral hearing. Full consideration has been given to all of the letters, statements, and testimony.

Objectives of Rule Changes

These amendments establish fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark, and for providing all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks.

Public Law 96-517

Public Law 96-517 authorizes the Commissioner to establish fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark, and for providing all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks. Public Law 96-517 requires that by Oct. 1, 1982, fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark be set to recover in the aggregate 50 percent of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Also by Oct. 1, 1982, fees for providing all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks are to be set to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of performing the service or furnishing the material.

On June 8, 1982, the House of Representatives passed H.R. 6260. This bill would amend the fee provisions to be implemented on Oct. 1, 1982. H.R. 6260 would repeal the provisions in Public Law 96-517 requiring that filing and processing fees be set to recover in the aggregate 50 percent of the estimated average cost of such processing to the Office, and that fees for providing all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks be set to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of performing the service or furnishing the material. In passing H.R. 6260, the House of Representatives recommended a fee schedule to the Commissioner for fiscal year 1983. The fees set in Alternative B adopt the House recommendation.

This rule change, therefore, is also designed in the alternative to implement the fee provisions as they would be amended by H.R. 6260. The rule change contains changes which are common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260, as well as alternative rule changes which are specific to Public Law 96-517 (Alternative A) and to H.R. 6260 (Alternative B).

DISCUSSION OF SIGNIFICANT CHANGES

This rulemaking places into the appropriate sections of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, the various fees which are due on filing, during the pendency of a trademark application, or during the life of a registration.

Rule changes for implementing provisions of Public Law 96-517 or H.R. 6260 other than the fee provisions have not been included. Rule changes for implementing provisions other than the fee provisions will be published in a later rulemaking proposal.

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC SECTIONS CHANGED

The sections changed are grouped in this document under three different categories. Those changes which are common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 appear first and are numbered 72-76. The change which relates only to Public Law 96-517 appears as Alternative A and is numbered 77. The change which is dependent upon enactment of H.R. 6260 appears as Alternative B and is numbered 78. The changes common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, whether or not H.R. 6260 is enacted as a Public Law. * * * * * Upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, Alternative B will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, in which case Alternative A will not become effective.

The specific rules for which changes are made are §§2.6, 2.85, 2.101, 2.146, 2.162 and 2.167.

Rule Changes Common to Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260

Section 2.85, paragraph (e), is amended to delete reference to late filed fees for oppositions and affidavits. The manner in which such fees shall be handled is described in the pertinent sections for affidavits and oppositions.

Section 2.101, paragraph (c), is amended to delete the reference to a service charge which will no longer be charged for late-filed fees for oppositions.

Section 2.146, paragraph (b), is amended to add a fee for filing a petition to the Commissioner. Paragraph (f) of this section which indicates that no fee is required is deleted.

Section 2.162, paragraph (d), is amended to remove the reference to a service charge for late-filed fees on §8 affidavits.

Section 2.167, paragraph (g), is added to establish procedures relating to the fee for affidavits under §15, 15 U.S.C. 1065, and to state the Office's action when no fee or an insufficient fee is filed.

* * * * *

Alternative B—Rule Change Only Under H.R. 6260

Section 2.6 is revised to establish the fees recommended by the House of Representatives under H.R. 6260 for filing and processing applications for the registration of trademarks or other marks and for providing services and materials relating to trademarks or other marks. The $10 fee recommended by the House for certified copies appears in paragraphs (n) and (o) as a fee of $6.50 for a copy of a registered mark showing title and/or status and a fee of $3.50 for certification.

RESPONSE TO COMMENTS ON THE RULES

Specific comments were received on several of the sections. All of the comments included in the written submissions and the oral testimony were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein.

Written comments were received from three individuals. Oral comments were presented at the hearing on behalf of a patent and trademark law group, the American Patent Law Association, and an organization of trademark owners and lawyers, the United States Trademark Association. One individual spoke on behalf of a law firm and expanded upon the points raised in his previously submitted written comments.

These comments appear below along with responses thereto, where appropriate.

Comment:

The representative of the trademark association spoke favorably about the proposal presented. The organization opposed 100% recovery of trademark costs from user fees. It was felt that such an approach reflected a misconception that trademarks benefit only their owners and not consumers and the economy as a whole. The speaker solicited the assistance of the Patent and Trademark Office in altering this viewpoint.

Comment:

The representative of the bar group questioned the fairness of the Office in establishing the fees under Alternative B. It appeared that the Office had accepted the USTA proposals only where they were higher. In all cases where the USTA recommendations were lower than those proposed, the difference was split. The filing fee was singled out as the most unfair fee.

Reply:

In Alternative B, the rules adopt the fee levels recommended by the House Committee on the Judiciary in House Report No. 97–542. The Report recognizes that the Office needs to recover a certain amount of fee income over the next three years. The application filing fee is expected to furnish more than 60% of the estimated annual income. It could not be reduced further without endangering operations. The reduction from $200.00 to $175.00 per class was covered to a large extent by higher fees for other services.

Comment:

The philosophy of H.R. 6260 is to recover no more than 100%. Final fees should recover this level and no more.

Reply:

Projecting processing costs three years in advance can never be absolutely accurate. The Office must have sufficient funds to process anticipated workloads under the fees set during fiscal years 1983–1985 when costs are expected to be somewhat higher than present costs.

Comment:

One suggestion involved retaining Part 4 of 37 CFR, at least for the present. Occasional users of the registration system find it to be a readily available reference. Certain information in the forms is available from no other source. The speaker believed the time pressures to implement the fee changes precluded proper consideration of the merits of Part 4.

Reply:

The period for comment on deletion of Part 4 has been extended to August 13, 1982 to allow for additional public comment and internal consideration.

Comment:

The suggestion was made that references to affidavits and oppositions should be eliminated from §2.85(e) as the handling of late filed fees for these items is already covered directly in §§2.101(c), 2.162(d) and 2.167(g).

Reply:

This suggestion was implemented.

Comment:

A suggestion was made that §§2.101(c), 2.162(d) and 2.167(g) dealing with oppositions and affidavits under Section 8 and Section 15 be amended to require payment of all late filed fees within the time period specified in the notification by the Office.

Reply:

All of the sections state that the affidavit or opposition "will not be refused if the required fee(s) . . . are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within the time limit set forth in the notification of this defect by the Office." This language is considered sufficient to require payment of all fees or have the opposition, affidavit or declaration refused.

Comment:

One suggestion was made to either cite §2.6 in all sections being changed relative to fees or to cite it in none.

Reply:

Citations of §2.6 have been added to §2.101(c) and § 2.146(b) to conform to §2.162(d) and §2.167(g).

Comment:

It was suggested that the fee for a combined section 8 and 15 affidavit needed to be specified in the rules.

Reply:

Section 2.6 has been changed to provide this combined fee.

DISCUSSION OF SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN PROPOSED AND FINAL RULES

A number of changes which were made as a result of the comments received and further review of the proposed rulemaking are identified below.

Deletion of Part 4 has been deferred for further comments by Aug. 13, 1982 (see 47 FR 32458, July 27, 1982). As elimination of Part 4 is not essential to the setting of fees, and does not have to be in place 60 days before implementation, it was decided to ask for further public comment.

Section 2.85(e) has been revised to eliminate the references to oppositions and affidavits. Because the handling of late filed fees for these items is specified elsewhere, these references in §2.85(e) were redundant and confusing.

Both alternatives of §2.6 have been revised to add a fee for a combined affidavit under sections 8 and 15 of the Act. In order to prevent possible confusion by users of the Trademark system, it was included separately.

IMPLEMENTATION OF TRADEMARK FEE REVISION

The effective date of the trademark fee revisions contained in this rulemaking is Oct. 1, 1982.

* * * * *

The changes which will become effective on October 1, 1982, upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982, are (1) the rule changes common to Public Law 96–517 and H.R. 6260, and (2) the rule changes under H.R. 6260, which appear in Alternative B. The rule changes common to Public Law 96–517 and H.R. 6260 will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, whether or not H.R. 6260 is enacted as a Public Law prior to Oct. 1, 1982.

* * * * *

Upon enactment of H.R. 6260 as a Public Law prior to October 1, 1982, the rule changes in Alternative B will become effective on Oct. 1, 1982, in which case the rule changes in Alternative A will not become effective on Oct. 1, 1982.

Any fee which is due and payable on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amount and in accordance with the procedures contained in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing under §1.8 will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office. In order to ensure clarity in the implementation a discussion of the implementation of Section 2.6 is set forth below:

IMPLEMENTATION OF SECTION 2.6

Fees set forth in Section 2.6 must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section on or after Oct. 1, 1982. Any additional fees which become due under §2.6 in pending applications on or after Oct. 1, 1982, or which have not been paid prior to Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amounts set forth in this section even though the application was filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982. For example, if an application filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982, is amended on or after Oct. 1, 1982, to include additional classes, the fee set forth in §2.6(a) must be paid per class added.

IMPLEMENTATION OF CERTAIN SECTIONS DEFERRED FOR FURTHER COMMENTS

As a result of additional comments presented during the hearing on the proposed trademark fees, the period for written comments on the deletion of Part 4 has also been extended until August 13, 1982, to provide an additional opportunity for interested persons to comment on this proposed change (see 47 FR 32458, July 27, 1982).

Since it is not essential that this deletion be published by Aug. 2, 1982, it is appropriate to extend the period for comments. No additional proposal will be published and no additional hearing will be held prior to a decision on whether or not to delete Part 4 as proposed.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS RELATING TO PATENT AND TRADEMARK FEE REVISIONS

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Public Law 96–354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.).

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96–354) for several reasons. Public Law 96–517 and H.R. 6260 have both taken into consideration the impact they may have on small entities. The fees under Public Law 96–517 are set to recover 50% of patent and trademark processing costs rather than full costs and generally the rate of increase in the fees is less than that of inflation since the last increase in fees in 1965. Further, the rules implementing Public Law 96–517 take into consideration small entities by setting a lower patent filing fee than issue fee to recover the required level of patent processing costs. The lower filing fee permits a small entity to file a patent application for a relatively low cost and not have to pay the higher balance of fees required to achieve Public Law 96–517 recovery levels until examination is complete and it is known that a patent will issue. Under H.R. 6260 and this rulemaking, small entities would be able to pay reduced fees for filing patent applications and for the issuance and maintenance in force of patents. In general, the rule change will also expedite proceedings before the Patent and Trademark Office, changing existing procedures where they can be simplified.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public. In fact, some paperwork, especially that related to requests for extensions of time, will be reduced.

Supplementary Information: The Patent and Trademark Office is required by law to publish a notice in the Federal Register of its fees at least 60 days before the effective date thereof (35 U.S.C. 41(g)). Thus, on July 30, 1982 a final rule document was published at 47 FR 33086 setting forth rule changes for patent and trademark fees and procedures which take effect on Oct. 1, 1982. The document was based on the public law in effect at that time, Public Law 96–517, and on H.R. 6260, which was then pending but is now Public Law 97–247. The final rule document published on July 30, 1982, in the Federal Register sets out—

(1) rules that are common to both Pub. L. 96–517 and H.R. 6260 (now Pub. L. 97–247);
(2) Alternative A which contains rule changes implementing Pub. L. 96–517 alone; and
(3) Alternative B which contains rule changes implementing H.R. 6260 (now Pub. L. 97–247).

H.R. 6260 was enacted as Public Law 97–247 on Aug. 27, 1982, and the Patent and Trademark Office hereby confirms that the rule changes common to both Pub. L. 96–517 and H.R. 6260 and Alternative B are those which go into effect on Oct. 1, 1982. The rules under Alternative A are hereby withdrawn. Additional rule changes required by Public Law 97–247 will be made the subject of separate rulemakings.

Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to establish procedures for the payment of fees under §41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, which are reduced by 50 per centum for independent inventors and nonprofit organizations as required by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. This action is necessary at this time in order that the procedures for paying the reduced fees will be effective on Oct. 1, 1982, the effective date of the changes in the amounts of Patent and Trademark Office fees established by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. This final rule also deletes Parts 3 and 4 which contain outdated sample forms and corrects a reference to a section which appears in §1.451.
Effective Date: Oct. 1, 1982.
For Further Information Contact: As to the patent rules contact R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Attention: R. Franklin Burnett, Rm. 3-11A13, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: Notices of proposed rulemaking relating to the revision of patent and trademark fees were published in the Federal Register on June 28, 1982, at 47 FR 28042-28065 and in the Official Gazette on June 29, 1982, at 1019 O.G. 57-120. Oral hearings were held on July 9, 1982. Full consideration has been given to all of the letters, statements, and testimony received at the time. A final rule on "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" was published on July 30, 1982 at 47 FR 33086-33112 with corrections in the printing thereof being published on Aug. 4, 1982, at 47 FR 33688 and Aug. 5, 1982, at 47 FR 33959. The final rule was also published in the Official Gazette on Aug. 10, 1982, at 1021 O.G. 19-94. In view of comments received at the hearings, additional time for comment on the rules covered by this change was given until Aug. 13, 1982. The notice extending the time for comment was published on July 27, 1982 at 47 FR 32458.

This final rule is being adopted as soon as possible after the enactment of the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that the requirement of 5 U.S.C. 553 (d) for publication not less than 30 days before its effective date does not apply to this final rule since it will reduce patent fees for independent inventors and nonprofit organizations.

Objectives of Rule Changes

These rule changes are designed to implement the Patent and Trademark Office fees and procedures which are provided for by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260.

Public Law Resulting From H.R. 6260

The public law resulting from H.R. 6260 provides that funds available under the act "shall be used to reduce by 50 per centum the payment of fees under section 41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code" by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations. The public law resulting from H.R. 6260 gives the Commissioner authority to establish regulations defining independent inventors and nonprofit organizations. The public law resulting from H.R. 6260 defines small business concerns by reference to §3 of the Small Business Act and regulations established by the Small Business Administration. This rulemaking establishes regulations defining independent inventors and nonprofit organizations. The Small Business Administration is establishing the definition of a small business concern for the purpose of paying reduced fees under the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. This rulemaking also establishes the procedures which will be followed by independent inventors and nonprofit organizations when paying the reduced fees.The procedures to be followed by small business concerns when paying the reduced fees will be established in a separate final rule.

Discussion of Specific Sections

The following sections are changed by this final rule, effective Oct. 1, 1982:

Section 1.9, as amended, adds paragraphs (c), (e), and (f) which define "independent inventor" and "nonprofit organizations" as used in Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter I. Each of these along with "small business concern" is identified as a "small entity" for purposes of paying fees which are set under §41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. Paragraph (d) of §1.9 relates to the definition of small business concern which is being established by the Small Business Administration. Accordingly, proposed paragraph 1.9(d) is not being promulgated at this time.

The public law resulting from H.R. 6260 authorizes the Commissioner to establish regulations defining independent inventors and nonprofit organizations. Section 1.9(c) defines an independent inventor as any inventor who (1) has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and (2) is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not likewise be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization. Once an individual sole inventor, or one of several joint inventors, has assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, or comes under an obligation to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights to the invention to anyone who could not likewise obtain status as a small entity, the inventor(s) will no longer be entitled to pay fees in the amounts established for an independent inventor (§1.9(c)). Section 1.9 (c) will permit an individual inventor to make an assignment, grant, conveyance, or license of partial rights in the invention to another individual or individuals who could qualify as an independent inventor or inventors if they had made the invention. In addition,§1.9 (c) will permit an individual inventor to make an assignment, grant, conveyance, or license of partial rights in the invention to a small business concern or nonprofit organization. Under the circumstances described in the previous two sentences the individual inventor could still qualify as an independent inventor. However, if the independent inventor assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, or came under an obligation to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights to the invention to any individual or organization which could not qualify as a small entity (§1.9 (f)), then the inventor would no longer qualify as an independent inventor.

Proposed section 1.9 (d) relating to the definition of a small business concern is not being promulgated at this time.

Section 1.9(e) defines a nonprofit organization by utilizing and broadening the definition contained in 35 U.S.C. 201 (i). The term "university or other institution of higher education" as used in §1.9 (e) means an educational institution which (1) admits as regular students only persons having a certificate of graduation from a school providing secondary education, or the recognized equivalent of such a certificate, (2) is legally authorized within the jurisdiction in which it operates to provide a program of education beyond secondary education, (3) provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's degree or provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit toward such a degree, (4) is a public or other nonprofit institution, and (5) is accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency or association. The definition of "university or other institution of higher education" as set forth herein essentially follows the definition of "institution of higher education" contained in 20 U.S.C. 1141(a). Institutions which are strictly research facilities, manufacturing facilities, service organizations, etc., are not intended to be included within the term "other institution of higher education" even though such institutions may perform an educational function or publish the results of their work.

Section 1.9(f) identifies an independent inventor, a small business concern, or a nonprofit organization as a "small entity" for purposes of paying fees set under §41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. Fees established under §41 (c) or (d) of Title 35, United States Code, will not be reduced for small entities since such a reduction is not permitted or authorized by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260. Paragraphs (c), (e), and (f) of §1.9 should be read together with §§1.27 and 1.28 which deal with establishing status as a small entity and the effect thereof.

New §1.27 provides in paragraph (a) that any person seeking to establish as a small entity, as defined in §1.9 (f) for the purpose of paying reduced fees, must file a statement to that small entity. Paragraph 1.27(b) provides specifically for inventors filing statements claiming status as independent inventors. Paragraph 1.27 (c) relating to claiming status as a small business concern is not being promulgated at this time, but will be subject of a separate final rule. Paragraph 1.27 (d) provides for claiming status as a nonprofit organization. Under §1.27, as long as all of the rights remain in small entities, the fees established for a small entity can be paid. This includes circumstances where the rights were divided between an independent inventor, a small business concern and a nonprofit organization or any combination thereof.

New §1.28 provides guidance as to the effect of failure to establish, or notify the Office of any change from, small entity status. Paragraph 1.28 (a) provides that once status as a small entity has been established in an application or patent, without the filing of a further verified statement pursuant to §1.27, unless the Office is notified of a change in status. Under paragraph 1.28 (a), status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent except in applications filed under §1.60 where a reference is made to a verified statement in a parent application. Paragraph 1.28 (b) requires that notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status be filed in the earliest of the issue fee or any maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small entity is no longer appropriate. Section 1.28 also provides guidance as to the effect of improperly establishing status as a small entity. The intent of the reduced fees for small entities is to soften the impact of the fee increases under §41(a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, as such sections are amended by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260, upon those who are least able to absorb the increased fees without overall damage to their ability to participate in the patent system through the filing, issuing and maintaining of patents. Accordingly, any attempt to improperly establish status as a small entity will be viewed as a serious matter by the office and paragraph 1.28(d) indicates that any attempt to fraudulently establish status as a small entity or pay fees as a small entity will be considered as a fraud practiced or attempted on the Office. In addition, improperly and through gross negligence establishing status as a small entity or paying fees as a small entity will be considered as a fraud practiced or attempted on the Office. Normally, the Office will not question a claim to status as a small entity. However, if the Office must resolve such an issue in a question arising before it, the Office will look to the actual or practical status ot the individual or oganization claiming status as a small entity rather than the professed or apparent status.

Section 1.451, paragraph (b), is amended to correct a reference to another section of the regulations.

Parts 3 and 4 are removed to eliminate all of the patent and trademark forms from the Code of Federal Regulations. The Patent and Trademark Office has prepared a booklet entitled "Patent and Trademark Forms Booklet" which is available for sale to the public from the Superintendent of Documents and which includes full size copies of substantially all the forms in the Code of Federal Regulations in view of the difficulty of keeping such forms is not mandatory.

Discussion of Significant Differences Between Proposed and Final Rules

A number of changes which have been made to §§1.9, 1.27 and 1.28 as a result of the comments received and further review of the proposed rulemaking are identified below.

Paragraph (c) of §1.9 has been changed from that proposed to simplify the definition by removing the words "including (i) the right to make, use, or sell the invention, and (ii) the right to exclude others from making, using, or selling the invention". No change in substance is intended by removing these words since the phrase "any rights in the invention" obviously is inclusive of all rights regardless of how they are, or would be, transferred. The words "or otherwise" have also been removed to simplify the definition without a change in substance.

Paragraph (d) of §1.9 is not being promulgated by this rule change.

Paragraph (e) of §1.9 is changed from that proposed by adding the words "located in any country" in item (e) (1) to clarify the fact that a university or other institution of higher education can qualify regardless of location. Paragraph (e) is also changed from that proposed by adding an item (4) to clarify that a nonprofit organization if it could qualify as a nonprofit organization under item (2) or (3) of paragraph (e) "if it were located in this country." Thus, under paragraph (e) of §1.9 nonprofit organizations will be treated the same for purposes of paying fees regardless of location.

Paragraph (a) of §1.27 has been changed from that proposed by substituting the words "any fee paid as a

13

small entity". This change is intended to clarify the fact that a verified statement is not required with every fee.

Paragraph (b) of §1.27 has been changed from that proposed to clarify who is to file the verified statement. The verified statement for a small business concern or nonprofit organization is to be filed by "the owner of the small business concern, or an official of the small business concern or nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the small business concern or nonprofit organization . . ." The term "official" as used in paragraph (b) is intended to include any officer, employee, or part-owner empowered to act on behalf of a small business concern or nonprofit organization.For example, an officer or employee of a corporation empowered to act for the corporation by its board of directors would be qualified to sign such a verified statement.

Paragraph (c) of §1.27 relating to claiming status as a small business concern is not being promulgated at this time, but will be the subject of a separate final rule.

Paragraph (d) of §1.27 has been changed from that proposed in the same manner as paragraph (b) of §1.27 has also been changed from that proposed by adding a reference to §1.9 (e)(4).

Paragraph (a) of §1.28 has been changed from that proposed by adding the words "or patent" in the first and third sentences since the failure to establish status as a small entity could occur in a patent as well as in an application. An exception to the requirement for a verified statement has also been inserted into paragraph (a) of §1.28 for applications filed under §1.60 where the status as a small entity has been established in a parent application and is still proper. Under this change in paragraph (a) of proposed §1.28, the application filed under §1.60 "must include a reference to a verified statement in a parent application if status as a small entity is still proper and desired."

Paragraph (b) of §1.28 has been completely rewritten from that proposed to remove the requirement that the notification of a change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed prior to paying the next fee due. Instead, paraggraph (b) of §1.28 provides that after establishment of small entity status, "fees as a small entity may thereafter be paid in that application or patent without regard to a change in status until the issue is due or any maintenance fee is due." Paragraph (b) of §1.28 is also changed from that proposed by removing the sentence stating that payment of any fee as a small entity serves "as a representation that such payment as a small entity is proper at the time the payment is made." This change does not sanction the payment of improper fees, but is no longer necessary in view of another change in paragraph (b) which specifically provides that notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status "must be filed in the application or patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, the earliest of the issue fee or any maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small entity is no longer appropriate pursuant to §1.9." The effect of the changes to paragraph (b) of §1.28 is to permit status to be established and then checked only (1) at the payment of the issue fee and (2) at the time of payment of each maintenance fee. This means that only four checks are required during the pendency and term of a patent after initial establishment of small entity status if such establishment was prior to payment of the issue fee. The last sentence of paragraph (b) has been changed from that proposed by inserting the words "of change in status" after "notification" for clarity.

Paragraph (c) of §1.28 has been changed from that proposed to require a verified statement explaining how the error in good faith occurred only in situations where the error occurred. This change from paragraph (c) as proposed will reduce paperwork and will provide a three-month grace period to correct errors with no explanations required for correction during that three-month period. The change has also been made to alleviate concerns about paragraph (d) of §1.28 which is being adopted as proposed.

Response to Comments on the Patent Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. All of the comments, including the oral testimony and the written comments, were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein.

Written comments on the patent rules and forms affected by this final rule were received from three patent law groups and thirteen individuals. The three patent law groups were (1) the American Patent Law Association; (2) the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Section of the Virginia State Bar; and (3) the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Law Section of the Bar Association of the District of Columbia.

Oral comments were presented at the hearing on behalf of two patent law groups.

The comments appear below along with replies thereto.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the definition of "independent inventor" be simplified.

Reply:

The definition of "independent inventor" has been simplified without a change in substance by removing the words "including (i) the right to make, use, or sell the invention, and (ii) the right to exclude others from making, using, or selling the invention."

Comment:

One comment suggested that there is no need to include any more than a simplified statement that a "non-profit organization includes a university or other institution of higher education"

Reply:

The suggestion has not been adopted since it is the intent of the rules to delireate as clearly as possible what organizations can qualify as nonprofit organizations without having to expend undue resources deciding each request on a case-by-case basis.

Comment:

One comment suggested that §1.9(e) discriminates against foreigners and thus violates the principle of national equality set forth in the Stockholm text of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.

Reply:

Section 1.9(e), as promulgated, defines a nonprofit organization in such a way that it is clear that foreigners are not excluded.

Comment:

One comment questioned whether or not government organizations can qualify as nonprofit organizations and more specifically, whether or not a government research facility can qualify under the broad definition of a nonprofit scientific or educational organization. Another comment recommended that §1.9(e) be expanded to include the U.S. Government in the definition of a "nonprofit organization."

Reply:

Government organizations as such, whether domestic or foreign, cannot qualify as nonprofit organizations as defined in §1.9(e). Section 1.9(e) was based upon 35 U.S.C. 201(i), as established by Public Law 96-517. The limitation to "an organization of the type described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 501(c)(3)) and exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 501(a))" would by its nature exclude the U.S. government and its agencies and facilities, including research facilities and government corporations. State and foreign governments and governmental agencies and facilities would be similarly excluded. Section 1.9(e) is not intended to include within the definition of a nonprofit organization government organizations of any kind located in any country. A university or other institution of higher education located in any country would qualify, however, as a "nonprofit organization" under §1.9(e) even though it has some government affiliation since such institutions are specifically included.

Comment:

One comment was directed to, and opposed, Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 rather than the specific provisions of §§1.9, 1.27 and 1.28 on the ground that the concept of a self-supporting agency is ill-conceived, shortsighted and wrong.

Reply:

Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260 are not issues for consideration in this rule change.

Comment:

One comment asserted that the imposition of different fees depending upon the status of an applicant is unwise, unworkable, and will not "improve the efficiency of the Patent Office", while another comment urged the Office to "disavow the proposal for a two-tier fee system and adopt a different approach to assuring that patent and trademark fees are set so that individual inventors and small businesses can continue to obtain the protection of the patent and trademark system." Another comment supported the two-tier fee system, particularly as related to universities.

Reply:

The imposition of different fees is a legislative mandate imposed by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260 and is not an issue for consideration in this rule change.

Comment:

Four comments expressed concern that small entity status is required to be confirmed each time a fee as a small entity is paid. Alternative procedures which involve (1) confirming status at the time of filing and at the time the issue fee is paid, or (2) allowing a statement of status to hold for a period of time were recommended.

Reply:

The last sentence in §1.27(a) states that "[s]uch a verified statement need only be filed once in an application or patent and remains in effect until changed." It was not intended that such statements would be required each time a fee is paid. In order to clarify §1.27(a), the first sentence has been changed to require the statement prior to or with the first fee paid as a small entity. Thereafter, notice is only required where a change in status occurs. In addition, §1.28(b) has been rewritten to provide that "[o]nce status as a small entity has been established in an application or patent, fees as a small entity may thereafter be paid in that application or patent without regard to a change in status until the issue fee is due or any maintenance fee is due."

Comment:

One comment suggested that a paragraph 1.27(e) be added which would require confirmation of small entity status at the time of paying the patent issue fee and each maintenance fee and that this be done by a statement which designates the applicant's small entity status as of the close of the last fiscal year next preceding the date of the statement.

Reply:

The suggested paragraph has not been added. However, paragraph (b) of §1.29 has been completely rewritten to permit status to be established and then checked only (1) at the payment of the issue fee and (2) at the time of payment of each maintenance fee. Instead of requiring papers to be filed confirming status as suggested in the comment, the rules as adopted require that "[n]otification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed in the application or patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, the earliest of the issue fee or any maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small entity is no longer appropriate pursuant to §1.9." Paragraph (b) of §1.28, as promulgated, is considered preferable to the suggested paragraph (e) of §1.27 since it will eliminate the filing of a confirming statement where there has been no change in status as a small entity. This reduces unnecessary paperwork.

Comment:

One comment suggested that verified statements of small entity status need not be filed in Rule 60 applications.

Reply:

The suggestion was adopted and is reflected by the change in §1.28(a). In such applications, it will be sufficient to include a reference to a verified statement establishing small entity status in a parent application if status as a small entity is still proper and desired.

Comment:

One comment suggested that proposed paragraph 1.28(b) be amended by inserting the words "believed to be" after "small entity is" in the second sentence.

Reply:

Paragraph (b) of §1.28 as promulgated does not contain the sentence to which the suggestion is directed.

Comment:

One comment suggested that paragraph (c) of §1.28 be amended by deleting the word "verified" so that a statement explaining how an error in good faith occurred can be made "on the basis of information and belief."

Reply:

The suggestion has not been adopted. However, paragraph (c) of §1.28 as promulgated permits the correction of errors without a verified statement if the correction is accomplished within three months after the date the error occurred.

Comment:

Three comments expressed concern about the provision dealing with fraud on the Patent and Trademark Office because of some questionable act in connection with paying fees as a small entity and indicated that some persons have raised a question as to the Office's authority to designate the payment of a lesser fee as fraud. The comments suggested that proposed §1.28 be withdrawn and turned over to an ad hoc group of Patent and Trademark Office officials and practitioners for immediate examination and timely comment.

Reply:

The period for comments was extended until Aug. 13, 1982, as an alternative to, and in response to, the suggestion that §1.28 be withdrawn and turned over to an ad hoc committee. The extended period for comments has now expired and all comments which have been received have been carefully considered. In response to the statement that some persons have raised a question regarding the Office's authority to designate payment of a lesser fee as fraud, no authority has been cited which would establish or suggest that the Office does not have the authority to adopt this section. Paragraph (d) of §1.28 has been strictly limited to those situations in which there is an attempt to fraudulently establish entity, or improperly and through gross negligence establish status or pay fees as a small entity. Paragraph (d) of §1.28 is clearly within the rule-making authority provided to the Commissioner pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 6 to protect the integrity of the system established by the public law resulting from H.R. 6260, whereby fees are reduced for small entities. In order to alleviate the concerns expressed about paragraph (d) of §1.28, paragraph (c) of §1.28 has been changed from that proposed to require a verified statement explaining how the error in good faith occurred only in situations where the error is not corrected within three months of the date on which the error occurred. This three-month grace period to correct errors with no explanations required for correction during that three-month period should reduce the concern about paragraph (d) of §1.28.

Comment:

One comment by an attorney (1) objected to and requested removal of the second sentence of §1.28(d) because he has to rely on the information provided by the client and does not have the facilities to check the reliability of information the client provides relating to the client's status as a small entity, and (2) raised the question as to how much investigation any attorney or other individual must make in order to avoid being guilty of "gross negligence" under §1.28(d).

Reply:

The rules do not authorize an attorney to sign a verified statement establishing status as a small entity on behalf of a client. The client has to sign the verified statement. Paragraph (b) of §1.27 requires that any verified statement filed on behalf of an independent inventor must be signed by the independent inventor except as provided in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47. Paragraph (d) of §1.27 requires that any verified statement filed on behalf of a nonprofit organization must be signed by an official of the nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the organization. The intent of paragraphs (b) and (d) of §1.27 is that the verified statement be signed by the person in the best position to know the facts as to whether or not status as a small entity can be properly established. Insofar as the attorney's irresponsibilities and duty to investigate are concerned, these do not differ from those presently owed the Office under §§1.56, 1.346, and 1.555.

Comment:

One comment suggested that paragraph (d) of §1.28 be replaced by a provision under which a "stiff fine" would be assessed against "a wrongdoer who has not paid fees in good faith."

Reply:

The suggestion has not been adopted. Assessing a fine as the only penalty against "a wrongdoer who has not paid fees in good faith" might tend to encourage the payment of incorrect fees on the theory that it is unlikely that such a matter would be brought to the attention of the Office.

Comment:

Three comments opposed the proposed deletion of Part 3 for the reasons that (1) it is useful to have an up-to-date set of forms and (2) there does not seem to be a pressing need to delete the forms.

Reply:

The Patent and Trademark Office has prepared a booklet entitled "Patent and Trademark Forms Booklet" which includes full size copies of substantially all of the forms in Part 3. Since the forms currently in Part 3 are not "up-to-date" as was suggested in the comment, no present need is seen to maintain Part 3.

Response to Comments on the Trademark Rules

Specific comments were received on the proposed deletions of Part 4. All of the comments included in the written submissions and the oral testimony were considered.

Written comments were received from four individuals. Oral comments restating previously submitted written comments on Part 4 were presented by one individual on behalf of his law firm.

These comments appear below along with replies thereto.

Comment:

One comment stated that there are rules in Part 4 which are not set forth elsewhere. Such guidelines and information include, among others, the types of commerce on which an application may be based and a requirement for the use of bond paper for typed drawings.

Reply:

Part 4 does not really carry the effect of rules because the forms are not mandatory, but are merely illustrative. The information referred to by this individual can be found elsewhere, such as in the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure. Furthermore, despite the fact that the forms do not carry the force of rules, any correction or modification to them requires the cumbersome and time-consuming processes that are associated with a rules change.

Comment:

Several comments reflected the opinion that some attorneys, particularly those who do not specialize in trademark matters, may rely on the forms that appear in Part 4. It was believed that these individuals may not have or be aware of the compilation of forms identified as the "Patent and Trademark Office Forms Booklet." In the absence of such forms in Part 4, these individuals may devise their own application formats. Such a practice would result in increased informalities which, in turn, would result in unnecessary correspondence and delayed prosecution. In addition, the commenters believed that the number of written and oral inquiries to the Office of the Director of the Trademark Examining Operation would increase dramatically.

Reply:

The Office of the Director of the Trademark Examining Operation currently has a general information telephone line to answer inquiries and to accept requests for trademark application forms and related literature. While the Office of the Director indicates the availability of the forms booklet to many callers, copies of the appropriate trademark application form are sent to those individuals who request them. It is more likely that an individual who is unaware of the trademark application form would call the Office of the Director to request an application form than create one for the particular purpose.

Comment:

One individual, aware of the Office's plans for automation of the trademark program, saw the present deletion of the forms to be inappropriate. This individual felt that the deletion of the forms at this point would signal to the user community that the Office no longer had any interest in receiving applications in any particular format. To take such a position within a year or two of the introduction of a rigidly standardized application format was, in the opinion of this commenter, unwise. The adoption of a machine-readable application form would require greater, rather than diminished, reliance on a prescribed format.

Reply:

Within the next year or two, the Office will begin experimenting with the use of optical character recognition (OCR) equipment to automate the current data capture processes. Trademark application formats that are compatible with this equipment are likely to require special sizing and printing and, as such, are not acceptable for reduced size printing in the Code of Federal Regulations. If the existing forms were to be maintained in Part 4, they would remain available for use by applicants. As a result, the implementation of the new standardized application formats would be made more difficult.

Comment:

One commenter believed that since the next reprinting of Volume 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations will be in July, 1983, there is no pressing need to eliminate Part 4 at this time. This individual felt that users of the trademark registration system should be given additional opportunity to consider the significance of removing Part 4.

Reply:

Only four comments have been received on the deletion of Part 4. The elimination of Part 4 at this time will guarantee that the forms do not appear in the 1983 reprinting of the CFR. Of course, they will appear in the 1982 version of the CFR booklet and will be available until the new edition is published. In this matter, future access to these forms will be limited and those requiring help may contact the Office and receive the proper trademark forms.

Implementation of §§1.9, 1.27, and 1.28

Status as a small entity can be established in any application or patent for which a fee is due on or after Oct. 1, 1982, and in which small entity status is available and desired.

Other Considerations Relating to Patent and Trademark Fee Revisions

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conversation of energy resources.

This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Public Law 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.).

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L 96-354) for several reasons. The public law resulting from H.R. 6260 has taken into consideration the impact the increase in fees may have on small entities. Under the public law resulting from H.R. 6260 and this rulemaking, small entities will be able to pay reduced fees for filing patent applications and for the issuance and maintenance in force of patents. In general, the rule change will also expedite proceedings before the Patent and Trademark Office, changing existing procedures where they can be simplified.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse ju effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are place upon the public.

[Docket No. 2909-187]

Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to establish a definition and procedures for the payment of fees under section 41(a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, by small business concerns as required by Pub. L. 97-247. This action adopts the definition of a "small business concern" for purposes of paying patent fees established by the Small Business Administration and is necessary at this time in order that the procedures for paying reduced fees will be effective on Oct. 1, 1982, the effective date of the changes in the amounts of Patent and Trademark Office fees established by Pub. L. 97-247.
Effective Date: Oct. 1, 1982
For Further Information Contact: R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Attention: R. Franklin Burnett, Room 3-11A13, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on June 28, 1982, at 47 FR 28042-28063 and in the Official Gazette on June 29, 1982, at 1019 O.G. 57-120. Oral hearings were held on July 9, 1982. Full consideration has been given to all of the letters, statements, and testimony received at the time. A final rule on "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" was published on July 30, 1982 at 47 FR 33086-33112 with corrections in the printing thereof being published on Aug. 4, 1982, at 47 FR 33688 and on Aug. 5, 1982 at 47 FR 33959. The final rule was also published in the Official Gazette on Aug. 10, 1982, at 1021 O.G. 19-94. In view of comments received at the hearings, additional time for comment on certain rules, including those covered by this change, was given until Aug. 13, 1982. The notice extending the time for comment was published on July 27, 1982 at 47 FR 32458. A final rule relating to definitions of "independent inventor" and "nonprofit organizations" was published on Sept. 10, 1982 at 47 FR 40134-40140.

Objectives of Rule Changes

These rule changes are designed to implement the Patent and Trademark Office fees and procedures which are provided for by Pub. L. 97-247.

Public Law 97-247

Pub. L. 97-247, signed Aug. 27, 1982, provides that funds available under the act "shall be used to reduce by 50 per centum the payment of fees under section 41(a) and (b) of title 35, United States Code" by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations. The Commissioner has established regulations defining independent inventors and nonprofit organizations. Pub. L. 97-247 defines small business concerns by reference to Section 3 of the Small Business Act and regulations established by the Small Business Administration. The Small Business Administration has now established the definition of a small business concern for the purpose of paying reduced fees under Pub. L. 97-247. That definition is hereby incorporated into the patent rules of practice in §1.9(d). This rulemaking also establishes the procedures which will be followed by small business concerns when paying the reduced fees.

Discussion of Specific Sections

The following sections are changed by this final rule, effective Oct. 1, 1982:

Section 1.9, as amended, adds paragraph (d) which defines small business concern as used in Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter I. A small business concern is identified as a "small entity" for purposes of paying fees which are set under section 41(a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Pub. L. 97-247.

Section 1.9(d) defines a small business concern by reference to and incorporation of §121.3-18 of Title 13, Code of Federal Regulations. A small business concern is defined therein as any business concern (1) whose number of employees, including those of its affiliates, does not exceed 500 persons and (2) which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section. The section further defines affiliates of concerns and defines also the terms "employees" and "number of employees." Concerns are affiliates of each other when either, directly or indirectly, one concern controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both. The number of employees a business concern has is determined by counting the number of persons of the concern and its affiliates employed on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis during the previous fiscal year of the concern and of its affiliates. The number of employees is the average over the fiscal year of the persons employed during each of the pay periods of the fiscal year. Business concerns located in any country which meet the small business definition and which comply with the applicable procedures can qualify as a "small business concern". Under the definition, a small business concern would no longer qualify as a small business concern if any rights were assigned to any individual or concern which could not qualify as a small entity pursuant to §1.9(f), or if the concern came under an obligation to assign any rights to any individual or concern which could not qualify as a small entity.

Section 1.9(d) also incorporates paragraph (b) of 13 CFR 121.3–18 which provides for appeals to the Small Business Administration from Patent and Trademark Office adverse initial size determinations.

Paragraph 1.27(c) provides for claiming status as a small business concern. Any person seeking to establish status as a small entity, for the purpose of paying reduced fees, must file a statement to that effect prior to or with the payment of the first fee paid as a small entity. Under §1.27, as long as all of the rights remain in small entities, the fees established for a small entity can be paid. This includes circumstances where the rights were divided between an independent inventor, a small business concern and a nonprofit organization or any combination thereof.

A number of changes which have been made to §§1.9 and 1.27 as a result of the comments received and further review of the proposed rulemaking are identified below.

Paragraph (d) of §1.9 has been changed from that proposed so as to incorporate into §1.9(d), the definition established by the Small Business Administration in §121.3–18 of Title 13, Code of Federal Regulations. The definition differs from that proposed in specifying the number of employees constituting a small business concern and specifying that the concern must be one which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license any rights in the invention to any person or concern which could not be classified as an independent inventor, small business concern, or nonprofit organization.

Paragraph (c) of §1.27 has been changed from that proposed to clarify who is to file the verified statement. The verified statement for a small business concern is to be signed by "the owner or an official of the small business concern empowered to act on behalf of the concern." The term "official" as used in paragraph (c) is intended to include any officer, employee, or part-owner empowered to act on behalf of a small business concern. For example, an officer or employee of a corporation empowered to act for the corporation by its board of directors would be qualified to sign such a verified statement.

Response to Comments on the Patent Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. All of the comments, including the oral testimony and the written comments, were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein.

Written comments on the rules affected by this final rule were received from three patent law groups and a number of individuals. The three patent law groups were (1) the American Patent Law Association; (2) the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Section of the Virginia State Bar; and (3) the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Law Section of the Bar Association of the District of Columbia.

Oral comments were presented at the hearing on behalf of two patent law groups.

The comments appear below along with replies thereto.

Comment

Two comments urged that in view of the "exceedingly complex" definitions of a "small business" in 13 CFR 121.3, the patent system and those associated with it would be best served by setting forth clear guidelines as to whether or not a business qualifies as a small business without reference to the Small Business Act and without incorporation by reference of "the too many pages of SBA regulatory definition."

Reply

Pub. L. 97–247 specifically refers to section 3 of the Small Business Act and regulations established by the Small Business Administration for determining whether or not a business concern qualifies as a small business concern. Pub. L. 97–247 therefore does not permit the establishment of guidelines without reference to the Small Business Act and regulations established by the Small Business Administration. Section 1.9(d), however, does incorporate the definition as established in §121.3–18 of Title 13, Code of Federal Regulations. This will enable persons to utilize §1.9(d) without also referring to a copy of Title 13, CFR.

Comment

One comment argued that §1.27 should be corrected or clarified to indicate that a small business concern would be entitled to the 50 percent fee reduction even though it may grant a non-exclusive or even an exclusive license to some non-small entity.

Reply

The suggestion has not been adopted. Section 1.27 requires that the concern qualify as a small business concern as defined in §1.9(d). Section 1.9(d) defines a small business concern by incorporating 13 CFR 121.3–18, which in turn defines a small business concern as one not exceeding a particular size "which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section." The intent of both 13 CFR 121.3–18 and 37 CFR 1.9(d) and 1.27(c) is to limit the payment of reduced fees under section 41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, to those situations in which all of the rights in the invention are owned by small entities, i.e., independent inventors, small business concerns, or nonprofit organizations. To do otherwise would be clearly contrary to the intended purpose of the legislation which contains no indication that fees are to be reduced in circumstances where rights are owned by non-small entities. Adopting the suggestion might, for example, permit a non-small entity to transfer patent rights to a small business concern which would pay the reduced fees and grant an exclusive license to the non-small entity.

Comment

One comment suggested that the specific Small Business Administration regulations which are applicable be specified in §1.9(d).

Reply

The definition of a small business concern as established by the Small Business Administration is now incorporated into §1.9(d).

Implementation of §§1.9 and 1.27

Status as a small entity can be established in any application or patent for which a fee is due on or after Oct. 1, 1982, and in which the individual inventor, small business concern, or nonprofit organization meets the qualifications established for small entity status.

Other Considerations Relating to Patent and Trademark Fee Revisions

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96–354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96–354) for several reasons. Pub. L. 97–247 has taken into consideration the impact the increase in fees may have on small entities. Under Pub. L. 97–247 and this rulemaking, small entities will be able to pay reduced fees for filing patent applications and for the issuance and maintenance in force of patents.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public.

Amendment of Regulations

For the reasons indicated above and pursuant to the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, and Pub. L. 97–247, Part 1 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended as set forth below.

PART 1—RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. Section 1.9 is amended by adding a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.9 Definitions.

* * * * *

(d) A small business concern as used in this chapter means any business concern as defined by the Small Business Administration in 13 CFR 121.3–18, published on September 30, 1982 at 47 FR 43273. For the convenience of the users of these regulations, that definition states:

§121.3–18 Definition of small business for paying reduced patent fees under Title 35, U.S. Code

(a) Pursuant to Pub. L. 97–247, a small business concern for purposes of paying reduced fees under 35 U.S. Code 41 (a) and (b) to the Patent and Trademark Office means any business concern (1) whose number of employees, including those of its affiliates, does not exceed 500 persons and (2) which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section. For the purpose of this section concerns are affiliates of each other when either, directly or indirectly, one concern controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both. The number of employees of the business concern is the average over the fiscal year of the persons employed during each of the pay periods of the fiscal year. Employees are those persons employed on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis during the previous fiscal year of the concern.

(b) If the Patent and Trademark Office determines that a concern is not eligible as a small business concern within this section, the concern shall have a right to appeal that determination to the Small Business Administration. The Patent and Trademark Office shall transmit its written decision and the pertinent size determination file to the SBA in the event of such adverse determination and size appeal. Such appeals by concerns should be submitted to the SBA at 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416 (Attention: SBA Office of General Counsel). The appeal should state the basis upon which it is claimed that the Patent and Trademark Office initial size determination on the concern was in error; and the facts and arguments supporting the concern's claimed status as a small business concern under this section.

2. Section 1.27 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§1.27 Statement of status as small entity.

* * * * *

(c) Any verified statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of a small business concern must (1) be signed by the owner or an official of the small business concern empowered to act on behalf of the concern; (2) aver that the concern qualifies as a small business concern as defined in §1.9(d); and (3) aver that exclusive rights to the invention have been conveyed to and remain with the small business concern, or if the rights are not exclusive, that all other rights belong to small entities as defined in §1.9. Where the rights of the small business concern as a small entity are not exclusive, a verified statement must also be filed by the other small entities having rights averring to their status as such.

Definition of Small Business for Paying Reduced Patent Fees Under Title 35, United States Code

Agency: Small Business Administration.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Small Business Administration in conjunction with the Patent and Trademark Office is establishing a definition of small business for the purpose of paying patent fees under section 41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, which are reduced by 50 per centum for small business concerns as required by Pub. L. 97–247. The definition would be implemented by the Patent and Trademark Office, which has recently published its regulations on the fee reduction procedures (47 FR 40134, Sept. 10, 1982).

Supplementary Information: Pub. L. 97–247 provides that funds available under the Act to the Patent and Trademark Office "shall be used to reduce by 50 per centum the payment of fees under Section 41 (a) and (b) of Title 35, United States Code, by small business concerns as defined in Section 3 of the Small Business Act and by regulations established by the Small Business Administration."

A notice of proposed rulemaking relating to the definition of a small business was published in the Federal Register on Aug. 31, 1982 (47 FR 38331). The regulation being issued is the same as that which was proposed. In order to be a small business, the number of employees of the concern, including those of its affiliates, may not exceed 500 persons. Concerns are affiliates of each other when either, directly or indirectly, one concern controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both. The number of employees of a business concern is determined by counting the number of persons of the concern and its affiliates employed on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis during the previous fiscal year of the concern and of its affiliates. The number of employees is the average over the fiscal year of the persons employed during each of the pay periods of the fiscal year.

The definition also requires a small business for this purpose to be one "which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section."

Discussion of Comments

One comment from the American Patent Law Association, whose membership includes several thousand lawyers involved in the practice of law before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, expressed "no comment regarding the definition" and expressed "[t]hanks for all that's been done toward a hopefully workable definition." The remaining comments were from individual patent attorneys rather than comments on behalf of any organization.

Two comments raised questions about the intended scope of the term "license." It was suggested that clarification is needed as to what is included within the scope of the term. One comment susggested that, "[a]t the very least, the record should reflect that the definition is not intended to reach implied licenses to use and resell patented articles purchased from a small business." The comment is correct insofar as it suggests that such "implied licenses" are not intended to be included within the scope of the term. Likewise, an order by the applicant to a firm to build a proto-type machine or product for the applicant's own use is not considered to constitute a license for purposes of the definition.

Another suggestion was that the regulation be reworded to deny small business status where revenue above a certain dollar amount was received from licensing rights under the invention to a concern which could not qualify as a small entity. It was also suggested that the term "exclusive license of any of the rights in the invention" be used instead of the term "license." The latter two suggestions have not been adopted. Adoption of these suggestions would cause the regulation to become more complicated, and does not appear necessary to aid small concerns in accord with the purposes of the legislation. In addition, it could substantially broaden the number of concerns which could qualify with a resulting excessive loss of revenue to the Patent and Trademark Office. It is not seen likely that the restriction on licensing would unduly or adversely affect the ability of the small business concern to participate in the patent system.

Another comment which was made related to a firm which is a subsidiary of a university or other nonprofit organization. The suggestion was made that the number of employees of the university or other nonprofit affiliate be excluded from consideration in determining whether or not the business concern qualifies as a small business concern. The suggestion has not been adopted since the situation raised is already treated under the definition of nonprofit organization established by the Patent and Trademark Office on Sept. 10, 1982, at 47 FR 40134–40140. Under that Patent and Trademark Office regulation, a wholly owned subsidiary of a nonprofit or university is considered a part of the university or nonprofit and thus is already eligible for the fee reduction.

One comment suggested that the regulation contain language specifying that concerns meeting its requirements are also independently owned and operated and not dominant in their field of operation under the Small Business Act. It is not necessary to include this language since this regulation already contains an affiliation test for this purpose; and it is generally unlikely that a small concern would be found to be dominant. The legislative history of the Small Business Act indicates that "The mere fact that a small business makes a particular product or item and is dominant in its field with respect to the particular product or item is not intended to disqualify it from the benefits of this Act * * * "(House Report 494, 83rd Congress, 1st Session 1953). SBA Size Appeals Board precedents have consistently stated that dominance under the Act and the SBA regulations is not viewed in narrow industry subdivisions. It, therefore, does not appear that concerns defined as small business under this provision would be dominant within the meaning of the Small Business Act.

Another comment suggested that foreign concerns should not be eligible as small business under this provision. Since this patent legislation was enacted by the Congress with knowledge of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, there is no indication that Congress intended that foreign small business not be eligible for the fee reduction. It is the view of the Patent and Trademark Office that excluding foreign small concerns would violate U.S. treaties in the patent area.

This comment also questioned whether the Patent and Trademark Office should make initial size determinations, or whether they could more appropriately be made by SBA. Since the fee reduction procedure is part of the patent application and of other Patent and Trademark Office actions and may involve Patent law questions, it would be administratively infeasible to have initial size determinations made by the SBA. The Patent and Trademark Office recently issued regulations (Sept. 10, 1982, 47 FR 40134) which set forth the fee reduction procedures.

Other Considerations Relating to the Rulemaking

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

Small business concerns will be benefited by the rule. The proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96–354). Public Law 97–247 has taken into consideration the impact it may have on small entities and has reduced the fees, therefore, by 50 per centum.

The Small Business Administration has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public.

PART 121—SMALL BUSINESS SIZE STANDARDS

Accordingly, pursuant to Section 3 of the Small Business Act and Pub. L. 97–247, Part 121 of Title 13 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding §121.3–18 to read as follows:

§121.3–18 Definition of small business for paying reduced patent fees under Title 35, U.S. Code.

(a) Pursuant to Pub. L. 97–247, a small business concern for purposes of paying reduced fees under 35 U.S. Code 41 (a) and (b) to the Patent and Trademark Office means any business concern (1) whose number of employees, including those of its affiliates, does not exceed 500 persons and (2) which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section. For the purpose of this section concerns are affiliates of each other when either, directly or indirectly, one concern controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both. The number of employees of the business concern is the average over the fiscal year of the persons employed during each of the pay periods of the fiscal year. Employees are those persons employed on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis during the previous fiscal year of the concern.

(b) If the Patent and Trademark Office determines that a concern is not eligible as a small business concern within this section, the concern shall have a right to appeal that determination to the Small Business Administration. The Patent and Trademark Office shall transmit its written decision and the pertinent size determination file to the SBA in the event of such adverse determination and size appeal. Such appeals by concerns should be submitted to the SBA at 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416 (Attention: SBA Office of General Counsel). The appeal should state the basis upon which it is claimed that the Patent and Trademark Office initial size determination on the concern was in error and the facts and arguments supporting the concern's claimed status as a small business concern under this section.

Revision of Patent Practice

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part 1 of 37 CFR, to clarify the practice under certain sections of Public Law 97-247 of 1982 and to make certain other changes and clarifications in practice which have been found desirable after some experience. The rulemaking changes the practice under §§1.27 and 1.28 with regard to subsequently establishing small entity status and qualifying for a refund of fees paid in full. The changes in other rules clarify and improve the practice in certain areas.
Effective Date: Apr. 1, 1984
For Further Information Contact: R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to 1) clarify the small entity status of independent inventors, small business concerns and nonprofit organizations having funding agreements with a federal governmental agency as defined in 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4); 2) rewrite §1.28 to provide a system for obtaining a refund of a portion of a fee paid in full when small entity status is established within two months of the date of such payment; 3) provide that a separate statement establishing small entity status is not required in an application filed under §1.62 when such status has been established in the parent application; and 4) modify certain other rules to clarify practice.

New §1.21(1) establishes a fee for processing and retaining any application which is abandoned for failing to complete the application pursuant to §1.53(d). This new paragraph, as well as the changes to §§1.53 and 1.78, indicate that in order to obtain benefit of a prior U.S. application, either the basic filing fee or the processing and retention fee of §1.21(1) must be paid. Section 1.53(d) further establishes that the application will be disposed of if the required fee is not paid within a set period. Section 1.56(b) requires submission of copies of foreign patent documents, non-patent publications, or other non-patent items of information disclosed pursuant to the duty to disclose. New §1.191(d) clarifies that §1.136 applies in patent applications and that §1.550(c) applies in reexamination proceedings to all time periods set forth in §§1.191-1.194, 1.196 and 1.197.

Discussion of Specific Rules and Significant Differences Between Proposed and Final Rules: Section 1.5, paragraph (a) is amended to remove a reference to §1.55, which is no longer appropriate and to clarify how letters to the Office are to be identified.

Section 1.6 is amended as proposed to clarify the manner in which letters and papers, including fees, filed in accordance with §1.10 by "Express Mail" are date stamped when received in the Patent and Trademark Office. Such letters and papers, which comply with §1.10, will be stamped with the date of deposit as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service unless the date of deposit is a Saturday, Sunday or federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia. No papers are received in the Patent and Trademark Office on Saturdays, Sundays, or federal holidays within the District of Columbia.

Section 1.10, paragraphs (a) and (c), are amended to clarify that papers deposited as "Express Mail" on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia will be stamped with the date of the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia. A cross reference to §1.6(a) has also been added to the rule. This change was not contained in the notice of proposed rulemaking but is being made to avoid confusion and to ensure that the Office's practice in date-stamping of papers is clearly understood. The change was suggested by a comment received on the proposed rules.

Section 1.14 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (b) to clarify that only complete patent applications as defined in §1.51(a) which become abandoned will be retained for a period of twenty years from the filing date. Incomplete applications will be retained as provided in §§1.21 and 1.53.

Section 1.19, paragraph (b)(3), is amended as proposed to clarify that only copies made from Office records, but not prepared by the Office, will be compared with the original prior to certification of the copies. The Office will not compare copies made from some other copy or record with Office records for purposes of certification. The stated charge of ten cents per page would not be sufficient to make a word-by-word comparison. The requirements of the public appear to still be served by limiting the use of the comparison fee to Office records.

Section 1.21 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (b) (2) and establish a new paragraph (1). The change in paragraph (b) (2) is in accord with the change in §1.25 (a). New paragraph (1) provides a fee for processing and retaining any application which is abandoned pursuant to §1.53(d). Such applications have received a filing date pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 111 but have been abandoned for failure to complete the application by filing the oath or declaration, filing fee or surcharge (§1.16(e)). The fee covers the handling, filming, processing, data input and storage required to retain an application. The fee is not due in any application in which the basic filing fee was paid.

Section 1.25 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (a) to set the minimum deposit for a deposit account at $1000 and to clarify that an amount sufficient to cover all fees as well as services, copies, etc., requested must always be on deposit. This minimum amount is considered necessary and proper in view of the substantial increase in the amounts of fees being charged to deposit accounts and the processing costs of handling overdrawn accounts. Paragraph (b) clarifies that fees may be charged against a deposit account only where sufficient funds are on deposit to cover the entire amount of the fees. Paragraph (b) also clarifies that an authorization to charge a fee to a deposit account will not be considered payment on the date the authorization to charge is effective as to that fee unless sufficient funds are present in the account to cover the fee.

Section 1.27 is amended as proposed to revise paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) to provide clearly that an independent inventor, small business concern, or nonprofit organization, which is otherwise qualified as a small entity for purposes of paying reduced patent fees under 37 CFR 1.9 and 1.27, is not disqualified therefrom because of a license to a federal agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4). Section 1.27 is amended to state that such a license does not constitute a license or a conveyance of rights which would preclude qualifying for small entity status. The amendment is necessary for clarification and to avoid frustrating the intent of Public Law 97-247 and Public Law 96-517 when taken together.

The text of Title 35, United States Code, §202(c) (4) reads as follows:

§202. Disposition of rights

(c) Each funding agreement with a small business firm or nonprofit organization shall contain appropriate provisions to effectuate the following:

* * * * *

(4) With respect to any invention in which the contractor elects rights, the Federal agency shall have a nonexclusive, nontransferable, irrevocable, paid-up license to practice or have practiced for or on behalf of the United States any subject invention throughout the world, and may, if provided in the funding agreement, have additional rights to sublicense any foreign government or international organization pursuant to any existing or future treaty or agreement.

Section 1.28 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (a) to clarify that a separate verified statement is not required to be filed in a file wrapper continuing application filed pursuant to §1.62, if status as a small entity has been established in the parent application and is still proper. Section 1.28(a) also permits a refund of a fee timely paid in the full amount if within two months of the date of the full timely payment: (1) small entity status is properly established, and (2) a refund is requested. Under §1.28(a), no request for a refund filed later than two months after the date on which a full fee has been paid will be entertained even if additional time is sought to file the request. The two-month period referred to in §1.28(a) is not a period for response under §1.136 and cannot be extended. Section 1.28(a) provides for, in somewhat modified form, the practice presently in effect pursuant to a waiver of §1.28 published at 1023 O.G. 77 on Oct. 26, 1982 and extended at 1027 O.G. 115 on Feb. 15, 1983. The revised refund procedures in §1.28(a) will apply to any fees timely paid in full on or after the effective date of the final rule. The refund procedures set forth in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette Notice entitled "Filing of Verified Statements Claiming Small Entity Status" published at 1023 O.G. 77 on October 26, 1982, and the Official Gazette Notice entitled "Requirement for Filing Verified Statements Claiming Small Entity Status" published at 1027 O.G. 115 on Feb. 15, 1983, continue in effect until the effective date of the final rule.

Section 1.52(d) is amended as proposed to clarify that the verified English translation of a non-English language application and the fee set forth in §1.17(k) can be filed with the application or within such time as may be set by the Office.

Section 1.53, paragraphs (b) and (d), are amended to clarify in paragraph (b) that the application for patent must be filed in the name of the actual inventor or inventors by giving all their names as required by §1.41. Paragraph 1.53(d) states that if a correspondence address is provided, notice will be provided to that address where the appropriate filing fee or oath or declaration does not accompany the application. Paragraph 1.53(d) also provides that if the required filing fee is not paid, or the processing and retention fee is not paid, within one year of the date of mailing of notification pursuant to paragraph 1.53(d) or within one year from the filing date if no correspondence address is included in the application, the application will be disposed of. The paragraph further indicates that no copies will be provided or certified by the Office of an application which has been disposed of or in which neither the basic filing fee nor the processing fee has been paid. Finally, paragraph 1.53(d) specifies that if no correspondence address is included in the application, applicant will have two months from the filing date to file the fee, oath or declaration and to pay the surcharge set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application.

Section 1.55, paragraph (b), is amended as proposed to correct an error in referring to paragraph (a) of this section.

Section 1.56 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (b) and add a new paragraph (j). Paragraph 1.56(b) requires that a copy of each foreign patent document, non-patent publication, or other non-patent item of information in written form being disclosed pursuant to §1.56 accompany such disclosures unless the copy is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure. In such a situation, a statement to that effect is required. Paragraph 1.56(b) also adds "or her" to refer to both genders. New paragraph 1.56(j) states that applicant will be notified if a copy or statement required pursuant to §1.56(b) is not submitted and that applicant will be given a time period within which to file the copy or a statement that the copy is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure. Such a time period would be extendable under §1.136. Failure to respond in a proper and timely manner would result in abandonment of the application.

Section 1.59 is amended as proposed to clarify that the Office will furnish copies of papers received in the Office at the usual cost only if the basic filing fee or the processing and retention fee has been paid.

Section 1.60 is amended to break the section into paragraph (a) and new paragraph (b). Paragraph (a) adds a reference to amended §1.78(a) to clarify the conditions under which continuation or divisional applications may be filed. New paragraph 1.60(b) provides that the signing of the oath or declaration can be omitted if the prior application was complete as set forth in §1.51(a). New paragraph 1.60(b) also requires that a true copy of the prior complete application be filed. The final rule also clarifies that the copy of the oath or declaration filed must show the applicant's signature or contain an indication it was signed. Paragraph 1.60(b) also provides that only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application will be entered before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date.

Section 1.62 is amended as proposed to revise paragraphs (a) and (d). Paragraph 1.62(a) provides that the file wrapper continuing procedure is applicable only to prior complete applications under §1.51(a). Paragraph 1.62(d) clarifies that the filing fee referred to is the basic filing fee.

Section 1.78 is amended as proposed to change the title to more explicitly define the contents of the section. Paragraph 1.78(a) specifies that in order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must be complete as set forth in §1.51(a) or be entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and include the basic filing fee set forth in §1.16, or be entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and have paid the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(l) within the time period set forth in §1.53(d).

Section 1.121 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (e) to specify how amendments to the description and claims are to be made in reissue applications.

Section 1.123 is amended as proposed to clarify that the sketch showing proposed amendments to the drawing with its cover letter should be a separate paper.

Section 1.135 is amended as proposed to remove paragraph (d) since it is not necessary in view of the ability to obtain extensions of time under §1.136(a) by petition and payment of fee.

Section 1.136 is amended as proposed to clarify in paragraphs (a) and (b) that the extension of time practice under this section does not apply in interference proceedings or in reexamination proceedings. Extension of time practice in interference proceedings, including extension of time for appeal or civil action (§1.304), is subject to §1.245. Extension of time practice in reexamination proceedings, including extension of time for appeal or civil action (§1.304), is subject to §1.550(c).

Section 1.191 is amended as proposed to add a new paragraph (d) to provide that the time periods for appeal and review set forth in §§1.191-1.194, 1.196 and 1.197 are subject to the provisions of §1.136 for patent applications or §1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings.

Section 1.192 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (a) to delete the reference to §1.136 since it is provided for in new §1.191(d).

Section 1.197 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (b) to delete the reference to §1.136 since it is provided for in new §1.191(d).

Section 1.304 is amended as proposed to clarify that extensions of time periods set forth therein are subject to the provisions of §1.245 for interferences or §1.550(c) where reexamination proceedings are involved rather than to §1.136 which applies in all other cases.

Section 1.550 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (c) to clarify that the time for taking any action, including appeal, by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding is governed solely by this section.

Section 1.555 is amended to revise paragraphs (a) and (b). In paragraph 1.555(a) "prior art" statement has been changed to "information disclosure" statement to conform to the language of §1.98. Paragraph 1.555(b) requires that disclosures pursuant to this paragraph be accompanied by a copy of each foreign patent document or non-patent printed publication which is being disclosed and which is in the possession of the person making the disclosure.

Responses to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. Thirty-five letters presenting written comments were received. No oral testimony was presented at the public hearing conducted on Oct. 18, 1983. All of the comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. Comments appear below with responses thereto.

Comments from Associations

Comment:

The American Patent Law Association commented that they were in full accord with most of the proposed changes. They submitted comments and suggestions from some members. The Patent, Trademark and Copyright Section of the American Bar Association did not render an official section position on the proposed rule changes but polled its members and found the majority of the member responding either to favor the proposed rule changes or to view them as acceptable. They also submitted comments and suggestions from some members. The United States Trademark Association commented on the proposed rules concerning deposit accounts.

Comments from Individuals

Comment:

One comment was received that the proposed amendment to §1.6 was unnecessary and possibly improper.

Reply:

The amendment to §1.6 has been adopted as proposed. The amended rule sets out the Patent and Trademark Office practice which has been in effect. No papers are stamped as having arrived in the Office on Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia no matter how the papers are filed. Article 4, C(3) of the Paris Convention says that the period of priority shall be extended until the first following working day "when the Office is not open for the filing of applications in the country where protection is claimed". To accept papers through use of "Express Mail" or some other way on Saturdays, Sundays or federal holidays within the District of Columbia would raise the possibility that the Office would be viewed as open for the filing of papers on such days and thereby remove the current ability to file a priority claiming application on the first working day if the priority year ended on a non-working day. The final rule avoids this implication.

Comment:

One comment indicated that the change to §1.6 should not be applied retroactively to papers filed before the clarifying language was placed in the rule.

Reply:

Any such fact situation will be reviewed through the normal petition procedure.

Comment:

One comment suggested that §1.10 be amended rather than §1.6 with regard to papers deposited as "Express Mail" on a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia.

Reply:

This comment has been adopted in that both §§1.6 and 1.10 have been amended to avoid any possible confusion.

Comment:

One comment suggested that §1.19(b) (3) be changed to permit the Office to certify material not copied from the records of the Office when reproduction of Office records is not feasible or possible.

Reply:

This comment has not been adopted. The Office will only certify that material is a copy of an Office record if, in fact, the material was reproduced from the Office record.

Comment:

One person commented that the $100 processing and retention fee under §1.21 was excessive and unnecessary.

Reply:

The fee is considered proper and necessary in view of the cost to the Office in handling, filming, processing and storage required to retain an application which has a filing date but in which no basic filing fee has been paid. If this expense is not covered by the applicant, it must be recovered from other sources.

Comment:

Twenty-seven comments were received on the proposal to amend §1.25 to raise to $1000 the minimum balance required in a deposit account. The amount is also referred to in §1.21(b) (2). These comments generally suggested that the $1000 amount was too high for account holders who did not use their accounts for charges other than small fees such as for patent copies. Several comments received acknowledged that the minimum balance for deposit accounts should be raised and suggested various amounts less than the proposed $1000. Several comments suggested a separate account category for persons who do not use their accounts for other than small fees. Two comments suggested that the Office accept credit cards for payment of fees.

Reply:

These comments and suggestions have not been adopted. The fees for filing, processing and issuing of patent and trademark applications have increased so as to make the present $40 minimum balance for deposit accounts totally inadequate. A number of persons objecting to the $1000 minimum balance acknowledged that they used their deposit accounts as a safeguard against failure to calculate or to submit proper fees by a check. An account with a very low balance obviously cannot be effective as a safeguard when a patent filing fee is $300 and a patent issue fee is $500. Dealing with overdrawn accounts causes administrative problems for the Patent and Trademark Office. An authorization to charge an account without sufficient funds to cover a charge will not be effective as payment and may result in loss of rights to an applicant. Also, unnecessary expense will be incurred by an applicant if an insufficient balance in an account results in abandonment of an application and the necessity of filing a petition to revive under 37 CFR 1.137(b) with the requisite $500 fee. Experience has shown that many single practitioners and small firms have failed to have sufficient funds in their accounts when needed. The increase of the minimum balance in deposit accounts to $1000 is seen to be necessary and proper. A failure to raise the minimum balance in deposit accounts to $1000 would serve as an incorrect indication that the Patent and Trademark Office views a minimum balance of less than $1000 as acceptable. If it is not possible for a small firm or individual to maintain a minimum balance of $1000, the deposit account could still be retained and used by paying the service charge set forth in §1.21(b) (2) for any month in which the balance at the end of the month is below $1000. The use of credit cards is not considered viable since legislation would be required to do so.

Comment:

Two comments were received suggesting that a license to a federal agency in an invention made by a federal employee should not preclude the employee from qualifying as a small entity and that §1.27 should be amended to cover this situation.

Reply:

These comments have not been adopted. Such an amendment was not proposed and the public has not had an opportunity to comment on it.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the time for filing a verified statement claiming small entity status to obtain a refund of a filing fee pursuant to §1.28 should run from the date of mailing of the filing receipt due to difficulty in identifying the new application before the filing receipt is received. Three persons suggested that the period for establishing small entity status and requesting a refund should be three months rather than two months as proposed.

Reply:

These comments have not been adopted. An application may be identified before the filing receipt is issued in a number of ways including title, inventor's name, filing date and attorney docket number. Also, a postcard may be included with filing of the application to learn the application serial number. The two month period for obtaining a refund is seen to be adequate since the small entity practice is no longer new and the public has had time to become familiar with it. It allows sufficient time to have a small entity statement executed and sent to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Comment:

One comment suggested that it should be made clear that an application filed in a foreign language (§1.52(d)) without including a signed oath or declaration can receive a filing date under the provisions of §1.53(b).

Reply:

The regulations permit and this reply makes it clear that an application filed in a language other than English can receive a filing date by complying with §1.53(b).

Comment:

Three comments were received suggesting that the proposed language not be added to §1.53(b). One comment alleged that the requirement to name the inventors upon filing a patent application is not required or even authorized by statute.

Reply:

35 U.S.C. 111 says that application for patent "shall be made, or authorized to be made, by the inventor". The rules of practice (§1.41(a)) contain the same requirement. The amendment to §1.53(b) is only clarifying the rules by also placing the requirement in that section. Further, United States patent practice has long required that the inventors be named at the time of filing.

Comment:

One person commented that the language of §1.53(d) should be changed to reflect that only one of the filing fee or processing and retention fee must be paid to prevent the application being disposed of.

Reply:

The language of the rule is seen to be unambiguous in this regard.

Comment:

One person commented that the language of §1.53(d) should be changed to establish a time within which the processing and retention fee may be paid to prevent the application being disposed of when no correspondence address has been provided.

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

One person suggested that §1.56(b) which states that copies of disclosed documents must be filed is inconsistent with §1.56(j) which provides that such copies must be filed unless they are not in the possession of the person making the disclosure.

Reply:

The language of §1.56(b) has been modified to clarify this point.

Comment:

Three persons commented that the requirement of §1.56(b) that copies of disclosed documents be supplied was an unnecessary burden. One person commented similarly on the requirement of §1.555 that copies of disclosed documents be supplied. Another person suggested that the proposed amendment to §1.56(b) would require submission of a complete document even if only a small portion were relevant.

Reply:

The Office agrees with another person who commented that the "requirement that disclosers in application and reexamination proceedings provide copies of disclosed documents which they have is fair and reasonable and should aid the Examiner in making an informed as possible decision in any given proceeding". The portion of a document required to be submitted under §1.56(b) is the portion which is material to the examination of the application under §1.56(a).

Comment:

One person commented that the proposed amendment to §1.78(a) would appear to require that a petition for correction of inventorship under §1.48 be filed in a parent application as well as in the continuing application in which the inventorship was corrected.

Reply:

The amendment to §1.78 does not change the practice regarding the filing of petitions under §1.48.

Comment:

One person commented that §1.123 is unclear as amended in not referring to the paper requesting that amendments to the drawing be made.

Reply:

The Patent and Trademark Office no longer makes amendments to the drawings. Applicants must submit new drawings with the changes or use bonded draftsmen to make the amendments. A paper requesting that the Office make the amendments is therefore inappropriate.

Comment:

Four persons commented that §1.135(d) should not be deleted since they thought it desirable to be able to ratify unsigned papers without paying any fee.

Reply:

The statute and rules now provide for obtaining extensions of time through simple petition and payment of fee and for revival through a simple statement that the abandonment was unintentional and the payment of a fee. Further, a filing date can now be obtained on filing an application without the oath or declaration. The handling of unsigned papers by the Patent and Trademark Office causes administrative problems and expense to the Office and delays the processing of applications. The emergency-type situations involving loss of rights which the previous practice was intended to cover have been substantially eliminated by the changes in the law and rules.

Comment:

One person commented that §1.191(d) was undecipherable in that it refers to a number of other rules.

Reply:

This section was intended to serve as a point of summarization for the applicable extension of time rules in appeals before the Board of Appeals. The section is seen to adequately serve that purpose.

Comment:

One person commented that the final sentence of §1.555(b) needs clarification.

Reply:

This sentence was not changed by the proposed rules and is seen to be clear as written.

Comment:

One person commented that proposed §1.555(b) requires copies and does not make any exceptions or qualifications on this requirement.

Reply:

The language of §1.555(b) has been clarified to require filing of a copy of each foreign patent document or nonpatent printed publication which is being disclosed and which is in the possession of the person making the disclosure.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354). Public Laws 96-517 and 97-247 have both taken into consideration the impact they may have on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public. In fact, some paperwork, especially that related to filing of small entity statements in applications filed under §1.62 will be reduced.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (government agencies), Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and Public Law 97-247, the Patent and Trademark Office is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

37 CFR, Part 1, is amended as follows:

1. Section 1.5 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.5 Identification of application, patent or registration.

(a) When a letter concerns an application for patent, it should state the name of the applicant, the title of the invention, the serial number or international application number of the application, the date of filing the same, and, if known, the group art unit or other unit within the Patent and Trademark Office responsible for considering the letter and the name of the examiner or other person to which it has been assigned.

* * * * *

2. Section 1.6 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.6 Receipt of letters and papers.

(a) Letters and other papers received in the Patent and Trademark Office are stamped with the date of receipt except where such letters and papers are filed in accordance with §1.10. Any such letters and papers filed in accordance with §1.10 will be stamped with the date of deposit as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service unless the date of deposit is a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia. No papers are received in the Patent and Trademark Office on Saturdays, Sundays or federal holidays within the District of Columbia.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.10 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§1.10 Filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate.

(a) Any paper or fee to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office can be filed utilizing the "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service of the United States Postal Service and be considered as having been filed in the Office on the date the paper or fee is shown to have been deposited as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service unless the date of deposit is a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See §1.6(a).

* * * * *

(c) The Patent and Trademark Office will accept the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" and accord the paper or fee the certificate date under 35 U.S.C. 21(a) (unless the certificate date is a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia—see §1.6(a)) without further proof of the date on which the mailing by "Express Mail" occurred unless a question is present regarding the date of mailing. If more than a reasonable time has elapsed between the certificate date and the Patent and Trademark Office receipt date or if other questions regarding the date of mailing are present, the person mailing the paper or fee may be required to file a copy of the "Express Mail" receipt showing the actual date of mailing and a statement from the person who mailed the paper or fee averring to the fact that the mailing occurred on the date certified. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

4. Section 1.14 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

* * * * *

(b) Except as provided in §1.11(b) abandoned applications are likewise not open to public inspection, except that if an application referred to in a U.S. patent, or in an application which is open to inspection pursuant to §1.139, is abandoned and is available, it may be inspected or copies obtained by any person on written request, without notice to the applicant. Complete applications (§1.51(a)) which are abandoned may be destroyed after 20 years from their filing date, except those to which particular attention has been called and which have been marked for preservation. Abandoned applications will not be returned.

* * * * *

5. Section 1.19 is amended by revising paragraph (b) (3) to read as follows:

§1.19 Document supply fees.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(3) For comparing copies, made from Patent and Trademark Office records but not prepared by the Patent and Trademark Office, with the original, prior to certification of the copies, per page	$0.10

* * * * *

6. Section 1.21 is amended by revising paragraph (b) (2) and by adding a new paragraph (l) to read as follows:

§1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(2) Service charge for each month when the balance at the end of the month is below $1000	$2.00

* * * * *

(l) For processing and retaining any application abandoned pursuant to §1.53(d) unless the required basic filing fee has been paid	$100.00.

7. Section 1.25 is revised to read as follows:

§1.25 Deposit accounts.

(a) For the convenience of attorneys, agents, and the general public in paying any fees due, in ordering services offered by the Office, copies of records, etc., deposit accounts may be established in the Patent and Trademark Office upon payment of the fee for establishing a deposit account (§1.21(b)(1)). A minimum deposit of $1000 or more, depending on the activity of the individual account, is required. At the close of each month's business, a statement will be rendered. A remittance must be made promptly upon receipt of the statement to cover the value of items or services charged to the account and thus restore the account to its established normal deposit value. An amount sufficient to cover all fees, services, copies, etc., requested must always be on deposit. A service charge (§1.21(b)(2)) will be assessed for each month that the balance at the end of the month is below $1000.

(b) Filing, issue, appeal, international-type search report, international application processing, petition, and post-issuance fees may be charged against these accounts if sufficient funds are on deposit to cover such fees. A general authorization to charge all fees, or only certain fees, set forth in §§1.16 to 1.18 to a deposit account containing sufficient funds may be filed in an individual application, either for the entire pendency of the application or with respect to a particular paper filed. An authorization to charge to a deposit account the fee for a request for reexamination pursuant to §1.510 and any other fees required in a reexamination proceeding in a patent may also be filed with the request for reexamination. An authorization to charge a fee to a deposit account will not be considered payment of the fee on the date the authorization to charge the fee is effective as to the particular fee to be charged unless sufficient funds are present in the account to cover the fee.

8. Section 1.27 is amended by revising paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§1.27 Statement of status as small entity.

* * * * *

(b) Any verified statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of an independent inventor must be signed by the independent inventor except as provided in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 of this part, and must aver that the inventor qualifies as an independent inventor in accordance with §1.9(c) of this part. Where there are joint inventors in an application, each inventor must file a verified statement establishing status as an independent inventor in order to qualify as a small entity. Where any rights have been assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, or there is an obligation to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights to a small business concern, a nonprofit organization, or any other individual, a verified statement must be filed by the individual, the owner of the small business concern, or an official of the small business concern or nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the small business concern or nonprofit organization averring to their status. For purposes of a verified statement under this paragraph, a license to a federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a license as set forth in §1.9 of this part.

(c) Any verified statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of a small business concern must (1) be signed by the owner or an official of the small business concern empowered to act on behalf of the concern; (2) aver that the concern qualifies as a small business concern as defined in §1.9(d); and (3) aver that exclusive rights to the invention have been conveyed to and remain with the small business concern, or if the rights are not exclusive, that all other rights belong to small entities as defined in §1.9. Where the rights of the small business concern as a small entity are not exclusive, a verified statement must also be filed by the other small entities having rights averring to their status as such. For purposes of a verified statement under this paragraph, a license to a federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a license as set forth in §1.9 of this part.

(d) Any verified statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of a nonprofit organization must (1) be signed by an official of the nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the organization; (2) aver that the organization qualifies as a nonprofit organization as defined in §1.9(e) of this part specifying under which one of §1.9(e)(1), (e)(2), (e)(3), or (e)(4) of this part the organization qualifies; and (3) aver that exclusive rights to the invention have been conveyed to and remain with the organization or if the rights are not exclusive, that all other rights belong to small entities as defined in §1.9 of this part. Where the rights of the nonprofit organization as a small entity are not exclusive, a verified statement must also be filed by the other small entities having rights averring to their status as such. For purposes of a verified statement under this paragraph, a license to a federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a conveyance of rights as set forth in this paragraph.

9. Section 1.28 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.28 Effect on fees of failure to establish status, or change status, as a small entity.

(a) The failure to establish status as a small entity (§§1.9(f) and 1.27 of this part) in any application or patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, any fee precludes payment of the fee in the amount established for small entities. A refund pursuant to §1.26 of this part, based on establishment of small entity status, of a portion of fees timely paid in full prior to establishing status as a small entity may only be obtained if a verified statement under §1.27 and a request for a refund of the excess amount are filed within two months of the date of the timely payment of the full fee. The two-month time period is not extendable under §1.136. Status as a small entity is waived for any fee by the failure to establish the status prior to paying, at the time of paying, or within two months of the date of payment of, the fee. Status as a small entity must be specifically established by a verified statement filed in each application or patent in which the status is available and desired, except those applications filed under §1.60 or §1.62 of this part where the status as a small entity has been established in a parent application and is still proper. Once status as a small entity has been established in an application or patent, the status remains in that application or patent without the filing of a further verified statement pursuant to §1.27 of this part unless the Office is notified of a change in status. Status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established, except those filed under §1.60 or §1.62 of this part. Applications filed under §1.60 or §1.62 of this part must include a reference to a verified statement in a parent application if status as a small entity is still proper and desired.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.52 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.52 Language, paper, writing, margins.

* * * * *

(d) An application may be filed in a language other than English. A verified English translation of the non-English language application and the fee set forth in §1.17(k) are required to be filed with the application or within such time as may be set by the Office.

11. Section 1.53 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (d) to read as follows:

§1.53 Serial number, filing date, and completion of application.

* * * * *

(b) The filing date of an application for patent is the date on which (1) a specification containing a description pursuant to §1.71 and at least one claim pursuant to §1.75, and (2) any drawing required by §1.81(a), are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in the name of the actual inventor or inventors as required by §1.41. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date (§1.118).

* * * * *

(d) If the application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section does not include the appropriate filing fee or an oath or declaration by the applicant, applicant will be so notified, if a correspondence address has been provided, and given a period of time within which to file the fee, oath, or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. If the required filing fee is not timely paid, or if the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(1) is not paid within one year of the date of mailing of the notification required by this paragraph, the application will be disposed of. No copies will be provided or certified by the Office of an application which has been disposed of or in which neither the required basic filing fee nor the processing and retention fee has been paid. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. If no correspondence address is included in the application, applicant has two months from the filing date to file the fee, oath or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application or one year from the filing date to pay the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(1) to prevent disposal of the application.

* * * * *

12. Section 1.55 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

* * * * *

(b) An applicant may under certain circumstances claim priority on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in a country granting both inventor's certificates and patents. When an applicant wishes to claim the right of priority as to a claim or claims of the application on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in such a country under 35 U.S.C. 119, last paragraph (as amended July 28, 1972), the applicant or his or her attorney or agent, when submitting a claim for such right as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, shall include an affidavit or declaration including a specific statement that, upon an investigation, he or she has satisfied himself or herself that to the best of his or her knowledge the applicant, when filing his or her application for the inventor's certificate, had the option to file an application either for a patent or an inventor's certificate as to the subject matter of the identified claim or claims forming the basis for the claim of priority.

13. Section 1.56 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and by adding a new paragraph (j) to read as follows:

§1.56 Duty of disclosure; fraud; striking or rejection of applications.

* * * * *

(b) Disclosures pursuant to this section must be accompanied by a copy of each foreign patent document,

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

non-patent publication, or other non-patent item of information in written form which is being disclosed or by a statement that the copy is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure and may be made to the Office through an attorney or agent having responsibility for the preparation or prosecution of the application or through an inventor who is acting in his or her own behalf. Disclosure to such an attorney, agent or inventor shall satisfy the duty, with respect to the information disclosed, of any other individual. Such an attorney, agent or inventor has no duty to transmit information which is not material to the examination of the application.

* * * * *

(j) If any disclosure pursuant to this section does not include a copy of each foreign patent document, non-patent publication, or other non-patent item of information in written form which is being disclosed or a statement that a copy thereof is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure, applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the copy or a statement that a copy is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure. The time period set may be extended under §1.136.

14. Section 1.59 is revised to read as follows:

§1.59 Papers of application with filing date not to be returned.

Papers in an application which has received a filing date pursuant to §1.53 will not be returned for any purpose whatever. If applicants have not preserved copies of the papers, the Office will furnish copies at the usual cost of any application in which either the required basic filing fee (§1.16) or the processing and retention fee (§1.21(l)) has been paid.

15. Section 1.60 is revised to read as follows:

§1.60 Continuation or divisional application for invention disclosed in a prior application.

(a) A continuation or divisional application (filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 or 121 and §1.78(a)), which discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in a prior application may be filed as a separate application before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the prior application.

(b) An applicant may omit signing of the oath or declaration in a continuation or divisional application if (1) the prior application was a complete application as set forth in §1.51(a) and (2) applicant files a true copy of the prior complete application as filed including the specification (including claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the applicant's signature or an indication it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application. The copy of the prior application must be accompanied by a statement that the application papers filed are a true copy of the prior application and that no amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application introduced new matter therein. Such statement must be by the applicant or applicant's attorney or agent and must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application (§1.78(a)) will be entered before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date.

16. Section 1.62 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (d) to read as follows:

§1.62 File wrapper continuing procedure.

(a) A continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application, which uses the specification, drawings and oath or declaration from a prior complete application (§1.51(a)) to be abandoned, may be filed before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application. The filing date of an application filed under this section is the date on which a request is filed for an application under this section including identification of the Serial Number, filing date, and applicant's name of the prior complete application.

* * * * *

(d) If an application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section does not include the appropriate basic filing fee pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, or an oath or declaration by the applicant in the case of a continuation-in-part application pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the fee, oath, or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification of a defect pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

* * * * *

17. Section 1.78 is amended by revising the title and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.78 Claiming benefit of earlier filing date and cross-references to other applications.

(a) An application may claim an invention disclosed in the same applicant's prior filed copending national application or international application designating the United States of America. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must be (1) complete as set forth in §1.51, or (2) entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and include the basic filing fee set forth in §1.16; or (3) entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(l) within the time period set forth in §1.53(d). Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending national or international application must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior application, identifying it by serial number and filing date or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See §1.14(b)).

* * * * *

18. Section 1.121 is amended by revising paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§1.121 Manner of making amendments.

* * * * *

(e) In reissue applications, both the descriptive portion and the claims are to be amended by either (1) submitting a copy of a portion of the description or an entire claim with all matter to be deleted from the patent being placed between brackets and all matter to be added to the patent being underlined, or (2) indicating the exact word or words to be stricken out or inserted and the precise point where the deletion or insertion is to be made. Any word or words to be inserted must be underlined. See §1.173.

* * * * *

19. Section 1.123 is revised to read as follows:

§1.123 Amendments to the drawing.

No change in the drawing may be made except by permission of the Office. Permissible changes in the construction shown in any drawing may be made only by bonded draftsmen, at applicant's expense, or by the submission of substitute drawings by applicant. A sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner and should be a separate paper.

20. Section 1.135 is amended by removing paragraph (d).

21. Section 1.136 is revised to read as follows:

§1.136 Filing of timely responses with petition and fee for extension of time and extensions of time for cause.

(a) If an applicant is required to respond within a non-statutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may respond up to four months after the time period set if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in §1.17 are filed prior to or with the response, unless (1) applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action or (2) the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to §1.207. The date on which the response, the petition, and the fee have been filed is the date of the response and also the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. In no case may an applicant respond later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See §1.245 for extension of time in interference proceedings and §1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

(b) When a response with petition and fee for extension of time cannot be filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the time for response will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the applicant is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. In no case can any extension carry the date on which response to an Office action is due beyond the maximum time period set by statute or be granted when the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section are available. See §1.245 for extension of time in interference proceedings and §1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

22. Section 1.191 is amended by adding a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.191 Appeal to Board of Appeals.

* * * * *

(d) The time periods set forth in §§1.191 through 1.194, 1.196 and 1.197 are subject to the provisions of §1.136 for patent applications or §1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings.

23. Section 1.192 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.192 Appellant's brief.

(a) The appellant shall, within 2 months from the date of the notice of appeal under §1.191 in an application, reissue application, or patent under reexamination, or within the time allowed for response to the action appealed from, if such time is later, file a brief in triplicate. The brief must be accompanied by the requisite fee set forth in §1.17(f) and must set forth the authorities and arguments on which the appellant will rely to maintain the appeal. The brief must include a concise explanation of the invention which should refer to the drawing by reference characters, and a copy of the claims involved.

* * * * *

24. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.197 Action following decision.

* * * * *

(b) A single request for rehearing or reconsideration, or modification of the decision, may be made if filed within thirty days from the date of the original decision, unless that decision is so modified as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Appeals so states.

* * * * *

25. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice and reasons of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§1.303) is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Appeals or the Board of Patent Interferences. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration, or modification of the decision, is filed within the time provided pursuant to §1.197(b) or §1.256(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. The time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of §1.136 or §1.550(c) as to decisions of the Board of Appeals, or §1.245 as to decisions of the Board of Patent Interferences.

26. Section 1.550 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§1.550 Conduct of reexamination proceedings.

* * * * *

(c) The time for taking any action by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the patent owner is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension.

27. Section 1.555 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§1.555 Duty of disclosure in reexamination proceedings.

(a) A duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office rests on the patent owner, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner, and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding. All such individuals who are aware, or become aware, of patents or printed publications material to the reexamination which have not been previously made of record in the patent file must bring such patents or printed publications to the attention of the Office. An information disclosure statement, preferably in accordance with §1.98, should be filed wihin two months of the date of the order for reexamination, or as soon thereafter as possible in order to bring such patents or printed publications to the attention of the Office.

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

(b) Disclosures pursuant to this section must be accompanied by a copy of each foreign patent document or non-patent printed publication which is being disclosed or by a statement that the copy is not in the possession of the person making the disclosure and may be made to the Office through an attorney or agent having responsibility on behalf of the patent owner for the reexamination proceeding or through a patent owner acting in his or her own behalf. Disclosure to such an attorney, agent or patent owner shall satisfy the duty of any other individual. Such an attorney, agent or patent owner has no duty to transmit information which is not material to the reexamination.

Final Rules for Patent Maintenance Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of final rulemaking
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part I of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to provide rules and procedures for the payment of patent maintenance fees. Public Law 96–517, enacted on Dec. 12, 1980 and Public Law 97–247, enacted on Aug. 27, 1982, provided for the payment of maintenance fees at intervals of 3½, 7½ and 11½ years from the date of grant of the patent for maintaining in force an original patent, a reissue patent of an invention, and under Public Law 96–517, a plant patent and reissues thereof. The changes provide specific rules and procedures which will assist patentees in avoiding the inadvertent expiration of a patent for failure to pay the appropriate maintenance fee.
Effective Date: Nov. 1, 1984
For Further Information Contact: R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to 1) establish a set of rules and procedures for the payment of patent maintenance fees; and 2) effect the provisions of Public Laws 96–517 and 97–247 with respect to payment of maintenance fees. The proposed rules were published on Apr. 24, 1984, in Vol. 49 of the Federal Register, pages 17692 through 17698; and on May 8, 1984, at Vol. 1042 of the Official Gazette, pages 22 through 38. A public hearing was held on the proposed rule changes on June 26, 1984.

A public briefing on the Office's maintenance fee payment plans was announced at 49 Federal Register 2806 on Jan. 23, 1984, and at 1038 Official Gazette 293 on Jan. 31, 1984. The public briefing was held on Feb. 22, 1984.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.1., is amended as proposed to add a new paragraph (d) to provide a "Box M. Fee" in the Patent and Trademark Office to which all maintenance fee correspondence and payments should be directed. Changes in small entity status in patents and changes in the "fee address" under §1.363, as well as payments of maintenance fees should be directed to "Box M. Fee".

Section 1.9, paragraph (d) is amended as proposed to make a change in citation and title of the rule of the Small Business Administration which relates to the small business size standard for paying reduced patent fees. This change was published in the Federal Register as a final rule on Feb. 9, 1984 at 49 Fed. Reg. 5024–5048. The wording of the rule itself was not changed. This change is made to bring the wording of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations into conformance with title 13, Code of Federal Regulations.

Section 1.17, is amended as proposed to establish in paragraph (h) a fee of $120 for review of a decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to the expiration of a patent. Paragraph (h) of §1.17 is also amended to establish a fee of $120 for reconsideration of a decision on petition refusing to accept the delayed payment of a maintenance fee in an expired patent.

Section 1.19, is amended as proposed to add new paragraphs (f) and (g). New paragraph (f) provides for a $10.00 fee for a microfiche copy of a patent file wrapper record. Microfiche copies of these patent files have recently become available for patents issued after Jan. 1, 1984. No fee had previously been set by rule for this service. This fee is not directly related to maintenance fees but is set at this time for convenience. New paragraph (g) establishes a $3.00 fee for providing an uncertified statement indicating either the status of payment of maintenance fees due on a patent or the expiration of a patent. This charge does not apply to any receipt normally provided to the fee addressee as a result of the payment of a maintenance fee, but does apply in any other instance when written evidence of the status of payment of maintenance fees on a patent is requested, whether by the patentee or a member of the public.

Section 1.20, is amended as proposed to add new paragraphs (k), (l) and (m). New paragraph (k) provides for a $100.00 surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982. Since Public Law 96–517 did not provide for small entities, the surcharge amount of $100 applies to all such patents. New paragraph (l) provides for a $100 surcharge for patentees other than a small entity and a $50 surcharge for small entity patentees when paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982. This surcharge of $100 is subject to a 50% reduction for small entities pursuant to Public Law 97–247. New paragraph (m) provides for a $500 surcharge for accepting payment of a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee. This $500 surcharge applies only under Public Law 97–247 where the patent is based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982 and where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable. The requirement that the delay be "unavoidable" is the same as that for reviving an abandoned application under 35 U.S.C. 133. However, the amount of evidence required will depend upon when the showing that the delay was "unavoidable" is made. This surcharge does not apply to patents based on applications filed prior to Aug. 27, 1982 since acceptance of a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment is not possible under Public Law 96–517. Since this surcharge is provided for under 35 U.S.C. 41(c), it is not subject to a 50% reduction for small entities. The surcharge in paragraph (m) is not in addition to the surcharge in paragraph (l), but is in lieu thereof.

Section 1.33 is amended as proposed to add a new paragraph (d) which allows a "correspondence address" or change thereto to be filed during the enforceable life of the patent. The "correspondence address" will be used in correspondence relating to maintenance fees unless a separate "fee address" has been specified. Paragraph (d) also includes a reference to §1.363 relating to the "fee address" to be used for maintenance fee purposes.

New §1.362 is added to provide for times for payment of maintenance fees. New paragraph (a) sets forth the requirement that maintenance fees as set forth in §1.20(e)-(j) must be paid in order to maintain a patent in force if the application maturing into a patent was filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and is subject to the payment of maintenance fees. The maintenance fee amounts set in §1.20(e)-(g) are subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Public Law 96–517. The maintenance fee amounts set in §1.20(h)-(j) are subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Public Law 97–247 on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor. Other patent fees are also subject to similar adjustments.

New paragraph (b) of §1.362 stipulates that no maintenance fees are due for plant patents if the plant patent application was filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982 or for any design patents. Maintenance fees are not required for a reissue patent if the patent being reissued did not require maintenance fees. New paragraph (c) defines the pertinent application filing dates for purposes of determining whether maintenance fees are applicable. Paragraph (c) (1) establishes that for national applications not claiming benefit of an earlier application, the actual United States filing date controls. Paragraph (c) (2) establishes that for national applications claiming benefit of an earlier foreign application under 35 U.S.C. 119, the United States filing date controls. Paragraph (c) (3) provides that for continuing national applications claiming benefit of a prior application under 35 U.S.C. 120, the actual United States filing date of the continuing application is the controlling date. Paragraph (c) (4) provides that for a reissue application, the United States filing date of the application which matured into the original patent upon which the reissue application is based will control. Paragraph (c) (5) establishes that for an international application which has entered the United States as a Designated Office under 35 U.S.C. 371, the international filing date granted under Article 11(1) of the Patent Cooperation Treaty controls. This is consistent with 35 U.S.C. 363.

Paragraph (d) of new §1.362 sets forth the time periods when maintenance fees can be paid without a surcharge. Those periods, referred to generally as the "window period," are the six-month periods preceding each due date, i.e., 3 years through 3 years and six months, 7 years through 7 years and six months, and 11 years through 11 years and six months after grant of the patent. The "due dates" are defined in 35 U.S.C. 41(b). A maintenance fee paid on the last day of a window period can be paid without surcharge. The last day of a window period is the same date (anniversary date) the patent was granted 3 years and six months, 7 years and six months, or 11 years and six months after grant of the patent. Paragraph (d) has been modified from the proposal to add "and" between items (2) and (3) and change the comma at the end of the paragraph to a period.

Paragraph (e) of new §1.362 sets forth the grace periods during which maintenance fees, under either Public Law 96–517 or Public Law 97–247, may be paid with the surcharge under §1.20(k) or (l). The grace periods are the six-month periods immediately following each due date, i.e., after 3 years and six months and up to 4 years, after 7 years and six months and up to 8 years, and after 11 years and six months and up to 12 years after grant of the patent. A maintenance fee may be paid with the surcharge on the same date (anniversary date) the patent was granted in the 4th, 8th, or 12th year after grant to prevent the patent from expiring.

Paragraph (f) of new §1.362 specifies that where the last day for paying a maintenance fee falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the maintenance fee may be paid on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday. For example, if the "window period" provided by paragraph (d) for paying a maintenance fee without surcharge ended on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the maintenance fee can be paid without surcharge on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday. Likewise, if the grace period provided by paragraph (e) for paying a maintenance fee with surcharge ended on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the maintenance fee could be paid with surcharge on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday. In the latter situation, the failure to pay the maintenance fee and surcharge on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday will result in the patent expiring on a date (4, 8, or 12 years after the date of grant) earlier than the last date on which the maintenance fee and surcharge could be paid. This situation results from the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 21, but those provisions do not extend the expiration date of the patent if the maintenance fee and any required surcharge are not paid when required. For example, if the grace period ended on Saturday, the maintenance fee and surcharge could be paid on the next succeeding business day, e.g. Monday, but the patent will have expired at midnight on Saturday if the maintenance fee and surcharge were not paid on the following Monday. Paragraph (f) has been modified from the proposal to explicitly refer to "any necessary surcharge" for clarity since the ability to pay on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday within the District of Columbia applies to the maintenance fee, including any necessary surcharge.

Paragraph (g) of new §1.362 establishes that if the proper fees are not received within the time period specified in paragraphs (d), (e), or (f) the patent expires at the end of the grace period set forth in paragraph (e). Paragraph (g) also specifies that a patent which expires for the failure to pay the maintenance fee will expire at the end of the same date (anniversary date) the patent was granted in the 4th, 8th, or 12th year after grant.

New §1.363 is added as proposed to provide for a "fee address" for maintenance fee purposes. New paragraph (a) specifies that the correspondence address used during prosecution of the application will be used unless 1) a "fee address" is provided for maintenance fee purposes when submitting the issue fee, 2) a correspondence address change for all purposes is filed after payment of the issue fee, or 3) a "fee address" or a change in the "fee address" is filed after payment of the issue fee.

Paragraph (b) of new §1.363 specifies that an assignment does not result in a change of address for maintenance fee purposes. Due to the possible expiration of a patent for failure to timely pay the appropriate maintenance fee, patentees should ensure that the Patent and Trademark Office is properly notified of the proper "fee address" to which all maintenance fee communications are to be directed Under both Public Law 96–517 and Public Law 97–247 the burden is on the patentee to timely pay maintenance fees. The Patent and Trademark Office will attempt to assist patentees through appropriate courtesy notices. However, the failure to receive one or more notices will not relieve the patentee of the obligation to timely pay the appropriate maintenance fee to prevent the patent from expiring by operation of law if the maintenance fee is not paid. Section 1.363 does not provide for maintenance fee correspondence to be directed to more than one address.

New §1.366 is added to establish the guidelines and procedures for submission of maintenance fees, including any necessary surcharges. New paragraph (a) states that the patentee may pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges or any person or organization may pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges on behalf of the patentee without filing in the Patent and Trademark Office evidence of authorization by the patentee to pay maintenance fees. This will enable patentees to pay the maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges themselves or authorize some person or organization to pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges on their behalf. No verification of the authority to pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges in a particular patent will be made by the Patent and Trademark Office. While anyone may pay the maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges on a patent, any Patent and Trademark Office notices relating to maintenance fees will be mailed to the "fee address" set forth in §1.363. Paragraph (a) has been modified from the proposal to explicitly refer to "any necessary surcharges" for clarity.

Paragraph (b) of new §1.366 specifies that a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge for a patent must be submitted in the amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid, and at the proper time, i.e., within the periods set forth in §1.362. Paragraph (b) has been modified from the proposal by changing "proper amount" to "amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid." This change results from adoption of a suggestion that a maintenance fee payment made during the window period should not require adjustment if the maintenance fees are thereafter increased to reflect increases in the Consumer Price Index. Under paragraph (b) as adopted herein, if the amount of the maintenance fee is correct on the date it is paid and credited to the patent, a later change in the maintenance fees to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index will not require a modification in the amount paid. However, in order for the maintenance fee to be considered paid it must be submitted in accordance with §1.366. Paragraph (b) has also been modified from the proposal to explicitly refer to §1.362(f) for purposes of clarity where the last day for paying a maintenance fee with or without a surcharge falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia. In such circumstances, the fee with any necessary surcharge may be paid on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday. The maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge may be paid in the manner set forth in §1.23, i.e., it should be in United States specie, Treasury notes, national bank notes, post office money orders, or by certified check. As indicated in §1.23, if the maintenance fee payment is sent in any other form, the Office may delay or cancel the credit until collection is made. For example, a personal or other uncertified check drawn on a United States bank which is not immediately negotiable, e.g., because of lack of signature or insufficient funds, will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee. However, a personal check drawn on a United States bank can be used if it is immediately negotiable. Any remittance from foreign countries must be payable and immediately negotiable in the United States for the full amount of the maintenance fee required.

Paragraph (b) of new §1.366 also provides that maintenance fees may be paid by an authorization to charge a deposit account established pursuant to §1.25. The authorization to charge the deposit account must be submitted within the periods set forth in §1.362 and must be limited to maintenance fees payable on the date of submission. The authorization to charge the deposit account can not, under paragraph (b), be submitted prior to the third, seventh, or eleventh year after the grant of the patent. If an authorization to charge a deposit account were submitted to pay the maintenance fee due at three years and six months after grant, a new authorization to charge a deposit account or other form of payment will have to be submitted at the appropriate time for each of the maintenance fees due at 7 years and six months and 11 years and six months. Paragraph (b) also specifies that any payment or authorization filed at any time other than that set forth in §1.362(d), (e) or (f) will not serve as a payment of the maintenance fee, except insofar as a delayed payment of the maintenance fee is accepted by the Commissioner pursuant to §1.378. Paragraph (b) also specifies that a payment of less than the required amount, a payment in a manner other than that set forth in §1.23, or the filing of an authorization to charge a deposit account having insufficient funds, will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee on a patent. The authorization is required to authorize the immediate charging of the fee to the deposit account. An authorization would be improper if it only authorized the fee to be charged at a later date, e.g., on the last possible day of payment without surcharge. Such an authorization would not serve as payment of the maintenance fee. Any payment which fails to result in the entire proper amount of the maintenance fee being present on the due date will not constitute payment of the maintenance fee. Paragraph (b) also specifies that the certificate of mailing procedures of §1.8 or the mailing by "Express Mail" provisions of §1.10 may be utilized in paying maintenance fees. The specific requirements of either §1.8 or §1.10 must be fully complied with if either is used.

Paragraph (c) of new §1.366 establishes the data necessary and desired when submitting maintenance fee payments and any necessary surcharges. New paragraph (c) specifies that maintenance fee payments and any necessary surcharges must include at least the 1) patent number and 2) United States application serial number. Paragraph (c) has been modified from the proposal to explicitly refer to "any necessary surcharges" for clarity since the identifying information must also be supplied when submitting surcharges. The wording of §1.366(c) has also been changed from the proposal to clarify that the required application serial number is that of the application upon which the patent issued. This change from the proposal makes clear that the serial number required to be submitted is not that of a prior parent application but rather, the actual application which matured into the patent for which maintenance fees are to be paid. If the maintenance fee is being paid on a reissue patent, the serial number required is that of the reissue application. Since this required information will be used as a cross-check to ensure that the maintenance fee is properly credited, the application serial number must correspond to the patent which issued therefrom. If less than the required information is submitted, the Office will not credit the payment. Additionally, if notice is required that the proper identifying data has not been submitted, it would result in requiring the payment of a surcharge if the necessary data is submitted after the "window period" closes. If the required information is not submitted until after the end of the grace period, the patent would have expired because of the failure to properly identify the patent to which the maintenance fee payment is to be credited prior to the expiration of the grace period. The patentee in such a circumstance could proceed under §1.378, if appropriate, or could file a petition under §1.377 within the period set therein seeking to have the maintenance fee accepted as timely even though all of the proper identifying data was not present prior to the expiration of the grace period.

Paragraph (d) of new §1.366 specifies that the following information should also be submitted for each patent on which a maintenance fee or surcharge is paid: 1) whether it is the 3½, 7½, or 11½ year fee, 2) whether small entity status is being changed or claimed with the payment, 3) the amount of the maintenance fee and any surcharge being submitted, 4) any assigned payor number, 5) patent issue date and 6) United States application filing date. Paragraph (d) has been modified from the proposal to explicitly refer to "any necessary surcharges" for clarity. Paragraph (d) has also been changed from the proposal to emphasize that when the payment is being made on a reissue patent the required patent number and application serial number are those of the reissue patent and reissue application. Where the payment is a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge on a reissue patent, in addition to the information requested for all payments, paragraph (d) as adopted herein also requests certain identifying data relating to the original patent, i.e., original patent number, original patent issue date, and original United States application filing date. The reason for requesting the original patent number, original patent issue date, and original United States application filing date is that the original filing and issue dates are the dates which control if and when maintenance fees must be paid to prevent the reissue patent from expiring. The reference to a payor number has been added. A payor number will be assigned to each "fee address" in order to facilitate data input and subsequent changes in the location of the "fee address." Details of the "payor number" system will be announced to the public in a future Official Gazette notice. Although the submission of the information requested in paragraph (d) is not mandatory, it would expedite the processing of the maintenance fee payments.

The final rule thus requires less mandatory information, i.e., the patent number and U.S. application serial number, than would have been required by the proposed rule. The required information is considered to be the least that is required to make a cross-check and thus assure that the maintenance fee is being credited to the proper patent. The patent issue date and the application filing date, which were included in the proposed rule as mandatory information, are included in the final rule as desirable, but not mandatory, information The effect of this change is that an error in either the patent issue date or the application filing date, or both, by the person paying the maintenance fee would not result in a refusal to accept the maintenance fee and to credit the payment thereof to the patent, if the patent number and United States application serial number were correct, i.e., in agreement. However, if any error included either the patent number or the United States application serial number such that they were not in agreement the payment would not be accepted and credited until correction was made. The date of the correction would be the date the maintenance fee payment is credited as being made.

Paragraph (e) of new §1.366 specifies that maintenance fee payments and any surcharges relating thereto must be submitted separate from any other payments for fees or charges, whether submitted in the manner set forth in §1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account. Maintenance fee payments and surcharge payments relating thereto which are co-mingled with payments for other fees or charges, e.g., application filing fees, issue fees, petition fees, document supply fees, etc., will not be accepted. The maintenance fees require processing by a separate area of the Office and are not processed in the same manner as other fees and charges. Maintenance fees for a number of patents can be submitted together in one submission and one payment. Paragraph (e) specifies that if maintenance fee payments for more than one patent are submitted together, they should be submitted on as few sheets as possible, listing the patent numbers in increasing patent number order. If the payment submitted, which can be made as a single payment, is insufficient to cover the maintenance fees and any surcharges for all the listed patents, the payment will be applied in the order the patents are listed. In such a circumstance where the fees are insufficient, the maintenance fee and any surcharge for one or more of the last listed patents will not be paid.

Paragraph (f) of new §1.366 serves as a reminder to patentees of the necessity to check for the loss of small entity status prior to paying each maintenance fee on a patent. This is already a requirement of §1.28(b). Paragraph (f) provides that notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed in a patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, the earliest maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small entity is no longer appropriate. If status as a small entity has been previously established by filing a statement and such status is checked and is found to be proper, no notification is required. It is not necessary to file new verified statements claiming small entity status at this point if the status as a small entity has been established and is still proper even if rights have been transferred to a small entity who has not previously filed a verified statement. The requirement is to notify the Patent and Trademark Office of the loss of entitlement and to pay the maintenance fee in the proper amount for other than a small entity where appropriate. The refund provisions of §1.28(a) for later submitted small entity statements will apply to maintenance fees.

Paragraph (g) of new §1.366 provides that maintenance fees and surcharges relating thereto will not be refunded except in accordance with §§1.26 and 1.28(a). A patentee cannot obtain a refund of a maintenance fee which was due and payable on the patent. Any duplicate payment will be refunded to the fee address.

New §1.377 is added as proposed to provide a mechanism for review of a decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to the expiration of a patent. Paragraph (a) of new §1.377 specifies that a patentee who is dissatisfied with the refusal of the Patent and Trademark Office to accept and record a maintenance fee which was filed prior to the expiration of the patent may petition the Commissioner to accept and record the maintenance fee. This petition may be used, for example, in situations where an error is present in the identifying data required by §1.366(c) with the maintenance fee payment, i.e., either the patent number or the application serial number are incorrect. A petition under §1.377 would not be appropriate where there is a complete failure to include at least one correct mandatory identifier as required by §1.366(c) for the patent since no evidence would be present as to the patent on which the maintenance fee was intended to be paid. If the maintenance fee payment with an incorrect mandatory identifier was made near the end of the grace period, the patent might expire since the Office would not credit the fee to a patent. For patents based on applications filed between Dec. 12, 1980 and Aug. 27, 1982, there is no provision for acceptance of a maintenance fee after the grace period such as in §1.378 and so the filing of a petition under §1.377 would provide an avenue for seeking relief. A petition under §1.377 would not be appropriate where the patentee paid a maintenance fee on one patent when the patentee intended to pay the maintenance fee on a different patent but through error identified the wrong patent by patent number and application serial number. Likewise, a petition under §1.377 would not be appropriate where the entire maintenance fee payment, including any necessary surcharge, was not filed prior to expiration of the patent.

Paragraph (b) of new §1.377 specifies that any petition under new §1.377 must be filed within 2 months of the action complained of, or within such other time as may be set in the action complained of. The petition must be accompanied by the petition fee of $120 provided for in the amendment to §1.17(h). Paragraph (b) also provides that the petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if the refusal to accept and record the maintenance fee is determined to have resulted from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

Paragraph (c) of new §1.377 specifies that any petition filed under the section must comply with the requirements of paragraph (b) of §1.181 and must be signed by an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, or by the patentee, the assignee, or other party in interest. A person or organization whose only responsibility insofar as the patent is concerned is the payment of a maintenance fee is not a party in interest for purposes of paragraph (c) of §1.377. The petition must be in the form of a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. If the petition is signed by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, the petition must include the authority of the person signing the petition as patentee, assignee, or other party in interest.

New §1.378 is added as proposed to establish the procedure for acceptance of the delayed payment of a maintenance fee in an expired patent in order to reinstate that patent. This procedure is only available under Public Law 97-247 where the application on which the patent is based was filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982. If the maintenance fee is due under Public Law 96-517, i.e., the application on which the patent is based was filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, and before Aug. 27, 1982, the delayed payment of the maintenance fee is not provided for by statute and cannot be accepted after expiration of the patent, and the patent cannot be reinstated.

Paragraph (a) of new §1.378 provides that the Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee due on a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, after expiration of the patent if, upon petition, the delay in payment of the maintenance fee is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable. The surcharge set forth in §1.20(m) must be paid as a condition of accepting payment of the maintenance fee. No separate petition fee is required for this petition. If the Commissioner accepts payment of the maintenance fee upon petition, the patent shall be considered as not having expired, but will be subject to the intervening rights provisions of 35 U.S.C. 41(c) (2).

Paragraph (b) of new §1.378 specifies the requirements of a petition for acceptance of the delayed payment of a maintenance fee filed within six months of the expiration of the patent. Under paragraph (b), the petition must include the required maintenance fee set forth in §1.20(h)-(j); the surcharge set forth in §1.20(m); and a showing that the delay was unavoidable since reasonable care was taken to ensure that the maintenance fee would be paid timely. The showing must enumerate the steps taken to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fee. In view of the requirement to enumerate the steps taken to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fee, an argument that the patentee was ignorant of the requirement to pay maintenance fees will not constitute a showing of unavoidable delay. Evidence that despite reasonable care on behalf of the patentee and/or the patentee's agents, and reasonable steps to ensure timely payment, the maintenance fee was unavoidably not paid, could be submitted in support of an argument that the delay in payment was unavoidable. For example, an error in a docketing system could possibly result in a finding that a delay in payment was unavoidable if it were shown that reasonable care was exercised in designing and operating the system and if it were shown that the patentee took reasonable steps to ensure that the patent was entered into the system to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fees.

Paragraph (c) of new §1.378 specifies the requirements of a petition for acceptance of the delayed payment of a maintenance fee filed more than six months after the expiration of a patent. These requirements are much more stringent in view of the heavy burden of proof that the delay was unavoidable. The legislative history of Public Law 97-247, House Report No. 97-542 (Committee on the Judiciary), indicates that "[a]fter the expiration of a reasonable period of time, the patentee would bear a heavy burden of proof that the delay was unavoidable." The six month period provided for petition under paragraph (b) is considered to be a reasonable period of time within which to seek reinstatement of a patent which expired for failure to pay the maintenance fee. Any petition filed more than six months after expiration must meet the more stringent requirements of paragraph (c). Under paragraph (c), the petition must include the same elements as in paragraph (b) and, in addition, must demonstrate that the failure to pay the maintenance fee was unavoidable due to circumstances outside of the control of the patentee and those acting on behalf of the patentee in paying the maintenance fee. The showing in a petition under paragraph (c) must be sufficient in scope and content to meet the heavy burden of proof required to show that a delay in payment of the maintenance fee of more than six months after expiration of the patent was unavoidable. In contrast to a petition under paragraph (b), a showing in a petition under paragraph (c) of an error in a docketing system will not be sufficient to find that the delay was unavoidable. Instead, a petition filed under paragraph (c) must demonstrate that the circumstances resulting in the delay were entirely outside the control of the patentee and those acting on behalf of the patentee in paying the maintenance fee, e.g., serious efforts without success to raise the funds required to pay the maintenance fee.

Paragraph (d) of new §1.378 requires that a petition filed under §1.378 be signed by an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, or by the patentee, the assignee, or other party in interest. A person or organization whose only responsibility insofar as the patent is concerned is the payment of a maintenance fee is not a party in interest for purposes of paragraph (d) of §1.378. Under paragraph (d), the petition must be in the form of a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. If the petition is signed by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, the petition must include the authority of the person signing the petition as patentee, assignee, or other party in interest.

Paragraph (e) of new §1.378 provides a mechanism for obtaining reconsideration of a decision refusing to accept a maintenance fee upon petition filed pursuant to paragraph (a). This mechanism is a petition for reconsideration which may be filed within two months of, or such other time as set in the decision refusing to accept the delayed payment of the maintenance fee. In contrast to petitions filed under paragraph (a), the petition for reconsideration filed under paragraph (e) of new §1.378 will require the separate petition fee set forth in the amendment to §1.17(h). Paragraph (e) also provides that after the decision on the petition for reconsideration, no further reconsideration or review of the matter will be undertaken by the Commissioner. Paragraph (e) also provides for refund of the maintenance fee and the surcharge set forth in §1.20(m) if the delayed payment of the maintenance fee is not accepted. The refund will be made following the decision on the petition for reconsideration, or after the expiration of the time for filing such a petition for reconsideration, if none is filed. Paragraph (e) specifies that the fee for filing the petition for reconsideration will not be refunded unless the refusal to accept and record the maintenance fee is determined to result from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

Response to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the proposed rule changes. Eight letters submitting written comments were received. Oral testimony was presented by two persons (one person testified on behalf of the American Intellectual Property Law Association) at the public hearing conducted on June 26, 1984. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. The comments submitted appear below along with responses thereto.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of the patent should be reduced from $500.00 to $50.00 and that this amount should be reduced by 50 percent for small entities.

Reply:

The suggestion has not been adopted. The surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) is considered to be appropriate in view of the importance of the relief being obtained. Before a surcharge under 37 CFR 1.20(m) is due the patent will have already expired due to the failure to pay a maintenance fee within a one-year period provided for the payment. Setting a lower amount as the surcharge would tend to denigrate the importance of the relief obtained by the acceptance of a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent. Further, a lower surcharge amount is not justified in view of the ample opportunity for payment of the maintenance fee which is presented by the one-year period in which payment can be made and the fact that the public is now on notice that maintenance fees are due and payable. Further, the Patent and Trademark Office will provide courtesy notices regarding the need to pay maintenance fees at a plurality of points in time before the patent expires. Such a notice now appears on the patent grant and presently plans are to print such a courtesy notice on the Notice of Allowance and the Issue Fee Receipt. Notices will be printed in the Official Gazette listing the patent number ranges of patents on which maintenance fees can be paid and a notice will be mailed to the patentee during the grace period if the maintenance fee is not paid. Therefore, relatively few patentees should fail to pay the maintenance fee before expiration of the patent due to unavoidable circumstances. The surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) is established pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 41(c) and therefore the small entity provisions of Public Law 97-247 do not apply to this fee. Also, Public Law 97-247 provides that the surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) could be in addition to any surcharge established for payment of the maintenance fee during the grace period as set at 37 CFR 1.20(1). The Patent and Trademark Office has established a separate surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) not in addition to the surcharge set at 37 CFR 1.20(1), but in lieu thereof. The amount set at 37 CFR 1.20(m) is not seen to be excessive.

Comment:

Two comments suggested that the small entity reduced fee provisions of Public Law 97-247 should have been applied to maintenance fees required under Public Law 96-517.

Reply:

The maintenance fee amounts under Public Law 96-517 set at 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g) were previously set and are not part of the present rulemaking. It should be noted, however, that Public Law 96-517 did not provide for reduction of fees for small entities. Reductions of fees for small entities were established in Public Law 97-247 only for fees under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b) thereof. The maintenance fee levels in 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g), however, were established under 35 U.S.C. 41(c) of Public Law 96-517 rather than 35 U.S.C. 41(a) or (b) of Public Law 97-247. Therefore, the fee amounts previously set at 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g) are not seen to be subject to reduction for small entities.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the Office permit any of the maintenance fees to be paid in advance, either at the time of paying the issue fee or during any of the window periods. Another comment suggested that the Office should accept a fee payment earlier than the window period if the fee has no possibility of being changed due to changes in the Consumer Price Index.

Reply:

These suggestions have not been adopted. The second comment listed above points out the problem with regard to the suggestion in the first comment. Public Law 97-247 provided for adjustments of the maintenance fees every third year to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor. Allowing maintenance fees to be paid in advance would preclude such adjustments to these maintenance fees unless very burdensome administrative steps were implemented to require adjustments in the fee amount previously paid when the maintenance fees are adjusted at a later time. Requiring maintenance fees to be paid in a consistently time-ordered basis as in §1.362 will also be helpful administratively and for budgeting purposes. As to the second comment above, it is not seen that there would be substantial benefit to the public since the period would be short during which a maintenance fee could not change due to changes in the Consumer Price Index. Thus, the patentee would only be able to make the maintenance fee payment a short time before the period during which payment may be made pursuant to §1.362.

Comment:

Two comments suggested that a maintenance fee payment made during the window period should not require adjustment if the maintenance fees are thereafter increased toreflect increases in the Consumer Price Index.

Reply:

These comments have been adopted by an appropriate change in paragraph (b) of §1.366. Maintenance fees which are paid during the window period in the amount required on the date of payment will be accepted as proper and full payment. If the maintenance fees change after such a proper payment, no adjustment in the amount will be required or permitted. Thus, if the maintenance fee increases before the close of the window period, the patentee will not be required to make up any deficiency between the amount properly paid during the window period and the new increased fee. Likewise, if the maintenance fee decreases before the close of the window period, no refund will be permitted of part of the maintenance fee properly paid in the amount due when the payment was made. Payments must be made in the amount proper on the date of payment. For example, if payment is made during the grace period, the payment must be made in the amount then required irrespective of the amount of the maintenance fee which would have been due if payment had been made during the window period.

Comment:

Three comments were directed to the proposed requirements in §1.366(c) for data identifying the patent upon which maintenance fee payments are being made. One comment indicated that many computer annuity systems now existing have a data base designed to accept only two identifying numbers. This comment and one other comment suggested that the patent number and issue date be required to be submitted with the maintenance fee to identify the patent number. Another comment suggested that the required identifying data be the patent number, issue date, name of the inventor and title of the invention.

Reply:

The suggested changes to the proposed rule have been adopted in part. The requirement for identifying data to uniquely identify the patent for which maintenance fees are being paid is an important one. The Patent and Trademark Office and the public must be able to determine with certainty which patents are in force and which patents have expired because the maintenance fees were not paid. The comments seem to recognize that at least two identifiers are necessary so that a cross-check can be made to avoid errors. The suggested use of the issue date with the patent number would not provide a reliable cross-check. In excess of one thousand patents usually issue on each issue date. Therefore a mistake in the last four digits in the patent number supplied with the maintenance fee payment would often not be detected by use of the issue date as a cross-check. The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that the two best identifying data units for use as a cross-check are the patent number and the application serial number. These identifiers are unique since each is specific to one patent or application and are thus required to be provided with a maintenance fee payment by the final rule. The application serial number and the patent number are both listed on the issued patent and in the Official Gazette and therefore should be readily available to patentees.

Comment:

One comment suggested that no petition fee should be charged for filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.377 seeking review of a decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of a patent. The comment further suggested that, if a fee is charged, the filing of a petition thereunder should be presumed to be a request for a return of the petition fee if it is determined that the refusal to accept and record a maintenance fee payment was due to Patent and Trademark Office error.

Reply:

The suggestion that no petition fee be charged has not been adopted. The petition fee, although required in advance, will be retained by the Patent and Trademark Office only in those instances where the refusal to accept and record the fee resulted from an error on the part of someone other than the Patent and Trademark Office. In those instances where the refusal to accept and record the fee resulted from a Patent and Trademark Office error the Office intends to refund the petition fee, either based upon the request included in the petition or upon the initiative of the Office. The reason for including a request for a refund, where appropriate, in the petition is to ensure that such request is not inadvertently overlooked. In view of the expense involved, it would be inappropriate to process a petition without a petition fee where the error necessitating the petition was made by the petitioner or someone acting on behalf of the patentee.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the term "unavoidable" should be more specifically defined in 37 CFR 1.378(b)(3) and (c)(3), if possible.

Reply:

As stated in this rulemaking, the requirement that the delay in payment of the maintenance fee be "unavoidable" is the same as that for reviving an abandoned application under 35 U.S.C. 133. This standard has been in effect for many years and should be well understood by the public. The rule is seen to be adequate as written, especially in view of the discussion in this rulemaking which includes several specific examples based on when the petition to accept the delayed payment of a maintenance fee is filed.

Comment:

One comment suggested that Public Law 97-247 should be "liberally interpreted" to permit acceptance of delayed payments of maintenance fees required under Public Law 96-517. Proposed 37 CFR 1.378 was limited to patents issuing on applications filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, the effective date of Public Law 97-247.

Reply:

The final rule has not been changed from the proposal. The remedy suggested by the comment cannot be provided in view of the language of 35 U.S.C. 41(c)(1) which applies only to maintenance fees required by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) of Public Law 97-247. Section 17(a) of Public Law 97-247 clearly states "the maintenance fees provided for in section 3(b) of this Act shall not apply to patents applied for prior to the date of enactment of this Act."

Comment:

Several of the comments received were directed to proposed statutory changes which were said to be desirable in the area of maintenance fees.

Reply:

These comments were not suggesting that the proposed rules were not in compliance with the present statutes, but rather that the statutes themselves should be changed. These comments are beyond the scope and purpose of this rule change.

Implementation of Maintenance Fee Payment Procedures

The Patent and Trademark Office is presently developing its internal working procedures for processing maintenance fee payments and for notifying the public as to the status of maintenance fee payments on particular patents. The first maintenance fees become due early in 1985. In order to be as helpful as possible in informing the public as to the Patent and Trademark Office's current plans it is useful to outline the basic procedures the Patent and Trademark Office intends to adopt to process maintenance fees so that the interrelationship with the rules is understood. These basic procedures are subject to change as experience and circumstances dictate.

Notices by the Patent and Trademark Office

Under the statutes, the Patent and Trademark Office has no duty to notify patentees when their maintenance fees are due. It is the responsibility of the patentee to assure that the maintenance fees are paid to prevent expiration of the patent. The Patent and Trademark Office will, however, provide some notices as reminders that maintenance fees are due, but the notices, errors in the notices, or the lack of notices, will in no way relieve a pateatee from the responsibility to make timely payment of each maintenance fee to prevent the patent from expiring by operation of law. The notices provided by the Patent and Trademark Office will be merely courtesy in nature and intended to aid patentees. These notices, errors in these notices, or the lack of notices, will in no way shift the burden of monitoring the time for paying maintenance fees on patents from the patentee to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Preprinted Standard Notice Wording

The patent grant currently includes a reminder that maintenance fees may be due. The Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Receipt are presently planned to be revised to contain reminder notice wording that maintenance fees may be due.

Official Gazette Notice

A notice will appear in each issue of the Official Gazette which will indicate which patents have been granted 3, 7 and 11 years earlier, that the window period has opened and that maintenance fee payments will now be accepted for these patents.

Another Official Gazette notice published after expiration of the grace period will indicate any patent which has expired due to non-payment of maintenance fees and any patents which have been revived under 35 U.S.C. 41(c). An annual compilation of such expirations and revivals will also be published.

Courtesy Reminder Notice

Since patentees are expected to maintain their own record systems and since most patentees are expected to pay their maintenance fees during the "window period" to prevent payment of a surcharge, the Office will not send any reminder notices to patentees at the fee address until after the grace period has begun. This will reduce and simplify the mailing of notices but still give patentees an opportunity to pay their maintenance fees with surcharge during the grace period before expiration of their patents. Such notices will be mailed to the fee address as set forth in §1.363.

Action Notices

The Office will issue a receipt for payment of maintenance fees after entry of the maintenance fee payment. Such a receipt will provide an opportunity for the patentee to check if the Office has properly credited the payment. The original document submitted by the patentee when paying the maintenance fee will also be appropriately marked and returned to the fee address. If actual experience indicates that they are not needed, the receipt notices and/or the return of the original document may be discontinued.

The patentee will also be notified by mail at the fee address as set forth in §1.363 of any expiration or revival of the patent.

Fee Address

The patentee may provide the Patent and Trademark Office with a fee address under §1.363, which address may be different from the correspondence address under §1.33, when submitting the issue fee or in a separate later-filed paper. The fee address will be used by the Office for all correspondence directed to the patentee concerning maintenance fees. If no separate fee address is provided by the patentee under §1.363, the correspondence address under §1.33 will also be used for maintenance fee purposes.

Payment of Maintenance Fees

Transmittals of maintenance fees may be limited to a single patent or may involve several patents. If a transmittal involves several patents they should be listed in increasing numerical order. The following format is suggested for use when paying maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges. Although only the mandatory identification elements consisting of the patent number and United States application serial number, set forth in §1.366(c) are required, the items referred to in §1.366(d) should also be included to expedite processing of maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges. In addition, the indication of the fee code used by the Patent and Trademark Office would assist in proper financial crediting within the Office. It is also suggested that the telephone number of the person submitting the payment be supplied.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). Public Law 97-247 has taken into consideration the impact it may have on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no siginificant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The maintenance fee payment information collection requirement contained in the final rules has been submitted to OMB for review under Section 3504(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act. Comments relating to this requirement should be directed to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of OMB, Attention: Desk Officer for Commerce, Patent and Trademark Office.

Maintenance Fees

§1.362 Time for payment of maintenance fees.

(a) Maintenance fees as set forth in §1.20(e)-(j) are required to be paid in all patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, except as noted in paragraph (b) of this section, to maintain a patent in force beyond 4, 8 and 12 years after the date of grant.

(b) Maintenance fees are not required for plant patents based on applications filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982 or for any design patents. Maintenance fees are not required for a reissue patent if the patent being reissued did not require maintenance fees.

(c) The application filing dates for purposes of payment of maintenance fees are as follows:

(1) For an application not claiming benefit of an earlier application, the actual United States filing date of the application.

(2) For an application claiming benefit of an earlier foreign application under 35 U.S.C. 119, the United States filing date of the application.

(3) For a continuing (continuation, division, continuation-in-part) application claiming the benefit of a prior patent application under 35 U.S.C. 120, the actual United States filing date of the continuing application.

(4) For a reissue application, the United States filing date of the original non-reissue application on which the patent reissued is based.

(5) For an international application which has entered the United States as a Designated Office under 35 U.S.C. 371, the international filing date granted under Article 11(1) of the Patent Cooperation Treaty which is considered to be the United States filing date under 35 U.S.C. 363.

(d) Maintenance fees may be paid in patents without surcharge during the periods extending respectively from:

(1) 3 years through 3 years and 6 months after grant for the first maintenance fee,

(2) 7 years through 7 years and 6 months after grant for the second maintenance fee, and

(3) 11 years through 11 years and 6 months after grant for the third maintenance fee.

(e) Maintenance fees may be paid with the surcharge set forth in §1.20(k) or (l) during the respective grace periods after:

(1) 3 years and 6 months and through the day of the 4th anniversary of the grant for the first maintenance fee,

(2) 7 years and 6 months and through the day of the 8th anniversary of the grant for the second maintenance fee, and

(3) 11 years and 6 months and through the day of the 12th anniversary of the grant for the third maintenance fee.

(f) If the last day for paying a maintenance fee without surcharge set forth in paragraph (d) of this section, or the last day for paying a maintenance fee with surcharge set forth in paragraph (e) of this section, falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge may be paid under paragraph (d) or paragraph (e) respectively on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday.

(g) Unless the maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge is paid within the time periods set forth in paragraphs (d), (e) or (f) of this section, the patent will expire as of the end of the grace period set forth in paragraph (e) of this section. A patent which expires for the failure to pay the maintenance fee will expire at the end of the same date (anniversary date) the patent was granted in the 4th, 8th, or 12th year after grant.

8. A new §1.363 is added to Subpart B to read as follows:

§1.363 Fee address for maintenance fee purposes.

(a) All notices, receipts, refunds, and other communications relating to payment or refund of maintenance fees will be directed to the correspondence address used during prosecution of the application as indicated in §1.33(a) unless:

(1) a "fee address" for purposes of payment of maintenance fees is set forth when submitting the issue fee, or

(2) a change in the correspondence address for all purposes is filed after payment of the issue fee, or

(3) a "fee address" or a change in the "fee address" is filed for purposes of receiving notices, receipts and other correspondence relating to the payment of maintenance fees after the payment of the issue fee, in which instance, the latest such address will be used.

(b) An assignment of a patent application or patent does not result in a change of the "correspondence address" or "fee address" for maintenance fee purposes.

9. A new §1.366 is added to Subpart B to read as follows:

§1.366 Submission of maintenance fees.

(a) The patentee may pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges, or any person or organization may pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges on behalf of a patentee. Authorization by the patentee need not be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office to pay maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges on behalf of the patentee.

(b) A maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge submitted for a patent must be submitted in the amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid and may be paid in the manner set forth in §1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account established pursuant to §1.25. Payment of a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge or the authorization to charge a deposit account must be submitted within the periods set forth in §1.362(d), (e) or (f). Any payment or authorization of maintenance fees and surcharges filed at any other time will not be accepted and will not serve as a payment of the maintenance fee except insofar as a delayed payment of the maintenance fee is accepted by the Commissioner in an expired patent pursuant to a petition filed under §1.378. Any authorization to charge a deposit account must authorize the immediate charging of the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge to the deposit account. Payment of less than the required amount, payment in a manner other than that set forth in §1.23, or the filing of an authorization to charge a deposit account having insufficient funds will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee or surcharge on a patent. The certificate of mailing procedures of either §1.8 or §1.10 may be utilized in paying maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges.

(c) In submitting maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges, identification of the patents for which maintenance fees are being paid must include the following:

(1) the patent number, and

(2) the serial number of the United States application for the patent on which the maintenance fee is being paid.

(d) Payments of maintenance fees and any surcharges should identify the fee being paid for each patent as to whether it is the 3½, 7½ or 11½ year fee, whether small entity status is being changed or claimed, the amount of the maintenance fee and any surcharge being paid, any assigned payor number, the patent issue date and the United States application filing date. If the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge is being paid on a reissue patent, the payment must identify the reissue patent by reissue patent number and reissue application serial number as required by paragraph (c) of this section and should also include the original patent number, the original patent issue date and the original United States application filing date.

(e) Maintenance fee payments and surcharge payments relating thereto must be submitted separate from any other payments for fees or charges, whether submitted in the manner set forth in §1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account. If maintenance fee and surcharge payments for more than one patent are submitted together, they should be submitted on as few sheets as possible with the patent numbers listed in increasing patent number order. If the payment submitted is insufficient to cover the maintenance fees and surcharges for all the listed patents, the payment will be applied in the order the patents are listed, beginning at the top of the listing.

(f) Notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed in a patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, the earliest maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small entity is no longer appropriate. See §1.28(b).

(g) Maintenance fees and surcharges relating thereto will not be refunded except in accordance with §§1.26 and 1.28(a).

10. A new §1.377 is added to Subpart B to read as follows:

§1.377 Review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent.

(a) Any patentee who is dissatisfied with the refusal of the Patent and Trademark Office to accept and record a maintenance fee which was filed prior to the expiration of the patent may petition the Commissioner to accept and record the maintenance fee.

(b) Any petition under this section must be filed within 2 months of the action complained of, or within such other time as may be set in the action complained of, and must be accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h). The petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if the refusal to accept and record the maintenance fee is determined to result from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(c) Any petition filed under this section must comply with the requirements of paragraph (b) of §1.181 and must be signed by an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, or by the patentee, the assignee, or other party in interest. Such petition must be in the form of a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

11. A new §1.378 is added to Subpart B to read as follows:

§1.378 Acceptance of delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent to reinstate patent based on application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982.

(a) The Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee due on a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, after expiration of the patent if, upon petition, the delay in payment of the maintenance fee is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable and if the surcharge required by §1.20(m) is paid as a condition of accepting payment of the maintenance fee. If the Commissioner accepts payment of the maintenance fee upon petition, the patent shall be considered as not having expired, but will be subject to the conditions set forth in 35 U.S.C. 41(c) (2).

(b) Any petition to accept the delayed payment of a maintenance fee filed under paragraph (a) of this section within six months of the expiration of the patent must include:

(1) the required maintenance fee set forth in §1.20(h)-(j);

(2) the surcharge set forth in §1.20(m); and

(3) a showing that the delay was unavoidable since reasonable care was taken to ensure that the maintenance fee would be paid timely. The showing must enumerate the steps taken to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fee.

(c) Any petition to accept the delayed payment of a maintenance fee filed under paragraph (a) of this section more than six months after the expiration of the patent must include:

(1) the required maintenance fee set forth in §1.20(h)-(j);

(2) the surcharge set forth in §1.20(m); and

(3) a showing that the delay was unavoidable since reasonable care was taken to ensure that the maintenance fee would be paid timely and the failure to timely pay the maintenance fee was due entirely to circumstances outside of the control of the patentee. The showing must enumerate the steps taken to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fee and the circumstances which were outside of the control of the patentee and those acting on behalf of the patentee in paying the maintenance fee. The showing must be sufficient in scope and content to meet the heavy burden of proof required to show that a delay in payment of the maintenance fee of more than six months after expiration of the patent was unavoidable.

(d) Any petition under this section must be signed by an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, or by the patentee, the assignee, or other party in interest. Such petition must be in the form of a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

(e) Reconsideration of a decision refusing to accept a maintenance fee upon petition filed pursuant to paragraph

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

(a) of this section may be obtained by filing a petition for reconsideration within two months of, or such other time as set in, the decision refusing to accept the delayed payment of the maintenance fee. Any such petition for reconsideration must be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in §1.17(h). After decision on the petition for reconsideration, no further reconsideration or review of the matter will be undertaken by the Commissioner. If the delayed payment of the maintenance fee is not accepted, the maintenance fee and the surcharge set forth in §1.20(m) will be refunded following the decision on the petition for reconsideration, or after the expiration of the time for filing such a petition for reconsideration, if none is filed. The fee set forth in §1.17(h) for filing the petition for reconsideration will not be refunded unless the refusal to accept and record the maintenance fee is determined to result from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(53) Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

The purpose of this notice is to remind the public of changes in patent and trademark fees, effective Oct. 1, 1982, pursuant to Public Law 97-247, enacted Aug. 27, 1982. A final rule on "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" was published on July 30, 1982, at 47 FR 33086-33112 with corrections in the printing thereof being published on Aug. 4, 1982, at 47 FR 33688 and on Aug. 5, 1982, at 47 FR 33959. The final rule was also published in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette on Aug. 10, 1982, at 1021 O.G. 19-94. In view of the enactment of Public Law 97-247, the "Alternative A—Rule Changes Under Only Public Law 96-517" relating to both patents and trademarks will not become effective. Instead, the "Rule Changes Common To Public Law 96-517 and H.R. 6260" and "Alternative B—Rule Changes Under H.R. 6260" will become effective for other patents and trademarks on Oct. 1, 1982. H.R. 6260 is now Public Law 97-247.

The Patent and Trademark Office has recieved a number of questions regarding the implementation of the changes in fees. The final rule published in the Federal Register on July 30, 1982, and in the Official Gazette on Aug. 10, 1982, contains implementing instructions which should be carefully read and followed. The final rule includes in the implementing instructions the following.

> "Any fee which is due and payable on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must be paid in the amont and in accordance with the procedures contained in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing under §1.8 will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office."

A "Certificate of Mailing under §1.8" is not "proper" for items which arespecifically excluded from the provisions of §1.8. Section 1.8 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, should be consulted for those items for which a Certificate of Mailing is not "proper." Such items include, inter alia, the filing of national and international applications for patent and the filing of trademark applications. Any application for patent or trademark filed, i.e., received in the Office, on or after Oct. 1, 1982, must include the fees which are effective on Oct. 1, 1982, since §1.8 does not apply to, and specifically excludes from its provisions, the filing of applications for patents and trademarks.

Sept. 14, 1982. GERALD J. MOSSINGHOFF, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

[1022 O.G. 59]

(54) Filing of Verified Statements Claiming Small Entity Status

In view of the fact that the rules implementing the definition of small business concern were not published in the Federal Register until Sept. 30, 1982, any verified statement claiming small entity status will be accepted as timely filed if (1) the first fee in a patent application has been paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, but before Feb. 27, 1983, in the amount established for a non-small entity and (2) such verified statement is filed within 3 months of the date of payment of the first fee in a patent application paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, but before Feb. 27, 1983. If such a verified statement is timely filed within three months of the date of payment of the first fee paid on or after Oct. 1, 1982, but before Feb. 27, 1983, the statement will be treated as though it were present on the date the fee was paid. The correct amount of the fee will be determined and any excess will be refunded upon request. Section 1.28(a) of 37 CFR is waived until Feb. 27, 1983 to the extent it is inconsistent with this practice.

Oct. 15, 1982. DONALD J. QUIGG, Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(55) Effect on Small Entity Status of License Pursuant to 35 USC 202(c) (4)

Public Law 96-517 added a new chapter 38 to Title 35 of the United States Code entitled "Patent Rights in Inventions Made With Federal Assistance." Under the provisions of the statute, each funding agreement between a Federal agency and an individual, small business firm or nonprofit organization must provide, inter alia, that ". . . the Federal agency shall have a nonexclusive, nontransferable, irrevocable, paid up license to practice or have practiced for or on behalf of the United States any subject invention . . ." See 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4).

Under provisions of 37 CFR 1.9 and 1.27, an independent inventor, small business concern or nonprofit organization cannot qualify for reduced patent fees if it has assigned, granted, conveyed or licensed or is under an obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license any rights in the invention to other than an individual who could be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, a small business concern or a nonprofit organization. The Federal agencies do not qualify as nonprofit organizations for paying reduced patent fees under the rules. Applying this construction to the licensing of an invention to a Federal agency by an independent inventor, small business concern or nonprofit organization pursuant to a funding agreement under 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4) would preclude their qualifying for paying reduced fees. This, however, would frustrate the intent of Public Law 97-247 and Public Law 96-517 when taken together.

This notice will serve as clarification that an independent inventor, small business concern or nonprofit organization, which is otherwise qualified as a small entity for purposes of paying reduced patent fees under 37 CFR 1.9 and 1.27, is not disqualified therefrom because of a license to a Federal agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4). A license to a Federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4) does not constitute a license for purposes of 37 CFR 1.9 or a transfer of rights for purposes of 37 CFR 1.27. Any other license or rights to a Federal agency will, of course, preclude qualification as a small entity for purposes of paying reduced fees.

Applicants who have previously paid fees which were not reduced for small entity status because of a license to a Federal agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c) (4) may claim a refund by filing the proper verified statement as required by 37 CFR 1.27 and by making reference to this notice.

Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 1
[Docket No. 50725-5025]

Revision of Patent Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part 1 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations to adjust fee amounts. This action is necessary at this time because operating costs have increased over the past three years and the Commissioner is authorized by §41(f) of title 35, United States Code, to adjust fees established in §41 (a) and § 41(b) of title 35, United States Code, on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index. Fees for other processing, services or materials related to patents as provided by § 41(d) and §376 of title 35, United States Code, are being adjusted to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services or materials.
Effective Date: Oct. 5, 1985.
For Further Information Contact: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to adjust patent fees because costs have increased and the Commissioner is authorized to (1) adjust statutory patent fees set forth in §41(a) and §41(b) of title 35, United States Code, to reflect fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), as authorized by §41(f) of title 35, United States Code, (2) adjust fees for processing, services, or materials related to patents which have been established by the Commissioner in accordance with § 41(d) of title 35, United States Code, to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services or materials, and (3) adjust fees for filing and processing an application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty which have been established by the Commissioner to recover the estimated average cost of such processing in accordance with Section 376 of title 35, United States Code.

Adjustments to fees for filing and processing a trademark application and for other processing, services or materials related to trademarks were not proposed at this time, pending review of trademark automation cost requirements.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on June 21, 1985, at 50 FR 25896-25902. Corrections of typographical errors were published on July 1, 1985, at 50 FR 27030, and on July 15, 1985, at 50 FR 28596. The notice also was published in the Official Gazette on July 2, 1985, at Vol. 1056, pages 6 through 25. An oral hearing was held on July 18, 1985. Fifteen written letters and statements were submitted. One person testified at the oral hearing. Full consideration has been given to all of these letters, statements, and testimony.

Background Information: Patent and Trademark Office fees are authorized by sections 41 and 376 of title 35, United States Code. Section 41(a) of title 35, United States Code, establishes a number of statutory fees. Among the more significant of these are fees for filing a patent application and issuing a patent. Certain other fees, such as appeal fees, the fee for filing a disclaimer, fees for filing petitions seeking to revive an abandoned application and for extensions of time also are set in § 41(a) of title 35, United States Code. Section 41(b) of title 35, United States Code, sets forth the statutory fees for maintaining a patent in force if the application was filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982.

The provisions of Public Law 96-517 also authorize maintenance fees for applications other than design and plant patent applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982. These maintenance fees are to recover 25 percent of the estimated cost to the Office of processing patent applications.

Section 1 of Public Law 97-247 authorized the reduction by 50 percent in the fees paid under §41(a) and §41(b) of title 35, United States Code, by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations, who meet the definitions established. This authorization will expire on Sept. 30, 1985. Legislation has been introduced to authorize this reduction for an additional three years. If such authority is not continued, the small entity reduction will be rescinded and appropriate amendments to the regulations will be made.

Section 41(f) of title 35, United States Code, provides that fees established in §41(b) of title 35, United States Code, "may be adjusted by the Commissioner on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor." Section 41(f) also provides that changes of less than one percent may be ignored.

Policy for applying the Consumer Price Index: The Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index (CPI) is made public approximately twenty-one days after the end of the month being calculated. The time lag between the initiation and the completion of the rulemaking process dictated that the Mar. through Sept. 1985 inflation rate be projected in the original rulemaking proposal. This estimate resulted in a cumulative three-year CPI of 11.7 percent applied to patent fees.

Based upon actual data through June 1985 and projecting the CPI to Sept. 30, 1985, the Administration's revised projected cumulative CPI for the three-year (1982-1985) period is 11.8 percent. The Patent and Trademark Office has used the 11.8 percent projection in adjusting the fees established in §41(a) and §41(b) of title 35, United States Code. The revised CPI projection has not caused a change from the proposal in any of the §41(a) and §41(b) fees.

After application of the 11.8 percent projected fluctuation in the CPI to fees set forth in §41(a) and §41(b), amounts for all non-small entity fees were rounded by applying standard arithmetical rules so that the amounts rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. Fees of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Fees below $100 were rounded to the nearest even number so that all comparable small entity fees would be in whole numbers. Section 41(d) of title 35, United States Code, provides that the "Commissioner will establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents" which are not covered in §41(a) and §41(b) of title 35, United States Code, "to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services or materials."

Section 376 of title 35, United States Code, authorizes the Commissioner to set fees for patent applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The fees under the Patent Cooperation Treaty are keyed to full cost recovery of the processing costs under the Treaty.

The general guidelines used by the Patent and Trademark Office in determining the non-statutory fees are set forth in OMB Circular A-25. Costs were determined from the best available records and included direct and indirect costs to the Office of carrying out the activity.

Since these non-statutory fees are expected to remain in place for the three year fee cycle 1986-1988, the calculated costs were then adjusted by a mid-cycle inflation rate of 6.21 percent derived from the Administration's inflation projection. After application of the projected mid-cycle inflation rate, amounts were rounded by applying standard arithmetical rules so that the amounts rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. Fees of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Fees between $2 and $99 were rounded to the nearest whole number. Fees under $2 were rounded for convenience.

The fees established under §41(d) and §376 of title 35, United States Code have been modified from the proposal. For the first fee cycle (1983–1985), fees established under §41(d) and §376 were set in the aggregate to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing, services and materials as defined in PTO budget documents. Because of the significant increase in fees that was instituted on Oct. 1, 1982, as well as the establishment of new fees, the PTO did not have the necessary experience to accurately predict (nor could it control) fee volumes for the first fee cycle. First cycle fees were thus set at levels sufficient to maintain financial solvency despite possible fluctuations in costs or in workload. Fee amounts in most cases also were set at convenient integers (e.g., $5 or $10). For the second fee cycle (1986–1988), the PTO had proposed to set fees established under §41(d) and §376 using the same methodology. Several comments to the proposed rules suggested that the PTO should establish §41(d) and §376 fees to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the processing, service or material. The fees have been modified to reflect the following: (1) PTO experience over the past two and one-half years in predicting fee volumes, (2) virtual elimination of the reserve income for fluctuations in cost or workload, and (3) greater reliance upon and use of the individual fee costs developed by the PTO's Office of Finance.

It is intended that the amount of any fee due and payable on or after Oct. 5, 1985 is the amount set in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing, where authorized under § 1.8 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office. A "Certificate of Mailing under §1.8" is not "proper" for items which are specifically excluded from the provisions of §1.8. Section 1.8 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, should be consulted for those items for which a Certificate of Mailing is not "proper". Such items include, inter alia, the filing of national and international applications for patents and the filing of trademark applications. The provisions of §1.10 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations relating to filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate, however, do apply to any paper or fee (including patent and trademark applications) to be filed in the Office. If an application or fee is filed by "Express Mail" with a certificate of mailing dated on or after Oct. 5, 1985, the amount of the fee to be paid is the fee established herein if a change is being made in the fee.

It is further intended that the amount due and payable for services provided in Fiscal Year 1986 will be the amount set in this rulemaking even if the fee becomes due prior to Oct. 5, 1985. Such fees include, but are not limited to, the annual service charge for subscription services (§1.19(c)(1)) and the annual rental for a delivery box (§1.21(d)).

In order to ensure clarity in the implementation of the fee proposals, a discussion of specific sections is set forth below:

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC RULES

Section 1.16 National application filing fees

Section 1.16 is amended to adjust patent application filing fees established in §41(a) of title 35, United States Code and set forth in paragraphs (a)-(d) and (f)-(j) of this section to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.16, paragraph (e) is amended to adjust the patent application surcharge fee authorized by §111 of title 35, United States Code. Paragraph (e) has been modified from the proposal to limit the adjustment to the surcharge fee to changes which occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.17 Patent application processing fees

Section 1.17 is amended to adjust patent application processing fees established in §41(a) of title 35, United States Code, and set forth in paragraphs (a)-(g), (l) and (m) of this section to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index. The wording of paragraph (l) has been broadened to include reference to applicaitons abandoned under §371(d) of title 35, United States Code.

Section 1.17, paragraphs (h)-(k) are amended to adjust the patent application processing fees authorized by §41(d) of title 35, United States Code, to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Paragraphs (h)-(k) have been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing petitions to the Commissioner, public use proceedings, and non-English language specifications.

Section 1.18 Patent issue fees

Section 1.18 is amended to adjust patent issue fees established in §41(a) of title 35, United States Code and set forth in paragraphs (a)-(c) of this section to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.19 Document supply fees

Section 1.19 is amended to adjust the fees authorized by §41(d) of title 35, United States Code for services and materials as set forth in paragraphs (a)-(c), (e) and (f) of this section to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the specified services and materials. Paragraphs (a)-(c) have been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of supplying the documents specified in these paragraphs. Section 1.19 has been modified further to reduce the fees specified in paragraphs (e) and (f), which were not proposed for adjustment to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of supplying the documents.

Section 1.19, paragraph (a) is amended further to clarify the services and documents provided. It would provide for copies of specific documents at a flat fee. Copies of general Office records would be provided at a per page fee. Paragraph (a)(4) has been modified from the proposal to provide copies of a patent file wrapper and its contents at $75 for each 200 pages or a fraction thereof.

Section 1.19, paragraph (b) is amended further to delete subparagraph (3). A flat fee for comparing and certifying copies of documents made from Office records is provided in new paragraph (i) of this section.

Section 1.19, paragraph (c) is amended further to provide for ten subclasses with the annual service charge.

Section 1.19 is amended to provide in new paragraph (h) a $10 per document flat fee for an uncertified copy of a non-United States patent document. This fee would apply to copies of foreign patent applications such as those which are published at 18 months or when allowable for opposition.

Section 1.19 is amended to provide in new paragraph (i) a flat fee for comparison and certification of each copy of a document made from Office records but not prepared by the Office.

Section 1.19 is amended to provide in new paragraph (j) a fee for duplicate filing receipts and corrected filing receipts due to applicant error.

Paragraphs (i) and (j) have been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of supplying the documents specified.

Section 1.20 Post-issuance fees

Section 1.20, paragraphs (a)-(c) are amended to adjust patent post-issuance fees authorized by §41(d) of title 35, United States Code, to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Section 1.20 has been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the post-issuance fees set forth in paragraphs (b)-(c). Section 1.20 has been modified further to reduce the fee set forth in paragraph (a), which was not proposed for adjustment, to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of providing a certificate of correction.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (d) and (h)-(j), are amended to adjust patent post-issuance fees established in §41(a) and §41(b) of title 35, United States Code, to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (e)-(g), are amended to adjust post-issuance fees authorized by Section 2 of Public Law 96–517, as modified by Section 404 of Public Law 98–622. These fees must be set at a level to eventually recover 25 percent of the estimated cost to the Office of processing patent applications. In order to achieve this level of recovery, these maintenance fees are adjusted to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.20, paragraph (k), is amended to adjust the patent maintenance surcharge fee authorized by Section 2 of Public Law 96–517. Paragraph (k) has been modified from the proposal to limit the adjustment to the surcharge fee to changes which occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.20, paragraph (l), is amended to adjust the post-issuance fee authorized by §41(b) of title 35, United States Code. Paragraph (l) has been modified from the proposal to limit the adjustment to the surcharge fee to changes which occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges

Section 1.21 is amended to adjust the miscellaneous fees and charges authorized by §41(d) of title 35, United States Code and set forth in paragraphs (a)-(f), (h) and (i) of this section to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Section 1.21 has been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the miscellaneous services for which fees were set forth in paragraphs (a)(2)-(a)(6), (b)(1), (d)-(f), (h)(1) and (i). Section 1.21 has been modified further to reduce the fees specified in paragraphs (c) and (h)(2), which were not proposed for adjustment, to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of those services.

Section 1.21, paragraph (g), is modified from the proposal to change the term "copy machine tokens" to "CopiShare card."

Section 1.21, paragraph (k), is amended to change the word "section" to "part" to clarify that any charge not provided for in these rules would be made at actual cost.

Section 1.21 is amended to provide in new paragraph (m) a $20 fee for processing checks returned "unpaid" by a bank.

Section 1.24 Coupons

Section 1.24 is amended to adjust the fee for the purchase of coupons for patents to make it comparable to the fee required for the purchase of U.S. patents.

Section 1.24 is amended to delete reference to forty cent coupons which are no longer sold by the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.25 Deposit accounts

Section 1.25 is amended to establish a restricted subscription deposit account to be used exclusively for subscription orders of patent copies as issued. A minimum deposit of $300 is required to establish and maintain, without payment of a monthly service fee, a restricted subscription deposit account.

Section 1.26 Refunds

Section 1.26 is amended to change paragraph (c) to provide for a refund of $1,300 if the Commissioner decides not to institute reexamination proceedings. The $1,300 refund would apply to those instances where the reexamination fee of $1,770 under §1.20(c) was paid. The current $1,200 refund will be made in those cases where the current $1,500 reexamination fee was paid.

Section 1.53 Serial number, filing date, and completion of application.

Section 1.53 is amended to change paragraph (c) to reduce to $15 the handling fee charged in the event a specification or drawing is not submitted within the time period set by the Office. Section 1.53 has been modified to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of handling an application with missing parts.

Section 1.297 Publication of statutory invention registration

Section 1.297, paragraph (b), is amended to modify the statement to be printed on each statutory invention registration. The language of the statement is modified so as to be more easily understood.

Section 1.445 International application filing and processing fees

Section 1.445, paragraphs (a)(1)-(a)(4), are amended to adjust the fees authorized by §376 of title 35, United States Code, for international application processing to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. The cost of the international search fee set forth in paragraph 1.445(a)(2)(i) has been reduced and the amount credited by the Office under paragraph 1.445(a)(2)(ii) is not changed. Paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(3) have been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing international applications. However, the amount of the credit under 1.445(a)(4) is somewhat less than at present and is the same as in the proposed rules.

Section 1.445(a)(5) is amended to adjust the surcharge authorized by §371(d) of title 35, United States Code.

Paragraph (a)(5) has been modified from the proposal to limit the adjustment to the surcharge fee to changes which occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index and to provide for a small and large entity amount to be consistent with §1.16(e).

Section 1.445(a)(6) is amended to adjust the processing fee for an English translation filed after 20 months from the priority date to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Paragraph (a)(6) has been modified from the proposal to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing an English translation and to be consistent with §1.17(k).

Section 1.446 Refund of international application filing and processing fees.

Section 1.446 is amended to delete paragraph (b). The substance of the deleted material is included in section 1.445, paragraph (a)(4).

Response to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the proposed rule changes. Fifteen letters submitting written comments and eight questions by telephone were received. Oral testimony was presented by one person at the public hearing conducted on July 18, 1985. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. The comments submitted appear below along with responses thereto.

Comment:

PTO fees are already too high and burdensome to the patent community.

Reply:

There has been no indication that PTO fees are burdensome to the patent community. In 1984, we expected to receive 107,000 patent applications and actually received 109,539. In 1985, we are currently receiving applications at an annual rate of approximately 116,000.

The PTO is adjusting patent processing and patent service fees because costs have increased. The Commissioner may adjust patent statutory fees by changes which have occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index (CPI). This authority is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(f). The intent of the Congress in indexing the statutory patent fees set in 1982 to the CPI was to assure that a precipitous drop in the level of recovery did not occur due to inflation. Indexing of statutory patent fees was not intended to raise additional revenues beyond the rate of inflation.

The Commissioner also is authorized to adjust non-statutory patent fees to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing, services and materials. This authority is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(d). As previously discussed, several of the proposed fees have been modified to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing, materials and services.

Comment:

PTO has failed to abide by the provisions of Public Law 96–517 and the accompanying report (House Report 96–1307). Specifically, the PTO has failed to abide by the 50 percent recovery limitation for patent processing fees and the restrictions on the use of fee income.

Reply:

Public Law 96–517, although enacted into law, was never fully implemented because the Congress passed H.R. 6260 which was enacted as Public Law 97–247 on Aug. 27, 1982. Public Law 97–247 provides for an eventual 100 percent cost recovery through processing and maintenance fees except for the subsidy for certain small entities, and contains no restrictions on the use of income from fee revenues.

This rulemaking adjusts, by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), the patent processing (41(a)) and patent maintenance (41(b)) fees established by Public Law 97–247. The CPI adjustment allows the programs supported by §41(a) and (b) fees to keep pace with inflation. Any growth in the aggregate rate of recovery of fees versus costs in this second cycle of fees is due primarily to the first time collection of maintenance fee receipts.

The restrictions on the use of income from fee revenues, which were included in House Report 96–1307 accompanying Public Law 96–517, were based upon a 50 percent recovery of patent costs from user fees. Then-Commissioner Mossinghoff testified before the Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and Administration of Justice, when Congress was considering H.R. 6260, that the Administration's PTO user fee program was proposed to improve the quality of service at the PTO by reducing patent pendency, trademark pendency and automating patent and trademark operations. The Commissioner went on to say that "The major increases in the three program areas will be paid for by the sharp increase in user fees that we are recommending." The Congressional debate on this proposal indicates that the Subcommittee approved these innovative fee provisions in order to improve the level of patent and trademark services provided to users of the Office.

Comment:

Fees should relate to the actual "costs of processing patent applications" and should not include "overhead" expenses.

Reply:

The fees applicable to patent filing, issuance and maintenance fees were established by the Congress and set forth in 35 U.S.C. §41(a) and (b). Regardless if Congress included "overhead" expenses when setting these statutory patent fees, these fees may be adjusted only to reflect the fluctuations in the CPI every three years. Fees for other processing, services or materials related to patents are set by the Commissioner pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 41(d) to recover the Office's estimated average cost. The legislative history of Public Law 97–247, including the accompanying House Report, does not provide guidance regarding how "estimated average cost" was to be determined. These fees were determined under the general guidelines of OMB Circular A-25, entitled "User Charges," which established general policies for developing an equitable and uniform system of charges for certain government services and property. Circular A-25 provides that a reasonable charge should be imposed to recover the full cost to the Government of rendering a service to an identifiable recipient, who receives a substantial benefit not accruing to the general public, e.g., receiving a patent. The concept of full cost recovery includes an appropriate overhead charge. Therefore, the inclusion of overhead expenses in calculating the costs of processing patent applications is appropriate.

Comment:

The PTO does not include a description of any cost containment measure.

Reply:

The PTO has taken all possible measures to contain costs. During fiscal year 1985, a zero-based analysis was conducted of all programs and their associated funding. The purpose of the review was to assure that adequate resources were available to meet the PTO's most important priorities while addressing unanticipated costs such as, the full absorption of the fiscal year 1985 pay raise, new pay scale for patent examiners, higher postal and telephone rates, greater use of PTO services, etc. The PTO's annual budget request is thoroughly reviewed by the Department of Commerce, by the Office of Management and Budget, and by the Congressional Appropriations Committees prior to enactment. The PTO is complying with the President's Deficit Reduction Program. The fiscal year 1986 budget request reflects reductions to travel, printing and consultants as required by the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984; administrative cost savings; and grade reductions and pay cuts. The PTO program to reduce patent pendency, once achieved in 1987, will require less resources than are currently expended. The Automation program, too, as it achieves its major milestones, will deliver cost benefits.

Comment:

The PTO has proposed to adjust fees because costs have increased but they did not include an explanation of how costs were calculated.

Reply:

Patent statutory fees, which are set forth in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b), can be adjusted on Oct. 1, 1985 and every three years thereafter to reflect fluctuations which have occurred in the Consumer Price Index (CPI). The costs of processing a patent application from receipt to issue or abandonment were calculated in 1982 at the time the present fees were set by statute. The most significant elements of processing a patent application are compensation costs, space and the costs incurred for printing the Official Gazette and patent grants.

As a result of these increases to the major costs incurred in the processing of a patent application, the PTO is adjusting the statutory 41(a) and (b) patent fees by the full CPI of 11.8 percent in order to recover the projected budgeted collections for patent processing for the years 1986–1988.

Non-statutory patent and patent service fees are being set to recover the estimated average cost to the Office over the next three years (1986–1988) of processing, services and materials. Costs for goods and services were determined under the general guidelines set forth in OMB Circular A-25 entitled "User Charges," which establishes general policies for developing an equitable and uniform system of charges for certain Government services and property. The cost of all processing, services and/or materials associated with each non-statutory ($41(d)) patent fee was determined. Since these fees are expected to remain in place for three years (1986–1988), each cost was adjusted by a mid-cycle inflation rate of 6.21 percent which was derived from the Administration's 1986–1988 inflation projection.

Comment:

The PTO has proposed to set §41(d) fees at a level which exceeds the estimated average cost to the Office. PTO's cost calculations do not support the proposed § 41(d) fees.

Reply:

Fees established pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 41(d) and 376, non-statutory patent and patent service fees, are being set to recover the estimated average cost to the Office over the next three years (1986–1988) of processing, services and materials. Costs for goods and services were determined under the general guidelines set forth in OMB Circular A-25 entitled "User Charges," which establishes general policies for developing an equitable and uniform system of charges for certain Government services and property.

The PTO employed cost-finding techniques for determining the costs of all processing, services and/or materials associated with each non-statutory patent fee. These costs were documented by the Director, Office of Finance and reviewed by each responsible Assistant Commissioner. Since the revised fees are expected to remain in place for the next three years (1986–1988), each cost was adjusted by the mid-cycle inflation rate of 6.21 percent. The fee was then set based upon this inflated cost.

For the first fee cycle (1983–1985), fees established under §41(d) and §376 were set in the aggregate to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing, services and materials as defined in PTO budget documents. Because of the significant increase in fees that was instituted on Oct. 1, 1982, as well as the establishment of new fees, the PTO did not have the necessary experience to accurately predict (nor could it control) fee volumes for the first fee cycle. First cycle fees were thus set at levels sufficient to maintain financial solvency despite possible fluctuations in costs or in workload. Fee amounts in most cases also were set at convenient integers (e.g., $5 or $10). For the second fee cycle (1986–1988), the PTO had proposed to set fees established under §41(d) and §376 using the same methodology. Several comments to the proposed rules suggested that the PTO should establish §41(d) and §376 fees to more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of the processing, service or material. The fees have been modified to reflect the following: (1) PTO experience over the past two and one-half years in predicting fee volumes, (2) virtual elimination of the reserve income for fluctuations in cost or in workload, and (3) greater reliance upon and use of the individual fee costs developed by PTO financial analysts.

In modifying the proposed fees, the PTO used the raw cost data derived for each fee, adjusted that amount by the projected mid-cycle inflation rate of 6.21 percent, and rounded the adjusted cost by applying standard arithmetical rules. Fees of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Fees between $99 and $2 were rounded to the nearest whole number. Fees under $2 were rounded for convenience.

Comment:

The increase in maintenance fees appears to be driven by non-cost considerations. Since they have just begun to be collected, there could be no actual cost histories on which to base the adjustments.

Comment:

The increase in claim fees seem to be proposed without any seemingly real increase in cost specifically attributable to these items.

Reply: Patent statutory fees such as claim and maintenance fees, which are set forth in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b), may be adjusted every three years to reflect changes which have occurred in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the prior three years. The costs of processing, issuing and maintaining patents were calculated in 1982 at the time the present fees were set by statute. Patent maintenance fees as set forth in both Public Laws 96–517 and 97–247 are one of several sources of income available to the PTO to cover the costs of processing, issuing and maintaining a patent. The most significant elements of processing, issuing and maintaining patents are personnel compensation, benefits, space and printing costs. Since 1982, these costs have risen in an amount equal to and in some cases, in an amount exceeding, the CPI increase for the individual year.

As a result of these cost increases, the PTO is adjusting §41(a) and §41(b) patent fees and the Public Law 96–517 maintenance fees by the full CPI of 11.8 percent.

Comment:

PTO's proposed adjustments to §41(a) and §41(b) fees are higher than the 11.7 percent fluctuation in the Consumer Price Index because of the rounding principles PTO has applied.

Reply:

The intent of the Congress in indexing the statutory patent fees, 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b), to the CPI was to assure that a precipitous drop in the level of recovery did not occur due to inflation with regard to the fees set in 1982. Indexing of statutory patent fees was not intended to be a method of raising additional revenues, nor has the PTO used it for that purpose, but rather for administrative ease. Rounding will ease the administration of these fees by permitting the PTO and users to deal in increments of ten when the adjusted fee is $100 or greater or in even amounts when the fee is below $99. This will ease implementation of the 50 percent reduction in fees for small businesses, non-profit organizations and individuals. Moreover, any surpluses which may result are for the short-term only. By applying routine techniques, there should be a balancing out of shortfalls and surpluses in the long-run.

Comment:

The fee for a deferred declaration under 34 U.S.C. 111 should be changed so that such a fee would only be required if the declaration were filed later than three months from the actual filing date.

Reply:

The suggestion for permitting the declaration to be filed up to three months after the actual filing date without a surcharge has not been adopted. It would place administrative burdens on the Office since it would encourage the late filing of oaths or declaration.

Comment:

There appears to be no justification for the significant increase to the surchage fees.

Reply:

In proposing adjustments to penalty surcharge fees, the PTO considered the costs incurred in providing special handling to certain cases, and proposed to set the fee at a level that would recover costs and preclude unnecessary resort to pertinent procedures but not so high as to be burdensome where resort to these procedures is necessary. In response to several comments received on the proposed surcharge fees, the proposal has been modified to limit the adjustments to surcharge fees set forth in §1.16(e), §1.20(k), §1.20(l) and §1.445 (a)(5) to changes which have occurred during the past three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Comment:

Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) fee increases far exceed the 11.7 percent average increase applied to national applications. This increase could seriously affect use of PCT system.

Reply:

The PCT fees set under 35 U.S.C. 376 are based on cost recovery and are not adjusted by the Consumer Price Index. The fees under §1.445 are set to reflect estimated average processing costs. A reduction was made in the amount of the international search fee if performed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. While the credit for a prior U.S. search is unchanged and other PCT fees are increased, the overall adjustment level of PCT fees is generally in line with the CPI.

Comment:
The small entity reduction should be adopted for the PCT surcharge.
Reply:
The final rule has been modified from the proposal to provide for small and large entity amounts in §1.445(a)(5). This is to correspond to a similar fee in §1.16(e).
Comment:
The proposed fees for a copy of a patent file wrapper and its contents (1.19(a)(4)) are unfair at the breakpoint. It would be more equitable to charge $75 for each 200 pages or fraction thereof.
Reply:
In proposing a fee of $75 for up to 200 pages and $350 for 201 pages or more for a copy of a patent file wrapper and its contents, the PTO was attempting to move to a flat fee for this service. Since there were objections to the breakpoint, the final rule has been modified from the proposal to reflect a fee of $75 for each 200 pages or fraction thereof.
Comment:
The proposed increase in §1.20(c) regarding requests for reexamination and the related decrease in §1.26(c) relating to refunds where reexamination is not ordered, appeared to be set from a revenue generating standpoint rather than being cost-driven.
Reply:
While the comment does not suggest what the fees should be, it is noted that the two fees have to be considered together. The notice of proposed rulemaking set a fee of $1,800 for filing a request for reexamination, which was an increase from the previous fee of $1,500. This fee has been modified from the proposal and is now set at $1770. The refund where reexamination is denied was proposed to be raised from $1,200 to $1,300, which raises the refund from the amount previously refunded. The amount refunded has not changed from the proposal. The relative amounts of the initial fee and the refund are set to obtain the necessary recovery of costs from reexamination.
Comment:
A separate schedule of fees should be instituted for interference proceedings, but such fees should apply only to junior parties, since interferences are conducted primarily for their benefit.
Reply:
The rules already provide for certain fees relating to interference proceedings; see §1.644(e) and (f), and §1.666(b) and (c). In general, however, the PTO decided in 1982 that the costs of interference proceedings should be factored into the fees charged in connection with the processing and examination of patent applications, because (1) an interference is a proceeding instituted by the PTO, and (2) it would not be administratively feasible to attempt to provide a fee schedule to cover the myriad of different situations which may occur in the course of an interference. Since these reasons are still considered applicable, the suggestion has not been adopted.
Comment:
The proposed fee for admission to the examination (1.21(a)(1)) for registration to practice is too high for students who often sit for the exam and it is inappropriate because administering the exam is not a service to the public but a cost of operating the PTO.
Reply:
The fee for admission to the examination for registration to practice reflects the costs of conducting the examination twice a year nationwide. The significant increase is due to the fact that the fee had been understated in relation to cost during the 1983–1985 fee cycle. Fees established in this rulemaking will more precisely recover the estimated average cost to the Office of administering and grading the examination and are consistent with the cost recovery principles of OMB Circular A-25.
Comment:
The proposed fee for requesting a regrading of an examination (1.21(a)(6)) should be waived if the regrading request was necessitated by a PTO error.
Reply:
Any fee may be refunded if paid by mistake or paid in excess of that required. See 35 U.S.C. 42(d).
Comment:
The PTO should retain the present fee for admission to the examination to practice before the Office (1.21(a)(1)) and increase the fee payable upon registration to practice (1.21(a)(2)).
Reply:
This suggestion has not been adopted in this rulemaking. The fees for admission to the examination and for registration to practice have been set to recover the cost of those services.
Comment:
The proposed fee for reviewing a decision of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline (1.21(a)(5)) appears to be low in view of the significant amount of time and effort involved in a review.
Reply:
The fee for this service, as modified, recovers the estimated average cost to the Office of providing the service.
Comment:
The fees for processing an application filed with a specification in a non-English language (1.17(k)) and for filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date (1.445 (a)(6)) appear to be in excess of cost.
Reply:
The final rules have been modified from the proposed to provide for a fee of $26, the cost of processing applications filed with non-English language specifications in both domestic and international cases.
Comment:
An extension of time to Aug. 16, 1985 for the submission of comments was requested.
Reply:
The PTO is required by 35 U.S.C. 41(g) to publish a notice of fee increases in the Federal Register at least 60 days prior to the effective date of the fee increase. In order to have the proposed fee increases become effective near the start of the fiscal year, the extension of time could not be granted.
Comment:
Why were there no proposals to adjust trademark fees?
Reply:
Adjustments to fees for filing and processing a trademark application and for other processing, services or materials related to trademarks were not proposed at this time, pending review of trademark automation cost requirements.
Comment:
Do we plan to verify the inflation rate before publication of the final rules?
Reply:
The projected inflation rate has been verified. The Administration's latest projected annual cumulative Consumer Price Index for the three year period 1982–1985 is 11.8 percent. Application of this index to §41(a) and §41(b) fees results in no change from the proposal.
Other Considerations: The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Public Law 96–354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent fee rules.
The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Public Law 96–354). The principal impact of the major patent fees has already been taken into account in Public Law 97–247, which provided small entities with a 50 percent reduction in the major patent fees. Although that legislation will expire on Sept. 30, 1985, legislation has been introduced to reauthorize the 50 percent reduction in patent fees for an additional three years. The rule change adjusts fees to reflect the change in the Consumer Price Index and cost of processing services as provided by statute (35 U.S.C. 41(d) and 41(f)).
The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

On his own initiative, and any time, the Commissioner may determine whether a substantial new question of patentability is raised by patents and publications discovered by him or cited under the provisions of section 301 of this title.

The patent owner will be given a reasonable period, not less than two months from the date a copy of the determination is given or mailed to him, within which he may file a statement on such question, including any amendment to his patent and new claim or claims he may wish to propose, for consideration in the reexamination. 35 USC 202.

"§202. Disposition of rights

Funding agreement.

"(a) Each nonprofit organization or small business firm may, within a reasonable time after disclosure as required by paragraph (c)(1) of this section, elect to retain title to any subject invention: Provided, however, That a funding agreement may provide otherwise (i) when the funding agreement is for the operation of Government-owned research or production facility, (ii) in exceptional circumstances when it is determined by the agency that restriction or elimination of the right to retain title to any subject invention will better promote the policy and objectives of this chapter or (iii) when it is determined by a Government authority which is authorized by statute or Executive order to conduct foreign intelligence or counterintelligence activities that the restriction or elimination of the right to retain title to any subject invention is necessary to protect the security of such activities. The rights of the nonprofit organization or small business firm shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section and the other provisions of this chapter.

Written determination.

"(b)(1) Any determination under (ii) of paragraph (a) of this section shall be in writing and accompanied by a written statement of facts justifying the determination. A copy of each such determination and justification shall be sent to the Comptroller General of the United States within thirty days after the award of the applicable funding agreement. In the case of determinations applicable to funding agreements with small business firms copies shall also be sent to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration.

Copy to Comptroller General.

Copy to SBA.

Contrary agency determinations.

"(2) If the Comptroller General believes that any pattern of determinations by a Federal agency is contrary to the policy and objectives of this chapter or that an agency's policies or practices are otherwise not in conformance with this chapter, the Comptroller General shall so advise the head of the agency. The head of the agency shall advise the Comptroller General in writing within one hundred and twenty days of what action, if any, the agency has taken or plans to take with respect to the matters raised by the Comptroller General.

Report to congressional committees.

"(3) At least once each year, the Comptroller General shall transmit a report to the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and House of Representatives on the manner in which this chapter is being implemented by the agencies and on such other aspects of Government patent policies and practices with respect to federally funded inventions as the Comptroller General believes appropriate.

funding agreement requirements.

"(c) Each funding agreement with a small business firm or nonprofit organization shall contain appropriate provisions to effectuate the following:

"(1) A requirement that the contractor disclose each subject invention to the Federal agency within a reasonable time after it is made and that the Federal Government may receive title to any subject invention not reported to it within such time.

"(2) A requirement that the contractor make an election to retain title to any subject invention within a reasonable time after disclosure and that the Federal Government may receive title to any subject invention in which the contractor does not elect to retain rights or fails to elect rights within such time.

"(3) A requirement that a contractor electing rights file patent applications within reasonable times and that the Federal Government may receive title to any subject inventions in the United States or other countries in which the contractor has not filed patent applications on the subject invention within such times.

"(4) With respect to any invention in which the contractor elects rights, the Federal agency shall have a nonexclusive, nontransferable, irrevocable, paid-up license to practice or have practiced for or on behalf of the United States any subject invention throughout the world, and may, if provided in the funding agreement, have additional rights to sublicense any foreign government or international organization pursuant to any existing or future treaty or agreement.

"(5) The right of the Federal agency to require periodic reporting on the utilization or efforts at obtaining utilization that are being made by the contractor or his licensees or assignees: Provided, That any such information may be treated by the Federal agency as commercial and financial information obtained from a person and privileged and confidential and not subject to disclosure under section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code.

"(6) An obligation on the part of the contractor, in the event a United States patent application is filed by or on its behalf or by any assignee of the contractor, to include within the specification of such application and any patent issuing thereon, a statement specifying that the invention was made with Government support and that the Government has certain rights in the invention.

"(7) In the case of a nonprofit organization, (A) a prohibition upon the assignment of rights to a subject invention in the United States without the approval of the Federal agency, except where such assignment is made to an organization which has as one of its primary functions the management of inventions and which is not, itself, engaged in or does not hold a substantial interest in other organizations engaged in the manufacture or sale of products or the use of processes that might utilize the invention or be in competition with embodiments of the invention (provided that such assignee shall be subject to the same provisions as the contractor); (B) a prohibition against the granting of exclusive licenses under United States Patents or Patent Applications in a subject invention by the contractor to persons other than small business firms for a period in excess of the earlier of five years from first commercial sale or use of the invention or eight years from the date of the exclusive license excepting that time before regulatory agencies necessary to obtain premarket clearance unless, on a case-by-case basis, the Federal agency approves a longer exclusive license. If exclusive field of use licenses are granted, commercial sale or use in one field of use shall not be deemed commercial sale or use as to other fields of use, and a first commercial sale or use with respect to a product of the invention shall not be deemed to end the exclusive period to different subsequent products covered by the invention; (C) a requirement that the contractor share royalties with the inventor; and (D) a requirement that the balance of any royalties or income earned by the contractor with respect to subject inventions, after payment of expenses (including payments to inventors) incidental to the administration of subject inventions, be utilized for the support of scientific research or education.

"(8) The requirements of sections 203 and 204 of this chapter.

Rights, retention.

"(d) If a contractor does not elect to retain title to a subject invention in cases subject to this section, the Federal agency may consider and after consultation with the contractor grant requests for retention of rights by the inventor subject to the provisions of this Act and regulations promulgated hereunder.

Rights, transfer or assignment.

"(e) In any case when a Federal employee is a coinventor of any invention made under a funding agreement with a nonprofit organization or small business firm, the Federal agency employing such coinventor is authorized to transfer or assign whatever rights it may acquire in the subject invention from its employee to the contractor subject to the conditions set forth in this chapter.

Third-party licensing, prohibition.

"(f)(1) No funding agreement with a small business firm or nonprofit organization shall contain a provision allowing a Federal agency to require the licensing to third parties of inventions owned by the contractor that are not subject inventions unless such provision has been approved by the head of the agency and a written justification has been signed by the head of the agency. Any such provision shall clearly state whether the licensing may be required in connection with the practice of a subject invention, a specifically identified work object, or both. The head of the agency may not delegate the authority to approve provisions or sign justifications required by this paragraph.

"(2) A Federal agency shall not require the licensing of third parties under any such provision unless the head of the agency determines that the use of the invention by others is necessary for the practice of a subject invention or for the use of a work object of the funding agreement and that such action is necessary to achieve the practical application of the subject invention or work object. Any such determination shall be on the record after an opportunity for an agency hearing. Any action commenced for judicial review of such determination shall be brought within sixty days after notification of such determination.

35 USC 203.

"§203. March-in rights

"With respect to any subject invention in which a small business firm or nonprofit organization has acquired title under this chapter, the Federal agency under whose funding agreement the subject invention was made shall have the right, in accordance with such procedures as are provided in regulations promulgated hereunder to require the contractor, an assignee or exclusive licensee of a subject invention to grant a nonexclusive, partially exclusive, or exclusive license in any field of use to a responsible applicant or applicants, upon terms that are reasonable under the circumstances, and if the contractor, assignee, or exclusive licensee refuses such request, to grant such a license itself, if the Federal agency determines that such–

"(a) action is necessary because the contractor or assignee has not taken, or is not expected to take within a reasonable time, effective steps to achieve practical application of the subject invention in such field of use;

"(b) action is necessary to alleviate health or safety needs which are not reasonably satisfied by the contractor, assignee, or their licensees;

"(c) action is necessary to meet requirements for public use specified by Federal regulations and such requirements are not reasonably satisfied by the contractor, assignee, or licensees; or

"(d) action is necessary because the agreement required by section 204 has not been obtained or waived or because a licensee of the exclusive right to use or sell any subject invention in the United States is in breach of its agreement obtained pursuant to section 204.

35 USC 204.

"§204. Preference for United States industry

"Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, no small business firm or nonprofit organization which receives title to any subject invention and no assignee of any such small business firm or nonprofit organization shall grant to any person the exclusive right to use or sell any subject invention in the United States unless such person agrees that any products embodying the subject invention or produced through the use of the subject invention will be manufactured substantially in the United States. However, in individual cases, the requirement for such an agreement may be waived by the Federal agency under whose funding agreement the invention was made upon a showing by the small business firm, nonprofit organization, or assignee that reasonable but unsuccessful efforts have been made to grant licenses on similar terms to potential licensees that would be likely to manufacture substantially in the United States or that under the circumstances domestic manufacture is not commercially feasible.

Waiver.

35 USC 205.

"§205. Confidentiality

"Federal agencies are authorized to withhold from disclosure to the public information disclosing any invention in which the Federal Government owns or may own a right, title, or interest (including a nonexclusive license) for a reasonable time in order for a patent application to be filed. Furthermore, Federal agencies shall not be required to release copies of any document which is part of an application for patent filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office or with any foreign patent office.

35 USC 206.

"§206. Uniform clauses and regulations

"The Office of Federal Procurement Policy, after receiving recommendations of the Office of Science and Technology Policy, may issue regulations which may be made applicable to Federal agencies implementing the provisions of sections 202 through 204 of this chapter and the Office of Federal Procurement Policy shall establish standard funding agreement provisions required under this chapter.

35 USC 207.

"§207. Domestic and foreign protection of federally owned inventions

"Each Federal agency is authorized to–

"(1) apply for, obtain, and maintain patents or other forms of protection in the United States and in foreign countries on inventions in which the Federal Government owns a right, title, or interest;

"(2) grant nonexclusive, exclusive, or partially exclusive licenses under federally owned patent applications, patents, or other forms of protection obtained, royalty-free or for royalties or other consideration, and on such terms and conditions, including the grant to the licensee of the right of enforcement pursuant to the provisions of chapter 29 of this title as determined appropriate in the public interest;

35 USC 281 et seq.

"(3) undertake all other suitable and necessary steps to protect and administer rights to federally owned inventions on behalf of the Federal Government either directly or through contract; and

"(4) transfer custody and administration, in whole or in part, to another Federal agency, of the right, title, or interest in any federally owned invention.

35 USC 208.

"§208. Regulations governing Federal licensing

"The Administrator of General Services is authorized to promulgate regulations specifying the terms and conditions upon which any federally owned invention, other than inventions owned by the Tennessee Valley Authority, may be licensed on a nonexclusive, partially exclusive, or exclusive basis.

35 USC 209.

"§209. Restrictions on licensing of federally owned inventions

Development or marketing plan.

"(a) No Federal agency shall grant any license under a patent or patent application on a federally owned invention unless the person requesting the license has supplied the agency with a plan for development and/or marketing of the invention, except that any such plan may be treated by the Federal agency as commercial and financial information obtained from a person and privileged and confidential and not subject to disclosure under section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code.

Manufacture in U.S.

"(b) A Federal agency shall normally grant the right to use or sell any federally owned invention in the United States only to a licensee that agrees that any products embodying the invention or produced through the use of the invention will be manufactured substantially in the United States.

"(c)(1) Each Federal agency may grant exclusive or partially exclusive licenses in any invention covered by a federally owned domestic patent or patent application only if, after public notice and opportunity for filing written objections, it is determined that–

"(A) the interests of the Federal Government and the public will best be served by the proposed license, in view of the applicant's intentions, plans, and ability to bring the invention to practical application or otherwise promote the invention's utilization by the public;

"(B) the desired practical application has not been achieved, or is not likely expeditiously to be achieved, under any nonexclusive license which has been granted, or which may be granted, on the invention,

"(C) exclusive or partially exclusive licensing is a reasonable and necessary incentive to call forth the investment of risk capital and expenditures to bring the invention to practical application or otherwise promote the invention's utilization by the public; and

"(D) the proposed terms and scope of exclusivity are not greater than reasonably necessary to provide the incentive for bringing the invention to practical application or otherwise promote the invention's utilization by the public.

Antitrust factors.

"(2) A Federal agency shall not grant such exclusive or partially exclusive license under paragraph (1) of this subsection if it determines that the grant of such license will tend substantially to lessen competition or result in undue concentration in any section of the country in any line of commerce to which the technology to be licensed relates, or to create or maintain other situations inconsistent with the antitrust laws.

Small business preference.

"(3) First preference in the exclusive or partially exclusive licensing of federally owned inventions shall go to small business firms submitting plans that are determined by the agency to be within the capabilities of the firms and equally likely, if executed, to bring the invention to practical application as any plans submitted by applicants that are not small business firms.

Antitrust factors.

"(d) After consideration of whether the interests of the Federal Government or United States industry in foreign commerce will be enhanced, any Federal agency may grant exclusive or partially exclusive licenses in any invention covered by a foreign patent application or patent, after public notice and opportunity for filing written objections, except that a Federal agency shall not grant such exclusive or partially exclusive license if it determines that the grant of such license will tend substantially to lessen competition or result in undue concentration in any section of the United States in any line of commerce to which the technology to be licensed relates, or to create or maintain other situations inconsistent with antitrust laws.

Record. "(e) The Federal agency shall maintain a record of determinations to grant exclusive or partially exclusive licenses.

Terms and conditions. "(f) Any grant of a license shall contain such terms and conditions as the Federal agency determines appropriate for the protection of the interests of the Federal Government and the public, including provisions for the following:

"(1) periodic reporting on the utilization or efforts at obtaining utilization that are being made by the licensee with particular reference to the plan submitted: Provided, That any such information may be treated by the Federal agency as commercial and financial information obtained from a person and privileged and confidential and not subject to disclosure under section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code;

"(2) the right of the Federal agency to terminate such license in whole or in part if it determines that the licensee is not executing the plan submitted with its request for a license and the licensee cannot otherwise demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Federal agency that it has taken or can be expected to take within a reasonable time, effective steps to achieve practical application of the invention;

"(3) the right of the Federal agency to terminate such license in whole or in part if the licensee is in breach of an agreement obtained pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section; and

"(4) the right of the Federal agency to terminate the license in whole or in part if the agency determines that such action is necessary to meet requirements for public use specified by Federal regulations issued after the date of the license and such requirements are not reasonably satisfied by the licensee.

35 USC 210. "§210. Precedence of chapter

"(a) This chapter shall take precedence over any other Act which would require a disposition of rights in subject inventions of small business firms or nonprofit organizations contractors in a manner that is inconsistent with this chapter, including but not necessarily limited to the following:

"(1) section 10(a) of the Act of June 29, 1935, as added by title I of the Act of Aug. 14, 1946 (7 U.S.C. 427*i*(a); 60 Stat. 1085);

PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE AUTHORIZATION

May 17, 1982.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union and ordered to be printed

Mr. KASTENMEIER, from the Committee on the Judiciary, submitted the following REPORT

[To accompany H.R. 6260]

[Including cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office]

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 6260) to authorize appropriations to the Patent and Trademark Office in the Department of Commerce, and for other purposes, having considered the same, report favorably thereon with an amendment and recommend that the bill as amended do pass.

The amendment strikes out all after the enacting clause of the bill and inserts a new text which appears in italic type in the reported bill.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

The purpose of H.R. 6260 is to authorize appropriations for the Patent and Trademark Office for fiscal years 1983 through 1985.

STATEMENT

The Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice previously held two days of hearings on the legislation, receiving testimony from a representative group of witnesses including the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, the American Bar Association Section of Patent, Trademark and Copyright Law, the American Patent Law Association, the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Section of the State Bar of Virginia, the United States Trademark Association and the General Patent Counsel of the General Electric Corporation.

H.R. 6260 reflects the recommendation of the Administration with three modifications as follows. First, the Administration proposal authorized the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to establish fees administratively. The subcommittee approved an amendment to set forth specific fees in the statute and limited the Commissioner's authority to raise fees. Second, the Administration recommended that user fees recover 100% of the costs of actual processing of patents and trademarks. The subcommittee amended the bill to reduce by 50% patent filing and maintenance fees for individual inventors, small businesses and not for profit institutions. The effect of the amendment is to increase by $8 million the authorized appropriation which would have been provided under the original Administration request. Third, the subcommittee adopted a recommendation of the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, the American Bar Association and a coalition of corporate patent counsel permitting arbitration of patent disputes.

H.R. 6260 was considered by the Full Committee on the Judiciary on May 11, 1982 and was approved as reported by the subcommittee with an amendment offered by Mr. Frank described below.

SYNOPSIS OF H.R. 6260

Authorizes the Patent and Trademark Office for fiscal year 1983 at an appropriations level of $76,000,000 and for fiscal years 1984 and 1985 such sums as may be necessary. This would be augmented by additional fee income under the bill of approximately $79 million for a total budget of $155 million. In fiscal year 1982 the Patent and Trademark Office was authorized at a level of $118,961,000 of which $29,600,000 was provided through fee income. Fiscal year 1983 will be the first year in which fee income under P.L. 96-517 will be credited to the Patent and Trademark Office without being counted as part of its authorized appropriation. Had this new accounting procedure been applied to fiscal year 1982 the authorization and appropriation for the Patent and Trademark Office would have been $89 million. This constitutes the actual level of taxpayer support of the Office. Thus, H.R. 6260 authorizes the expenditure of tax revenue in fiscal 1983 to support the Patent and Trademark Office at a level $21 million lower than for fiscal 1982. H.R. 6260 proposes to double current fees as the means of making up for the difference between a lower level of taxpayer support and an increased total budget. Further, maintenance fees which were first authorized in P.L. 96-517 and which will not begin to be collected until fiscal year 1986 (Oct. 1, 1985) will also be doubled over the amounts provided for under P.L. 96-517.

The overall objective of H.R. 6260 is to provide for increased user support for the Patent and Trademark Office costs associated with the actual processing of patent applications by fiscal year 1996. The fee schedule is designed to return to the government 100% of actual costs. However, an amendment to the original Administration proposal adopted by the subcommittee would reduce by half the fees for individuals, small businesses and nonprofit inventors. At the present time less than 25% of the actual costs of processing patent applications are supported by fee revenue and under P.L. 96-517, which becomes effective on Oct. 1, 1982, this amount will gradually begin to rise but will only reach 50% of actual costs in 1996.

The amendment offered by Mr. Frank and approved by the Committee modifies that portion of Section 3 of H.R. 6260 dealing with Trademark fees. Public Law 96-517 (35 United States Code, section 31(a)) provides, "Fees will be set and adjusted by the Commissioner to recover in aggregate 50 per centum of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. Fees for all other services or materials related to trademarks and other marks will recover the estimated average cost. . .of performing the service or furnishing the material."

The Administration requested that the figure, "50 per centum", be changed to "100 per centum", thus mandating full recovery to the Treasury of all costs associated with processing trademarks.An amendment offered during subcommittee consideration of the legislation proposed to reduce fee generated revenue supporting processing of trademarks to less than the 100 per centum recovery level. The amendment was not agreed to. The author of the amendment, Mr. Frank, then proposed to amend the law to provide a statutory fee schedule which would return revenue to the Patent and Trademark Office at a level designed to recover 100 per centum of costs. However, following consultations with interested parties, Mr. Frank modified his amendment simply to repeal those portions of P.L. 96-517 which mandate a specified level of cost recovery for the processing of trademark registrations. Thus, the level of cost recovery for processing of trademark registrations will be within the discretion of the Commissioner. The Committee is aware of the concerns of users of the Trademark registration system, however, and intends to exercise vigorous oversight with respect to the Commissioner to ensure that fees remain at a reasonable level and that trademark registrations are processed in an efficient and cost effective manner. As part of this oversight, the Committee recommends the following fee structure to the Commissioner for Fiscal Year 1983.

Type of fee:	Proposed fee
Application filing fee per class	$175
Renewal fee	300
Late renewal	100
Section 12(c) claim	100
New certificate	100
Certificate of correction	100
Disclaimer to registration	100
Amendment to registration	100
Per class combines section 8 and 15 affidavit	200
Per class section 8 affidavit alone	100
Per class section 15 affidavit alone	100
All petitions to Commissioner	100
Cancellation opposition per class	200
TTAB appeal	100
Certified copies	10
Copies of trademarks	1
Assignments	(1)

[1]100 plus for each mark in addition to 1.

Section 3(d) also permits the Commissioner of Patents to accept late payment of maintenance fees where it is established that the delay in payment was unavoidable.

Section 4 permits the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to appoint temporary examiners in chief for the Board of Patent Appeals to deal more flexibly with workload.

Section 5 permits late filing of the oath and fee accompanying submission of specifications and drawings which accompany patent claims.

Section 6 permits greater flexibility in correcting mistakes in the naming of inventors on a patent application.

Section 7 allocates funds from the Patent and Trademark Office to the Department of State to pay the financial obligations of administering the patent Cooperation Treaty.

Section 8 clarifies the Trademark law with respect to what constitutes use of a mark "in commerce".

Section 9 deletes the burdensome technical requirement that trademark oppositions be verified.

Section 10 makes the date of registration rather than the date of publication the crucial date for purposes of establishing the incontestability of a trademark. This eliminates an ambiguity in the present law.

Section 11 limits the declaration of interferences under the trademark law to situations where extraordinary circumstances exist.

Section 12 authorizes the Commissioner of the Patent and Trademark Office the flexibility to deal with problems of delay in filing due to postal service breakdowns.

Section 13 permits the Commissioner of Patents to enter into cooperative studies, programs, exchanges and similar ventures associated with the administration of the Patent Office.

Section 14 conforms U.S. Patent and Trademark Law to a recent international treaty governing diplomatic or consular legalization of documents.

Section 15 corrects a mistaken citation in P.L. 96-517.

Section 16 creates a uniform term for design patents.

Section 17 establishes the effective dates for provisions of the Act. Increased filing fees would apply to all applications made on or after the date of enactment of H.R. 6260.

Section 18 permits voluntary arbitration of patent disputes.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1

This section authorizes appropriations for the Patent and Trademark Office for the payment of salaries and necessary expenses of the Office. For Fiscal Year 1983, this section authorizes appropriations of $76,000,000, and in fiscal years 1984 and 1985 such sums as may be necessary, as well as such additional and supplemental amounts as may be necessary to cover any increases in salary, pay, retirement, or employee benefits which may be authorized by law. Funds made available by these appropriations are to be used to reduce by 50 per centum the amount of the fees to be paid under title 35, United States Code, section 41(a) and (b) by independent inventors and nonprofit organizations as defined in regulations established by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and by small business concerns as defined in section 3 of the Small Business Act and by regulations established by the Small Business Administration.

In addition, fees collected pursuant to title 35, United States Code, and the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1051 et seq.), will augment the authorized appropriation to provide the resources needed to conduct the operations of the Office for fiscal year 1983. The total resources for the Office in fiscal year 1983, that is, the amount appropriated pursuant to this section plus fees collected pursuant to the patent and trademark laws, which will be available to the Office, are estimated to be $154,934,000. The corresponding levels for fiscal year 1984 and fiscal year 1985 are estimated in the President's Budget to be $167 million and $176 million, respectively. Any additional amounts to cover increases in salary, pay, retirement, or other employee benefits which may be authorized by law will be in addition to, and will therefore increase, those program levels. Finally, any funds appropriated pursuant to this section and all fees collected, when specified in an appropriation act, will remain available without any fiscal year limitation.

This section provides that, notwithstanding any other provision of law, there is authorized to be appropriated to the Patent and Trademark Office for fiscal year 1982, $121,461,000 and such additional or supplemental amounts as may be necessary for increases in salary, pay, retirement, or other employee benefits authorized by law. This section increases the amount authorized for the Patent and Trademark Office by 2.5 million over that authorized in Public law 97-35. The President is recommending a supplemental appropriation of $2,500,000 for the Patent and Trademark Office for fiscal year 1982 in order to carry out the program recommendations included in his fiscal year 1983 Budget.

SECTION 3

This section establishes certain statutory fees which are to be charged by the Commissioner and authorizes the Commissioner to establish other fees whose amounts are not specifically set. Thus, the major routine fees which are applicable to patents and patent application processing are established (e.g., filing, issuance, and maintenance fees). The Commissioner is authorized to establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents which are not specifically established by statute. The processing and service fees, which would be established at a level to recover the estimated average costs to the Office. A more specific discussion of the various provisions of this section is set forth below.

Section 3(a) amends section 41(a) of title 35 to provide the amounts of the fees for filing and issuance of patent applications. In addition, the section includes provisions for increasing the filing fees due to increased complexities presented by certain applications, e.g., applications containing more than a specified number of claims and any application containing a multiple dependent claim. The section also provides that fees will be charged when the number of claims is increased above the specified number or when a multiple dependent claim is first presented, whether on filing or at a later point in processing.

Under section 41(a)1, the filing fee for an original patent, except in design or plant cases, is $300. In addition, on filing or on presentation at any other time, $30 is due for each claim in independent form which is in excess of three, $10 is due for each claim (whether independent or dependent) which is in excess of twenty, and $100 is due for each application containing a multiple dependent claim. The latter fee is a one-time charge per application due the first time a multiple dependent claim is presented for examination. For the purpose of computing fees, a multiple dependent claim as referred to in section 112 of title 35, United States Code, or any claim depending therefrom, will be considered as separate dependent claims in accordance with the number of claims to which reference is made. Under the section, errors in payment of the additional fees may be rectified in accordance with regulations of the Commissioner. This will enable the Commissioner to establish regulations whereby patent applications may correct, without prejudice, errors in payment of the additional fees, i.e., those in addition to the basic fees established.

Under section 41(a)2, the fee for issuing all original and reissue patents, except in design or plant cases, would be a uniform amount of $500. No supplemental issue fees are required.

Section 41(a)3 establishes fixed fees for filing applications for, and issuance of design and plant patents. For design patent cases, the filing fee would be $200 and the issue fee $250.

Section 41(a)4 relates to fees in reissue cases and establishes a fee of $300 for filing each application for the reissue of a patent. In addition, on filing or on presentation at any other time, $30 is due for each claim in independent form which is in excess of the number of independent claims of the original patent, and $10 is due for each claim (whether independent or dependent) which is in excess of twenty and also in excess of the number of claims of the original patent. Errors in payment of the additional fees may be rectified in accordance with regulations of the Commissioner.

Under section 41(a)5, a fee of $50 would be established for filing each disclaimer in a patent or patent application.

Section 41(a)6 establishes a fee due on filing an appeal from the examiner to the Board of Appeals of $115. In addition, a fee of $115 is due on filing a brief in support of the appeal, and a fee of $100 is due for requesting an oral hearing before the Board of Appeals.

Section 41(a)7 establishes two different fees for filing petitions with different standards to revive abandoned patent applications. The same two fees are applicable to petitions to accept the delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent. The fees set forth in this section are due on filing the petition. Since the section provides for two alternative fees with different standards, the section would permit the applicant seeking revival or acceptance of a delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent to choose one or the other of the fees and standards under such regulations as the Commissioner may establish. Under the section the Commissioner could establish time limits within which petitions under each of the different fees and standards can be filed. The section establishes a fee of $500 for filing each petition for revival or for acceptance of the delayed payment of an issue fee where the abandonment or the failure to pay the issue fee is unintentional. In order to prevent abuse and injury to the public the Commissioner could require a terminal disclaimer equivalent to the period of abandonment and could require applicants to act promptly after becoming aware of the abandonment. The section establishes a fee of $50 for filing a petition under sections 133 or 151 of title 35 in accordance with standards presently in effect requiring that the delay resulting in the abandonment, or the delay in payment of the issue fee, be unavoidable. Under this section a petition accompanied by either a fee of $500 or a fee of $50 would not be granted where the abandonment or the failure to pay the fee for issuing the patent was intentional as opposed to being unintentional or unaviodable. This section would permit the Commissioner to have more discretion than present law to revive abandoned applications and accept late payment of the fee for issuing a patent in appropriate circumstances.

Section 41(a)8 establishes fees for filing of petitions for extensions of time. Various time periods are set by the Office for taking actions on matters relating to patent applications. These time periods are set pursuant to statute or by regulations established by the Commissioner under the authority granted to the Commissioner by statute. This section would provide for fees for filing petitions to extend the time periods set pursuant to statute or by regulations for taking action within any limitations set by statute.

A fee of $50 is established for filing a request for a first one month extension of time, an additional fee of $100 for filing a request for a second one month extension of time which would expire two months after the end of the time period set for taking action, and an additional fee of $200 for filing a request for a third one month extension of time which would expire three months after the end of the time period set for taking action. A subsequent or fourth extension could be requested if additional time was available under the statute. In no case could a period be extended beyond the maximum time set by statute.

The Commissioner may issue regulations providing when, within any maximum period permitted by statute, petitions for extensions of time, and the required fee therefor, may be filed. This section does preclude the Commissioner from waiving the fee for filing a petition for an extension of time where the Office extends the period due to equity considerations or sufficient cause.

Section 41(b) provides that the Commissioner charge the following fees for maintaining a patent other than a design or plant patent, in force: at three years and six months after grant, $400; at seven years and six months after grant, $800; and at eleven years and six months after grant, $1,200. Unless payment of the applicable maintenance fee is received in the Patent and Trademark Office on or before the date the fee is due or within a grace period of six months thereafter, the patent will expire as of the end of such grace period. The Commissioner may require the payment of a surcharge as a condition of accepting within such six-month grace priod the late payment of a maintenance fee.

In order to avoid an inequitable loss of patent rights, the Commissioner is given the authority to accept payment of any maintenance fee after the six-month grace period if it is established that the delay in payment was unavoidable. It is intended that the Commissioner will issue regulations establishing guidelines for acceptance of late payment. After the expiration of a reasonable period of time, the patentee would bear a heavy burden of proof that the delay was unavoidable. A surcharge may be imposed by the Commissioner as a precondition to acceptance of a late fee. This surcharge may be in addition to any surcharge imposed for payment during the grace period.

A provision is included to protect the rights of one who began using or who took steps to begin use of a patent which expired for failure to pay a maintenance fee and which was subsequently reestablished by acceptance of the late payment. The intervening rights provision in section 41(c)(2) is similar to the intervening rights provision in 35 U.S.C. 252 concerning reissued patents.

Section 41(d) provides that the Commissioner establish fees for all other processing services, or materials related to patents not specified in section 41 at an amount calculated to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services, or materials. Such processing and other services includes, but is not limited to, the processing of various petitions desiring certain actions to be taken regarding patent applications, recording of assignments, reexamination of patents and the processing of international applications. Fees for materials include the price of patent copies, certifications and other copying services. The yearly fee for providing a library specified in section 13 of title 35 with uncertified copies of the specifications and drawings for all patents issued in that year is set at $50.

Section 41(f) provides that the fees established in subsections (a) and (b) of section 41 may be adjusted by the Commissioner on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor. Changes of less than one per centum may be ignored by the Commissioner in making such adjustments.

Subsection (a) of section 31 of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), is being changed to grant the Commissioner discretion to establish the level of recovery of office costs related to trademarks. It is expected that the Commissioner will set the fees in a way that the filing fee will be kept as low as possible to foster use of the Federal registration system. This may require that other fees for services or materials related to trademarks recover more than their actual estimated cost in order that the Commissioner achieve in the aggregate adequate cost recovery for the entire trademark operation.

A provision is inserted in section 42(c) of title 35 in order to ensure that the trademark fees collected are used to fund trademark operations only and not the processing of patent applications.

SECTION 4

Section 3 of title 35 is amended by deleting specific reference to the number of examiners-in-chief in the first sentence. Elimination of the upper limit on the number of permanent members of the Board of Appeals would provide greater flexibility in filling most of its personnel needs, thereby avoiding an excess of examiner details. The authority to appoint acting examiners-in-chief, however, is maintained in order that temporary fluctuations in the workload of the Board may be accommodated.

SECTION 5

Under revised section 111 of title 35, the filing date of an application would be that on which the specification and any required drawings are received by the Patent and Trademark Office. The oath or declaration and filing fee could be submitted at such later time as established by the Commissioner, without any loss of the original filing date. Under the amendment, an applicant could either file the oath or declaration (including the applicant's signature) and fee together with an application or submit them at a later time as determined by the Commissioner.

The section would also authorize the imposition of a surcharge as a condition for accepting filing of the oath of payment of the filing fee after the filing date of the application. Since an application filed without the oath or declaration would not be signed or "made" by the applicant, the amendment permits a patent attorney or agent, authorized by the applicant, to submit the specification and drawings for the purpose of obtaining a filing date. Should the applicant, however, fail to file the oath or declaration, or pay the filing fee within the time limits set by the Commissioner, the application would be regarded as having been abandoned.

The third paragraph of section 116 of title 35 is amended to enlarge the possibilities for correcting misnamed inventive entities. As a consequence, correction would be permitted also in cases where the person originally named as inventor was in fact not the inventor of the subject matter contained in the application. If such error occurred without any deceptive intention on the part of the true inventor, the Commissioner would have the authority to substitute the true inventor for the erroneously named person. Although probably rarer, instances such as changes from a mistakenly identified sole inventor to a different, but actual, joint inventors, conversions from erroneously identified joint inventors to different but actual, joint inventors, and conversions from erroneously identified joint inventors to a different, but actual, sole inventor would also be permitted. In each instance, however, the Commissioner must be assured of the presence of innocent error, without deceptive intention on the part of the true inventor or inventors, before permitting a substitution of a true inventor's name.

The ability to receive a filing date based on a specification and drawings without signature as set forth in revised section 111 of title 35, and to file the oath or declaration and pay the filing fee within such period as determined by the Commissioner is also available to joint inventors.

Section 256 of title 35, which is a companion to section 116, would be amended to similarly enlarge the possibilities for correction of misnamed inventors in issued patents.

SECTION 7

Section 6(d) of title 35, which provides for the allocation of appropriated Patent and Trademark Office funds to the Department of State for payment of United States financial obligations under the Patent Cooperation Treaty, is deleted. The Department of State has traditionally assumed responsibility for financial obligations for international agreements to which the United States adheres.

SECTION 8

Section 8(a) of the Trademark Act is amended to clarify that the continued use required to be shown in the sixth year be use "in commerce". Although it is believed by some that omission of the words "in commerce" may have been inadvertent in the 1946 Act, this section has been interpreted so that use in a foreign country, or use in intrastate commerce, is sufficient. Such interpretation is fundamentally in conflict with other requirements of the Act.

Section 8(b) of the Act is also amended to clarify that the continued use required to be shown in the sixth year be use "in commerce" . Although it is believed by some that omission of the words " in commerce" may have been inadvertent in the 1946 Act, this section has interpreted so that use in a foreign country, or use in intrastate commerce, is sufficient. Such interpretation is fundamentally in conflict with other requirements of the Act.

Section 8(b) of the Act is also amended to clarify that the continued use required to be shown in the sixth year be use "in commerce" for registrations published under section 12(c) of the Act. (This pertains to registrations issued under the Act of Mar. 3, 1881 and the Act of Feb. 20, 1905).

The word "still" has been deleted from section 8(a) and 8(b). Thus, the owner of a registration issued on the basis of a foreign registration under the provisions of section 44(e) of the Act will have to submit an affidavit to the effect that the mark is in use in commerce. Since the mark need not be used in commerce when it is registered, the requirement cannot be required to state that it is "still" in such use.

SECTION 9

Section 13 of the Trademark Act is amended to delete the requirement that an opposition be verified. The sentence which allowed an unverified application to be verified at a later date has been deleted. In addition, a phrase has been added to make it clear that any subsequent extension of time to file an opposition, beyond the first extension, must be requested before the end of the preceding extension.

Section 14 of the Trademark Act would also be amended to delete the requirement that a petition to cancel a registration be verified.

SECTION 10

Section 15 of the Trademark Act is amended to change the term "the publication" to "registration" in the first sentence. This change makes the date of registration rather than the date of publication the crucial date for purposes of incontestablility. It will also make section 15 consistent with sections 22 and 33 of the Act.

SECTION 11

Section 16 of the Trademark Act is amended to limit the declaration of interferences to those situations where a petition to the Commissioner shows that extraordinary circumstances exist, the rights of the parties can be determined adequately by the existing opposition and cancellation procedures. Additionally, if an interference is declared between an application and a registration and the applicant wins, a cancellation must still be initiated against the registration.

SECTION 12

A new subsection (a) has been added to section 21 of title 35 to authorize, but not to require, the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to give as the filing date of any paper or fee which is required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office the date on which the paper or fee was deposited with the United States Postal Service. The Commissioner may also give as the filing date of any paper or fee which was required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office the date it would have been deposited with the United States Postal Service but for postal service interruptions or emergencies which the Commissioner designates. The requirements governing whether any given paper or fee may be given the filing date of the day on which it was, or would have been deposited with the United States Postal Service will be set forth in regulations established by the Commissioner.

Section 21(b) of title 35 is identical to existing section 21 with two minor amendments. The word "federal" has been inserted before the phrase "holiday within the District of Columbia" to clarify the nature of the holiday.

SECTION 13

This section clarifies the authority of the Commissioner in section 6(a) of title 35 to enter into a wide range of cooperative agreements concerning the patent and trademark laws or the administration of the Patent and Trademark Office. These agreements are in addition to the exchange of publications authorized in 35 U.S.C. 11(b) and 12. These cooperative agreements may take the form of studies, programs, exchanges, and other similar ventures. Thus, the Patent and Trademark Office could, for example, exchange patent copies, non-patent literature, tapes or services in return for goods or services of value to the Patent and Trademark Office.

SECTION 14

The amendments of 35 U.S.C. 115 and Section 11 of the Trademark Act of 1946 recognize the Hague "Convention Abolishing the Requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents" which entered into force in the United States on Oct. 15, 1981. The Convention abolishes the requirement of diplomatic or consular legalization for foreign public documents which are sworn to or acknowledged by a notary public in any of the countries adhering to the Convention. For documents executed by a notary public of all other foreign countries, diplomatic or consular legalization will still be required.

The amendment of 35 U.S.C. 261 is intended to give affirmative effect to acknowledgments executed pursuant to the Hague Convention.

SECTION 15

This section corrects an incorrect citation. Public Law 96–517 amended section 41 of title 35, United States Code, in a way which eliminated 35 U.S.C. §41(a)(9). Unfortunately, section 13 of title 35, United States Code, was not amended accordingly by Public Law 96–517. This section corrects that oversight.

SECTION 16

This section sets a uniform term of fourteen years for all design patents.

SECTION 17

Sections 17(a) and (c) specify the effective dates of the Act. Section 17(a) also specifies that the maintenance fees provided for in section 3(b) of this Act will only apply to patents in which the application was filed on and after the date of enactment or to maintenance fees later established by law.

Section 17(b) adds a section to title 35 providing for the voluntary arbitration of patent disputes by the parties to the dispute. The section requires that the Commissioner be notified in writing of an award made by an arbitrator or modified by a court. Such notification will be entered in the record of the prosecution of the patent.

At present, agreements to arbitrate some aspects of disputes arising under patent licenses are enforceable by the courts; however, there have been court decisions that have disapproved arbitration of disputes concerning patent validity or infringement. In this regard, see, for example, Zip Mfg. Co. v. Pep Mfg. Co. 44 F.2d 184, 7 U.S.P.Q. 62 (D. Del. 1930) and Beckman Instruments, Inc. v. Technical Developments Corp. 433 F.2d 55, 167 U.S.P.Q. 10 (7th Cir. 1965).

Partly as a reaction to those decisions, during the 93rd Congress both the Department of Commerce and the Department of Justice endorsed a provision specifically authorizing arbitration of validity and infringement disputes. This provision, included in an omnibus patent law revision bill, S. 2504, was never enacted due tot he many controversial aspects of that legislation.

In the view of the Committee, a statutory authorization of voluntary agreements to arbitrate validity and infringement disputes would benefit both the parties to these disputes and the public.

Statutory endorsement of arbitration agreements would assure the parties that they could avail themselves of the numerous advantages of arbitration without the possibility of having to reargue the dispute in court. The advantages of arbitration are many: it is usually cheaper and faster than litigation; it can have simpler procedural and evidentiary rules; it normally minimizes hostility and is less disruptive of ongoing and future business dealings among the parties; it is often more flexible in regard to scheduling of times and places of hearings and discovery devices; and, arbitrators are frequently better versed than judges and juries in the area of trade customs and the technologies involved in these disputes.

The enforcement of voluntary arbitration provisions would serve the public in two ways. First, the availablity of arbitration with its numerous advantages will enhance the patent system and thus will encourage innovation. This view is supported by the Committee for Economic Development in their Jan. 1980 statement entitled "Stimulating Technological Progress." Secondly, arbitration could relieve some of the burdens on the overworked Federal courts. Chief Justice Burger in his speech to the American Bar Association on Jan. 24, 1982, generally endorsed the use of arbitration to reduce the judicial backlog. Also, I think it is important to note that the American Bar Association's Section on Patent, Trademark and Copyright Law has endorsed court enforcement of arbitration agreements calling for arbitration of validity and infringement.

The recommendations of the Secretary of Commerce to increase substantially patent and trademark user fees were made on the promise that such increases "will lay the groundwork for revitalizing the patent and trademark systems." The Secretary committed to three major goals: (1) to reach an average patent application pendency time of 18 months by FY 1987, (2) to issue an examiner's first action on trademark registrability in three months and disposal of an application within 13 months, and (3) to move realistically toward a fully automated Office by the 1990's. In accepting the Administration's recommendations on user fees, the Committee fully expects the Administration to live up to its end of the bargain to bring about a first-class Patent and Trademark Office. To provide an opportunity for timely and effective Committee oversight of progress toward improving the Patent and Trademark Office, the Committee directs that the Secretary of Commerce report annually to the Committee on progress toward achieving the three major goals of the Patent and Trademark Office, as outlined above, and, in addition, promptly inform the Committee at any time it appears that any of the goals, for any reason, is viewed as not attainable.

OVERSIGHT STATEMENT

The Committee on the Judiciary has oversight responsibility over the Patent and Trademark Office in the Department of Commerce. In addition to its ongoing oversight, the Committee's Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice held an oversight hearing with respect to the Patent and Trademark Office on Mar. 4, 1981, published as Oversight Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice of the Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Ninety-Seventh Congress, First Session on the Copyright Office, The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, and the Copyright Royalty Tribunal. Serial No. 17.

The Committee expects to continue its oversight activities in this area.

STATEMENT OF THE BUDGET COMMITTEE

No statement has been received on H.R. 6260 from the House Committee on the Budget.

STATEMENT OF THE CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE

Pursuant to clause 7, rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the following is the cost estimate of H.R. 6260, as amended, prepared by the Congressional Budget Office.

U.S. CONGRESS
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, D.C., May 13, 1982.

Hon. PETER W. RODINO, Jr.,
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: Pursuant to Section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Congressional budget Office has prepared the attached cost estimate for H.R. 6260, a bill to authorize appropriations to the Patent and Trademark Office in the Department of Commerce, and for other purposes.

Should the Committee so desire, we would be pleased to provide further details on this estimate.

Sincerely

ALICE M. RIVLIN, Director.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE, COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: H.R. 6260.

2. Bill title: A bill to authorize appropriations to the Patent and Trademark Office in the Department of Commerce, and for other purposes.

3. Bill status: As ordered reported by the House Committee on the Judiciary, May 11, 1982.

Bill purpose: H.R. 6260 would authorize 1982 appropriations at a level $2.5 million above the amount already appropriated, and would provide a $76 million authorization level in 1983 to carry out the activities of the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO). In addition, such sums as may be necessary are authorized for fiscal years 1984 and 1985, plus such additional or supplemental amounts as may be necessary for increases in salary, pay, retirement, or other benefits authorized by law for each fiscal year 1983 thorugh 1985. PTO would also have available for obligation offsetting fee collections as provided for in Public Law 96–517, plus the additional fees as specified in H.R. 6260.

Assuming enactment of H.R. 6260, total PTO collections over time would result in recovery of approximately 100 percent of patent and trademark processing costs. Individuals, small businesses, and non-profit institutions would be exempt from the proposed additional fees, however, but would continue to follow the fee schedule outlined in P.L. 96–517, which assumes the ultimate recovery of approxiamtely 50 percent of all processing costs.

The President's 1982 budget includes a request for a $2.5 million supplemental for the PTO. The Administration has recommended increasing user fees to ultimately recover 100 percent of processing costs beginning in 1983, but does not provide for any exemptions to the proposed fee increases relative to current law. The effect of exemptions is to increase by approximately $8 million the authorized level of appropriations relative to the Administration's request.

In addition, the bill would make a number of other changes that are not expected to have a cost impact.

5. Cost estimate:

[By fiscal years, in millions of dollars]

	1982	1983	1984	1985	1986
Authorization level:
Specified	2.5	76.0	....	....	....
Estimated	....	6.8	86.4	86.8	....
Subtotal	2.5	82.8	86.4	86.8	....
Total estimated outlays	2.4	61.8	82.4	82.8	5.5

Including outlays from appropriations to date for PTO, total 1982 outlays are estimated to be $121.5 million, and total 1983 outlays are estimated to be $79.8.

The costs of this bill fall within budget subfunction 376.

6. Basis of estimate: The authorization levels for PTO for 1982 and 1983 are those specified in the bill. The estimate authorization levels for 1984 and 1985 assume a level of funding sufficient to maintain a program level of $167 million and $176 million, respectively, including offsetting collections. In addition, authorization for increases in pay and other benefits of approximately $6.8 million, $7.4 million, and $7.8 million for fiscal years 1983 through 1985, respectively, were estimated based on CBO's current inflators. Outlays are based on historical spending patterns.

The estimated collections to PTO as a result of fees charged to cover the costs of processing trademarks and patents were provided by the agency, and assume the fee structure outlined in the bill. The estimated collections, under current law and under H.R. 6260, are shown in the table below.

[By fiscal years, in millions of dollars]

	1982	1983	1984	1985	1986
Estimated offsetting collections:
Current law	....	47.8	52.7	57.7	....
Added by H.R. 6260	....	31.2	35.3	39.3	....
Total—H.R. 6260	....	79.0	88.0	97.0	....

7. Estimate comparison: None.

8. Previous CBO estimate: None.

9. Estimate prepared by: Mary B. Maginniss.

10. Estimate approved by: C. G. Nuckols (James L. Blum, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis).

COMMITTEE VOTE

The Committee on the Judiciary ordered H.R. 6260 as amended reported by a voice vote, without objection being heard, with a quorum of Members being present.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

In compliance with clause 3 of Rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is enclosed in black brackets, new matter is printed in italics, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

§21. [Day for taking action falling on Saturday, Sunday, or holiday] Filing date and day for taking action.

(a) The Commissioner may by rule prescribe that any paper or fee required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office will be considered filed in the Office on the date on which it was deposited with the United States Postal Service or would have been deposited with the United States Postal Service but for postal service interruptions or emergencies designated by the Commissioner.

(b) When the day, or the last day, for taking any action or paying any fee in the United States Patent and Trademark Office falls on Saturday, Sunday, or a Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the action may be taken, or the fee paid, on the next succeeding secular or business day.

* * * * *

CHAPTER 4—PATENT FEES

* * * * *

§41. Patent fees

[(a) The Commissioner of Patents will establish fees for the processing of an application for a patent, from filing through disposition by issuance or abandonment, for maintaining a patent in force, and for providing all other services and materials related to patents. No fee will be established for maintaining a design patent in force.

[(b) By the first day of the first fiscal year beginning on or after one calendar year after enactment of this Act, fees for the actual processing of an application for a patent, other than for a design patent, from filing through disposition by issuance or abandonment, will recover in aggregate 25 per centum of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing. By the first day of the first fiscal year beginning on or after one calendar year after enactment, fees for the processing of an application for a design patent, from filing through disposition by issuance or abandonment, will recover in aggregate 50 per centum of the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing.

[(c) By the fifteenth fiscal year following the date of enactment of this Act, fees for maintaining patents in force will recover 25 per centum of the estimated cost to the Office, for the year in which such maintenance fees are received, of the actual processing all applications for patents, other than for design patents, from filing through disposition by issuance or abandonment. Fees for maintaining a patent in force will be due three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the grant of the patent. Unless payment of the applicable maintenance fee is received in the Patent and Tradmark Office on or before the date the fee is due or within a grace period of six months thereafter, the patent will expire as the end of such grace period. The Commissioner may require the payment of a surcharge as a condition of accepting within such six-month grace period the late payment of an applicable maintenance fee.

[(d) By the first day of the first fiscal year beginning on or after one calendar year after enactment, fees for all other services or materials related to patents will recover the estimated average cost to the Office of performing the service or furnishing the material. The yearly fee for providing a library specified in section 13 of this title with uncertified printed copies of the specifications and drawings for all patents issued in that year will be $50.]

(a) The Commissioner shall charge the following fees:

1. On filing each application for an original patent, except in design or plant cases, $300; in addition, on filing or on presentation at any other time, $30 for each claim in independent form which is in excess of three, $10 for each claim (whether independent or dependent) which is in excess of twenty, and $100 for each application containing a multiple dependent claim. For the purpose of computing fees, a multiple dependent claim as referred to in section 112 of this title or any claim depending therefrom shall be considered as separate dependent claims in accordance with the number of claims to which reference is made. Errors in payment of the additional fees may be rectified in accordance with regulations of the Commissioner.

2. For issuing each original or reissue patent, except in design or plant cases, $500.

3. In design and plant cases:

a. On filing each design application, $125.

b. On filing each plant application, $200.

c. On issuing each design patent, $175.

d. On issuing each plant patent, $250.

4. On filing each application for the reissue of a patent, $300; in addition, on filing or on presentation at any other time, $30 for each claim in independent form which is in excess of the number of independent claims of the original patent, and $10 for each claim (whether independent or dependent) which is in excess of twenty and also in excess of the number of claims of the original patent. Errors in payment of the additional fees may be rectified in accordance with regulations of the Commissioner.

5. On filing each disclaimer, $50.

6. On filing an appeal from the examiner to the Board of Appeals, $115; in addition, on filing a brief in support of the appeal, $115, and on requesting an oral hearing before the Board of Appeals, $100.

7. On filing each petition for the revival of an unintentionally abandoned application for a patent or for the unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing each patent, $500, unless the petition is filed under sections 133 or 151 of this title, in which case the fee shall be $50.

8. For petitions for one-month extensions of time to take actions required by the Commissioner in an application:

a. On filing a first petition, $50.

b. On filing a second petition, $100.

c. On filing a third or subsequent petition. $200.

(b) The Commissioner shall charge the following fees for maintaining a patent in force:

1. Three years and six months after grant, $400.

2. Seven years and six months after grant, $800.

3. Eleven years and six months after grant, $1,200.

Unless payment of the applicable maintenance fee is received in the Patent and Trademark Office on or before the date the fee is due or within a grace period of six months thereafter, the patent will expire as of the end of such grace period. The Commissioner may require the payment of a surcharge as a condition of accepting within such six-month grace period the late payment of an applicable maintenance fee. No fee will be established for maintaining a design or plant patent in force.

(c)(1) The Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee required by subsection (b) of this section after the six-month grace period if the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable. The Commissioner may require the payment of a surcharge as a condition of accepting payment of any maintenance fee after the six-month grace period. If the Commissioner accepts payment of a maintenance fee after the six-month grace period, the patent shall be considered as not having expired at the end of the grace period.

(2) No patent, the term of which has been maintained as a result of the acceptance of a payment of a maintenance fee under this subsection, shall abridge or affect the right of any person or his successors in business who made, purchased or used after the six-month grace period but prior to the acceptance of a maintenance fee under this subsection anything protected by the patent, to continue the use of, or to sell to others to be used or sold, the specific thing so made, purchased, or used. The court before which such matter is in question may provide for the continued manufacture, use or sale of the thing made, purchased, or used as specified, or for the manufacture, use or sale of which substantial preparation was made after the six-month grace period but before the acceptance of a maintenance fee under this subsection, and it may also provide for the continued practice of any process, practiced, or for the practice of which substantial preparation was made, after the six-month grace period but prior to the acceptance of a maintenance fee under this subsection, to the extent and under such terms as the court deems equitable for the protection of investments made or business commenced after the six-month grace period but before the acceptance of a maintenance fee under the subsection.

(d) The Commissioner will establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents not specified above to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services, or materials. The yearly fee for providing a library specified in section 13 of this title with uncertified printed copies of the specifications and drawings for all patents issued in that year will be $50.

(3) The Commissioner may waive the payment of any fee for any service or material related to patents in connection with an occasional or incidental request made by a department or agency of the Government, or any officer thereof. The Commissioner may provide any applicant issued a notice under section 132 of this title with a copy of the specifications and drawings for all patents referred to in that notice without charge.

[(f) Fees will be adjusted by the Commissioner to achieve the levels of recovery specified in this section; however, no patent application processing fee or fee for maintaining a patent in force will be adjusted more than once every three times.]

(f) The fees established in subsection (a) and (b) of this section may be adjusted by the Commissioner on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor. Changes of less than 1 per centum may be ignored.

(g) No fee established by the Commissioner under this section will take effect prior to sixty days following notice in the Federal Register.

§42. Patent and Trademark Office funding.

(a) All fees for services performed by or materials furnished by the Patent and Trademark Office will be payable to the Commissioner.

(b) All fees paid to the Commissioner and all appropriations for defraying the costs of the activities of the Patent and Trademark Office will be credited to the Patent and Trademark Office Appropriation Account in the Treasury of the United States, the provisions of section 725e of title 31, United States Code, notwithstanding.

(c) Revenues from fees will be available to the Commissioner of Patents to carry out, to the extent provided for in appropriation Acts, the activities of the Patent and Trademark Office. Fees available to the Commissioner under section 31 of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), shall be used exclusively for the processing of trademark registrations and for other services and materials related to trademarks.

(d) The Commissioner may refund any fee paid by mistake or any amount paid in excess of that required.

CHAPTER 11—APPLICATION FOR PATENT

* * * * *

[§111. Application for patent

[Application for patent shall be made by the inventor, except as otherwise provided in this title, in writing to the Commissioner. Such application shall include: (1) a specification as prescribed by section 112 of this title; (2) a drawing as prescribed by section 113 of this title; and (3) an oath by the applicant as prescribed by section 115 of this title. The application must be signed by the applicant and accompanied by the fee required by law.]

SEC. 111. Application for patent shall be made, or authorized to be made, by the inventor, except as otherwise provided in this title, in writing to the Commissioner. Such application shall include (1) a specification as prescribed by section 112 of this title; (2) a drawing as prescribed by section 113 of this title; and (3) an oath by the applicant as prescribed by section 115 of this title. The application must be accompanied by the fee required by law. The fee and oath may be submitted after the specification and any required drawing are submitted, within such period and under such conditions, including the payment of a surcharge, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner. Upon failure to submit the fee and oath within such prescribed period, the application shall be regarded as abandoned, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the delay in submitting the fee and oath was unavoidable. The filing date of an application shall be the date on which the specification and any required drawing are received in the Patent and Trademark Office.

* * * * *

§115. Oath of applicant

The applicant shall make oath that he believes himself to be the original and first inventor of the process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or improvement thereof, for which he solicits a patent; and shall state of what country he is a citizen. Such oath may be made before any person within the United States authorized by law to administer oaths, or when, made in a foreign country, before any diplomatic or consular office of the United States authorized to administer oaths, or before any officer having an official seal and authorized to administer oaths in the foreign country in which the applicant may be, whose authority [shall be] is proved by certificate of a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, or apostille of an official designated by a foreign country which, by treaty or convention, accords like effect to apostilles of designated officials in the United States and such oath shall be valid if it complies with the laws of the state or country where made. When the application is made as provided in this title by a person other than the inventor, the oath may be so varied in form that it can be made by him.

§116. [Joint inventors] Inventors.

When an invention is made by two or more persons jointly, they shall apply for patent jointly and each sign the application and make the required oath, except as otherwise provided in this title.

If a joint inventor refuses to join in an application for patent or cannot be found or reached after diligent effort, the application may be made by the other inventor on behalf of himself and the omitted inventor. The Commissioner, on proof of the pertinent facts and after such notice to the omitted inventor as he prescribes, may grant a patent to the inventor making the application, subject to the same rights which the omitted inventor would have had if he had been joined. The omitted inventor may subsequently join in the application.

Whenever [a person is joined in an application for patent as joint inventor through error, or a joint inventor is not included in an application through error] through error a person is named in an application for patent as the inventor, or through error an inventor is not named in an application, and such error arose without any deceptive intention on his part, the Commissioner may permit the application to be amended accordingly, under such terms as he prescribes.

CHAPTER 16—DESIGNS

* * * * *

§173. Term of design patent.

[Patents for designs may be granted for the term of three years and six months, or for seven years, or for fourteen years, as the applicant, in his application, elects.]
Patents for designs shall be granted for the term of fourteen years.

PART III—PATENTS AND PROTECTION OF PATENT RIGHTS

* * * * *

CHAPTER 25—AMENDMENT AND CORRECTION OF PATENTS

[§256. Misjoinder of inventor.

[Whenever a patent is issued on the application of persons as joint inventors and it appears that one of such persons was not in fact a joint inventor, and that he was included as a joint inventor by error and without any deceptive intention, the Commissioner may, on application of all the parties and assignees, with proof of the facts and such other requirements as may be imposed, issue a certificate deleting the name of the erroneously joined person from the patent.

[Whenever a patent is issued and it appears that a person was a joint inventor, but was omitted by error and without deceptive intention on his part, the Commissioner may, on application of all the parties and assignees, with proof of the facts and such other requirements as may be imposed, issue a certificate adding his name to the patent as a joint inventor.

[The misjoinder or nonjoinder of joint inventors shall not invalidate a patent, if such error can be corrected as provided in this section. The court before which such matter is called in question may order correction of the patent on notice and hearing of all parties concerned and the Commissioner shall issue a certificate accordingly.]

§256. Correction of named inventor.

Whenever through error a person is named in an issued patent as the inventor, or through error an inventor is not named in an issued patent and such error arose without and deceptive intention on his part, the Commissioner may, on application of all the parties and assignees, with proof of the facts and such other requirements as may be imposed, issue a certificate correcting such error.

The error of omitting inventors or naming persons who are not inventors shall not invalidate the patent in which such error occurred if it can be corrected as provided in this section. The court before which such matter is called in question may order correction of the patent on notice and hearing of all parties concerned and the Commissioner shall issue a certificate accordingly.

CHAPTER 16—OWNERSHIP AND ASSIGNMENT

* * * * *

§261. Ownership; assignment.

Subject to the provisions of this title, patents shall have the attributes of personal property.

Applications for patent, patents, or any interest therein, shall be assignable in law by an instrument in writing. The applicant, patentee, or his assigns or legal representatives may in like manner grant and convey an exclusive right under his application for patent, or patents, to the whole or any specified part of the United States.

A certificate of acknowledgment under the hand and official seal of a person authorized to administer oaths within the United States, or, in a foreign country, of a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States or an officer authorized to administer oaths whose authority is proved by a certificate of a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, or apostille of an official designated by a foreign country which, by treaty or convention, accords like effect to apostilles of designated officials in the United States, shall be prima facie evidence of the execution of an assignment, grant or conveyance of a patent or application for patent.

An assignment, grant or conveyance shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser or mortgagee for a valuable consideration, without notice, unless it is recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office within three months from its date or prior to the date of such subsequent purchase or mortgage.

CHAPTER 29—REMEDIES FOR INFRINGEMENT OF PATENT, AND OTHER ACTIONS

Sec.

281. Remedy for infringement of patent.

* * * * *

294. Voluntary arbitration.

§294. Voluntary arbitration.

(a) A contract involving a patent or any right under a patent may contain a provision requiring arbitration of any dispute relating to patent validity or infringement arising under the contract. In the absence of such a provision, the parties to an existing patent validity or infringement dispute may agree in writing to settle such dispute by arbitration. Any such provision or agreement shall be valid, irrevocable, and enforceable, except for any grounds that exist at law or in equity for revocation of a contract.

(b) Arbitration of such disputes, awards by arbitrators and confirmation of awards shall be governed by title 9, United States Code, to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. In any such arbitration proceeding, the defenses provided for under section 282 of this title shall be considered by the arbitrator if raised by any party to the proceeding.

(c) An award by an arbitrator shall be final and binding between the parties to the arbitration but shall have no force or effect on any other person. The parties to an arbitration may agree that in the event a patent which is the subject matter of an award is subsequently determined to be invalid or unenforceable in a judgment rendered by a court to competent jurisdiction from which no appeal can or has been taken, such award may be modified by any court of competent jurisdiction upon application by any party to the arbitration. Any such modification shall govern the rights and obligations between such parties from the date of such modification.

(d) When an award is made by an arbitrator, the patentee, his assignee or licensee shall give notice thereof in writing to the Commissioner. There shall be a separate notice prepared for each patent involved in such proceeding. Such notice shall set forth the names and addresses of the parties, the name of the inventor, and the name of the patent owner, shall designate the number of the patent, and shall contain a copy of the award. If an award is modified by a court, the party requesting such modification shall give notice of such modification to the Commissioner. The Commissioner shall upon receipt of either notice, enter the same in the record of the prosecution of such patent. If the required notice is not filed with the Commissioner, any party to the proceeding may provide such notice to the Commissioner.

(e) The award shall be unenforceable until the notice required by subsection (d) is received by the Commissioner.

Upon written request prior to the expiration of the thirty-day period, the time for filing opposition shall be extended for an additional thirty days, and further extensions of time for filing opposition may be granted by the Commissioner for good cause when requested prior to the expiration of an extension. The Commissioner shall notify the applicant 86 of each extension of the time for filing opposition. [An unverified opposition may be filed by a duly authorized attorney, but such opposition shall be null and void unless verified by the opposer within a reasonable time after such filing to be fixed by the Commissioner.] An opposition may be amended under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner.

SEC. 14. A [verified] petition to cancel a registration of a mark, stating the grounds relied upon, may, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be filed by any person who believes that he is or will be damaged by the registration of a mark on the principal register established by this Act, or under the Act of Mar. 3, 1881, or the Act of Feb. 20, 1905—

Except on a ground for which application to cancel may be filed at any time under subsections (c) and (e) of section 14 of this Act, and except to the extent, if any, to which the use of a mark registered on the principal register infringes a valid right acquired under the law of any State or Territory by use of a mark or trade name continuing from a date prior to the date of [the publication] registration under this Act of such registered mark, the right of the registrant to use such registered mark in commerce for the goods or services on or in conncection with which such registered mark has been in continuous use for 5 consecutive years subsequent to the date of such registration and is still in use in commerce, shall be incontestable: Provided, That—

(2) there is no proceeding involving said rights pending in the Patent Office or in a court and not finally disposed of; and

(3) an affidavit is filed with the Commissioner within 1 year after the expiration of any such 5-year period setting forth those goods or services stated in the registration on or in connection with which such mark has been in continuous use for such 5 consecutive years and is still in use in commerce, and the other matters specified in subsections (1) and (2) hereof; and

(4) no incontestable right shall be acquired in a mark which is the common descriptive name of any article or substance, patented or otherwise.

Subject to the conditions above specified in this section, the incontestable right with reference to a mark registered under this Act shall apply to a mark registered under the Act of Mar. 3, 1881, or the Act of Feb. 20, 1905, upon the filing of the required affidavit with the Commissioner within 1 year after the expiration of any period of 5 consecutive years after the date of publication of a mark under the provisions of subsection (c) of section 12 of this Act.

Rules of Practice in Patent Cases; Reexamination Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending its rules of practice in patent cases to provide procedures for the reexamination of patents. Public Law 96–517 amended the patent act to authorize reexamination proceedings as a means for improving the quality of United States patents. The Patent and Trademark Office intends, through this amendment of its rules, to provide patent owners and the public with guidance on the procedures the Office will follow in conducting reexamination proceedings.
Date: Effective date: July 1, 1981.
For Further Information Contract: Mr. R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at [703]557-3054 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change relates to a procedure for reexamination of patents as provided for in Public Law 96–517, section 1 of which relates to reexamination and becomes effective on July 1, 1981.

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Jan. 13, 1981 at 46 FR 3162–3175 and in the Official Gazette on Feb. 17, 1981 at 1003 O.G. 36–47.

The proposed rulemaking set forth two somewhat distinct procedures directed towards determining and improving the quality and reliability of United States patents. The procedures were (1) provisions for reexamination of patents as provided for in Pub. L. 96–517, section 1 of which relates to reexamination and becomes effective on July 1, 1981, and (2) provisions for inter partes protest proceedings in a patent application between the patent applicant and a member (or members) of the public who has (have) access to the application file.

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

An oral hearing was held on Apr. 16, 1981. Fifty-nine written letters and statements were submitted. Nineteen persons testified at the oral hearing which resulted in 107 pages of testimony.

Discussion of General Issues Involved

After careful consideration of the comments which have been received, the part of the proposed rulemaking relating to reexamination of patents as set forth in new Chapter 30 which Pub. L. 96-517 added to Title 35 of the United States Code [35 U.S.C. 301-307] is being adopted with certain changes. The remainder of the proposal relating to inter partes protest proceedings is not being adopted.

The comments relating to the proposed rules for inter partes protest proceedings were generally mixed, with a majority of persons and associations submitting comments either opposed to these proposed rules or indicating that adoption of the proposed rules should be delayed or deferred for further study and consideration.

A number of comments were received requesting some further changes to the rules be made. The thrust of some of the suggested changes would be to remove public access to reissue applications and to limit public participation in the examination of reissue applications. The changes suggested included restoring the rules in these areas to essentially their pre-1977 form. In particular, it was suggested that §1.175 be amended to eliminate paragraph (a)(4). These changes were not a part of the published proposal and are not being adopted at this time. Their consideration and adoption would require a new notice of proposed rulemaking.

Further, since the subject matter of reissue applications is already known to the public the necessity for maintaining them in confidence is not compelling. The elimination of paragraph (a)(4) of §1.175 would not have a significant effect since less than one-fourth of the currently filed reissue applications are based solely upon the 1977 change to §1.175. Under the present circumstances, it is more appropriate to defer any consideration of such changes until this issue has been reviewed further and possibly until some experience is gained under the rules adopted herein relating to reexamination. Such experience may indicate the desirability of either retaining the 1977 change to §1.175, deleting the 1977 change, or making different changes in the rules.

The comments relating to reexamination were generally favorable with most of the comments indicating general approval of the proposed rules. Among the more often mentioned specific comments were suggestions relating to public notice of reexamination requests and/or orders. A number of comments also related to requester and/or third party participation in the reexamination proceeding and also to the scope of the proceeding.

After careful review of the comments and suggestions it has been decided to adopt the suggestions relating to the publication in the Official Gazette of requests for reexamination for which the fee has been paid. In addition, any reexaminations ordered at the initiative of the Commissioner will also be announced in the Official Gazette. The announcement will include at least the date of the request or any Commissioner initiated order, a reexamination request or order control number, the patent number, title, class and subclass, name of the inventor, name of the patent owner of record, and the examining group to which the reexamination is assigned.

The suggestions and comments relating to more participation in the reexamination proceeding by the requester and third parties have been adopted only to a limited degree. The requester will in general have only that participation provided by the rules as proposed. However, any citations under §1.501 by any person will be entered in the patent file up until the date of an order to reexamine. The essentially ex parte nature of the proceeding is believed to be in keeping with the spirit and intent of the statute even though the statute does not require ex parte proceedings. Ex parte proceedings will minimize the costs and other effects of reexamination requests on patentees, especially individuals and small businesses.

The scope of the reexamination proceeding which was originally proposed has been essentially adopted in the final rules. The suggestions that the rules be broadened to include other issues have not been adopted since the other issues would unduly complicate the proceedings, raise the expense of the proceedings and raise questions whether such issues can be considered under Pub. L. 96-517.

Discussion of the Major Specific Issues Involved

The rules relating to reexamination proceedings are directed to the procedures set forth in new Chapter 30 of Title 35 of the United States Code (35 U.S.C. 301-307). This Chapter provides for the citation of prior art in patents, filing of requests for reexamination, decisions on such requests, reexamination and appeal from reexamination decisions, and the issuance of a certificate at the termination of the reexamination proceedings. Present§§1.1, 1.5, 1.11, 1.33, 1.34, 1.36, 1.104, 1.107, 1.109, 1.111, 1.112, 1.113, 1.115, 1.116, 1.121, 1.191, 1.192, 1.196, 1.197, 1.231, 1.248, 1.301, and 1.303 are amended to provide for reexamination procedures. A new "Subpart D-Reexamination of Patents" includes new §§1.501, 1.510, 1.515, 1.520, 1.525, 1.530, 1.535, 1.540, 1.550, 1.552, 1.555, 1.560, 1.565, and 1.570. Paragraph (b) of §1.291, relating to prior art citations in patents, is deleted, since provisions therefor appear in §1.501.

Section 1.1, as amended, provides for communications relating to reexamination proceedings to be marked "Box Reexam" to speed internal Office mail processing. No comments were received concerning this section. The proposal has been modified to indicate that only requests should be marked "Box Reexam".

Section 1.5, as amended, provides for all letters relating to a reexamination proceeding to be identified by patent number and a reexamination request control number. No comments were received concerning this section. Section 1.5 has been modified to also include reference to the Group Art Unit and the examiner, if known.

Section 1.11, as amended, provides for all papers made of record in reexamination proceedings to be open to inspection and copying by the public. Eighteen comments were received relating to publication of a notice in the Official Gazette. A new paragraph (c) has been added which provides for the publication of requests with sufficient fees paid and orders initiated by the Commissioner. Proposed paragraph "c" has been adopted as paragraph "d".

Section 1.33, as amended, has a new paragraph (c) relating to which address communications for the patent owner will be sent and who may sign papers filed. Four comments were received on this section relating to whom the mail should be addressed. One proposal, which suggested use of the current address of the attorney or agent of record, was adopted.

Section 1.34, as amended, provides for the appointment of an attorney or agent in a reexamination proceeding. Only one comment was received on this section which proposed a rule specifically allowing attorneys to file requests without identifying their clients. Since any person may request reexamination, such a rule is not felt necessary.

Section 1.36, as amended, provides for the revocation and withdrawal of powers of attorney in a reexamination proceeding. No comment was received. Section 1.36 is adopted as proposed with an additional change which added "or her" near the end.

Section 1.104, as amended, broadens the present section to also include reexamination. Three comments were received on §1.104. All comments indicated that the examiner should not make a prior art search. Although no complete new search by the examiner is required, the use of patents and printed publications in addition to those submitted by the requester is clearly indicated in 35 U.S.C. 303(a). According, §1.104 is adopted as proposed.

Section 1.107, as amended, provides for the citation of prior art by the examiner in a reexamination proceeding. The amended rule also refers to foreign published applications, as well as patents. No comments were received on this section. It is adopted as proposed.

Section 1.109, as amended, provides for the examiner to supply reasons for allowance in a reexamination proceeding if the examiner believes that the record does not make clear the reasons for allowing a claim or claims. No comments were received on this section. Except for a clarifying change in language, it is adopted as proposed.

Section 1.111, as amended, provides for replies by the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding. One comment was received which suggested a clarification. The suggestion was adopted. Other non-substantive changes have been made in the proposed section to shorten the sentences for clarity.

Section 1.112, as amended, provides for reexamination and reconsideration of the patent under reexamination after responses by the patent owner. Three comments were received on this section.

The wording has been changed as suggested to avoid any confusion between "reexamination" and "reexamine". The sentences have also been shortened for clarity.

Section 1.113, as amended, provides for a final rejection or action in a reexamination proceeding. One comment was received which pointed out a possible conflict between the amendment rights of section 305 and the final rejection of section 1.113. No problem is seen in this regard because of the provision of section 305 which states that"reexamination will be conducted according to the procedures established for initial examination." The section is adopted as proposed with the last sentence being divided into two sentences for clarity.

Section 1.115, as amended, provides for amendments by the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding. No comments were received concerning this section. The section is adopted as proposed with minor changes for clarity.

Section 1.116, as amended, provides for amendments after final action in reexamination proceedings. One comment was received which was the same as that mentioned and responded to in Section 1.113 above. The sentences have been shortened for clarity.

Section 1.121, as amended, contains a new paragraph (f) which requires a complete copy of any new or amended claim when presented during reexamination proceedings. Two persons commented on this section. One proposed side-by-side presentation of amended and original claims. The other proposed that exactly the same procedure be used as is now in effect for amending reissue claims. Neither suggestion was adopted since neither lends itself to printing only the amended claims in a certificate as easily as the procedure set forth in §1.121(f). The proposed section was revised to also provide for the amendment of the description. In addition, the last three sentences of §1.510(e) have been inserted as the last three sentences of §1.121(f) in order to provide a more complete description therein of the manner of making amendments, including the numbering of claims, the restriction on scope of the claims and the prohibition against the introduction of new matter.

Section 1.191, as amended, provides for appeal to the Board of Appeals by the patent owner from any decision adverse to patentability, in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 306. One comment was received on proposed §1.191 which urged that the requester should also be entitled to appeal. This proposal was not adopted because it is not provided for in the law and could result in harassment if permitted. The section is adopted as proposed except that "primary" contained in the existing rule is retained.

Section 1.192, as amended, provides two months from the date of the Notice of Appeal for the patent owner to file an appeal brief in a reexamination proceeding. Five comments were received relating to §1.192 which proposed that the period for filing an appeal brief in a reexamination appeal be two months as in other appeals. The proposed rule has been adopted with the suggested two month period. The sentences have been shortened for clarity.

Section 1.196 and §1.197 are being amended to refer to "appellants", which is a term which includes both applicants and patent owners.

These two sections were not published for comment, however, the issues involved were presented in proposed§§1.191 and 1.192. Paragraph (c) of §1.197 has also been rewritten for clarity.

Section 1.231(a)(1), as amended, provides for a motion that a patent claim is unpatentable in an interference proceeding where reexamination thereof has also been requested.

Three comments were received concerning §1.231. All comments related to when interference or reexamination proceedings would be suspended. Section 1.565 provides basis for such suspensions. Decisions will be made on a case by case basis, depending on the particular fact situation. The sentences in §1.231(a)(1) have been shortened and rearranged for clarity.

An amendment was proposed to delete the last two sentences of §1.247 relating to proof of service. No comments were received concerning this section but, on reconsideration, no need for such deletion is felt necessary and no change is being adopted.

Section 1.248, as amended, includes a new paragraph (b) relating to methods of serving papers and proof of service. No comments were received concerning this section. The section is adopted as proposed with minor changes for clarity and to conform to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Section 1.291, as amended, deletes paragraph (b). Former paragraph (b) dealt with the citation of prior art provisions. It was deleted since the provisions are now covered by §1.501. Five persons commented on §1.291. One comment relating to filing protests in reexamination proceedings was not adopted since such proceedings are ex parte in nature and are limited to consideration of prior art patents and printed publications cited by the public prior to the order. Two persons mentioned providing a procedure for citation of prior art by patentees. Citation of prior art by patentees is included in §1.501. The two other comments related to the content of protest proceedings, which are not part of this final rule. Section 1.291 is adopted as proposed except that the paragraph designation of (c) is not being changed.

Section 1.301, as amended, provides for appeal by the owner of a patent in reexamination proceedings to the U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Four comments were received relating to §1.301. One person suggested the insertion of "any" as the fourth word in the section. This suggestion was adopted. The other three comments related to appeals in inter partes protest proceedings which are not a part of this promulgation. Section 1.301 is adopted as proposed with only the above mentioned change.

Section 1.303, as amended, provides for remedy by civil action under 35 U.S.C. 145 for the owner of a patent in reexamination proceedings. No comments were received concerning this section. The changes from the proposal are the insertion of "any" as the fourth word in the section as suggested in §1.301 and the addition of, "306" to the title.

New §1.501 provides a system for citation of patents and printed publications to the Patent and Trademark Office for placement in the patent file by any person during the period of enforceability of the patent in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 301. Seventeen persons commented on §1.501. Nine comments indicated that citations should be limited to patents or printed publications. Six comments indicated that persons citing art should be required to apply it to at least one claim. Three persons held the opposite view. The final rule wording provides for citations limited to patents and printed publications where the person making the citation states the pertinency and applicability of the citation to the patent and the bearing the citation has on the patentability of at least one claim of the patent. The final rule provides that a citation made by the patent owner may include an explanation of how the claims differ from the prior art cited. Any citations which include items other than patents and printed publications will not be entered in the patent file. This does not, of course, limit in any manner the kinds and types of information which can be relied upon in protests against pending patent applications, whether such be original applications or reissue applications. Four persons stated that a separate letter requesting confidentiality should be required in cases desiring confidentiality. This provision was not considered to be necessary. One comment requested clarification of the term "period of enforceability of a patent." The meaning of this term appears to be clear since it includes any period for which recovery can be had for infringement. Under usual circumstances, this would be the term of the patent plus the six years provided by 35 U.S.C. 286. Five comments were received relating the paragraph (c) concerning service of citations on the patent owner. The wording has been clarified. A suggestion was made that prior art copies and translations of non-English documents be required. This suggestion was not adopted since such documents are not absolutely essential until a request for reexamination has been filed. However, if the person citing the patents or printed publications desires that they be considered in any subsequent reexamination proceedings, copies and any necessary English translation should be included with the citation. A proposal was also made to charge a fee to prevent harassment. This proposal was not adopted since the mere citation of prior art is not considered to constitute harassment. A suggestion was made to change the title of the section. This suggestion was adopted in slightly modified form.

New §1.510 sets forth procedures for any person to request reexamination in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 302. Paragraph (a) of new §1.510 limits the period for such request to the period of enforceability of the patent for which the request is filed and requires payment of the fee for requesting reexamination. Paragraph (b) of new §1.510 indicates what each request for reexamination must include. Paragraph (c) of new §1.510 indicates under which conditions a request for reexamination will be considered. Paragraph (d) of new §1.510 indicates the date on which the entire fee is received will be considered to be the date of the request for reexamination. Upon reconsideration of the paragraph as proposed, it was considered more appropriate to base the filing date of the request for reexamination on the receipt of the fee for requesting reexamination rather than include other matters. Proposed paragraph (d) has been amended accordingly and is adopted. Paragraph (e) of new §1.510 covers amendments which a patent owner can propose. Such amendments can accompany a request for reexamination by the patent owner. The paragraph, with changes in wording for clarity, is adopted as proposed. A new paragraph (f) was added to clarify that requests for reexamination may be filed by attorneys or agents on behalf of a requester. Nineteen persons commented on §1.510. One person inquired as to whether confidential requests would be accepted. In response thereto, §1.510 provides that any person may file a request for reexamination. That person's name will not be maintained in confidence. One suggestion was made to permit comment and rebuttal before the decision under §1.515. No need for such a procedure is seen since the only question to be considered is whether or not a substantial new question of patentability has been raised. An opportunity for comment and rebuttal is provided after the issuance of the order. One comment was received which desired provision for supplemental requests at a reduced fee. This proposal was not adopted since it is felt that all requesters should share equally in the cost. One comment was received which proposed that duplicate copies of the request be filed in the Office so that one copy would be available for public inspection at all times. This proposal was not adopted since it would appear to create more problems than it would solve. One comment was received that only "readily available" translations should be required. It is felt that if a document is considered to be sufficiently pertinent to request reexamination, that an English translation should be provided to insure complete and proper consideration. A suggestion was made relating to paragraph (b)(5) that direct service be limited to registered patent attorneys. No need for such a restriction is seen. Various other comments relating to procedures were considered but were not adopted.

New §1.515 relates to a determination as to whether the request has presented a substantial new question of patentability under 35 U.S.C. 303. Paragraph (a) of new §1.515 requires that the determination be made within 3 months of the filing date of the request. Paragraph (b) of new §1.515 refers to the refund provisions. Paragraph (c) of new §1.515 provides for review by petition to the Commissioner of any decision refusing reexamination. Seven persons commented on §1.515. Several comments were received suggesting that the term "reexamination" should be dropped before "examiner". This proposal was adopted. Several persons requested that all art cited in the patent file at the time of the order under §1.525 be considered when deciding whether a substantial new question of patentability is presented in the request. This is possible under the provision of §1.515(a) which permits "consideration of other patents or printed publications", but is not required insofar as prior art not relied upon in the request is concerned. One person suggested that "is" be changed to-affirms-in paragraph (c). This proposal has been adopted. One commentor questioned whether a right to review was available under paragraph (c) if reexamination was ordered. No right to review exists in such a case because all claims will be reviewed in view of all prior art during the reexamination under §1.550.

New §1.520 provides for reexamination at the initiative of the Commissioner under the provisions of the last sentence of paragraph (a) of 35 U.S.C. 303. Six persons commented on §1.520. One comment was received that indicated that the section did not include a reference to patents "discovered by the Commissioner" which is contained in 35 U.S.C. 303(a). This phrase has been added to the rule. A request was made that the sentence "Normally requests from outside-will not be considered." be deleted from the rule. The sentence is being retained since the rule wording provides an easy reference for Office policy. Two comments were received that indicated a desire to have any decisions not to reexamine in Commissioner initiated situations be made part of the patent file. This proposal was not adopted since the basis for not reexamining may involve many policy issues in addition to whether a substantial new question of patentability exists in the case. If all papers in such a case would be made part of a file, it may lead to conclusions that there are no new questions of patentability when this question may not have been addressed because the reexamination was not ordered for other reasons such as little or no interest in a patent about to expire. One comment stated that the section safeguards the rights of the patentee. The language referring to the designation and delegation of authority to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office officials is deleted as unnecessary since the Commissioner's authority to designate and delegate is implicit and understood.

New §1.525 provides for ordering reexaminstion where a substantial new question of patentability has been found pursuant to §§1.515 or 1.520. Six comments were received relating to §1.525. One comment was made that the attorney should be able to return notices to the sender if he is unable to contact the patent owner. This topic has not been added to the rules but will be handled on a case by case basis. One comment requested that the patent owner have the option to request that the reexamination be performed by an examiner (1) other than the original examiner, or (2) other than the examiner who issued the order. Comments were also received on both sides of the question as to whether the original examiner should conduct the reexamination. In response, it would appear to be inappropriate to allow an interested party to select the examiner. Under the section, the only limitation placed on the selection of the examiner by the Office is that the same examiner whose decision was reversed on petition ordinarily will not conduct the reexamination. Paragraph (b) has been changed to provide that the notices published in the Official Gazette will be considered to be constructive notice.

New §1.530 relates to the statement and proposed amendments provided for in the second sentence of 35 U.S.C. 304. Amendments submitted by the patent owner cannot enlarge the scope of a claim in the patent. Amendments will not be effectively entered into the patent until the certificate under §1.570 and 35 U.S.C. 307 is issued. Nine comments were received on §1.530. Several persons felt that the patent owner should be allowed to comment before the decision under §1.515 is made. Providing for such a comment would delay the decision under §1.515 which must be made within three months following the filing date of the request. Further, no need is seen for a statement relating to whether a new question of patentability is present since the patent owner has the opportunity to address any issues of patentability only after the first Office action. One comment questioned whether paragraph (d) also related to the description. This paragraph has been amended to clarify the matter. One person questioned whether an amendment could be filed with a statement. Paragraph (b) clearly answers this question in the affirmative. Several comments requested more time than two months for the patent owner to file a statement. In reply, the law in section 304 indicates that a reasonable period of not less than two months be provided for the patent owner's statement. If the period is too short in particular situations, extensions of time can be requested. It is felt that two months should be retained in the rule in view of the "Special Dispatch" required in reexamination cases. The proposed second sentence of paragraph (b) has not been adopted since §1.525(b) now provides for the publication of notices of the filing of all requests which are accompanied by the proper fee.

New §1.535 provides for reply by the reexamination requester to the statement under §1.530 of the patent owner and for service on the patent owner of any such reply. The last sentence of proposed §1.540 has been added as the last sentence of §1.535. Five persons commented on §1.535. Four persons indicated that the requester should be given additional opportunity to comment. The reasons for the limited participation are that it is all that is required under the law, it prevents to a great degree, harassment of a patent owner, it results in a less expensive proceeding for all parties, and it results in an earlier conclusion of the proceedings.

New §1.540 relates to the consideration of statements under §1.530 and replies under §1.535. One comment was received that the phrase "may result in their being refused" was worded too loosely. In the absence of any specific suggestion, the proposed wording is considered to be adequate and is adopted as proposed. In addition, it is appropriate that the Office retain discretion as to consideration in such cases.

New §1.550 covers the basic items relating to the conduct of reexamination proceedings. These proceedings basically follow the same procedures used for examining patent applications. The patent owner will be required to serve the reexamination requester with any response by the patent owner to the Office, in order to remove the necessity of the requester having to continuously monitor the file wrapper. Fourteen persons commented on §1.550.

Several persons commented that they felt that at least some input by third parties should be permitted. Paragraph (e) has been revised to permit third party input up until the time of the order. Several comments were received that the periods for response should be extended to be similar to those in regular application Office actions. Although problems may arise in certain cases and extensions of time may be granted, it is felt that relatively short response times are necessary in order to process reexaminations with "special dispatch." A question was raised as to the effect of failure to respond to an Office action. Paragraph (d) has been amended to clarify this matter.

New §1.552 covers the scope of reexamination in a reexamination proceeding. While it is not intended that the examiners will routinely complete a new search when conducting reexamination, the examiners will be free to, and will, very likely, conduct additional searches and cite and apply additional prior patents and publications when they consider it is appropriate and beneficial to do so. Insofar as the actual reexamination is concerned, the examination as to original patent claims is only on the basis of patents or printed publications. However, narrowed amended claims or new claims limited to the original disclosure will also be examined for compliance with other sections of the statute (35 U.S.C. 112 and 132) which are necessary in order to ensure that any amended or new claims are supported, valid, and do not introduce new matter. New §1.552 also provides that questions relating to matters other than those identified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the section would merely be noted by the examiner as being an open question in the record. Patent owners could then file a reissue application if they wish such questions to be resolved. Ten persons commented on §1.552. Several persons commented that the question of fraud should be considered in reexamination proceedings. Comments were also received that the proceedings should be limited to patents and printed publications. The rules have been written to follow the statute which speaks only to reexamination based on patents and printed publications. Mixed comments were also received concerning the retention of the second sentence of paragraph (c). The paragraph is being adopted as proposed with the addition of a reference to the fact that the examiner will note the existence of unresolved questions in an Office action. In addition, the phrase "raised or" has been deleted from paragraph (c) as unnecessary.

New §1.555 covers the duty of disclosure by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding involving the owner's patent. Nine persons commented on §1.555. Four persons supported placing a duty of disclosure on the patent owner. One comment was received that an oath or declaration be required of the patent owner in a reexamination so as to minimize the appearance and occurrence of any fraudulent acts and to emphasize the patentee's obligation of candor. While the suggestion for an oath or declaration has not been adopted, §1.555 does place an obligation of candor on the patent owner insofar as bringing patents or printed publications to the attention of the Office is concerned. The necessity for an oath or declaration in addition to the obligation placed on the patent owner by §1.555 is not apparent at this time. Accordingly, the suggestion has not been adopted. Two persons felt the duty of disclosure should apply to both the patent owner and requester. This proposal was not adopted since no sanction could be easily applied against the requester who violated such a rule. One person suggested broadening the duty requirements to include information in addition to patents and printed publications. Although such a practice may be desirable, no need is seen to require information under the reexamination rules which cannot be used during the reexamination. One person felt that there should be no duty of disclosure requirement in reexamination proceedings since the Office will be considering specific prior art and the presence or absence of other prior art does not seem terribly relevant. This suggestion was not adopted since the issue of patentability is not limited to the specific prior art presented and the duty to disclose is consistent with current practice under §1.56. The section is adopted as proposed except for the indication that prior art statements should be filed in accordance with §1.98. Also, the section has been divided into two sentences for clarity.

New §1.560 relates to the conduct of interviews in reexamination proceedings. Seven comments were received directed to §1.560. One comment requested elimination of interviews. This suggestion was not adopted since interviews have been found to be very helpful in resolving issues. Five comments were received which indicated that the requester should be permitted to attend all interviews. This suggestion was not adopted because of the otherwise ex parte nature of the examination. Two comments were received which indicated that interviews should be permitted before the first Office action. This suggestion was not adopted since such interviews would be held at a time when the Office has not yet taken a position on the allowability of the claims under reexamination. Section 1.560 is adopted as proposed.

New §1.565 provides for the Commissioner to determine which, if any, proceedings should be stayed, consolidated, or suspended, if concurrent proceedings involving the patent under reexamination are instituted or in progress. Four comments were received concerning§1.565. One comment pointed out the desirability of combining copending reexamination proceedings. This concept has been accepted and a new paragraph (c) has been added to cover this matter. Two comments voiced concern over the possibility of delay resulting from stayed, suspended or combined cases. Although some delay may result, it is felt that a resolution of all issues should occur at an earlier date. Decisions as to whether to delay or combine cases will be made on a case by case basis to minimize delays and to protect the interests of all parties concerned. One comment was made to allow the patent owner to comment prior to any decision to stay proceedings by the Commissioner. The desirability of such comment will be decided on a case by case basis and is not considered desirable for placement in the rules. The addition of paragraph (c) and the insertion of "is or" before "becomes" in the first sentence of paragraph (b) are the only changes from the proposed rule.

New §1.570 concerns the issuance of the reexamination certificate under 35 U.S.C. 307 after conclusion of reexamination proceedings. The certificate will cancel any patent claims determined to be unpatentable, confirm any patent claims determined to be patentable, and incorporate into the patent any amended or new claim determined to be patentable. Three commentors mentioned §1.570. Two persons questioned the statutory authority for paragraph (d). In response to the concern for statutory authority, it is the position of the Office that once all of the claims have been canceled from the patent, the patent ceases to be enforceable for any purpose. Accordingly, any pending reissue or other Office proceeding relating to a patent in which such a certificate has been issued will be terminated. This provides a degree of assurance to the public that patents with all the claims canceled via reexamination proceedings will not again be asserted. One commentor indicated that copies of the certificate should be part of subsequently sold copies of the patent. Such a practice is intended but is not being made part of the regulations.

Environmental, energy, and other consideration: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96–354).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291.

Revision of Patent Procedure

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part 1 of 37 CFR, to implement the sections of Public Law 97-247 of 1982 which become effective on Feb. 27, 1983, and to make other miscellaneous changes. The other miscellaneous changes are being made to clarify and improve the rules where appropriate. The rulemaking also is amending Part 5 of 37 CFR to establish procedures for expediting the granting of a license under 35 U.S.C. 184 permitting the filing of a patent application in a foreign country.
Effective Date: Feb. 27, 1983.
For Further Information Contact: R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to 1) implement the changes in practice in the Patent and Trademark Office provided for in Public Law 97-247 enacted on Aug. 27, 1982; 2) clarify or rewrite certain rules; and 3) expedite the granting of licenses under 35 U.S.C. 184.

This rule change contains a number of changes in practice designed to benefit both the Patent and Trademark Office in its handling of its mission and the public the Office serves.

Certain of the changes are housekeeping in nature.

A number of final rules have already been issued to implement Public Law 97-247. A final rule on "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" was published on July 30, 1982 at 47 FR 33086-33112 with corrections in the printing thereof being published on Aug. 4, 1982, at 47 FR 33688 and on Aug. 5, 1982, at 47 FR 33959. The final rule was also published in the Official Gazette on Aug. 10, 1982, at 1021 O.G. 19-94. A final rule relating to definitions of "independent inventor" and "nonprofit organizations" was published on Sept. 10, 1982 at 47 FR 40134-40140 and on Sept. 21, 1982 at 1022 O.G. 29-46. A "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees Confirmation" was published on Sept. 17, 1982 at 47 FR 41272-41283 and on Sept. 28, 1982 at 1022 O.G. 61-97. A final rule relating to the definition of "small business concern" was published on Sept. 30, 1982 at 47 FR 43272-43276 and on Oct. 19, 1982 at 1023 O.G. 23-29.

Discussion of Specific Rules and Significant Differences Between Proposed and Final Rules:

Section 1.4

Section 1.4 is amended as proposed to add a reference to Subpart D relating to citation of prior art and reexamination.

Section 1.6

Section 1.6 is amended as proposed to insert "federal" before "holidays" in paragraphs 1.6(a)-(c) in accordance with §21(b) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247. New paragraph 1.6(d) will establish in the regulations a procedure under which papers and fees which could not be filed on a particular date because of an interruption or emergency in the United States Postal Service which is so designated by the Commissioner, may be promptly filed after the ending of such a designated interruption or emergency and be considered as having been filed on that particular date. Authority for such a practice is found in §21(a) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247.

Section 1.7

Section 1.7 is amended as proposed to insert "federal" before "holiday" in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 21(b), as amended by Public Law 97-247.

Section 1.8

Section 1.8 is amended to remove in paragraph 1.8(a) the references to §§3.55 and 4.23, which sections were removed from the rules by the rulemaking entitled "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" published in the Federal Register on September 10, 1982 at 47 Fed. Reg. 40134-40140. The change in paragraph 1.8(a)(i) results from the change made in §111 of Title 35, United States Code, by Public Law 97-247. Under the revised rule, the certificate of mailing procedure would be available for filing patent oaths or declarations and filing fees. However, the certificate of mailing procedure could not be used for filing patent specifications and drawings to obtain a filing date. Such papers can be filed under new §1.10. The final rule clarifies that each paper or fee filed under §1.8 must include its own certificate of mailing. The proposed amendment to §1.8(a)(viii) referring to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rather than to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, has been adopted as a final rule as published on Oct. 26, 1982 at 47 FR 47380-47382 and therefore is not republished here.

Section 1.10

Section 1.10 is amended as proposed to provide a procedure for assigning the date on which any paper or fee is deposited as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service as the filing date of the paper or fee in the Patent and Trademark Office. Authority for the Commissioner to establish such a procedure is provided in §21(a) of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247 for any paper or fee required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. This procedure covers the filing of all documents, including patent and trademark applications, and fees since they are required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office for processing. Questions were raised during the public hearing and in the written comments regarding the authority of the Commissioner to promulgate §1.10 insofar as it would provide for the use of "Express Mail" to file patent and trademark applications. The argument advanced was that the amendment of 35 U.S.C. 21(a) by Public Law 97-247 did not permit the Commissioner to adopt rules whereby "Express Mail" could be used to file patent and trademark applications since such applications are not papers or fees "required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office." It was urged that this language of 35 U.S.C. 21(a), in conjunction with amended 35 U.S.C. 111 which states that the "filing date of an application shall be the date on which the specification and any required drawing are received in the Patent and Trademark Office," prevents adoption of proposed§1.10.

The arguments presented are not supported by the legislative history or by the literal language of the statute. Section 111 of Title 35, United States Code, before and after Public Law 97-247, requires patent applications to be made "in writing to the Commissioner." This is apparent from the first sentence of 35 U.S.C. 111 which provides that "[a]pplication for patent shall be made. . .in writing to the Commissioner." Thus, one seeking a patent is "required" to make application for the same "in writing to the Commissioner." The written application clearly constitutes a "paper or fee required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office." Section 21(a) of Title 35, United States Code, authorizes the Commissioner to adopt rules whereby "any paper or fee required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office will be considered filed in the Office on the date on which it was deposited with the United States Postal Service." The authority provided by section 21(a) extends to "any paper or fee" to which the Commissioner, by an appropriate rulemaking, so extends it. The Commissioner can, therefore, by rule, establish that "any paper or fee," including a patent or trademark application, is "filed" or "received in the Patent and Trademark Office" when it is deposited with the United States Postal Service. The terms "filed" and "received" as used in 35 U.S.C. 21(a) and 111 can therefore be given the same meaning by an appropriate rulemaking by the Commissioner.

The legislative history, H.R. Rep. No. 542, 97th Cong., 2nd Sess. 8A (1982), clearly supports the interpretation set forth herein. In discussing new subsection (a) which has been added to section 21 of Title 35, United States Code, the Report emphasizes that the authority extends to "any paper or fee which is required to be filed" in the Patent and Trademark Office. The Report specifically states that the "requirements governing whether any given paper or fee may be given the filing date of the day on which it was. . .deposited with the United States Postal Service will be set forth in regulations established by the Commissioner." Clearly no restrictions were placed by the statute or the legislative history on the types of papers or fees which the Commissioner can consider as having been filed in the Patent and Trademark Office on the date of deposit with the United States Postal Service.

The new procedure, in paragraph 1.10(a), requires the use of the "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service of the United States Postal Service. This service provides for the use of a mailing label on which the Post Office clearly indicates the date on which it was deposited. Paragraph 1.10(b) requires (1) that the number of the "Express Mail" mailing label be placed on each paper or fee and (2) that a certificate of mailing by "Express Mail", signed by the person mailing the paper or fee, be included on each paper or fee and state the date of deposit as "Express Mail" in the United States Postal Service. The requirement that each paper or fee have the number of the "Express Mail" mailing label and the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" included thereon is necessary so that the Patent and Trademark Office can verify when each paper or fee was filed if questions relating thereto arise. The number and certificate must be placed on each separate paper and each fee transmittal either directly on the document or by a separate paper firmly and securely attached thereto. It is not necessary that the number and certificate be placed on each page of a particular paper or fee transmittal. Merely placing the number and certificate in one prominent location on each separate paper or fee transmittal will be sufficient.

Under new paragraph 1.10(c), the Office will accord the paper or fee the date of deposit as "Express Mail" as the filing date without further proof unless a question is present regarding the date of mailing. If, however, more than a reasonable time has elapsed between the certificate date and the Patent and Trademark Office receipt date, or if other questions regarding the date of mailing are present, new paragraph 1.10(c) provides that the person mailing the paper or fee may be required to file (1) a copy of the "Express Mail" receipt showing the actual date of mailing and (2) a statement from the person who mailed the paper or fee averring to the fact that the mailing occurred on the date certified. Such statement must be a verified statement (oath or declaration) unless made by a person registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

The certificate of mailing procedure of §1.8(a) continues to be available in addition to the proposed procedure under §1.10. The final rule (§1.10) has been changed from that proposed to allow for a reasonable time between mailing and delivery rather than only for one day since actual delivery in one day is not always provided from all areas of the country. The final rule clarifies that each paper or fee must include its own certificate of mailing by "Express Mail." This rule is being promulgated at this time so that individuals who desire to use the service may do so after the effective date.

The "Express Mail" service is seen to be preferable to other types of postal services because a readily legible mailing date is provided to both the applicant and the Patent and Trademark Office on the "Express Mail" label. Also, the labels are of uniform size and can therefore be kept on file relatively easily by the Office, if such is determined to be necessary or desirable. Registered mail and certified mail, on the other hand, provide only a postmark for the mailing date when such mail arrives in the Patent and Trademark Office and such postmarks are often illegible. Also, such mail arrives in various size envelopes which do not easily lend themselves to being filed so that the postmark may be retained. Administrative burdens including lack of certainty of mailing date and storage are considered greater for registered or certified mail than for "Express Mail." The Patent and Trademark Office will monitor closely the use of "Express Mail" by the public and may reconsider permitting the use of other forms of service provided by the United States Postal Service.

Section 1.17

Section 1.17, paragraph (h), is amended as proposed to remove the reference to §1.45 and add a reference to new §1.48 relating to the correction of inventorship in patent applications.

Section 1.22

Section 1.22 is amended to recognize that filing dates may be assigned without payment of the basic filing fee as authorized by §111 of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247. New paragraph 1.22(b) indicates that fees paid to the Office should be itemized in such a manner that the purpose for which the payment is submitted can be clearly determined by Office personnel for proper processing. The final rule includes clarification that it refers to patent and trademark fees and charges.

Section 1.24

Section 1.24 is amended as proposed to remove the reference to coupons in denominations of forty cents since coupons in this denomination are no longer necessary.

Section 1.41

Section 1.41 is amended as proposed to require in paragraph 1.14(a) that a patent be applied for in the name of the actual inventor or inventors and that the full names of the inventors be stated. Paragraph 1.41(b), as amended, clarifies the definition of the word "applicant". New paragraph 1.41(c) permits any person authorized by the applicant to file an application for patent in order to receive a filing date on behalf of the inventor or inventors, but the oath or declaration for the application must be made by all of the actual inventors in accordance with §§1.63 and 1.64. Under new paragraph 1.41(d), a showing may be required from the person initially filing an application that the filing was authorized.

Sections 1.42 and 1.43

Sections 1.42 and 1.43 are amended as proposed to remove the requirement that the legal representative sign the application papers in view of the changes in 35 U.S.C. 111, as amended by Public Law 97-247. The oath or declaration must still be signed. Several occurrences of the masculine gender in §1.42 have been removed.

Section 1.45

Section 1.45 is amended as proposed to remove present paragraphs 1.45(b) and (c) in view of new §1.48 and remove the requirement that joint inventors sign the application papers. The joint inventors are, however, still required to make the oath or declaration in accordance with new §§1.63 and 1.64.

Section 1.46

Section 1.46 is amended as proposed, with two commas being added for clarity, to permit anyone to file the application if authorized by the inventor or inventors or one of the persons mentioned in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47.

Section 1.47

Section 1.47 is amended as proposed to change the reference for the rule on oaths or declarations from §1.65 to §1.63.

Section 1.48

Section 1.48 adds a new section relating to correction of inventorship as authorized by §116 of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247. Under §1.48, if the correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent, the application could be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors so long as the error in the naming of the inventor or inventors occurred without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors. Section 1.48 requires that the amendment be diligently made and be accompanied by (1) a petition including a statement of facts verified by the original named inventor or inventors establishing when the error without deceptive intention was discovered and how it occurred; (2) an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by §1.63; (3) the fee set forth in §1.17(h); and (4) the written consent of any assignee. Correction will be permitted, if diligently requested, in cases where the person originally named as inventor was in fact not the inventor of the subject matter contained in the application. If such error occurred without any deceptive intention on the part of the true inventor, the Office has the authority to substitute the true inventor for the erroneously named person. If deceptive intention was present on the part of other individuals substantively involved in the preparation or prosecution of the application their conduct will be considered and appropriate action taken under 37 CFR 1.56. Although probably rarer, instances such as changes from a mistakenly identified sole inventor to different, but actual, joint inventors; conversions from erroneously identified joint inventors to different but actual, joint inventors; and conversions from erroneously identified joint inventors to a different, but actual, sole inventor will also be permitted. In each instance, however, the Office will have to be assured of the presence of innocent error, without deceptive intention on the part of the true inventor or inventors, before permitting a substitution of a true inventor's name. The final rule language has been modified from that proposed to follow more precisely the language of the statute and the legislative history by permitting correction where the error occurred without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors.

Section 1.51

Section 1.51 is amended to change the reference in paragraph (a)(2) to new §1.63 for the requirements of an oath or declaration and to change paragraph (b) with regard to the required time for filing information disclosure statements. The final rule has been modified from that proposed by eliminating the word "material" before the "information disclosure statement" and the title has been changed to substitute "a complete" for "an" to be more precise.

Section 1.52

Section 1.52 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph 1.52(c) relating to interlineations, erasures, cancellations or other alterations in application papers to specify that such changes must be made before the signing of any accompanying oath or declaration and should be dated and initialed or signed by the applicant on the same sheet of paper. Paragraph 1.52(c), as amended, prohibits making alterations in the application papers after the signing of an oath or declaration referring to such application papers. Under paragraph 1.52(c), as amended, amendments to application papers made after the signing of an oath or declaration referring to the application papers can only be made in the manner provided by §§1.121 and 1.123-1.125.

Section 1.53

Section 1.53 is amended to revise the title to indicate that the section, as amended, relates to application serial numbers, filing dates and completion of applications. Paragraph 1.53(a) indicates that a serial number is assigned to any filed application for identification purposes, even if the application is incomplete or informal. Paragraph 1.53(b) provides that a filing date is assigned to an application as of the date a specification containing a description and claim and any required drawing are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. Although the filing fee and oath or declaration can be submitted later, no amendments can be made to the specification or drawings which will introduce new matter. This practice is authorized by 35 U.S.C. 111 as amended by Public Law 97-247. New paragraph 1.53(c) provides for notifying applicant of any application incomplete because the specification or drawing is missing and giving the applicant a time period to correct any omission. If the omission is not corrected within the time period given, the application will be returned or otherwise disposed of and a handling fee of $50.00 will be retained from any refund of a filing fee. New paragraph 1.53(d) provides that, where a filing date has been assigned to a filed specification and drawing, the applicant will be notified and be given a period of time in which to file the missing fee, oath or declaration and to pay the surcharge due. The time period the Office plans to set is one month from the date of notification by the Patent and Trademark Office, but in no case less than two months after the date of filing of the application. New paragraph 1.53(e) indicates that a patent application will not be forwarded for examination on the merits until all required parts have been received. New paragraph 1.53(f) indicates that international applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty which designate the United States of America are considered to have a United States filing date under PCT Article 11(3), except as provided in 35 U.S.C. 102(e), on the date the requirements of PCT Article 11(1)(i) to (iii) are met. Paragraphs 1.53(b) and (c) have been modified from those proposed by changing the word "received" to the word "filed." The word "receipt" in paragraph 1.53(c) has also been changed to "filing". These changes have been made to ensure that the language of §1.53 cannot be considered to conflict with the use of "Express Mail" to file patent applications and obtain a filing date as of the date of deposit as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service.

Section 1.54

Section 1.54 is amended as proposed to designate the existing section as paragraph (a) and add a reference to §1.53. Paragraph 1.54(b) is added to indicate that applicant will be informed of the serial number and filing date of the application.

Section 1.55

Section 1.55 is amended to limit the section to claims for foreign priority by removing paragraphs (a) and (d) and redesignating paragraphs (b) and (c) as paragraphs (a) and (b). Paragraph 1.55(a) is amended to change the reference from §1.65 to new §1.63. The final rule language includes a reference to 35 U.S.C. 172 which modifies 35 U.S.C. 119 for design patents.

Section 1.56

Section 1.56 is amended to revise paragraph (c) to remove reference to signing of the application but to add reference to signing of the oath or declaration pursuant to new §1.63. Paragraph 1.56(c) has also been modified from that proposed to break it down into four items as suggested by a comment. Under paragraph 1.56(c), an application may be stricken from the files if an oath or declaration pursuant to §1.63 is signed in blank, is signed without review of the oath or declaration by the person making the oath or declaration, or is signed without the review of the specification, including the claims, as required by §1.63(b). Paragraph 1.56(c) also provides for an application to be stricken from the files if application papers filed in the Office are altered after the signing of an oath or declaration pursuant to §1.63 referring to those application papers.

Section 1.57

Section 1.57 is removed as proposed since the requirements relating to applicant's signature to the oath or declaration of the application are adequately covered in other sections.

Section 1.59

Section 1.59 is rewritten as proposed to refer to and conform with the changes proposed in §1.53.

Section 1.60

Section 1.60 is amended to require the applicant to supply a copy of the originally signed application in all cases where the §1.60 filing procedure is used. The Office will no longer prepare copies. The Office, by a separate final rule, published at 47 F.R. 47242 on October 25, 1982, has adopted a new §1.62 to provide for the filing of a file wrapper continuing application which greatly lessens the need for the Office to continue to prepare copies under §1.60. The final rule language makes clear that the statement accompanying a true copy of the parent application must be a verified statement unless made by a person registered to practice before the Office.

Section 1.62

Section 1.62 is amended to avoid inconsistency with 35 U.S.C. 111 which becomes effective on February 27, 1983. 35 U.S.C. 111 as of that date permits filing dates to be granted to patent applications without receipt of the basic filing fee, or oath or declaration. Section 1.62 is therefore being amended to permit the granting of a filing date in accordance with §111. This amendment of §1.62 is necessary to ensure compliance with 35 U.S.C. 111. The Patent and Trademark Office finds that it would be impractical not to amend §1.62 so as to grant a filing date in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 111 and not doing so might also be construed to prevent applicants from taking advantage of the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 111 authorizing the delay in the filing of the fee and oath or declaration. If §1.62 is not amended in the manner set forth in this final rule, questions may be raised as to compliance with 35 U.S.C. 111 as it will exist effective February 27, 1983. Revised paragraph 1.62(a) indicates the minimum requirements for granting of a filing date. Paragraphs 1.62(b) and (c) cover the filing fee and oath or declaration requirements, respectively. Paragraph 1.62(d) relates to later filing of the filing fee or oath or declaration as provided for in 35 U.S.C. 111. Paragraphs 1.62(e)-(i) are identical to former paragraphs 1.62(b)-(f).

Section 1.63

Section 1.63 is added to replace 1.65 relating to the required content and execution of an oath or declaration filed as a part of a patent application and is intended to state the minimum contents thereof. An applicant may, if desired, choose to include one or more additional averments in the oath or declaration such as, for example, stating that the patent is not barred under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 102. Paragraph 1.63(a) provides that the oath or declaration, (1) be executed in accordance with §1.66 or §1.68, (2) identify the specification to which it is directed in some definite manner such as giving the title of the invention or serial number of the application, if previously filed, (3) identify each inventor and his or her residence and country of citizenship, and (4) state whether the inventor is a sole or joint inventor of the claimed invention.

Paragraph 1.63(b) further requires the oath or declaration to state that the person signing the oath or declaration (1) has reviewed and understands the contents of the identified specification, (2) believes the named inventor is the original and the first inventor, and (3) acknowledges the duty to disclose information which is material. While paragraph 1.63(b) requires the person signing the oath or declaration to review and understand the specification including the claims, it is not intended to require that such person be skilled in patent law so as to grasp the legal implications of claim language and drafting. The person must recognize, however, that what is being claimed is the subject matter which that person regards as his or her invention pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112.

Paragraph 1.63(c) requires that any application in which a claim for foreign priority is made identify in the oath or declaration the foreign application for patent or inventor's certificate on which priority is claimed, and any foreign application having a filing date before that of the application on which priority is claimed.

Paragraph 1.63(d) requires that the oath or declaration in a continuation-in-part application, which discloses and claims subject matter in addition to that disclosed in the prior copending application, state that the person making the oath or declaration acknowledges the duty to disclose material information as defined in §1.56(a) which occurred between the filing date of the parent application and the national or PCT international filing date of the continuation-in-part application. This latter requirement is not new, but is included to serve as a reminder to the person making the oath or declaration of this duty to disclose material information such as foreign patenting, publication, or public use or sale in the United States which occurred more than one year prior to the filing date of the continuation-in-part application. For example, in circumstances where the claims of the continuation-in-part application are not fully supported by the disclosure of the parent application so as to be entitled to an earlier effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120, the duty to disclose extends to any material information, as defined in §1.56(a) measured from the filing date of the continuation-in-part application. This would include the first foreign patenting, and any foreign patenting subsequent to the first which materially differs therefrom, of the subject matter of the parent application which occurred more than one year prior to the national or PCT international filing date of the continuation-in-part application. Any publication of the parent application, other than foreign patenting, or any public use or sale in the United States of the subject matter of the prior application, which occurred more than one year prior to the national or PCT international filing date of the continuation-in-part application, would also come within §1.56(a) in such circumstances. See In re Ruscetta and Jenny, 118 U.S.P.Q. 101 (C.C.P.A. 1958); In re van Langenhoven, 458 F. 2d 132, 173 U.S.P.Q. 426 (C.C.P.A. 1972), and Chromalloy American Corp. v. Alloy Surfaces, Co., Inc., 339 F. Supp. 859, 173 U.S.P.Q. 295 (Del. 1972).

Section 1.64

Section 1.64 is added as proposed to clearly indicate who must sign the oath or declaration of a patent application.

Section 1.65

Section 1.65 is removed as proposed because the oath or declaration requirements set forth therein are covered by new §1.63.

Section 1.67

Section 1.67 is amended as proposed to remove all of paragraphs (a) and (b) and substitute therefor new wording. Paragraph 1.67(a) indicates that a supplemental oath or declaration meeting the requirements of new §1.63 may be required to correct deficiencies or inaccuracies present in an earlier oath or declaration. Paragraph 1.67(b) requires a supplemental oath or declaration to be filed (1) when a claim is presented embracing material not originally claimed and (2) when a subsequently filed oath or declaration under §1.53(d) refers to an amendment which includes improper new matter. Paragraph 1.67(b) also clearly states the prohibition against entry of new matter after the filing date of the application.

Section 1.69

Section 1.69, paragraph (b), is amended as proposed to change the time at which a translation of a non-English language oath or declaration which has not been supplied by the Office must be filed. The time period for filing the translation is changed to two months after notification that a translation is required. The reference to §1.65 in paragraph 1.69(b) is changed to §1.63.

Section 1.70

Section 1.70 is amended to refer to §1.63 for the requirements to be met when an oath or declaration is filed under 35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4). The wording of the title in the final rule is changed to reflect more clearly the subject matter of the rule.

Section 1.77

Section 1.77 is amended as proposed to change paragraphs (h) and (i) to refer to the abstract of the disclosure and signed oath or declaration, respectively.

Section 1.97

Section 1.97 is amended to change the title from "prior art statement" to "information disclosure statement". This change is appropriate since the designation "information disclosure statement" more accurately characterizes the nature and content of the information which may be included in such a statement. Information which is required to be submitted pursuant to §1.56 may ultimately be determined not to be "prior art," but nevertheless may be "material" pursuant to §1.56. Section 1.97 has also been modified from that proposed by eliminating the word "material" since information submitted pursuant to §1.97 may be considered to be of questionable materiality or may be determined, upon examination, not to be "material". Section 1.97 now provides that an information disclosure statement should be filed with the application or within the later of three months after the filing date of the application or two months after applicant receives the filing receipt. Paragraph 1.97(b) has been amended in recognition that applicant may choose to furnish other material information in another manner or statement. Paragraph 1.97(b) now also refers to section 1.56(a) for the definition of "material information". The amendments to paragraph 1.97(b) do not in any manner reduce the obligation to submit material information as defined in §1.56(a).

Section 1.98

Section 1.98 indicates that information disclosure statements should list prior art with all of the information which is required to print such citations on the front page of a patent. The final rule states clearly that the publication date indicated on the document should be submitted. This will not serve to preclude a showing of a different, actual publication date. Another purpose of the citation requirements in this section is to permit ready reference to the document from its citation.

Section 1.99

Section 1.99 is amended to change the title to be consistent with the amendment to §1.97.

Section 1.101

Section 1.101 is amended to indicate specifically that applications which are to have their examination advanced pursuant to §1.102 will be taken up for examination out of order by the examiner. The final rule is also modified to set out when international applications which have complied with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 371(c) are taken up for action.

Section 1.118

Section 1.118 is amended as proposed to designate the previous section as new paragraph (a) and amend it to clearly state that no new matter may be introduced into an application and to make specific reference to §§1.53, 1.63 and 1.67. New paragraph 1.118(b) indicates how improper amendments which introduce new matter in the specification or claims will be handled by the examiner.

Section 1.123

Section 1.123 is amended to require all corrections to drawings to be made by bonded draftsmen at applicant's expense since the Office does not have sufficient draftsmen to make such corrections. Sketches of any desired corrections will, however, still require approval of the examiner. The final rule makes clear that changes in the drawing may be made by submission of substitute drawings.

Section 1.125

Section 1.125 is amended to relax the prohibition against substitute specifications which are not required by the examiner. The section, however, adds the requirement that any substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that the substitute specification includes no new matter. Under the section the statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office. The final rule specifies that a substitute specification may not be accepted unless it is clear to the examiner that processing of the application would be facilitated thereby.

Section 1.131

Section 1.131 is amended as proposed to refer to the use of affidavits or declarations under the section during reexamination of a patent as long as the patent upon which the rejection is based does not claim the rejected invention. Section 1.131 cannot be used to overcome a rejection based upon a United States patent claiming the rejected invention. This is true regardless of whether the rejected claims are contained in an application being examined or a patent being reexamined. Section 1.131 is inapplicable if the same invention is being claimed by the United States patent upon which the rejection is based. Under the section as amended, the same person or persons who would make the affidavit or declaration in an application will be required to make the affidavit or declaration on behalf of the owner of the patent under reexamination.

Section 1.132

Section 1.132 is amended as proposed to refer to the use of affidavits or declarations under the section during reexamination of a patent.

Section 1.137

Section 1.137 is amended as proposed to except from the provisions of paragraph (b) those applications abandoned pursuant to §1.53(d) because the fee, oath, or declaration and the surcharge were not submitted. Section 111 of Title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 97-247, requires that any delay in submission of the fee and oath be shown to be unavoidable. Thus, paragraph (b) of §1.137 permitting revival where abandonment was unintentional is inapplicable to the revival of applications which become abandoned pursuant to §1.53(d).

Section 1.141

The proposed amendments to §1.141 are withdrawn infra to permit the public to study the issues involved and make any further recommendations considered appropriate.

Section 1.153

Section 1.153 is amended to change the reference for oath and declaration requirements from §1.65 to §1.63 and to conform the language of the rule to be consistent therewith.

Section 1.154

Section 1.154 is amended as proposed to revise paragraph (e) to refer to the signed oath or declaration requirements of §1.153(b).

Section 1.162

Section 1.162 is amended as proposed to change the reference from §1.65 to §1.63.

Section 1.163

Section 1.163 is amended as proposed to change the wording of the section to clearly indicate that a signed oath or declaration is required rather than a signed specification.

Section 1.172

Section 1.172 is amended to indicate clearly that the reissue oath is signed and sworn to rather than the reissue application. The final rule has been modified from that proposed by referring to a "reissue oath" rather than to "reissue oaths".

Section 1.174

Section 1.174 is amended as proposed to remove the requirement that photoprints of original drawings be securely mounted or pasted on sheets of drawing board because paper drawings are acceptable.

Section 1.175

Section 1.175 is amended as proposed to change the reference to the oath or declaration from §1.65 to §1.63.

Sections 1.301, 1.302 and 1.303

The proposed amendments to sections 1.301, 1.302 and 1.303, referring to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rather than to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, have been adopted as final rules as published on Oct. 26, 1982 at 47 FR 47380-47382 and corrected on Nov. 5, 1982 at 47 FR 50142 and therefore are not republished here.

Section 1.324

Section 1.324 is amended to include wording similar to that in §1.48 for correction of inventorship in applications.

Section 1.325

Section 1.325 is amended as proposed to include reference to the reexamination procedure.

Section 1.335

Section 1.335 is added as proposed to provide a new section relating to the filing in the Patent and Trademark Office of notices of arbitration awards. Such filing is required under §294 of Title 35, United States Code, as added by Public Law 97-247. The final rule has also been modified in response to a comment to indicate that the notices of arbitration awards are intended to be placed in the patent files.

Section 1.565

The proposed amendments to §1.565 are withdrawn infra to permit the public to study the issues involved and make any further recommendations considered appropriate.

Section 5.12

Section 5.12 is amended as proposed to separate the section into two paragraphs. Paragraph (a) provides that the filing of an application for an invention made in the United States is considered to include a petition for a license for foreign filing. If a license is granted, it will be indicated on the filing receipt. If it is not granted, no indication of the denial will appear. Failure to grant a license should be considered a denial of a first petition for a license. A subsequent petition may be filed under §5.12(b). Section 5.12(b) is essentially the text of §5.12 in its previous form. No rights to file a petition for license are being removed.

Withdrawal of Proposed Amendments To Sections 1.141 and 1.565.

A number of the speakers at the public hearing held on Dec. 16, 1982, urged that the amendments to §§1.141 and 1.565 be deferred or dropped pending further study. Those urging that the proposed amendments to §1.141 not be adopted at this time included speakers from the American Patent Law Association, from Committee 103 of the American Bar Associations's Patent, Trademark & Copyright Section, and from the Bar Association of the District of Columbia. The Boston Patent Law Association urged that the amendment to §1.565 be removed or held in abeyance. The American Patent Law Association indicated that more time was needed for its committees to analyze the issues in the proposed amendments to §§1.141 and 1.565.

In response to the recommendations received at the public hearing, the proposed amendments to §§1.141 and 1.565 are being withdrawn at this time to permit the public to study the issues involved and make any further recommendations considered appropriate. Pending the further study referred to by the speakers at the hearing and coasideration of any recommendations resulting therefrom, the Office will continue to operate under present §§1.141 and 1.565 as interpreted by the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and relevant Patent and Trademark Office and judicial precedents.

Responses to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. All of the comments, including the written comments and the oral testimony, were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein.

Forty-eight letters presenting written comments were received and seven persons testified at the public hearing on Dec. 16, 1982.

Comments appear below along with responses thereto.

Comment:

One comment objected to inadequate notice regarding these proposed rule changes.

Reply:

The proposed rules notice was published in the Federal Register on Oct. 27, 1982. This is more than seven weeks prior to the date of the hearing and four months prior to the effective date of the final rules. Such periods are considered to be reasonable in view of the fact that the legislation requiring the rule changes was only enacted on Aug. 27, 1982 and that other rule changes were required to be implemented by Oct. 1, 1982.

Comment:

One comment proposed that "Patent and Trademark Office" should be used in the rules rather than merely "Office".

Reply:

The proposal has been adopted in the final rules in those locations where confusion may otherwise result.

Comment:

Five comments requested that promulgation of §§1.10, 1.63, 1.97, 1.141 and 1.565(e) be delayed and the period for comment extended until Mar. 30, 1983.

Reply:

Amendments to §§1.141 and 1.565 are not being promulgated at this time to provide time for further consideration and study as requested. If after study, a rule change is felt desirable, a new proposal will be issued. New §1.10 is being promulgated to make it available to applicants as it was intended in the statute. New §1.63 is being added and §1.65 deleted to reduce the formal statements required. If desired, the old oath and declaration forms may continue to be used if the statement is included that applicant "has reviewed and understands the contents of the specification, including the claims". For continuation-in-part applications, it is necessary to also include language is conformance with §1.63(d). Section 1.97 is being promulgated to remove problems relating to the time period in the current wording and to clarify the section in general.

Comment:

One person questioned why Sunday was not mentioned in §1.6(b) or (c).

Reply:

Section 1.6(b) and (c) are limited to weekdays which by definition excludes Sunday.

Comment:

Two comments were received which proposed that only a certificate of mailing procedure as in §1.8(a) be used for determining the date of deposit under 35 U.S.C. 21.

Reply:

The filing date of an application is considered to be much more critical than the filing dates of papers accepted under §1.8. The application filing date is often critical for determining if a statutory bar exists, whether foreign priority can be claimed and who is the senior party in an interference. Therefore, papers filed for purposes of receiving an application filing date should have some clear indication of the date of receipt by the United States Postal Service. Such a practice would also probably require storing all of the envelopes in the file wrapper for record purposes.

Comment:

Three comments were received which stated that private courier services should also be provided for in §1.10.

Reply:

Section 21(a) as amended by Public Law 97-247 provides for filing dates being given only when "deposited with the United States Postal Service." Although private courier services may be used to deliver papers to the Patent and Trademark Office, the actual date of receipt by the Patent and Trademark Office will be considered to be the filing date.

Comment:

A comment was received which argued that the Post Office date stamp should be stamped on the mailing label instead of having to enter the label number on each document.

Reply:

Stamping the mailing label would not add anything since the postal clerk receiving the "Express Mail" must already indicate the date and time of deposit and initial the label. A purpose of placing the label number on each paper is to permit several papers to be placed in a single envelope. The mailing labels may be retained in the Patent and Trademark Office for later verification.

Comment:

Seven comments were received that the requirement that the item be received the following day (§1.10(b)) was unnecessarily restrictive.

Reply:

Section 1.10 does not require that the item be received the next day in the Patent and Trademark Office in order to receive the date of deposit as the mailing date. The one day reference has been deleted. Further proof of mailing may be required where an unreasonable period of time is involved and supporting evidence is not otherwise available to the Patent and Trademark Office. Documents deposited with the United States Postal Service will be given a filing date which corresponds to the date of receipt indicated by the postal clerk on the "Express Mail" mailing label.

Comment:

Four comments indicated that §1.10 does not assist in placing applicants and attorneys outside the Washington area on the same footing as those in Washington.

Reply:

The main purpose of §1.10 is to implement 35 U.S.C. 21(a) in a manner which would provide for granting filing dates for papers and fees as of the date of their deposit with the United States Postal Service. Certainly these provisions using "Express Mail," together with the certificate of mailing procedure available under §1.8, will go a long way in reducing last minute deliveries to the Patent and Trademark Office by persons outside the Washington area.

Comment:

Two comments stated that the comments accompanying§1.10(c) should be clarified to explain the meaning of "more than one day."

Reply:

The final rule has been clarified.

Comment:

It was proposed by one person that the "affidavit or declaration" under §1.10(c) be waived if the statement is made by a registered attorney or agent.

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

It was indicated by one person that certified mail provides proof of mailing date under §1.10 by virtue of the Post Office stamp on the certified mail receipt card.

Reply:

The information on the certified mail receipt card is of no benefit to the Patent and Trademark Office since it is immediately returned to the sender. The Patent and Trademark Office would not be able to retain any information which gives proof of the date of mailing.

Comment:

Three comments raised questions as to the need to make the acceptance of the "Express Mail" contingent upon the performance of the Post Office in §1.10(c).

Reply:

The acceptance of the "Express Mail" is not contingent upon "next day delivery". The reference in §1.10(c) to proof of mailing merely provides a basis for the Office requiring proof of mailing where an explanation appears to be necessary to clarify the record. Such information is expected to be required only in a few instances. The rule has also been revised to clarify this matter.

Comment:

Five persons suggested the use of registered or certified U.S. mail for obtaining filing dates under 35 U.S.C. 21.

Reply:

Registered mail does not provide any information or evidence to the Patent and Trademark Office as to the date of mailing other than the postmark, which is often unreadable. Storage of envelopes containing such postmarks is also burdensome. The deficiency of certified mail has already been discussed.

Comment:

One person questioned what treatment will be accorded a paper placed in an "Express Mail" box receptacle after the box has been cleared for the last time on a given day.

Reply:

The paper will be considered to be deposited as of the date of receipt indicated on the "Express Mail" mailing label by the Postal Service clerk.

Comment:

One person commented that he found the idea of using a declaration or affidavit to establish a date of deposit unacceptable because it exposes the integrity of the assignment of filing dates to the risk of deception.

Reply:

The use of declarations or affidavits is usually intended to help explain activities which can be supported by exhibits. For example, if the Office copy of the mailing label was not entirely readable, applicant's copy of the "Express Mail" mailing label could accompany a declaration and serve as the basis for granting a filing date.

Comment:

Three persons objected to permitting only the individual who places the correspondence in an "Express Mail" facility to execute the certificate of express mailing under§1.10(c).

Reply:

The wording of §1.10(c) differs from §1.8 because the documents which are expected to be filed under §1.10 are patent and trademark applications. The filing dates of such documents are very important and should therefore be based on personal knowledge.

Comment:

One comment was received which suggested that §1.10 be adopted with an effective date retroactive to a year earlier.

Reply:

Such an earlier date is not possible since the statutory authority for §1.10 does not come into effect until Feb. 27, 1983.

Comment:

One comment proposed designating the Patent and Trademark Office as an "Express Mail" Post Office to make lower rates available.

Reply:

Such a designation is not possible.

Comment:

One person requested that the Patent and Trademark Office publish a form of certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" suitable for purposes of §1.10(b).

Reply:

A suggested form is included in the preamble of this rule change.

Comment:

One comment proposed that §1.10(c) clearly state what evidence will be necessary and sufficient to prove a filing date by mailing.

Reply:
A specific answer cannot be given since it is dependent upon the particular fact situation and what evidence is actually available.
Comment:
Two comments questioned whether P.L. 97–247 authorized a rule such as §1.10 granting filing dates as of the mailing date.
Reply:
The question raised by this comment has been treated in the discussion of §1.10 supra.
Comment:
One comment proposed that §1.10 be corrected to read—Any paper or fee required to be filed—to more closely conform with 35 U.S.C. 21(a).
Reply:
No need is seen to change §1.10 as suggested since, if a patent is desired, it is "required" that each paper relating to an application be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office.
Comment:
One comment indicated that the requirement to place the "Express Mail" label number on each paper and fee is not realistic.
Reply:
The placement of the label number on each paper or fee allows later verification of the mailing dates of all different papers mailed in one envelope and is not seen to be overly burdensome.
Comment:
A question was raised as to whether the "Express Mail" label number should be placed on every page.
Reply:
The label number need not be placed on each page. It should, however, be placed on the first page of each separate document, such as, a new application, amendment, assignment, and transmittal letter for a fee, along with the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail". Although the label number may be on checks, such a practice is not required.
Comment:
A question was raised by one party as to the location within the Patent and Trademark Office of the mailing labels where papers to different applications are placed in the same envelope.
Reply:
The mailing labels from all "Express Mail" packages are expected to be removed and initially retained centrally in the Mail Room of the Patent and Trademark Office. The number on each document will allow direct access to the appropriate mailing label if any questions should arise.
Comment:
One comment suggested that §1.22(b) be amended to exclude itemization of all fees where a general authorization to charge a deposit account has been given.
Reply:
Even where fees are charged to a deposit account, it is desirable to know specifically which fees are to be paid. Therefore, the suggestion has not been adopted.
Comment:
One comment was received which suggested adding a sentence to §1.41(d) indicating that the filing of an oath or declaration executed by the applicant would constitute proof of authority to file the application.
Reply:
Such an additional sentence is not considered to be necessary since the Patent and Trademark Office does not intend to utilize the provisions of §1.41(d) unless a controversy arises.
Comment:
One comment was received which suggested the addition to the end of §1.42 of the words "except for patents granted to the assignee either of the inventor or of the legal representative of the inventor."
Reply:
No change is considered to be necessary since few, if any, problems have arisen without such additional wording in the past. The existing rule wording "upon proper intervention" also provides protection for assignees.
Comment:
One comment was received which indicated that §1.46 does not clearly authorize an assignee of a part interest to cause an application to be placed on file.
Reply:
Although §1.46 may not make this point clear, it is clear from §1.41(c).
Comment:
One comment recommended that the requirement to show diligence in correcting inventorship under §1.48 be deleted.
Reply:
It is felt that corrections of inventorship should be diligently made in patent applications. The naming of correct inventorship is necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to make decisions on topics such as double patenting, priority claims and first inventorship.
Comment:
It was recommended in one comment that the verified statement of facts required by §1.48 "by the original named inventor or inventors" be replaced by a requirement that he or they merely assent to the statement of the facts since others may be better able to provide the best evidence.
Reply:
Since it is the original inventorship that is being changed, it is believed that all of the previously named inventors should positively indicate their agreement with the facts in the case. Affidavits by other individuals may also be supplied where such persons have direct personal knowledge of certain aspects of the case.
Comment:
One comment indicated that "it seems a reasonable presumption that if ownership is unaffected, deceptive intent is absent" in a §1.48 correction of inventorship situation and that such a presumption could be written into the rules.
Reply:
Even if applications are commonly owned, the wrong inventorship could be deceptively named to obtain rights which are only available to the same inventive entities. The report on Public Law 97–247 also states that "the commissioner must be assured of the presence of innocent error, without deceptive intention . . ." before permitting a substitution of a true inventor's name.
Comment:
One person suggested that the deceptive intent in §1.48 refer to the acts of the actual inventors rather than to both the alleged and actual inventor or inventors.
Reply:
This suggestion has been adopted in both §§1.48 and 1.324, but deceptive intention on the part of other parties is subject to review under §1.56.
Comment:
One person suggested that in §1.48, line 3 "may" be changed to—must—.
Reply:
The suggestion has not been adopted. Corrections may only be made if the conditions set forth in §1.48 are satisfied.
Comment:
Two comments objected to the insertion of "material" in §1.51(b).
Reply:
This word has been removed and does not appear in the final rule.
Comment:
One comment suggested changing "an" to—a complete—in the title of §1.51.
Reply:
This suggestion has been adopted.
Comment:
One comment indicated that §§1.52(c) and 1.56(c) seemed overly inflexible and harsh when considering minor grammatical changes.

Reply:
Although §1.56 indicates that applications "may" be stricken, rather than "must" be stricken, it is still considered important to maintain a clear line in the regulations against changes in the original applications made after the execution of the application oath or declaration. The line between grammatical changes and changes relating to the merits is frequently unclear.
Comment:
Three comments noted an apparent inconsistency between proposed §§1.10 and 1.53 as to whether §1.10 relates to the filing of patent applications.
Reply:
Section 1.10 does relate to the filing of patent applications. In order to clarify the wording, "received" in §1.53(b) has been changed to "filed".
Comment:
One comment was received suggesting that a sentence be added to §1.53(d) to indicate that PCT applicants cannot submit late filing fees, oaths or declarations under 35 U.S.C. 371.
Reply:
Such a reference in §1.53 does not appear appropriate because this section relates to "filing dates". In the PCT situation, the filing date was already granted at the time of filing the PCT international application.
Comment:
One comment was received which suggested that §1.53(a) be rewritten to indicate all applications are assigned serial numbers but not accorded filing dates.
Reply:
The proposal was not adopted since it is considered unnecessary.
Comment:
One person suggested that §1.53(b) be amended to specify that only "a specification purporting to contain a description and at least one claim . . ." is needed to obtain a filing date.
Reply:
No change is being made since a determination must be initially made as to whether or not a specification has been filed. In any case, sufficiency of the specification must later be checked by the examiner.
Comment:
One person indicated that the time period for filing a correction to a defect in an application is left entirely within the discretion of the Commissioner and that any setting of periods of time would be tantamount to an exercise of rulemaking authority. Section 1.53(d) should be provided with an explicit time limitation.
Reply:
No specific time period is considered to be necessary in the regulations. The Commissioner has full authority and discretion under the statute in 35 U.S.C. 111 to set periods of time. The statute does not require the Commissioner to use the rulemaking process to set time periods for response to an action or requirement by the Patent and Trademark Office in a patent application.
Comment:
Two comments were received objecting to the use of the words "or otherwise disposed of" in §1.53(c).
Reply:
This wording has existed in §1.53(b) in the past without objection. No need is seen to depart from this wording at this time.
Comment:
One person questioned whether the change in §1.54(b) would result in return post cards not being stamped with the application serial number.
Reply:
No change is intended in the existing return post card practice.
Comment:
One comment proposed adding another sentence to §1.154(b) indicating that foreign priority claims will be acknowledged on the filing receipt.
Reply:
This proposal is not being adopted since the examiner must determine whether the statutory requirements of 35 U.S.C. 119 have been met before an acknowledgment can be sent.
Comment:
One comment suggested that the Patent and Trademark Office indicate on the filing receipt both the filing date under §1.10 and the actual date of receipt.
Reply:
The actual date of receipt can be obtained by requesting a receipt from the Postal Service. The actual date of receipt cannot be placed on the filing receipt because of current computer limitations. The suggestion is therefore not being adopted at this time.
Comment:
One comment was received indicating that it is not clear whether or not an application based on a specification and drawing, but containing no oath or declaration or filing fee, could serve as the basis for a priority claim under 35 U.S.C. 120.
Reply:
If the filed specification and drawings fully disclose the invention as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, the application may serve as a basis for a priority claim under §120 even if no oath or declaration, or no fee has been filed, as long as the continuing application is filed prior to the abandonment of the first application under §1.53(d).
Comment:
One comment suggested that §1.55(b) be removed since the requirements of the statute are fully set forth in 35 U.S.C. 119.
Reply:
Although the statutory requirements set forth basic requirements, it is felt that the more specific details of §1.55(b) provide needed guidance for applicants.
Comment:
Two persons questioned the meaning of "inspection and review" in §1.56(c) and suggested certain amendments.
Reply:
The words "inspection and" are being removed to eliminate any redundancy. The paragraph has also been broken down into four items as proposed by a comment.
Comment:
One suggestion was made that applicant be allowed to order a copy of the parent patent, with payment of fee, when filing a §1.60 application.
Reply:
Such a practice is contrary to the intent of the rule change. The problems the Patent and Trademark Office is attempting to solve by the change, which are caused by poor copies and delays in processing, would remain with such a practice.
Comment:
Two persons suggested that §1.60 be amended to drop "and claimed" from the title.
Reply:
The suggestion has been adopted.
Comment:
One person suggested that §1.60 be modified to drop the requirement for verification by affidavit when the statement is made by a registered patent attorney or agent.
Reply:
The suggestion has been adopted.
Comment:
One comment noted that there is no specific requirement in §§1.56, 1.63 or 1.98 to identify foreign applications filed more than one year prior to the U.S. filing date.
Reply:
Section 1.63(b)(3) broadly requires applicant to acknowledge the duty to disclose information material to the examination of the application. This information includes foreign patents based on applications filed more than a year prior to the filing date of the United States application and which issue before the filing date of the United States application.
Comment:
One person felt that §1.63(b)(1) will be a disaster for the patent system since the inventor may not be physically able to review and understand the invention or because the legal language format used in claims may not be understood by the inventor. Five persons argued that adoption of §1.63 would result in raising the defense that the inventor did not understand the claims in each patent infringement suit.

Reply:

The inventor is not expected to understand all the legal interpretations or limitations in a claim. The inventor is expected to recognize that what is being claimed is the subject matter which the inventor regards as his or her invention pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112. The physical factors have to some extent existed in past practice and have been handled on a case-by-case basis where necessary. The situation outlined would exist in any signing of a legal document. The wording of §1.63 has been explained in the preamble to minimize occurrences of problems.

Comment:

One comment noted that many inventors do not know whether additional subject matter is claimed in a continuation-in-part application under §1.63(d).

Reply:

The wording in §1.63(d) is considered to be appropriate and in accordance with case law. If uncertainty exists the attorney or agent, if any, should clarify the matter and §1.63(d) should be followed.

Comment:

One person proposed that §1.63(d) be modified to explicitly require the disclosure of foreign patents granted before the filing of the continuation-in-part application.

Reply:

Section 1.63(d) has been amended to clearly indicate that material information pursuant to §1.56(a) between the filing date of the parent application and the filing date of the continuation-in-part application must be disclosed. The discussion of new §1.63 refers to material foreign patents published during this time interval.

Comment:

Two comments indicated concern with the parenthetical language in proposed §1.63(d) in that it would create severe problems.

Reply:

Paragraph (d) of §1.63 has been amended to remove such problems.

Comment:

One comment suggested adding—he or she is aware of—after information in §1.63(b)(3) and (d).

Reply:

This suggestion is not adopted since such wording is already present in §1.56(a).

Comment:

One comment suggested that §1.63(c) clarify what is intended by "the first filed foreign application," particularly in view of 35 U.S.C. 119, third paragraph.

Reply:

The rule has been amended to clarify the matter.

Comment:

One comment was received suggesting changes be made in the title and that paragraph (b) of §1.70 refer to §1.63 instead of "this section."

Reply:

The change suggested to the title has been made. The suggestion to paragraph (b) has not been made since it is considered unnecessary.

Comment:

Three comments were received which indicated that the wording of §1.97(a) would require an immediate filing of disclosure information if the filing receipt is received just before three months after filing.

Reply:

The wording of §1.97(a) has been changed to remove this problem.

Comment:

One comment was received which urged that the title of §1.97 and contents of §1.97(b) not be changed, since the proposed wording would not require filing of the closest prior art.

Reply:

The proposed changes are not intended to make any changes in the type of information which is to be submitted to the Office. The proposal has been adopted in modified form.

Comment:

One person indicated preference for the use of "prior art" in §§1.51(b), 1.97, 1.98, and 1.99 since it does not create an inferred admission that the information submitted is material. Five comments favored the removal of "prior art" from §1.97 but objected to the addition of "material".

Reply:

The rule change was proposed to answer arguments that the use of the term "prior art" implied that the information was a reference against applicant's invention. Since the majority of the comments supported modifying the rule, the use of the terms "prior art" as well as "material" are being dropped.

Comment:

Two comments were received concerning §1.98(a) suggesting that the "place of publication" be clarified or removed.

Reply:

This suggestion has not been adopted since the "place of publication" is not mandatory. It is intended to mean the city and country of publication. Also the citation of the "place of publication" is consistent with the §1.107(a) requirements.

Comment:

It was suggested by one person that §1.101 be amended to clarify when PCT international applications which have entered the national stage should be taken up for examination.

Reply:

An amendment has been made to §1.101 as suggested to clarify that they are taken up in order based on the date they have entered the national stage by compliance with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 371(c).

Comment:

One comment was presented suggesting that the words "which are not examined on the merits" in §1.101 be removed.

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

One comment urged returning to the use of the Office draftsmen for minor corrections to reduce the burden under proposed §1.123.

Reply:

Some minor corrections may be made by the Office draftsmen on a time-available basis. However, since the Office currently has only a few draftsmen who are responsible for reviewing and approving all drawings, very little time is presently available for making corrections.

Comment:

Four suggestions were made to amend §1.123 to specifically provide for the filing of substitute drawings if corrections are required.

Reply:

These suggestions have been adopted.

Comment:

One comment was received indicating that §1.125 should indicate to whom it should be clear that acceptance of a substitute specification would facilitate processing.

Reply:

An amendment has been made to clarify that it should be clear to the examiner.

Comment:

One comment suggested removal of the last sentence of §1.137(b) to permit §1.183 petitions to be filed to waive time periods for requesting revival of unintentionally abandoned applications.

Reply:

No change in §1.137(b) is considered to be appropriate at this time since §1.137(b) only became effective on Oct. 1, 1982.

(Since changes to §1.141 are not being promulgated in this rule change, comments and replies to this section are not included.)

Comment:

One comment pointed out that the reference to a "period of twelve months" in §1.153 was indefinite.

Reply:

Section 1.153 has been amended to remove the indefiniteness.

Comment:

One comment was presented which suggested that §1.172 refer to a "reissue oath" rather than to "reissue oaths."

Reply:

This suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

One comment suggested the insertion of "the filing of" before "each patent" in §1.335(a) and (b).

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

(Since the proposed addition of a new paragraph (e) to §1.565 is not being adopted in this rule change, comments and replies to this section are not included.)

Comment:

One suggestion was made that a procedure be designed in which foreign filing licenses could be granted by return post card without losing the time required to send the filing receipts.

Reply:

It is felt that the procedure under §5.12 should be adopted at this time and be placed into operation. If after some experience additional modifications are found desirable, further changes could be made. To introduce several alternative procedures at this time is considered to be too complex and may endanger the success of the proposed procedure.

Comment:

One comment requested that the Office grant a prospective foreign filing license under §5.12 for all data and amendatory material to be filed abroad.

Reply:

Such petitions are not part of this proposed change but this concept is being considered in a separate rule change proposal.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the Filing Receipt specifically indicate whether or not a license has been denied under §5.12.

Reply:

The proposed practice under §5.12 would indicate on the Filing Receipt when a license is granted. On other cases in which a license is not granted further review is required. A license may still be granted at a later date.

Comment:

One comment stated that it should be possible to petition at any early date for a foreign filing license as well as obtain one on the filing receipt.

Reply:

It will still be possible to petition earlier for a license under revised §5.12.

Implementation Of Patent Procedure Revisions

The effective date of the patent procedure revisions contained in this rulemaking is Feb. 27, 1983. The various sections will be implemented in the manner set forth below:

§1.10 Filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate.

The "Guidelines under §1.10" set forth below provide guidance in implementing §1.10:

Guidelines under §1.10

A) The certification under §1.10 requires a signature of the person depositing the paper with the United States Postal Service as "Express Mail". Specifically, if the certification under §1.10 appears on a paper that requires a signature, two signatures are required, one for the paper and one for the certification under §1.10.

B) When possible, the certification under §1.10 should appear on an upper portion of the first page of the paper being submitted. However, if there is insufficient space to make the certification on the same paper, such as in the case of the patent issue fee transmittal form PTO-85, the certification should be on a separate sheet securely attached to the paper.

C) When the certification is presented on a separate sheet, that sheet must (1) be signed and (2) fully identify and be securely attached to the paper or fee it accompanies. The required identification should include the serial number and filing date of the application as well as the type of paper being filed, e.g., complete application, specification and drawings, responses to rejection or refusal, notice of appeal, etc. If the serial number of the application is not known, the identification should include at least the name of the inventor(s) and the title of the invention. An unsigned certification will not be considered acceptable.

Moreover, without the proper identifying data, a certification presented on a separate sheet will not be considered acceptable if there is any question or doubt concerning the connection between the sheet and the paper filed.

D) In situations wherein the correspondence includes papers for more than one application e.g., a single envelope containing separate applications or papers for various parts of the Patent and Trademark Office, each paper must have its own certification and the "Express Mail" label number as part thereof or attached thereto.

E) In situations wherein the correspondence includes several papers directed to the same application (e.g., a proposed response under 37 CFR 1.116 and a notice of appeal), each paper should also have its own certification as a part thereof or attached thereto.

F) Practitioners may place the certification language on the first page of a paper with an inked stamp. Such a practice is encouraged because the certification is not only readily visible but also forms an integral part of the paper. An example of a preferred stamp is:

"Express Mail" mailing label number _____
Date of Deposit _____

I hereby certify that this paper or fee is being deposited with the United States Postal Service "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service under 37 CFR 1.10 on the date indicated above and is addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

§1.48 Correction of inventorship.

Any patent application pending on or after Feb. 27, 1983, is subject to the provisions of this section.

§1.53 Serial number, filing date, and completion of application.

The provisions of this section apply to any patent application filed on or after Feb. 27, 1983.

§1.63 Oath or declaration.

The provisions of §1.63 will become effective on Feb. 27, 1983, and will apply to any oath or declaration filed on or after that date. However, in order to provide a smooth transition from the old oath or declaration requirements to the new, the Office will continue to accept between Feb. 27, 1983, and June 30, 1983, any oath or declaration in compliance with §1.65 as it existed immediately prior to Feb. 27, 1983, so long as that oath or declaration is attached to and was executed as a part of an application to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office.

Effective July 1, 1983, all oaths or declarations filed under §1.51(a)(2) as a part of a patent application must fully comply with §1.63.

A suggested format for a declaration is set forth below:

The declaration form set forth above is specifically designed for use where the specification is attached to the form and the specification and declaration are filed at one time, and also where the declaration form is filed after the specification and drawings in accordance with §1.53. The form can be used where foreign priority is claimed under 35 U.S.C. 119 and where the benefit of one or more United States applications is claimed under 35 U.S.C. 120. Appropriate modifications can be made in the form so long as compliance with the rules is maintained. For example, if the form is being used as a supplemental declaration form which is being submitted after numerous amendments the form might appropriately be modified by changing the words "was amended on" to "with amendments through."

§1.335 Filing of notice of arbitration awards.

The written notices required by this section should be directed to the attention of the Office of the Solicitor, which Office will be responsible for processing of such notices.

Other Considerations

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.

The rule change will not have a significant averse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354) for several reasons. Public Law 97-247 has taken into consideration the impact it may have on small entities. In general, the rule change will also expedite proceedings before the Patent and Trademark Office, changing existing procedures where they can be simplified.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public. In fact, some paperwork, especially that related to foreign filing license petitions, will be reduced.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 5

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and Public Law 97-247, the Patent and Trademark Office is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

2. Section 1.6 is revised to read as follows:

§1.6 Receipt of letters and papers.

(a) Letters and other papers received in the Patent and Trademark Office are stamped with the date of receipt. No papers are received in the Patent and Trademark Office on Saturdays, Sundays or federal holidays within the District of Columbia.

(b) Mail placed in the Patent and Trademark Office pouch up to midnight on weekdays, excepting Saturdays and federal holidays, by the post office at Washington, D. C., serving the Patent and Trademark Office, is considered as having been received in the Patent and Trademark Office on the day it was so placed in the pouch.

(c) In addition to being mailed or delivered by hand during office hours, letters and other papers may be deposited up to midnight in a box provided at the guard's desk at the lobby of building 3 of the Patent and Trademark Office at Crystal Plaza, Arlington, Virginia and at the main entrance (14th Street) of the Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C., on weekdays except Saturdays and federal holidays, and all papers deposited therein are considered as received in the Patent and Trademark Office on the day of deposit.

(d) If interruptions or emergencies in the United States Postal Service which have been so designated by the Commissioner occur, the Patent and Trademark Office will consider as filed on a particular date in the Office any paper or fee which is (1) promptly filed after the ending of the designated interruption or emergency and (2) accompanied by a statement indicating that such paper or fee would have been filed on that particular date if it were not for the designated interruption or emergency in the United States Postal Service. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

3. Section 1.7 is revised to read as follows:

§1.7 Times for taking action: Expiration on Saturday, Sunday or federal holiday.

Whenever periods of time are specified in this part in days, calendar days are intended. When the day, or the last day fixed by statute or by or under this part for taking any action or paying any fee in the Patent and Trademark Office falls on Saturday, Sunday, or on a federal holiday within the District of Columbia, the action may be taken, or the fee paid, on the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or a federal holiday. See §1.304 for time for appeal or for commencing civil action.

§1.8 Certificate of mailing.

(a) Except in the cases enumerated below, papers and fees required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within a set period of time will be considered as being timely filed if: (1) they are addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D. C. 20231, and deposited with the U.S. Postal Service with sufficient postage as first class mail prior to expiration of the set period, and (2) they also include a certificate for each paper or fee stating the date of deposit. The person signing the certificate should have reasonable basis to expect that the correspondence would be mailed on or before the date indicated. The actual date of receipt of the paper or fee will be used for all other purposes. This procedure does not apply to the following:

(i) The filing of a national patent application specification and drawing or other papers for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date;

5. A new section 1.10 is added to read as follows:

§1.10 Filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate.

(b) Any paper or fee filed by "Express Mail" must have the number of the "Express Mail" mailing label placed thereon prior to mailing, be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, and any such paper or fee must also include a certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" which states the date of mailing by "Express Mail" and is signed by the person mailing the paper or fee.

(c) The Patent and Trademark Office will accept the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" and accord the paper or fee the certificate date under 35 U.S.C. 21(a) without further proof of the date on which the mailing by "Express Mail" occurred unless a question is present regarding the date of mailing. If more than a reasonable time has elapsed between the certificate date and the Patent and Trademark Office receipt date or if other questions regarding the date of mailing are present, the person mailing the paper or fee may be required to file a copy of the "Express Mail" receipt showing the actual date of mailing and a statement from the person who mailed the paper or fee averring to the fact that the mailing occurred on the date certified. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

§1.22 Fees payable in advance.

(a) Patent and trademark fees and charges payable to the Patent and Trademark Office are required to be paid in advance, that is, at the time of requesting any action by the Office for which a fee or charge is payable with the exception that under §1.53 applications for patent may be assigned a filing date without payment of the basic filing fee.

(b) All patent and trademark fees paid to the Patent and Trademark Office should be itemized in each individual application, patent or other proceeding in such a manner that it is clear for which purpose the fees are paid.

8. Section 1.24 is revised to read as follows:

§1.24 Coupons.

Coupons in denominations of one dollar are sold by the Patent and Trademark Office for the convenience of regular purchasers of U.S. patents and trademark registrations; these coupons may not be used for any other purpose. The one dollar coupons are sold individually and in books of 50 with stubs for record for $50. These coupons are good until used; they may be transferred but cannot be redeemed.

9. Section 1.41 is revised to read as follows:

§1.41 Applicant for patent.

(a) A patent must be applied for in the name of the actual inventor or inventors. Full names must be stated, including the family name and at least one given name without abbreviation together with any other given name or initial.

(b) Unless the contrary is indicated the word "applicant" when used in these sections refers to the inventor or joint inventors who are applying for a patent, or to the person mentioned in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 who is applying for a patent in place of the inventor.

(c) Any person authorized by the applicant may file an application for patent on behalf of the inventor or inventors, but an oath or declaration for the application (§1.63) can only be made in accordance with §1.64.

(d) A showing may be required from the person filing the application that the filing was authorized where such authorization comes into question.

10. Section 1.42 is revised to read as follows:

§1.42 When the inventor is dead.

In case of the death of the inventor, the legal representative (executor, administrator, etc.) of the deceased inventor may make the necessary oath or declaration, and apply for and obtain the patent. Where the inventor dies during the time intervening between the filing of the application and the granting of a patent thereon, the letters patent may be issued to the legal representative upon proper intervention.

11. Section 1.43 is revised to read as follows:

§1.43 When the inventor is insane or legally incapacitated.

In case an inventor is insane or otherwise legally incapacitated, the legal representative (guardian, conservator, etc.) of such inventor may make the necessary oath or declaration, and apply for and obtain the patent.

12. Section 1.45 is amended by removing paragraphs (b) and (c) and the designation (a) to the first paragraph and by revising the text to read as follows:

§1.45 Joint inventors.

Joint inventors must apply for a patent jointly and each must make the required oath or declaration: neither of them alone, nor less than the entire number, can apply for a patent for an invention invented by them jointly, except as provided in §1.47.

13. Section 1.46 is revised to read as follows:

§1.46 Assigned inventions and patents.

In case the whole or a part interest in the invention or in the patent to be issued is assigned, the application must still be made or authorized to be made, and an oath or declaration signed, by the inventor or one of the persons mentioned in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47. However, the patent may be issued to the assignee or jointly to the inventor and the assignee as provided in §1.334.

14. Section 1.47 is revised to read as follows:

§1.47 Filing when an inventor refuses to sign or cannot be reached.

(a) If a joint inventor refuses to join in an application for patent or cannot be found or reached after diligent effort, the application may be made by the other inventor on behalf of himself or herself and the omitted inventor. The oath or declaration in such an application must be accompanied by a petition including proof of the pertinent facts and by the required fee (§1.17(h)) and must state the last known address of the omitted inventor. The Patent and Trademark Office shall forward notice of the filing of the application to the omitted inventor at said address. Should such notice be returned to the Office undelivered, or should the address of the omitted inventor be unknown, notice of the filing of the application shall be published in the Official Gazette. The omitted inventor may subsequently join in the application on filing an oath or declaration of the character required by §1.63. A patent may be granted to the inventor making the application, upon a showing satisfactory to the Commissioner, subject to the same rights which the omitted inventor would have had if he or she had been joined.

(b) Whenever an inventor refuses to execute an application for patent, or cannot be found or reached after diligent effort, a person to whom the inventor has assigned or agreed in writing to assign the invention or who otherwise shows sufficient proprietary interest in the matter justifying such action may make application for patent on behalf of and as agent for the inventor. The oath or declaration in such an application must be accompanied by a petition including proof of the pertinent facts and a showing that such action is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties or to prevent irreparable damage, and by the required fee (§1.17(h)) and must state the last known address of the inventor. The assignment, written agreement to assign or other evidence of proprietary interest, or a verified copy thereof, must be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. The Office shall forward notice of the filing of the application to the inventor at the address stated in the application. Should such notice be returned to the Office undelivered, or should the address of the inventor be unknown, notice of the filing of the application shall be published in the Official Gazette. The inventor may subsequently join in the application on filing an oath or declaration of the character required by §1.63. A patent may be granted to the inventor upon a showing satisfactory to the Commissioner.

15. A new section 1.48 is added to read as follows:

§1.48 Correction of inventorship.

If the correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the application may be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be diligently made and must be accompanied by (1) a petition including a statement of facts verified by the original named inventor or inventors establishing when the error without deceptive intention was discovered and how it occurred; (2) an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by §1.63; (3) the fee set forth in §1.17(h); and (4) the written consent of any assignee.

16. Section 1.51 is amended by revising paragraphs 1.51(a)(2) and (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(c) Any interlineation, erasure, cancellation or other alteration of the application papers filed must be made before the signing of any accompanying oath or declaration pursuant to §1.63 referring to those application papers and should be dated and initialed or signed by the applicant on the same sheet of paper. No such alterations in the application papers are permissible after the signing of an oath or declaration referring to those application papers (§1.56(c)). After the signing of the oath or declaration referring to the application papers, amendments may only be made in the manner provided by §§1.121 and 1.123–1.125.

* * * * *

18. Section 1.53 is revised to read as follows:

§1.53 Serial number, filing date, and completion of application.

(a) Any application for a patent received in the Patent and Trademark Office will be assigned a serial number for identification purposes.

(b) The filing date of an application for patent is the date on which (1) a specification containing a description pursuant to §1.71 and at least one claim pursuant to §1.75, and (2) any drawing required by §1.81(a), are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date (§1.118).

(c) If any application is filed without the specification or drawing required by paragraph (b) of this section, applicant will be so notified and given a time period within which to submit the omitted specification or drawing in order to obtain a filing date as of the date of filing of such submission. If the omission is not corrected within the time period set, the application will be returned or otherwise disposed of; the fee, if submitted, will be refunded less a $50.00 handling fee.

(d) If an application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section does not include the appropriate filing fee or an oath or declaration by the applicant, applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the fee, oath, or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(f) The filing date of an international application designating the United States of America shall be treated as the filing date in the United States of America under PCT Article 11(3), except as provided in 35 U.S.C. 102(e).

19. Section 1.54 is revised to read as follows:

§1.54 Parts of application to be filed together; filing receipt.

(a) It is desirable that all parts of the complete application be deposited in the Office together; otherwise a letter must accompany each part, accurately and clearly connecting it with the other parts of the application. See §1.53 with regard to completion of an application.

(b) Applicant will be informed of the application serial number and filing date by a filing receipt.

20. Section 1.55 is revised to read as follows:

§1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

(a) An applicant may claim the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 119 and 172. The claim to priority need be in no special form and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by §1.63. The claim for priority and the certified copy of the foreign application specified in the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 119 must be filed in the case of interference (§1.224); when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner; and in all other cases they must be filed not later than the date the issue fee is paid. If the papers filed are not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the three particular instances specified in the preceding sentence, in which event a sworn translation or a translation certified as accurate by a sworn or official translator must be filed. If the priority papers are submitted after the date the issue fee is paid, they must be accompanied by a petition requesting their entry and the fee set forth in §1.17(i).

(b) An applicant may under certain circumstances claim priority on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in a country granting both inventor's certificates and patents. When an applicant wishes to claim the right of priority as to a claim or claims of the application on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in such a country under 35 U.S.C. 119, last paragraph (as amended July 28, 1972), the applicant or his attorney or agent, when submitting a claim for such right as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, shall include an affidavit or declaration including a specific statement that, upon an investigation, he or she has satisfied himself or herself that to the best of his or her knowledge the applicant, when filing his or her application for the inventor's certificate, had the option to file an application either for a patent or an inventor's certificate as to the subject matter of the identified claim or claims forming the basis for the claim of priority.

21. Section 1.56 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§1.56 Duty of disclosure; fraud; striking or rejection of applications.

(3) An oath or declaration pursuant to §1.63 is signed without review of the specification, including the claims, as required by §1.63(b); or
(4) The application papers filed in the Office are altered after the signing of an oath or declaration pursuant to §1.63 referring to those application papers.

§1.57 [Removed]

22. Section 1.57 is removed.

23. Section 1.59 is revised to read as follows:

§1.59 Papers of application with filing date not to be returned.

Papers in an application which has received a filing date pursuant to §1.53 will not be returned for any purpose whatever. If applicants have not preserved copies of the papers, the Office will furnish copies at the usual cost.

24. Section §1.60 is revised to read as follows:

§1.60 Continuation or divisional application for invention disclosed in a prior application.

A continuation or divisional application (filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 or 121), which discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in a prior application may be filed as a separate application before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the prior application. Signing and execution of the application papers by the applicant may be omitted provided the copy is supplied by and accompanied by a statement by, the applicant or his or her attorney or agent that the application papers comprise a true copy of the prior application as filed. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application (§1.78(a)) will be entered before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date.

25. Section §1.62 is revised to read as follows:

§1.62 File wrapper continuing procedure.

(a) A continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application, which uses the specification and drawings from a prior application to be abandoned, may be filed before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on a prior application. The filing date of an application filed under this section is the date on which a request is filed for an application under this section including identification of the Serial Number, filing date, and applicant's name of the prior application.

(b) The filing fee for a continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application under this section is based on the number of claims remaining in the application after entry of any preliminary amendment and entry of any amendments under §1.116 unentered in the prior application which applicant has requested to be entered in the continuing application.

(c) In the case of a continuation-in-part application which adds and claims additional disclosure by amendment, an oath or declaration as required by §1.63 must also be filed. In a continuation or divisional application which discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in a prior application, no additional oath or declaration is required.

(d) If an application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section does not include the appropriate filing fee pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, or an oath or declaration by the applicant in the case of a continuation-in-part application pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the fee, oath, or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in §1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification of a defect pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

(e) An application filed under this section will utilize the file wrapper and contents of the prior application to constitute the new continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application but will be assigned a new application serial number.

(f) The filing of an application under this section will be construed to include a waiver of secrecy by the applicant under 35 U.S.C. 122 to the extent that any member of the public who is entitled under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.14 to access to, or information concerning either the prior application or any continuing application filed under the provisions of this section may be given similar access to, or similar information concerning, the other application(s) in the file wrapper.

(g) The filing of a request for a continuing application under this section will be considered to be a request to expressly abandon the prior application as of the filing date granted the continuing application.

(h) The applicant is urged to furnish the following information relating to the prior application to the best of his or her ability:
(1) Title as originally filed and as last amended;
(2) Name of applicant as originally filed and as last amended;
(3) Current correspondence address of applicant;
(4) Identification of prior foreign application and any priority claim under 35 U.S.C. 119.

(i) Envelopes containing only application papers and fees for filing under this section should be marked "Box FWC".

26. A new section 1.63 is added to read as follows:

§1.63 Oath or declaration.

(a) An oath or declaration filed under §1.51(a)(2) as a part of an application must:
(1) Be executed in accordance with either §1.66 or §1.68;
(2) Identify the specification to which it is directed;

(3) Identify each inventor and the residence and country of citizenship of each inventor; and
(4) State whether the inventor is a sole or joint inventor of the invention claimed.

(b) In addition to meeting the requirements of paragraph (a), the oath or declaration must state that the person making the oath or declaration:
(1) Has reviewed and understands the contents of the specification, including the claims, as amended by any amendment specifically referred to in the oath or declaration;
(2) Believes the named inventor or inventors to be the original and first inventor or inventors of the subject matter which is claimed and for which a patent is sought; and
(3) Acknowledges the duty to disclose information which is material to the examination of the application in accordance with §1.56(a).

(c) In addition to meeting the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the oath or declaration in any application in which a claim for foreign priority is made pursuant to §1.55 must identify the foreign application for patent or inventor's certificate on which priority is claimed, and any foreign application having a filing date before that of the application on which priority is claimed, by specifying the application number, country, day, month and year of its filing.

(d) In any continuation-in-part application filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 which discloses and claims subject matter in addition to that disclosed in the prior copending application, the oath or declaration must also state that the person making the oath or declaration acknowledges the duty to disclose material information as defined in §1.56(a) which occurred between the filing date of the prior application and the national or PCT international filing date of the continuation-in-part application.

27. A new section 1.64 is added to read as follows:

§1.64 Person making oath or declaration.

(a) The oath or declaration must be made by all of the actual inventors except as provided for in §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47.

(b) If the person making the oath or declaration is not the inventor (§§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47), the oath or declaration shall state the relationship of the person to the inventor and, upon information and belief, the facts which the inventor is required to state.

§1.65 [Removed]

28. Section 1.65 is removed.

29. Section 1.67 is revised to read as follows:

§1.67 Supplemental oath or declaration.

(a) A supplemental oath or declaration meeting the requirements of §1.63 may be required to be filed to correct any deficiencies or inaccuracies present in an earlier filed oath or declaration.

(b) A supplemental oath or declaration meeting the requirements of §1.63 must be filed (1) when a claim is presented for matter originally shown or described but not substantially embraced in the statement of invention or claims originally presented, and (2) when an oath or declaration submitted in accordance with §1.53(d) after the filing of the specification and any required drawings specifically and improperly refers to an amendment which includes new matter. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date even if a supplemental oath or declaration is filed (§1.53(b); §1.118). In proper cases the oath or declaration here required may be made on information and belief by an applicant other than inventor.

30. Section 1.69 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.69 Foreign language oaths and declarations.

* * * * *

(b) Unless the text of any oath or declaration in a language other than English is a form provided or approved by the Patent and Trademark Office, it must be accompanied by a verified English translation, except that in the case of an oath or declaration filed under §1.63, the translation may be filed in the Office no later than two months from the date applicant is notified to file the translation.

31. Section 1.70 is amended by revising the title and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.70 Oath or declaration under 35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4).

(a) When an applicant of an international application, if the inventor, desires to enter the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371, he or she must file an oath or declaration in accordance with §1.63.

* * * * *

32. Section 1.77 is amended by revising paragraphs (h) and (i) to read as follows:

§1.77 Arrangement of application elements.

* * * * *

(h) Abstract of the disclosure.
(i) Signed oath or declaration.

33. The center heading preceding §1.97 and section 1.97 are revised to read as follows:

INFORMATION DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

§1.97 Filing of information disclosure statement.

(a) As a means of complying with the duty of disclosure set forth in §1.56, applicants are encouraged to file an information disclosure statement at the time of filing the application or within the later of three months after the filing date of the application or two months after applicant receives the filing receipt. If filed separately, the disclosure statement should, in addition to the identification of the application, include the Group Art Unit to which the application is assigned as indicated on the filing receipt. The disclosure statement may either be separate from the specification or may be incorporated therein.

(b) A disclosure statement filed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section shall not be construed as a representation that a search has been made or that no other material information as defined in §1.56(a) exists.

34. Section 1.98 is amended by revising the title and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.98 Content of information disclosure statement.

(a) Any disclosure statement filed under §1.97 or §1.99 shall include: (1) A listing of patents, publications or other information and (2) a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item. The disclosure statement shall be accompanied by a copy of each listed patent or publication or other item of information in written form or of at least the portions thereof considered by the person filing the disclosure statement to be pertinent. All United States patents listed should be identified by their patent numbers, patent dates and names of the patentees. Each foreign published application or patent should be cited by identifying the country or office which issued it, the document number and publication date indicated on the document. Each printed publication should be identified by author (if any), title of the publication, pages, date and place of publication.

* * * * *

35. Section 1.99 is revised to read as follows:

§1.99 Updating of information disclosure statement.

If prior to issuance of a patent an applicant, pursuant to his or her duty of disclosure under §1.56, wishes to bring to the attention of the Office additional patents, publications or other information not previously submitted, the additional information should be submitted to the Office with reasonable promptness. It may be included in a supplemental information disclosure statement or may be incorporated into other communications to be considered by the examiner. Any transmittal of additional information shall be accompanied by explanations of relevance and by copies in accordance with the requirements of §1.98.

36. Section 1.101 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.101 Order of examination.

(a) Applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and accepted as complete applications are assigned for examination to the respective examining groups having the classes of inventions to which the applications relate. Applications shall be taken up for examination by the examiner to whom they have been assigned in the order in which they have been filed except for those applications in which examination has been advanced pursuant to §1.102 and those applications in which the Office has accepted a request for waiver of patent rights filed under §1.139. International applications which have complied with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 371(c) will be taken up for action based on the date on which such requirements were met. However, unless a request has been filed under 35 U.S.C. 371(f), no action may be taken prior to 21 months from the priority date.

37. Section 1.118 is revised to read as follows:

§1.118 Amendment of disclosure.

(a) No amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of an application after the filing date of the application §1.53(b)). All amendments to the specification, including the claims, and the drawings filed after the filing date of the application must conform to at least one of them as it was at the time of the filing of the application. Matter not found in either, involving a departure from or an addition to the original disclosure, cannot be added to the application after its filing date even though supported by an oath or declaration in accordance with §1.63 or §1.67 filed after the filing date of the application.

(b) If it is determined that an amendment filed after the filing date of the application introduces new matter, claims containing new matter will be rejected and deletion of the new matter in the specification and drawings will be required even if the amendment is accompanied by an oath or declaration in accordance with §1.63 or §1.67.

38. Section 1.123 is revised to read as follows:

§1.123 Amendments to the drawing.

No change in the drawing may be made except by permission of the Office. Permissible changes in the construction shown in any drawing may be made only by bonded draftsmen, at applicant's expense, or by the submission of substitute drawings by applicant. A sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner. The paper requesting amendments to the drawing should be separate from other papers.

39. Section 1.125 is revised to read as follows:

§1.125 Substitute specification.

If the number or nature of the amendments shall render it difficult to consider the case, or to arrange the papers for printing or copying, the examiner may require the entire specification, including the claims, or any part thereof, to be rewritten. A substitute specification may not be accepted unless it has been required by the examiner or unless it is clear to the examiner that acceptance of a substitute specification would facilitate processing of the application. Any substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that the substitute specification includes no new matter. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office.

40. Section 1.131 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.131 Affidavit or declaration of prior invention to overcome cited patent or publication.

(a) When any claim of an application or a patent under reexamination is rejected on reference to a domestic patent which substantially shows or describes but does not claim the rejected invention, or on reference to a foreign patent or to a printed publication, and the applicant or the owner of the patent under reexamination shall make oath or declaration as to facts showing a completion of the invention in this country before the filing date of the application on which the domestic patent issued, or before the date of the foreign patent, or before the date of the printed publication, then the patent or publication cited shall not bar the grant of a patent to the applicant or the confirmation of the patentability of the claims of the patent, unless the date of such patent or printed publication is more than one year prior to the date on which the applicant's or patent owner's application was filed in this country.

* * * * *

41. Section 1.132 is revised to read as follows:

§1.132 Affidavits or declarations traversing grounds of rejection.

When any claim of an application or a patent under reexamination is rejected on reference to a domestic patent which substantially shows or describes but does not claim the invention, or on reference to a foreign patent, or to a printed publication, or to facts within the personal knowledge of an employee of the Office, or when rejected upon a mode or capability of operation attributed to a reference, or because the alleged invention is held to be inoperative or lacking in utility, or frivolous or injurious to public health or morals, affidavits or declarations traversing these references or objections may be received.

42. Section 1.137 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.137 Revival of abandoned application.

* * * * *

(b) An application unintentionally abandoned for failure to prosecute, except pursuant to §1.53(d), may be revived as a pending application if the delay was unintentional. A petition to revive an unintentionally abandoned application must be filed within one year of the date on which the application became abandoned or be filed within three months of the date of the first decision on a petition to revive under paragraph (a) of this section which was filed within one year of the date of abandonment of the application. A petition to revive an unintentionally abandoned application must be accompanied by (1) a statement that the abandonment was unintentional, (2) a proposed response unless it has been previously filed, and (3) a petition fee as set forth in §1.17(m). Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the abandonment was unintentional. The three month period set forth in this paragraph may be extended under the provisions of §1.136(a), but no further extensions under §1.136(b) will be granted. Petitions to the Commissioner under §1.183 to waive any time periods for requesting revival of an unintentionally abandoned application will not be considered, but will be returned to the applicant.

* * * * *

43. Section 1.153 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.153 Title, description and claim, oath or declaration.

* * * * *

(b) The oath or declaration required of the applicant must comply with §1.63.

44. Section 1.154 is amended by revising paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§1.154 Arrangement of specification.

* * * * *

(e) Signed oath or declaration (See §1.153(b)).

45. Section 1.162 is revised to read as follows:

§1.162 Applicant, oath or declaration.

The applicant for a plant patent must be the person who has invented or discovered and asexually reproduced the new and distinct variety of plant for which a patent is sought (or as provided in §§1.42, 1.43, and 1.47). The oath or declaration required of the applicant, in addition to the averments required by §1.63, must state that he or she has asexually reproduced the plant. Where the plant is a newly found plant the oath or declaration must also state that it was found in a cultivated area.

46. Section 1.163 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.163 Specification.

* * * * *

(b) Two copies of the specification (including the claim) must be submitted, but only one signed oath or declaration is required. The second copy of the specification may be a legible carbon copy of the original.

47. Section 1.172 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.172 Applicants, assignees.

(a) A reissue oath must be signed and sworn to or declaration made by the inventor or inventors except as otherwise provided (see §§1.42, 1.43, 1.47), and must be accompanied by the written assent of all assignees, if any, owning an undivided interest in the patent, but a reissue oath may be made and sworn to or declaration made by the assignee of the entire interest if the application does not seek to enlarge the scope of the claims of the original patent.

* * * * *

48. Section 1.174 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.174 Drawings.

(a) The drawings upon which the original patent was issued may be used in reissue applications if no changes whatsoever are to be made in the drawings. In such cases, when the reissue application is filed, the applicant must submit a temporary drawing which may consist of a copy of the printed drawings of the patent or a photoprint of the original drawings of the size required for original drawing.

* * * * *

49. Section 1.175 is amended by revising the introductory text of paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.175 Reissue oath or declaration.

(a) Applicants for reissue, in addition to complying with the requirements of §1.63, must also file with their applications a statement under oath or declaration as follows:

* * * * *

50. Section 1.324 is revised to read as follows:

§1.324 Correction of inventorship in patent.

Whenever a patent is issued and it appears that the correct inventor or inventors were not named through error without deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the Commissioner may, on petition of all the parties and the assignees and satisfactory proof of the facts and payment of the fee set forth in §1.20(b), or on order of a court before which such matter is called in question, issue a certificate naming only the actual inventor or inventors.

51. Section 1.325 is revised to read as follows:

§1.325 Other mistakes not corrected.

Mistakes other than those provided for in §§1.322, 1.323, 1.324, and not affording legal grounds for reissue or for reexamination, will not be corrected after the date of the patent.

52. A new §1.335 is added to read as follows:

§1.335 Filing of notice of arbitration awards.

(a) Written notice of any award by an arbitrator pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 294 must be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office by the patentee, or the patentee's assignee or licensee. If the award involves more than one patent a separate notice must be filed for placement in the file of each patent. The notice must set forth the patent number, the names of the inventor and patent owner, and the names and addresses of the parties to the arbitration. The notice must also include a copy of the award.

(b) If an award by an arbitrator pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 294 is modified by a court, the party requesting the modification must file in the Patent and Trademark Office, a notice of the modification for placement in the file of each patent to which the modification applies. The notice must set forth the patent number, the names of the inventor and patent owner, and the names and addresses of the parties to the arbitration. The notice must also include a copy of the court's order modifying the award.

(c) Any award by an arbitrator pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 294 shall be unenforceable until any notices required by paragraph (a) or (b) of this section are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. If any required notice is not filed by the party designated in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, any party to the arbitration proceeding may file such a notice.

53. Section 5.12 is revised to read as follows:

§5.12 Petition for license.

(a) Filing of an application for patent for inventions made in the United States will be considered to include a petition for license under 35 U.S.C. 184 for the subject matter of the application. The filing receipt will indicate if a license is granted. If the initial automatic petition is not granted, a subsequent petition may be filed under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Petitions for license under 35 U.S.C. 184 should be presented in letter form and should include petitioner's address, and full instructions for delivery of the requested license when it is to be delivered to other than the petitioner.

(62) Deposit Accounts—Statutory Fee Charges

Beginning on May 1, 1966, and until further notice, statutory fees, including filing fees for patent, design, and trademark applications, issue fees, appeal fees and opposition, cancellation and petition fees may be charged against the deposit accounts provided for by Rule 25(a) of the Rules of Practice in patent cases. During this period the prohibition of Rule 25(b) against such charges will be suspended.

In view of the facts that these fees are indispensable parts of the actions to which they relate and that the charging of a fee against an account which does not contain sufficient funds to cover it cannot be regarded as a payment of the fee, it is evident that the overdrawing of a deposit account may result in the loss of a vital date and may also impose a substantial burden on the Patent Office in making appropriate correction of its records. It is, therefore, necessary that effective steps be taken to avoid such overdrafts, as follows:

Checks of all accounts will be made periodically, and if any account is found to have been overdrawn, it will be immediately removed from the active accounts and no further drafts on it will be honored. Prompt payment of the outstanding balance will be required and the depositor or his attorney may be called on for an itemized statement identifying all statutory fees charged against the account during the period in question in order that it may be ascertained whether any previously granted date should be withdrawn.

It is emphasized that the success of the procedure outlined above depends upon the maintenance of a sufficient balance in deposit accounts at all times to meet any charges made against them. The Office must, therefore, strictly refuse to permit any depositor who has once overdrawn his account to maintain such an account in the future and in the event that any substantial number of overdrafts occurs it may be necessary to reestablish the prohibition of Rule 25(b) against charging statutory fees against deposit accounts.

Accordingly, effective May 1, 1966, the requirement of Rule 25(a) that an amount sufficient to cover all charges made against an account must always be on deposit will be strictly enforced, regardless of whether any fee is included in such charges and where this requirement is not complied with the account involved will be removed from the active accounts.

EDWARD J. BRENNER,
Feb. 23, 1966. Commissioner.

(63) Request for Refunds

In order to expedite the processing of refunds for payment of fees by actual mistake or in excess of the designated fees, attorneys and applicants requesting refunds should direct their correspondence to the attention of the "Refund Section, Accounting Division, Office of Finance." This procedure should be followed whether the request is for a refund check or for a credit to the deposit account. The problems of misrouting the request for a refund in the Patent and Trademark Office would be alleviated and the payment of refunds accelerated.

Assistant Commissioner for Finance & Planning.

[1024 O.G. 59 (11-23-82)]

(64) Deposit Account Authorizations

The rules of practice were amended effective Oct. 1, 1982, at 37 CFR 1.25(b) to state that: "A general authorization to charge all fees, or only certain fees, set forth in §§1.16 to 1.18 to a deposit account may be filed in an individual application, either for the entire pendency of the application or with respect to a particular paper filed." A general authorization would not apply to document supply fees under §1.19, such as those required for certified copies; to post-issuance fees under §1.20, such as those required for maintenance fees; or to miscellaneous fees and charges under §1.21, such as assignment recording fees.

Many applications filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982, contain broad language authorizing any additional fees which might have been due to be charged to a deposit account. The Patent and Trademark Office does not interpret such broad authorizations, filed prior to Oct. 1, 1982, to include authorization to charge to a deposit account the issue fee or other fees in sections 1.16, 1.17 and 1.18 except those associated with the paper containing the broad authorization. However, such a broad authorization filed in an application on or after Oct. 1, 1982, will be interpreted as authorization to charge the issue fee; as well as any other fee set forth in §§1.16, 1.17 or 1.18. Fees under sections 1.19, 1.20 and 1.21 will not be charged as a result of a general authorization under section 1.25.

It is recommended that authorizations to charge fees to deposit accounts include reference to the particular fees or fee sections of the rules which applicant intends to authorize. For example, if filing and processing fees under §§1.16 and 1.17 only are intended to be included in the authorization, and not the issue fee under §1.18, the authorization could read: "The Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any fees under 37 CFR 1.16 and 1.17 which may be required during the entire pendency of the application to Deposit Account No. _____." Such an authorization would clearly exclude issue fees under 37 CFR 1.18 while including all the filing and processing fees listed in 37 CFR 1.16 and 1.17. Similarly, if it were intended to authorize the charging of fees relating only to a specific paper, the authorization could read "The Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any fees under 37 CFR 1.16 and 1.17 which may be required by this paper to Deposit Account No. _____." Such authorizations would cover situations in which a check to cover a filing and processing fee under 37 CFR 1.16 and 1.17 was omitted or was for an amount less than the amount required.

It is extremely important that the authorization be clear and unambiguous. If applicants file authorizations which are ambiguous and which deviate from the usual forms of authorizations, the Office may not interpret the authorizations in the manner applicants intend. In such cases applicants could be subject to further expenses, petitions, etc. in order to correct fees which were not charged as intended due to an ambiguous authorization.

(66) Use of Restricted Deposit Account for Electronic Ordering of Patent and Trademark Copies

Effective July 1, 1986, the restricted deposit account will be made available to those members of the public who wish to use it for electronic ordering of patent and trademark copies. The restricted deposit account requires maintenance of a minimum balance of $300.00 at the end of each month, as compared to the unrestricted account which requires a minimum balance of $1,000.00.

In FY 1986, the Office established the restricted deposit account for use in charging subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. Establishment of a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for subscription service.

Recently, the Office established an electronic ordering service (EOS), a method of ordering copies of patents and trademarks through the use of a computer terminal and modem. EOS is available only to PTO deposit account holders.

Many people who are interested in using EOS to order copies of patents and trademarks and who do not have PTO deposit accounts find the $1,000.00 balance required for the unrestricted account prohibitive. Therefore, the use of restricted account is being expanded to incorporate EOS ordering. Subscription and EOS ordering are the only two services for which restricted accounts may be used. If you have any questions on subscriptions or EOS, please call Mary Brown on (703) 557-3236. If you have questions on deposit accounts, please call Delores Riley on (703) 557-3227.

(67) Use of Metric System of Measurements in Patent Applications

In order to minimize the necessity in the future for converting dimensions given in the English system of measurements to the metric system of measurements when using printed patents as research and prior art search documents, all patent applicants are strongly encouraged to use either (1) only metric (S.I.) units, or (2) English units together with their metric system equivalents, when describing their inventions in the specifications of patent applications. This practice, however, is not being made mandatory at this time.

The initials S.I. stand for "Systeme International d'Unites," the French name for the International System of Units, a modernized metric system adopted in 1960 by the International General Conference of Weights and Measures based on precise unit measurements made possible by modern technology.

This request is made as part of the long-range program for conversion to metric units currently being conducted by the Federal Government.

Publications dealing with the metric system are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 and the American National Standards Institute, 1430 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10018.

(68) Filing of Patent Applications Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.60

Applicants are reminded that 37 CFR 1.60 was amended effective Feb. 27, 1983 to require applicants to furnish a copy of the prior application upon filing.

Some applicants continue to request that the copy be made by the Patent and Trademark Office as was done under the practice prior to Feb. 27, 1983. Others are filing a copy of the specification of the prior application, but not a copy of the oath or declaration. The Office will no longer make such copies as part of processing the new application.

The requirements of 37 CFR 1.60 must be complied with before a filing date will be granted for the continuing application.

It should be noted that 37 CFR 1.60 has been amended effective Apr. 1, 1984 to divide the section into paragraph (a) and new paragraph (b). Paragraph (a) adds a reference to amended 37 CFR 1.78(a) to clarify the conditions under which continuation or divisional applications may be filed. New paragraph (b) requires that the prior application be complete as set forth in 37 CFR 1.51(a) in order to properly file an application under 37 CFR 1.60. A complete application under 37 CFR 1.51(a) includes a signed oath or declaration. If the prior application was not a complete application (37 CFR 1.51(a)), a continuation or divisional application cannot be filed utilizing the provisions of 37 CFR 1.60 and any continuation or divisional application must include new application papers and be filed in accordance with 37 CFR 1.53.

Paragraph (b) of 37 CFR 1.60 also requires that a true copy of the prior complete application be filed. The copy must include the specification (including claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the applicant's signature or an indication (on the oath or declaration) that it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application. The copy of the prior application must be accompanied by a statement that the application papers filed are a true copy of the prior application and that no amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application introduced new matter therein. Such statement must be by the applicant or applicant's attorney or agent and must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. See the final rulemaking published in the Jan. 4, 1984 Federal Register at 49 FR 548-556 and reprinted in the Jan. 24, 1984 Official Gazette at 1038 O.G. 275-283.

(69) Information in Oath/Declaration Necessary to Identify the Specification in Accordance with 37 CFR 1.63

Section 1.63 of 37 CFR requires that an oath or declaration "identify the specification to which it is directed." Since filing dates are now granted on applications with the oath or declaration being filed later with a surcharge, the question has arisen as to what information must be supplied in the oath or declaration to identify the specification to which it is directed and to comply with the rule.

The declaration form suggested by the Office includes spaces for filling in the names of the inventors, title of invention, application serial number, filing date, foreign priority application information and United States priority application information. While this information should be provided, it is not essential that all of these spaces be filled in in order to adequately identify the specification in compliance with 37 CFR 1.63.

The following combinations of information supplied in an oath or declaration are acceptable as minimums for identifying a specification:

(1) name of inventor and application serial number;
(2) name of inventor, attorney docket number which was on the application as filed, and filing date of the application;
(3) name of inventor, title of invention and filing date;
(4) name of inventor, title of invention and reference to a specification which is attached to the oath or declaration at the time of execution and filed with the oath or declaration;
(5) name of inventor, title of invention and a statement by a registered attorney or agent that the application filed in the PTO is the application which the inventor executed by signing the oath or declaration.

If the oath or declaration is filed with an "attached" specification as indicated in item (4) above, it must be accompanied by a statement that the "attached" specification is a copy of the specification and any amendments thereto which were filed in the Office in order to obtain a filing date for the application. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office.

Oaths or declarations which do not meet the requirements set forth above will not be accepted as complying with 37 CFR 1.63 for completing an application. Any variance from the above guidelines will only be considered upon the filing of a petition for waiver of the rules under 37 CFR 1.183 accompanied by a petition fee (37 CFR 1.17(h)). Supplemental oaths or declarations in accordance with 37 CFR 1.67 will be required in applications in which the oaths or declarations are not completely filled in but contain sufficient information to identify the specifications to which they apply as detailed above.

(70) Extension of Transition Period to File Oaths or Declarations in Compliance with 37 CFR 1.63

The Federal Register of Jan. 20, 1983 indicated at 48 FR 2706 that all oaths or declarations filed on and after Feb. 27, 1983, must comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.63 except for the transition period as noted below.

The Office indicated that it would continue to accept any oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.65 as it existed immediately prior to Feb. 27, 1983 during a transition period ending June 30, 1983, provided that the oath or declaration was attached to and was executed as a part of an application.

Although the Office is not required to do so, it intends to make translated declaration forms available to the public in at least the more frequently required non-English languages. Since these non-English language translations are not yet available, the transition period is extended to end on Sept. 30, 1983 rather than on June 30, 1983. During this period, the Patent and Trademark Office will continue to accept any oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.65 as it existed immediately prior to Feb. 27, 1983, if the oath or declaration is attached to and was executed as a part of an application to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office.

Effective Oct. 1, 1983, all oaths or declarations filed under 37 CFR 1.51(a)(2) as a part of a patent application must fully comply with 37 CFR 1.63.

(71) Graphical Illustrations in the Specification

For convenience many applicants have been including graphs or other types of graphical illustrations in the text portion of the specification. These illustrations do not come within the purview of 37 C.F.R. 1.58 which permits tables and chemical and mathematical formulas in the specification in lieu of formal drawings. Frequently, these graphical illustrations do not have satisfactory reproduction characteristics. Moreover, these reproductions are generally less than satisfactory due to the fact that the illustrations are usually reduced in size in order to fit a column of the printed patent page. Accordingly, effective immediately, graphs and graphical type illustrations in the specification will be objected to under 37 C.F.R. 1.58(a) and drawings pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.81 will be required.

(72) Use of Color Drawings in Utility Patents

Under 37 CFR 1.84, the drawings of a utility patent application must be in black and white. However, on occasion, color drawings may be necessary under 35 U.S.C. 112. In this circumstance, the Patent and Trademark Office will entertain a petition under 37 CFR 1.183 to waive the requirements of §1.84 to the extent that color drawings on DIN size A4 sheets (21.0 by 29.7 cm.) will be accepted for the purposes and under the conditions set forth below.

The petition must be accompanied by five (5) sets of color drawings on DIN size A4 sheets (21.0 by 29.7 cm.) for examination, copying and archival purposes. In light of the substantial administrative and economic burden associated with printing a utility patent with color drawings, the Letters Patent and the patent copies which are printed at issuance of the application will depict the drawings in black and white only. However, copies of the patent with color drawings will be provided by the Patent and Trademark Office upon special request and payment of the fee necessary under 37 CFR 1.21(k) to recover the actual costs associated therewith. Accordingly, the petition must also be accompanied by a proposed amendment to insert the following language as the first paragraph in the portion of the specification containing a brief description of the drawings:

> The file of this patent contains at least one drawing executed in color to meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. Copies of this patent with color drawing(s) will be provided by the Patent and Trademark Office upon request and payment of the necessary fee.

Such a petition will be granted only when color drawings are determined to be necessary under 35 U.S.C. 112. The petition should be directed to the Office of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

(73) Multiple Dependent Claims and New Drawing Filing Requirements

Introduction

On January 24, 1978, Public Law 94-131 (pages 108–115 of "Patent Laws," August 1976 issue) and the Patent Cooperation Treaty came into force. This public law amends the patent statute, Title 35, United States Code, by providing for procedures and requirements set forth in the Patent Cooperation Treaty. Some of these statutory amendments also effect the laws governing the processing and examination of regular United States national applications filed on and after January 24, 1978.

The amendments of the patent law which will affect U.S. patent applications filed on and after January 24, 1978, relate to two elements of the patent application: the claims and the drawings. With regard to claims, the amendments to 35 U.S.C. 41 and 112 provide for multiple dependent claims in accordance with PCT Rule 6.4. With regard to drawings, the amendment to 35 U.S.C. 113 changes the requirements for filing drawings in order to obtain a filing date in accordance with PCT Article 7.

Purpose

This memorandum establishes in more detail the new procedures required by the amended statute. Any questions concerning these instructions may be directed to either Mary Turowski (extension 7-3776) in the administration area or Louis Maassel (extension 7-3070) in the examining area.

Revised 37 CFR sections 1.75(c), (f) and (g); and 1.81 and 1.83(c) were published in the Official Gazette of February 21, 1978.

Multiple Dependent Claims

Generally, a multiple dependent claim is a dependent claim which refers back in the alternative to more than one preceding independent or dependent claim.

The second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. section 112 has been revised in view of the multiple dependent claim practice introduced by the Patent Cooperation Treaty. Thus, section 112 authorizes multiple dependent claims, as long as they are in the alternative form (e.g., "A machine according to claims 3 or 4, further comprising . . ."). Cumulative claiming (e.g., "A machine according to claims 3 and 4, further comprising . . .") is not permitted. A multiple dependent claim may refer in the alternative to only one set of claims. A claim such as "A device as in claims 1, 2, 3 or 4, made by a process of claims 5, 6, 7 or 8" is improper. Section 112 allows reference to only a particular claim. Furthermore, a multiple dependent claim may not serve as a basis for any other multiple dependent claim, either directly or indirectly. These limitations help to avoid undue confusion in determining how many prior claims are actually referred to in a multiple dependent claim.

The amendment of the second paragraph of section 112 further clarifies that the limitations or elements of each claim incorporated by reference into a multiple dependent claim must be considered separately. Thus, a multiple dependent claim, as such, does not contain all the limitations of all the alternative claims to which it refers, but rather, contains in any one embodiment only those limitations of the particular claim referred to for the embodiment under consideration. Hence, a multiple dependent claim must be considered in the same manner as a plurality of single dependent claims.

Restriction Practice

For restriction purposes, each embodiment of a multiple dependent claim will be considered in the same manner as a single dependent claim. Therefore, restriction may be required between the embodiments of a multiple dependent claim. Also, some embodiments of a multiple dependent claim may be held withdrawn while other embodiments are considered on their merits.

Handling of Multiple Dependent Claims by the Application Division

The Application Division will be responsible for verifying whether multiple dependent claims filed with the application are in proper alternative form, that they depend only upon prior independent and single dependent claims and also for calculating the amount of the filing fee. A new form, PTO-1360, has been designed to be used in conjunction with the current fee calculation form PTO-875.

Handling of Multiple Dependent Claims by the Examining Group Clerical Staff

The examining group clerical staff is responsible for verifying compliance with the statute and rules of multiple dependent claims added by amendment and for calculating the amount of any additional fees required. This calculation should be performed on form PTO-1360.

If a multiple dependent claim (or claims) is added in an amendment without the proper fee, the amendment will not be entered until the fee has been received. In view of the requirements for multiple dependent claims, no amendment containing new claims or changing the dependency of claims will be entered before checking whether the paid fees cover the costs of the amended claims. The applicant, or his attorney or agent, will usually be contacted to pay the additional fee in the same manner as currently in existence for such defects. Where a letter is written in insufficient fee situations, a copy of the multiple dependent claim fee calculation form PTO-1360 will be included for applicant's information.

Handling of Dependent Claims by the Examiner

Should any multiple dependent claim be in an application filed prior to January 24, 1978 or include a claim association or claim structure that violates any of the prohibitions, the claim will be objected to as not being in proper form as required by 37 CFR 1.75 in the next Office action. Such an improper claim will not be further treated on the merits.

When referring to a singular dependent claim or a single embodiment of a multiple dependent claim, as when making a rejection, such a claim or embodiment will be referred to by using the number of all of the claims involved in that claim or embodiment, starting with the highest. For example, if claim 2 was dependent on claim 1, the notations would be 2/1. If in the same application, claim 3 was independent and claim 4 was multiple dependent on claims 2 or 3, the notations would be 4/2/1 and 4/3. Furthermore, if claim 5 depended from claim 4, the notations would be 5/4/2/1 and 5/4/3. Each of these embodiments will be treated individually. It would be possible for claim 4/2/1 to be rejected under section 102 and claim 4/3 to be indicated as avoiding the prior art and being allowable if rewritten in independent form. A number of embodiments may be grouped together if there is a common ground of rejection, but it must be clear how each embodiment is treated.

A claim, such as claim 4, will not be allowed until all embodiments covered thereby are allowable. If an embodiment of a multiple dependent claim avoids the art while other embodiments are rejected over prior art, a statement will be made that that embodiment avoids the art and would be allowed if rewritten in separate dependent or independent form. Wording similar to the following may be used:

> "Embodiment ____ would be allowable if rewritten as a proper dependent or independent claim which contains only the limitations of this embodiment."

Calculation of Fees When Multiple Dependent Claims are Presented, Use of Form PTO–1360

To assist in the computation of the fees for multiple dependent claims, a separate "Multiple Dependent Claim Fee Calculation Sheet," form PTO-1360, has been designed for use with the current "Patent Application Fee Determination Record," form PTO-875. Form PTO-1360 will be placed in the file wrapper by the Application Division where multiple dependent claims are in the application as filed. If multiple dependent claims are not included upon filing, but are later added by amendment, the examining group clerical staff will place the form in the file wrapper. If there are multiple dependent claims in the application, the total number of independent and dependent claims for fee purposes will be calculated on form PTO-1360 and the total number of claims and number of independent claims will then be placed on form PTO-875 for final fee calculation purposes.

If at least $65 is included with the application on filing, but the total fee is insufficient, a "Notice of Insufficient Fee," form PTO-1094, is placed in the file wrapper by the Application Division as is currently done. The notice will be mailed by the examining group in accordance with established procedures.

Calculating Fees for Multiple Dependent Claims Proper Multiple Dependent Claims

Amended section 41(a) of title 35, U.S.C., provides that claims in multiple dependent form cannot be considered as single dependent claims for the purpose of calculating fees. Thus, a multiple dependent claim would be considered to be that number of dependent claims to which it refers. Any proper claim depending directly or indirectly from a multiple dependent claim would also be considered as the same number of dependent claims as referred to in the multiple dependent claim from which it depends.

Improper Multiple Dependent Claim

If any multiple dependent claim is improper, Application Division may indicate that fact by placing an encircled numeral "1" in the "Dep. Claims" column of form PTO-1360. The fee for any improper multiple dependent claim, whether it is defective for not being in the alternative form or for being directly or indirectly dependent on a prior multiple dependent claim, will only be one, since only an objection to the form of such a claim will normally be made.

This procedure also greatly simplifies the calculation of fees. Any claim depending from an improper multiple dependent claim will also be considered to be improper and be counted as one dependent claim.

Comments on Fee Calculation Example

Claim 1.–This is an independent claim; therefore, a numeral "1" is placed opposite claim number 1 in the "Ind." column.

Claim 2.–Since this is a claim dependent on a single independent claim, a numeral "1" is placed opposite claim number 2 in the "Dep." column.

Claim 3.–Claim 3 is also a single dependent claim, so a numeral "1" is placed in the "Dep." column.

Claim 4.–Claim 4 is a proper multiple dependent claim. It refers directly to two claims in the alternative, namely, claims 2 or 3. Therefore, a numeral "2" to indicate direct reference to two claims is placed in the "Dep." column opposite claim number 4.

Claim 5.–This claim is a singularly dependent claim depending from a multiple dependent claim. For fee calculation purposes, such a claim is counted as being that number of claims to which direct reference is made in the multiple dependent claim which it depends. In this case, the multiple dependent claim number 4 it depends from counts as 2 claims; therefore, claim 5 also counts as 2 claims. Accordingly, a numeral "2" is placed opposite claim number 5 in the "Dep." column.

Claim 6.–Claim 6 depends indirectly from a multiple dependent claim 4. Since claim 4 counts as 2 claims, claim 6 also counts as 2 dependent claims. Consequently, a numeral "2" is placed in the "Dep." column after claim 6.

Claim 7.–This claim is a multiple dependent claim since it refers to claims 1 or 4. However, as can be seen by looking at the "2" in the "Dep." column opposite claim 4, claim 7 directly depends from a multiple dependent claim. This practice is improper under 35 U.S.C. 112 and Rule 1.75(c). Following the procedure for calculating fees for improper multiple dependent claims, a numeral "1" is placed in the "Dep." column with a circle drawn around it to alert the examiner that the claim is improper.

Claim 8.–This claim is a multiple dependent claim since it refers to claims 1 or 5. However, since claim 5 depends from multiple dependent claim 4, claim 8 indirectly depends from multiple dependent claim 4 through claim 5. This practice is improper. See MULTIPLE DEPENDENT CLAIMS, paragraph 2, above. Consequently, a numeral "1" is placed in the dependent claim column with a circle drawn around it.

Claim 9.–Claim 9 is improper since it depends from an improper claim. If the base claim is in error, this error cannot be corrected by adding additional claims depending therefrom. Therefore, a numeral "1" with a circle around it is placed in the "Dep." column.

Claim 10.–Here again we have an independent claim which is always indicated with a numeral "1" in the "Ind." column opposite the claim number.

Claim 11.–This claim refers to two independent claims in the alternative. A numeral "2" is therefore placed in the "Dep." column opposite claim 11.

Claim 12.–Claim 12 is a dependent claim which refers to two claims in the conjunctive ("1 and 10") rather than in the alternative ("1 or 10"). This form is improper under 35 U.S.C. 112 and Rule 1.75(c). Accordingly, since claim 12 is improper, an encircled numeral "1" is placed in the "Dep." column opposite claim 12.

Calculation of Filing Fee

After the numbers of "Ind." and "Dep." claims are noted on form PTO-1360, each column is added. In this example., there are 2 independent claims and 14 dependent claims or a total of 16 claims. The number of independent and total claims can then be placed on form PTO-875 and the fee calculated. In this example, the total number of claims 16 minus 10 leaves 6, which is multiplied by $2 for an additional total claim fee of $12. The total number of independent claims in the example is 2, which minus 1 is 1, which times the $10 rate is $10. The total filing fee is therefore $65 + $12 + $10, or total of $87.

Drawing Requirements

Revised 35 U.S.C. 113 relaxes the previous requirements for submission of drawings on filing under certain conditions. The first sentence of 35 U.S.C. 113 does require a drawing to be submitted upon filing where such drawing is necessary for the understanding of the invention. In this situation the lack of a drawing renders the application incomplete and as such, the application cannot be given a filing date until the drawing is received. The second sentence of 35 U.S.C. 113 deals with the situation wherein a drawing is not necessary for the understanding of the invention but the case admits of illustration and no drawing was submitted on filing. The lack of the drawing in this situation does not render the application incomplete but rather is treated much in the same manner as an informality. The examiner should require such drawings in almost all such instances. Such drawings could be required during the processing of the application but do not have to be furnished at the time the application is filed. The applicant is allowed at least two months from the date of the letter requiring drawings to submit them.

Handling of Drawing Requirements Under the First Sentence of 35 U.S.C. 113

Under the revised provisions the Application Division examiner will continue to make the initial decision in all new applications as to whether a drawing is "necessary" under the first sentence of 35 U.S.C. 113.

If during examination an examiner feels that a filing date should not have been granted in an application because it does not contain drawings, the matter will be brought to the attention of the Supervisory Primary Examiner (SPE) for review. If the SPE decides that drawings are required to understand the subject matter of the invention, the SPE will return the application to the Application Division with a memorandum requesting cancellation of the filing date and identifying the subject matter required to be illustrated.

Handling of Drawing Requirements Under the Second Sentence of 35 U.S.C. 113

35 U.S.C. 113 also deals with the situation wherein the drawing is not necessary for the understanding of the invention, but the subject matter admits of illustration by a drawing and the applicant has not furnished a drawing. The lack of the drawing in this situation does not render the application incomplete but rather is treated as an informality. A filing date will be accorded with the original presentation of the papers, despite the absence of drawings. In these situations, a drawing or further illustration will normally be required by the examiner. This may be done either prior to examination in a separate letter or in the first Office action and may be handled in much the same manner as informal photocopy drawings are presently handled. The examiner should require drawings where appropriate as early as possible, since the possession of the drawing at that time would facilitate the examination process. A letter requiring drawings may contain wording similar to the following:

> "The examiner has decided that the subject matter of this applicaton admits of illustration by a drawing and that a drawing would facilitate the understanding of the subject matter disclosed. (Continue with a specific mention of those items of which drawings are desired.) Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81. (Incorporate in Office action or set two-month period for response.)"

The applicant will be given at least two months from the date of such requirement to submit drawings. If the requirement for drawings is included in an Office action, the time for supplying the drawings will be the same as the time of response to the Office action. Upon receipt of the drawing within the period set, the examiner will check the drawings for new matter. If new matter is included, the drawing will not be entered. It will be objected to as containing new matter. A new drawing without such new matter may be required if the examiner still feels a drawing is needed under 37 CFR 1.81 or 1.83. The examiner's decision would be reviewable by petition to the Commissioner under Rule 1.181. The decision on such a petition would be handled by the Group Director. If a drawing is not timely received in response to a letter from the examiner which requires a drawing, the application becomes abandoned for failure to respond.

(74) Use of Symbol "Ø" in Patent Applications

The Greek letter Phi has long been used as a symbol in equations in all technical disciplines. It further has special uses which include the indication of an electrical phase or clocking signal as well as an angular measurement. The recognized symbols for the upper and lower case Greek Phi characters, however, do not appear on most typewriters. This apparently has led to the use of a symbol composed by first striking a zero key and then backspacing and striking the "cancel" or "slash" key to result in "Ø" which is an approximation of accepted symbols for the Greek character Phi. In other instances the symbol is composed using the upper or lower case letter "O" with the "cancel" or "slash" superimposed thereon by backspacing or is simply handwritten in a variety of styles. These expedients result in confusion because of the variety of type sizes and styles available on modern typewriters.

In recent years, the growth of data processing has seen the increasing use of this symbol ("Ø") as the standard representation of zero. The "slashed" or "cancelled zero" is used to indicate zero and avoid confusion with the upper case letter "O" in both text and drawings.

Thus, when the symbol "Ø" in one of its many variations, as discussed above, appears in patent applications being prepared for printing, confusion as to the intended meaning of the symbol arises. Those (such as examiners, attorneys, and applicants) working in the art can usually determine the intended meaning of this symbol because of their knowledge of the subject matter involved, but editors preparing these applications for printing have no such specialized knowledge and confusion arises as to which symbol to print. The result, at the very least, is delay until the intended meaning of the symbol can be ascertained.

Since the Office does not have the resources to conduct a technical editorial review of each application before printing, and in order to eliminate the problem of printing delays associated with the usage of these symbols, any questions about the intended symbol will be resolved by the editorial staff of the Office of Publications by printing the symbol "Ø" whenever that symbol is used by the applicant. Any Certificate of Correction necessitated by the above practice will be at the patentee's expense (37 CFR 1.323) because the intended symbol was not accurately presented by the Greek upper or lower case Phi letters (I, 0) in the patent application.

(75) U.S. Accession to Hague Convention Abolishing the Requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents

On Oct. 15, 1981, the Hague "Convention Abolishing the Requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents" entered into force between the United States and twenty-eight foreign countries that are parties to the Convention. The Convention applies to any document submitted to the United States Patent and Trademark Office for filing or recording, which is sworn to or acknowledged by a notary public in any one of the member countries. The Convention abolishes the certification of the authority of the notary public in a member country by a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States and substitutes certification by a special certificate, or apostille, executed by an officer of the member country. Accordingly, the Office will accept for filing or recording a document sworn to or acknowledged before a notary public in a member country if the document bears, or has appended to it, an apostille certifying the notary's authority. The requirement for a diplomatic or consular certificate, specified in 37 CFR 1.66 and note 1 of 37 CFR 3.45, will not apply to a document sworn to or acknowledged before a notary public in a member country if an apostille is used.

The member countries that are parties to the Convention are:

Austria	Italy	Spain
Bahamas	Japan	Suriname
Belgium	Lesotho	Swaziland
Botswana	Liechtenstein	Switzerland
Cyprus	Luxembourg	Tonga
Fiji	Malawi	U.K. of Great Britain and N. Ireland
France	Malta	United States
Germany Fed. Rep. of	Mauritius	Yugoslavia
Hungary	Netherlands
Israel	Portugal
	Seychelles

The Convention prescribes the following form for the apostille:

The certificate will be in the form of a square with sides at least 9 centimetres long

(76) Simulated or Predicted Tests or Examples

In order to provide for uniform practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, the following clarification of current Office practice relating to simulated or predicted tests or examples is being set forth. This notice specifies the Office policy which is currently in effect and is considered to have been in effect in the past in this area. The wording of the MPEP provisions prior to this amendment went further than was intended. The amended sections below spell out more clearly the Office's position from the start.

The following wording will be substituted in revision number 8 for that presently in paragraph D of section 608.01(p) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure.

MPEP §608.01(p)

"D. Simulated or Predicted Test Results or Prophetic Examples

Simulated or predicted test results and prophetical examples (paper examples) are permitted in patent applications. Working examples correspond to work actually performed and may describe tests which have actually been conducted and results that were achieved. Paper examples describe the manner and process of making an embodiment of the invention which has not actually been conducted. Paper examples should not be represented as work actually done. No results should be represented as actual results unless they have actually been achieved. Paper examples should not be described using the past tense."

The first and last paragraphs of MPEP section 707.07(1) are being deleted.

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office proposes to amend certain of the rules of practice for plant patent applications. Under the proposed rules of practice, an applicant for a plant patent will, in addition to the present requirements for obtaining a plant patent, also be required to designate and record a variety name for the plant. These proposed rules fulfill an obligation imposed by the Convention of the International Union for the Protection of New Plant Varieties, to which the United States adheres.
Date: Comments on the proposed rules must be submitted by Oct. 31, 1985, to assure their consideration in formulating the rules put into effect.
Addresses: Address comments to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231. All comments received will be made publicly available in the Patent and Trademark office, Crystal Plz., Arlington, Va., Rm. 3–11C28. No public hearing is planned.
For Further Information Contact: Mr. Stanley D. Schlosser, Office of Legislation and International Affairs, by telephone at (703) 557-3065 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: The requirement for designating a variety by name and recording that name arises from Article 13 of the UPOV (International Union for the Protection of New Plant Varieties) Convention. This Convention became applicable to the United States on Nov. 8, 1981. In the terminology of Article 13, this designation and recordation is referred to as the registration of the variety name. Registration is required for each plant variety protected in a member state of this Union (hereafter referred to as a member state) either by means of a plant patent or an award of breeders' rights.

It is left to each member state to determine exactly how registration will be effected. For the United States, the issuance of a plant patent, including in the patent the name of the variety patented, will constitute registration. The patent examining process will include a consideration of the suitability for registration of the proposed variety name.

A variety name will be registered if it is judged by the Patent and Trademark Office as not likely to mislead or cause confusion regarding the characteristics, value or identity of the variety, or the identity of the breeder. Also, a variety name to the registered must not impair or conflict with any trademark or another name in which other person has a proprietary right. Ordinarily, the patent applicant will be required to register the same variety name (or a translation thereof) for a particular variety in each member state adhering to the UPOV Convention. These are, in broad terms, the conditions set forth in UPOV Article 13 for the registration of a variety name.

A variety name is the generic name by which the variety is popularly or commonly known. The commercial use of a registered variety name, however, will not be regulated by the Patent and Trademark Office. Rather, use of a variety name, whether registered or unregistered (in cases where the variety is not patented), will be regulated by any applicable state and federal unfair competition and trademark laws.

Variety names are referred to in the UPOV Convention as "variety denominations" and often in plant breeding circles as "cultivar names." For the purposes of these rules of practice, the three terms are considered synonymous.

Attention is called to the Commissioner's Notice (Federal Register/Vol. 46, No. 22/Oct. 20, 1981) stating that appropriate rules for the naming of plant varieties, as required by the UPOV Convention, will be issued. The Federal Register Notice also provides information about interim procedures to be followed until rules of practice are adopted.

The proposed amendments to the rules of practice when finally adopted will replace the interim procedures announced in the Federal Register on Oct. 20, 1981, in regard to the patenting in the United States of asexually reproduced plants. These proposed amendments will not apply, however, to any protection sought under the Plant Variety Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 2321 et seq.), administered by the Department of Agriculture and applying only to sexually reproduced plant varieties.

The proposed amendment to §1.163 prescribes the obligation (as set forth in the UPOV Convention) for registering the name of each patented plant variety. The proposed name will be selected by the patent applicant for inclusion in the title of the application, where it will be easiest for a reader of the patent to find. It will be judged for registrability by the examiner to whom the patent application is assigned for examination, who, however, may receive advice or information from officials of the trademark examining operation. As examples of suitable naming practice, note the titles of plant patents Nos. 5,413 and 5,414, "Plum Tree 'Mr. Paul' " and "Chrysanthemum Plant Named Foxy," respectively.

The requirement for registration applies only to plant patent applications actually filed in the United States on or after Nov. 1, 1981, the date on which the UPOV Convention took effect for the United States, even though the application may be entitled to an earlier United States filing date under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 120, or claim the right of priority in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 119.

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

The procedure for judging registrability of a variety name will utilize the Office's compilation of variety names in use in the United States and foreign countries. This compilation has been and will continue to be obtained from horticultural, agriculture, floral and other professional societies, other national examination offices, the UPOV Secretariat, standard references, and other sources. Designation of a variety by name is a formal requirement for obtaining a patent, and will be generally administered in the same manner as other formal requirements.

Proposed new §1.166(a) sets forth the requirement for naming a variety to be patented. The criteria to be applied will be those set forth in the International Code of Nomenclature for Cultivated Plants—1980. Its articles 1 to 32 provide substantive rules for naming varieties. The other articles, concerned with non-statutory registration authorities, earlier publication, amendment of the Code and other matters unrelated to the registration criteria, of course, will not be involved. Copies of the Code are available from any of the following: The International Bureau for Plant Taxonomy and Nomenclature, Tweede Transitorium, Uithof, Utrecht, Netherlands; the American Horticultural Society, Mt. Vernon, Va. 22121; the Crop Science Society of America, 677 S. Sego Rd., Madison, Wis. 53711; and the Royal Horticultural Society, Vincent Sq., London, SW IP, 2PE, Great Britain.

Registrability will also take into account the Office's file of both registered trademarks and those proposed for registration. If a conflict exists between a proposed variety name and a registered trademark or one proposed for registration, the variety name will not be registered and a new name will be required.

Proposed §1.168(b) concerns patent applications failing to include a proposed variety name. The examiner will require the submission of a variety name and set a period for compliance.

Proposed §1.168(c) and (d) concern an examiner's refusal to register a proposed variety name. Paragraph (c) requires the applicant, upon a final determination of unregistrability, to submit another variety name. Paragraph (d) assures the applicant's right instead to petition the Commissioner in cases where the proposed name is not accepted. The petition will be subject to a fee and the other requirements of these rules applicable to petitions.

The UPOV Convention requires the breeder to identify the patented variety by the same variety (or a translation thereof) in all member states. A different name may be registered in a particular member state, however, in cases where the name registered earlier in another member state is unsuitable for registration. The Convention's requirements for the consistent naming of varieties are incorporated in proposed §1.168(e). The applicant may during the course of prosecuting the application be required to inform the Office of any other names by which the variety is known, either in the United States or foreign countries, and to provide a translation into English of any such names.

Specific criteria for unsuitability cannot always be defined in advance, but must develop on a case-by-case basis. Certain criteria for unsuitability can be stated at the outset, however. Names that are difficult to pronounce by English speakers, names having adverse business connotations, and names in non-English characters are examples of unsuitability. The applicant must when submitting a name for registration different from that used in another member state explain in writing why the name used in that other state is unsuitable.

A patent owner or the assignee of a patent will, at times, learn that the registered variety name conflicts with another person's trademark or other proprietary right, or be ordered by a court to commercialize the variety under another name. At other times, a registered variety name may turn out to conflict with an earlier-registered variety name or one already in use. Also, changes in language or custom may render an earlier-registered variety name unsuitable for commercial use. In these cases, a different or substitute name may be submitted for registration. Proposed §1.168(f) concerns the issuance of a certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. 255 for the registration of a substitute name in such situations. The patent owner in applying for the registration of a substitute name will be required to explain in writing why it is necessary to do so.

It is, of course, in the patent applicant's interest to know or learn as early as possible if the proposed variety name conflicts with another's trademark or other proprietary right. Accordingly, proposed §1.168(g) authorizes the Patent and Trademark Office to publish in the Trademark Official Gazette each proposed variety name. The Office will also regularly publish in the Trademark Official Gazette lists of registered variety names, and such names will be identified in each plant patent and in the Patent Official Gazette.

The publication of proposed variety names should greatly reduce the possibility of later conflicts. Conflicts between proposed variety names and proprietary rights will be resolved in an ex parte manner. No inter partes proceedings will be held to resolve a conflict.

Any substitute name registered for a variety will also be published in the Trademark Official Gazette, and a certificate of correction containing the substitute name will be issued. If the patent has been assigned, the opportunity to register a different variety name will be available only to the assignee.

In the event a plant breeder proceeds to protect a plant variety under the provisions of section 101 of the patent laws (title 35, U.S.C), the variety naming requirements of these proposed rules shall also apply to that patent application. This possibility is acknowledged in the proposed amendment to section 1.71. Applications for the patenting of microorganisms under section 101 will, however, not be subjected to this variety naming requirement.

Article 13 of the UPOV Convention of Oct. 23, 1978, referred to above, reads:

Article 13

Variety Denomination

(1) The variety shall be designated by a denomination destined to be its generic designation. Each member State of the Union shall ensure that subject to paragraph (4) no rights in the designation registered as the denomination of the variety shall hamper the free use of the denomination in connection with the variety, even after the expiration of the protection.

(2) The denomination must enable the variety to be identified. It may not consist solely of figures except where this is an established practice for designating varieties. It must not be liable to mislead or to cause confusion concerning the characteristics, value or identity of the variety or the identity of the breeder. In particular, it must be different from every denomination which designates, in any member State of the Union, an existing variety of the same botanical species or of a closely related species.

(3) The denomination of the variety shall be submitted by the breeder to the authority referred to in Article 30(1)(b). If it is found that such denomination does not satisfy the requirements of paragraph (2), that authority shall refuse to register it and shall require the breeder to propose another denomination within a prescribed period. The denomination shall be registered at the same time as the title of protection is issued in accordance with the provisions of Article 7.

(4) Prior rights of third parties shall not be affected. If, by reason of a prior right, the use of the denomination of a variety is forbidden to a person who, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (7), is obliged to use it, the authority referred to in Article 30(1)(b) shall require the breeder to submit another denomination for the variety.

(5) A variety must be submitted in member States of the Union under the same denomination. The authority referred to in Article 30(1)(b) shall register the denomination so submitted, unless it considers that denomination unsuitable in its State. In the latter case, it may require the breeder to submit another denomination.

(6) The authority referred to in Article 30(1)(b) shall ensure that all the other such authorities are informed of matters concerning variety denominations, in particular the submission, registration and cancellation of denominations. Any authority referred to in Article 30(1)(b) may address its observations, if any, on the registration of a denomination to the authority which communicated that denomination.

(7) Any person who, in a member State of the Union, offers for sale or markets reproductive or vegetative propagating material of a variety protected in that State shall be obliged to use the denomination of that variety, even after the expiration of the protection of that variety, in so far as, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (4), prior rights do not prevent such use.

(8) When the variety is offered for sale or marketed, it shall be permitted to associate a trademark, trade name or other similar indication with a registered variety denomination. If such an indication is so associated, the denomination must nevertheless be easily recognizable.

UPOV Article 30(1)(b), referred to in Article 13, reads as follows:

Article 30

Implementation of the Convention on the Domestic Level; Contracts on the Joint Utilisation of Examination Services

(1) Each member State of the Union shall adopt all measures necessary for the application of this Convention; in particular, it shall:

(b) set up a special authority for the protection of new varieties of plants or entrust such protection to an existing authority;

Other Considerations: The proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. There are no information collection requirements in the proposed rule change.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The variety naming requirement will impose very little or no extra work on patent applicants (whether small or large businesses or individuals). The rule will help avoid litigation over variety names and trademark rights, which are far more burdensome than the procedures under the proposed rule.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patients.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, 37 CFR Part 1 is proposed to be amended by amending §§1.71, 1.163, 1.168 and 1.17 as set forth below. All proposed additions are printed between arrows.

Part 1—Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C., unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.17 is proposed to be amended by adding the following items in numerical order to the list in paragraph (h) to read as follows:

§1.17 Patent application processing fees.

* * * * *

(h) * * *

►—1.168(d) For petitioning the Commissioner to register a plant variety name. . . .

—§1.168(e) For petitioning the Commissioner to register a substitute plant variety name. . . .◄

* * * * *

3. Section 1.17 is proposed to be amended by adding paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.71 Detailed description and specification of the invention.

* * * * *

►(d) In the case of an application for the patenting of a plant variety filed under the provisions of section 101 of title 35, United States Code, the requirements for the naming of a variety specified under §§1.163 and 1.168 shall apply thereto.◄

4. Section 1.163 is proposed to be amended by adding the following three sentences at the end of paragraph (a):

§1.163 Specification

(a) * * * ►The title of the invention must include a proposed name for the variety to be patented, where it may be easily recognized as such. A substitute variety name may be proposed during the pendency of the application provided its consideration will not significantly delay disposition of the application. The granting of the patent will be deemed the registration of the variety name for the patented plant for purposes of complying with Article 13 of the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (UPOV), as revised on Oct. 23, 1978.◄

* * * * *

5. A new §1.168 is proposed to be added, which reads as follows:

►§1.168 Variety name, submission to the Office, examination.

(a) The variety name submitted by the patent applicant under §1.163 or §1.71(d) will be examined for compliance with §1.163 using as guidelines for this examination the cultivar naming requirements of the International Code of Nomenclature for Cultivated Plants —1980.

(b) If a proposed variety name is not included as part of the title of the application, as filed, the examiner will set a period of not less than thirty days for providing such name.

(c) If the examiner determines that a proposed variety name is not suitable for registration, or that the proposed name conflicts with a registered trademark or a trademark proposed for registration, the examiner shall refuse registration and set forth in an Office action the reasons for such refusal. Such reasons shall be included in the examiner's action provided under §1.104, subject to the provisions of §1.105. An applicant in disagreement with such refusal may request reconsideration and withdrawal of the refusal, giving the reasons therefor. If the examiner's refusal to register a proposed variety name is repeated and made final, the examiner will at the same time require the applicant to propose another variety name for registration.

(d) After a final requirement by the examiner for submission of a proposed new variety name, the applicant, in addition to making any response due on the remainder of the action, may in lieu of proposing a new variety name petition the Commissioner for review of the examiner's holding together with the fee set forth in §1.17(h).

(e) The applicant will be required to submit for registration the same variety name (or a translation thereof) as that previously registered or proposed for registration in an earlier filed application for protection of the variety in another UPOV member state. Such applicant may submit another name for registration, however, upon a showing satisfactory to the examiner as to why the name originally submitted in another UPOV member state is unsuitable for registration. During the pendency of an application, the examiner may require the applicant to provide any name for the same variety registered or proposed for registration in other UPOV member states before the United States application was filed. If not in English characters, a translation or transliteration of such name or names may be required. An applicant dissatisfied with the examiner's decision concerning the unsuitability of a variety name may petition the Commissioner, together with that fee set forth in §1.17(h).

(f) A patentee, in order to avoid a conflict between a registered variety name and a trademark, or where the registered variety name is likely to be confused with another variety name, or where a registered variety name had acquired an adverse connotation, may propose for registration a substitute variety name for that already registered. Such a proposal shall be in the form of a petition to the Commissioner, together with the fee set forth in §1.17(h). The proposed substitute name will be examined in the same manner as the name originally registered, and upon registration shall be promptly published in the Official Gazette. A certificate of correction indicating such substitute name shall be issued for the patent. If the patent has been assigned, only the assignee of record may apply for registration of a substitute name.

(g) The Commissioner shall upon its receipt in the Office promptly publish in the Trademark Official Gazette any variety name proposed for registration and the genus and species of the plant involved. Correspondence from a person other than the patent applicant concerning the registrability of a proposed or registered variety name shall be served on the applicant by such person and a certificate of such service shall appear on the copy of the correspondence filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. Such correspondence will be placed in the official file, and in the case of an application will be considered by the examiner in an ex parte manner during the examination of the application.

EXAMINATION OF APPLICATIONS

(78) Examination of Claims For Patentability Under 35 U.S.C. 103

The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of the current Patent and Trademark Office policy concerning determinations of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103 in view of the recent Supreme Court decision in Sakraida v. Ag Pro, 189 USPQ 449 (1976).

The following text is a copy of a memorandum issued to all patent examining personnel relative to this topic. "A clarification of the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office in the examination of claims for patentability under 35 U.S.C. 103 seems in order at this time in view of the Supreme Court's decision in Sakraida v. Ag Pro, 189 USPQ 449 (decided April 20, 1976) which is similar to the Court's earlier decision in Anderson's-Black Rock, Inc. v. Pavement Salvage Co., 163 USPQ 673 (decided December 8, 1969). "Office policy has consistently been to follow Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 4559 (decided February 21, 1966) in the consideration and determination of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103. The three factual inquiries enunciated therein as a background for determining obviousness are as follows:

1. Determination of the scope and content of the prior art;
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims in issue; and
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

"Attention is directed to MPEP Section 706 for a more complete discussion of the application of the Graham test. "The Supreme Court reaffirmed and relied upon the Graham three-pronged test in its consideration and determination of obviousness in the fact situations presented in both the Ag Pro and Black Rock decisions. In each case, the Court went on to discuss whether the claimed combinations produced a 'new or different function' and 'a synergistic result,' but clearly decided whether the claimed inventions were unobvious 'on the basis of the three-way test in Graham. Nowhere in its decisions in those cases does the Court state that the 'new or different function' and 'synergistic result' tests supersede a finding of unobviousness or obviousness under the Graham test. "Accordingly, examiners should continue to apply the test for patentability under 35 U.S.C. 103 set forth in Graham. It should be noted that the Supreme Court's application of the Graham test to the fact circumstances in Ag Pro is somewhat stringent, as it was in Black Rock."

C. MARSHALL DANN,
July 8, 1976. Commissioner of Patents & Trademarks.

(79) Translations of Foreign Language References

Frequently, Office actions cite references that are in a foreign language. In the event a translation of the entire text or portion of the text of the reference is readily available in the examiners' search files, a copy of the translation will normally be included with the Office action. However, applicants are cautioned that the inclusion of a translation with a foreign language reference should not be construed to mean that the examiner used or relied on the translation, or that it is accurate or an official translation made by the Patent and Trademark Office.

While this service may be infrequent, it could be increased by the submission of translations by the applicant to the Office. Accordingly, it is requested that translations of foreign language references be transmitted to the Office, and in particular be transmitted with the response to the Office action or in a separate envelope addressed to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. In addition, it would be of great assistance to the Office in filing the translation, if the translation carried the following: 1. an identification of the foreign language reference and, where possible. 2. its location in the examiners' search files (e.g. location should be known if reference was cited in Office action). If indentifying information is not available, the incoming translation should carry the name "Scientific Library" thereon so that it can be processed by the Library.

(80) Restriction Between Inventions

The practice set out in the notice of June 20, 1968 (852 O.G. 509) is hereby revised as follows.

Under the statute an application may properly be required to be restricted to one of two or more claimed inventions only if they are able to support separate patents and they are either independent or distinct.

If it is demonstrated that two or more claimed inventions have no disclosed relationship ("independent"), restriction should be required, and it is not necessary to further show that the claimed inventions are distinct. If it is demonstrated that two or more claimed inventions have a disclosed relationship ("dependent"), then a showing of distinctness is required to substantiate a restriction requirement.

Where inventions are neither independent nor distinct, one from the other, or they are not sufficiently different to support more than one patent, their joinder in a single application must be permitted.

Every requirement to restrict has two aspects, (1) the reasons (as distinguished from the mere statement of conclusion) why the inventions as claimed are either independent or distinct, and (2) the reasons for insisting upon restriction therebetween.

In order to support a requirement to restrict between combination and subcombination inventions, two-way distinctness must be demonstrated.

If it can be shown that a combination, as claimed (1) does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) the subcombination can be shown to have utility either by itself or in other and different relations, the inventions are distinct. When these factors cannot be shown, such inventions are not distinct.

Two or more claimed subcombinations, disclosed as usable together in a single combination, and which can be shown to be separately usable, are usually distinct from each other.

In applications claiming inventions in different statutory categories only one-way distinctness is needed to support a restriction requirement. For example, in applications containing claims to both process and apparatus, distinctness may be shown if (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by hand or by another materially different apparatus, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process.

As in the notice of May 1, 1974 concerning Markush-Type claims (922 O.G. 1016), if the search and examination of an entire application can be made without serious burden, the examiner is encouraged to examine it on the merits, even though it includes claims to distinct or independent inventions.

(81) Restriction Policy and Practice

The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of the results of the survey that was conducted on restriction requirements made under 35 U.S.C. 121 in the Patent Examining Groups and to report clarifications that have been implemented as a result of a review of restriction policy and practice.

The survey involved about 320 patent applications in which a restriction only Office action had been prepared by an examiner in the period between July—Sept. 1983. The selection of applications was proportioned among Groups according to the volume of restriction requirements during the period. The statistics collected (Appendix A) and the definitions (Appendix B) for each item on the survey form are provided at the end of this notice.

Some of the significant findings of the survey include:

- 19% (61/320) of the requirements surveyed were not reasonable based on a review of the record
- 35% (88/249) of the requirements surveyed (not involving an election of species) were not supported by any reasons, or contained reasons which were clearly inapplicable to the facts
- 41% (53/128) of the actions following an election and traverse did not address the arguments contained in the traverse
- 91% (48/53) of a sample of 53 applications surveyed —the attorney or agent of record had no record of receiving a telephone call requesting an oral election

In response to the results of this survey, existing guidelines in Chapter 800 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) have been reviewed with each examiner and supervisor in the Patent Examining Corps in order to promote uniformity of practice and compliance with existing guidelines. A follow-up survey will be conducted in early 1985. In addition, as a result of a review of our existing policy and guidelines, the following clarifications have been made:

(1) Telephone Practice (MPEP 812.01) -

Except in those cases where the requirement for restriction is complex, the application is being prosecuted by the applicant pro se, or the examiner knows from past experience that an election will not be made by phone, the examiner should make a telephone call to the attorney or agent of record and request an oral election in accordance with MPEP 812.01, first paragraph.

If an election cannot, or will not, be made orally at the time of the call or within a reasonable time thereafter, generally three working days, the Office action requiring the election in writing should contain the following sentence

"A telephone call was made to (name of attorney or agent) on (date) to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made."

(2) Multiple Inventions In A Continuing Application

Where claims to multiple inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121 are presented in a continuing application (continuation, division, continuation-in-part including those which may be filed under 37 CFR 1.60 or 1.62), the examiner should make (or repeat) an appropriate requirement for restriction and require an election by the applicant UNLESS

(1) the applicant acknowledges the previous requirement in the parent application and clearly indicates which invention is to be prosecuted if the requirement is repeated. The examiner should make any proper requirement for restriction in the first Office action, state how applicant has indicated an election (e.g. statement in a preliminary amendment or transmittal letter), and include an action on the merits on the claims of the elected invention;

or

(2) The application is a continuation, but not a division or CIP filed as a File Wrapper Continuation (FWC) under 37 CFR 1.62. The examiner should assume that the requirement and election made in the parent application carries over unless otherwise indicated by applicant. The exmainer's first action should include a repetition of the restriction requirement made in the parent application to the extent it is still applicable in the continuation and an indication that prosecution is being continued on the invention elected and prosecuted by applicant in the parent application.

The policy and practice of making requirements final and seeking review by way of petition (37 CFR 1.144) remains unchanged in a continuing application, whether a requirement for election was first made in the parent and renewed in the continuation application or was made for the first time in the continuation application.

(3) Product, Process of Making, Process of Using (MPEP 806.05(i))

Practice in this situation is being amended to conform to Rule 13.2(i) of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) so that a three way requirement can be required only where the process of making is not "specially adapted" to make the product (i.e. the requirements of MPEP 806.05(f) are met). Otherwise, the process of using must be joined with the claims directed to the product and the process of making the product even though a showing of distinctness between the product and process of using the product (MPEP 806.05(h)) could be made. A determination of the patentability of the product need not be made prior to making a requirement for restriction.

The Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will be revised to reflect these clarifications in the next revision.

GERALD MOSSINGHOFF,
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(82) Restriction Practice Survey II

This notice is intended to inform the public of the results of a follow-up survey of applications containing a written restriction requirement. The results of the first survey were reported in the Official Gazette on Sept. 4, 1984 (1046 OG 2; Restriction Policy and Practice). Survey II involved 319 applications selected at random in the Patent Examining Groups from those in which a restriction only action had been credited to an examiner in the period of July—Sept. 1984. This period was after the Corps Management Meeting on June 5, 1984 in which restriction policy and practice were reviewed with all SPEs and Directors, and followed the distribution of review materials to all examiners. The results of Survey II showed significant improvements over the results of Survey I, but the results were still not considered satisfactory in several aspects.

Survey Procedure: The selection of applications was generally proportioned among the Groups to correspond to the relative proportion of restriction only actions that were completed in each Group in the last quarter of FY 84. A minimum of ten applications were surveyed from each Group. The distribution was as follows:

110 - 16	210 - 11	310 - 10
120 - 37	220 - 10	320 - 18
130 - 33	230 - 10	330 - 24
150 - 47	240 - 30	340 - 30
	250 - 13	350 - 20
	260 - 10
TOTALS 133	84	102

The survey team consisted of the same people who conducted the first survey. One person from the survey team reviewed each selected application file and completed the survey form regarding the restriction requirement(s) in the file. The same survey form was used in each survey.

In the event an application file could not be located or was not readily available, a different application was selected for the survey. In general, the substitute application was selected from those requirements completed by the same examiner assigned to the original application.

The survey did not include any design applications.

Survey Results: Statistical results of the survey are set forth on the survey form used in the Appendix including summaries on a Corps and discipline level. References in this notice to "Item ____" refer to the numbered items indicated on the survey form. These results indicate an improvement in all areas which were identified as acute problems in the first survey. We did not do a telephone survey to determine whether applicant's representative had been called prior to writing the requirement.

In addition to the survey, the statistics on restriction requirements before and after the training effort following the first survey are of interest. Statistics show that the number of restriction only actions has decreased 36% Corps-wide (52% in Group 120 which had the highest volume in the first survey) following our training effort. These statistics are shown below.

Quarter	Total First Actions	Total Corps Restriction Requirements	Group 120 Restriction Requirements
Apr–Jun 1984	32,035	2,771	514
Jul–Sep 1984	32,216	1,939	220
Oct–Dec 1984	28,158	1,522	212
	(32,358)*	(1,775)*	(247)*
Oct–Dec vs Apr–Jun		−36%	−52%.

*Figures adjusted (7/6 of actual) to reflect a 7 pay period quarter for comparison with the Apr.–June and July–Sept. quarters which included 7 pay periods.

In addition, 24% of the applications in the second survey contained a specific reference to a telephone call that was made by the examiner, but did not result in an election being made. It was also apparent that some of the requirements were sufficiently complex to warrant a written communication.

The applications reviewed in the second survey resulted in the conclusion that 9% of the requirements that were made were not reasonable on the record that was reviewed (Item 10 - 30/319). This compares to 19% (61/320) in the first survey. Of the 30 cases in which a conclusion of unreasonableness was made, the requirement was traversed in 22 (73%) of those cases, not traversed in 7 cases (23%), and no response was filed in 1 case. In the 22 cases where the unreasonable requirement was traversed, the requirement was withdrawn in 10 cases, not withdrawn in 8 cases, and no subsequent action had been made in 4 cases. In the first survey, 11 unreasonable requirements were withdrawn out of 61 made. The survey form on each of the unreasonable requirements in the second survey was returned and discussed with the Group Director.

In our opinion, the reasons provided by the examiner for insisting upon restriction were not proper (either non-existent or based on the wrong criteria) in 18% (Item 5j - 57/319) of the applications surveyed — compared to 35% in the first survey. In many of these cases, the reviewer determined that the requirement was justified, but for reasons which the examiner did not set forth in the requirement.

Our second survey revealed that applicant had traversed the requirements in 134 cases (Item 7c), and that where the examiner had given another action in those cases (Item 8 - 98), the reasons in the traverse had not been responded to in 30% (Item 8b - 30/98) of the cases. This represents a very modest improvement of the results in the first survey where 41% (53/128) had not responded to the arguments presented in applicants traverse.

In addition to the statistical results, the survey team met to discuss some of the problems observed during the survey. Several members of the team again observed that problems were more likely to arise where complex requirements involving a large number of claims and/or inventions are encountered, and where the claim schedule required the application of combination—subcombination criteria to show patentable distinctness (MPEP 806.05c - two-way distinctness). Where three or more inventions are presented in a single application, it was observed that the examiner rarely showed distinctness among all of the combinations of groups (e.g. I–II, II–III, I–III). Another observation that was frequently made was that many of the problems with incomplete requirements could have been avoided by the use of the form paragraphs and associated instructions.

Further Action: While the second survey indicated that significant improvements have been realized in our pursuit of uniformity in restriction practice, we have not achieved an acceptable level of performance in several areas. The same types of problems predominated in each survey, but are now at a reduced level. There is clearly a continuing need for supervisory review.

Supervisors will take the opportunity to emphasize the following points to examiners in their Art Units:

(1) Use of telephone when appropriate to minimize pendency time;
(2) Reasons to support the requirement (to satisfy the criteria for independence of patentable distinctness) and reasons for insisting upon restriction should be given in each written requirement. Mere conclusions are not sufficient;
(3) The substance of arguments contained in applicant's traverse should be responded to in the Office action following the traverse;
(4) A showing of two-way distinctness is required in situations where combination-subcombination criteria are applicable (MPEP 806.05c); and
(5) Use of appropriate form paragraphs should be encouraged.

In addition, each Group will review all restriction requirements made in the Group in a pay period at least once every six months.

Finally, review of restriction practice will not be made a component part of the Quality Review Program on an ongoing basis because of the desirability of identifying problems of this type before prosecution is over and the desirability of maintaining their focus on substantive issues. Of course, the Quality Review Staff will continue to bring problems with restriction requirements to the attention of the Director when they are encountered in the course of their review procedures.

Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(83) Revised Practice Re Markush-Type Claims

This notice deals with Markush-type generic claims which include a plurality of alternatively usable substances or members. In most cases, a recitation by enumeration is used because there is no appropriate or true generic language. In many cases, the Markush-type claims include independent and distinct inventions. This is true where two or more of the members are so unrelated and diverse that a prior art reference anticipating the claim with respect to one of the members would not render the claim obvious under 35 U.S.C. 103 with respect to the other member(s).

In applications containing claims of that nature, the Examiner may require a provisional election of a single species prior to examination on the merits. The provisional election will be given effect in the event that the Markush-type claim will be examined fully with respect to the elected species and further to the extent necessary to determine patentability. Should the Markush-type claim be found not allowable, examination will be limited to the Markush-type claim and claims to the elected species, with claims drawn to species patentably distinct from the elected species held withdrawn from further consideration.

As an example, in the case of an application with a Markush-type claim drawn to the compound C-R, wherein R is a radical selected from the group consisting of A, B, C, D, and E, the Examiner may require a provisional election of a single species, CA, CB, CC, CD, or CE. The Markush-type claim would then be examined fully with respect to the elected species and any species considered to be clearly unpatentable over the elected species. If on examination the elected species is found to be anticipated or rendered obvious by prior art, the Markush-type claim and claims to the elected species shall be rejected, and claims to the non-elected species would be held withdrawn from further consideration. As in the prevailing practice, a second action on the rejected claims would be made final.

On the other hand, should no prior art be found that anticipates or renders obvious the elected species, the search of the Markush-type claim will be extended. If prior art is then found that anticipates or renders obvious the Markush-type claim with respect to a non-elected species, the Markush-type claim shall be rejected and claims to the non-elected species held withdrawn from further consideration. The prior art search, however, will not be extended unnecessarily to cover all non-elected species. Should applicant, in response to this rejection of the Markush-type claim, overcome the rejection, as by amending the Markush-type claim to exclude the species anticipated or rendered obvious by the prior art, the amended Markush-type claim will be re-examined. The prior art search will be extended to the extent necessary to determine patentability of the Markush-type claim. In the event prior art is found during the re-examination that anticipates or renders obvious the amended Markush-type claim, the claim will be rejected and the action made final. Amendments submitted after the final rejection further restricting the scope of the claim will not be entered.

If the members of the Markush group are sufficiently few in number or so closely related that a search and examination of the entire claim can be made without serious burden, the Examiner is encouraged to examine all claims on the merits, even though they are directed to independent and distinct inventions. In such a case, the Examiner will not follow the above procedure and will not require restriction.

This notice supersedes the practice set out in 922 O.G. 1016. dated May 1, 1974.

Although the above practice is now in effect, a rule change proposal is also being considered to provide for prosecution of multiple inventions in a single patent application by submission of additional fees.

DONALD W. BANNER,
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(84) Unity of Invention Practice in International Applications and National Phase Applications Entered Under 35 U.S.C. 371

The purpose of this notice is to set forth procedural guidelines for deciding questions of unity of invention which may arise in international applications when searched by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) as an International Searching Authority and when examined during the national phase in the United States as a Designated Office after entry under 35 U.S.C. 371 in connection with the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT).

The May 28, 1986, decision in Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Civil Action No. 84-1212-A, (E.D. Va.) held the Patent and Trademark office interpretation of 37 CFR 1.141(b)(2) as applied to unity of invention determinations in international applications was not in accordance with the Patent Cooperation Treaty and its implementing legislation. In the Caterpillar international application, the USPTO, when acting as an International Searching Authority, held lack of unity of invention between a set of claims directed to a process for forming a sprocket and a set of claims drawn to an apparatus (die) for forging such a sprocket. The court stated that it was an unreasonable interpretation to say that the expression "specifically designed" as found in PCT Rule 13.2(ii) means that the process and apparatus can only be used with each other as set forth in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) §806.05(e).

Therefore, in considering international applications as an International Searching Authority and during the national phase as a Designated Office under 35 U.S.C. 371, PCT Rule 13.1 and 13.2 as interpreted in Caterpillar will be followed when considering unity of invention of claims of different categories without regard to 37 CFR 1.141. No change is being made in the restriction practice under 37 CFR 1.141(b) and (c) in United States national applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111 outside the PCT. No change in practice is being made in regard to claims of the same category of invention either in PCT or U.S. national applications. Such a change in U.S. national restriction practices would require a statutory change in the fee levels to cover the additional examining effort required in individual patent applications.

PCT Rules 13.1 and 13.2 are reproduced below:

PCT RULE 13
Unity of Invention

13.1 Requirement

The international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention").

13.2 Claims of Different Categories

Rule 13.1 shall be construed as permitting, in particular, one of the following three possibilities:

(i) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, the inclusion in the same international application of an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and the inclusion in the same international application of an independent claim for a use of the said product, or

(ii) in addition to an independent claim for a given process, the inclusion in the same international application of an independent claim for an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process, or

(iii) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, the inclusion in the same international application of an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the product, and the inclusion in the same international application of an independent claim for an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the process.

PCT Rule 13 only will be applied in the restriction practice used in national phase applications entered under 35 U.S.C. 371 because 35 U.S.C. 372(b)(2) provides that "The Commissioner may cause the question of unity of invention to be reexamined under section 121 of this title, within the scope of the requirements of the treaty and the Regulations".

Guidelines As to Implementation of Revised Unity of Invention Practice in International Applications and National Phase Applications Entered Under 35 U.S.C. 371

(1) The revised practice for international and national phase applications will not be used for national applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111.

(2) The revised practice will not affect the treatment of the claims of any applications (national or international) where the question of lack of unity of invention relates to other than different categories of invention issues. Therefore, restriction and unity of invention practice involving, for example, Markush type claims, genus-species, intermediate-final product or combination-subcombination situations are not affected for any applications by this notice.

(3) The expression "and as set forth in §§1.141" in 37 CFR 1.481(a) will no longer be considered operative in view of the decision in Caterpillar Tractor Co., supra. The criteria of §1.141 continue to be applicable to U.S. national applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111 as they were in effect prior to the Caterpillar decision and essentially the same as the practice which was in effect for many years prior to the PCT implementation. That is, practice will continue as set forth in MPEP Chapter 800 as modified in 1046 OG 2 for the practice relating to product, process of making and process of using. The practice in this latter situation is that a three way requirement for restriction can only be required where the process of making is distinct from the product (i.e., the requirements of MPEP 806.05(f) are met). Otherwise, the process of using must be joined with the claims directed to the product and the process of making the product even though a showing of distinctness between the product and process of using the product (MPEP 806.05(h)) could be made. A determination of the patentability of the product need not be made prior to making a requirement for restriction.

(4) The criteria of PCT Rule 13 will be applied when determining unity of invention of claims to different categories of invention in considering international applications as an International Searching Authority and during the national phase as a Designated Office under 35 U.S.C. 371.

(5) The revised practice will apply to all international applications before the PTO as an International Searching Authority in which no search report has been issued and in all pending national stage applications entered under 35 U.S.C. 371 in which a holding of lack of unity of invention (requirement for restriction) has not been made final by the examiner or acquiesced in by the applicant as of the date of this notice.

(6) In applying PCT Rule 13 to international applications as an International Searching Authority and to national phase applications under 35 U.S.C. 371, examiners will consider for unity of invention all of the claims to different categories of invention in the application and will permit retention in the same application for searching and/or examination, of claims to the categories which meet the requirements of any one of PCT Rule 13.1(i) to (iii).

In view of the court's treatment of the USPTO's distinctness test in Caterpillar, the USPTO will also permit in the same international application the following two combinations:

(a) an independent claim for a given product and an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product.

(b) an independent claim for a given product and an independent claim for a process of using the said product.

If the different categories of claims do not fall within any one of PCT Rule 13.2(i) to (iii) or additional combinations (a) or (b) above, i.e., they claim more or less categories of invention than permitted in any one of PCT Rule 13.2(i) to (iii) or combination (a) or (b) above, unity of invention may not be present. Further, an independent claim for a use in PCT Rule 13.2(i) and combination (b) above is construed as being limited to a claim directed to a process.

In determining unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.2(i) and (iii) and combination (a) above, the examiner will consider the word "specially" which appears before "adapted" to be an emphasis word rather than a limitation. In determining unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.2(ii), the examiner will consider the word "specifically" which appears before "designed" to be an emphasis word rather than a limitation.

Detailed Explanation

Under PCT Rule 13.2, Unity of Invention as to different categories of inventions is covered on the basis of 4 different categories of invention. They are:

A. a product
B. a process (for manufacture)
C. a use of the said product
D. an apparatus or means for carrying out the process for manufacture.

PCT Rule 13.2 provides for grouping of certain of these different categories of inventions and retaining unity of invention.

i. PCT Rule 13.2(i) provides for grouping claims to:

A. a product
B. a process for the manufacture of said product
C. a use of the said product

ii. PCT Rule 13.2(ii) provides for grouping claims to:

B. a process (e.g. for the manufacture of a product)
D. an apparatus or means for carrying out the said process.

iii. PCT Rule 13.2(iii) provides for grouping claims to:

A. a product
B. a process for the manufacture of the product
D. apparatus or means for carrying out the process.

Also permitted by the USPTO are combinations:

(a) A. a product
B. a process for the manufacture of said product

(b) A. a product
C. a use of the said product

If an application includes claims to all the categories of invention set forth in any one of PCT Rule 13.2(i), (ii), (iii), combinations (a) or (b) above, and no additional categories of invention are present, unity of invention exists and no additional search fees should be required or restriction requirement made.

For example, if an application contains claims to only a process for the manufacture of a product and claims to a use of a product and no product claims is present, there is lack of unity of invention since the provisions of Rule 13.2(i) do not apply and the process for manufacture of a product is independent of the use of the product since neither is dependent on the other. Also, if claims to all three categories of PCT Rule 13.2(i) are present at the time of the first Office action and all the product claims are canceled in the response to the first Office action, a requirement for restriction could be made, if appropriate, in the second Office action in view of the independent inventions remaining in the application. PCT Rule 13.2(i) would no longer apply since all three categories of claims would no longer be present in the application. However, the fact that claims to a certain category of invention are unpatentable does not affect the question of unity of invention provided the unpatentable claims are retained in the application.

Where claims to a category of invention in addition to those listed in any one of PCT Rule 13.2(i), (ii), (iii) or combinations (a) or (b) above included in an application, unity of invention may be lacking between the claims drawn to the categories set forth in any one of PCT Rule 13.2(i), (ii), (iii) or combinations (a) or (b) above, and the claims to the additional category of invention. For example, if an application contained claims to a process for manufacture, claims to an apparatus or means for carrying out the process and claims to a use of the product manufactured, there could be lack of unity of invention. In such a situation the examiner should group the claims to the process for manufacture and the claims for an apparatus or means for carrying out the process because unity of these two categories exists under PCT Rule 13.2(ii). The claims to the use of the product could be separately grouped if the "use" is shown to be "independent and distinct" of both the "process for manufacture" and the "apparatus or means for carrying out the process" as provided in Chapter 800 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP).

When the claims presented in an application are directed to several categories of invention so that more than one paragraph of PCT Rule 13.2 and combinations (a) or (b) above applies, the examiner will inspect the claims to see if the categories of invention set forth in PCT Rule 13.2, paragraphs (i), (iii) and (ii), and then combinations (a) or (b) above are present in the application in that order. For example, if the categories of PCT Rule 13.2(i) are found in the application, the claims to those categories stated in PCT Rule 13.2(i) will be considered as one invention and any claims to different categories of invention will be reviewed to determine if they are "independent and distinct" of all the claims covered in PCT Rule 13.2(i) in accordance with theprovisions of Chapter 800 of the MPEP.

Under PCT Rule 13.2 and combinations (a) and (b) above, unity will exist where the claims are limited to one invention in each category of invention recited. For example, under PCT Rule 13.2(i), claims are permitted to one product, one process of manufacturing and one use. If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention in the category first mentioned in the claims will be considered as the elected invention. The first recited invention of each additional category which is related as described in paragraph 7 below with the first invention as indicated in the previous sentence will be considered elected. Accordingly, for example, if multiple products are claimed, the first recited product is constructively elected and the first recited process, if multiple processes adapted for making and/or using the product are claimed, is also constructively elected. Any such holding by the examiner will be made in the form of a restriction requirement in an application entered in the USPTO under 35 U.S.C. 371. Such a restriction requirement would be made on the basis of criteria set forth in MPEP Chapter 800. Applicant would have the right to traverse such a restriction requirement in the response to the Office action.

(7) The inventions recited by the claims of different categories must be drawn to related rather than independent inventions. For example, the product as claimed in PCT Rule 13.2(i) and combinations (a) and (b) above must be able to be made by the claimed process for manufacture and the use claimed must be able to use the claimed product. Likewise in PCT Rule 13.2(ii), the apparatus as claimed must be able to carry out the claimed process. In PCT Rule 13.2(iii), the claimed process of manufacture must be able to make the claimed product and the claimed apparatus or means must be able to perform the claimed process of manufacture.

(9) Applicants should clearly indicate on all application papers filed for entry under 35 U.S.C. 371 and 37 CFR 1.61 that the filing is being made under 35 U.S.C. 371. Otherwise, the application papers will be treated as having been filed under 35 U.S.C. 111.

(10) Any prior notices or policies relating to unity of invention which are inconsistent herewith are superceded to the extent they are inconsistent with this notice.

Appropriate changes in the Code of Federal Regulations will be proposed in due course to adjust the level of the search fees and national fees of §1.445 to recover the cost of searching and examining international applications with claims to different categories of invention in a single international application. The fees were originally set based on the unity of invention practice previously in effect.

If necessary, additional guidance for processing applications under PCT Rule 13 will be issued as experience is gained.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

[1070 OG 11]

(85) Revised Procedures for Recording Searches and Considerations of Certain Prior Art

In order to provide a more complete, accurate and uniform record of what has been searched and considered by the examiner for each application the Patent and Trademark Office has established revised procedures for recording search data in the application file. Such a record is of importance to anyone evaluating the strength and validity of a patent, particularly if the patent is involved in litigation. These new procedures will also facilitate the printing of certain search data on patents.

Under the revised procedures, searches are separated into two categories and listed, as appropriate, in either the "SEARCHED" box or a newly added "SEARCH NOTES" box on the file jacket.

Until file jackets can be reprinted to include a second search data box, all file jackets for new applications will have the "SEARCH NOTES" box stamped therein by the Mail Room. If additional space is required, entries will be continued on the outside right flap of the file jacket.

The revised procedures will apply to all new applications in which the first search is made after April 1, 1977 and do not affect the manner in which references are listed on the form PTO-892. "Notice of References Cited." Appropriate changes in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will be made.

A. "SEARCHED" Box Entries

Search entries made here, except those for search updates (see item A. 3 below), will be printed under "Field of Search" on the patent front page. Therefore, the following searches will be recorded in the "SEARCHED" box by the examiner along with the date and the examiner's initials, according to the following guidelines:

1. A complete search of a subclass, including all United States and foreign patent documents and other publications placed therein. The complete classification (class and subclass) will be recorded.
2. A limited search of a subclass, for example, a search that is restricted to an identifiable portion of the patent documents placed therein. If, however, only the publications in a subclass are searched, such an entry is to be made under "SEARCH NOTES" rather than under "SEARCHED." (See item B, 4 below.)
   The class and subclass, followed by the information defining the portion of the subclass searched in parenthesis, will be recorded.
3. An update of a search previously made.
   This search entry will be recorded in a manner to indicate clearly which of the previously recorded searches have been updated, followed by the expression "(updated)." Search update, entries, although recorded in the "SEARCHED" box, will not be printed.
   When a search made in a parent application is updated during the examination of a continuing application, those searches updated, followed by "(updated from parent S.N. _____)" will be recorded. If the parent has been patented, the patent number "Pat. N. _____" instead of serial number in the above phrase will be recorded.
4. A mechanized search of a file of documents in a specific art, conducted by using key terms to retrieve documents. The name of the mechanized search system as it appears in the following list will be recorded along with the expression "MS File" to indicate mechanized search file.

Mechanized Search Systems

Termatrex Systems:

Automatic Fuel Controls
Boots & Shoes
Chemical Testing
Combined Fasteners
Electrical Contact Materials
Surface Bonding Using Critical Metal

Edge-Notched Card System:

Fluid Devices

Punch Card Systems:

Electrolysis
Organometallics
Steroids

Computer Controlled Microfiche Search Systems (CCMSS):

A-D Convertors
Digital Data Processing Systems
Special Purpose Digital Processing Systems

When a search with a Termatrex or Edge-Notched card system is conducted, the examiner will complete form PTO-1041 in two copies, recording all queries searched, even those which yield only nonrelevant documents. All documents returned by the system in response to a query which are not actually reviewed will have an "X" drawn through their associated access and patent numbers. When conducting a search with a Punched Card system, the examiner will place in the application file the Code Sheet on which the terms searched have been marked along with the machine tape listing the documents retrieved. Any document not actually reviewed will have an "X" drawn through that document's number on the listing.

When conducting a search with the CCMSS search systems, the machine-produced search report, which lists the terms and tagged documents, will be placed in the application file on the right flap of the file jacket. Any tagged document not actually reviewed will have an "X" drawn through that document number on the search report.

B. "SEARCH NOTES" Box Entries

Entries made in the "SEARCH NOTES" box are of equal importance to those placed in the "SEARCHED" box; however, these entries will not be printed on any resulting patent. They are intended to complete the application file record of areas and/or documents considered by the examiner in the search. The examiner will record the following searches in the "SEARCH NOTES" box and in the manner indicated, with each search dated and initialled:

1. A cursory search, or scanning, of a subclass, i.e., a search usually made to determine if the documents classified there are relevant. The classification will be recorded, followed by "(Cursory)."
2. A consultation with other examiners to determine if relevant search fields exist in their areas of expertise. The class and subclass discussed, if not actually searched, will be recorded, followed by "(consulted)." This entry may also include the name of the examiner consulted and the art unit.
3. A search of a publication not located within the classified patent file, e.g., a library search, a text book search, a Chemical Abstracts search, etc. The following data will be recorded for each type of literature search:

   a. Abstracting publications, such as Chemical Abstracts or the Engineering Index—the name of the publication, the list of terms consulted in the index and the period covered will be recorded.
   b. Periodicals—The title and period or volumes covered, as appropriate will be recorded.
   c. Books—The title and author, edition or date, as appropriate, will be recorded.
   d. Other types of literature not specifically mentioned above (i.e., catalogs, manufacturer's literature, private collections, etc.).
   Unless the search is a cursory or browsing one, data as necessary to provide unique identification of material searched will be recorded. Specific materials cited by the examiner will not be recorded again here.
   e. Computer search in Scientific Library—An on-line computerized literature searching service which uses key terms and index terms to locate relevant publications in many large bibliographic data bases is available to examiners in the Scientific Library of the Patent and Trademark Office. A member of the library staff is assigned to assist examiners in selecting key terms and to program the search.
   There are two on-line search systems: The Lockheed Information Systems and the SDC Search Service.
   These search systems include many data bases.
   A copy of the search printout will be made and placed in the application file, attached to the right flap of the file jacket.
   The examiner will also indicate which publications were reviewed by initialling and dating the copy of the printout in the left margin adjacent to each reviewed publication. If only an abstract of a document was reviewed, the note of "ck'ed abst." will be made next to the initials and date. If the complete document was reviewed, the note "ck'ed doc." will be placed with the initials and date.
4. A search of only the publications in a subclass. The class and subclass followed by "(publications only)" will be recorded.
5. A review of art cited in a parent application or in an original patent, as required for all continuing and reissue applications, or a review of art cited in related applications or patents mentioned within the specification, such as those included to provide background of the invention. The serial number of a parent application that is still Pending or abandoned, followed by "refs. checked" or "refs. ck'ed" will be recorded. If for any reason not all of the references are checked because they are not available or clearly not relevant, such exceptions will be noted. The patent number of a parent or related application that was patented or of an original patent now being reissued will be recorded along with the expressions "refs. checked" or "refs. ck'ed."

C. Not Recorded

The following data will not be recorded in either of the search boxes, but will be noted in the application file as indicated below:

1. Citations of prior art by applicants conforming to Rule 98 and the practice thereunder.
   In each instance where all prior art referred to in a paper placed in the application file is considered, the examiner will place the notation "all ck'ed" and his or her initials adjacent to the citation.
2. Citations of prior art by applicants not conforming to Rule 98 and the practice thereunder.
   In each instance where an examiner considers, but does not cite on form PTO-892, specific prior art referred to in a paper placed in the application file, the examiner will place a notation adjacent to the reference. If all the references referred to in such a paper are reviewed, the examiner will place the notation "all ck'ed" and his or her initials adjacent the citation. If included in the specification, the examiner will write his or her initials adjacent to any reference(s) checked and enter "checked" or "ck'ed" in the left margin opposite the initials. If presented in a separate paper or in the remarks of an amendment, the examiner's initials and "checked" or "ck'ed" will be entered adjacent to the citation(s) or wherever possible to indicate clearly those checked.

(86) Prior Art Cited by Applicants

Effective immediately, applicants are encouraged to use new form PTO-1449, "List of Prior Art Cited by Applicant," when preparing a prior art statement under 37 CFR 1.97–1.99. A copy of the form is included herewith from which suitable reproductions can be made. This form, which will enable applicants to provide the PTO with a uniform listing of prior art citation, supersedes form PTO-3.72.

While the filing of prior art statements is voluntary, the procedure is governed by the guidelines of Section 609 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and 37 CFR 1.97 through 1.99. To be considered a proper prior art statement, form PTO-1449 shall be accompanied by an explanation of relevance of each listed item, a copy of each listed patent or publication or other item of information and a translation of the pertinent portions of foreign documents (if an existing translation is readily available to the applicant), and should be submitted in a timely manner as set out in MPEP Sec. 609.

Examiners will consider all prior art citations submitted in conformance with 37 CFR 1.98 and MPEP Sec. 609 and place their initials adjacent the citations in the boxes provided on the form. Examiners will also initial citations not in conformance with the guidelines which may have been considered. A reference may be considered by the examiner for any reason whether or not the citation is in full conformance with the guidelines. A line will be drawn through a citation if it is not in conformance with the guidelines and has not been considered. A copy of the submitted form, as reviewed by the examiner, will be returned to the applicant with the next communication. The original of the form will be entered into the application file.

Each citation initialed by the examiner will be printed on the issued patent in the same manner as prior art cited by the examiner on form PTO-892.

The reference designations "AA," "AB," etc. (referring to applicant's reference A, Applicant's reference B, etc.) will be used by the examiner in the same manner as examiner's reference designations "A," "B," "C," etc. on Office Action Form PTO-1142.

(87) Report on Results of an Oct. 1985—Feb. 1986 Survey on the Citation by Applicants of Information Disclosure Statements in Patent Applications

This report summarizes the data compiled from a sample of 1200 allowed utility applications surveyed in the Office of Quality Review during the period of Oct. 1, 1985 to Feb. 14, 1986.

For purposes of the survey, a "citation", whether appearing in the specification or in a separate paper, is defined as either (1) a listing of patents or publications together with a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item (i.e. an "information disclosure statement" under 37 CFR 1.98(a)), or (2) a "mere listing" of patents or publications. In addition, a "reference", or "document", is defined as any patent or other publication cited by applicant.

This survey report is similar to and presented in the same general format as the survey reports published in the Official Gazette of Nov. 23, 1976, pages 1356 and 1357, of Sept. 26, 1978, pages 22 and 23, and of Aug. 12, 1980, pages 8 and 9. It should be noted, however, that the phrase "prior art statement" used throughout the three previous survey reports has been replaced by the more appropriate phrase "information disclosure statement" reflecting the current terminology of 37 CFR 1.97–1.99 as amended.

This survey indicates, among other things, that 60% of the sampled applications include citations by applicants. This is somewhat less than the 63% finding in the survey reported in the 1980 O.G. and the 64% finding in the 1978 survey but still represents an improvement over the 54% finding in the 1976 survey. In addition, more citations are being submitted later in the prosecution than previously. The percentage of applications having citations submitted in separate papers has increased while the percentage of applications having such papers submitted within three months of the filing of an application is down from 79% in 1978 and 73% in 1979 to 53% presently. Also, while the percentage of applications having citations accompanied by copies of references cited has increased, overall compliance with Office guidelines has decreased.

A separate, recent informal review of citations made after allowance similarly indicated frequent noncompliance with the guidelines of Section 609 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure. Often, citations were in the form of prior art search reports made by foreign patent offices many months or years earlier, submitted without copies of the references, discussion of materiality, or any explanation for the late submission. The Office is presently considering action to remedy these problems.

(88) Express Abandonments

Experience over the past several months has indicated the need to clarify and re-emphasize existing practice regarding express abandonments submitted under 37 CFR 1.138

Since 1966, when Rule 138 was revised, it is no longer required that the applicant and the assignee of record, if any, sign an express abandonment. The revised rule indicates that a patent application may be expressly abandoned by an attorney or agent of record. Therefore, prior to signing a declaration of express abandonment of a patent application, it is imperative that the attorney or agent of record exercise every precaution in ascertaining that the abandonment of the application is in accordance with the desires and best interests of the applicant. Moreover, special care should be taken to insure that the appropriate application from a group of related applications is correctly identified in the letter of abandonment.

A declaration of abandonment signed by the applicant or his attorney or agent of record becomes effective when an appropriate official of the Office takes action in recognition of the declaration. When so recognized, the date of abandonment may be the date of recognition or a different date if so specified in the declaration itself. For example, where a continuing application is filed with a request to abandon the prior application as of the filing date accorded the continuing application, the date of the abandonment of the prior application will be in accordance with the request once it is recognized.

Action in recognition of an express abandonment may take the form of an acknowledgement by the examiner or the Patent Issue Division of the receipt of the express abandonment, indicating that it is in compliance with 37 CFR 1.138 (see Section 711.01 MPEP). Alternatively, recognition may be no more than the transfer of drawings to a new application pursuant to instructions which include a request to abandon the application containing the drawings to be transferred (see 37 CFR 1.60 and Section 608.02(i) MPEP).

It is suggested that divisional applications being submitted under 37 CFR 1.60 be reviewed before filing to ascertain whether the prior application should be abandoned. Recent experience reveals that some divisional applications are being filed under 37 CFR 1.60 with requests to transfer the drawings from, and abandon, the prior application. Following the recognition of the abandonment, the attorney or agent signing the request informs the Office that the request was made by mistake for any one of a number of reasons. Care should be exercised in situations such as these as the Office looks on express abandonments as acts of deliberation, intentionally performed.

Another common situation involves the submission of an express abandonment following the allowance of an application The express abandonment may not be recognized unless it is actually received by appropriate officials in time to act before the date of issue. In those cases, once a patent number and issue date have been assigned to the application, it is considered too late to act on the express abandonment unless a petition under Rule 313(b) or Rule 183 is granted (see Section 711.01 of MPEP).

(89) Notice of Abandonment for Failure to Prosecute Application

Effective immediately the Patent Examining Corps will mail a communication, concerning all applications becoming abandoned in the Corps for failure to prosecute, to the correspondence address of record.

The communication to be mailed will merely comprise a copy of the first page of the Office action, to which applicant failed to properly respond, the copy including stamped language thereon indicating that the application has become abandoned and the date that the copy was mailed. The language stamped on the copy will be as follows: APPLICATION HAS BECOME ABANDONED. THIS NOTICE MAILED: _____ In no case will the mere failure to receive a notice of abandonment affect the status of an abandoned application.

This new procedure should enable applicants to take appropriate and diligent action to reinstate an application inadvertently abandoned for failure to timely respond to an official communication. In most cases, a petition to revive under 37 CFR 1.137 will be the appropriate remedy. It may be that a response to the Office action was mailed to the Office with a certificate of mailing declaration as a part thereof (notice of October 26, 1976: 951 O.G. 1342) but was not received in the Office. In this instance, adequate relief may be available by means of a petition to withdraw the holding of abandonment.

In any instance, if action is not taken promptly after receiving the notice of abandonment, appropriate relief may not be granted.

If a lack of diligent action is predicated on the contention that neither the Office action nor the notice of abandonment was received, one may presume that there is a problem with the correspondence address of record. Accordingly, your attention is directed to recent notices of May 28, 1975, and September 9, 1976, dealing with changes of address (935 O.G. 1352 and 951 O.G. 454). In essence, it is imperative that a paper notifying the Office of a change of address be filed promptly in each application in which the correspondence address is to be changed.

If an application is abandoned or a patent lapsed for an excessive time a terminal disclaimer may be required. A terminal disclaimer may also be required where the holding of abandonment or lapse is withdrawn but a determination is made that action attempting to correct the problem should have been taken in a more diligent manner.

(90) Requirement for a Response Under 37 CFR 1.136 and 1.137 Where a Continuing Application is Being Filed.

This notice is intended to clarify the requirements for a response as required by 37 CFR 1.136 or 1.137 in situations involving a petition for extension of time or a petition to revive an abandoned application for the purpose of filing a continuing application.

In those instances where an extension of time or a revival of an abandoned application is sought solely for the purpose of filing a continuing application under 35 U.S.C. 120 and where the prior application is to be abandoned in favor of the continuing application, the filing of a response as required by 37 CFR 1.111, 1.113, 1.192 or other regulation is considered to be an unnecessary expenditure of resources by the applicant. Accordingly, in these situations, the Patent and Trademark Office will accept the filing of a continuing application as a response under 37 CFR 1.136 or 1.137.

To facilitate processing by the Office, any such petition for extension of time or petition to revive should specifically refer to the filing of a continuing application and also include an express abandonment of the prior application conditioned upon the granting of the petition and the granting of a filing date to the continuing application.

(91) Petitions Under 37 CFR 1.183 to Waive One the Year Time Period Requirement in 37 CFR 1.137(b), 1.155(c) and 1.316(c)

Petitions to revive an unintentionally abandoned application (37 CFR 1.137(b)) or to accept an unintentionally late paid issue fee (37 CFR 1.155(c) or 1.316(c)) must befiled within one year of the date on which the application became abandoned.

In the last sentence of the above-noted subsections of 37 CFR, the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks has indicated that petitions under 37 CFR 1.183 to waive any time period requirements for filing a request pursuant to these subsections will not be considered, but will be returned to the applicant. However, it has become apparent that under certain very limited conditions, the interests of the patent system would be better served by considering such petitions.

These very limited conditions arise when an application becomes abandoned due to an action or inaction by applicant and the Patent and Trademark Office performs a positive, documented and Official act* (e.g., by issuing an Official document) which could lead a reasonable individual to conclude that the action or inaction was appropriate. If this conclusion is a contributing factor in the applicant's failure to realize the true, abandoned status of his application in time to file a petition under one of the above-noted subsections, then conditions exist under which a §1.183 petition will be considered.

For example, if an applicant files papers for a continuing application under 37 CFR 1.60 or 1.62 on a date when the parent application is abandoned (e.g., the applicant neglected to obtain an extension of time in the parent application), the requirements of these regulations are not satisfied and the papers should not be processed into an application. However, if in spite of this error the Office issues a filing receipt for the continuing application, a reasonable individual could conclude that the continuing application had been properly filed on a date when the parent application was pending. Further, if the lack of copendency between the parent and the continuing applications is not discovered until after one year from the date on which the parent application became abandoned, the opportunity to obtain copendency by reviving the parent application under 37 CFR 1.137(b) is lost. As an additional example, if an applicant submits a check for payment of the issue fee and the payment is improper (e.g., the check is not timely submitted or is returned to the Office unpaid due to insufficient funds), the application should be held abandoned. However, if in spite of the improper issue fee payment the Office issues the application as a patent, a reasonable individual could conclude that the issue fee payment had been proper. Further, if the improper issue fee payment is not discovered until after one year from the date on which the application became abandoned, the opportunity to request acceptance of a late paid issue fee under 37 CFR 1.155(c) or 1.316(c) is lost.

The abandonment problems described in the above-noted examples are clearly attributed to an error on the part of the applicant. Nevertheless, such a problem could be aggravated when the Office performs a positive, documented and Official act* which, in the circumstances recounted above, may be a contributing factor in the loss of an opportunity to rectify this problem by filing a petition under one of the above-noted subsections. In light of these factors, the Commissioner will exercise his authority under 37 CFR 1.183 to waive the one year period requirement for filing a petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b), 1.155(c) or 1.316(c) providing the following strictly limited conditions are present:

(1) The applicant's action or inaction which caused the application to become abandoned was clearly an unintentional oversight which resulted from a bona fide attempt, as evidenced by Patent and Trademark Office records, to comply with patent statutes, rules and procedures in order to keep the application pending as desired; and

(2) The Office performed a positive, documented and Official act* which could lead a reasonable individual to conclude that the action or inaction was proper and this conclusion was a contributing factor in the applicant's failure to realize the true abandoned status of his application in time to file a petition under one of the above-noted subsections; and

(3) A petition under 37 CFR 1.183 and one of the above-noted subsections is filed within three (3) months of the date applicant is notified by the Office or otherwise becomes aware of the abandoned status of the application; and

(4) The petition is accompanied by a terminal disclaimer with fee under 37 CFR 1.321 dedicating to the public a terminal part, equivalent to the period of abandonment, of the term of any patent granted on the application or on any application entitled to the benefit of the filing date of the application under 35 USC 120.

For a transitional period of three (3) months from the date of this Notice, the requirement for filing a petition within three (3) months of the date referred to in condition (3), above, will not be enforced providing:

(a) the abandoned application could have been restored to pending status if a petition under one of the above-noted subsections had been timely filed; and

(b) the applicant made a bona fide attempt, as evidenced by Patent and Trademark Office records, to restore the abandoned application to pending status within three months of the date applicant was notified by the Office or otherwise became aware of the abandoned status of the application.

Applicants should note that this is intended to be a very limited extension of the Commissioner's discretion in exercising his authority to waive the one year period required under the above-mentioned subsections. For this reason, the above-noted conditions and provisions will be strictly adhered to and any petition under §1.183 which fails to comply with these conditions or provisions will be denied.

*NOTE: THE FAILURE OF THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE TO SEND AN OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION (E.G., A NOTICE OF ABANDONMENT) IS NOT CONSIDERED TO BE A POSITIVE, DOCUMENTED AND OFFICIAL ACT WITHIN THE MEANING OF THIS NOTICE.

(92) Procedure for Handling Amendments under 37 CFR 1.116

On Oct. 1, 1982, pursuant to Public Law 97-247, the Patent and Trademark Office discontinued the previous practice in patent applications of extending without fee the shortened statutory period for response to a final rejection upon the filing of a timely first response to a final rejection (37 CFR 1.116). Since Oct. 1, 1982, applicants are able to obtain additional time for a first or subsequent response to a final rejection by petitioning and paying the appropriate fee under 37 CFR 1.136(a), provided the additional time does not exceed the six month statutory period.

In order to continue to encourage the early filing of any first response after a final rejection and to take care of any situations in which the examiner does not timely respond to a first response after final rejection which is filed early in the period for response, the Office is changing the manner in which the period for response is set on any final rejection mailed after Feb. 27, 1983.

Under the changed procedure, if an applicant initially responds within two months from the date of mailing of any final rejection setting a three-month shortened statutory period for response and the Office does not mail an advisory action until after the end of the three-month shortened statutory period, the period for response for purposes of determining the amount of any extension fee will be the date on which the Office mails the advisory action advising applicant of the status of the application, but in no event can the period extend beyond six months from the date of the final rejection. This procedure will apply only to a first response to a final rejection and will be implemented by including the following language in each final rejection mailed after Feb. 27, 1983:

> A shortened statutory period for response to this final action is set to expire three months from the date of this action. In the event a first response is filed within two months of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the three-month shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event will the statutory period for response expire later than six months from the date of this final action.

For example, if applicant initially responds within two months from the date of mailing of a final rejection and the examiner mails an advisory action before the end of three months from the date of mailing of the final rejection, the shortened statutory period will expire at the end of three months from the date of mailing of the final rejection. In such a case, any extension fee would then be calculated from the end of the three-month period. If the examiner, however, does not mail an advisory action until after the end of three months, the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the examiner mails the advisory action and any extension fee may be calculated from that date.

Statutory periods set in Office actions mailed before Feb. 28, 1983, will not be effected by this change in procedure.

(93) Expedited Procedure for Processing Amendments and Other Responses After Final Rejection (37 CFR 1.116)

In an effort to improve the timeliness of the processing of amendments and other responses under 37 CFR 1.116, and thereby provide better service to the public, the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is establishing, effective immediately, an expedited processing procedure which the public may utilize in filing amendments and other responses after final rejection under 37 CFR 1.116. In order for an applicant to take advantage of the expedited procedure the amendment or other response under 37 CFR 1.116 will have to be marked as a "Response Under 37 CFR 1.116 — Expedited Procedure-Examining Group (Insert Examining Group Number)" on the upper right portion of the amendment or other response and the envelope must be marked "Box AF" in the lower left hand corner. The markings preferably should be written in a bright color with a felt point marker. If the response is mailed to the Office, the envelope should contain only responses under 37 CFR 1.116 and should be mailed to "Box AF, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231." Instead of mailing the envelope to "Box AF" as noted above, the response may be hand-carried to the particular Examining Group or other area of the Office in which the application is pending and marked on the outside envelope "Response Under 37 CFR 1.116 — Expedited Procedure-Examining Group (Insert Examining Group Number)".

Upon receipt by the PTO from the Postal Service of an envelope appropriately marked "Box AF," the envelope will be specially processed by the PTO Mail Room and forwarded promptly to the Examining Group, via the Office of Finance if any fees have to be charged or otherwise processed. Upon receipt of the response in the Examining Group it will be promptly processed by a designated clerical employee and forwarded to the examiner, via the Supervisory Primary Examiner (SPE), for action. The SPE is responsible for ensuring that prompt action on the response is taken by the examiner. If the examiner to which the application is assigned is not available and will not be available for an extended period, the SPE will ensure that action on the application is promptly taken to assure meeting the PTO goal described below. Once the examiner has completed his or her consideration of the response, the examiner's action will be promptly typed and mailed by clerical employees designated to expedite the processing of responses filed under this procedure. The Examining Group supervisory personnel, e.g., the Supervisory Primary Examiners, Supervisory Applications Clerk, and Group Director are responsible for ensuring that actions on responses filed under this procedure are promptly processed and mailed.

The PTO goal is to mail the examiner's action on the response within one month from the date on which the amendment or response is received by the PTO. The PTO is establishing monitoring procedures to determine how well the goal is being achieved. If the goal of mailing the action on the response within one month or less is not achieved in a high percentage of applications, e.g., at least 90–95% of appropriately marked responses, after a reasonable trial period, the PTO will institute further changes in procedures in the future which will give approprite relief to applicants in cases where the delay is due to Office processing.

Applicants are encouraged to utilize this expedited procedure in order to facilitate PTO processing of responses under 37 CFR 1.116. If applicants do not utilize the procedure by appropriately marking the envelope and enclosed papers, the benefits expected to be achieved therefrom will not be attained. The procedure cannot be expected to result in achievement of the goal in applications in which the delay results from actions by the applicant, e.g., delayed interviews, applicant's desire to file a further response, or a petition by applicant which requires a decision and delays action on the response. In any application in which a response under this procedure has been filed and no action by the examiner has been received within the time referred to herein, plus normal mailing time, a telephone call to the SPE of the relevant Group Art Unit would be appropriate in order to permit the SPE to determine the cause for any delay. If the SPE is unavailable or if no satisfactory response is received, the Group Director of the Examining Group should be contacted.

Any comments on this expedited procedure during the trial period are invited and should be directed to the attention of Rene D. Tegtmeyer, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(94) New Procedures for Recordation of Interviews

This notice establishes within the Patent and Trademark Office additional general procedures for the recordation of interviews. Proposed procedures were published in the Official Gazette of June 28, 1977 (959 O.G. 36) for comment from interested members of the public by August 10, 1977. Fifteen written comments were received the majority of which were favorable to the proposed procedures. Careful consideration has been given to the comments and the procedures are being adopted with a few changes.

Under present practice it is the responsibility of the applicant or the attorney or agent to make the substance of an interview of record in the application file, unless the examiner indicates he or she will do so. It is the examiner's responsibility to see that such a record is made and to correct material inaccuracies which bear directly on the question of patentability as set forth in section 713.04 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP). This practice is continued and further amplified as set forth below.

Recent surveys have indicated that the substance of many interviews has not been made of record or the text thereof is incomplete as to substantive matters. In some cases, the substance of an interview may be presented as arguments in a subsequent response filed by the applicant but without any indication that they had been presented at the interview. In order to help insure a better record of examiner-applicant interviews in application files, the following new procedures are adopted to become effective for interviews conducted on and after January 1, 1978. Appropriate changes will be made in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP).

Examiners will complete a two-sheet carbon interleaf Interview Summary Form for each interview held where a matter of substance has been discussed by checking the appropriate boxes and filling in the blanks in neat handwritten form. Discussions regarding only procedural matters, directed solely to restriction requirements (for which interview recordation is otherwise provided for in Section 812.01 of the MPEP), or pointing out typographical errors or unreadable script in Office actions or the like, are excluded from the interview recordation procedures below.

The Interview Summary Form shall be given an appropriate paper number, placed in the file and listed on the "Contents" list on the file wrapper. The docket and serial register cards will not be updated to reflect this interview. In a personal interview, the duplicate copy of the Form will be removed and given to the applicant (or attorney or agent) at the conclusion of the interview. In the case of a telephonic interview, the copy will be mailed to the applicant's correspondence address either with or prior to the next official communication. If additional correspondence from the examiner before an allowance is not likely or if other circumstances dictate, the Form will be mailed promptly after the telephonic interview rather than with the next official communication. The original of the completed Form will be made of record and placed in the right hand flap of the file.

The Form provides for recordation of the following information:

—Serial Number of the application
—Name of applicant
—Name of examiner
—Date of interview
—Type of interview (personal or telephone)
—Name of participant(s) (applicant, attorney or agent, etc.)
—An indication whether or not an exhibit was shown or a demonstration conducted —An identification of the claims discussed
—An identification of the specific prior art discussed
—An indication whether an agreement was reached and if so, a description of the general nature of the agreement (may be by attachment of a copy of amendments or claims agreed as being allowable). (Agreements as to allowability are tentative and do not restrict further action by the examiner to the contrary.)
—The signature of the examiner who conducted the interview
—Names of other Patent and Trademark Office personnel present.

The Form also contains a statement reminding the applicant of his responsibility to record the substance of the interview.

It is desirable that the examiner orally remind the applicant of his obligation to record the substance of the interview in each case unless both applicant and examiner agree that the examiner will record same. Where the examiner agrees to record the substance of the interview, or when it is adequately recorded on the Form or in an attachment to the Form, the examiner will check a box at the bottom of the Form informing the applicant that he need not supplement the Form by submitting a separate record of the substance of the interview.

It should be noted, however, that the Interview Summary Form will not be considered a complete and proper recordation of the interview unless it includes, or is supplemented by the applicant or the examiner to include, all of the applicable items required below concerning the substance of the interview:

The complete and proper recordation of the substance of any interview should include at least the following applicable items:

1) A brief description of the nature of any exhibit shown or any demonstration conducted.
2) an identification of the claims discussed.
3) an identification of specific prior art discussed.
4) an identification of the principal proposed amendments of a substantive nature discussed, unless these are already described on the Interview Summary Form completed by the examiner.
5) a brief identification of the general thrust of the principal arguments presented to the examiner. The identification of arguments need not be lengthy or elaborate. A verbatim or highly detailed description of the arguments is not required. The identification of the arguments is sufficient if the general nature or thrust of the principal arguments made to the examiner can be understood in the context of the application file. Of course, the applicant may desire to emphasize and fully describe those arguments which he feels were or might be persuasive to the examiner.
6) a general indication of any other pertinent matters discussed, and
7) if appropriate, the general results or outcome of the interview unless already described in the Interview Summary Form completed by the examiner.

Examiners are expected to carefully review the applicant's record of the substance of an interview. If the record is not complete or accurate, the examiner will take appropriate action as set forth in MPEP Section 713.04. If the record is complete and accurate, the examiner should place the indication "Interview record OK" on the paper recording the substance of the interview along with the date and the examiner's initials.

(95) Viewing of Video Tapes During Interviews

The Patent and Trademark Office has video tape equipment available in the facilities of the Patent Academy for viewing video tapes from applicants during interviews with patent examiners.

The video tape equipment may use VHS and UHS (½ inch tapeP cassettes.

Attorneys or applicants wishing to show a video tape during an examiner interview must be able to demonstrate that the content of the video tape has a bearing on an outstanding issue in the application and its viewing will advance the prosecution of the application. Prior approval of viewing of a video tape during an interview must be granted by the SPE. Also, use of the room and equipment must be granted by the Training Manager to avoid any conflict with the Patent Academy.

Requests to use video tape viewing equipment for an interview should be made at least one week in advance to allow the Patent Academy staff sufficient time to ensure the availability and proper scheduling of both a room and equipment.

Interviews using Office video tape equipment will be held only in the Academy facilities located in One Crystal Park, Rm. 502. Attorneys or applicants should not contact the Patent Academy directly regarding availability and scheduling of video equipment. All scheduling of rooms and equipment should be done through and by the examiner conducting the interview.

(96) Statements Filed Under Atomic Energy Act And NASA Act

Attention is called to the provisions of section 152 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2182) and section 305(c) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2457). These statutes provide that the title to inventions useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy, made or conceived in the course of or under any contract, subcontract, or arrangement entered into with or for the benefit of the Atomic Energy Commission, and any invention made in the performance of any work under any contract of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, shall be vested in the United States. They also provide that no patent may be granted for any invention useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy, or which in the opinion of the Commissioner has significant utility in the conduct of aeronautical or space activities, unless the applicant files with his application or within 30 days after request therefor by the Commissioner, a statement under oath setting forth (a) the full facts in regard to the making or conception of the invention, and (b) the situation with regard to the contractual relationships involving the Commission or the Administration. Careful attention should be given the exact wording of the requirements of whichever of these sections is pertinent in order to assure that all of the requirements are met. Since the duty of requiring the statements is placed by law on the Commissioner of Patents, it is incumbent on the Commissioner to determine whether the statements are timely filed and sufficient in substance to comply. Since these laws do not provide for any extension of the 30-day period or for reviving an applicaton which has become abandoned for failure to file a proper statement, it is important that such statements be timely filed and that they do so comply in order to avoid loss of valuable patent rights.

The "full facts" involved in the conception and making of an invention should include those which are unique to that invention. The use of form paragraphs or printed forms which set forth only broad generalized statements of fact is not ordinarily regarded as meeting the requirements of these statutes.

This office has construed the word "applicant" in both of these statutes to mean the inventor or joint inventors in person. Accordingly, in the ordinary situation, the statements must be signed by the inventor or joint inventors, if available. This construction is consistent with the fact that no other person could normally be more knowledgeable of the "full facts concerning the circumstances under which such invention was made," (42 U.S.C. 2457) or, "full facts surrounding the making or conception of the invention or discovery" (42 U.S.C. 2182).

In instances where an applicant does not have first-hand knowledge whether the invention involved work under any contract, subcontract, or arrangement with or for the benefit of the Atomic Energy Commission, or had any relationship to any work under any contract of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and includes in his statement information of this nature derived from others, his statement should identify the source of his information. Alternatively, the statement by the applicant could be accompanied by a supplemental declaration or oath, as to the contractual matters, by the assignee or other person, e.g., an employee thereof, who has the requisite knowledge.

Where an applicant is deceased or incompetent, or where it is shown to the satisfaction of this Office that he refuses to furnish a statement or cannot be reached after diligent efforts, declarations or statements under oath setting forth the information required by the statutes may be accepted from an officer or employee of the assignee who has sufficient knowledge of the facts. The offer of such substitute statements should be based on the actual unavailability of or refusal by the applicant, rather than mere inconvenience. Where it is shown that one of joint inventors is deceased or unavailable, a statement by all of the other joint inventor(s) may be accepted.

(97) NOTICE OF CHANGES IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF 42 U.S.C. 2182 AND 2457 (PROPERTY RIGHTS STATEMENTS TO DOE AND NASA).

Effective Nov. 1, 1986, the PTO will change the procedures under which property rights statements to the Department of Energy (DOE), 42 U.S.C. 2182, or National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), 42 U.S.C. 2457 are requested and processed. These statements are required before a patent can issue on any invention useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy (for the Department of Energy) or having significant utility in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities (for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration).

Currently, the PTO waits until after an application is otherwise in condition for allowance before property rights statements are requested. Under the new procedure, if a statement is necessary, an informal request for the statement will be issued shortly after filing. The request will identify which chapter(s) of the statute apply and an informal period of 45 days will begin running from the mail date of the notice.

If no response is received within 45 days, a formal notice will be issued. The statutory period for response to the formal notice is 30 days. There is no provision for extension of this time limit, and the penalty for failure to file an acceptable, timely statement is abandonment. In view of these strict time limits and penalties, applicants are strongly urged to take advantage of the period for informal correspondence by responding to the so-called 45-Day Letter. Additionally, the new 45-Day Letter will provide extensive information on the format and content of an acceptable statement. This should relieve many of the difficulties applicants currently experience in generating the statement. See also 914 OG. 2 for additional information on the form and content of property rights statements.

The statement should be an accurate reflection of the ownership of the invention on which patent protection is granted. Thus, if during prosecution before the examiner the claimed invention is so changed or the property rights situation so altered as to impact the accuracy of a statement submitted earlier, a supplemental statement must be filed. In those rare situations where property rights may be changed by an amendment to the claims after the statement has been filed, applicants are reminded that failure to submit such additional information where appropriate may be considered a false representation of material facts and render the patent owner vulnerable to sanctions as set forth in the above statutes. The PTO will not review applications for this possibility. The responsibility for complying with the statutes rests with the applicants.

The text of the new 45-Day Letter is reproduced below.

* * * * *

The subject matter of this application appears to:

— be "useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy " as recited in 42 U.S.C. 2181 (Department of Energy (DOE)).

— have significant utility in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities as recited in 42 U.S.C. 2457 (National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA)).

Accordingly, no patent can issue on this application unless applicant(s) file a statement (under oath or in the form of a declaration as provided by 37 CFR 1.68) setting forth (1) the full facts concerning the circumstances under which the invention was made and conceived and (2) the relationship (if any) of the invention to the performance of any work under any contract or other arrangement with the Agency(ies) noted above. On the reverse side of this form is an example of an acceptable format for this statement. The language appearing in paragraphs III and/or IV of the example must appear if applicant is attempting to establish that no relationship (under item 2 above) exists.

If the invention disclosed in this application was developed under a contract, grant or cooperative agreement between the Agency(ies) indicated above and a person, small business or nonprofit organization and rights to the invention have been determined by specific reference to 35 U.S.C. 202 in the contract, grant or cooperative agreement, then applicant need not submit the statement described above. Instead, applicant may file a verified statement (under oath or in the form of a declaration, 37 CFR 1.68) setting forth the information required by 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(6).

IF NO STATEMENT HAS BEEN RECEIVED WITHIN FORTY-FIVE DAYS OF THE MAIL DATE INDICATED ABOVE, a formal requirement for statement will then be issued. No provision is made for extension of the statutory thirty-day period for response to the formal requirement and the penalty for failure to file an acceptable and timely statement is abandonment of the application. Therefore, applicants are strongly encouraged to submit a statement at this time in order to avoid the issuance of a formal requirement.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO NOTE that the statement must accurately represent the property rights situation of the claimed invention if and when the application is found allowable. Thus, if during prosecution before the examiner, the claimed invention is so altered or the property rights situation so changed as to impact the accuracy of a statement submitted earlier, a supplemental statement must be filed. Failure to submit such additional information where appropriate may be considered as false representation of material facts and render the patent owner vulnerable to loss of patent rights and other sanctions as set forth in the statutes. The PTO will not review allowed applications for this possibility. The responsibility for complying with the statutes rests with the applicants.

Any questions regarding this requirement should be directed to Licensing and Review at (703) 557-4948.

* * * * *

The following is an example of an acceptable property rights statement. Statements of this type are, of course, only suitable for situations in which NO Agency funds or other considerations were involved in the making or conception of the invention. While this example is in the form of a declaration, a sworn document is equally acceptable.

(98) Extension of Time Limit

This notice is intended to clarify certain misunderstandings and indicates the treatment given to requests for an extension of time in a situation where applicant has been given a time limit to complete an otherwise incomplete but bona fide attempt to respond to the previous Office action and advance the case to final action.

According to 37 CFR 1.135(c) when the applicant has filed a response to an examiner's action but consideration of some matter or compliance with some requirement has been inadvertently omitted, an opportunity to explain and supply the omission may be given before the question of abandonment is considered. According to the M.P.E.P., Section 710.02(c), the examiner may give applicant one month or the remainder of the period for response, whichever is longer, to complete the response. Neither the regulation nor the M.P.E.P. indicate that this time can be extended.

Under the regulation, the missing matter or lack of compliance must be considered by the examiner as being "inadvertently omitted." Once an inadvertent omission is brought to the attention of the applicant, the question of inadvertence no longer exists. Therefore, any further time to complete the response would not be appropriate under 37 CFR 1.135(c). Accordingly, no extension of time will henceforth be granted in these situations.

(99) TITLE 37—PATENTS, TRADEMARKS AND COPYRIGHTS

Chapter 1—Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce

Part 1—Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

Patent Examining and Appeal Procedures

On October 4, 1976 notice was given in the Federal Register (41 FR 43729) of a proposal to amend sixteen sections of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations relating to patent examining and appeal procedures. Interested persons were invited to comment on the proposal by December 7, 1976. One hundred seventy-five written letters and statements were submitted. A hearing was held in Arlington, Virginia on December 7, 1976 at which 21 persons testified orally. Careful consideration has been given to all comments received and the proposal is being adopted with certain changes.

The regulations adopted involve all sections that were proposed to be revised, amended or added—namely, §§1.11, 1.14, 1.52, 1.56, 1.65, 1.69, 1.97, 1.98, 1.99, 1.109, 1.175, 1.194, 1.196, 1.291, 1.292, and 1.346. Amendments also are being made in two sections which were not included in the published proposal—§§1.51 and 1.176. Since amendments to these sections are closely related to the substance of matters notice and public comment on these amendments are deemed unnecessary.

In addition, amendments are being adopted which were published for comment in two earlier, much less extensive proposals that concerned availability of certain files for public inspection. A notice of a proposed amendment to §1.14(b) was published on June 4, 1974 (39 FR 19786). A notice of a proposed amendment to §1.11(a) was published on September 17, 1974 (39 FR 33376). No negative comments were submitted with respect to either of these proposals and both are being adopted without change.

The text of the rules will be reproduced in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette in about a month with additions indicated by arrows and deletions indicated by brackets to help readers identify the changes. A transcript of the hearing, the letters and written statements received, and a summary and analysis of the comments are available for public inspection in Room 11E10 of Crystal Plaza Building 3, 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia.

Purpose of Rules

The purpose of the rules that are being adopted is to improve the quality and reliability of issued patents by strengthening patent examining and appeal procedures. It is desirable that patents be as dependable as possible, so as to enhance the incentives provided by the patent system to make inventions, to invest in research and development, to put new or improved products on the market, and to disclose inventions that otherwise would be kept as trade secrets. It is believed that the rules being adopted will help to maintain strong patent incentives.

The rules afford patent owners an opportunity, through the filing of a reissue application, to obtain a ruling from an examiner on the pertinence of additional prior art after a patent has been issued. The rules also broaden the public's opportunity for participation in the patent examining process, consistent with the limitations of statute, the protection of trade secrets, and the need to avoid making it unduly expensive to obtain a patent.

The rules set forth the duty of candor and good faith which applicants have to the Patent and Trademark Office and encourage them to provide information about the prior art in a way that will make it more useful to examiners. A provision for foreign language oaths by individuals who do not understand English is intended to make them more aware of their representations and of their obligations.

Under the rules more Patent and Trademark Office decisions that could have important precedent value will be available to the public, and some additional files will be available for inspection. Proceedings before the Board of Appeals are modified to help avoid the issuance of invalid patents. The rules encourage examiners to see that persons inspecting the file history of issued patents will be able to tell why the case was allowed.

Reissue Applications

Amended §1.175 permits a patent owner to have new prior art considered by the Office by way of a reissue application without making any changes in the claims or specification. It is adopted with no change from the proposal. The requirement for an oath or declaration alleging that the reissue applicant believes "the original patent to be wholly or partly inoperative or invalid. . . ." is dispensed within §1.175(a) (1) unless the applicant believes that to be the case. Section 1.175(a) (4) recognizes that reissues may be filed to have the patentability of the original patent considered in view of prior art or other information relevant to patentability which was not previously considered by the Office.

Thus, a patentee may file a reissue if he believes his patent is valid over prior art not previously considered by the Office but would like to have a reexamination. The procedure may be used at any time during the life of a patent. During litigation, a federal court may, if it chooses, stay proceedings to permit new art to be considered by the Office.

If a reissue application is filed as a result of new prior art with no changes in the claims or specification and the examiner finds the claims patentable over the new art, the application will be rejected as lacking statutory basis for a reissue, since 35 USC 251 does not authorize reissue of a patent unless it is deemed wholly or partly inoperative or invalid. However, the record of prosecution of the reissue will indicate that the prior art has been considered by the examiner.

A substantial majority of the comments received favored amended §1.175 as a means for improving the reliability of patents and avoiding unnecessary litigation costs. The negative comments generally questioned the statutory authority of the Commissioner to adopt this section. Authority for §1.175 is believed to exist in 35 U.S.C. 6, which is the Commissioner's rulemaking authority, and in 35 U.S.C. 251. The latter section of the statute requires that the patent be deemed wholly or partly inoperative or invalid before a reissue may be granted, but does not require such a belief by the patentee before a reissue application may be filed. The case law does not suggest that the approach of new §1.175(a)(4) is inconsistent with 35 U.S.C. 251.[1] Inasmuch as 35 U.S.C. 251 is a remedial provision,[2] it is believed that a liberal interpretation is justified and that adequate authority exists for the amended section.

Amended §1.11(b) opens all reissue applications to inspection by the general public. Section 1.11(b) also provides for announcement of the filings of reissue applications in the Official Gazette. This announcement will give interested members of the public an opportunity to submit to the examiner information pertinent to patentability of the reissue application. The announcement will include at least the filing date, reissue application and original patent numbers, title, class and subclass, name of the inventor, name of the owner of record, name of the attorney or agent of record, and examining group to which the reissue application is assigned. Section 1.11(b) is amended from the proposal to so indicate. Reissue applications already on file on the effective date of the section will not be automatically open to inspection and will not be announced in the Official Gazette. However,

[1] See In re Clark, F.2d 623, 187 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1975), at footnote 4 where the court declined to decide whether it is proper to seek reissue merely to disclose uncited prior art. See also In re Altenpohl, 500 F.2d 1151, 183 USPQ 38 (CCPA 1974).

[2] See it In re Oda, 443 F.2d 1200, 170 USPQ 268 (CCPA 1971).

a liberal policy will be followed in granting petitions for access to individual applications already on file.

In order that members of the public may have time to review the reissue application and submit pertinent information to the Office before the examiner's action, §1.176 is amended to provide that reissue applications will not be acted on sooner than two months after the Official Gazette announcement of filing.

A substantial majority of the comments received favored adoption of §1.11(b). The only opposition was based upon a suggestion that no statutory authority exists. However, since reissue applications contain no new disclosure, and therefore no trade secrets or confidential information, they are considered to present a "special circumstance" within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 122.

The insertion of "all" as the fifth word of the first sentence of §1.11(b) is for clarity. The word "furnished" is changed to "obtained" in §1.11 for clarity.

Protests and Public Use Proceedings

Amended §§1.291 and 1.292 give greater recognition to the value of written protests and public use petitions in avoiding the issuance of invalid patents.

A substantial majority of the comments favored these sections and viewed them as improving the quality of issued patents. Entry of protests has been upheld in court.[3]

Section 1.291(a) provides that public protests against pending applications will be entered in the application file and will, if they meet stated requirements, be considered by the examiner. To guarantee consideration by the examiner, protests must be accompanied by copies of prior art documents relied upon, although protests without copies will not necessarily be ignored. This is similar to the requirement of new §1.98 that copies of patents and publications accompany prior art statements. Section 1.291 does not contemplate permitting a protester to participate as a party in further proceedings. In the case of applications available to the public, such as reissue applications, the protester may file papers rebutting statements made by the applicant. The examiner at his discretion may request a protester to submit additional written information or may provide extra time for comments by a protester to be filed.

To ensure consideration by the examiner, all protests must be timely submitted. Protests will generally be considered timely submitted, if they are filed before final rejection or allowance of the application by the examiner. The consideration given to protests filed after final rejection or allowance of the application by the examiner will depend upon the relevance of the prior art documents submitted and the point in time at which they are submitted. Obviously, if the prior art documents anticipate or clearly render obvious one or more claims they will not knowingly be ignored. It must be recognized, however, that the likelihood of consideration by the examiner decreases as the patent date approaches. Accordingly, protests must be filed early in order to ensure their consideration.

The first sentence of §1.291(a) is deleted as unnecessary. Section 1.291(a) also is changed from the proposal to make clear that it applies to pending applications and that all protests will be referred to the examiner having charge of the subject matter involved.

Section 1.291(b) incorporates the existing Office policy of permitting persons to submit prior art citations or copies of prior art after a patent has been granted. The section is changed from the proposal by the addition of the words "any papers related thereto" to recognize that statements as to the pertinence of prior art may be submitted. Both the citations and the related papers are to be entered without comments. The material submitted is not examined by the Office but is available to members of the public inspecting Office records.

Some suggestions were received for major modifications of §1.291. It was suggested that an advisory opinion of the examiner be placed in the patent file when protests were received after issuance of the patent. Several persons supported a suggestion for examiners to state whether a "new issue" was raised by prior art cited by a protester. Another suggestion was that a procedure similar to that used in the recent Trial Voluntary Protest Programs[4] be adopted on a continuing basis. These suggestions were carefully considered, but are not adopted. The suggestions extend substantially beyond §1.291 as proposed, and their benefits do not appear sufficient to justify the added cost at this time.

Materials submitted to the Office under §§1.291 and 1.292 are to be served upon the applicant, patentee, attorney or agent when possible. The term "patentee" is used in its ordinary sense as defined in 35 USC 100(d). If service is not possible, materials are to be submitted in duplicate so that the Office can attempt to send the duplicate copy. The proposal is changed by adding the words "with the Office" after "filed" in §§1.291(c) and 1.292(b) for clarity.

In §1.292, the requirement that petitioner bear the Office's expenses in conducting the public use proceeding is deleted. Section 1.292 is also amended to ensure that the existence of public use proceedings is recorded in the application file wrapper. Notice of a petition for a public use proceeding will be entered in the file in lieu of the petition itself when the petition and the accompanying papers are too bulky to accompany the file. Any public use papers not physically entered in the file will be publicly available whenever the application file wrapper is available.

Duty of Disclosure

Amended §1.56 defines the duty to disclose information to the Office and the criteria for striking an application when that duty is violated. The wording of the section is changed in several respects from the proposal, but the purpose and general scope are the same as in the proposal. The section codifies the existing Office policy on fraud and inequitable conduct, which is believed consistent with the prevailing case law in the federal courts. The expanded wording of the section is intended to be helpful to individuals who are not expert in the judicially developed doctrines concerning fraud. The section should have a stabilizing effect on future decisions in the Office and may afford guidance to courts as well.

A majority of comments received favored §1.56 as proposed or with modifications. Persons opposed expressed concern over the imprecise definition of the duty of disclosure and the possibility that the proposal would substantially increase the burden on patent applicants. Some stated that there would be increased litigation as a result of the proposal. Several suggestions were received on better ways to define the individuals who should disclose information and the kinds of information that should be disclosed.

The first sentence of §1.56(a) is changed from the proposal by adding the word "substantively," so that individuals having a duty of disclosure are limited to those who are "substantively involved in the preparation or prosecution of the application." This change is intended to make clear that the duty does not extend to typists, clerks, and similar personnel who assist with an application. This phrase, when taken with the last sentence of §1.56(a), is believed to provide an adequate indication of the individuals who are covered by the duty of disclosure. The word "with" is inserted in the first sentence of §1.56(a) before "the assignee" and before "anyone to whom there is an obligation to assign" to make clearer that the duty applies only to individuals, not to organizations.

Numerous comments concerned the term "relevance" that was used in the proposal. In response to the comments, language is substituted in §1.56 and related sections which is believed to establish a clearer standard for determining whether information need be disclosed to the Office. "Relevant" is replaced by "material" because the latter term connotes something more than a trivial relationship. It appears to be more commonly used in court opinions. In addition, the third sentence of §1.56, which defines materiality, is rewritten. The sentence now states that information is material "where there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable examiner would consider it important in deciding whether to allow the application to issue as a patent." The sentence paraphrases the definition of materiality used by the Supreme Court in its recent decision in TSC Industries v. Northway.[5] Although in that case the court was concerned with rules promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Court's articulation of materiality is believed consistent with the prevailing concept that has been applied by lower courts in recent patent cases.

The definition of materiality in §1.56 will have to be interpreted in the context of patent law rather than securities law. Principles followed by courts in securities cases should not be translated to patent cases automatically. It is noteworthy, however, that in formulating the definition of materiality in TSC Industries the Supreme Court considered some of the same matters over which concern was expressed in the public comments on proposed§1.56. The court noted that the standard of materiality should not be so low that persons would be "subjected to liability for insignificant omissions or misstatements," or so low that the fear of liability would cause management "simply to bury the shareholder in an avalanche of trivial information—a result that is hardly conducive to informed decision making."[6]

Although the third sentence of §1.56(a) refers to decisions of an examiner, it is intended that the duty of disclosure would apply in the same manner in the less common instances where the official making a decision on a patent application is someone other than an examiner—e.g., a member of the Board of Patent Interferences or the Board of Appeals. This is implicit in the duty "of candor and good faith" toward the Office that is specified in the first sentence of §1.56(a).

Comments and questions were received concerning the term "information" used in the second and third sentences of §1.56(a) and elsewhere. It means all of the kinds of information required to be disclosed under current case law. In addition to prior art patents and publications, it includes information on prior public uses, sales, and the like. It is not believed practicable to define information in the text of the rule at this time. However, the rule is not intended to require disclosure of information favorable to patentability—e.g., evidence of commercial success of the invention. Neither is it meant to require disclosure of information concerning the level of skill in the art for purposes of determining obviousness.

Several comments were received concerning the duty to disclose information the patent applicant regards as confidential, including information the applicant has received from another party under an injunction of secrecy. This problem has existed prior to amendment of §1.56. The Patent and Trademark Office, of course, keeps information disclosed by applicants confidential until a patent is issued. It has been suggested that the Office should develop a mechanism for continuing to hold information in confidence after issuance of a patent if in the judgment of the examiner the information is not material to the examination of the application. The feasibility of offering a rule for public comment on this topic at a later date will be considered.

New §1.56(b) is added to make clear that information may be disclosed to the Office through an attorney or agent of record or through a pro se inventor, and that other individuals may satisfy their duty of disclosure to the Office by disclosing information to such an attorney, agent or inventor. Information that is not material need not be passed along to the Office.

Proposed sections 1.56 (b) and (c) have been revised and shortened and appear at §§1.56 (c) and (d). The proposal was criticized for leaving it open to the Office to apply a different standard of materiality from the one set forth in §1.56.[7] Section 1.56(d) as adopted states that an application "shall" be stricken when the criteria set forth are met. Thus §1.56(d) as adopted establishes a single standard for striking applications.

The term "inequitable conduct" is dropped from §1.56(d) as covering too great a spectrum of conduct to be subject to mandatory striking. Inequitable conduct that is equivalent to fraud is intended to come within the definition of fraud. The Court of Customs and Patent Appeals already has interpreted "fraud" in existing §1.56 to encompass conduct of this sort.[8] Moreover, §1.56(d) as adopted calls for striking an application either for fraud or for a violation of the duty of disclosure.

In §1.56(d) "bad faith" is substituted for the term "deliberate" that was used in the proposal. This change is to make clear than an intent to deceive (or gross negligence equivalent to such an intent) must be shown before an application will be stricken. Bad faith is not present if information is withheld as a result of an error in judgment or inadvertence.

Several comments concerned whether attorneys and agents could represent their clients' interests and at the same time comply with §1.56. Similar comments were directed to §§1.97 to 1.99. It is of course in the interest of the client to have a valid patent and this cannot be obtained without disclosure of known material facts. It is not inconsistent for an attorney or agent to fulfill his duty of candor and good faith to the Office and to act as an advocate for his client. The submission of information under §1.56 does not preclude the submission of arguments that such information does not render the subject matter of the application unpatentable.

In §1.65 a new third sentence is added to require the patent applicant to acknowledge the duty of disclosure. The language is changed from the proposal to be consistent with changes made in §1.56. To allow time for the Office and applicants to revise printed oath and declaration forms now in use, the mandatory acknowledgement of the duty of disclosure in amended §1.65 does not become effective until January 1, 1978. Applicants at their option may include the new language in oaths and declarations filed prior to the effective date. The Office will publish a separate notice in the Federal Register adding a sentence acknowledging the duty of disclosure to appropriate forms in 37 CFR Part 3, "Forms for Patent Cases."

The word "statement" is deleted from the title of §1.65 to avoid confusion with the prior art statement of §1.97 through 1.99.

Amended §1.346 emphasizes that there must be a reasonable basis to support every allegation of improper conduct made by a registered practitioner in any Office proceeding. The language that was proposed is clarified in the section as adopted. Although §1.346 is limited to papers filed in Office proceedings, the amendment to §1.346 is not intended to imply that disciplinary action never will be taken against a registered practitioner under§1.348 for a groundless allegation of improper conduct in a court proceeding.

Prior Art Statement

New §§1.97, 1.98 and 1.99 deal with prior art statements and provide a mechanism by which patent applicants may comply with the duty of disclosure provided in §1.56. The sections have been substantially changed from the proposal, in response to comments received.

Unlike the co rresponding part of the proposal, the sections as adopted are not mandatory, though applicants are strongly encouraged to follow the procedures described in them. Applications will be examined whether or not a prior art statement is filed and whether it complies with the rules or is defective. It is nevertheless believed that applicants will find that the use of prior art statements complying fully with the requirements of §§1.97 through 1.99 will be the best way to satisfy the duty of disclosure. The Patent and Trademark Office cannot assure that prior art disclosed in other ways will be considered by the examiner.

Sections 1.97 through 1.99 do not prescribe the content of what materials should be submitted in the prior art statement; this is for the applicant and the attorney or agent to decide in the light of the duty of disclosure expressed in §1.56. The only criterion contained in §§1.97 through 1.99 as to content of the art cited is in §1.97(b). This subsection indicates that the statement will be construed as a representation that the prior are listed includes what the submitter considers to be the closest art of which he is aware. The submitter need not decide which particular items of prior art are the closest or identify any items as such; the representation is simply that he is not withholding known prior art which he considers closer than that which is submitted. Section 1.97(b) makes clear that the prior art statement is not representation that a search has been made or that no better art exists.

In §1.97(a) the time for filing the prior art statement is extended from the two months of the original proposal to three months. In most cases prior art submitted within three months will be available to the examiner before he takes up the case for action, though it will be helpful if citations are made as promptly as possible.

Section 1.98 lists the elements of the prior art statement: a listing of the art, a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item, and copies of the art or the pertinent portions thereof.

The prior art statement resembles somewhat the "patentability statement" of the proposal and the "patentability brief" proposed elsewhere.[9] The name has been changed to reflect a change in the requirements of §1.98(a). Unlike the proposed version of this paragraph, which called for an explanation of why the claimed invention is believed patentable over the cited art, the paragraph as adopted calls only for a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item. This may be nothing more than identification of the particular figure or paragraph of the patent or publication which has some relation to the claimed invention. It might be a simple statement pointing to similarities between the item of prior art and the claimed invention. It is permissible but not necessary to discuss differences between the prior art and the claims. It is thought that the explanation of relevance will be essentially as useful to the examiner as the formerly proposed explanation of patentability, and should be significantly less burdensome for the applicant to prepare.

Section 1.98 requires a copy of each patent or publication cited, including U.S. patents, to accompany the prior art statement. Several comments questioned the need for burdening the applicant to supply copies of materials that are present in the Office's files. However, substantial time and effort often is needed to locate a document in the Office's files. Since the person submitting the prior art statement generally has available a copy of the item being cited, it is believed that expense and effort can be minimized by having that person supply the copy in all cases. Consideration has been given to proposals to allow the applicant to submit an order for copies of the patents along with his statement instead of actually submitting copies. This will be further studied, but to date no way has been found to assure that the copies will be available to the examiner by the first action unless the applicant submits them with the prior art statement.

Other changes to §§1.97 through 1.99 from the proposal eliminate unnecessary language and clarify the requirements.

A notice published in 1974[10] contained guidelines for the citation of prior art by applicants. Many of those guidelines are repeated or superseded by §§1.97 through 1.99. In order to allow applicants, attorney and agents time to adjust their procedures to comply with the requirements for prior art statements, the effective date of §§1.97 through 1.99 will be July 1, 1977. Until these new sections become effective, applicants should continue to follow the 1974 guidelines. Issuance of a revised notice, to take effect July 1, 1977, is under study.

A survey conducted by the Office in 1976 concludes that many applicants have not been citing prior art to the Office.[11] It is hoped that with the duty of disclosure expressly set forth in §1.56, applicants will perceive that it is to their advantage to use the procedures of §§1.97 through 1.99.

Section 1.51 is amended by designating the existing rule as §1.51(a) and adding new §1.51(b) which contains a reference to §§1.97 through 1.99.

Foreign Language Oaths

Amended §1.52 and new §1.69 are adopted as proposed.

Section 1.69 requires that oaths and declarations be in a language which is understood by the individual making the oath or declaration, i.e., a language which the individual comprehends. If the individual comprehends the English language, he must use it. If the individual cannot comprehend the English language, any oath or declaration must be in a language which the individual can comprehend. If an individual uses a language other than English for an oath or declaration, the oath or declaration must include a statement that the individual understands the content of any documents to which the oath or declaration relates. If the documents are in a language the individual cannot comprehend, the documents may be explained to him so that he is able to understand them.

The Office will provide approved translations for as many of the oath or declaration forms which appear in Part 3 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as practicable, and in as many languages as practicable, probably using a side-by-side English/foreign language format. The availability of the foreign language forms will be announced in the Official Gazette at a later date.

The change in §1.52, providing for an exception to the requirement that oaths and declarations be in the English language, is necessitated by the adoption of § 1.69.

Although very few persons opposed §§1.52 and 1.69, several suggested that the philosophy behind the change be extended to the specification, requiring the specification to be in a language which the applicant understands, accompanied by an English translation. This suggestion was not considered feasible because of the obvious burdens on the applicant and the danger to the applicant and the public if the translation is not literally correct. Also, if a large number of applications were filed in a foreign language, there would be significant administrative burdens on the Office. Attention is directed to the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure. §608.1, which permits non-English language applications to be filed in certain limited circumstances.

Other suggested modifications of the proposed rule included: (1) using an English language oath or declaration with one additional clause in a language understood by the person making the oath or declaration, the clause stating that the person understands all the documents to which the oath or declaration relates; and (2) extending the two month grace period for filling an English translation of an oath or declaration filed under §1.65.

After due consideration, suggestion (1) was believed not to accomplish the objectives of the rule as well as the adopted rule. Suggestion (2) would cause unsatisfactory delays in the initial processing of applications.

Decisions and Files Made Public

Section 1.14(d) makes more explicit the conditions under which significant decisions of the Patent and Trademark Office will be made available to the public, and includes reference to decisions of the Board of Patent Interferences, in addition to decisions of the Board of Appeals and the Commissioner.

A large majority of the comments received were favorable. Several commentators felt that more decisions would be made available as a result of the proposed section and that it would assist in publicizing aspects of Office procedure which may not have been available previously.

Some negative comments were based on the view that the Freedom of Information Act[12] required all decisions of the Office to be made publicly available. A greater number of those opposing the proposed section, however, felt that applicants should have an absolute right to have their applications maintained in confidence and that no information should be made public without specific authorization from them. One commentator felt that rulemaking on this subject should be deferred until currently pending litigation[13] under the Freedom of Information Act was finally resolved.

The section as adopted is applicable to decisions deemed by the Commissioner to involve an interpretation of patent laws or regulations that would be of significant precedent value, where such decisions are contained in either pending or abandoned applications or in interference files not otherwise open to the public. It is applicable whether or not the decision is a final decision of the Patent and Trademark Office.

The parenthetical phrase in the first sentence of the proposed section, which cited other provisions of the rules under which decisions are open to public inspection, is deleted as unnecessary and possibly confusing. Also, in view of several comments received, the period of time during which an applicant or party in interest may object to having a decision made public is extended from one month to two months. At least twenty days is given to request reconsideration and seek court review before a decision is made public over an objection.

Section 1.14(d) is considered to place a duty on the Patent and Trademark Office to identify significant decisions and to take the steps necessary to inform the public of such decisions, by publication of such decisions, in whole or in part. It is anticipated, however, that no more than a few dozen decisions per year will be deemed of sufficient importance to warrant publication under the authority of this section.

Amended §1.14(b) allows public inspection of abandoned applications referred to in defensive publications. The comments received on the proposed amendment on this topic in 1974 expressed no opposition and the proposal is adopted without change.

The amendment is intended to encourage use of the defensive publication program provided under §1.139. The objective of that program is to make available to the public the technical disclosure of applications in which the owner prefers to publish an abstract in lieu of obtaining an examination. Existing §§1.11(b) and 1.139 open the complete defensive publication application to inspection by the general public upon publication of the abstract. With the amendment, an abandoned application referred to in a defensive publication application will likewise be open to public inspection, avoiding any need to repeat its contents in the defensive publication application. Thus, public availability of the applications involved should be of benefit both to the applicant and the public.

A suggestion was made that the section be extended still further to include abandoned applications referred to in foreign patents. This suggestion, however, goes too far beyond the proposal that was published and has too uncertain an impact to be adopted at this time.

Amended §1.11(a) provides earlier access to the file of an interference which involved a patent or an application on which a patent has issued. All comments that were submitted on the 1974 proposal on this topic were favorable and two commentators felt the proposal should be extended further. The proposal is being adopted without change.

Under present practice, access to the file of an interference is not permitted until judicial review of the decision of the Board of Patent Interferences has been exhausted. The amended section allows access to the file after final decision of the Board of Patent Interferences if that decision is an award of priority as to all parties. It is believed that such earlier access will be of benefit to members of the public by making available information relevant to the issuance of the patent whether or not the interference decision is still being adjudicated.

Patent Appeals

Section 1.194 clarifies the circumstances in which oral hearings should be requested, provides for oral arguments by or on behalf of examiners in certain appeals and reduces the time permitted for oral arguments.

Comments relating to this section were favorable by a very substantial majority, although there were several reservations to the effect that §1.194(a) tended to discourage or downgrade oral arguments. Participation by examiners was considered to be desirable not only from the standpoint of improving the overall presentation of the argument, particularly in complex cases, but also for the educational and experience benefits to the examiners themselves.

The only opposition to the section was based on the feeling that oral hearings would be discouraged. The rule is intended to discourage oral hearings only to the same extent as the Office's 1975 Official Gazette notice on the subject.[14] Section 1.194(a) indicates that oral hearings should not be requested as a matter of course in every appeal, but only in those circumstances where the appellant feels that such a hearing will be of material assistance to the proper presentation of the appeal. The section expressly provides that equal consideration will be accorded in deciding all appeals, whether or not an oral hearing is held.

In appeals where the appellant has requested an oral hearing §1.194(b) provides for oral argument by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner, if such argument is considered to be helpful by either the primary examiner or the Board. This provision incorporates the present practice of permitting examiners to present an oral argument before the Board.[15] It gives the Board additional discretionary authority to request presentation of an oral argument by, or on behalf of the examiner to ensure that all issues are fully and accurately presented.

Section 1.194(c) provides, as does existing §1.194, that appeals will be assigned for consideration and decision without an oral hearing where none has been requested by the appellant. Where an oral hearing has been requested, a day of hearing will be set, and both appellant and the primary examiner will be notified. A provision for notice to the examiner is added to the proposed version. Additionally, §1.194(c) reflects the present practice of limiting oral argument on behalf of the appellant to twenty minutes.[16] The time permitted for argument by the examiner has been shortened from twenty minutes, as proposed, to fifteen minutes. The examiner, unlike the appellant, will not ordinarily need time to present the facts of the case or for rebuttal.

In any appeal where oral argument is to be presented by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner, the appellant will be given due notice of that fact.

Proposed §1.196(b) would have authorized the Board of Appeals to reject allowed claims, in cases before it, whenever the Board had knowledge of grounds for so doing.

While a majority of those commenting on this section favored in principle the concept of allowing the Board to have this right, significant concern was voiced that there was no statutory authority for the Board to actually reject allowed claims. Further, the question of proper authority for judicial review of such action by the Board was a matter of concern. Other reasons advanced in opposition to the section were that applicants would be inhibited from appealing by the risk of having allowed claims rejected and that the proposal would create a higher presumption of validity in cases reviewed by the Board. A significant number commented that it would be more appropriate for the Board to remand the case to the primary examiner for consideration of the grounds raised by the Board. This would afford the applicant an opportunity to demonstrate the patentability of the claims and would remove any question as to statutory authority.

In view of the comments received, existing §1.196(b) will not be modified, but a new §1.196(d) is added providing express authority for the Board of Appeals to include, in its decision, a statement of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim that it believes should be considered by the primary examiner. Section 1.196(d) provides that the Board may remand the case to the examiner for such consideration, and that the applicant shall have an opportunity to respond to the grounds set forth by the Board prior to consideration, by the examiner. If the previously allowed claims are rejected by the examiner, the rejection may be appealed to the Board.

The new section further provides that a decision of the Board which includes a remand will not be considered as a final decision in the case, but that the Board, following conclusion of the proceedings before the primary examiner, will either adopt its earlier decision as final or will render a new decision based on all appealed claims, as it considers appropriate. In either case, final action by the Board will give rise to the existing alternatives available to an appellant following a decision by the Board.

In situations where the primary examiner concludes after consideration of all the evidence and argument that the remanded claims should be allowed, the new rule dealing with reasons for allowance (§1.109) provides an appropriate mechanism for him to explain, on the record, his reasoning for coming to this conclusion, notwithstanding the grounds set forth by the Board in its statement.

Promulgation of new §1.196(d) does not affect the Board's existing authority to remand a case to the primary examiner without rendering a decision in appropriate circumstances. Section 1.196(d) is not intended as an instruction to the Board to reexamine every allowed claim in every appealed application. It is, rather, intended to give the Board express authority to act when it becomes apparent, during the consideration of rejected claims, that one or more allowed claims may be subject to rejection on either the same or on different grounds from those applied against the rejected claims.

Reasons for Allowance

New §1.109 is intended to emphasize and formalize the examiner's authority to state his reasoning for allowing a claim or claims. The authority is discretionary with the examiner and is only to be used when the record does not otherwise reveal the reasons for allowance.

A majority of the comments received favored the rule as proposed because it would tend to provide courts and others who were reviewing the patent with a clearer record. Those who opposed the rule most often gave the reason that the examiner might fail to state all the reasons or the strongest reasons why a claim was allowed, which could place unnecessary limitations on the claims or create an estoppel in subsequent litigation or licensing.

To help insure that the examiner's statement of his reasoning in allowing a claim will not unnecessarily limit the claims or create an estoppel, a final sentence is added to the proposal which states that failure of the applicant to comment upon or rebut the examiner's reasoning "shall not give rise to any implication that the applicant agrees with or acquiesces in the reasoning of the examiner."

Several commenters suggested that stricter enforcement of §§1.111 and 1.133 would eliminate the need for a new rule concerning reasons for allowance. Situations exist, however, where a statement of reasons for allowance could be helpful, for example when an examiner withdraws a rejection for reasons not suggested by the applicant; when an applicant submits several arguments for allowing a claim and the examiner finds not all of them persuasive: when an examiner allows a claim on the first Office action after citing very close prior art: and when the examiner allows a claim after remand from the Board of Appeals (see new §1.196(d)).

The first sentence of the proposed rule is changed to define more precisely the circumstances in which an examiner's statement is appropriate, as well as to define more precisely the content of the statement. The statement will include the examiner's "reasoning." The examiner may state his reasoning whenever he "believes that the record of the prosecution as a whole does not make clear his reasons for allowing a claim or claims."

Several persons commented that the rule should provide a procedure for appeal from the examiner's statement of his reasoning. The rule does permit applicants to comment upon the examiner's reasoning. If the applicant does not wish to comment, he may reserve for a later proceeding, without prejudice, any rebuttal. [Text of adopted rules appears in 37 CFR, revised 7-1-77]

(100) Guidelines for Implementation of Recently Revised Rules

Recently a number of rules relating to Patent Examining and Appeal procedures were revised. The new rules were published in the Federal Register at 42 F.R. 5588 on January 28, 1977, and in the Official Gazette at 955 O.G. 1054 on February 22, 1977. The following guidelines are being published to describe the procedures which are being followed in implementing 37 CFR sections 1.11, 1.97–1.99, 1.109, 1.194, 1.291 and 1.292.

Files Open to the Public

Section 1.11(b) is applicable only to those reissue applications filed on or after March 1, 1977. Those reissue applications already on file will not be automatically open to inspection but a liberal policy will be followed by the Office of the Solicitor in granting petitions for access to such applications.

(Note.—These sections as changed will be incorporated into the Manual text in Rev. 3 of the Manual.)

For those reissue applications filed on or after March 1, 1977, the following procedure will be observed:

1) The filing of reissue applications will be announced in the Official Gazette and will include certain identifying data as specified in section 1.11(b). Any member of the general public may request access to a particular reissue application filed after March 1, 1977. Since no record of such request is intended to be kept, an oral request will suffice.

2) The reissue application files will be maintained in the examining groups and inspection thereof will be supervised by group personnel. Although no general limit is placed on the amount of time spent reviewing the files, the Office may impose limitation, if necessary, e.g., where the application is actively being processed.
3) Where the reissue application has left the examining group for administrative processing, requests for access should be directed to the appropriate supervisory personnel in the Division or Branch where the application is currently located.
4) Requests for copies of papers in the reissue application file must be in writing addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231 and may be either mailed or delivered to the Office mailroom. The price for copies made by the Office is thirty cents per page.

Prior Art Statements

This notice supersedes the notices of August 12, 1974 (926 O.G. 2) and May 19, 1975 (935 O.G. 902) relating to citations of prior art. Although new sections 1.97 through 1.99 are not effective until July 1, 1977, and are not mandatory upon applicants, they provide an ideal mechanism for complying with the duty of disclosure under 37 CFR 1.56. The statements should be submitted in accordance with the following guidelines:

1) Prior art statements should be submitted at the time of filing the application or within three months thereafter and may be separate from the specification or incorporated therein. The statement shall serve as a representation that the person preparing it has included therein what he believes to be the closest prior art of which he is aware and shall not be construed as a representation that no better art exists or that a search has been made. If the first action in the application is received prior to three months after filling of the application and no prior art statement has been submitted, the prior art statement may be submitted with the response to the first action and be considered timely.
2) The statement shall include a listing of the patents, publications or other information which the preparer of the statement wishes to cite and a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item. Copies of the pertinent portions of all listed documents shall be supplied along with the statement, both when incorporated into the specification and when filed separately. If two or more patents or publications considered material are substantially identical, a copy of a representative one shall be included with the statement and others may merely be listed with an indication of which are considered to be substantially identical.
3) A translation of the pertinent portions of foreign language patents or publications considered material should be transmitted if an existing translation is readily available to the applicant. It will be sufficient, however, to transmit an equivalent English language patent or publication so long as it is identified as an equivalent.

Where the applicant has submitted copies of prior art in accordance with these guidelines in a prior application, reference to the prior application and the submission therein will be sufficient for the continuing application as far as the copies are concerned. As far as the statement per se is concerned, the relevance of the prior art to the claimed subject matter must be indicated if it differs from its relevance as explained in the prior application.

4) If prior to the issuance of a patent an applicant pursuant to his duty of disclosure under 37 CFR 1.56, wishes to bring to the attention of the Office additional patents, publications or other information not previously submitted, the additional information should be submitted to the Office with reasonable promptness. It may be included in a supplemental prior art statement or may be incorporated into other communications to be considered by the examiner. Any transmittal of additional information shall be accompanied by explanations of relevance and by copies in accordance with the requirements aforementioned. The transmittal should include a statement explaining why the prior art was not earlier submitted.

While the Patent and Trademark Office will not knowingly ignore any prior art which might anticipate or suggest the claimed invention, no assurance can be given that cited art or other information not submitted in accordance with these guidelines will be considered by the examiner.

After the claims have been indicated as allowable by the examiner, e.g., by the mailing of an Ex parte Quayle action, a notice of allowability (PTOL—327), an examiner's amendment (PTOL—37), or a Notice of Allowance (PTOL—85), any citations submitted will be placed in the file. Since prosecution has ended, however, such submissions will not ordinarily be considered by the examiner unless the citation is accompanied by:

(a) A proposed amendment cancelling or further restricting at least one independent claim and narrowing the scope of protection sought;
(b) A timely affidavit under 37 CFR 1.131 with respect to the material cited; or
(c) A statement by the applicant or his attorney or agent that, in the judgment of the person making the statement, the prior art or other information cited raises a serious question as to the patentability of the claimed subject matter, or is closer prior art than that of record.

If the material is submitted after the base issue fee has been paid, it must also be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.183 requesting a waiver of 37 CFR 1.312. Such petition, if granted, would result in review of the art by the examiner and possible entry of the amendment.

In each instance where an examiner considers, but does not cite on form PTO—892, specific prior art referred to in a paper placed in the application file, the examiner will place a notation adjacent to the reference according to the following:

If included in the specification, the examiner will write his or her initials adjacent to any references checked and enter "checked" in the left margin opposite the initials. If presented in a separate paper or in the remarks of an amendment, the examiner's initials and "checked" will be entered adjacent to the citations or wherever possible to indicate clearly those checked.

Reasons for Allowance

One of the primary purposes of the change in Section 1.109 is to improve the quality and reliability of issued patents by providing a complete file history which should clearly reflect, as much as is reasonably possible, the reasons why the application was allowed. Such information facilitates evaluation of the scope and strength of a patent by the patentee and the public and may help avoid or simplify litigation of a patent.

The practice of stating the reasons for allowance is not new and the rule merely formalizes the examiner's existing authority to do so and provides applicants an opportunity to comment upon any such statement of the examiner.

When the examiner determines that it is necessary or desirable, a "Statement of Reasons for Allowance" will be prepared. The "Statement" will usually be an attachment to either a notice of allowability (PTOL—327) or Examiner's Amendment (PTOL—37). Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the issue fee and should preferably accompany the issue fee. Submission with the issue fee avoids any delay in the processing of the application and avoids the necessity to associate the comments with the application while it is in issue except at the time the file must be pulled to record the payment of the issue fee. Such comments will be entered in the application file by the Allowed Files Branch with an appropriate notation on the "contents" list of the file wrapper, but will not be reviewed by the examiner.

Oral Hearings Before Board of Appeals

Section 1.194 clarifies the circumstances in which oral hearings should be requested and provides for oral arguments by, or on behalf of, primary examiners in certain appeals.

Under Section 1.194, the following procedures will be in effect:

1) In accordance with Section 1.192, appellants who desire an oral hearing must request the same at the time of filing the appeal brief.
2) If appellant has requested an oral hearing and the primary examiner intends to present an oral argument, the last paragraph of the examiner's answer will indicate this intention.
3) Notice of the oral hearing will be given to the appellant and, at the same time, to the primary examiner in those cases in which the primary examiner has indicated an intention to present an oral argument.
4) After an oral hearing has been confirmed and the date set as provided in Section 1.194(c), the application file will be delivered to the examiner via the appropriate Group Director at least one week prior to the date of the hearing for those cases in which the examiner is expected to be present at the hearing. In those cases where the Board requests the presentation of an oral argument by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner, the appellant will be so notified. The Board's request for an oral argument may, where appropriate, indicate specific points or questions to which the argument should be particularly directed. The application file will be returned to the Board before the hearing.
5) In those appeals in which an oral hearing has been confirmed and either the primary examiner or the Board has indicated a desire for oral argument, such oral argument may be presented whether or not appellant appears.

Protests and Public Use Proceedings

Amended sections 1.291 and 1.292 give greater recognition to the value of written protests and public use petitions and are intended as an aid in avoiding the issuance of invalid patents.

Under sections 1.291 (b) and (c) and 1.292(b), the following procedures will be observed:

1) Only in those instances where it has not been possible to serve protest papers upon the applicant, attorney or agent, should duplicates of the papers submitted be provided. In this case the appropriate examining group will attempt to get the duplicate copy to the applicant, attorney or agent. However, every effort should be made by the protester to effect service.
2) Citations of prior art and any papers related thereto may be entered in the file after a patent has been granted by submitting them to the attention of the Record Room, where they will be entered without comment by the Office. If after diligent effort it has not been possible to serve the prior art citations and related papers on the patentee, his attorney or agent, duplicate copies should be submitted in which case the Record Room will attempt to get the duplicate copy to the owner of record.
3) When public use petitions and accompanying papers are submitted they, or a notice in lieu thereof, will be entered in the application file. Duplicate copies should be submitted only when, after diligent effort, it has not been possible for petitioner to serve a copy of the petition on the applicant, his attorney or agent in which case the Office of the Solicitor will attempt to get the duplicate copy to the applicant, his attorney or agent.
4) To ensure consideration by the examiner, protests should be timely submitted, i.e., before final rejection or allowance. Consideration of protests filed after final rejection or allowance will depend upon the relevance of the prior art documents and the point in time at which they are submitted. Documents which clearly anticipate or render obvious one or more claims will not knowingly be ignored. If protests are not timely submitted or if they fail to comply with section 1.291(a) as to the submission of a copy of each prior art document relied upon, they will be acknowledged and referred to the examiner having charge of the subject matter involved for entry in the application file and such consideration as seems warranted.

In each instance where an examiner considers but does not cite on form PTO—892 specific prior art referred to in a protest, the examiner will place a notation in the protest paper adjacent to the reference which will include his or her initials and the term "checked."

Additional future guidelines as to protest procedures may be developed after gaining experience with the new practice.

(101) Further Guidelines Relating to 37 CFR 1.175 and 1.291, as Amended Effective March 1, 1977

The experience with the above revised rules since their effective date has indicated the desirability of further guidelines relating to the manner in which they are to be implemented. The following guidelines are supplemental to those which have already been provided in the publication of the rules in the Federal Register of January 28, 1977 (42 F.R. 5588) (955 O.G. 1054, February 22, 1977), and in the earlier Guidelines published at 957 O.G. 11 on April 12, 1977. Copies of the latter two Official Gazette publications appear as items 59 and 60 of the current "Consolidated Listing of Recent Official Gazette Notices" published at 966 O.G. 22–32. The present guidelines are also supplemental to the appropriate sections of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, e.g., Sections 1401–1401.12 relating to reissue, and Section 1309.02 relating to protests. Sections 721 and 721.01 of the MPEP contain guidelines to be followed if either a reissue or other application, or a protest relative to any application, raises questions of "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure." Accordingly, the above-noted materials should be consulted in addition to these further guidelines, which are in themselves not intended to completely treat the subjects involved. For the most part, the guidelines herein merely identify and clarify existing requirements and practices. The Patent and Trademark Office has a general study underway of the procedures for handling reissue applications and protests which may result in future modifications in these guidelines.

Section 1.175(a)(4) of the revised rules recognizes that reissues may be filed to have the patentability of the original patent, without changes therein, considered in view of prior art or other information relevant to patentability which was not previously considered by the Office.

The experience to date reveals the need to clarify what should be filed by the applicant in order to seek the reexamination contemplated by sub-section (a)(4) and also the type and content of the examination which the examiner will give to applications filed under sub-section (a)(4).

First, sub-section (a)(4) does not contemplate, or permit, the filing of a reissue application without an oath or declaration. To the contrary, an oath or declaration is required, and such oath or declaration must comply with each of sub-sections (a)(4), (a)(5), and (a)(6). Thus, under sub-section (a)(4) the oath or declaration must particularly specify the "prior art or other information relevant to patentability, not previously considered by the Office," which the reissue applicant considers "might cause the examiner to deem the original patent wholly or partly inoperative or invalid." The reissue oath or declaration must also request, under sub-section (a)(4), that "if the examiner so deems, the applicant be permitted to amend the patent and be granted a reissue patent."

Under sub-section (a)(5), the reissue oath or declaration, including those filed under sub-section (a)(4), must particularly specify "the errors or what might be deemed to be errors relied upon, and how they arose or occurred."[1] This sub-section has two specific requirements, both of which must be complied with in, or by, the reissue oath or declaration. Thus, insofar as (a)(4) reissue oaths or declarations are concerned, the oath or declaration must particularly specify "what might be deemed to be errors." For example, if the reissue applicant is seeking reexamination in view of particular prior art or other information, the reissue oath or declaration must point out "what might be deemed to be errors" in patentability in view of such prior art or other information. More specifically, the oath or declaration, in appropriate circumstances, might state that some or all claims might be deemed to be too broad and invalid in view of references X and Y which were not of record in the patented files. Usually, a general statement will suffice. But where appropriate, such as where the pertinence of the new references X and Y are not evident, more specificify about "what might be deemed to be errors" should be provided. Of course, the reissue applicant does not have to, and presumably does not, agree that "errors" exist. However, the reissue applicant does have to, in the reissue oath or declaration of the sub-section (a)(4) type, particularly specify "what might be deemed to be errors relied upon."

In addition to specifying "what might be deemed to be errors relied upon," sub-section (a)(5) also requires "particularly specifying" "how they arose or occurred." This means, of course, that the reissue oath or declaration must specify the manner in which that which "might be deemed to be errors" "arose or occurred." For example, if the (a)(4) reissue is being filed for reexamination in view of prior art or other information, the reissue oath or declaration must indicate when and the manner in which the reissue applicant became aware of the possible error in the patent, e.g., third party allegation, discovery of prior art or other information subsequent to issuance of patent, knowledge of prior art or other information before issuance of patent with significance being brought out after issuance by third party, through allegations made in litigation involving the patent, etc. It is particularly important that the reissue oath or declaration adequately specify how "what might be deemed to be errors" arose or occurred. If the reissue oath or declaration does not particularly specify "how," i.e., the manner in which any possible errors arose or occurred, the Office will be unable to adequately evaluate reissue applicant's statement in compliance with (a)(6) that the "errors, if any, arose 'without any deceptive intention' on the part of the applicant."

Sub-section (a)(6) specifically requires that the reissue oath or declaration, including those filed under sub-section (a)(4), contain the averment that the "errors, if any, arose 'without any deceptive intention' on the part of the applicant." This requirement must not be overlooked in filing since the requirement for an absence of "deceptive intention" is a necessary part of any reissue application, including those of the (a)(4) type.

The significance and importance of sub-sections (a)(5) and (a)(6) must not be overlooked or minimized insofar as reissue oaths or declarations are concerned, including those filed under sub-section (a)(4). These sub-sections, to a large extent, enable the Office to make its determination required by statute that any error is "without any deceptive intention."

In addition to meeting the requirements of Sections 1.175 (a)(4)–(a)(6) insofar as the reissue oath or declaration is concerned, the reissue applicant, at the time of filing the reissue application, including the (a)(4) type reissue application, must also be aware of the requirements of 37 CFR 1.56, as revised effective March 1, 1977. Reissue applicants may, of course, utilize new Sections 1.97–1.99 to comply with the duty of disclosure required by Section 1.56. While Section 1.97(a) provides for filing of the prior art statement within three months of the filing of the application, reissue applicants are encouraged to file the prior art statement at the time of filing the application in order that such prior art statements will be availale to the public during the two-month period provided by Section 1.176.

In situations in which the patent for which reexamination is being sought is, or has been, involved in litigation, which raised a question material to examination of the reissue application, such as the validity of the patent, or any allegation of fraud, the existence of such litigation must be brought to the attention of the Office at the time of, or shortly after, filing the application, either in the reissue oath or declaration, or in a separate paper, preferably accompanying the application as filed. Litigation begun after filing of the reissue application also should be promptly brought to the attention of the Office. The details and documents from the litigation, insofar as they are "material to the examination" of the reissue application as defined in 37 CFR 1.56(a), should accompany the application as filed, or be submitted as promptly thereafter as possible. For example, the defenses raised against validity of the patent, or charging fraud or inequitable conduct in the litigation, would normally be "material to the examination" of the reissue application. It would, in most situations, be appropriate to bring such defenses to the attention of the Office by filing in the reissue application a copy of the Court papers raising such defenses. As a minimum, the applicant should call the attention of the Office to the litigation, the existence and nature of any allegations relating to validity and/or "fraud" relating to the original patent, and the nature of litigation materials relating to these issues. Enough information should be submitted to clearly inform the Office of the nature of these issues so that the Office can intelligently evaluate the need for asking for further materials in the litigation. Thus, the existence of supporting materials which may substantiate allegations of invalidity or "fraud" should, at least, be fully described, or submitted. The Office is not, of course, interested in receiving voluminous litigation materials which are not relevant to the Office's consideration of the reissue application. The status of the litigation should be updated in the reissue application as soon as significant events happen in the litigation.

The Examination of Reissue Applications, Including Those Filed Under 37 CFR 1.175(a)(4)

The examination of reissue applications, including those filed under sub-section (a)(4), will be in accordance with Sections 1401–1401.12, M.P.E.P. Attention is particularly directed to Section 1401.09, M.P.E.P. which refers to the two aspects of reissue examination, i.e., examination in the same manner as an original application and examination for compliance with the reissue statute and rules. The purpose of the present guidelines is to supplement those presently in existence and to emphasize certain points, particularly as they relate to reissue applications filed under sub-section (a)(4).

When examining the reissue application the examiner will consider whether or not applicant, in the reissue oath or declaration, has complied with each of the requirements of 37 CFR 1.175. For example, in all reissue applications, the reissue oath or declaration must comply with the requirements of the first sentence of 37 CFR 1.65. When the reissue application is other than the (a)(4) type, the reissue oath or declaration must comply with the appropriate sub-sections (a)(1) to (a)(3) and sub-sections (a)(5) and (a)(6). When the reissue application is filed under sub-section (a)(4), the reissue oath or declaration must also comply with sub-sections (a)(5) and (a)(6). Thus, all reissue applications must comply with sub-sections (a)(5) and (a)(6). If the examination reveals a lack of compliance with any requirement of Section 1.175, e.g., the requirements of sub-sections (a)(5) and/or (a)(6), a rejection will be made on the basis that the reissue oath or declaration is insufficient. See Section 1401.08, M.P.E.P. Under no circumstances will any reissue application be passed for issue without full compliance with 37 CFR 1.175.

Applications filed under sub-section (a)(4) will not, of course, be passed for issue without amendment, but will be rejected as lacking statutory basis for a reissue if there are no other grounds for rejection, since 35 U.S.C. 251 does not authorize reissue of a patent unless the patent is deemed wholly or partly inoperative or invalid. If a reissue filed under sub-section (a)(4) is subsequently amended thereby converting it into an application under sub-sections (a)(1) to (a)(3), a supplemental reissue oath or declaration must be filed containing the appropriate averments, If such a proper supplemental oath or declaration is not filed, a rejection will be made on the basis that the reissue oath or declaration is insufficient. The supplemental oath or declaration insures compliance with 35 U.S.C. 251 by providing appropriate averments relating to actual errors rather than possible errors.

If the examiner becomes aware of litigation involving the patent sought to be reissued during examination of the reissue application, and applicant has not made the details regarding that litigation of record in the reissue application, the examiner, in the next office action, will inquire regarding the same. The following paragraph may be used for such an inquiry:

> "It has come to the attention of the examiner that the patent sought to be reissued by this application (is) (has been) involved in litigation. Any documents and/or materials, including the defenses raised against validity, or against enforceability because of fraud or inequitable conduct, which would be material to the examination of this reissue application are required to be made of record in response hereto. See 37 CFR 1.175(b)."

If the additional details of the litigation appear to be material to examination of the reissue application, the examiner may make such additional inquiries as necessary and appropriate under 37 CFR 1.175(b).

However, any application which indicates the existence of a question of "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" will be forwarded to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents pursuant to Section 721.01, M.P.E.P., as soon as the existence of such question is appreciated. For example, any reissue application which seeks reexamination in view of material prior art or other information known before issuance of the patent to a person having a duty under 37 CFR 1.56(a) must be forwarded under Section 721.01, M.P.E.P., to the Assistant Commissioner via the Group Director.

The Filing of Protests Under 37 CFR 1.291

The amendments to Section 1.291 reflected the increased value the Office places on appropriate written protests as an aid in avoiding the issuance of invalid patents. The present supplemental guidelines are in addition to those previously published and referred to above.

The nature of the protest, and the timeliness of its submission, are important factors in determining the consideration which is given the protest, and by whom it is considered. Insofar as the question of timeliness is concerned, the original publication of the rules at 955 O.G. 1054, the earlier Guidelines published at 957 O.G. 11, and Section 1309.02, M.P.E.P. adequately treat this question. Protests should obviously be submitted as early in the examination process as possible in order to be of maximum benefit to the Office in its examination of the application involved.

If the protest is being filed with regard to a reissue application, the protest should be filed within the two-month period following announcement of the filing of the reissue application in the Offical Gazette, if it is at all possible to do so. If, for some reason, the protest of the reissue application cannot be filed within the two-month period provided by 37 CFR 1.176, the protest can be submitted at a later time, but protestor must be aware that reissue applications are "special" and a later filed protest may be received after action by the examiner, if submitted later than the two months provided by 37 CFR 1.176. In the event a protest is intended against a reissue application, but cannot be submitted within the two months provided following the O.G. announcement, the protestor can request an additional specified period within which to file the protest, explaining why the additional time is necessary and the nature of the protest intended. A copy of any such request for additional time to protest a reissue application beyond the two months provided must be served on the reissue applicant. The request for additional time should be directed to the appropriate Group Director. The requests for additional time beyond the two months provided will be critically reviewed as to demonstrated need before being granted since the delay of examination of a reissue application of another party is being requested. Accordingly, the requests should be made only where necessary, for the minimum period required and with a justification establishing the necessity for the extension.

Any protest filed alleging "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" should be directed to the attention of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Building 3, Room 11A–13. Protests based on grounds other than "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" should be directed to the attention of the Director of the particular examining group in which the application is pending. If the protestor is unable to specifically identify the application to which the protest is directed, but, nevertheless, believes such an application to be pending, the protest should be directed to the attention of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Building 3, Room 11A–13, along with as much identifying data for the application as is available.

As indicated in the earlier publications, e.g., Section 1309.02, M.P.E.P., every effort should be made by a protestor to effect service of the protest upon the attorney or agent of applicant who is of record or upon the applicant. The protest filed in the Office should reflect that service has been made. Only in those instances where service is not possible should the protest be filed in duplicate in order that the Office can attempt service. Of course, the copy served upon applicant or applicant's attorney or agent should be accompanied by a copy of each prior art or other document relied upon in the same manner as required by Section 1.291(a) for the Office copy.

The Examiner's Consideration of Protests

Protests other than those alleging "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" will be received by, or forwarded to, the Group Director of the examining group where the application is, or may be, pending and then referred to the appropriate examiner. If it is then, or later, discovered that a question of "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" exists, the application and the protest, will be forwarded to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents pursuant to Section 721.01, M.P.E.P.

If no allegations or questions of "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" are found to exist, the examiner will consider the protest and report the results of the consideration to the Group Director. If the protest has been timely submitted, i.e., before final rejection or allowance, the examiner will consider each of the prior art or other documents submitted. At least those prior art documents which the examiner relies on in rejecting claims will be made of record by means of form PTO—892. If the examiner does not cite all of the prior art or other documents of form PTO—892, the examiner will place a notation in the protest paper adjacent to the reference to the documents which will include the examiner's initials and the term "checked."

If the protest is filed after final rejection or allowance of the application, the consideration by the examiner will depend upon the relevance of the prior art documents submitted and the point in time at which they are submitted. Documents which clearly anticipate or render obvious one or more claims will not be knowingly ignored. Prosecution of the application will be reopened where necessary. However, protestor must be aware that the likelihood of consideration by the Examiner decreases as the patent issue date approaches. Accordingly, protests must be filed early in order to ensure their consideration.

If the protest is not accompanied by a copy of each prior art or other document relied upon as required by Section 1.291(a), the protestor cannot be assured that the examiner will consider the missing document. However, if the examiner does so, the examiner will either cite the document on form PTO—892 or place a notation in the protest paper adjacent to the reference to the document which will include the examiner's initials and the term "checked."

If, upon considering the protest or any submissions subsequent thereto, the examiner considers it desirable to obtain applicant's comments on the protest before further action, the examiner will offer applicant an opportunity to file comments within a set period, usually two months.

The following suggested format can be used to offer applicant an opportunity to file comments on the protest:

"A protest against the issuance of a patent based on this application has been filed under 37 CFR 1.291 on . . . . and a copy (has been indicated as having been served on applicant) (is attached hereto). Any comments or response applicant desires to file before consideration of the protest must be filed by . . . ."

Section 1.291(a) indicates that protests are acknowledged and this acknowledgement will normally be made by the particular office to which the protest is ultimately directed for consideration. Protests alleging "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" will normally be acknowledged by the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents. Other protests, i.e., those not alleging "fraud" or "violation of the duty of disclosure" will normally be acknowledged by the Group Director of the examining group where the application is, or may be, pending.

If the protest involves an application to which the protestor has access, e.g., a reissue application filed after March 1, 1977, or one in which protestor has been formally granted access, then protestor may monitor the proceedings and file such additional papers as protestor considers appropriate. If protestor has access to the application, protestor may request the Office to supply protestor with copies of Office actions or other documents mailed by the Office. Such a request should be directed to the particular area in which the application is pending, e.g., Office of Assistant Commissioner for Patents, or Director of the particular examining group. The request should explain why protestor needs the copies in question and should indicate an intent on protestor's part to assist the Office in its examination by supplying relevant comments. Normally, the Office will send copies of Office actions to protestors where the protestor indicates an intent to review actions and, if appropriate, comment to the Office on them. However, since protestor has no right to copies of the Office actions or other documents, the granting or denying of such requests will be within the sole discretion of, and for the convenience of the Office.

If the protestor has access to the application, the examiner may communicate with the protestor in writing to seek clarification and/or additional information if the examiner considers such clarification and/or additional information necessary to properly consider the protest. The following suggested format can be used by the examiner to seek clarification and/or additional information from a protestor having access to an application:

"The protest, as filed_____, has been noted. However, clarification and/or additional information is desired. In particular [Examiner explains] any submission of the requested information should be made within ONE MONTH of the date of this letter and the submission must indicate service on applicant."

While the examiner should not normally need clarification and/or additional information from the protestor where the grounds involve only published prior art, e.g., patents, periodicals, etc., under some circumstances it may be necessary for the examiner to seek such clarification and/or additional information. For example, if the date of a reference is in question, or some question of public use is involved, and the information being sought is within the knowledge or control of the protestor, the examiner may find it necessary to communicate with the protestor to obtain the same.

Where the examiner feels that a protestor with access to an application can contribute significantly to the examination process, the protestor may be given a specific period, normally one month, within which to comment on responses submitted by patent applicants to Office actions. Such a comment period should only be provided where it would appear to be of benefit to the examination process and only with the approval of a Supervisory Primary Examiner. Where an applicant agrees to such participation by a protestor or where a Court has suspended litigation for consideration of a related application by the Patent and Trademark Office with an expression of its desire for such protestor participation, it should be more liberally granted.

Where a protestor requests permission to participate in any interview between an applicant and the examiner or requests on its own behalf to have an interview with the examiner, the request should be referred to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents for action. Normally, protestor participation in interviews with examiners will not be allowed unless special justifying circumstances exist. Where authorized, participation by the protestor in an interview will be according to conditions set down by the Patent and Trademark Office. Normally, any transcript of the interview, if authorized, will be at the expense of the party or parties requesting it and will be arranged by such party or parties. Where Office actions are being sent to a protestor or where a protestor is present for an interview, a copy of the Interview Summary Form and other records made of the interview will be provided to the protestor. Where protestor's participate in an interview, they may submit their own record of the interview which will be made of record in the file.

Interviews relating to a patent application with a protestor will not be permitted without the applicant present.

A protestor with access to an application appealed to the Board of Appeals who intends to file comments or a brief in opposition to appellant's brief should file an indication of such intention within one month after the notice of appeal is filed and serve a copy of the same upon appellant. The indication of intention should state that protestor agrees to file such comments or brief in triplicate, within one month after appellant's brief is filed, and also agrees to serve a copy of the comments or brief upon appellant. If such an indication is not filed and served, or the protestor's comments or brief is not timely filed in triplicate and served, no assurance is given that the Examiner will consider the protestor's comments or brief during the preparation of the Examiner's Answer.

A protestor who participates by the filing of comments or a brief in opposition to appellant's brief may also request, at the time of filing the comments or brief, to appear at any oral hearing. If a protestor does not file such comments or brief, the protestor cannot be present at any oral hearing. If a protestor does file such a request, the Board of Appeals, in its discretion, will decide whether or not the issues on appeal are such that protestor's participation at the hearing would be helpful. The Board of Appeals will notify protestor whether or not the request to appear at the hearing is granted and, if granted, how much time will be permitted. Of course, if appellant does not request an oral hearing, or provides timely notification to the Board and protestor that appellant will not appear, protestor will not be heard.

A copy of any examiner's letter or communication to a protestor will be mailed to applicant at the same time it is mailed to the protestor. While the examiner may communicate in writing with a protestor having access to the application, the examiner will not communicate orally and protestor must refrain from oral communications with the examiner except to ask purely procedural questions which have no relation to the substance of the protest or the merits of the application, unless specifically authorized in writing by the Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

Where the handling of a protest or the handling of a reissue application involved in related litigation requires an inordinately larger than normal amount of work on the part of an examiner and where otherwise warranted, Supervisory Primary Examiners may authorize the use of non-examining time for handling some or all of the examination.

The above guidelines are intended to make clearer the policies of the Patent and Trademark Office in respect to the handling of reissue applications, protests and "fraud" questions. The Office is especially interested in seeing that the consideration of reissue applications and protests is thorough and fair. It is interested in seeing that protestors have an opportunity to participate in the proceedings in the Office to the extent that such participation is helpful and appropriate in each case. It is also greatly interested in the completeness and accuracy of the file record, including indications whether or not prior art references and information mentioned in the record have been reviewed by the examiner.

The present guidelines which will be incorporated into the M.P.E.P. as soon as possible, when considered in conjunction with those previously issued and the M.P.E.P., should answer many of the questions being raised about the revised rules.

(102) Expedited Processing of Reissue Applications and Applications Having Issues of Fraud or Failure to Comply With The Duty of Disclosure

The Patent and Trademark Office has been experiencing increasing delays in the examination of reissue applications and other applications in which charges or questions of fraud or failure to comply with the duty of disclosure have been raised or are apparent on the record. Consideration of these charges involves considerable expenditures of resources and time. They also tend to delay prompt consideration on the merits in view of the prior art, etc. Considerable duplication of effort and expenditures of resources and time also may occur when the Office considers applications in circumstances where the same issues are concurrently being considered in Court.

Deferral of Fraud Issues

Effective immediately, the Office is instituting a policy of delaying consideration of issues of fraud or failure to comply with the duty of disclosure in any application until all other issues are settled.

Accordingly, under this procedure, applications having issues of fraud or failure to comply with the duty of disclosure will continue to be referred to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, but will then be promptly returned, along with any appropriate examining instructions, to the Director of the Examining Group for immediate action by the Examiner. Decisions on Petitions to Strike applications pursuant to 37 CFR 1.56(d) will be deferred pending resolution of the patentability issues before the Examiner. Any such Petitions to Strike filed after the Office of the Assistant Commissioner has initially reviewed the application and returned it for immediate action will be acknowledged by the Examining Group Director and action on the Petition will be deferred pending completion of the patentability issues before the Examiner. Examiners will note in their Office actions the existence of issues of fraud or failure to comply with the duty of disclosure without commenting on the substance of such issues and will indicate that the issues will be considered after all other matters have been disposed of. Matters other than fraud or failure to comply with the duty of disclosure raised in a Petition to Strike, e.g., patentability in light of a reference, will be treated by the Examiner or other appropriate official. Petitions relating to procedural matters involving the examination of the applications, e.g., requests for protestor participation in interviews, will be decided by the appropriate Examining Group Director. Applications which have been referred to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner and which are required to be returned thereto before allowance or after abandonment of the application will have a notation placed on the face of the application file by the Office of the Assistant Commissioner requiring such return.

Suspension of Action Where There is Concurrent Litigation

In order to avoid duplication of effort, actions in applications in which there is an indication of concurrent litigation will be suspended automatically unless and until it is evident to the examiner, or the applicant indicates, that: (1) a stay of the litigation is in effect; (2) the litigation has been terminated; (3) there are no significant overlapping issues between the application and the litigation; or (4) it is applicant's desire that the application be examined at that time.

Expedited Examination of Reissues

All reissue applications, except those under suspension because of litigation, will be taken up for action ahead of other "special" applications; this means that all issues not deferred will be treated and responded to immediately. Furthermore, reissue applications involved in "stayed litigation" will be taken up for action in advance of other reissue applications.

Insofar as reissue applications for patents in litigation are concerned, the Office is presently considering modifications to the rules to provide for their examination within the two-month waiting period now provided by Section 1.176. Until appropriate modifications are made to the rules, the Office will entertain petitions under 37 CFR 1.183 to waive the delay period of 37 CFR 1.176. In addition, the Office is presently considering requiring the prompt disclosure of the existence of litigation related to a pending application.

Time monitoring systems are being put into effect which will closely monitor the time used by applicants, protestors, and examiners in processing reissue applications of patents involved in litigation in which the court has stayed further action.

Applicants in reissue applications involved in litigation which has been stayed, dismissed, etc. for consideration by the Patent and Trademark Office will normally be given one month to respond to Office actions in those situations where the Office determines that the reissue applicant can readily prepare a response in such time. This one month period may be extended upon a showing of clear justification. Of course, up to three months may be set for response if the Examiner determines such a period is justified.

Applicants and protestors submitting papers for entry in reissue applications of patents involved in litigation are requested to mark the outside envelope and the top right hand portion of the paper with the words "REISSUE LITIGATION" and with the unit of the PTO in which the reissue application is located—e.g., Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Board of Appeals or Examining Group. The notations preferably should be written in a bright color with a felt point marker. Papers marked "REISSUE LITIGATION" will be given special attention. Also, the PTO will place a prominent notation on the application file to indicate the existence of litigation.

The purpose of these changes is to reduce the time between filing and final action insofar as possible while still giving all parties sufficient time to be heard. This notice is supplemental to, and in some respects modifies, the earlier published notices on this subject and particularly the notice published at 977 O.G. 11 on December 12, 1978.

(103) Prior Art Cited by Patent Offices in Other Countries

Section 1.56 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations requires patent applicants and others associated with the prosecution of a patent application before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office to call to the Office's attention information which is material to examination. Where related or corresponding patent applications have been filed in other countries, prior art may be cited by the Patent Offices of those other countries in connection with the examination of the applications filed there. Where prior art is cited by those other Patent Offices while the U.S. application is pending, citations which are material to examination in this country and known to any of the individuals covered by Section 1.56 must be called to the attention of this Office. Attorneys and agents are reminded of their obligations in this respect.

It is suggested, of course, that such prior art be cited to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office in a prior art statement which complies with the provisions of Section 1.97–1.99 of 37 CFR.

[982 O.G. 36]

(104) Documents Cited in PCT International Search Report

This notice is intended to clarify which documents listed on an international search report prepared under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) should during the national stage before the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO):

(1) be listed and copies thereof submitted by the applicant to the PTO in an information disclosure statement filed under 37 CFR §§1.97–1.99,

(2) be supplied to the applicant with an Office action, and

(3) be listed by the examiner for printing on the front page of any resulting patent.

If the United States is designated in an international (PCT) application a copy of the search report will be mailed to the United States as a Designated Office by the International Bureau about 19 months after the priority date. This search report, without copies of the cited documents is placed in the national stage application file.

Accordingly, examiners in the PTO who are examining a national stage application will have a copy of the listing of documents cited in the International Search Report but they may not have copies of the documents cited therein and/or they may not have any available English translations of the cited documents. While the PTO is presently receiving copies of documents cited in PCT search reports of the European Patent Office and the Japanese Patent Office in a temporary trial program, the program may be discontinued at any time and applicants cannot rely upon this program to provide the examiner with copies of references or with any available English translation.

Citation of International Search Report Documents in Information Disclosure Statements

Applicants and/or applicant's attorney in PCT national stage applications, to ensure compliance with 37 CFR 1.56, should cite and supply copies of the documents cited in the PCT International Search Report which are "material" as defined in 37 CFR 1.56, preferably by an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR §§1.97–1.99.

A primary concern of the Patent and Trademark Office and the applicant should be that prior art cited in the PCT International Search Report which is material to the examination of the United States national stage application be fully considered during the examination of the United States national stage application. The best manner of ensuring such consideration is through a cooperative effort by all of the persons involved in the prosecution and examination of the United States national stage application. The applicant and his or her foreign patent attorney or agent obviously have access to, and presumably consider, the citations in the PCT International Search Report. With rare exceptions, the International Search Reort is prepared prior to the time at which applicant enters the United States national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371. Thus, applicant and his or her foreign attorney or agent are in a position to have reviewed the citations in the PCT International Search Report and call the attention of the United States patent attorney to those documents which are material. Under present case law, e.g., Gemveto Jewelry Company, Inc. v. Lambert Bros., Inc., 216 U.S.P.Q. 976 (S.D. N.Y. 1982), foreign patent attorneys representing applicants for U.S. patents through United States correspondent patent attorneys are held to the same standards of conduct which apply to their United States counterparts. Since foreign applicants and their foreign patent attorneys have presumably considered the citations in the PCT International Search Report, and are under a duty to disclose the material citations contained therein, the preferred practice is to have this disclosure made via an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR §§1.97–1.99.

This will ensure that material citations contained in the PCT International Search Reort are considered by the examiner during the exmination of the United States national stage application. To the extent that the examiner does review the citations without an information disclosure statement having been submitted, the foreign applicant will obviously benefit therefrom. However, the foreign applicant and applicant's attorney cannot rely upon such a review by the examiner being conducted so as to relieve them of their dury to adequately disclose material prior art.

Copies of Documents Supplied With Office Actions

Copies of documents cited by the examiner in U.S. national stage applications will be provided as set forth in Section 707.05(a) of the MPEP. That is, copies of documents cited by the examiner will be provided to applicant except where the documents:

(1) are cited at allowance

(2) have been referred to in applicant's disclosure statement, and

(3) where the documents are cited and have been provided to applicant by the PTO in a parent national or international application.

Listing of Documents Cited in PCT International Search Reports by Examiners for Printing on Patents

The examiner should review all copies of documents cited in the International Search Report and should cite those documents which are material to the subject matter claimed in the national stage application. In those instances where documents are cited in the PCT search report but neither a copy of the documents nor an English translation (or English family member) is provided, the examiner may exercise discretion in deciding whether to take the necessary steps to obtain the copy and/or translation.

Where an information disclosure statement has been filed and copies have been submitted in conformance with 37 CFR 1.98 and section 609 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP), the examiner must list all citations on form PTO-892 as part of the next regular Office action following receipt thereof unless such citations are listed by applicant on form PTO-1449.

Insofar as the citation by the examiner in an Office action of all of the documents cited in a PCT International Search Report is concerned where 37 CFR 1.98 has not been followed, it is not seen to be appropriate for the examiner to automatically cite, in the national stage application, each document listed in the PCT international search report. It has been the experience of the PTO that many documents listed on the PCT international search report are not relevant to the claims in the U.S. national stage application or that an English language equivalent document is used by the examiner.

(105) Extensions of Time in Reexamination Proceedings

This notice is intended to clarify extension of time practice as it relates to reexamination proceedings, and supplement the provisions of Section 2265 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP).

The provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a) and (b) are NOT applicable to reexamination proceedings under any circumstances . Public Law 97-247 amended 35 U.S.C. 41 to authorize the Commissioner to charge fees for extensions of time to take action in an "application". A reexamination proceeding does not involve an "application". 37 CFR 1.136 authorizes extensions of the time period only in an application in which an applicant must respond or take action. There is neither an "application", nor an "applicant" involved in a reexamination proceeding.

Requests for an extension of time to file a patent owner's statement under 37 CFR 1.530 or respond to any Office action in a reexamination proceeding must be filed under 37 CFR 1.550(c). These requests for an extension of time will be granted only for sufficient cause and must be filed on or before the day on which action by the patent owner is due. In no case will mere filing of a request for extension of time automatically effect any extension. Although the appeal provisions of 37 CFR 1.192(a), 1.197(b), and 1.304(a) set time periods applicable to reexamination as well as application proceedings, they also include a further proviso making these time periods subject to the extension provisions of 37 CFR 1.136. However, for the reasons set forth above, the extension provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 are limited to application proceedings and do not apply to reexamination proceedings. Therefore, any request for an extension of time in a reexamination proceeding to file a brief or reply brief, a request for reconsideration or rehearing, or a notice and reasons of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, will be considered under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.550(c). The regulations setting a time period in which any of these actions must be taken set a time for reply within the meaning of 37 CFR 1.550(b), which time can be extended under 37 CFR 1.550(c).

The extension-of-time practice in reexamination proceedings in which a final Office action has been mailed continues to be reflected in MPEP Section 2265. That is, the after-final practice in reexamination proceedings did not change Oct. 1, 1982, and the automatic extension of time policy for response to a final rejection and associated practice are still in effect in reexamination proceedings.

Extensions of time for a requester of a reexamination, who is not the patent owner, are available only in rare circumstances. A request for an extension of the time period to file a petition from the denial of a request for reexamination can only be entertained by filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.183 with appropriate fee to waive the time provisions of 37 CFR 1.515(c). No extensions will be permitted to the two-month time for filing a reply by the requester under 37 CFR 1.535. This two-month period is set by statute (35 U.S.C. 304) and cannot be extended.

[1028 OG 18]

(106) Clarification of Reexamination Practice and Change in Reexamination Certificate Wording

I. Clarification of Reexamination Practice.

This notice is intended to clarify the options open to the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding when an allowable dependent claim depends from a rejected or cancelled patent claim.

A. Leave dependent claim in dependent form.

It is unnecessary in a reexamination proceeding to rewrite an allowable dependent patent claim in independent form when the dependent patent claim depends from a rejected or cancelled patent claim. The allowable dependent patent claim may remain in the printed format as it appears in the patent even though the patent claim upon which it is dependent is cancelled. Since the or iginal patent claim numbers are not changed in a reexamination proceeding the content of the cancelled base patent claim would remain in the printed patent and would be available to be read as a part of the allowed dependent patent claim.

If a new claim (a claim other than a claim appearing in the patent) has been later cancelled, a claim which depends thereon will be rejected as incomplete and must be rewritten. New claims which depend from a rejected or cancelled patent claim do not have to be rewritten.

If the patent owner elects to leave a dependent claim (original or new) in dependent form when the independent patent claim is rejected or cancelled, the reexamination certificate would indicate (1) that the patentability of an allowed unamended dependent patent claim "is confirmed" or (2) that a new dependent claim is "determined to be patentable". The independent patent claim (cancelled or rejected at the time of the issuance of the reexamination certificate) would be indicated as "cancelled". Note that if the dependent patent claim which is left in dependent form is amended (e.g., correction of a misspelled word) the certificate would indicate the claim "to be patentable as amended". The independent patent claim is considered to be incorporated by reference in the dependent claim even though the independent claim is cancelled from the patent by the certificate.

B. Combine claims into independent claim.

It is also permissible for the patent owner to amend either the dependent or independent patent claim to incorporate the subject matter of the other. If the patent owner elects to rewrite one of the dependent or independent claims to include the subject matter of the other and cancel the other claim, the rewritten claim would be indicated on the certificate as being "patentable as amended". The other claim which was cancelled would be indicated on the certificate as "cancelled".

C. Present new claim and cancel patent claims.

It is also permissible for the patent owner to present a new claim incorporating the subject matter of the independent and dependent patent claims and cancel the independent and dependent patent claims. In this case the certificate would indicate "new claim ___ is added and determined to be patentable". The cancelled independent and dependent patent claims would be indicated as "cancelled".

NOTE: This Practice Applies Only to Reexamination and Does Not Change Current Practice Relating to Original and Reissue Applications

II. Change in Reexamination Certificate Wording.

The Office is also modifying the language of reexamination certificates directed to claims that are cancelled (for any reason) by dropping the language "having been finally determined to be unpatentable" since the existing language may not be accurate in all cases and since the patent and reexamination files are open to the public and the record speaks for itself. The certificate will merely state such a claim "is cancelled". This change will be effective with the July 17, 1984, Official Gazette issue.

(107) Priority Claims Based on Inventors Certificates

Pursuant to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 119, last paragraph (as amended July 28, 1972), 37 CFR 1.55(c) requires that when an applicant wishes to claim a right of priority on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate, ". . . the applicant or his attorney or agent, when submitting a claim for such right . . . shall include an affidavit or declaration including a specific statement that, upon an investigation, he has satisfied himself that to the best of his knowledge the applicant, when filing his application for the inventor's certificate, had the option to file an application either for a patent or for an inventor's certificate as to the subject matter of the identified claim or claims forming the basis for the claim of priority."

As such, it has been and remains the position of the Patent and Trademark Office that, in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 119, application for inventors' certificates shall give rise to a right of priority only when the country in which they are filed gives to applicants, at their discretion, the right to apply, on the same invention, either for a patent or for an inventor's certificate. The affidavit or declaration specified under 37 CFR 1.55(c) is only required for the purpose of ascertaining whether, in the country where the application for an inventor's certificate originated, this option generally existed for applicants with respect to the particular subject matter of the invention involved. The requirements of 35 U.S.C. 119 and 37 CFR 1.55(c) are not intended, however, to probe into the eligibility of the particular applicant to exercise the option in the particular priority application involved.

It is recognized that certain countries that grant inventors' certificates also provide by law that their own nationals who are employed in state enterprises may only receive inventors' certificates and not patents on inventions made in connection with their employment. This will not impair their right to be granted priority in the United States based on the filing of the inventor's certificate.

Accordingly, affidavits or declarations filed pursuant to 37 CFR 1.55(c) need only show that in the country in which the original inventor's certificate was filed, applicants generally have the right to apply at their own option either for a patent or an inventor's certificate as to the particular subject matter of the invention.

(108) Requirements for Priority Documents, Priority Based on Application for Industrial Design

In the Federal Republic of Germany, an application for protection of an industrial design may be accompanied by either a model or a drawing. It is understood that German residents file such applications with their local judicial authority ("Amtsgericht") rather than with the German Patent Office in Munich.

Questions have been raised in this connection as to:

(1) What sort of priority document under 35 U.S.C. 119 is required when the original filing has comprised a model rather than a drawing, and

(2) Whether it is necessary where the original filing was with a local judicial authority to obtain also a certificate from the national patent office.

As to the first question, the Patent and Trademark Office will receive under 35 U.S.C. 119, as evidence of an earlier filed design application which included the deposit of a model, drawings or acceptable photographs of the deposited model faithfully reproducing the design embodied therein together with other required information, certified by an official of the court or office with which the application was originally filed.

No additional certification by the national patent office will be required. Article 4D(3) of the Paris Convention refers to certification ". . . by the authority which received such application . . ." so the reference in 35 U.S.C. 119 to "patent office" will be construed to extend also to the authority in charge of the design register.

[962 O.G. 14]

(109) Right of Priority (35 U.S.C. 119) Based on a Foreign Application Filed Under a Bilateral or Multilateral Treaty

Under Article 4A of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property (21 UST 1583; 24 UST 2140; TIAS 6923, 7727; 852 O.G. 511) a right of priority may be based either on an application filed under the national law of a foreign country adhering to the Convention or on a foreign application filed under a bilateral or multilateral treaty concluded between two or more such countries. Examples of such treaties are the Hague Agreement Concerning the International Deposit of Industrial Designs, the Benelux Designs Convention, and the Libreville Agreement of September 13, 1962, relating to the creation of an African and Malagasy Industrial Property Office. The Convention on the Grant of European Patents and the Patent Cooperation Treaty will be further examples of such treaties once they enter into force.

The Priority Claim

In claiming priority of a foreign application previously filed under such a treaty, certain information must be supplied to the Patent and Trademark Office. In addition to the application number and the date of the filing of the application, the following information is required: (1) the name of the treaty under which the application was filed, (2) the name of at least one country other than the United States in which the application has the effect of, or is equivalent to, a regular national application, and (3) the name and location of the national or intergovernmental authority which received such application.

Certification of the Priority Papers

Section 119 of Title 35 of the United States Code requires the applicant to furnish a certified copy of priority papers. Certification by the authority empowered under a bilateral or multilateral treaty to receive applications which give rise to a right of priority under Article 4A(2) of the Paris Convention will be deemed to satisfy the certification requirement.

[962 O.G. 2]

(110) Using Certificate of Correction to Perfect Claim for Priority Under 35 USC 119

Under 35 USC 119, an applicant may assert a right of priority and claim the benefit of an earlier filing date in a foreign country. In this regard, 35 USC 119 states:

> No application for patent shall be entitled to this right or priority unless a claim therefor and a certified copy of the original foreign application, specification and drawings upon which it is based are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office before the patent is granted. . . .

The failure to perfect a claim to foreign priority benefits prior to issuance of the patent may be cured by filing a reissue application; Brenner v. State of Israel, 158 USPQ 584 (CA DC 1968).

However, under certain conditions, this failure may also be cured by filing a Certificate of Correction request under 35 USC 255 and 37 CFR 1.323. For example, in the case of In re Van Esdonk, 187 USPQ 671 (Comr. 1975), the Commissioner granted a request to issue a Certificate of Correction in order to perfect a claim to foreign priority benefits. In that case, a claim to foreign priority benefits had not been filed in the application prior to issuance of the patent. However, the application was a continuation of an earlier application in which the requirements of 35 USC 119 had been satisfied. Accordingly, the Commissioner held that the "applicants' perfection of a priority claim under 35 USC 119 in the parent application will satisfy the statute with respect to their continuation application."

Although In re Van Esdonk involved the patent of a continuation application filed under 37 CFR 1.60, it is proper to apply the holding of that case in similar factual circumstances to any patented application having benefits under 35 USC 120. This is primarily because a claim to foreign priority benefits in a continuing application, where the claim has been perfected in the parent application, constitutes in essence a mere affirmation of the applicant's previously expressed desire to receive benefits under 35 USC 119 for subject matter common to the foreign, parent, and continuing applications.

In summary, a Certificate of Correction under 35 USC 255 and 37 CFR 1.323 may be requested and issued in order to perfect a claim to foreign priority benefits in a patented continuing application if the requirements of 35 USC 119 had been satisfied in the parent application prior to issuance of the patent and the requirements of 37 CFR 1.55(a) are met.

However, a claim to foreign priority benefits cannot be perfected via a Certificate of Correction if the requirements of 35 USC 119 had not been satisfied in the patented application, or its parent, prior to issuance and the requirements 37 CFR 155(a) are not met. In this latter circumstance, the claim to foreign priority benefits can be perfected only by way of a reissue application in accordance with the rationale set forth in Brenner v. State of Israel, supra.

(111) Abstract of the Disclosure

This notice is intended to announce a change in the examining practice concerning review of the abstract for compliance with the guidelines set forth in MPEP 608.01(b).

At present, the examiner is instructed to review the abstract for compliance with the guidelines when passing the case to issue, making any necessary revisions by examiner's amendment. This policy has led to the necessity for many changes by the examiner which could have and should have been made at an earlier point in the prosecution. For example, abstracts in excess of the 250 word limit require cancellation and/or rewriting of portions thereof. This 250 word limit is strictly enforced since it represents a requirement of the printing process and the printed patent format designed to present a maximum amount of information concerning a patent on a single page.

Effective immediately, examiners are to require correction of the abstract at the earliest point in the prosecution that non-compliance with the guidelines is detected. Applicants are expected to observe the guidelines in drafting the abstract and correct any defect that is identified in an Office action. Applicants are encouraged to make the necessary corrections not only to relieve the examiner of this burden, but also to help avoid any potential conflict with respect to altering the scope of the enabling disclosure. In this regard, it should be noted that the abstract of the disclosure has been interpreted to be a part of the specification for the purposes of compliance with paragraph 1 of 35 USC 112. In re Armbruster, 512 F2d 676, 185 USPQ 152 (CCPA 1975). However, although it is preferable for applicant to make any necessary changes, the examiner will retain the authority and responsibility for reviewing, editing and revising the abstract of the disclosure at the time of allowance of the application to assure compliance with the guidelines.

Section 608.01(b) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedures will be amended appropriately.

[967 O.G. 2]

(112) Supplemental Guidelines for The Implementation of 37 CFR 1.109—Reasons for Allowance

A recent review of recorded statements of reasons for allowance indicates the need for a better understanding regarding implementation of new Rule 109 (37 CFR 1.109).

These guidelines are supplemental to those published in the Official Gazette at 957 O.G. 11 on April 12, 1977 and amplified in Section 1302.14 MPEP, Rev. 52, April 1977.

In determining whether reasons for allowance should be recorded the primary consideration lies in the first sentence of the Rule.

"If the examiner believes that the record of the prosecution as a whole does not make clear his reasons for allowing a claim or claims, the examiner may set forth such reasoning." (Emphasis added.)

In most cases the examiner's actions and the applicant's response make evident the reasons for allowance, satisfying the "record as a whole" proviso of the rule. This is particularly true when applicant fully complies with 37 CFR 1.111(b) and (c), 37 CFR 1.119 and 37 CFR 1.133(b). Thus where the examiner's actions clearly point out the reasons for rejection and the applicant's response explicitly represents reasons why claims are patentable over the reference, the reasons for allowance are in all probability evident from the record and no statement should be necessary. Conversely, where the record is not explicit as to reasons, but allowance is in order, then a logical extension of 37 CFR 1.111, 1.119 and 1.133 would dictate that the examiner should make reasons of record and such reasons should be specific.

Where specific reasons are recorded by the examiner, care must be taken to insure that such reasons are accurate, precise and do not place unwarranted interpretations, whether broad or narrow, upon the claims. The examiner should keep in mind the possible misinterpretations of his statement that may be made and its possible estoppel effects. Each statement should include at least: (1) the major difference in the claims not found in the prior art of record, and (2) the reasons why that difference is considered to define patentably over the prior art if either of these reasons for allowance is not clear in the record. The statement is not intended to necessarily state all the reasons for allowance or all the details why claims are allowed and should not be written to specifically or impliedly state that all the reasons for allowance are set forth.

Under the rule, the examiner must make a judgement of the individual record to determine whether or not reasons for allowance should be set out in that record. These guidelines, then, are intended to aid the examiner in making that judgement. They comprise illustrative examples as to applicability and appropriate content. They are not intended to be exhaustive.

Examples of When It Is Likely That a Statement Should Be Added to the Record

1. Claims are allowed on the basis of one (or some) of a number of arguments and/or affidavits presented and a statement is necessary to identify which of these were persuasive, for example:
   a. When the arguments are presented in an appeal brief.
   b. When the arguments are presented in an ordinary response with or without amendment of claims.
   c. When both an affidavit under 37 CFR 1.131 and arguments under 102 and 103 are presented.
2. First action issue:
   a. Of non-continuing application wherein claims are very close to cited prior art and differences have not been discussed elsewhere.
   b. Of continuing applications wherein reasons for allowance are not apparent from the record in the parent case or clear from preliminary filled matters.
3. Withdrawal of a rejection for reasons not suggested by applicant, for example:
   a. As a result of an appeal conference.
   b. When applicant's arguments have been misdirected or are not persuasive alone and the Examiner comes to realize that more cogent argument is available.
   c. When claims are amended to avoid a rejection under 35 USC 102 but arguments (if any) fail to address the question of obviousness.
4. Allowance after remand from the Board of Appeals.
5. Allowance coincident with the citation of newly found references that are very close to the claims, but claims are considered patentable thereover:
   a. When reference is found and cited (but not argued) by applicant.
   b. When reference is found and cited by Examiner.
6. Where the reasons for allowance are of record but in the Examiner's judgement, are unclear (e.g. spread throughout the file history) so that an unreasonable effort would be required to collect them.
7. Allowance based on claim interpretation which might not be readily apparent, for example:
   a. Article claims in which method limitations impart patentability.
   b. Method claims in which article limitations impart patentability.
   c. Claim is so drafted that "non-analogous" art is not applicable.
   d. Preamble or functional language "breathes life" into claim.

Examples of Statements of Suitable Content

1. The primary reason for allowance of the claims is the inclusion of .03 to .05 percent nickel in all the claims. Applicant's second affidavit, in example 5 shows unexpected results from this restricted range.
2. During two telephonic interviews with applicant's attorney, Mr.—on 5/6 and 5/10/77, the Examiner stated that Applicant's remarks about the placement of the primary teaching's grid member were persuasive, but he pointed out that applicant did not claim the member as being within the reactor. Thus, an amendment doing such was agreed to.
3. The instant application is deemed to be directed to an unobvious improvement over the invention patented in Pat. No. 3,953.224. The improvement comprises baffle means 12 whose effective length in the extraction tower may be varied so as to optimize and to control the extraction process.
4. Upon reconsideration, this application has been awarded the effective filing date of S.N. _____. Thus the rejection under 35 USC 102(d) and 103 over Belgian Patent No. 757,246 is withdrawn.
5. The specific limitation as to the pressure used during compression was agreed to during the telephone interview with applicant's attorney. During said interview, it was noted that applicants contended in their amendment that a process of the combined applied teachings could not result in a successful article within the amended pressure range. The Examiner agreed to rely on this statement (see page 3, bottom, of applicant's amendment), and the case was allowed.
6. In the Examiner's opinion, it would not be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art first to eliminate one of top members 4, second to eliminate plate 3, third to attach remaining member 4 directly to tube 2 and finally to substitute this modified handle for the handle 20 of Nania (see Fig. 1) especially in view of applicant's use of term "consisting."

Examples of Statements That Are Not Suitable as to Content

1. The 3 roll press couple has an upper roll 36 which is swingably adjustable to vary the pressure selectively against either of the two lower rolls. (Note: The significance of this statement may not be clear if no further explanation is given.)
2. The main reasons for allowance of these claims are applicant's remarks in the appeal brief and an agreement reached in the appeals conference.
3. The instant composition is a precursor in the manufacture of melamine resins. A thorough search of the prior art did not bring forth any compositions which corresponds to the instant compositions. The Examiner in the art also did not know of any art which could be used against the instant composition.
4. Claims 1–6 have been allowed because they are believed to be both novel and unobvious.

The examiner should not include in his statement any matter which does not relate directly to the reasons for allowance. For example:

5. Claims 1 and 2 are allowed because they are patentable over the prior art. If applicants are aware of better art than that which has been cited, they are required to call such to the attention of the Examiner.
6. The reference Jones discloses and claims an invention similar to applicant's. However, a comparison of the claims, as set forth below, demonstrates the conclusion that the inventions are non-interfering.

(113) Practice/Re: New Grounds of Rejection After Appeal Brief Has Been Filed

A new practice has been implemented in the Patent Examining Corps to promote uniformity and adherence to guidelines in situations where a new ground of rejection is made in an Office action after an appeal brief has been filed. Under this practice Supervisory Patent Examiner approval is required for any new ground of rejection made after the filing of an Appeal Brief. This requirement extends to new grounds of rejection made either in an examiner's answer or in an Office action reopening prosecution. Evidence of that approval should appear on applicant's copy of the Office action or answer as well as the record copy. Consultation with or approval by the Group Director is no longer required in these situations.

This new practice does not alter the existing guidelines for reopening prosecution (MPEP) 706.7(e) or for making a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer (MPEP 1208.01). Appropriate modification will be made to applicable Sections of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure in a future revision.

Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

(114) Commercial Success and Other Considerations Bearing on Obviousness

In order to clarify Office practice relative to considerations of commercial success and other items bearing on obviousness, the following changes are made in the Manual of Patent Examing Procedure.

In section 716, subsection 4, change the sub-title and first paragraph to read as follows:

4. Commercial Success and Other Considerations Bearing on Obviousness

Affidavits or declarations submitting evidence of commercial success, long-felt but unsolved needs, failure of others, etc., must be considered by the Examiner in determining the issue of obviousness of claims for patent-ability under 35 U.S.C. 103. Such evidence might be utilized to give light to circumstances surrounding the origin of the subject matter sought to be patented. As indicia of obviousness or unobviousness, such evidence may have relevancy, Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966) ; In re Palmer. 172 USPQ 126, 451 F.2d 1100 (CCPA 1971) ; In re Fielder and Underwood, 176 USPQ 300, 471 F.2d 640 (CCPA 1973). The Graham v. John Deere pronouncements on the relevance of commercial success, etc. to a determination of obviousness were not negated in Sakraida v. Ag Pro,425 U.S. 273, 189 USPQ 449 (1976) or Andersons Black Rock, Inc. v. Pavement Salvage Co., Inc., 396 U.S. 57, 163 USPQ 673 (1969), where reliance was placed upon A & P Tea Co. v. Supermarket Corp., 340 U.S. 147 87 USPQ 303 (1950). See Dann v. Johnston, 425 U.S. 219, 189 USPQ 257 (1976), at 261, footnote 4.

The weight attached to evidence of commercial success, etc. by the Examiner will depend upon its materiality to the issue of obviousness and the amount and nature of the evidence. Note the great reliance apparently placed on this type of evidence by the Supreme Court in upholding the patent in United States v. Adams, 383 U.S. 39, 148 USPQ 479 (1966).

Evidence of commercial success, etc. must be commensurate in scope with the scope of the claims [In re Tiffin, 448 F.2d. 791. 171 USPQ 294 (1971)]. Further in considering evidence of commercial success, care should be taken to evaluate to the extent possible from the evidence submitted, whether the commercial success alleged is directly derived from the invention claimed, in a marketplace where the consumer is free to choose on the basis of objective principles, and that such success is not the result of heavy promotion or advertising, shift in advertising consumption by purchasers normally tied to applicant or assignee, or other business events extraneous to the merits of the claimed invention, etc. [In re Mageli, et al. 176 USPQ 305, (CCPA 1973)]; [In re Noznick, et al, 178 USPQ 43, (CCPA 1973)].

Similarly in considering evidence of longfelt but unsolved needs and failure of others, care should be taken to determine whether such failures were due to lack of interest or appreciation of an invention's potential or marketability rather than want of technical know-how [Scully Signal Co. v. Electronics Corp. of America, 196 USPQ 657 (1st Cir. 1977)].

In section 716, subsection 4, add the following as the last paragraph:

If, after evaluating the evidence, the examiner is still not convinced that the claimed invention is patentable, his action should include a simple statement to that effect, identifying the reason(s) (e.g., evidence of commercial success not convincing, the commercial success not related to the technology, etc.).

Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

(115) Handling of Dependent Claims by the Examiner

Effective immediately, the following practice will be followed by patent examiners when making reference to a dependent claim—either singular or multiple. The new practice is intended to simplify and streamline our current practice (MPEP 608.01(n), Revision 55, January 1978) which experience indicates was unnecessarily burdensome in many cases.

1. When identifying a singular dependent claim which does not include a reference to a multiple dependent claim, either directly or indirectly, reference should be made only to the number of the dependent claim.
2. When identifying the embodiments included within a multiple dependent claim, or a singular dependent claim which includes a reference to a multiple dependent claim, either directly or indirectly, each embodiment should be identified by using the number of the claims involved, starting with the highest, to the extent necessary to specifically identify each embodiment.

3. When all embodiments included within a multiple dependent claim or a singular dependent claim which includes a reference to a multiple dependent claim, either directly or indirectly, are subject to a common rejection, objection or requirement, reference may be made only to the number of the dependent claim.

The following table illustrates the intended differences between current and the revised practice where each embodiment of each claim must be treated on an individual basis:

Claim Number	Claim Dependency	Identification: Current Practice	Identification: Revised Practice
1	Independent	1	1
2	Depends from 1	2/1	2
3	Depends from 2	3/2/1	3
4	Depends from 2 or 3	4/2/1	4/2
		4/3/2/1	4/3
5	Depends from 3	5/3/2/1	5
6	Depends from 2, 3 or 5	6/2/1	6/2
		6/3/2/1	6/3
		6/5/3/2/1	6/5
7	Depends from 6	7/6/2/1	7/6/2
		7/6/3/2/1	7/6/3
		7/6/5/3/2/1	7/6/5

When all embodiments in a multiple dependent claim situation (claims 4, 6 and 7 above) are subject to a common rejection, objection or requirement, reference may be made only to the number of the individual dependent claim. For example, if 4/2 and 4/3 were subject to a common ground of rejection, reference should be made only to claim 4 in the statement of that rejection.

The provisions of 35 USC 132 require that each Office action make it explicitly clear what rejection, objection and/or requirement is applied to each claim embodiment.

(116) Microorganisms—Patentable Subject Matter

The decision of the Supreme Court in Diamond v. Chakrabarty (206 U.S.P.Q. 193) held that microorganisms produced by genetic engineering are not excluded from patent protection by 35 U.S.C. §101. It is clear from the Supreme Court decision that the question of whether or not an invention embraces living matter is irrelevant to the issue of patentability.

Accordingly, the Patent and Trademark Office is now examining patent applications including claims to microorganisms which had been under suspension. Assuming that the products involved were the result of human intervention and were not products of nature, such claims will not be rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 as directed to unpatentable subject matter.

Designation of International Depository Authorities under the Budapest Treaty

The Budapest Treaty and the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure came into force on Aug. 19, 1980 with respect to the United States, Bulgaria, France, Hungary, and Japan. A copy of the Treaty was published in the Official Gazette on Aug. 23, 1977 (961 O.G. 21–26).

This Treaty authorizes each State for which the Treaty is in effect to designate a depository on its territory to serve as an international depository authority. More than one depository may be designated. Each such depository will be authorized to receive and store deposits, and dispense samples thereof, in compliance with the Treaty and the patent laws of each State adhering thereto. The Treaty is open for adherence by any member State of the Paris Union for the Protection of Industrial Property.

The Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks hereby solicits requests from private and public depositories located in the United States to serve as international depository authorities. Requests should be addressed to: Sidney A. Diamond, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Each request must explain and, to the extent practicable, provide evidence of the depository's capacity to meet the obligations of the Treaty. Such request must also include an offer by the depository to assume the cost of transferring deposits made under the Treaty to another international depository authority in the event of default of any of its Treaty obligations. The availability of funds for such transfer, if needed, must be available through a bond, special reserve fund, escrow or other means judged suitable by the Commissioner.

Requests will be promptly evaluated by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and each requesting depository promptly notified of the decision reached. Questions or inquiries concerning this notice may be addressed to the Office of Legislation and International Affairs, at the following address: Box 4, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. The telephone number of the Office of Legislation and International Affairs is (703) 557-3065.

The World Intellectual Property Organization, in Geneva, Switzerland, the Secretariat for the Paris Union, has provided a memorandum explaining the role and obligations of international depository authorities. This memorandum is reproduced below for the guidance of depositories in requesting recognition as an international depository authority.

MEMORANDUM

For the purposes of prospective international depositary authorities under the Budapest Treaty

Introduction

1. This memorandum contains informations for the benefit of any depositary institutions (culture collections) that may wish to become "international depositary authorities" under the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure (done at Budapest on Apr. 28, 1977). Its brevity is such that it cannot be exhaustive. Any interested person requiring full information should refer to the relevant provisions of the Budapest Treaty and the Regulations under it (any reference hereinafter to an "Article" or to a "Rule" is a reference to an Article of the Budapest Treaty or to a Rule of the Regulations under it).

Objectives of the Budapest Treaty

2. Disclosure of the invention is a generally recognized requirement for the grant of patents (for the purposes of this memorandum, the word "patent" also covers other titles of protection, such as inventors' certificates). Normally, an invention is disclosed by means of a written description. Where an invention involves the use of a microorganism that is not available to the public, such a description is not sufficient for disclosure, since the invention could not be used by a person skilled in the art. That is why in the patent procedure of an increasing number of countries it is necessary not only to file a written description but also to deposit, with a depositary institution, a sample of the microorganism. When protection for the invention is sought in several countries, the complex and costly procedures of the deposit of the microorganism might have to be repeated in each of those countries. The objective of the Budapest Treaty is precisely to obviate such multiple deposits: under the Treaty a single deposit with one "international depositary authority" is sufficient for the purposes of patent procedure before the industrial property offices of all Contracting States, and of inter-governmental organizations granting regional patents which have declared that they recognize the effects of the Treaty (Articles 3(1)(a) and 9(1)(a)).

General Remarks on International Depositary Authorities

3. "International depositary authorities" are depositary institutions that have acquired the status of international depositary authorities. To obtain this status, a depositary institution has to be located on the territory of a Contracting State or of a member State of one of the organizations referred to in the preceding paragraph, and has to benefit from "assurances" furnished by that Contracting State or organization to the effect that the institution complies and will continue to comply with the requirements referred to in paragraph 5 below (Article 6(1)). The action for acquiring this status is taken by the State or organization concerned (Article 7 and Rule 3). There is nothing to prevent it from making more than one depositary institution acquire such status: it is therefore possible for there to be several international depositary authorities located on the territory of one and the same State.

4. An international depositary authority can lose its status either entirely (in which case "termination of status" is spoken of) or partly, in other words in respect of certain types of microorganisms only (in which case "limitation of status" is spoken of). Loss of the status occurs if the State or organization whose action brought about the acquisition of the status denounces the Treaty or withdraws the declaration of recognition of the effects of the Treaty (in which case the loss of status can only be total), or if the State or organization withdraws its assurances regarding the international depositary authority, or again by virtue of a decision of the Assembly of Contracting States taken at the request of another Contracting State or another organization (Articles 8, 9(4) and 17(4); Rule 4).

Requirements Which Have to be Met by International Depositary Authorities

5. The requirements referred to in paragraph 3 above which a depositary institution has to meet in order to become a depositary authority are the following (Article 6(2) and Rule 2):

(a) The institution has to have a continuous existence. It has to be impartial and objective—which means among other things that it has to be free of any dependence on interests that are liable to prejudice the disinterested performance of its functions—and it has to be available, for the deposit of microorganisms, to any depositor under the same conditions. These requirements, which in fact seem self-evident, are designed to give the public in general and depositors in particular fundamental guarantees of reliability as to the smooth operation of the system. On the other hand, the legal status of the institution is irrelevant: it may be either public or private.

(b) The institution has to have the necessary staff and facilities to perform its scientific and administrative tasks, which consist among other things in:

(i) accepting for deposit any or certain kinds of microorganisms;

(ii) examining the viability of the microorganisms deposited with it and issuing a receipt to the depositor and any required viability statement (see paragraphs 7 and 8 below);

(iii) storing the deposited microorganism for at least 30 years (Rule 9(1)) in such a way as to keep them viable and uncontaminated;

(iv) providing for sufficient safety measures to minimize the risk of losing the deposited microorganisms,

(v) complying with respect to the microorganisms deposited under the Treaty with the requirement of secrecy which means giving no information to anyone on the question whether a microorganism has been thus deposited and giving no information to anyone (except to a person who is entitled to a sample—see paragraph 10 below) on any microorganism thus deposited (Rule 9(2));

(vi) furnishing, rapidly and in an appropriate manner, samples of the deposited microorganisms to all those who are entitled to such samples (see paragraph 10 below).

Handling of Microorganism Deposits by the International Depositary Authority

6. Reception of the microorganism. The international depositary authority may require that the microorganism be deposited in an appropriate form and quantity, and that it be accompanied by a form established by that authority. In such a case, the said authority has to communicate its requirements (and any amendments to them) to the International Bureau in order that the latter may communicate them to all the depositors concerned (Rules 6.3 and 13.2(b)(v)). When it receives the microorganism, the international depositary authority notes the date of receipt of the deposit and gives it an accession number (Rule 7.3(iii) and (v)). It issues a receipt to the depositor attesting the receipt and acceptance of the deposit (Rule 7). The model of the international form for the receipt, the use of which will be mandatory, will be established by the Director General of WIPO and communicated to all international depositary authorities.

7. Viability test. The international depositary authority promptly tests the viability of the microorganism; it also undertakes viability tests at reasonable intervals, depending on the kind of microorganism and its possible storage conditions, or at any time, if necessary for technical reasons or at the request of the depositor (Rule 10.1).

8. Viability statement. The international depositary authority issues a statement concerning the viability of the microorganism to the depositor or to any person receiving a sample of the microorganism (see paragraph 10 below) (Rule 10.2). The model of the international form for the viability statement, the use of which is mandatory, will be established by the Director General of WIPO and communicated to all international depositary authorities.

9. Storage of the microorganism. The international depositary authority stores the microorganism for a period of at least 30 years after the date of its deposit, or until five years have elapsed without its having received a request for a sample, the period expiring later being applicable (Rule 9.1). It complies with the requirement of secrecy at all times (see paragraph 5(v) above). Where it cannot furnish samples of the deposited microorganism for any reason, it notifies the depositor of the fact, indicating the reason and informing him that he is entitled to make a new deposit (Article 4).

10. Furnishing of samples. The Regulations contain detailed provisions specifying who is entitled to receive samples of the microorganism, and when (Rule 11). The depositor himself is entitled to receive a sample at any time. He may authorize third parties to have samples furnished to them, whereupon the third parties receive a sample on presentation of their authorizations. Any industrial property office to which the Treaty applies may receive a sample on request if it needs the microorganism for the purposes of a patent procedure. Any other person may obtain a sample on request if an industrial property office to which the Treaty applies certifies that, under the applicable law, that person has a right to a sample of the microorganism concerned; the Regulations specify in detail the certification procedure. The use of a form (whose contents will be established by the Assembly and communicated by the International Bureau to all international depositary authorities) is mandatory for the request and certification. There is an alternative procedure wherey the industrial property office from time to time communicates to international depositary authorities lists of the accession numbers given to the deposit of the microorganisms referred to in the patents granted and published by it; the effect of this communication is to authorize those authorities to furnish samples of the microorganisms to anyone. It should be stressed that it follows from the foregoing that the international depositary never has to decide itself whether it has the right to furnish a sample since it only does so if it has the authorization of the depositor or of an industrial property office. The international depositary authority furnishes the sample in a container marked with the accession number given to the deposit and accompanied by a copy of the receipt for the deposit. It notifies the depositor of the furnishing of the sample.

11. Communication of the scientific description and/or proposed taxonomic designation. If the depositor has indicated a scientific description and/or proposed a taxonomic designation of the deposited microorganism, the international depositary authority must communicate it, on request, to any person entitled to receive a sample of the said microorganism (Rule 7.6).

12. Fees. For the procedure under the Treaty and the Regulations, the international depositary authority has the right to charge a fee in certain cases (specified in Rule 12.1). The two main fees are the fee for the storage of the microorganism (which is a single fee for the entire period of storage) and the fee for the furnishing of a sample (the furnishing of samples to industrial property offices is free of charge, however). The international depositary authority fixes the amounts of fees at its discretion, but they must not vary on account of the nationality or residence of the persons who have to pay them.

(118) Entry Into Force of the Budapest Treaty

The Patent and Trademark Office announces the entry into force on Aug. 19, 1980 of the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure with respect to the United States, Hungary, Bulgaria, France and Japan. A copy of the Treaty was published in the Official Gazette on Aug. 23, 1977 (961 O.G. 21-36).

Following entry into force of the Treaty, each state adhering or acceding thereto will be authorized to nominate depositories on its territory to serve as international depository authorities. Upon compliance with certain procedural steps set forth in the Treaty, each such depository will be designated an international depository authority.

No depository in the United States or elsewhere has yet been nominated or designated to serve as an international depository authority. It is expected, however, that some depositories will shortly be designated both in the United States and other States adhering to the Treaty. Public notice will be provided of the designation of each international depository authority and its requirements for patent deposits.

An application for a patent in any adhering States involving the action of a microorganism, for which a deposit is required, may make the required deposit in any international depository authority. The fact and date of making the deposit will be recognized for all patent purposes in each State adhering to the Treaty. No further deposit will be required for national patent processing or enforcement, provided a deposit is properly made under the provisions of the Treaty.

An application for a United States patent will not be required to proceed under the provisions of the Budapest Treaty, however. Such an applicant may rely instead on a deposit made in any depository meeting the requirements set forth in In re Argoudelis, et al., 168 USPQ 99 (CCPA, 1970) and reprinted in section 608.01(p), Manual of Patent Examining Procedure.

Questions or information regarding the Budapest Treaty may be directed to the Office of Legislation and International Affairs, at the following address: Box 4, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Communication of the United States of America Relating to the Acquisition of the Status of International Depositary Authority by the Agricultural Research Culture Collection

The Director General of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) presents his compliments to the Minister for Foreign Affairs and has the honor to notify him of the receipt, on Dec. 2, 1980, of a written communication from the Government of the United States of America, relating to the Agricultural Research Culture Collection, indicating that the said depositary institution is located on the territory of the United States of America and including a declaration of assurances to the effect that the said institution complies and will continue to comply with the requirements concerning the acquisition of the status of international depositary authority as specified in Article 6(2) of the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure, done at Budapest on Apr. 28, 1977.

The Agricultural Research Culture Collection will acquire the status of international depositary authority under the said Treaty as from Jan. 31, 1981, the date of publication of the said communication in the Jan. 1981 issue of Industrial Property/La Propriete industrielle (see Article 7(2) of the said Treaty).

(121) Plant Life — Patentable Subject Matter

The decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex Parte Hibberd (Sept. 18, 1985) held that the Plant Patent Act (35 USC 161-164) and the Plant Variety Protection Act (7 USC 2321 et seq.) do not represent the exclusive forms of protection for plant life covered by these acts, and that there is no irreconcilable conflict between these plant-specific statutes and 35 USC 101. It is clear from the Board decision that plant life is not excluded from patent protection under 35 USC 101.

Accordingly, the Patent and Trademark Office is now examining applications including claims to plant life — e.g., plants per se, seeds, plant parts. To the extent that the claimed subject matter is directed to a "nonnaturally occurring manufacture or composition of matter — a product of human ingenuity" (Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. 303 (1980)), such claims will not be rejected under 35 USC 101 as being directed to unpatentable subject matter.

File Wrapper Continuing Application Procedure

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases to provide a new procedure for filing continuation, continuation-in-part, and divisional patent applications. This procedure is being provided to simplify filing and processing of continuation, continuation-in-part and divisional patent applications which have heretofore required a new set of application papers. By using the application which is to be abandoned, the procedure will eliminate many of the problems currently involved in preparing and processing such continuing patent application papers.
Effective Date: Feb. 27, 1983.
For Further Information Contact: Mr. Louis O. Maassel by telephone at (703) 557-3070, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice for patent cases to permit an applicant to file a continuation or division of a pending patent application by simply filing a request therefor and paying the necessary application filing fee. To file a continuation-in-part application, an amendment adding the additional subject matter and an oath or declaration relating thereto is also required.

The "file wrapper continuing" (FWC) procedure is incorporated in the rules by adding a new §1.62. Under this simplified procedure, any continuing application such as a continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application may be filed by using the papers in the copending prior application, which application will become automatically expressly abandoned. Under the FWC procedure, a new serial number is assigned and the specification, drawings and other papers in the parent application file wrapper are used as the papers in the continuing application. Changes in inventorship may be made. The "file wrapper continuing" (FWC) procedure is available for utility, design, plant, and reissue applications to the full extent that continuing applications can now be filed in such applications. Use of the FWC procedure will automatically result in express abandonment of the prior application as of the date that the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application is filed.

The FWC procedure could be used for any continuation, continuation-in-part or divisional application provided the applicant wishes the copending prior application to become abandoned. If a divisional application is desired without abandonment of the parent application, the procedure under §1.60 should be used. Applicant also has the option of filing new application papers with a reexecuted oath or declaration.

Background

The notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Nov. 7, 1980 at 45 FR 73965 and in the Official Gazette on Dec. 9, 1980 at 1003 O.G. 9. An oral hearing was held on Feb. 4, 1981.

Discussion of Major Issue Involved

A continuation or divisional application is an application in which the disclosure is identical to an earlier application. However, the claims may be changed. Continuation applications are often filed in situations where the applicant feels that the issue of patentability has not been satisfactorily resolved before the examiner and the application is not in condition for an appeal from the final rejection to the Board of Appeals. Divisional applications are filed voluntarily or as a result of a requirement for restriction by the examiner in a prior application. Continuation-in-part applications are filed where additional subject matter is added and claimed in the application. Under 35 U.S.C. 120 of the patent law, a continuation, continuation-in-part or divisional application may be filed during the pendency of the prior application and the benefit of the filing date of the prior application for the subject matter disclosed therein may be obtained.

The practice under §1.60 has resulted in a number of problems, especially difficulties in obtaining good-quality copies of prior applications. In addition, the practice involves unnecessary handling and processing delays.

Under new §1.62, the specification, claims and drawings, and any amendments in the prior application are made available for use in the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application. A new filing fee is required in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.16. The only other statutory requirement under 35 U.S.C. 111 is a signed oath or declaration. Since a continuation or divisional application cannot contain new matter, the oath or declaration filed in the prior application would supply all the information required under the statute and rules to have a complete application and to obtain a filing date. Accordingly, the previously-filed oath or declaration will be considered to be the oath or declaration of the §1.62 continuation or division. However, if a continuation-in-part application is being filed, or a correction of inventorship is being made, then a new oath or declaration must be signed and filed by the applicant.

The original disclosure of an application filed under §1.62 will be the original parent application as executed by the inventor(s). However, the filing fee will be based on the claims in the §1.62 application after entry of any unentered amendments under §1.116 in the prior application and any preliminary amendment which may accompany the FWC request and filing fee. The Certificate of Mailing Procedure under 37 CFR 1.8 will not apply to filing a request for a "File Wrapper Continuing" application since the filing of such a request is considered to be a filing of application papers for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date (37 CFR 1.8(a)(i)).

The applicant may file a signed FWC request and the regular filing fee under §1.16 and other necessary papers with the Patent and Trademark Office, either by mail addressed to "Box FWC" or in person with the mail room. An individual check or deposit account authorization should accompany each FWC application, since combined checks delay processing.

The Correspondence and Mail Division will sort out all "Box FWC" envelopes upon receipt and deliver them to a reader for prompt special handling. The reader would apply the "Mail Room" date stamp and mark the categories of the fees. The papers for each FWC application would be assigned a regular national serial number and be placed in a "Jumbo" size file wrapper. The Special Handling Branch will review the FWC request for accuracy and completeness and assign the filing date if everything appears to be in order. Problems will be handled, insofar as possible, by calling the applicant or attorney by telephone. There will be no need for any processing of the FWC application by the Classification or Examination Branches of Application Division since there are no papers to be examined and the FWC application will be routed to the group assigned the prior application. When the FWC application file wrapper is received in the examining group, the parent application will be promptly obtained and processed by a clerical staff member.

All of the correspondence from the Office in a FWC application will refer to the FWC application serial number and filing date and will be processed in the same manner as any other continuation, continuation-in-part or divisional application. The first action final rejection procedures set forth in §706.07(b) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will also apply to FWC applications filed under §1.62.

The PALM III system will supply information to authorized persons as to the location of the parent application file wrapper and will tie the parent application number to the FWC application number.

The provisions of §1.62 provide that if any application in the file wrapper is available to the public that all applications in the file wrapper will be available to the public.

Some of the anticipated benefits of the new §1.62 procedure are the following:

For the Applicant

1. Formal requirements will be minimal.
2. A more prompt first action in the continuing application should be received in view of reduced processing time. The Application Division can process promptly all §1.62 applications with minimal effort. In the examining groups, the applications will be given high priority for processing purposes.
3. Amendments made to the specification, drawings and claims of the prior application will carry over into the §1.62 continuing application and will not need to be resubmitted in the continuing application.

For the Public

1. The pendency of a series of applications should be reduced since the time delay before examination and issuance of a continuing application filed under the §1.62 procedure would be reduced.
2. The entire record of prosecution could be in one file wrapper under the §1.62 procedure, even if several continuing applications are filed. This will result in easier access by the public to a series of applications if a patent is later issued.

For the Patent and Trademark Office

1. The workload of reviewing and processing new application papers in the Application Division will be reduced.
2. The examining group clerks will not be required to again enter amendments made in the prior application.
3. Less storage space will be required under §1.62 since there will be fewer papers to store.
4. The prior application file history and references cited therein will be readily available to the examiner under§1.62 and will not need to be ordered from abandoned files.
5. The Office will not be required to prepare a copy of the prior application file under the §1.62 procedure.

Discussion of Comments Received

After careful consideration of the comments which have been received, the proposed rulemaking relating to file wrapper continuing application procedure is being adopted with certain changes. A total of 23 comment letters were received. Six of these letters were received from patent law organizations. Two persons presented oral comments at the hearing. The comments of 6 letters supported the proposed rulemaking without further suggestions for change. Only one letter opposed the proposal.

Seven of the letters urged adoption of a procedure whereby an applicant could pay a fee to have a final rejection withdrawn so that prosecution could be extended in an application rather than filing a continuing application. This suggestion was not adopted for several reasons. Such a procedure could not be used for filing of continuation-in-part applications, the average pendency of applications in the Office would be extended, and significant problems in internal record systems would be created.

A number of comments were received which presented specific suggestions to proposed §1.62. Four letters commented that the requirement of proposed §1.62(a)(4) to supply information as to title, applicant, correspondence address, etc. in order to file under §1.62 could easily lead to filing errors.

In final §1.62(a)(3) only the serial number, filing date and applicant's name of the prior application are required. The filing of information relating to the title, applicant's name, etc. is however urged in paragraph (e) of final §1.62 and is needed to prepare Office records and the filing receipt.

One comment letter was received which indicated that a specific reference should be made to unentered amendments filed under 37 CFR 1.116. Such a reference has been added to paragraph (a)(2) of §1.62.

Two letters objected to the requirement in proposed §1.62(a)(2) that a new set of claims be presented. This requirement has been deleted from final §1.62.

A number of general comments were also presented relating to §1.62. One comment argued that the proposed practice would encourage abuse by examiners of the second action final rejection practice. In response to this argument, it is felt that the proposed procedure would not create any new problems.

One comment indicated that problems involving access to the file wrapper may arise. It is felt, however, that access problems should not arise in view of paragraph (c) of final §1.62 which relates to waiver of secrecy. The current PALM III computer record system is capable of indicating the location of both the prior and continuing applications.

One comment was received relating to proposed §1.138 which indicated that the reference to §1.60 was confusing. The reference to §1.60 has been deleted in final§1.138.

New §1.62 sets forth the requirements of the file wrapper continuing procedure.

Section §1.138 is amended so that a registered attorney or agent could, without being of record, file a §1.62 application and expressly abandon a pending prior application. Such an action would not affect applicant's rights to any great extent since the prior application would only be expressly abandoned if a filing date was granted to a continuing application.

Other Considerations

Environmental, Energy, and Other Considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980(44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it adds no burdens and does simplify filing procedures (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

This rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no significant additional record keeping or reporting requirements are placed upon the public. In fact, some paperwork, especially that related to preparing application papers and amendments, will be reduced.

Reissue, Reexamination, Protest and Examination Procedures in Patent Cases

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases (1) to eliminate consideration of the so-called "no defect" reissue applications, (2) to limit the participation by protestors during the examination of patent applications, (3) to reject and permit appeal to the Board of Appeals for failure to comply with the duty of disclosure rather than striking applications without appeal rights, and (4) to clarify the interface between patent application examination and patent reexamination in certain areas. These changes are intended to (1) reduce the prosecution costs of patent applicants, and (2) permit some of the Patent and Trademark Office resources now devoted to consideration of the so-called "no defect" reissue applications, and to extensive participation by protestors during application examination, to be directed toward reduction of the backlog of pending patent applications. The changes are also intended to provide for review by the Board of Appeals of duty of disclosure issues which arise during patent application examination. The rule changes are further intended to clarify the interface between the duty of disclosure during patent application examination and the duty of disclosure during patent reexamination, as well as the treatment of concurrent reissue and reexamination proceedings on the same patent.
Effective Date: July 1, 1982.

Supplementary Information:

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Nov. 10, 1981, at 46 FR 55666-55672 and in the Official Gazette on Dec. 8, 1981, at 1013 O.G. 19-25. An oral hearing was held on Feb. 4, 1982. Forty-two written letters and statements were submitted. Fourteen persons testified at the oral hearing which resulted in 113 pages of testimony. Consideration was also given to the comments presented at the oral hearing on Apr. 16, 1981, relating to the proposed rules for implementing patent reexamination.

Objectives of Rule Change

The rule change is designed to adopt and implement suggestions from members of the public for changes in patent examination practice considered desirable in light of the implementation of statutory patent reexamination, contained in Public Law 96-517. Many of the persons who commented in writing and at the hearing held on Apr. 16, 1981, on the proposed rules for implementing patent reexamination favored modification of patent examination rules as amended herein. This rule change is designed to implement the suggestions received and, in particular, to reduce the prosecution costs of patent applicants by limiting the amount of participation by protestors during the patent application examination process.

The rule change also seeks to reduce the amount of time required by the Patent and Trademark Office to examine protested applications by limiting protestor participation. The technical expertise of the Patent and Trademark Office will continue to be available to make determinations of patentability on the basis of prior art and related facts on an ex parte basis. However, the patent examiners in the Office are not trained as hearing examiners and have no substantial experience in handling inter partes matters. Under the rule change, protestor participation will be limited to the filing of papers in opposition to the grant of a patent with no Office communications to the protestor resulting therefrom beyond an acknowledgment of receipt of a protest or petition to strike in reissue applications. The opportunity to comment on Office actions and applicants' responses is eliminated. The rule change also intends to accomplish these purposes by eliminating the consideration of reissue applications not initially presented to correct defects pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 251.

The rule change is also designed to provide for review by the Board of Appeals of duty of disclosure issues which arise during patent application examination. This is accomplished by amending §1.56(d) to provide that the claims in an application be rejected if upon examination pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 131 and 132 it is found that applicant is not "entitled to a patent under the law" because of fraud or a violation of the duty of disclosure. The rejection would be made under the same conditions and circumstances previously used to strike an application, i.e., "clear and convincing evidence" of fraud or any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence. The statute, 35 U.S.C. 131, provides for examination of an application "and if on such examination it appears that the applicant is entitled to a patent under the law, the Commissioner shall issue a patent * * *" Section 132 of Title 35, United States Code, makes provision for the rejection of a claim for a patent as a result of the examination directed by 35 U.S.C. 131. While questions of fraud and violations of the duty of disclosure have historically been dealt with by the Commissioner through the mechanism of striking the affected application, there is no statutory requirement that the Commissioner act in that manner. Clearly the Commissioner can choose how, and by whom, the examination directed by 35 U.S.C. 131 can be made. 35 U.S.C. 132 authorizes a rejection in those circumstances where applicant is not "entitled to a patent under the law." The rule change simply modifies the mechanism and procedures which the Commissioner will use where the applicant is not "entitled to a patent under the law" because of failures to comply with §1.56(d).

The rule change is also designed to clarify the interface between patent application examination and patent reexamination in certain areas. The two areas involved are duty of disclosure and concurrent proceedings involving a patent under reexamination and for which a reissue application has been filed.

Sections 1.56, 1.106, 1.175, 1.193, 1.291, 1.555, 1.565, and 1.570 are amended to accomplish the purpose indicated above.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Access and Publication of Reissue Applications

The changes proposed in §1.11 are not being adopted since only one of the twenty-two comments favored the changes.

The publication of notices of the filing of reissues and provisions for public access to reissues will therefore continue as at present. Such publication eliminates the need for interested members of the public to periodically monitor the patent files to determine if a reissue application has been filed.

Amendments to §1.56

A large majority of the comments supported the amendments to §1.56. A number of comments questioned the advisability of having relatively inexperienced or non-attorney examiners handle questions of fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure. In response thereto, the amendments to the rule do not require that such questions be handled by the examiner who examines the application for questions of obviousness, enablement, etc. The Office presently plans to have questions of possible fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure examined by examiners with legal training assigned to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents. Several comments suggested that the provisions for striking an application pursuant to existing paragraph (c) of §1.56 are inconsistent with the rejection for fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure contemplated in the amendment to paragraph (d). In response thereto, it is pointed out that paragraph (c) of §1.56 makes striking of the application discretionary with the Commissioner. It is thus more appropriate to retain this authority to strike the application in appropriate circumstances rather than to make it subject to a rejection. No inconsistency is seen between the different routes under paragraphs (c) and (d) of §1.56. Several comments were received indicating concern about the possible delay of a decision by the Board of Appeals pending consideration of a fraud or duty of disclosure question. In response to these concerns, it is pointed out that less time overall will be required by having the Board of Appeals consider the matter once rather than in a series of separate decisions. Further, expense to the applicant will be minimized by one appeal rather than two. The amendments to §1.56 are adopted as proposed except for some clarifying changes in paragraph (g).

Section 1.56 is amended by revising the title and paragraph (d), and by adding new paragraphs (e) through (i). The revision to the title and paragraph (d) provides for the rejection of claims upon examination pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 131 and 132 on the ground that applicant is not entitled to a patent under the law if it is established by clear and convincing evidence (1) that any fraud was practiced or attempted on the Office in connection with the application, or in connection with any previous application upon which the application relies, or (2) that there was any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the application, or in connection with any previous application upon which the application relies. Under amended paragraph (d), any rejection which would be made would include all the claims in the application.

The standards to be used in rejecting the claims under paragraph (d) as amended, would be the same as those utilized by the Commissioner in striking applications pursuant to present paragraph (d), i.e., clear and convincing evidence of fraud or any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence. Consistent with present practice, the revision of paragraph (d) looks to fraud or a violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence with relation to the application under consideration or any previous application upon which the application relies.

The phrase "in connection with the application" is construed in the same manner as in the present unamended paragraph (d). For purposes of this section, a reexamination proceeding on a patent would be considered as being "in connection with the application" insofar as consideration of any subsequent reissue application is concerned. The phrase also includes within its scope the mere refiling of the subject matter of an application in another application without relying in the second application upon the first application. Thus, an appropriate rejection upon examination pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 131 and 132 based on conduct or actions proscribed by §1.56(d) could not be avoided merely by refiling the subject matter of the application in a second or subsequent application which did not rely upon the earlier application. The phrase "in connection with any previous application upon which the application relies" is intended to include all applications upon which the application under consideration relies, either directly or indirectly. For example, an application to reissue a patent obviously relies upon the application which resulted in the patent sought to be reissued. Likewise, continuation applications, continuation-in-part applications, and divisional applications also rely upon one or more parent applications.

New paragraph (e) of §1.56 normally delays the examination of an application for compliance with paragraph (d) of §1.56 until such time as (1) all other matters are resolved, or (2) appellant's reply brief pursuant to §1.193(b) has been received and the application is otherwise ready for consideration by the Board of Appeals, at which time the appeal will be suspended for examination pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. Present plans are to have this examination on the question of fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure conducted by examiners with legal training assigned to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents. Paragraph (e), as added, would thus permit the resolution of issues arising under §1.56(d) to be delayed until consideration of such issues is necessary and appropriate. The practice under new paragraph (e) is generally consistent with present practice under paragraph (d) which normally delays the substantive resolution of fraud and duty of disclosure issues until other issues have been resolved in favor of applicant. Under new paragraph (e) an appeal would be suspended for examination pursuant to amended paragraph (d) of §1.56 once appellant's reply brief pursuant to §1.193(b) has been received and the application is otherwise ready for consideration by the Board of Appeals. If no questions of possible violation of §1.56 are raised or evident on the record before the examiner, no examination for compliance with paragraph (d) of §1.56 will be undertaken. New paragraph (e) provides for the reopening of prosecution of the application to the extent necessary to conduct the examination pursuant to amended paragraph (d) of §1.56 including any appeal pursuant to §1.191. New paragraph (e) also indicates that where an appeal has already been filed based on a rejection on other grounds, any further rejection under amended paragraph (d) will be treated in accordance with amended §1.193(c).

New paragraph (f) continues the present long standing practice whereby any member of the public can file a petition to strike an application from the files pursuant to paragraph (c) of §1.56. Such petitions are currently being filed without specific mention in §1.56. Under revised§1.56 petitions to strike an application for a violation of §1.56 are limited to violations of paragraph (c), with any violations of paragraph (d) being subject matter for rejection under paragraph (d). New paragraph (f) requires that any such petition alleging a violation of paragraph (c) which is entered in the application file must: (1) Be timely filed, (2) specifically identify the application to which the petition is directed, and (3) be served on the applicant or be filed with the Office in duplicate in the event service is not possible. New paragraph (f) does not specifically limit a "timely petition" to any particular point in the examination of the application. Such petitions will generally be considered "timely" if they are filed before final rejection or allowance of the application by the examiner. Whether or not a petition filed after final rejection or allowance of the application by the examiner is considered "timely" will depend upon the circumstances and the point in the prosecution at which the petition is submitted.

New paragraph (f) requires that the petition specifically identify the application to which the petition is directed. While an identification by application serial number is not essential, the identification must include enough specificity that the Office can determine with certainty the application to which the petition is directed. Paragraph (f) requires service of the petition on the applicant, or a duplicate copy in the event service is not possible, before the petition will be entered. While the Office might, in some circumstances, reproduce and serve a petition on the applicant, a member of the public would have no assurance that this would be done and, under paragraph (f), could not rely upon the Office doing so. Paragraph (f) also requires that any petition filed by an attorney or agent comply with §1.346.

New paragraph (g) of §1.56 assures a member of the public that a petition to strike an application for violation of paragraph (c) of §1.56 which meets the requirements of paragraph (f) will be considered by the Office. Language has been added to conform to additional language in §1.291(c). The Office will send petitioner an acknowledgment of the entry of a petition to strike in a reissue application file. However, the Office will not communicate with the member of the public filing such a petition in non-reissue applications, except for the return of any self-addressed postcard which was enclosed which merely acknowledges receipt of the petition. The member of the public filing the petition will not be permitted to contact the Office as to the disposition, or status, of the petition, or to participate in any Office proceedings relating to the petition. No further papers will be acknowledged or considered unless they raise new issues which could not have been earlier presented and thereby constitute a new proper petition. Mere arguments relating to the Office's decision on the petition or applicant's response to the petition would not qualify as a new proper petition. The disposition of the petition, once one has been filed, will, under paragraph (g), be an ex parte matter between the Office and the applicant. Paragraph (g) provides for communication by the Office with the applicant regarding a petition to strike the application which has been entered in the application file. Under new paragraph (g) the applicant could be required by the Office to respond to the petition. Any such response would be ex parte and would not be served on the member of the public filing the petition.

New paragraph (h) of §1.56 provides that any member of the public may seek to have the claims in an application rejected pursuant to the amended paragraph (d) of §1.56 by filing a timely protest in accordance with §1.291. New paragraph (h) also requires that any such protest filed by an attorney or agent seeking a rejection of claims pursuant to amended paragraph (d) of §1.56 must be in compliance with §1.346. One comment suggested that the last sentence of paragraph (h) is redundant since §1.346 applies without any specific mention. After careful consideration of the comment the sentence is being retained in order to emphasize and remind attorneys and agents of the obligations imposed by §1.346.

New paragraph (i) provides for the Office requiring the applicant to supply information pursuant to paragraph (a) of §1.56 in order for the Office to decide any issues relating to paragraphs (c) and (d) of §1.56, whether or not such issues arise as a result of a petition or a protest, or arise from other sources, e.g., an examiner discovering the issue while studying the application file. Any requirements for information under new paragraph (i) will be ex parte in nature between the Office and the applicant. The ex parte nature of the requirements for information under new paragraph (i) differs from past practice under which information was required, or requested, from applicant and one or more petitioners or protestors in some cases.

Rejection of Claims

Five comments were submitted relating to new paragraph (c) of §1.106. Two of the comments favored the paragraph as written and three recommended modification or clarification of the paragraph to ensure that it is not inconsistent with In re Ruff, et al., 45 CCPA 1037, 118 USPQ 340 (CCPA 1958), and subsequent decisions. No modification or clarification of the paragraph is considered necessary since the intent of the paragraph was not to change current practice, but was merely to emphasize the importance placed on admissions and to make §1.106 more closely reflect current practice, which includes practice following In re Ruff, et al., and subsequent decisions. The amendments to §1.106 are adopted as proposed.

Section 1.106 is amended to include a new paragraph (c) which emphasizes the importance placed on admisions by the applicant or the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding insofar as matters affecting patentability are concerned. Paragraph (c) includes a reference to the use of rejections based upon facts within the knowledge of the examiner as provided in §1.107. Paragraph (c) does not constitute a change in practice, but does result in §1.106 more closely reflecting current practice.

Reissue Oath or Declaration

Ten persons commented on §1.175. Four comments were received in support of the proposed change. Three of these favorable comments were from patent law groups. Of the six comments received opposing the change, two were from patent law groups. Eleven comments received at the Apr. 16, 1981, hearing on reexamination argued for retraction of the "Dann Amendments" which included §1.175(a)(4). Four comments at the Apr. 16, 1981, hearing favored retaining the "Dann Amendments". The arguments supporting the change were generally that paragraph (a)(4) was not necessary in view of the new reexamination procedure. The arguments opposing the deletion were generally that an inter partes practice before the Office is desirable from the standpoint of the judiciary and for a complete resolution of issues. After careful consideration of all of the arguments and the resources available in the Patent and Trademark Office, it is felt that the practice under paragraph (a)(4) of §1.175 should be discontinued and paragraph (a)(4) should be cancelled.

The numbering of paragraphs (a)(5) and (6) is not being changed. Proposed paragraph 1.175(a)(6) is being adopted as new paragraph 1.175(a)(7). The proposed wording is otherwise being adopted without change.

Amended §1.175 eliminates paragraph (a)(4). Under paragraph (a)(4), the Office gave advisory opinions on patentability over additional prior art without any changes in the patent claims. The courts have generally refused to give preclusive effect to these advisory opinions. See PIC, Inc. v. Prescon Corp., 485 F. Supp. 1302, 205 USPQ 228 (D. Del. 1980), and Rohm and Haas Co. v. Mobil Oil Corp., 525 F. Supp. 1298, 212 USPQ 354 (D. Del. 1981). Accordingly, in view of the implementation of patent reexamination pursuant to Pub. L. 96-517 it is appropriate to discontinue the advisory opinions provided pursuant to §1.175(a)(4). Under amended §1.175 an applicant for reissue of a patent will be required to file with the reissue application a statement under oath or declaration specifically averring a defect in the patent, e.g., "a defective specification or drawing," or an excess or insufficiency in the claims. Amended §1.175 also requires, in paragraphs (a)(5) and (a)(6), that applicant specify "errors" as opposed to "what might be deemed to be errors." Amended §1.175 effectively eliminates Office consideration of the merits of "no defect" reissue applications since any such "no defect" reissue applications filed after July 1, 1982, the effective date of the changes to §1.175, will not be examined as to questions of patentability. In addition, §1.175(a)(7) has been added to parallel the provisions in §1.65 requiring the same acknowledgment of the duty of disclosure in the oath or declaration of reissue applications as in the case of non-reissue applications.

Delay in Examination of Reissue Applications

Six comments were received relative to the proposed changes in §1.176. One comment supported, and five comments opposed, deleting the two month waiting period before action could be taken by an examiner in a reissue application. The opposing comments favored retaining the two month period to provide an opportunity for interested parties to submit information relating to the examination of a reissue application after notice of the filing thereof has been published in the Official Gazette. Since the notices under §1.11 will continue to be published, no need is seen to change §1.176. The proposed change is therefore not adopted.

Examiner's Answer

Only one comment was made relating to the proposed addition of paragraph (c) to §1.193. It suggested including a minimum time period for response in the rule. This suggestion was not adopted because in some circumstances it may be appropriate to set a shorter or a longer period for the reply brief. The amendments to §1.193 are adopted as proposed.

Paragraph (c) adds to §1.193 a provision that any decision rejecting claims pursuant to §1.56(d) in an application already on appeal from a rejection based on other grounds shall constitute a supplemental examiner's answer introducing a new ground of rejection and removing the suspension of the appeal introduced pursuant to §1.56(e). Prior to entering any such supplemental examiner's answer under paragaph (c), the Office may require information from applicant pursuant to paragraph (i) of §1.56. Under paragraph (c) of §1.193, the appellant may file a reply to the supplemental examiner's answer. Paragraph (c) provides that the appellant's reply to the supplemental examiner's answer will be considered and responded to as necessary with appellant being provided with an additional month, or such other time as may be set, within which to reply to any such response from the Office. After introduction of a supplemental examiner's answer pursuant to paragraph (c) and any replies and response thereto, the application will be forwarded to the Board of Appeals for consideration.

Protests by the Public Against Pending Applications

Fifteen persons commented on the proposed amendment of §1.291. Two persons suggested that protests be acknowledged by more than the return of a self-addressed postcard. The suggestion has been adopted to the extent of providing for an acknowledgment of the entry of a protest in a reissue application file to be sent to the member of the public filing the protest. The suggestion has not been adopted insofar as original applications are concerned since these applications are generally required to be kept in confidence under 35 U.S.C. 122. Further, the use of return postcards is an established method of receiving acknowledgment from the Office that a paper has been filed. By merely returning the postcard to a protestor in an application for an original patent and directing Office initiated communications solely to applicant, the amount of Office resources required will be minimized.

Several persons commented that the protest proceeding should be more inter partes. The weight of the comments received at the hearings held on Apr. 16, 1981, and Feb. 4, 1982, and in writing, favored ex parte proceedings. To ensure that the proceedings are essentially ex parte, a sentence is being added to paragraph (c) of §1.291, indicating that active participation by a member of public ends with the filing of the protest. To retain the inter partes nature of the protest would be contrary to the majority of the comments received and to one of the major purposes of the rule change, i.e., to reduce the amount of time spent by the Office in examining protested applications. The amendments to paragraphs (a) and (b) of §1.291 are adopted as proposed and paragraph (c) is being revised as indicated above.

Amended §1.291 continues to permit protests by the public against pending original and reissue applications. The protest may include any grounds which the member of the public filing the protest believes to be applicable.

Amended paragraph (a) of §1.291 provides for entry of a protest in the application file if the protest specifically identifies the application, is timely submitted, and is either served upon the applicant in accordance with §1.248, or filed with the Office in duplicate, in the event service is not possible. The comments made above in the discussion of new paragraph (f) of §1.56 regarding the timeliness of the filing or submission, specific identification of the application, and service on the applicant, are also applicable to the amendments of paragraph (a) of §1.291. The requirement that the Office acknowledge the filing of a protest is deleted from paragraph (a), but is covered in paragraph (c).

New paragraph (b) of §1.291 assures members of the public that a protest will be considered by the Office if (1) it specifically identifies the application to which it is directed; (2) it is timely submitted; (3) it is properly served upon the applicant in accordance with §1.248, or is filed with the Office the duplicate in the event service is not possible; (4) it includes a listing of the patents, publications or other information relied upon and a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item; (5) it includes a copy of each listed patent or publication or other item of information in written form, or at least the pertinent portions thereof; and (6) it includes an English language translation of all the necessary and pertinent parts of any non-English language document relied upon. It is considered desirable that §1.291 advise members of the public as to the contents which should be included in any protest since there will be no Office communications directed to the member of the public submitting the protest under paragraph (c). Thus, under paragraph (c) members of the public will not be given an opportunity to complete any protest which is incomplete. Amended paragraph (c) provides for the acknowledgment of the entry of a protest in a reissue application file.

Amended paragraph (c) of §1.291 provides that a member of the public filing a protest in an application for an original patent will not receive any communications from the Office relating to the protest, other than the return of a self-addressed postcard acknowledging receipt of the protest. Amended paragraph (c) of §1.291 does not permit the member of the public filing the protest, or any other member of the public, to contact the Office as to the disposition, or status, of the protest or to participate in any Office proceedings relating to the protest. The disposition of the protest, once it has been filed will, under paragraph (c), be an ex parte matter between the Office and the applicant. However, applications which are open to the public may be inspected pursuant to §1.11.

Amended paragraph (c) provides for the Office to communicate with the applicant regarding any protest entered in the application file. Under paragraph (c), the applicant could be required by the Office to respond to the protest. Any response would be ex parte and would not be served on the member of the public filing the protest. Paragraph (c) provides for the Office to require applicant to supply information pursuant to pargraph (a) of §1.56 in order for the Office to decide any issues raised by the protest. Requirements for information under paragraph (c) will be ex parte in nature between the Office and the applicant. The ex parte nature of the requirements for information under paragraph (c) differs from past practice under which information could be required, or requested, from applicant and one or more protestors. Under amended paragraph (c), the active participation of the protestor ends with the filing of the protest and no further submission on behalf of the protestor will be acknowledged or considered unless such submission raises new issues which could not have been earlier presented, and thereby constitutes a new protest. Mere arguments relating to an Office action or an applicant's response would not qualify as a new protest.

Duty of Disclosure in Reexamination Proceedings

Only two comments were received relative to proposed§1.555. One comment argued that the Office should never ignore a violation of the duty of disclosure or leave it hanging. In response thereto, neither the statute nor the presently existing reexamination rules provide for reexamination on grounds other than those based on patents or printed publications. The second comment questioned whether a patent owner has a duty to cite new prior art after a request but prior to an order to reexamine. No further clarification of the section is necessary since §1.555(a) specifies when the patent owner should file a prior art statement in a reexamination proceeding. The amendments to §1.555 are adopted as proposed.

Amended §1.555 makes the duty of disclosure in reexamination proceedings more consistent with the duty of disclosure in patent applications. Paragraph (a) of §1.555 specifies that a duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office rests on the patent owner or involved employees of the patent owner, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner, and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding. This rule is consistent with the duty set forth in §1.56(a) insofar as patent applications are concerned, except that in paragraph (a) of §1.555 the patent owner is specified rather than the inventor as set forth in paragraph (a) of §1.56. This does not, however, impose the responsibility for compliance with the duty of disclosure on a corporate entity or organization but leaves the responsibility with involved individuals in the corporation or other organization. Paragraph (a) of §1.555 places a requirement on the individuals identified to bring to the attention of the Office patents or printed publications material to the reexamination which have not been previously made of record in the patent file and specifies how that should be accomplished.

Amended paragraph (b) of §1.555 essentially parallels existing paragraph (b) of §1.56 and makes similar provisions applicable to disclosures in reexamination proceedings.

Amended paragraph (c) of §1.555 provides that the duties of candor, good faith, and disclosure required in paragraph (a) of §1.555 have not been complied with if any fraud was practiced or attempted on the Office or there was any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence by, or on behalf of, the patent owner in the reexamination proceeding. The language of paragraph (c) refers to fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure in the reexamination proceeding since such conduct during the pendency of applications is covered by §1.56.

Amended paragraph (d) of §1.555 affirms that the responsibility for compliance with §1.555 rests upon the individuals identified in paragraph (a). Paragraph (d) also provides that no evaluation will be made in the reexamination proceeding by the Office as to compliance with §1.555. Paragraph (d) of §1.555 also provides that questions of compliance with §1.555 which are discovered during a reexamination proceeding will be noted as unresolved questions in accordance with present §1.552(c). Paragraph (d) will not preclude the patent owner from filing a reissue application to have questions of candor, good faith, and duty of disclosure considered and resolved, including such questions which arise during a reexamination proceeding, so long as the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 251 have been met. Paragraph (d) does not preclude suspension or disbarment proceedings under present §1.348 based upon conduct during a reexamination proceeding.

Concurrent Office Proceedings

Four comments were received on §1.565. One comment proposed adding a sentence at the end of paragraph (b) of §1.565 reflecting that reexamination would only be stayed in extraordinary situations. This suggestion has not been adopted since it is considered inappropriate to attempt to further define by rule the circumstances under which a stay of the reexamination may be appropriate. Two comments were received raising questions as to the treatment, during a merged reissue and reexamination proceeding, of broader claims which are present therein because of a reissue application which contained broadened claims. No clarification or change is necessary since the broadened claims are properly in the merged proceeding during the period it is merged. Such broader claims which are present in both the reissue and reexamination files during the pendency of the merged proceeding will be treated in accordance with the reissue statute and case law during the pendency of the merged proceeding. If the merged proceeding ceases to exist because of the abandonment of the reissue application, the claims in the reexamination file, including any broadened claims, will be examined in accordance with the reexamination statute and rules. Finally, one comment did not agree with merging reissue and reexamination proceedings because the merger is not seen to produce cost savings or other salutary results. One of the reasons for the merged proceedings is to ensure that claims of differing scope and inconsistent responses are not presented at the same time in different proceedings in the same patent. Moreover, since the proceedings are concurrent rather than sequential, a significant savings in resources and overall pendency time may be realized by merging in many cases.

The amendment to §1.565 clarifies the proposed language of paragraph (b), eliminates from paragraph (b) the last two sentences relating to the treatment of concurrent reexamination and reissue proceedings, and adds a new paragraph (d) relating to this subject. The clarification in paragraph (b) is intended to avoid misinterpretations relating to stay determinations where concurrent litigation or reissue applications are involved.

Under new paragraph (d), which is consistent with the practice presently in effect under paragraph (b), if a reissue application and a reexamination proceeding on which an order pursuant to present §1.525 has been mailed are pending concurrently on a patent, a decision will normally be made to merge the two proceedings or to stay one of the proceedings. New paragraph (d) also provides that where merger of a reissue application and a reexamination proceeding is ordered, the merged examination will be conducted in accordance with present §§1.171–1.179. The examiner, in examining the merged proceeding, will apply the reissue statute and case law, in addition to applicable provisions of §§1.171–1.179, to the merged proceeding. This is appropriate in view of the fact that the statutory provisions for reissue applications and reissue application examination include, inter alia, provisions equivalent to 35 U.S.C. 305 relating to the conduct of reexamination proceedings. New paragraph (d) of §1.565 makes clear that the patent owner must place and maintain the same claims in the reissue application and the reexamination proceeding during the pendency of the merged proceeding. Under new paragraph (d) of §1.565 the examiner's actions and any responses by the patent owner in a merged proceeding will apply to both the reissue application and the reexamination proceeding and will be physically entered into both files. New paragraph (d) also provides that any reexamination proceeding merged with a reissue application shall be terminated by the grant of the reissued patent. The amendments to §1.565 are adopted with the changes or clarification indicated in paragraph (b).

Reexamination Certificate

Section 1.570, as amended, revises paragraph (e) to refer to new paragraph (d) of §1.565 rather than paragraph (b) in order to reflect the changes in §1.565.

No comments were received concerning the section and it is adopted without change.

Interim Procedures on Applications Pending on Effective Date

On July 1, 1982, the revised procedures of §§1.56(d) and 1.193(c) will apply to any applications then pending which have not been the subject of a final Office decision on questions of fraud or violation of the duty of disclosure. Any petition to strike an application from the files or any protest against a pending application filed prior to July 1, 1982, will be governed by the rules in effect prior to that date. Any applications filed under §1.175(a)(4) prior to July 1, 1982, will be examined until the application is amended and a reissue patent issues thereon or the application becomes abandoned. For a discussion of the interim practice in effect prior to July 1, 1982, see 1013 O.G. 18–19.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96–354).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291.

(124) Interim Reissue, Reexamination, Protest, And Examination Procedures In Patent Cases Pending Proposed Revision of 37 CFR §§1.11, 1.56, 1.106, 1.175, 1.176, 1.193, 1.291, 1.555, 1.565, and 1.570.

This notice sets forth, in general, the practice the Office intends to follow pending a final determination on the "Notice of proposed rulemaking" published in the Federal Register on November 10, 1981, at 46 F.R. 55666–55672. The "Notice of proposed rulemaking" is also being published in this issue of the Official Gazette.

Practice Relating To §1.11

Any reissue application which is presently open to inspection by the general public pursuant to present §1.11(b), and any reissue application filed before the effective date of a change in the rule, will continue to be open to inspection by the general public. No restriction of access to those reissue applications is contemplated at this time, either during their pendency before the Office, or after an abandonment of the reissue application. The filing of reissue applications will continue to be announced in the Official Gazette pending revision of §1.11(b).

Practice Relating To §1.56

Any issues arising under §1.56(d) prior to the effective date of a change in paragraph (d) will continue to be handled in accordance with paragraph (d) as it presently exists. If paragraph (d) is amended as proposed, the Office presently intends to apply the revised procedures to any applications then pending which have not been the subject of a final Office decision on questions of "fraud" or violation of the duty of disclosure.

Any petitions to strike applications from the files which have been filed prior to the date of publication of this Notice in the Official Gazette will continue to be treated in accordance with the practices in effect prior to this Official Gazette Notice via the appropriate sections of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure.

Any petition to strike an application from the files which is filed after the date of publication of this Notice will be considered in accordance with the procedure set forth in the "Notice of proposed rulemaking" insofar as participation by the petitioner is concerned. Since the provisions of 37 CFR 1.56 now in effect do not guarantee a member of the public the right to participate fully in Office consideration of petitions to strike applications, it is considered appropriate and proper to restrict participation on behalf of a petitioner as set forth in the "Notice of proposed rulemaking" while such proposed rulemaking is pending. At this time the degree of participation is solely at the discretion of the Commissioner and the Commissioner is hereby acting in his discretion to restrict such participation. Accordingly, any petition to strike an application from the files which is filed after the date of publication of this Notice must include a self-addressed postcard specifically identifying the petition and the application to which the petition is directed if an acknowledgement of the filing of the petition is desired. A member of the public filing a petition to strike an application after the date of publication of this Notice will not receive any communications from the Office relating to the petition, other than the return of a self-addressed postcard which the Office will stamp and return in order to acknowledge receipt of the petition. All Office communications will be conducted with the applicant in accordance with the procedures set forth in the proposed rulemaking, which procedures are those currently in effect.

Practice Relating To §1.106

No interim practice is necessary regarding this proposed revision since it would not constitute a change in practice, but would merely make §1.106 more closely reflect current practice.

Practice Relating To §1.175

Any applications filed under §1.175(a)(4) prior to the effective date of any change in the rule will be examined until the application is amended and a reissue patent issues thereon or the application becomes abandoned.

Practice Relating To §1.176

The examination of any applications filed prior to the effective date of any change in the rule will continue to be delayed for two months after the announcement of the filing in the Official Gazette, except where the delay period is waived by a decision on a petition under 37 CFR 1.183.

Practice Relating To §1.193(c)

No interim practice is necessary regarding this proposed revision since the practice of rejecting claims pursuant to §1.56(d) will not be adopted prior to the effective date of a change in paragraph (d).

Practice Relating To §1.291

Any protest against a pending application which is filed after the date of publication of this Notice in the Official Gazette will be treated essentially in accordance with the procedures set forth in the "Notice of proposed rulemaking." Any protests which have been filed prior to the date of publication of this Notice in the Official Gazette will continue to be treated in accordance with the practices in effect prior to this Official Gazette Notice via the appropriate sections of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure. Since the provisions of 37 CFR 1.291 now in effect do not guarantee a member of the public the right to participate fully in Office consideration of protests filed under §1.291, it is considered appropriate and proper to restrict participation on behalf of a protestor essentially as set forth in the "Notice of proposed rulemaking" while such proposed rulemaking is pending. At this time the degree of participation is solely at the discretion of the Commissioner and the Commissioner is hereby acting in his discretion to restrict such participation. Accordingly, any protest filed after the date of publication of this Notice will be acknowledged as set forth in present §1.291 on a self-addressed postcard which protestor is hereby advised to include with the protest. The self-addressed postcard must specifically identify the protest and the application to which the protest is directed, to the extent such identifying data for the application is known. A member of the public filing a protest against a pending application after the date of publication of this Notice will receive no communication from the Office relating to the protest, other than the self-addressed postcard which the Office will stamp and return in order to acknowledge receipt of the protest as set forth in present §1.291(a). All Office communications will be conducted with the applicant in accordance with the procedures set forth in the proposed rulemaking, which procedures are those currently in effect. Pending adoption of the proposed rulemaking the Office will consider protests which comply with present §1.291(a) even though the protest does not include all the items enumerated in proposed new paragraph (b) of §1.291.

Practice Relating To §1.555

No interim practice is necessary regarding this proposed revision since it merely makes §1.555 more closely parallel §1.56 and more specifically defines the responsibility of a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding.

Practice Relating To §1.565

No interim practice is necessary regarding this proposed revision since it merely clarifies, but does not change, present practice.

Practice Relating To §1.570

No interim practice is necessary since this proposed revision merely reflects the paragraph change proposed in §1.565.

CONCLUSION

The present interim procedures will be in effect until further notice and pending a final determination on the proposed rulemaking.

Deputy Commissioner of Patents & Trademarks.

Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Parts 1 and 5
[Docket No. 40227-18]

Revision of Foreign Filing License Procedure

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Parts 1 and 5 of 37 CFR, to establish a streamlined procedure for granting licenses for foreign filing. The changes simplify the obtaining of licenses for filing foreign patent applications and for filing amendments, modifications, and supplements in foreign patent applications. Under the revised rules (1) the export, but not actual filing, of technical data to a foreign country for purposes related to the filing and prosecution of a patent application may be done either under appropriate export agencies' rules or by a license issued by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, (2) certain licenses issued by the Commissioner for filing foreign patent applications include a license to file amendments, modifications, and supplements, containing additional matter in foreign applications, (3) specific contents of a petition for retroactive license are established and (4) fees are set for expedited handling of requests for foreign filing licenses and for certain petitions. These changes will result in reduced work for both patent applicants and the Patent and Trademark Office and at the same time strengthen national security protections.
Effective Date: June 1, 1984.
For Further Information Contact: Kenneth L. Cage by telephone at (703) 557-2877 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to simplify and expedite the granting of licenses under 35 U.S.C. 184. It contains a number of changes in practice designed to benefit both the Patent and Trademark Office in its handling of its mission and the public the Office serves. Notice of proposed rulemaking was published May 23, 1983, at 48 FR 23144 and corrected June 7, 1983, at 48 FR 26319.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Secton 5.11(a) has been substantially restructured and modified from the proposal. Under §5.11(a), a license from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks is always needed for the act of filing a patent application in a foreign patent office unless the six-month period has passed or the invention was not made in the United States.

Amended §5.11 (b) and (c) would clarify in the regulations that the export of technical data to a foreign country may be done under appropriate export agencies' rules controlling the export of technical data—Department of State (22 CFR Parts 121-130); Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration Office (15 CFR Part 379); or the Department of Energy (10 CFR Part 810)—or by license from the Commissioner. Compliance with the appropriate export agencies' rules or the license from the Commissioner is required before exporting technical data in the form of a patent application or data in any form if related to preparing, filing, and prosecuting a patent application in a foreign country, if the United States application has not been on file for six months at the time of export, or no application has been filed in the United States. It is optional from whom approval for export is obtained. In fact, for certain technical data being exported to certain countries, a specific request for a license or approval from any of the export agencies would not be necessary. However, a single license from the Commissioner would cover both export and filing and avoid any question whether a specific license or approval is required from any of the export agencies. Approval from the appropriate export agencies for export would require a separate additional license from the Commissioner for the filing of the foreign patent application. The rule changes will make the rules more closely conform with the regulations of other agencies which deal with the export of technical data to a foreign country.

The definition of export in these regulations will be controlled by the definition of export in the appropriate regulations of the export agencies having jurisdiction over the export of technical data related to the patent application. (15 CFR 379.1, 22 CFR 125.03 and 10 CFR 810.7).

The requirement of complying with the rules of the export agencies or the Commissioner before exporting an application to a foreign country is not intended to change long-standing Patent and Trademark Office interpretation of 35 U.S.C. 184 or in any way interpret the language in 35 U.S.C. 184 "file or cause or authorize to be filed" as requiring a license before technical data related to the filing or prosecution of an application is exported to a foreign country, such as to a foreign attorney or agent or corporation for review or revision for later filing. It does, however, reflect the delegations the Commissioner has received from other agencies and which are referenced in §§5.18, 5.19 and new §5.20 and clarifies that a patent applicant must be licensed for export of technical data abroad for purposes related to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application either by appropriate export agencies or by the Commission. The language "related to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application" in §5.11(b) is used rather than "support a patent application" as used in §5.18 or "foreign filing" as used in §5.19 to make clearer that the latter two phrases include the export of technical data in the form of explanations or possible claim language or the like sent to a foreign agent or other person in relation to a foreign patent application. However, a license from the Commissioner would not substitute for approvals required by appropriate export agencies if technical data is exported for purposes not related to the filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application. For example, a license from the Commissioner would not cover export of technical data in a U.S. patent application to a foreign research laboratory to support a research project.

Further, the rule is intended to reflect that every exportation of technical data related to filing or possible filing or prosecution within six months of a United States filing without a license from the Commissioner is prohibited unless the applicant complies with the rules of the appropriate export agencies. For example, where an application has been exported to a foreign agent with an authorization to file a foreign patent application, the export of the application may be under a general license from the International Trade Administration of the Department of Commerce. A license from the Commissioner is always necessary for the actual filing of the foreign patent application. In another example, where a validated license is needed under 15 CFR Part 379 to export technical data in the form of a patent application, applicants will need to obtain an International Trade Administration license or obtain a Commissioner's license prior to the act of export. Under either example, a license from the Commissioner is required before the application is filed in a foreign patent office. In the latter example, a single license from the Commissioner will permit both export and filing of the application.

This rule is promulgated under the authority of 35 U.S.C. 6 and delegations to the Commissioner by regulation (15 CFR 370.10(j), 22 CFR 125.04, and 10 CFR 810.7) or otherwise under the Export Administration Act of 1979, as amended, the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978. Authority for this rule also exists under 35 U.S.C. 188.

The amended rule assures adequate protection of sensitive material under Title 35, United States Code and provides regulatory consistency with the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, the Export Administration Act, as amended, the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, and their implementing regulations. The sanctions which apply for failure to obtain a license from either the Commissioner or the appropriate export agencies prior to export are the sanctions specified in the export acts. The sanctions which apply for failure to obtain a license from the Commissioner prior to the filing of a foreign application are the sanctions specified in Title 35, United States Code.

Section 5.11(d), proposed as §5.11(b), states that applications under secrecy order under §5.2 cannot be exported to an international agency or filed in a foreign country except in accordance with §5.5.

Section 5.11(e), proposed as §5.11(c), states that a license pursuant to paragraph (a) is not required where the invention was not made in the United States, or the United States application was on file for six months without a secrecy order being issued.

Section 5.11(f), proposed as §5.11(d), states that a license for foreign filing may be revoked at any time upon written notice. Similarly, an authorization for foreign filing resulting from the passage of six months from the filing of a United States patent application may be revoked by the imposition of a secrecy order. The revocation is effective as of the date of the notice and is not intended to be applicable to any prior acts by applicants relying in good faith on the grant of a license.

The language of §§5.12(b), 5.13, and 5.14 have been clarified from the proposal to reflect that the §1.17(h) requirement for a fee is for the expedited handling of a license. No fee is required for a routine, non-expedited request for a foreign filing license.

Section 5.15 has been changed from the form proposed. Amended §5.15 defines licenses for foreign export and filing of two different scopes. The §5.15(a) scope license, the grant of which is indicated on the filing receipt in accordance with §5.12(a) published at 48 FR 2696. (Jan. 20, 1983) and 1027 OG 9 (Feb. 1, 1983), permits the subsequent export and filing of technical data for purposes related to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of the foreign application and of any amendments or modifications to the application in a foreign country, even if "additional subject matter" were introduced; provided the additional subject matter does not change the general nature of the subject matter disclosed and does not pertain to certain categories of potentially sensitive material which are set forth in §5.15(a)(4).

The phrase "change the general nature of the subject matter disclosed" is intended to cover situations where the additional subject matter so alters the character of the disclosure that national security review is appropriate. This phrase is intended to permit a broad range of amendments, modifications and supplements, including additional subject matter. The following examples are intended to further clarify the meaning of the language "general nature of the subject matter disclosed" in §5.15(a):

Example 1—The physical data on a named compound. If a licensed disclosure gives the name and structure of a compound, the general nature of the subject matter disclosed includes physical data such as boiling point, melting point or specific gravity of the compound. If a name of a compound is disclosed, the structure of the compound is also within the general nature. If the licensed disclosure deals with the hardness of a claimed alloy, the disclosure of tensile strength is within the general nature.

Example 2—A known specie of a known genus. If the genus "lower alkyl" is disclosed, the inclusion of the species "methyl" is within the general nature, as would be homologs and isomers of that genus.

Example 3—Comparison data of the disclosed compound to data on prior art compounds. If the licensed disclosure contains a disclosure of the compounds of a pesticide invention, and pesticidal activities, the comparison of pesticidal data of a known compound representing the closest prior art is within the general nature.

Example 4—A specific optimum temperature within a specified temperature range. If a licensed disclosure has a range of 0°C to 120°C, the disclosure of an optimum temperature of 100°C is within the general nature.

Example 5—Activity data on compounds of the invention. If activity data on 30 of 50 named compounds is disclosed, the disclosure of activity data on other named compounds of the invention is within the general nature.

Example 6—Additional subject matter and utilities. If a licensed disclosure describes a chemical herbicide for weed control, the disclosure of chemical warfare uses or human toxic properties (other than to demonstrate safety or absence of such toxicity) is not within the general nature. If a licensed disclosure describes an analog computer for microwave telephone transmission, the addition of a cryptographic encoding or decoding device and utility is not within the general nature. If a licensed disclosure describes a battery power source for a satellite, the addition or substitution of a nuclear isotopic power source is within the general nature, but would be within the control of §5.15(a)(4)(ii).

A §5.15(b) scope license is limited to the original subject matter disclosed at the time the license was granted and does not cover "additional subject matter" as the phrase is currently interpreted (In re Gaertner, 202 USPQ 714 (CCPA 1979)).

Under §5.15(c), a license with the scope of §5.15(a) could also be granted pursuant to a §5.13 or §5.14 petition. If granted, the §5.15(a) scope of license will be indicated on the license grant. For instance, under §5.15(c) an applicant who filed a United States patent application before Feb. 27, 1983, when the filing receipt license practice became effective could request a §5.15(a) scope license which, if granted, will cover the subsequent filing of amendments, modifications or supplements, including additional matter in a corresponding foreign patent application. The licenses under §§5.12(b), 5.13, and 5.14 are normally limited in scope to the original subject matter disclosed at the time the license was granted unless a license of the §5.15(a) scope is indicated on the license grant. If a petition for a license under §5.12(b) is granted prior to the grant of the §5.12(a) filing receipt license, the former would merge into the latter and would be considered a §5.12(a) license for the purpose of §5.15.

A new §5.20, not included in the proposal, sets forth the specific authority of the Commissioner to license foreign filing, possible filing or prosecution of a patent application in a foreign country under 35 U.S.C. 184 regarding unclassified activities in foreign atomic energy programs. This change only reflects the existing relationship between 37 CFR 5.11 and 10 CFR §810.7 and alerts patent applicants in this technology to the Commissioner's authority. The term "sensitive nuclear technology" used in paragraph (b) of §5.20 is defined in 10 CFR §810.3(q).

A new §5.25, proposed initially as §5.20 and modified, sets forth in the regulations the requirements to be met for the granting of a retroactive license. The requirements include (1) a list of the foreign countries in which the patent application material was filed; (2) the date(s) of filing of the foreign application(s); (3) an oath or declaration which (i) states that the subject matter filed is not subject to a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, (ii) makes a showing of diligence in attempting to obtain the license upon discovery of the error, and (iii) makes a showing of facts which support a conclusion of inadvertence; and (4) includes the required fee. The section also provides in paragraph (b) for review from a denial of a petition for a retroactive license. The section further provides in paragraph (c) that the granting of a retroactive license pursuant to §5.25 does not excuse any violation of regulations of the export agencies which may have occurred because of the failure to obtain an appropriate license prior to export.

Sections 5.21, 5.22 and 5.23 have been redesignated to become §§5.31, 5.32 and 5.33, respectively.

Significant Differences Between Proposed and Final Rules

Section 1.17

Section 1.17(h) is amended to include a specific reference to §5.25 petitions for retroactive licenses for which the petition fee is charged, rather than having the present retroactive license fee under §1.182 petitions. The fee for §5.12(b) licenses is new and applies only where expedited handling of these license requests is sought. This fee for expedited handling is also referred to in §§5.13 and 5.14. Section 5.15(c) provides for a fee for changing the scope of a license.

Section 5.1

The proposed amendment to §5.1 is not being adopted and is withdrawn.

Section 5.11

Section 5.11 is amended to control the export of technical data in the form of an application or data in any form if related to preparing, filing, or prosecuting a patent application in a foreign country, if the United States application has not been on file for at least six months prior to the date of transmittal, or if no application has been filed in the United States. Export approvals, if required, may be provided by appropriate export agencies—Department of State; Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration or Department of Energy—or by the Commissioner. This will enable the Patent and Trademark Office and the export agencies to better reflect and exercise the export control functions set forth in the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, the Export Administration Act of 1979, as amended, the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, respectively.

Under these Acts, the export of technical data is the activity to be controlled. The final rule differs from the proposed rule in that the Patent and Trademark Office will not be the sole export control authority over technical data in the form of an application, or data in any form, if related to preparing, filing, or prosecuting a patent application. Applications will have the option to obtain necessary export approvals either (1) from appropriate export agencies or (2) from the Commissioner. The Commissioner will continue to be the sole licensing authority for the act of filing an application in a foreign patent office.

Paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of §5.11 control export activity by requiring either an export agency approval or a Commissioner's license for export of technical data in connection with foreign filing of an application and to that extent implement the Arms Export Control Act, the Export Administration Act, the Atomic Energy Act and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act. If a license is obtained from the Commissioner under §5.12, §5.13 or §5.14, no separate approval for the export of technical data to a foreign country in connection with a patent application is required from the export agencies.

It is emphasized that the scope of the Commissioner's license is limited to exporting and filing technical data in the form of an application, or in any form, if related to preparing, filing and prosecuting a patent application or for consideration of the filing of a patent application in a foreign country. A Commissioner's license does not authorize selling or using technical data in a foreign country or exporting data for other purposes. These latter acts continue to require separate approvals from the appropriate export agencies.

Also, the export of technical data in any form to a foreign country for purposes other than related to filing or supporting the filing of a patent application is not controlled by Title 35, U.S.C. or the regulations in Part 5. The exportation of data to a foreign country in such cases would be subject only to other laws and regulations such as the export and arms control regulations. Approval for the export of such technical data for purposes related to filing, possible filing, or supporting the filing of a patent application will be available from the appropriate export agencies or the Commissioner. On the other hand, the Commissioner will be the sole licensing authority for the act of filing the application in a foreign patent office.

Section 5.11(d), proposed as §5.11(b), states that an application cannot be exported to a foreign country when the corresponding United States application is under secrecy order except under §5.5

Section 5.11(e), proposed as §5.11(c), states that no license is required if the invention was not made in the United States, or the application was on file in the United States at least six months and is not under a secrecy order issued under §5.2

Section 5.11(f), proposed as §5.11(d), states that any license for foreign filing may be revoked at any time by written notification. It has been amended to further clarify that revocation also applies to authorizations resulting from the passage of six months from the filing date of a United States patent application when a secrecy order is imposed.

Section 5.12

Section 5.12(b) is clarified from the proposal to specify that the fee is for expedited handling of a petition under §1.17(h).

Section 5.13

Section 5.13 is clarified from the proposal to specify that the fee is for expedited handling of a petition under §1.17(h).

Section 5.14

Section 5.14(a) is clarified from the proposal to specify that the fee is for expedited handling of a petition under §1.17(h).

The other changes in §5.14 make grammatical corrections and do not alter the intent of the section.

Section 5.15

Section 5.15(a) broadens the scope of licenses granted under §5.12(a). Section 5.15(a), as proposed, is changed to clarify the scope of a §5.15(a) license and delete certain of the exclusions originally proposed. This license permits exporting technical data to and filing corresponding subject matter in an application in any foreign country. The license also permits amendments, modifications, and supplements, including divisions, changes or supporting matter consisting of the illustration, exemplification, comparison, or explanation of subject matter disclosed in the application, to be exported and filed in any foreign country. This license includes additional matter which does not change the general nature of subject matter disclosed and does not pertain to certain prohibited subjects or areas listed on various export restriction lists established by the Department of State and the Department of Energy.

These changes also permit an applicant to take action in the prosecution of the foreign or international application and submit supporting data such as affidavits, test data or the like as long as it directly relates to the filing, possible filing or prosecution of the application and does not pertain to the prohibited subjects or areas enumerated in §5.15(a)(4). The changes in §5.15(a) obviate the problems in In re Gaertner, supra, by providing a license scope which covers the type of activity involved in that case.

Amended paragraph (b) of §5.15 is the same as proposed paragraph (b) except for changes for consistency.

Amended paragraph (c) of §5.15 differs from §5.15(c) as proposed by including a reference to §5.14 and specifically permitting an applicant to petition for a change of the scope of a license.

New paragraph (d) of §5.15 is similar to proposed paragraph (d) with only changes for consistency.

New paragraph (e) of §5.15 is similar to proposed paragraph (e) with only changes for consistency.

Paragraph (f) of §5.15 is similar to proposed paragraph (f) with only changes for consistency.

Paragraph (g) is adopted essentially as proposed.

Section 5.17

Section 5.17 is similar to proposed §5.17 with only consistency changes.

Section 5.20

Section 5.20, not included in the proposal, is new and clarifies the existing authority of the Commissioner under the unclassified activities in foreign atomic energy programs. Under 10 CFR 810.7, the license of the Commissioner under 37 CFR 5.11 pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 184 constitutes information available to the public and generally authorized activity.

Section 5.25

Section 5.25, proposed initially as §5.20, is new and sets forth the requirements for petitioning for a retroactive license.

Section 5.31 and 5.32

Sections 5.21 and 5.22 are redesignated as §§5.31 and 5.32, respectively.

Section 5.33

Section 5.23 is redesignated as §5.33 and adopted as proposed.

Responses to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the sections. All of the comments, including the written comments and the oral testimony were considered.

Twenty-one letters presenting written comments were received and nine persons testified at the public hearing on July 20, 1983. Comments appear below along with the responses.

Comment: One comment objected to the amendment of §5.1 to include "transmittal for" filing.

Reply: This comment has been adopted by deleting the phrase from the final rule.

Comment: Three comments requested an explanation of the conditions when a license may be revoked under §5.11(d) be clearly set forth and asked whether, if revocation occurs, past acts are valid and whether there will be compensation for damages.

Reply: The section has been revised to further clarify the conditions under which a license may be revoked. The power to revoke licenses has been expressly included in all issued licenses for a number of years. Section 5.11(d) as proposed, merely recognizes in the rule the fact that licenses can be revoked. With the advent of the filing of a U.S. application becoming a request for a foreign filing license under §5.12(a), a regulatory procedure clarifying the revocation practice was appropriate. Revocation will be effective only as of the date of revocation and prior acts predicated on the license would be in compliance with 37 CFR Part 5. The rule as proposed has been clarified to indicate that revocation may apply either to a license specifically granted by the Commissioner or to an authorization to file a foreign application resulting from the passage of six months from the filing of a United States patent application. No compensation is available for revocation of a license.

Comment: Eighteen comments requested the amendment of §5.11 to eliminate the license requirement for "transmittal for filing" and substitute the requirement for "filing" only.

Reply: The proposal has been adopted by eliminating the requirement for a license from the Commissioner prior to transmitting or exporting an application abroad. The regulations have been clarified to emphasize the requirements for the export of technical data in the form of an application. An applicant has a choice of exporting such applications under authority of either (1) the appropriate export agencies controlling the export of technical data—Department of State; Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration; or Department of Energy or (2) a license from the Commissioner. While a license from the Commissioner is required only for filing an application abroad, the provisions of §§5.18, 5.19 and 5.20 reflect the Commissioner's authority to license the export of technical data in the form of an application for purposes related to filing in addition to the foreign filing of the application in a foreign country.

Comment: Six person objected to the transmittal license requirement and argued that the Patent and Trademark Office lacks authority under 35 U.S.C. 184 to require pre-filing (transmitting) licenses. It was also argued that foreign filing licensing is not the conduct of proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 6.

Reply: The final rules do not require a license from the Commissioner for export (or transmittal). The export provisions of §5.11 are issued under 35 U.S.C. 6 and pursuant to delegations under the regulations of the export agencies.

Comment: One comment argued that the constitutional right of freedom of speech would be impaired by requiring a license for published material.

Reply: A constitutional argument of prior restraint by export licensing of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations was reviewed by the Ninth Circuit in the case of United States v. Edler, 579 F. 2d 516 (9th Cir. 1978) cert. denied 449 U.S. 1084 (1981). No prior restraint within first amendment protection was found by the Court.

Comment: One comment stated that the $120 petition license fee under §5.12(b) is too high, and a $60 fee would be more reasonable.

Reply: The license fee under §5.12(b), §5.13 and §5.14 is not applicable to routine licensing requests. It is only applicable to expedited processing of license requests which require special efforts by the Patent and Trademark Office. The $120 petition fee better reflects the costs to the Patent and Trademark Office for providing expedited handling.

Comment: One comment proposed the deletion of the last sentence of paragraph §5.14(a) since under §5.12(a) only those cases having interest from a security standpoint are refused a license.

Reply: This suggestion has not been adopted because the provision may apply to petitions filed prior to receipt of a filing receipt license where expedited handling is requested.

Comment: One comment stated that §5.15(d) appears to be redundant since it applies only to cases on file for six months and on which no secrecy order has been imposed.

Reply: Under §5.15(d), a license is not needed for cases in this category if no additional subject matter is added. This section complements §5.15(b) where a license of narrow scope is granted.

Comment: One comment raised the question whether §5.15(a) as to amendments, supplements, and modifications includes continuation-in-part applications.

Reply: Continuation-in-part applications are included within the term "amendments, supplements, and modifications." Beckman Instruments, Inc. v. Coleman Instruments, 143 USPQ 278 (7th Cir. 1964).

Comment: Two comments requested that the express language in §5.15(a)(3) be amended to state that "Technical Data" relating to articles, materials and supplies be limited to the validated license requirements of §§379.4(c) and 379.4(d) of the Export Administration Regulations and no other sections, or alternatively, that paragraph (a)(3) be deleted in its entirety.

Reply: The final rules do not include §5.15(a)(3) as proposed.

Comment: Two comments proposed that the two-tier licensing structure of §5.15(a) and §5.15(b) be amended to reflect a broad one-tier system based on §5.15(a).

Reply: The two-tier system reflects different treatment for applications within the inspection scope of 35 U.S.C. 181 and those outside of its inspection scope. Security review occurs on all applications with inspection cases having a narrow license grant, and noninspection cases having a broad license grant. This inspection case treatment is necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to meet its responsibilities under 35 U.S.C. 184 and particularly 37 CFR 5.18, 5.19, and 5.20 where the State, Commerce and Energy Departments accept the Commissioner's licenses in lieu of their own export approval.

Comment: One comment indicated that proposed §5.15(a)(3) was of such wide scope that licenses will always be needed. The example cited was that this section would require licenses for all amendments filed in North Korea and Cuba.

Reply: The comment is correct and the provisions of §5.15(a)(3) have been deleted. The country of destination restrictions did not provide a workable mechanism for technology review under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 181.

Comment: Three comments recommended making a §5.15(a) scope license available pursuant to a §5.14 petition where an application was filed prior to Feb. 27, 1983, or where an initial automatic §5.12(a) petition was not granted after Feb. 27, 1983 or where the general nature of the invention changed but is still outside of the provisions of §5.15(a)(4).

Reply: This provision has been adopted to allow the Commissioner to issue broadened licenses upon a §5.14 petition in the above circumstances. New §5.15(c) allows the Commissioner to convert the scope of a license from §5.15(b) to a §5.15(a) license.

Comment: Two comments proposed the extension of a §5.15(a) license upon petition after one or more years after the United States filing date or after grant of a §5.15(b) license.

Reply: This suggestion has been adopted in §5.15(c) which will provide the mechanism by petition at any time to convert the scope of a license. This is promulgated since errors may occur in the denial of a §5.15(a) license. Also, the initial determination of the sensitive nature of technology may be altered by changes in the security classification guidelines. Procedurally, such petitions will be referred to the appropriate defense agencies for their review of the technology prior to the grant of any license.

Comment: One comment requested clarification on how and under what circumstances a §5.12(b) license granted under §5.15(c) has the same scope as a license granted under §5.12(a).

Reply: Licenses granted under §5.12(a) will have the §5.15(a) scope because the applications are not within the inspection scope of a 35 U.S.C. 181 referred to the defense agencies for security review. Under §5.15(c), applications which are not referred to defense agencies pursuant to petitions under §§5.12, 5.13 and 5.14 will have a license of the scope of §5.15(a).

Comment: Three comments suggested an amendment to proposed §5.20(4) to delete the "inadvertence" standard and substitute "through error without deceptive intent."

Reply: Inadvertence is a statutory standard which cannot be altered by rulemaking. Further, judge-made law has determined the metes and bounds of this term which further proscribes the rulemaking authority of the Commissioner. In Barr Rubber Products Co. v. Sun Rubber Co., 149 USPQ 204, 209 (S.D.N.Y., 1966) inadvertence was defined as "lack of care or attentiveness: inattention" or "an effect of inattention: a result of carelessness; an oversight, mistake, or fault from negligence."

Inadvertence signifies want of attention, and an action which is deliberately taken with full knowledge of the law and facts is not inadvertent. In re Application of Nov. 22, 1952, 153 USPQ 410, 411 (Asst. Commr. 1967).

Implementation of Patent Procedure Revisions

The various sections will be implemented by the Commissioner on the effective date of the rules by the acceptance of petitions under the various sections. The broadened license scope of §5.15(a) will apply as of the effective date of these rules to all cases having filing receipt licenses under §5.12(a) which became effective on Feb. 27, 1983. The provisions of this broad license do not apply to acts of export or filing which occurred prior to the effective date of these rules. No other action will be required by an applicant to receive the benefits of this change.

Other Considerations

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The Acting General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354) for several reasons. Under this rulemaking, small entities would be able to obtain licenses without filing separate requests therefor. In general, the rule change will also expedite proceedings before the Patent and Trademark Office, simplifying existing procedures where possible.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increases in cost or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

Paperwork Reduction Act. The collection of information requirement of this rule is included in a PTO request for approval pending before the OMB. Upon assignment of a control number by OMB, we will publish an appropriate amendment of the affected rules.

Licenses for Foreign Exporting and Filing

§5.11 License for filing in a foreign country an application on an invention made in the United States or for transmitting an international application.

(a) A license from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks under 35 U.S.C. 184 is required before filing any application for patent or for the registration of a utility model, industrial design, or model, in a foreign patent office or any foreign patent agency or any international agency other than the United States Receiving Office, if:

(1) An application on the invention has been on file in the United States less than six months prior to the date on which the application is to be filed, or

(2) No application on the invention has been filed in the United States.

(b) The license from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks referred to in paragraph (a) would also authorize the export of technical data abroad for purposes related to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application without separately complying with the regulations contained in 22 CFR Parts 121-130 (International Traffic in Arms Regulations of the Department of State), 15 CFR Part 379 (Regulations of the Office of Export Administration, Department of Commerce) and 10 CFR Part 810 (Foreign Atomic Energy Programs of the Department of Energy).

(c) Where technical data in the form of a patent application, or in any form is being exported for purposes related to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application, without the license from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks referred to in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, or on an invention not made in the United States, the export regulations contained in 22 CFR Parts 121-130 (International Traffic in Arms Regulations of the Department of State), 15 CFR Part 379 (Regulations of Office of Export Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce) and 10 CFR Part 810 (Foreign Atomic Energy Programs of the Department of Energy) must be complied with unless a license is not required because a United States application was on file at the time of export for at least six months without a secrecy order under §5.2 being placed thereon. The term "exported" means export as it is defined in 22 CFR Parts 121-130, 15 CFR Part 379 and 10 CFR Part 810.

(d) If a secrecy order has been issued under §5.2, an application cannot be exported to, or filed in, a foreign country (including an international agency in a foreign country), except in accordance with §5.5.

(e) No license pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section is required if:

(1) The invention was not made in the United States, or

(2) The United States application is not subject to a secrecy order under §5.2, and was filed at least six months prior to the date on which the application is filed in a foreign country.

(f) A license pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section can be revoked at any time upon written notification by the Patent and Trademark Office. An authorization to file a foreign patent application resulting from the passage of six months from the date of filing of a United States patent application may be revoked by the imposition of a secrecy order.

4. Section 5.12 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§5.12 Petition for license.

* * * * *

(b) Petitions for license should be presented in letter form and must include the required fee (§1.17(h)), if expedited handling of the petition is also sought, the petitioner's address, and full instructions for delivery of the requested license when it is to be delivered to other than the petitioner.

5. Section 5.13 is revised to read as follows:

§5.13 Petition for license; no corresponding application.

If no corresponding national or international application has been filed in the United States, the petition for license under §5.12(b) must be accompanied by the required fee (§1.17(h)), if expedited handling of the petition is also sought, and a legible copy of the material upon which a license is desired. This copy will be retained as a measure of the license granted. For assistance in the identification of the subject matter of each license so issued, it is suggested that the petition be submitted in duplicate and provide a title and other description of the material. The duplicate copy of the petition will be returned with the license or other action on the petition.

6. Section 5.14 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§5.14 Petition for license; corresponding U.S. application.

(a) When there is a corresponding United States application on file, a petition for license under §5.12(b) must include the required fee (§1.17(h)), if expedited handling of the petition is also sought, and must identify this application by serial number, filing date, inventor, and title, but a copy of the material upon which the license is desired is not required. The subject matter licensed will be measured by the disclosure of the United States application. Where the title is not descriptive, and the subject matter is clearly of no interest from a security standpoint, time may be saved by a short statement in the petition as to the nature of the invention.

* * * * *

(c) When the application to be filed or exported abroad contains matter not disclosed in the United States application or applications, including the case where the combining of two or more United States applications introduces subject matter not disclosed in any of them, a copy of the application as it is to be filed in the foreign country or international application which is to be transmitted to a foreign international or national agency for filing in the Receiving Office, must be furnished with the petition. If however, all new matter in the foreign or international application to be filed is readily identifiable, the new matter may be submitted in detail and the remainder by reference to the pertinent United States application or applications.

7. Section 5.15 is revised to read as follows:

§5.15 Scope of license.

(a) Grant of a license under §5.12(a) authorizes the export and filing of an application in a foreign country or the transmitting of an international application to any foreign patent agency or international patent agency when the subject matter of the foreign or international application corresponds to that of the domestic application. This license includes authority:

(1) To export and file all duplicate and formal papers to the foreign country or international agencies;

(2) To make amendments, modifications and supplements, including divisions, changes or supporting matter consisting of the illustration, exemplification, comparison, or explanation of subject matter disclosed in the application;

(3) To take any action in the prosecution of the foreign or international application; and

(4) To add subject matter or take any action under paragraphs (a) (1)–(3) of this section which does not change the general nature of the subject matter disclosed at the time of filing, unless the subject matter added involves technical data pertaining to:

(i) Defense services or articles designated in the United States Munitions List applicable at the time of foreign filing, the unlicensed exportation of which is prohibited pursuant to the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, and 22 CFR Parts 121–130; or

(ii) Restricted Data, sensitive nuclear technology or technology useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy, the dissemination of which is subject to restrictions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, as implemented by the regulations for Unclassified Activities in Foreign Atomic Energy Programs, 10 CFR Part 810, in effect at the time of foreign filing.

(b) Grant of a license under §5.12(b) authorizes the export and filing of an application in a foreign country or the transmitting of an international application to any foreign patent agency or international patent agency. Further, this license includes authority to forward all duplicate and formal papers to the foreign patent agency or international patent agency and to make amendments, modifications or supplements to and take any action in the prosecution of the foreign or international application, provided subject matter additional to that covered by the license is not involved.

(c) A license granted under §5.12(b) pursuant to §5.13 or §5.14 shall have the scope indicated in paragraph (a) of this section, if it is so specified in the license. A petition, accompanied by the required fee (§1.17(h)), may also be filed to change a license having the scope indicated in paragraph (b) of this section to a license having the scope indicated in paragraph (a) of this section. The change in the scope of a license will be as of the date of the grant of the change in scope.

(d) In those cases in which no license is required to file the foreign application or transmit the international application, no license is required to file papers in connection with the prosecution of the foreign or international application not involving the disclosure of additional subject matter.

(e) Any paper filed abroad or transmitted to an international patent agency following the filing of a foreign or international application which changes the general nature of the subject matter disclosed at the time of filing or which involves the disclosure of subject matter listed in paragraphs (a)(4) (i) or (ii) of this section must be separately licensed in the same manner as a foreign or international application. Further, if no license has been granted under §5.12(a) on filing the corresponding United States application, any paper filed abroad or with an international patent agency which involves the disclosure of additional subject matter must be licensed in the same manner as a foreign or international application.

(f) Licenses separately granted in connection with two or more United States applications may be exercised by combining or dividing the disclosures, as desired, provided:

(1) Subject matter which changes the general nature of the subject matter disclosed at the time of filing or which involves subject matter listed in paragraphs (a)(4) (i) or (ii) of this section is not introduced and,

(2) In the case where at least one of the licenses was obtained under §5.12(b), additional subject matter is not introduced.

(g) A license does not apply to acts done before the license was granted. See §5.25 for petitions for retroactive licenses.

8. Section 5.17 is revised to read as follows:

§5.17 Who may use license.

Licenses may be used by anyone interested in the export, foreign filing, or international transmittal for or on behalf of the inventor or the inventor's assigns.

9. A new §5.20 is added to read as follows:

§5.20 Export of technical data relating to sensitive nuclear technology.

(a) Under regulations (10 CFR 810.7) established by the United States Department of Energy, an application filed in accordance with the regulations (37 CFR 5.11–5.33) of the United States Patent and Trademark Office and eligible for foreign filing under 35 U.S.C. 184, is considered to be information available to the public in published form and a generally authorized activity for the purposes of the Department of Energy regulations.

(b) Inquiries concerning the export of sensitive nuclear technology other than related to the filing or prosecution of a foreign patent application should be made to the Attention: Secretary, United States Department of Energy, Office of International Security Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20858.

§5.21 [Redesignated as §5.31]

10. Section 5.21 is redesignated as §5.31.

§5.22 [Redesignated as §5.32]

11. Section 5.22 is redesignated as §5.32.

12. A new §5.25 is added to read as follows:

§5.25 Petition for retroactive license.

(a) A petition of retroactive license under 35 U.S.C. 184 shall be presented in accordance with §5.13 or §5.14, and shall include:

(1) A listing of the foreign countries in which the patent application material was filed,

(2) The dates on which the material was filed,

(3) A verified statement containing:

(i) An averment that the subject matter in question was not under a secrecy order at the time it was filed abroad, and that it is not currently under a secrecy order.

(ii) A showing that the license has been diligently sought after discovery of the proscribed foreign filing, and

(iii) An explanation of why the material was inadvertently filed abroad without the required license under §5.11 first having been obtained, and

(4) The required fee (§1.17(h)).

The above explanation must include a showing of facts rather than a mere allegation of inadvertence. The showing of facts should include statements by those persons having personal knowledge of the acts regarding filing in a foreign country and should be accompanied by copies of any necessary supporting documents such as letters of transmittal or instructions for filing. The acts which are alleged to constitute inadvertence should cover the period from the time of filing until actual filing of the petition under this section.

(b) If a petition for a retroactive license is denied, a time period of not less than thirty days shall be set, during which the petition may be renewed. Failure to renew the petition within the set time period will result in a final denial of the petition. A final denial of a petition stands unless a petition is filed under §1.181 within two months of the date of the denial. If the petition for a retroactive license is denied with respect to the invention of a pending application and no petition under §1.181 has been filed, a final rejection of the application under 35 U.S.C. §185 will be made.

(c) The granting of a retroactive license does not excuse any violation of the export regulations contained in 22 CFR Parts 121–130 (International Traffic in Arms Regulations of the Department of State), 15 CFR Part 379 (Regulations of Office of Export Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce) and 10 CFR Part 810 (Foreign Atomic Energy Programs of the Department of Energy) which may have occurred because of the failure to obtain an appropriate license prior to export.

13. Section 5.23 is redesignated as §5.33 and revised to read as follows:

§5.33 Correspondence.

All correspondence in connection with this part, including petitions, should be addressed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks (Attention Licensing and Review), Washington, D.C. 20231."

Revision of Foreign Filing License Procedure

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final rule: Change of effective date
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office amended the rules of practice in patent cases, Parts 1 and 5 of 37 CFR, to establish a streamlined procedure for granting licenses for foreign filing by publishing a notice in the Federal Register on Apr. 4, 1984, at 49 Fed. Reg. 13456–13463. The notice set an effective date of June 1, 1984. However, title 35, United States Code, section 41(g) provides that "No fee established by the Commissioner under this section will take effect prior to sixty days following notice in the Federal Register." Since these rules establish fees and the effective date of the rules was slightly less than 60 days after the publication of the final rule change in the Federal Register, it is necessary to set a later effective date.
Date: The effective date of the rule change published at 49 Fed. Reg. 13456–13463 is changed to June 4, 1984.
For further information contact: Kenneth L. Cage by telephone at (703) 557-2877 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Office of Patents and Trademarks
Revision of the Scope of the Secrecy Order for Defense Agency Use

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is revising the scope and format of the Secrecy Orders issued under the Invention Secrecy Act of 1951, 35 U.S.C. 181 et seq., 37 CFR Part 5. The present forms of Secrecy Orders are very restrictively worded to control disclosure or use of an invention under Secrecy Order. The PTO previously would only authorize disclosure or use of a Secrecy Order invention by the grant of a special permit. Permits authorize limited disclosure and permissible use of the invention depending upon the nature of the technical data and national security controls. To receive a permit, a patent applicant had to petition the Commissioner, or the defense agency sponsoring the Secrecy Order would issue or could have sua sponte issued a permit with the Order.

The revised Secrecy Orders will permit disclosure and use consistent with the national security controls needed on the technical data in a patent application. The features of existing permits are incorporated into the Orders which will eliminate the need, in many cases, for the applicant to separately petition for a permit to authorize various degrees of disclosure or use.

These revisions to the scope and format of a Secrecy Order are intended to place essentially the same national security controls on the technical data in patent applications as those on other types of technical data. With respect to publication or disclosure of information which would, in the opinion of the sponsoring Agency, be detrimental to the national security, the revised Secrecy Orders will be consistent with existing national security and export control procedures. The revised Secrecy Orders will also clarify the procedures for handling and custody of applications subject to a Secrecy Order.

The three new Secrecy Order formats to be used by the defense agencies of the Department of Defense are as follows:

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

(1) Secrecy Order and Permit for Foreign Filing in Certain Countries

This Secrecy Order will be used for those patent applications that contain technical data whose export is controlled by the guidelines contained in DOD Directive 5230.25, dated Nov. 6, 1984, (codified as 32 CFR Part 250) which relates to export control under 10 U.S.C. 140(c) and the Militarily Critical Technologies List (MCTL). See 50 U.S.C. App. 2404(d).

This Secrecy Order is intended to permit widest utilization of the technical data while still controlling any publication or disclosure which would result in an unlawful exportation. This type of Secrecy Order sets forth the applicable export controls for technical data in either the Commodity Control List (CCL) 15 CFR Parts 379, 399.1 or the Munitions List of the International Traffic in Arms Regulation (ITAR), 22 CFR Part 121.

The countries where corresponding patent applications may be filed will be identified in the Order. The Order specially authorizes use of the invention for legitimate business purposes. The definition of this term in the Order is identical to that found in DOD Directive 5230.25, 32 CFR Part 250. The level of security control requires that the subject matter must be safeguarded under conditions that provide adequate protection and prevent access by unauthorized persons. Additional modifications or permits to the Secrecy Order under 37 CFR 5.1 et seq. will only be needed where the level of disclosure is beyond that specified in the Order.

Secrecy Order and Permit for Foreign Filing in Certain Countries

(Title 35, United States Code, Sections 181–188 (1952))

NOTICE: To the applicant(s) above named; his, her, or their heirs; and any and all of the assignees, licensees, attorneys and agents, hereinafter designated principals:

You are hereby notified that the above-identified patent application has been found to contain subject matter which discloses critical technology with military or space application. The unauthorized disclosure of such subject matter would be detrimental to the national security, and you are ordered to keep the subject matter secret (as required by 35 U.S.C. 181) and you are further ordered NOT TO PUBLISH OR DISCLOSE the subject matter to any person except as specifically authorized herein.

Any other patent application already filed or hereafter filed in the U.S. or any foreign country which contains any significant part of the subject matter of the above-identified application falls within the scope of this Order. If such other patent application is not under Secrecy Order imposed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, it and the common subject matter need to be brought to the attention of the Director, Group 220, Attn: Licensing and Review, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 as soon as possible.

Publication or disclosure of the subject matter of the above-identified patent application, except as authorized herein or subsequently by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, may subject the person publishing or disclosing the subject matter to the penalties of 35 U.S.C. 182, 185 and 186 (1952).

The principals may disclose, for legitimate business purposes,[3] the subject matter of the above-identified application to a U.S. citizen or to a person who is both admitted lawfully into the United States for permanent residence and is located in the United States provided the U.S. citizen or person is furnished with a copy of this Secrecy Order and is informed that this Secrecy Order is applicable to the subject matter disclosed.

Legitimate business purposes include both selling or producing products for the commercial domestic marketplace or for the commercial foreign marketplace, providing that any required expert license is obtained. Legitimate business purposes also include selling or otherwise disclosing technical data to foreign contractors or governments overseas after receiving the required export license or approval by the U.S. Government.

The principals shall notify the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks if a validated license is obtained from the Office of Export Administration or a license is obtained from the Director, Office of Munitions Control under regulations governing the export of technical data (15 CFR 379 of the Export Administration Regulations or 22 CFR 125 of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations).

The subject matter of the above-identified application has been determined not to be encompassed by E.O. 10865, entitled "Safeguarding of Classified Information Within Industry" or E.O. 12356, entitled "National Security Information" and thus is not subject to the "Industrial Security Manual for Safeguarding Classified Information." However, since the disclosure of the subject matter would be detrimental to the national security, the subject matter must be safeguarded under conditions that will provide adequate protection and prevent access by unauthorized persons. When copies of the subject matter are no longer needed, they should be destroyed by any method that will prevent disclosure of the contents or reconstruction of the document.

The principals are permitted, subject to the conditions stated hereinafter, to file and prosecute a corresponding application for patent in each of the following countries: Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Federal Republic of Germany, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Turkey and the United Kingdom. The papers for each foreign application and its prosecution shall be transmitted to the sponsoring agency, identified herein, for forwarding through diplomatic channels for filing in the foreign country either directly by the principals or through the principals' foreign patent attorney or agent if authorized by the foreign government. Correspondence exclusively relating to payments of taxes and fees need not be sent through the sponsoring agency and diplomatic channels provided that such correspondence contains no information pertaining to the subject matter of the above-identified application.

International reciprocal agreements providing for the filing of patent applications under a Secrecy Order in the above-identified countries require the principals to furnish to the sponsoring agency identified herein (in addition to the papers to be filed in the foreign patent office) a copy of the specification (including any drawings annexed thereto, any resume and the claims included in the patent application) filed in the patent office of the foreign country. This copy will be furnished to the appropriate defense agency of the foreign government for information only and without prejudice to any rights of the principals. The filing date and serial number of the patent application should also be furnished to the sponsoring agency.

The principals shall request the foreign patent office to place in secrecy the foreign patent applications corresponding to the above-identified application and shall furnish a copy of this Secrecy Order and permit with the first papers to be filed in the foreign patent office.

The foreign government may require a waiver in writing of any claim to compensation for loss or damage due solely to the imposition of secrecy on the invention. Belgium, France, the Federal Republic of Germany, the Netherlands, Turkey and the United Kingdom normally require such a waiver in writing.

This Order should not be construed in any way to mean that the Government has adopted or contemplates adoption of the invention disclosed in this application and it is not any indication of the value of such invention.

Director, Special Laws Administration.

(2) Secrecy Order and Permit for Disclosing Classified Information

This Secrecy Order will be used for those patent applications which contain technical data that is either classified under Executive Order 12356, National Security Information, 47 FR 14874, Aug. 6, 1982, or properly classifiable under a security guideline where the patent application owner has a current DOD Security Agreement, DOD form 441. This Agreement requires the protection of classified technical data as prescribed in the Industrial Security Manual (ISM), DOD 5220.22–M.

The intent of this Secrecy Order is to treat classified technical data in a patent application in the same manner as any other classified material under the Industrial Security Manual (ISM). Accordingly, this Secrecy Order will include a notification of the classification level of the technical data in the application, and provided a level of protection at that classification level. The Order will apply to owners of patent applications who have a current DOD Security agreement (DD Form 441) under the ISM. Additional modifications or permits to the Secrecy Order under 37 CFR 5.1 et seq. will only be needed where the level of disclosure is beyond that specified in the order.

Secrecy Order and Permit for Disclosing Classified Information

(Title 35, United States Code, sections 181–188 (1952))

NOTICE: To the applicant(s) above named, his, her, or their heirs; and any and all of the assignees, licensees, attorneys and agents, hereinafter designated principals:

You are hereby notified that the above-identified patent application has been found to contain subject matter which discloses classifiable information. The unauthorized disclosure of such matter would be detrimental to the national security, and you are ordered to keep the subject matter secret (as required by 35 U.S.C. 181) and you are further ordered NOT TO PUBLISH OR DISCLOSE the subject matter to any person except as specifically authorized herein.

Any other patent application already filed or hereafter filed in the U.S. or any foreign country which contains any significant part of the subject matter of the above-identified patent application falls within the scope of this Order. If such other patent application is not under a Secrecy Order imposed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, it and the common subject matter need to be brought to the attention of the Director, Group 220, Attn: Licensing and Review, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 as soon as possible.

Publication or disclosure of the subject matter of the above-identified patent application, except as authorized herein or subsequently by the Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks, may subject the person publishing or disclosing the subject matter to the penalties of 35 U.S.C. 182, and 186 (1951).

The subject matter of the above-identified application has been determined to be encompassed by E.O. 19865, entitled "Safeguarding of Classified Information Within Industry" or E.O. 12356, entitled "National Security Information" and thus is subject to the "Industrial Security Manual for Safeguarding Classified Information."

The principals shall protect the subject matter as required by the Industrial Security Manual for Safeguarding Classified Information and may disclose the subject matter of the above-identified application to other persons having the requisite clearance on a "need-to-know basis" provided the person to whom the subject matter is disclosed is furnished with a copy of this Secrecy Order and is informed that this Secrecy Order is applicable to the subject matter disclosed. The declassification, in whole or in part, of the subject matter of the above-identified application does not modify this Secrecy Order. The requirements of this Secrecy Order remain in effect until the Secrecy Order is rescinded or modified by the Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks. The fact that the subject matter as a whole is declassified should be brought to the attention of the sponsoring agency.

This permission to disclose does not authorize the disclosure of the subject matter of the above-identified application through (1) the filing of any foreign application without specific permission of the Patent and Trademark Office, or (2) the export of any item or data without any export license which may be required.

This order should not be construed in any way to mean that the Government has adopted or contemplates adoption of the invention disclosed in this application and it is not any indication of the value of such invention.

Director, Special Laws Administration.

(3) Secrecy Order

This Secrecy Order will be used for those patent applications that contain properly classifiable technical data under a security guideline where the patent application owner does not have a DOD Security Agreement under the ISM.

This Secrecy Order is substantially the same as the Secrecy Order in use up to now, and will be used where the other types of Orders do not apply. This Order may be issued by direction of agencies other than the Department of Defense. Unless issued with the initial Order, modifications to the Secrecy Order and/or permits under 37 CFR 5.1 et seq. will be needed for additional disclosure.

Secrecy Order

(Title 35, United States Code, sections 181–188 (1952))

NOTICE: To the applicant(s) above named; his, her or their heirs; and any and all of the assignees, licensees, attorneys and agents, hereinafter designated principals:

You are hereby notified that the above-identified patent application has been found to contain subject matter the unauthorized disclosure of which would be detrimental to the national security, and you areordered to keep the subject matter secret (as required by 35 U.S.C. 181) and you are further ordered NOT TO PUBLISH OR DISCLOSE the subject matter to any person except as specifically authorized by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Any other patent application already filed or hereafter filed in the U.S. or any foreign country which contains any significant part of the subject matter of the above-identified patent application falls within the scope of this Order. If such other patent application is not under a Secrecy Order imposed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark office, it and the common subject matter need to be brought to the attention of the Director, Group 220, Attn: Licensing and Review, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 as soon as possible.

Publication or disclosure of the subject matter of the above-identified patent application, except as authorized herein or subsequently by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, may subject the person publishing or disclosing the subject matter to the penalties of 35 U.S.C. 182, 185 and 186 (1952).

Since the disclosure of the subject matter of the above-identified application would be detrimental to the national security, the subject matter must be safeguarded under conditions that will provide adequate protection and prevent access by unauthorized persons. When copies of the subject matter are no longer needed, they should be destroyed by any method that will prevent disclosure of the contents or reconstruction of the document.

This order should not be construed in any way to mean that the Government has adopted or contemplates adoption of the invention disclosed in this application and it is not any indication of the value of such invention.

Director, Special Laws Administration.

Each Secrecy Order forbids the publication or disclosure of the invention except as specially authorized. By revising these Secrecy Orders to conform with existing export and classification authority, the burden on patent applicants to seek additional permits for disclosure and/or foreign filing under 37 CFR Part 5 will be reduced. The new Secrecy Orders reflect the level of secrecy required by law and regulation for various technologies and will place National Security and export controls on the patent application in harmony with other applicable export and classification controls. Also, this change will reduce the risk of disclosure of the subject matter of the invention by providing greater guidance on the safeguarding of the subject matter invention.

Information regarding the new Secrecy Orders may be obtained by calling Mr. Kenneth L. Cage, Director, Special Laws Administration Group, at (703) 557-2877 or by mail directed to Mr. Kenneth L. Cage, Director, Special Laws Administration, Group 220, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(128) Guidelines for Extension of Patent Term Under 35 U.S.C. 156

This notice is intended to establish initial guidelines for patent owners who are seeking extensions of patent terms pursuant to newly enacted 35 U.S.C. 156. These guidelines will be effective until further notice. Section 156 of Title 35, United States Code, provides that a patent owner seeking an extension of the term of a patent pursuant to its provisions must submit an application to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks (hereinafter Commissioner) within a certain defined period of time. Section 156 specifies certain components the application is to contain, including "such patent or other information as the Commissioner may require." See 35 U.S.C. 156(d) (1) (E). Section 156(d) (4) also provides that "[a] n application for the extension of the term of a patent is subject to the disclosure requirements prescribed by the Commissioner." Section 156(h) provides that the "Commissioner may establish such fees as the Commissioner determines appropriate to cover the costs to the Office of receiving and acting upon applications under this section." The purpose of this notice is to provide the guidelines which a patent owner or its agent should use in deciding whether to submit an application for the extension of the term of a patent to the Patent and Trademark Office and in actually making the submission of such an application. This notice is divided into a number of sections set forth below which treat various determinations which have to be made by a patent owner or its agent prior to submission of an application and further includes guidelines as to the actual content of an application for extension of the term of a patent.

A patent owner or its agent should use the guidelines in the various sections set forth below in determining whether a patent is subject to, and meets the conditions for, extension of its term. If so, the patent owner or its agent should also use the guidelines set forth below in preparing and filing an application for extension of the patent term. If any application for extension of the term of a patent is filed in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 156 before the date on which this notice is published in the Official Gazette and is not in compliance with the requirements of this notice, applicant will be notified of the deficiencies in the application and will be given a period of time within which to correct the deficiencies.

Guidelines

§A. Patents subject to extension of the patent term.

(a) Any patent which claims a product as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, or a method of using such a product, or a method of manufacturing such a product, is subject to being extended in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 156.

(b) the term of the patent has never been previously extended except for any interim extension issued pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(e) (2);
(c) an application for extension is submitted pursuant to §D of this notice;
(d) the product has been subject to a regulatory review period as defined in 35 U.S.C. 156(g) and by the Secretary of Health and Human Services before its commercial marketing or use;
(e) the product has received permission for commercial marketing or use and (i) the application is submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commercial marketing or used under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred, or (ii) in the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent;
(f) the term of the patent has not expired before the submission of an application pursuant to §D of this notice; and
(g) no other patent has been extended for the same regulatory review period for the product.

§C. Applicant for extension of patent term.

§D. Application for extension of the term of a patent.

(a) An application for extension of the term of a patent must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. The filing date of an application for extension of the term of a patent is the date on which the complete application for extension and a duplicate of the papers thereof, certified as such, are received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10. The provisions of 37 CFR 1.8 should not be used to file an application for the extension of the term of a patent.
(b) A complete application for the extension of the term of a patent comprises:
(1) a complete identification of the approved product as by appropriate chemical and physical structure or characteristics;
(2) a complete identification of the Federal statute including the applicable provision of law under which the regulatory review occurred;

(4) a statement that the application is being submitted within the sixty day period permitted for submission and an identification of the date of the last day on which the application could be submitted;
(5) a complete identification of the patent for which an extension is being sought by the name of the inventor, the patent number, and the date of issue;
(6) a copy of the patent for which an extension is being sought, including the entire specification (including claims) and drawings, in the form of a cut-up copy of the original patent with only a single column of the printed patent securely mounted or reproduced in permanent form on one side of a separate paper;
(7) a copy of any disclaimer, certificate of correction, receipt of maintenance fee payment, or reexamination certificate issued in the patent;
(8) a statement that the patent claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product, and a showing which lists each applicable patent claims and demonstrates the mannerin which each applicable patent claim reads on the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product;
(9) the relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(g) in order to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services to determine the applicable regulatory review period;
(10) a brief description of the activities undertaken by the applicant during the applicable regulatory review period with respect to the approved product and the significant dates applicable to such activities;
(11) a statement that in the opinion of the applicant the patent is eligible for the extension and a statement as to the length of extension claimed, including how the length of extension was determined;
(12) a statement that applicant acknowledges a duty to disclose to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and the Secretary of Health and Human Services any information which is material to any determinations to be made relative to the application for extension; and
(13) the prescribed fee for receiving and acting upon the application for extension (see §F of this notice) and an oath or declaration as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section.
(c) Any application for extension of the term of a patent submitted pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section must include an oath or declaration signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent which specifically identifies the application papers and the patent for which an extension is sought and avers that the person signing the oath or declaration:
(1) has reviewed and understands the contents of the application being submitted pursuant to this section;
(2) believes the patent is subject to extension pursuant to §A of this notice;
(3) believes an extension of the length claimed is fully justified under 35 U.S.C. 156; and
(4) believes the patent for which the extension is being sought meets the conditions for extension of the term of a patent as set forth in §B of this notice.
(d) If any application for extension of the term of a patent submitted pursuant to this section is held to be incomplete, applicant may seek to have that holding reviewed by filing a petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.182 within such time as may be set, or if no time is set, within one month of the date on which the application was held incomplete.

§E. Interim extension of the term of a patent.

An applicant who has filed an application for extension pursuant to §D of this notice may request one or more interim extensions for periods of up to one year pending a final determination on the application. Any such request should be filed at least three months prior to the expiration date of the patent. The Commissioner may issue interim extensions for periods of up to one year until a final determination is made without a request by the applicant. In no event will the interim extensions granted under this section be longer than the maximum period of extension to which the applicant would be eligible.

§F. Fee for receiving and acting on an application for extension of the term of a patent.

Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(h) the Commissioner has determined that a fee of $750.00 is appropriate to cover the costs to the Patent and Trademark Office of receiving and acting upon applications for extension of the term of a patent filed pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156. The fee should accompany the application when filed. If a fee in a different amount is adopted in Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, applicant will be refunded any excess or required to submit any deficiency.

§G. Address for application for extension of the term of a patent and communcations relating thereto.

All applications for extension of the term of a patent and any communcations relating thereto intended for the Patent and Trademark Office should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box Patent Ext., Washington, D.C. 20231. When appropriate, the

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 1
[Docket No. 60594–6094]

Rules for Extension of Patent Term

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office proposes to amend the rules of practice in patent cases, Part 1 of Title 37, Code in Federal Regulations, to provide the rules and procedures under which extensions in the terms of patents may be sought pursuant to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 156 which was enacted on Sept. 24, 1984 in Title II of Pub. L. 98–417, the "Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984." The new 35 U.S.C. 156 provides that, upon application to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, the term of a particular patent, which claims a product or a method of using or manufacturing a product as defined in the Public Law, may be extended under certain circumstances and conditions where the product has been subject to a regulatory review as defined in Public Law 98–417 and by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, before its commercial marketing or use. The proposed rules for amending Part 1 of Title 37 would provide specific procedures for the submission of such applications to the Patent and Trademark Office and for the determination and issuance of certificates of patent term extension by the Patent and Trademark Office on the applications submitted.
Dates: Comments must be submitted on or before Sept. 10, 1986; a public hearing will be held on Sept. 15, 1986 at 9:30 a.m., requests to present oral testimony should be received on or before Sept. 10, 1986.
Address: Address written comments and requests to present oral testimony to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Charles E. Van Horn, Rm. CP2–9A09. The hearing will be held in Rm. 11C10, on the 11th floor of Bldg. 3, Crystal Plz., located at 2021 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington. Va. Written comments and a transcript of the public hearing will be available for public inspection in Rm. 9A09 of Bldg. 2, Crystal Plz. at 2011 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.
For Further Information Contact: Charles E. Van Horn by telephone at (703) 557–3637 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: These proposed rules are designed primarily to implement Title II of Pub. L. 98–417 by (1) establishing the rules and procedures for the submission of applications for the extension of patent term to the Patent and Trademark Office and (2) by defining the procedure governing the extension determination and issuance of certificates of patent term extension by the Patent and Trademark Office based on the applications submitted.

Since new section 35 U.S.C. 156 came into effect on the date of enactment (Sept. 24, 1984) of Public Law 98–417, initial operating guidelines were published as "Guidelines For Extension of Patent Term Under 35 U.S.C. 156" in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office on Oct. 9, 1984. The guidelines were also published in BNA's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal on Sept. 27, 1984. It is intended that those guidelines will continue in effect until the promulgation of final rules based on the proposed rulemaking. These proposed rules follow in most respects the practice and procedures set out in the guidelines but the proposed rules make some clarifications and additions to the guidelines. For example, proposed new §§1.775, 1.776, and 1.777 set out how the period of patent term extension is to be calculated, which was not covered in the guidelines.

The new section 35 U.S.C. 156 requires the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to notify the Secretary of Health and Human Services within sixty days of the submittal of an application for extension of patent term which complies with the section and to submit to the Secretary a copy of the application. Not later than thirty days after receipt of the application from the Commissioner, the Secretary is charged with determining the length of the applicable regulatory review period, notifying the Commissioner of the determination and publishing in the Federal Register a notice of such determination.

The secretary of Health and Human Services is responsible for publishing regulations to give guidance concerning the handling of applications for patent term extension in the Department of Health and Human Services.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.1, if amended as proposed, would indicate that applications for extension of patent terms and any communications relating thereto intended for the Patent and Trademark Office should be directed to "Box Patent Ext."

The filing of an application for an extension of the term of a patent would be considered timely if received in the Patent and Trademark Office on or before the statutory deadline, or if the application is deposited with the U.S. Postal Service in accordance with the provisions of §1.8 or §1.10 of this part before the statutory deadline. The filing of an application for an extension of the term of a patent would be treated in the same manner as the filing of any paper required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within a set period of time and not subjected to the exceptions enumerated in 37 CFR 1.8(a).

Section 1.20, if amended a proposed, would add paragraph (n) to establish a fee of $550.00 for filing an application for extension of the term of a patent pursuant to § 1.740. This amount is appropriate to cover the costs to the Patent and Trademark Office of receiving and acting upon applications for extension of patent term as provided in 35 U.S.C. 156(h).

A new "Subpart F—Extension of Patent Term" is proposed to be added to Part 1 to include §§1.710 through 1.785.

Section 1.710, if added as proposed, would define the patents subject to extension of the patent term. Paragraph (a) of proposed §1.710 defines the patents subject to extension in terms of the subject matter being claimed therein. Under paragraph (a) of proposed §1.710 a patent to (1) a product, (2) a method of using a product, (3) or a method of manufacturing a product can be extended as long as the product meets the definition contained in paragraph (b) of proposed §1.710, and as long as the other conditions and requirements for extension of patent term are met. Paragraph (b) of proposed §1.710 follows the language of 35 U.S.C. 156 and defines a "product" as meaning (1) a human drug product or (2) any medical device, food additive, or color additive subject to regulation under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. The term "human drug product" as defined in paragraph (b) of proposed §1.710 means the active ingredient of a new drug, antibiotic drug, or human biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Public Health Service Act) including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient.

Section 1.720, if added as proposed, would define the conditions under which the term of a patent may be extended. The conditions for extension would be:

(1) The patent must claim a product or a method of using or manufacturing a product as defined in proposed §1.710;

(2) The term of the patent must never have been previously extended except for any interim extension issued pursuant to §1.760;

(3) an application for extension must be submitted pursuant to proposed §1.740;

(4) The product must have been subject to a regulatory review period as defined in 35 U.S.C. 156(g) before its commercial marketing or use;

(5) The product must have received permission for commercial marketing or use and (i) the application must be submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred, of (ii) in the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the application for extension must be submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent;

(6) The term of the patent must not have expired before the submission of an application pursuant to proposed §1.740; and

(7) No other patent must have been extended for the same regulatory review period for the product.

Section 1.730, if added as proposed, would require that an application for extension of a patent be submitted by the owner of record of the patent or its agent and that the application must comply with the requirements of proposed §1.740. The application papers submitted would be required to clearly reflect and establish the authority of the person submitting the application to do so on behalf of the owner. See proposed §1.740(c). For example, if the person submitting the application is the owner of record, the application papers would be required to so reflect. If the person submitting the application is doing so as the agent of the owner of record, the application papers must so reflect and establish the authority of the agent to act on behalf of the owner, e.g., as an officer of a corporate owner. A mere power of attorney to prosecute a patent application before the Patent and Trademark Office would not establish the agency relationship to apply for a patent term extension.

Section 1.740, if added as proposed, would establish the contents and requirements of an application for extension of patent term. Paragraph (a) of proposed §1.740 requires that the application be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and establishes as the filing date of the application the date on which the complete application for extension as defined in paragraph (b) of the section and a duplicate of the papers thereof, certified as such, are received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the "Certificate of Mailing" provisions of 37 CFR 1.8 or by "Express Mail" pursuant to the provisions of §1.10. The certified duplicate of the application papers will serve as the copy to be submitted by the Commissioner to the Secretary of Health and Human Services in order that the Secretary may determine the applicable regulatory review period as required by Pub. L. 98–417.

Paragraph (b) of proposed §1.740 specifies the contents of a complete application for extension of patent. The complete application, and a certified duplicate thereof, must be submitted in order that a filing date for the application can be established. If the application is not complete when submitted it will be refused a filing date until such time as the omission is corrected. in accordance with paragraph (b) of proposed §1.740, a complete application for the extension of the term of a patent comprises:

(1) A complete identification of the approved product as by appropriate chemical and generic name, physical structure or characteristics that would permit the Commissioner to make a determination of whether the patent claims the approved product, or a method of making or using the approved product;

(2) A complete identification of the Federal statute including the applicable provision of law under which the regulatory review occurred;

(3) An identification of the date on which the product received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred;

(4) In the case of human drug product, an identification of each active ingredient in the product and as to the product and each active ingredient, a statement that they have not been previously approved for commercial marketing or use under the Federal Food Drug and Cosmetic Act, or a statement of when the active ingredient was approved for commercial marketing or use (either alone or in combination with other active ingredients) and the provision of law under which it was approved.

(5) A statement that the application is being submitted within the sixty day period permitted for submission pursuant to proposed §1.720 (e) and an identification of the date of the last day on which the application could be submitted;

(6) A complete identification of the patent for which an extension is being sought by the name of the inventor, the patent number, and the date of issue;

(7) A copy of the patent for which an extension is being sought, including the entire specification (including claims) and drawings;

(8) A copy of any disclaimer, certificate of correction, receipt or statement of maintenance fee payment, or reexamination certificate issued in the patent;

(9) A statement beginning on a new page that the patent claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product, and a showing which lists each applicable patent claim and demonstrates the manner in which each applicable patent claim reads on the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product;

(10) A statement beginning on a new page of relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156 (g) in order to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services to determine the applicable regulatory review period.

(i) For a human drug product, this information will include the effective date of the investigational new drug (IND) application and the IND number; the date on which a new drug application (NDA) was initially submitted and the NDA number; and the date on which the NDA was approved;

(ii) For a food or color additive, this information will include the date a major health or environmental effects test on the additive was initiated and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which a petition for product approval under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the petition number; and the date on which the application was approved;

(iii) For a medical device, this information will include the effective date of the investigational device exemption (IDE) and the IDE number, if applicable, or the date on which the applicant began the first clinical investigation involving the device if no IDE was submitted and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which an application for product approval under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the number of the application; and the date on which the application was approved.

In the cases where there is no regulatory event to reflect the commencement of the testing or approval phase of the regulatory review period, applicants should include in applications the dates that they claim initiate either the approval or the testing phases and an explanation of their reasonable basis for why they conclude that these dates are the relevant dates. For instance, when the clinical trials are conducted outside the United States, the testing phase for a medical device begins on the date the clinical investigation involving the device was begun. An applicant should include an explanation as to why the date claimed is the date on which such clinical investigations had commenced. If the applicant had any means of substantiating that date, that information should be included in the application.

Finally, on this separate page in the application there should be a statement as to the length of the regulatory review period claimed including an explanation of how the applicant determined the length of the regulatory review period. It should be noted in the application that this particular calculation is made solely with respect to section 156(G)(1) thru (3) of Title 35 of the United States Code and does not take into account any other limitations or restrictions on the length of possible patent extension.

(11) A brief description beginning on a new page of the activities undertaken by the applicant during the applicable regulatory review period with respect to the approved product and the significant dates applicable to such activities. This description should include a summary of any communication of substance with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the significant dates related to such communication and activities. For example, these activities would include the dates of the submission of any new data to the FDA, any communications between FDA and the applicant with respect to the appropriate protocols for testing the product, and any communications between FDA and the applicant that are attempts to define the particular requirements for premarketing approval of this particular product.

(12) A statement beginning on a new page that in the opinion of the applicant the patent is eligible for the extension and a statement as to the length of extension claimed, including how the length of extension was determined and whether the 14 year limit of 35 U.S.C. 156(c)(3), the five year limit of 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(4)(A) or (B) or the two year limit of 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(4)(C) applies.

(13) A statement that applicant acknowledges a duty to disclose to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and the Secretary of Health and Human Services any information which is material to the determination of entitlement to the extensions sought (see §1.765);

(14) The prescribed fee for receiving and acting upon the application for extension (see §1.20(n));

(15) The name, address, and telephone number of the person to whom contacts and correspondence relating to the application for patent term extension are to be directed; and

(16) An oath or declaration as set forth in paragraph (c) of proposed §1.740.

Paragraph (c) of proposed §1.740 requires that an oath or declaration signed by the owner or record of the patent or its agent accompany the application as a part thereof. An application for extension filed without an oath or declaration is not a complete application and is not entitled to a filing date. The oath or declaration filed as a part of the application must specifically identify the application papers and the patent for which an extension is sought and include averments that the person signing the oath or declaration;

(1) Is the owner, an official of a corporate owner authorized to obligate the corporation, or has specific written authorization to sign the oath or declaration on behalf of the owner;

(2) Has reviewed and understands the contents of the application being submitted pursuant to §1.740;

(3) Believes the patent is subject to extension pursuant to § 1.710

(4) Believes an extension of the length claimed is fully justified under 35 U.S.C. 156 and the applicable regulations; and

(5) Believes the patent for which the extension is being sought meets the conditions for extension of the term of a patent as set forth in §1.720.

In signing the oath or declaration referred to in paragraph (c) of proposed §1.740 an official of a corporate owner or a person having specefic written authorization to sign the oath or declaration on behalf of the owner is representing that he or she is the agent of the owner and has authority to act on behalf of the owner in filing the application for patent term extension. Note also proposed§1.730. Paragraph (d) of proposed §1.740 provides for review of a holding that an application for patent term extension is incomplete by the filing of a petition under 37 CFR 1.182. The failure to timely comply with any requirement of these regulations which is not an explicit requirement of the statute may be waived under appropriate circumstances. 37 CFR 1.183. While timely action is expected, relief under 37 CFR 1.183 may be appropriate in view of the tight time deadlines and other circumstances involved in filing an application for extension of the patent term. The petition must be filed with the required fee (37 CFR 1.17(h)) within such time as may be set, or if no time is set, within one month of the holding.

Section 1.750, if added as proposed, would cover the determination of eligibilty for extension of the term of a patent which will be made by the Patent and Trademark Office on the application for extension. As provided for by Pub. L. 98–417, and as set forth in this section, it is intended that the determination as to whether a patent is eligible for an extension can be made solely on the representations contained in the application for extension filed pursuant to proposed new §1.740 of this part. Proposed§1.750 does, however, provide that further information may be required by the Commissioner or other officials before a final determination is made on whether a patent is eligible for extension. In circumstances where further information is required by the Office the applicant will be given a time period within which to respond. The failure to file a response within the period provided will result in a final determination adverse to the granting of an extension of patent term unless the response period is extended. An extension of time to respond may be requested under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(b). The intentional failure to provide the information requested also will result in a final adverse determination. A final determination may be made at any time after an application is filed, but no later than when a certificate of extension is issued. Proposed §1.750 provides that a single request for reconsideration of a final determination may be filed within one month or within such other time period set in the final determination. Proposed §1.750 also provides that the determination may be delegated to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office officials. A notice will be mailed to applicant containing the determination as to eligibility of the patent for extension and the period of time of the extension of the term, if any This notice shall constitute the final determination as to eligibility and any period of extension of the patent term.

Section 1.760, if added as proposed, would provide for one or more interim extensions for periods of up to one year where a complete application pursuant to proposed§1.740 has been filed by an applicant and a final determination pursuant to proposed §1.750 has not been made on the application. Proposed §1.760 provides that the Commissioner may issue an interim extension with or without a request by the applicant. In order for an interim extension to be granted the application pursuant to proposed §1.740 must have been filed prior to the expiration date of the patent even though the interim extensions may not actually be granted until after the original expiration date of the patent. In no event will interim extensions be granted under proposed §1.760 for a period of extension longer than that to which the applicant would be eligible.

Section 1.765, if added as proposed, would define the duty of disclosure in patent term extension proceedings. Paragraph (a) of proposed §1.765 specifies the individuals on whom the duty rests and the extent of the duty. Paragraph (b) of proposed §1.765 requires that disclosures pursuant to the section be accompanied by a copy of each written document being disclosed and specifies to whom the submission is to be made, i.e., the Patent and Trandemark Office or the Secretary, as appropriate. Such disclosures would be able to be made through and attorney or agent.

Paragraph (c) of proposed §1.765 precludes a determination of eligibility for an extension or the issuance of a certificate if clear and convincing evidence of fraud or attempted fraud on the Office or the Secretary is determined to be present or the duty of disclosure is determined to have been violated through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the patent term extension proceeding. Since the determination as to wheter a patent is eligible for extension pursuant to proposed §1.750 may be made solely on the basis of the representations made in the application for extension, a final determination to refuse a patent term extension because of fraud or a violation of the duty of disclosure is expected to be rare.

Paragraph (d) of proposed §1.765 precludes submissions to the Patent and Trademark Office by or on behalf of third parties, thereby making patent term extension proceedings in the Office an ex parte matter between the patent owner or its agent and the Commissioner. Under paragraph (d) of proposed §1.765, submissions by third parties to the Office will be returned, or otherwise disposed of, without consideration.

Paragraph (d) does not affect submissions authorized by Public Law 98–417 to be made to the Secretary during determination of the applicable regulatory review period.

Section 1.770, if added as proposed, would provide for the express withdrawal of an application for extension of the term of a patent if the written declaration of withdrawal signed by the owner of record or its agent is filed in the Office, in duplicate, before a determination is made pursuant to proposed §1.750. Under proposed § 1.770, and application for extension of the term of a patent may not be expressly withdrawn after the date of the final determination pursuant to proposed §1.750. Proposed §1.770 also provides that an express withdrawal is effective when acknowledged in writing by the Office and that the filing and acceptance of an express withdrawal does not entitle applicant to a refund of the filing fee for the application for patent term extension or any portion thereof.

Section 1.775, if added as proposed, would provide the procedure for calculating the patent term extension for a human drug product.

Proposed paragraph (a) would specify that the extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer.

Proposed paragraph (b) of §1.775 would provide that the patent term would be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services but reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods provided in proposed paragraph (d).

Proposed paragraph (c) defines the length of the regulatory review period which is determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

For a human drug product, the regulatory review period is defined in 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B) as the sum of:

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an exemption under section, 505 or 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetics Act became effective for the approved human drug product and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for the drug product under section 505 or 507 above or under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved human drug product under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act or subsection (b) of section 505 or 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date the application was approved under the section.

This period is then reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods described in proposed paragraph (d).

Paragraph (d) of proposed §1.775, would define the term of the patent extension by indicating that

(i) The time period determined from proposed paragraph (c) would be reduced, where appropriate by

(i) The number of days in the periods of proposed paragraph (c)(1) and (c)(2) of §1.775 which were on and before the date on which the patent issued

(ii) The number of days from paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of §1.775 during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence; and

(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by proposed paragraph (c)(1) after the period has been reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (d)(1)(ii) of §1.775. Half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction.

(2) Adding the number of days determined in proposed paragraph (d)(1) to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) Adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, or subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(4) Comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained from (d)(2) and (d)(3) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) If the original patent issued after Sept. 24, 1984;

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) By comparing the dates obtained in paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) with each other and selecting the earlier date.

(6) If the original patent was issued before Sept. 24, 1984;

(i) If no request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, by (A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer and (B) by comparing the dates obtained in paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(ii) If a request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before Sept. 24, 1984, by (A) adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and (B) by comparing the dates obtained in paragraph (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date.

Section 1.776, if added as proposed, would provide the procedure for calculating the patent term extension for a food additive or color additive. The paragraphs correspond to those proposed for §1.775.

Section 1.777, if added as proposed, would provide the procedure for calculating the patent term extension for a medical device. The paragraphs correspond to those proposed for §1.775 with the major difference being in the calculation of the regulatory review period.

Section 1.780, if added as proposed, would specify that once a determination is made pursuant to proposed §1.750 that a patent is eligible for extension, a certificate of extension, under seal, will be issued to the applicant for the extension of the term of the patent. Section 1.780 would also provide that the certificate would be recorded in the official file of the patent and will be considered as part of the original patent. Section 1.780 would also provide for notification of the issuance of the certificate of extension to be published in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office.

No certificate or extension would be issued if the term of a patent cannot be extended, even though the patent is otherwise determined to be eligible for extension. In such situations the final determination made pursuant to §1.750 would indicate that no certificate will issue.

Section 1.785, if added as proposed, would specify the procedures to be followed where multiple applications are filed for extension of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product. Pub. L. 98–417 and proposed §1.785 provide that only one patent may be extended for a regulatory review period for any product. Under proposed §1.785, if more than one application for extension of the same patent is filed, the certificate of extension of the term of the patent, if appropriate, would be issued based upon the first filed application for extension of patent term. If applications are filed for extension of the terms of different patents based upon the same regulatory review period for a product, the certificate of extension would be issued on the patent having the earliest date of issuance, if that patent is determined to be eligible for extension pursuant to proposed §1.750 and if the application for its extension is filed prior to the issuance of a certificate of extension of the later issued patent.

Other alternatives to proposed §1.785 were considered, but were not proposed in view of a number of complications which appeared to be present therein. For example, another alternative was to give preference to a patent owner who was also the marketing applicant before the FDA. However, neither patent owner may have been the marketing applicant, or each patent owner may have contributed resources which ultimately led to the approval for commercial marketing. In view of the complications which are apparent in the PTO attempting to make value judgments as to the relative contributions of different patent owners it was decided to propose an administratively straight forward approach and seek public comments as to other possible workable alternatives.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources. The rule change is in conformity with the requirments of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96–354). Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because patented drugs are generally not commercialized by small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. l. 96–364).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million.

There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information collection requirement contained in this proposed rule has been submitted to OMB for review under section 3504(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act. Comments relating to this requirement should be directed to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs Of OMB, Attention: Desk Officer for Commerce, Patent and Trademark Office.

§1.750 Determination of eligibilty for extension of patent term.

A determination as to whether a patent is eligible for extension may be made by the Commissioner solely on the basis of the representations contained in the application for extension filed pursuant to §1.740 of this part. This determination may be delegated to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office officials and may be made at any time before the certificate the extension is issued. The Commissioner or other appropriate officials may require further information before a final determination is made on whether a patent is eligible for extension. A notice will be mailed to applicant containing the determination as to the eligibility of the patent for extension and the period of time of the extension, if any. This notice shall constitute the final determination as to the eligibility and any period of extension of the patent. A single request for reconsideration of a final determination may be made if filed by the applicant within such time as may be set or, if no time is set, within one month from the date of the final determination.

§1.760 Interim extension of patent term.

An applicant who has filed a complete application for extension pursuant to §1.740 of this part may request one or more interim extensions for periods of up to one year pending a final determination on the application pursuant to §1.750 of this part. Any such request should be filed at least three months prior to the expiration date of the patent. The Commissioner may issue interim extensions, without a request by the applicant, for periods of up to one year until a final determination is made. In no event will the interim extensions granted under this section be longer than the maximum period of extension to which the applicant would be eligible.

§1.765 Duty of disclosure in patent term extension proceedings.

(a) A duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office and the Secretary of Health and Human Services rests on the patent owner or its agent, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner, and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a patent term extension proceeding. All such individuals who are aware, or become aware, of information material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought, which has not been previously made of record in the patent term extension proceeding must bring such information to the attention of the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, as soon as it is practical to do so after the individual becomes aware of the information. Information is material where there is a substantial likelihood that the Office or the Secretary would consider it important in determinations to be made in the patent term extension proceeding.

(b) Disclosures pursuant to this section must be accompanied by a copy of each written document which is being disclosed. The disclosure must be made to the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, unless the disclosure is material to determinations to be made by both the Office and the Secretary, in which case duplicate copies, certified as such, must be filed in the Office and with the Secretary. Disclosures pursuant to this section may be made to the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, through an attorney or agent having responsibility on behalf of the patent owner or its agent for the patent term extension proceeding or through a patent owner acting on his or her own behalf. Disclosure to such an attorney, agent or patent owner shall satisfy the duty of any other individual. Such an attorney, agent or patent owner has no duty to transmit information which is not material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought.

(c) No patent will be determined eligible for extension and no extension will be issued if it is determined that fraud on the Office or the Secretary was practiced or attemped or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the patent term extension proceeding. If it is established by clear and convincing evidence (1) that any fraud was practiced or attempted on the Office of the Secretary in connection with the patent term extension proceeding or (2) that there was any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the patent term extension proceeding, a final determination will be made pursuant to §1.750 that the patent is not eligible for extension.

(d) The duty of disclosure pursuant to this section rests on the individuals identified in paragraph (a) of this section and no submission on behalf of third parties, in the form of protests or otherwise, will be considered by the Office. Any such submission by third parties to the Office will be returned to the party making the submission, or otherwise disposed of, without consideration by the Office.

§1.770 Express withdrawal of application for extension of term.

An application for extension of patent term may be expressely withdrawn before a determination is made pursuant to §1.750 by filing in the Office, in duplicate, a written declaration of withdrawal signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent. An application may not be expressly withdrawn after the date of the final determination on the application. An express withdrawal pursuant to this section is effective when acknowledged in writing by the Office. The filing of an express withdrawal pursuant to this section and it acceptance by the Office does not entitle applicant to a refund of the filing fee (§1.20(n)) or any portion thereof.

§1.775 Calculation of patent term extension for a human drug product.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to §1.750 of this part that a patent for a human drug product is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a human drug product will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1)-(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a human drug product will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B), it is the sum of

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the approved human drug product and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for such drug product under those sections or under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved human drug product under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act. subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date such application was approved under such section.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a human drug product will be determined by

(1) Substracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(c)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence;

(iii) One-half the numbers of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) By adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, or subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) If the original patent was issued after Sept. 24, 1984.

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before Sept. 24, 1984.

If not request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 of subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, by (A) adding 5 years to the original expriation date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer and (B) by comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(ii) If a request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, or Cosmetic Act and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before Sept. 24, 1984, by (A) adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and (B) by comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

§1.776 Calculation of patent term extension for a food additive or color additive.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to §1.750 of this part that a patent for a food additive or color additive is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a food additive or color additive will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Service, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraph (d)(1)-(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a food additive or color additive will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(2)(B), it is the sum of

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date of major health or environmental effects test on the additive was initiated and ending on the date a petition was initially submitted with respect to the approved product under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act requesting the issuance of a regulation for use of the product; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date a petition was initially submitted with respect to the approved product under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act requesting the issuance of a regulation for use of the product, and ending on the date such regulation became effective or, if objections were filed to such regulation, ending on the date such objections were resolved and commercial marketing was permitted or, if commercial marketing was permitted and later revoked pending further proceedings as a result of such objections, ending on the date such proceedings were finally resolved and commercial marketing was permitted.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a food additive or color additive will be determined by

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued:

(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.S. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence:

(iii) The number of days equal to one-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by an terminal disclaimer;

(3) By adding 14 years to the date a regualtion for use of the product became effective or, if objections were filed to such regulation, to the date such objections were resolved and commercial marketing was permitted or, if commercial marketing was permitted and later revoked pending further proceedings as a result of such objections, to the date such proceedings were finally resolved and commercial marketing was permitted:

(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) If the original patent was issued after September 24, 1984,

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before September 24, 1984.

(i) If no major health or environmental effects test was initiated and no petition for a regulation or application for registration was submitted, by (A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer and (B) by comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date:

(ii) If a major health or environmental effects test was initiated or a petition for a regulation or application for registration was submitted, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before September 24, 1984, by (A) adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and (B) by comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

§1.777 Calculation of patent term extension for a medical device.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to §1.750 of this part that a patent for a medical device is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date as set by terminal disclaimer (§1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a medical device will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1)–(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a medical device will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(3)(B), it is the sum of

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date a clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun and ending on the date an application was initially submitted with respect to the device under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted with respect to the device under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and ending on the date such application was approved under such Act or the period beginning on the date a notice of completion of a product development protocol was initially submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Act and ending on the date the protocol was declared completed under section 515(f)(6) of the Act.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a medical device will be determined by

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued:

(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence:

(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction:

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer:

(3) By adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act or the date a product development protocol was declared completed under section 515(f)(6) of the Act:

(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date:

(5) If the original patent was issued after September 24, 1984.

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date:

(6) If the original patent was issued before September 24, 1984,

(i) If no clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun or no product development protocol was submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, by (A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer and (B) by comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(ii) If a clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun or a product development protocol was submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before September 24, 1984, by (A) adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and (B) by comparing dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

§1.780 Certificate of extension of patent term.

If a determination is made pursuant to §1.750 of this part that a patent is eligible for extension and that the term of the patent is to be extended, a certificate of extension, under seal, will be issued to the applicant for the extension of the patent term. Such certificates will be recorded in the official file of the patent and will be considered as part of the original patent. Notification of the issuance of the certificate of extension will be published in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. No certificate of extension will be issued if the term of the patent cannot be extended, even though the patent is otherwise determined to be eligible for extension. In such situations the final determination made pursuant to §1.750 will indicate that no certificate will issue.

§1.785 Multiple applications for extension of term of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product.

Only one patent may be extended for a regulatory review period for any product (§1.720(g)). If more than one application for extension of the same patent is filed, the certificate of extension of patent term, if appropriate, will be issued based upon the first filed application for extension. If applications are filed for extension of the terms of different patents based upon the same regulatory review period for a product, the certificate of extension of patent term will be issued to the patent having the earliest date of issuance, if the patent is determined to be eligible for extension of patent term pursuant to § 1.750 and if the application for its extension is filed prior to the issuance of a certificate of extension of patent term of the later issued patent.

BILLING CODE 3510-16-M

(130) Guidelines for the Submission of Applications for Interim Protection of Mask Works Under 17 U.S.C. 914

Chapter 9 of Title 17 of the United States Code, the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984, establishes a new form of intellectual property protection for mask works that are fixed in semiconductor chips. Mask works are defined as a "series of related images, however fixed or encoded" that represent the three-dimensional patterns in the layers of a semiconductor chip. This chapter provides a 10 year term of protection for original mask works measured from their date of registration on first commercial exploitation anywhere in the world. Mask works must be registered in the United States Copyright Office within two years' of first commercial exploitation to maintain this protection.

This chapter denies protection to foreign owners of mask works unless the works are first commercially exploited in the United States. It is contemplated that foreign countries will eventually obtain full protection by concluding treaties or enacting chip protection legislation. In order to encourage steps toward a regime of internatonal comity in mask work protection, Section 914(a) provides that the Secretary of Commerce may extend the privilege of interim protection under the Semiconductor Chip Act to nationals of foreign nations under certain conditions. These are: (1) that the foreign nation in question is making progress (either by treaty negotiation or legislative enactment) toward a regime of mask work protection generally similar to that under the Act; (2) that its nationals and persons controlled by them (such as subsidiaries or affiliated companies) are not engaging and have not in the recent past engaged in chip piracy or the sale of products containing infringing semiconductor components; and (3) that entry of the Secretary's order would promote the purposes of the Act and of achieving international comity toward mask work protection.

This notice establishes initial guidelines that specify the content and procedures for the submission of petitions for the Secretary of Commerce to issue or to terminate an Order extending the privilege of making interim registrations for mask works pursuant to chapter 9 of Title 17 of the United States Code. The Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks has been delegated the responsibility to receive petitions, conduct proceedings, make findings, and issue or terminate Orders. These guidelines set forth, in accordance with the statutory provisions, the persons eligible to initiate such proceedings, the procedures to be followed, and the information required to be submitted so that the Commissioner can make the determination required by the statute.

(131) Errors in Notice of Allowance

The purpose of this notice is to clarify existing Office practice with respect to providing a new issue fee due date. Sometimes errors appear on the Notice of Allowance, such as an incorrect number of claims, the misspelling of an inventor's name, an incorrect inventorship, or an incorrect title. A duplicate Notice of Allowance correcting the errors may be requested from the Group that mailed the Notice. However, a new issue fee due date will not be provided if the information on the original Notice of Allowance is sufficient to allow a reasonable practitioner to timely file a proper issue fee in the correct application. Specifically, the mere filing of a request for a corrected or duplicate Notice of Allowance will not act to stay the period for paying the issue fee.

(132) Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120

The Patent and Trademark Office has established initial guidelines for patent examiners to use in implementing the changes made in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120 by Public Law 98-622, the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984. As a service to the public, those guidelines are published below. A copy of Public Law 98–622 is also being published concurrently herewith. Some of the procedural aspects of matters contained in the guidelines will be incorporated into Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulation through the rule-making process.

RENE D. TEGTMEYER,
Dec. 11, 1984. Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 103

Public Law 98–622 added a new sentence to 35 U.S.C. 103 which reads as follows:

"Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person."

The significant features resulting from this amendment to §103 are the following:

(1) The only prior art which is disqualified is prior art under §102(f) or (g) where the subject matter, i.e., the prior art, and the invention "were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person." (Person includes organization.)
(2) If the subject matter (prior art) qualifies as prior art under any other section, e.g., §102(a), (b), or (e), it is still prior art and can be used.
(3) Amendment applies only to subject matter which qualifies as prior art under §103; it does not affect subject matter which qualifies as prior art under §102, i.e., anticipatory prior art.
(4) Term "another person" means any inventive entity other than the inventor and includes the inventor and any other person.
(5) Term "developed" is to be read broadly and is not limited to any particular manner of development.
(6) Subject matter derived from another under §102(f) is prior art under §103 unless the derived subject matter and the claimed invention are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person at the time the claimed invention was made.
(7) The disclosure of an earlier filed patent application which issues as a patent continues to be prior art under §102(e) against a later invented and filed application of another inventor even though the patent and the later application are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person.
(8) Commonly owned applications, i.e., applications owned by the same person, may be refiled as a single application to avoid one or more of them becoming prior art against another under §§102(e) and 103.
(9) The phrase "owned by the same person" requires that the same person, persons, or organization own 100% of the subject matter (prior art) and 100% of the claimed invention.
(10) The phrase "subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person" requires that a legal obligation of assignment exist and not merely a moral or unenforceable obligation.
(11) As long as the same person owns the subject matter and the invention at the time the claimed invention was made, a license to another may be made without the subject matter becoming prior art.
(12) Amended §103 requires actual ownership (or obligation to assign) be in existence at the time the claimed invention is made for the subject matter to be disqualified as prior art; acquiring one or the other later is not sufficient.
(13) Burden of establishing that subject matter is disqualified as prior art is placed on patent applicant and not on the patent examiner once the examiner establishes a prima facie case of obviousness based on the prior art.
(14) Double patenting rejections may now be made in applications based on commonly owned patents of different inventive entities and double patenting rejections of the obviousness type can be overcome by terminal disclaimers.
(15) A double patenting rejection may also be made in a later filed application where the application/patent on which the rejection is based and the later filed application are not commonly owned as long as one of the inventors is common between the later filed application and the application/patent; such a rejection cannot be overcome by terminal disclaimer in view of the lack of common ownership.
(16) The Commissioner's Notice of January 9, 1967, "Double Patenting", 834 O.G. 1615 (Jan. 31, 1967) is withdrawn to the extent that it does not authorize a double patenting rejection where different inventive entities are present.
(17) Inventors of subject matter not commonly owned at the time of the invention may file as joint inventors in a single application. However, the claims in such an application are not protected from a §102(f)/103 or §102(g)/103 rejection.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 103

A. Applications To Be Considered
(1) Amended §103 does not "affect any final decision made by the court or the Patent and Trademark Office before the date of enactment [November 8, 1984]... with respect to a patent or application for patent, if no appeal from such decision is pending and the time for filing an appeal has expired."
(2) The amendment of §103 will not be considered to apply to:
(a) Any application which has been abandoned prior to November 8, 1984, unless such application is revived pursuant to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.137(a) or (b) and is pending on or after November 8, 1984;
(d) Any application in which all the claims have been allowed and in which prosecution has been closed prior to November 8, 1984, e.g., by an Ex parte Quayle action, a Notice of allowability, or a Notice of Allowance. However, a continuing application would obtain the benefit of amended §103 if filed prior to the abandonment or issuance of the application; and
(c) Any application in which an appeal has been filed and is no longer pending or in which the time for filing an appeal has expired prior to November 8, 1984. However if the application contains allowed claims on or after November 8, 1984, the allowed claims are subject to amended §103.
(3) The amendment to §103 will be applied to any application (a) which is before the examiner for action and in which all the claims have not been allowed and the prosecution closed or (b) in which prosecution has been closed and is being reopened to reject the allowed claims on grounds other than §102(f)/103 or §102(g)/103.
(4) Applications not before the examiner for action, e.g., an application in which a response from applicant is required, will not be considered as to the applicability of amended §103 unless applicant takes timely action which properly requires an action on the merits by the examiner.

B. Conflicting Co-pending Applications Of Different Inventive Entities With No Indication That They Are Commonly Owned
(1) If the application files do not establish that they are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person, the examiner will:
(a) assume that the applications are not commonly owned;
(b) examine the applications on all grounds other than any conflict between the applications;
(c) consider the applicability of §102(f)/103 or §102(g)/103 if one application refers to the other (if there is no cross-reference between the applications it would be inappropriate for the examiner to refer to one application in the other in view of 35 U.S.C. 122);
(d) consider interference if appropriate;
(e) suspend the later filed application if it is otherwise allowable until the earlier filed application is abandoned or issues as a patent and then reject the later filed application under §102(e)/103, if appropriate; and
(f) proceed under item C below if at any time during the examination a statement is made that the applications are commonly owned.

C. Conflicting Co-pending Applications Of Different Inventive Entities Which Are Commonly Owned
(1) Co-pending applications will be considered by the examiner to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person if (a) the application files refer to assignments recorded in the PTO in accordance with 37 CFR 1.331 which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person(s) or organization(s); or (b) copies of unrecorded assignments which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person(s) or organization(s) are filed in each of the applications; or (c) an affidavit or declaration by the common owner is filed which states that there is common ownership and explains why the affiant believes there is common ownership; or (d) other evidence is submitted which establishes common ownership of the applications in question, e.g., a court decision determining the owner. In circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration averring common ownership may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.
(2) If the application files establish that they are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person, the examiner will:

(a) examine the applications as to all grounds except §§102(f) and (g) as they apply through §103 if the application files establish common ownership at the time the later invention was made;
(b) examine the applications for double patenting, including double patenting of the obviousness type, and make a provisional rejection, if appropriate, (see In re Mott, 190 USPQ 536 (CCPA 1976);
(c) examine the later filed application under §102(e) as it applies through §103 and make a provisional rejection under §102(e)/103 in the later filed application, if appropriate;
(d) permit applicant of the later filed application to file an affidavit under 37 CFR 1.131 to overcome the provisional or actual §102(e)/103 rejection, if appropriate, and a terminal disclaimer to overcome the provisional or actual rejection on double patenting of the obviousness type.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 116

Public Law 98–622 amended 35 U.S.C. 116 to clarify that each inventor need not "sign the application" in addition to making the required oath and to add a new sentence which reads as follows:

"Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though (1) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (2) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent."

The significant features resulting from these amendments to §116 are the following:

(1) The joint inventors do not have to separately "sign the application," but only need apply for the patent jointly and make the required oath by signing the same; this is a clarification, but not a change in current practice.
(2) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "they did not work together or at the same time," thereby clarifying (a) that it is not necessary that the inventors physically work together on a project, and (b) that one inventor may "take a step at one time, the other an approach at different times." (Monsanto Co. v. Kamp, 154 USPQ 259 (D.D.C. 1967)).
(3) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "each did not make the same type or amount of contribution," thereby clarifying the "fact that each of the inventors plays a different role and that the contribution of one may not be as great as that of another does not detract from the fact that the invention is joint, if each makes some original contribution, though partial, to the final solution of the problem." Monsanto, supra.
(4) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent."
(5) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly as long as each inventor made a contribution, i.e., was an inventor or joint inventor, of the subject matter of at least one claim of the patent; there is no requirement that all the inventors be joint inventors of the subject matter of any one claim.
(6) If an application by joint inventors includes more than one independent and distinct invention, restriction may be required with the possible result of a necessity to change the inventorship named in the application if the elected invention was not the invention of all the originally named inventors.
(7) The amendment to §116 increases the likelihood that different claims of an application or patent may have different dates of invention; when necessary the Office or court may inquire of the patent applicant or owner concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 116

(1) See items (1) to (4) above under "Applications To Be Considered" for applications to be considered under amended §116.
(2) Pending applications will be permitted to be amended by complying with 37 CFR 1.48 to add claims to inventions by inventors not named when the application was filed as long as such inventions were disclosed in the application as filed since 37 CFR 1.48 permits correction of inventorship where the "correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors".
(3) Under amended §116 an examiner will reject claims under §102(f) only in circumstances where a named inventor is not the inventor of at least one claim in the application; no rejection under §102(f) is appropriate if a named inventor made a contribution to the invention defined in any claim of the application.
(4) Under amended §116 considered in conjunction with amended §103, a rejection may be appropriate under §102(f)/103 where the subject matter, i.e., prior art, and the claimed invention were not owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person at the time the invention was made.
(5) Applicants are responsible for correcting, and will be required to correct, the inventorship in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 when the application is amended to change the claims so that one (or more) of the named inventors is no longer an inventor of the subject matter of a claim remaining in the application.
(6) In requiring restriction in an application filed by joint inventors the examiner will remind applicants of the necessity to correct the inventorship pursuant to 37 CFR 1.48 if an invention is elected and the claims to the invention of one or more inventors are cancelled.
(7) The examiner will not inquire of the patent applicant concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims until it becomes necessary to do so in order to properly examine the application.
(8) If an application is filed with joint inventors, the examiner will assume that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time the inventions covered therein were made, unless there is evidence to the contrary. If inventors of subject matter, not commonly owned at the time of the later invention, file a joint application, applicants have an obligation pursuant to 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim and the lack of common ownership at the time the later invention was made in order that the examiner may consider the applicability of §102(f)/103 or §102(g)/103. The examiner will assume, unless there is evidence to the contrary, that applicants are complying with their duty of disclosure.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 120

Public Law 98–622 amended 35 U.S.C. 120 by striking out "by the same inventor" and inserting in its place "which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application."

The amended first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 120 (the bracketed portion was deleted and the underlined portion added) reads as follows:

§120. Benefit of earlier filing date in the United States

An appliction for patent for an invention disclosed in the manner provided by the first paragraph of section 112 of this title in an application previously filed in the United States, or as provided by section 363 of this title, [by the same inventor] which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application shall have the same effect, as though filed on the date of the prior application, if filed before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the first application or on an application similarly entitled to the benefit of the filing date of the first application and if it contains or is amended to contain a specific reference to the earlier filed application."

The significant features of these amendments to §120 are the following:

(1) A later filed application by an inventor or inventors of a previously filed co-pending application may claim the benefit of the previously filed co-pending application under §120 even though the later filed application does not name all of the same inventors as the previously filed application.
(2) In order for the later filed application to be entitled to claim the benefit of the earlier filed co-pending application under §120 the earlier filed co-pending application must
   (a) have at least one inventor in common with the later filed application; and
   (b) disclose the common inventor's invention in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112, i.e., fully disclose and support at least one of the common inventor's claims found in the later application.
(3) When necessary the Patent and Trademark Office or a court may inquire of the patent applicant or owner as to who invented, and the date of invention of, the subject matter being claimed in any claims in the later filed application.
(4) Double patenting rejections may be applicable, whether or not the applications and patents are commonly owned as long as the applications/patent(s) have at least one inventor in common.
(5) If the applications and patents are commonly owned, the rejection of the applications on the grounds of double patenting can be overcome by an appropriate terminal disclaimer as long as the identical invention is not being claimed. See In re Robeson, 141 USPQ 485 (CCPA 1964), and In re Kaye, 141 USPQ 829 (CCPA 1964).
(6) If the applications and patents are not commonly owned, the double patenting rejection is entered in the later filed application and cannot be overcome by a terminal disclaimer since the ownership of the subject matter being claimed belongs to someone other than the owner of the later application.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 120

(1) See items (1) to (4) above under "Applications To Be Considered" for applications to be considered under amended §120.
(2) The examiner will examine any earlier filed co-pending application to which priority is claimed under §120 to determine if
   (a) the earlier filed co-pending application has at least one inventor in common with the later filed application;
   (b) the other requirements for claiming benefit under §120 are met; and
   (c) a rejection on the grounds of double patenting is proper.
(3) As long as the formal requirements for claiming benefit under §120 are met, the examiner will permit the claim to be made without examining the earlier filed co-pending application for disclosure and support of at least one claim of the later filed application under the first paragraph of §112 unless it becomes necessary to do so, e.g. because of an interference or an intervening reference.
(4) The examiner will not inquire of the patent applicant as to who invented, and the date of invention of, the subject matter being claimed in any claims in the later filed application until it becomes necessary to do so in order to properly examine the application.
(5) The examiner will examine the earlier and later filed applications and make actual or provisional rejections for double patenting where appropriate, whether or not the applications are commonly owned.

Example 1 - Single Application - Plural Inventors

Inventors A and B, both employees of Company E with obligation to assign all their inventions to E develop inventions X and Y respectively. An application for patent is properly filed listing A and B as joint inventors and with claims to both X and Y as now possible under §116 as amended by Public Law 98–622.

Situation 1.

The claims to X and Y are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

If otherwise patentable over the prior art—allows application.

Situation 2.

The claims to X and Y are patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

Require restriction and election of claims to either X or Y. The applicant, after election, must correct the inventorship of the application to list only the inventor of the elected invention; for example, inventor A if claims to invention X were elected. A divisional application with B as inventor and claims to Y may claim benefit of the originally filed application under 35 U.S.C. 120 as amended by Public Law 98–622.

Situation 3.

The application contains a Markush-type claim to X and Y and separate species claims to X and Y.

Examiner's Action:

(a) Examine the application to determine if the inventions X and Y are restrictable. If so, the claims to elected invention X (assume X is elected by applicants) and the X portion of the Markush claim to X and Y are examined.
   (i) if the claim to X is allowable, the entire Markush claim and the species claim to Y must also be examined.
   (ii) if the claim to X is not allowable, no further action on species claim Y or the Y portion of the Markush claim is required.

The inventorship of the application at the time of allowance must be corrected, if necessary, to correspond to the inventions covered by the claims allowed.

Example 2 - Multiple applications - plural inventions

Inventors A and B, both employees of Company E, with obligation to assign all their inventions to E, develop inventions X and Y with Y being developed by B after knowledge of A's development of X. A files application on X before B's development of Y and B later files application. Both applications establish they are owned by Company E.

Situation 1.

The claims to X and Y are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

(a) Examine the applications as to all grounds except §102(f) and (g) as they apply through §103;
(b) Make a provisional rejection of the later filed application on the grounds of double patenting of the obviousness type, if appropriate. If a terminal disclaimer is filed in accordance with §1.321(b), the provisional double patenting rejection of the obviousness type will be overcome;

(c) Examine the later filed application under §102(e)/103 and make a provisional rejection based on § 102(e)/103, if appropriate. An affidavit under §1.131 can be filed to overcome the rejection based on § 102(e)/103.

Situation 2.

After receiving the examiner's action in situation 1, A and B filed a continuation-in-part application with inventor C and claim A's invention, B's invention and an improvement they jointly developed with C. A and B abandon their prior applications.

Examiner's Action:

Examine the application in the normal manner; no double patenting and §102(e)/103 problems now exist.

Example 3 - Two copending applications with no indication in the record of common ownership

Inventor A files an application with claims to invention X. Another copending application is filed by inventor B claiming invention Y. There is no indication of common ownership.

Situation 1.

The claims in the two applications are directed to patentably distinct inventions.

Examiner's Action:

If the claims are otherwise allowable, the applications are both allowed.

Situation 2.

The claims in the two applications are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

The applications are prosecuted until one application is allowable. If the time difference between the two applications is too large to declare an interference, action on the later filed application is suspended until the earlier filed application issues as a patent. At that time the later filed application is rejected over the earlier filed application under §102(e)/103.

If the filing dates of the applications are sufficiently close to declare an interference, claims for an interference should be suggested. If the applications are commonly owned, the common owner must make the ownership known. When such common ownership is made known, a provisional double patenting rejection should be made in the later filed application. If the double patenting rejection is of the obviousness type, a terminal disclaimer under 37 CFR 1.321(b) may be filed. The later filed application should be examined under §102(e)/103 and a provisional rejection based on §102(e)/103 should be made in the later filed application, if appropriate. An affidavit under §1.131 can be filed to overcome a rejection based on §102(e)/103.

Example 4 - Claims in single application by different inventors

An application for patent is filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in which the owner E sets forth the following information.

"The subject matter of claim 1 was invented by inventor A. The subject matter of claim 2 was invented by inventor B. Inventor B knew of the invention of inventor A at the time he made his invention. Both A and B made their inventions while working for owner E with a duty to assign". The inventions are different but not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

If the claims are patentable over the prior art, the application should be allowed.

Public Law 98-622
Signed November 8, 1984

Ninety-eighth Congress of the United States of America

AT THE SECOND SESSION

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Monday, the twenty-third day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eighty-four

An Act

To amend title 35, United States Code, to increase the effectiveness of the patent laws, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SHORT TITLE

SECTION 1. This Act may be cited as the "Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984".

TITLE I—PATENT IMPROVEMENT PROVISIONS

USE OF PATENTED INVENTIONS OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

SEC. 101.(a) Section 271 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(f)(1) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States all or a substantial portion of the components of a patented invention, where such components are uncombined in whole or in part, in such manner as to actively induce the combination of such components outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer.

"(2) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States any component of a patented invention that is especially made or especially adapted for use in the invention and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial noninfringing use, where such component is uncombined in whole or in part, knowing that such component is so made or adapted and intending that such component will be combined outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer."

STATUTORY INVENTION REGISTRATION

SEC. 102.(a) Chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

"§157. Statutory invention registration

"(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Commissioner is authorized to publish a statutory invention registration containing the specification and drawings of a regularly filed application for a patent without examination if the applicant:

"(1) meets the requirements of section 112 of this title;

"(2) has complied with the requirements for printing, as set forth in regulations of the Commissioner;

"(3) waives the right to receive a patent on the invention within such period as may be prescribed by the Commissioner; and

"(4) pays application, publication, and other processing fees established by the Commissioner.

If an interference is declared with respect to such an application, a statutory invention registration may not be published unless the issue of priority of invention is finally determined in favor of the applicant.

"(b) The waiver under subsection (a)(3) of this section by an applicant shall take effect upon publication of the statutory invention registration.

"(c) A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall have all of the attributes specified for patents in this title except those specified in section 183 and sections 271 through 289 of this title. A statutory invention registration shall not have any of the attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than this title. A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall give appropriate notice to the public, pursuant to regulations which the Commissioner shall issue, of the preceding provisions of this subsection. The invention with respect to which a statutory invention certificate is published is not a patented invention for purposes of section 292 of this title.

"(d) The Secretary of Commerce shall report to the Congress annually on the use of statutory invention registrations. Such report shall include an assessment of the degree to which agencies of the Federal Government are making use of the statutory invention registration system, the degree to which it aids the management of federally developed technology, and an assessment of the cost savings to the Federal Government of the use of such procedures.".

(b) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"157. Statutory invention registration.".

(c) The amendments made by this section shall take effect six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

PRIOR ART

SEC. 103. Section 103 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person."

JOINT INVENTORS

SEC. 104. (a) Section 116 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"When an invention is made by two or more persons jointly, they shall apply for patent jointly and each make the required oath, except as otherwise provided in this title. Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though (1) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (2) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent.".

(b) Section 120 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "by the same inventor" and inserting in lieu thereof "which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application".

ARBITRATION OF INTERFERENCES

SEC. 105. Section 135 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(d) Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.".

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 106. (a) Subject to subsections (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section, the amendments made by this Act shall apply to all United States patents granted before, on, or after the date of enactment of this Act, and to all applications for United States patents pending on or filed after the date of enactment.

(b) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect any final decision made by the court or the Patent and Trademark Office before the date of enactment of this Act with respect to a patent or application for patent, if no appeal from such decision is pending and the time for filing an appeal has expired.

(c) Section 271(f) of title 35, United States Code, added by section 101 of this Act shall apply only to the supplying, or causing to be supplied, of any component or components of a patented invention after the date of enactment of this Act.

(d) No United States patent granted before the date of enactment of this Act shall abridge or affect the right of any person or his successors in business who made, purchased, or used prior to such effective date anything protected by the patent, to continue the use of, or to sell to others to be used or sold, the specific thing so made, purchased, or used, if the patent claims were invalid or otherwise unenforceable on a ground obviated by section 103 or 104 of this Act and the person made, purchased, or used the specific thing in reasonable reliance on such invalidity or unenforceability. If a person reasonably relied on such invalidity or unenforceability, the court before which such matter is in question may provide for the continued manufacture, use, or sale of the thing made, purchased, or used as specified, or for the manufacture, use, or sale of which substantial preparation was made before the date of enactment of this Act, and it may also provide for the continued practice of any process practiced, or for the practice of which substantial preparation was made, prior to the date of enactment, to the extent and under such terms as the court deems equitable for the protection of investments made or business commenced before the date of enactment.

(e) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect the right of any party in any case pending in court on the date of enactment to have their rights determined on the basis of the substantive law in effect prior to the date of enactment.

Final Rules for Miscellaneous Patent Provisions

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of final rulemaking
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part I of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to provide rules and procedures for the miscellaneous patent provisions enacted into law by Public Laws 98–620 and 98–622, on Nov. 8, 1984, in which statutory invention registrations, changes in appeals to the courts, prior art and joint inventor provisions and PCT international application filing and processing procedures were established or amended. The rulemaking provides specific rules and procedures for the new and amended provisions.
Effective Date: May 8, 1985
For Further Information Contact: R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557–3054 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to establish a set of rules and procedures for the various requirements of Public Laws 98–620 and 98–622 concerning appeals to the courts, statutory invention registrations, rejections based on prior art and double patenting, and filing of international applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The proposed rules were published on Jan. 25, 1985 in Volume 50 of the Federal Register, pages 3712 through 3725. A public hearing was held on the proposed rule changes on Feb. 8, 1985.
Background Information: Most of the rule changes contained herein are necessary as a result of Public Laws 98–620 or 98–622, both of which were signed by President Reagan on Nov. 8, 1984. The following is a summary of the purposes of the various statutory amendments.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 103 - Unpublished knowledge of prior art.

Public Law 98–622 changes a complex body of case law which discourages communication among members of research teams working in corporations, universities or other organizations. It amended 35 U.S.C. section 103 by adding a new sentence which provides that subject matter developed by another which qualifies as "prior art" only under subsections 102(f) or (g) of 35 U.S.C. is not to be considered when determining whether an invention sought to be patented is obvious under 35 U.S.C. 103, provided the subject matter and the claimed invention were commonly owned at the time the invention was made.

"Prior art" is the existing body of technical information against which the patentability of an invention is judged. Publicly known information is always considered in determining whether an invention would have been obvious. However, under In re Bass, 474 F. 2d 1276, 177 USPQ 178 (CCPA 1973), and In re Clemens, 622 F.2d 1029, 206 USPQ 289 (CCPA 1980), an earlier invention which is not public could have been treated under 35 U.S.C. 102(g), and possibly under 102(f), as prior art with respect to a later invention made by another employee of the same organization.

New technology often is developed by using background scientific or technical information known within an organization but unknown to the public. Public Law 98–622, by disqualifying such background information from prior art, encourages communication among members of research teams, and leads to more public dissemination through patents of the results of team research.

The subject matter that is disqualified as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103 is strictly limited to subject matter that qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or 102(g). If the subject matter qualifies as prior art under any other subsection—e.g., subsection 102(a), 102(b) or 102(e)—it will not be disqualified as prior art under the amendment to section 103.

The contents of a patent of the same or different ownership as an application, continues to be available as prior art against the application under section 103 by virtue of section 102(e) as of the application filing date of the patent. If subject matter becomes potential prior art under section 102 (e) because a patent application is filed on such subject matter before a commonly owned claimed invention is made the subject matter of a later application the two applications may be combined (under amended §§116 and 120) into a single application and such subject matter (with the abandonment of the two applications) would no longer constitute potential prior art under section 102(e) or under section 103 since it would not be "described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another."

It is important to recognize that the amendment to the law applies only to consideration of prior art for purposes of section 103. It does not apply to or affect subject matter which qualifies as prior art under section 102. A patent applicant urging that subject matter is disqualified has the burden of establishing that it was commonly owned at the time the claimed invention was made.

Public Law 98–622 was not intended to permit anyone other than the inventors to be named in a patent application or patent. Also, the amendment was not intended to enable appropriation of the invention of another.

The Patent and Trademark Office has withdrawn the Commissioner's Notice of Jan. 9, 1967, "Double Patenting", 834 O.G. 1615 (Jan. 31, 1967), to the extent that it does not authorize a double patenting rejection where different inventive entities are present. See the Commissioner's Notice of Dec. 11, 1984, "Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120", 1050 O.G. 316 (Jan. 8, 1985). The Office is reinstituting, in appropriate circumstances, the practice of rejecting claims in commonly owned applications of different inventive entities on the ground of double patenting. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, column 3 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984) (statement of Rep. Kastenmeier); In re Rogers, 394 F.2d 566, 567 n. 4, 157 USPQ 569, 570 n. 4 (CCPA 1964). This is in accordance with existing case law and prevents an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. See In re Zickendraht, 319 F.2d 225, 138 USPQ 22 (CCPA 1963) ("The doctrine is well established that claims in different applications need be more than merely different in form or content; and that patentable distinction must exist to entitle applicants to a second patent") and In re Christensen, 330 F.2d 652, 141 USPQ 295 (CCPA 1964) (". . . the correct procedure for double patenting cases is to analyze the claims to determine the inventions defined therein, and then decide whether such inventions, as claimed are patentably distinct and therefore qualified to be claimed in separate patents"). In accordance with established patent law doctrines, double patenting rejections can be overcome in certain circumstances by disclaiming, pursuant to the existing provisions of 37 CFR 1.321, the terminal portion of the term of the later patent and including in the disclaimer a provision that the patent shall be enforceable only for and during the period the patent is commonly owned with the application or patent which formed the basis for the rejection, thereby eliminating the problem of extending patent life.

Information learned from or transmitted to persons outside the organization is not disqualified as prior art.

The term "subject matter" will be construed broadly, in the same manner the term is construed in the remainder of §103. The term "another" as used in §103 means any inventive entity other than the inventor and would include the inventor and any other persons. The term "developed" is to be read broadly and is not limited by the manner in which the development occurred. The term "commonly owned" means wholly owned by the same person, persons, or organization at the time the invention was made.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 116 - Joint inventor filing

35 U.S.C. 116 as amended by Public Law 98–622 recognizes the realities of modern team research. A research project may include many inventions. Some inventions may have contributions made by individuals who are not involved in other, related inventions.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 116 allows inventors to apply for a patent jointly even though (i) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (ii) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (iii) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent. Items (i) and (ii) adopt the rationale stated in decisions such as Monsanto v. Kamp, 269 F. Supp. 818, 154 USPQ 259 (D.D.C. 1967). Item (iii) adopts the rationale of cases such as SAB Industries AB v. Bendix Corp., 199 USPQ 95 (E.D. Va. 1978).

Like other patent applications, jointly-filed applications are subject to the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 121 that an application be directed to only a single invention. If more than one invention is included in the application, the Patent and Trademark Office may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions. In such a case, a "divisional" application complying with

VOL 1074 ISS 2
JAN 13 1987
UMI

35 U.S.C. 120 would be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filing date of the original application.

It is possible that different claims of an application or patent may have different dates of invention even though the patent covers only one independent and distinct invention within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. When necessary, the Patent and Trademark Office or a court may inquire of the patent application or owner concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 120 - Benefit of prior U.S. application

35 U.S.C. 120 was amended by Public Law 98-622 to provide that an application can obtain the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application when not all inventors named in the joint application are the same as those named in the earlier application. This amendment permits greater latitude in filing "divisional" applications. For example, if the previously filed application named inventors A and B as the inventors, a later application by either A or B could be filed during the pendency of the previously filed application and claim benefit of the previously filed application. In order for a claim to be entitled to the benefit of an earlier pending application, the subject matter of the claim of the later application would have to be disclosed in the earlier application.

Similarly, if inventor A filed an application on an invention and during the pendency of that application made an improvement on the subject matter of the application as a joint inventor with inventor B, the joint application filed on behalf of inventors A and B could claim the benefit of A's previously filed sole application to the extent that the later filed joint application contained claims directed solely to A's subject matter which was disclosed in the earlier filed pending application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of section 112 of title 35, U.S.C.

Likewise, an application filed by inventors A and C could claim the benefit of an earlier filed pending application of inventors A and B, to the extent that the requirements of section 120 could be met.

Like other patent applications, jointly-filed applications will continue to be subject to the requirement of 35 U.S.C. 121 that an application be directed to only a single invention. If more than one invention is included in the application, the Patent and Trademark Office may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions. In such a case, a "divisional" application would be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filing date of the original application.

New 35 U.S.C. 157 - Statutory Invention Registration (SIR)

This section which is effective on May 8, 1985, establishes an optional procedure by which an inventor may secure protection which is strictly defensive in nature.

Under current law, there is no simple, practical method by which an inventor can protect his or her ability to exploit the invention without obtaining a patent. The new procedure confers on an inventor the same defensive rights that a patent provides to prevent others from patenting the invention. However, it does not permit the holder to exclude others from making, using or selling the invention.

Due to the fact that a SIR does not grant an exclusive right to an inventor, it is not necessary to subject a SIR to the lengthy examination process required for the granting of a patent. Such an examination is necessary if the SIR is subject to an interference proceeding to determine priority of invention. In all other instances, the Patent and Trademark Office will only review the application for adherence to formal printing and fee payment requirements and to ensure that the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are satisfied.

An applicant desiring to have a SIR published will be required to file a regular complete application for a patent and to execute a request including a waiver of enforcement of patent rights. This waiver of the claimed invention will be effective at the time of publication. The original application can be abandoned in favor of a continuing application for a patent, claiming the filing date of the earlier filed application, by filing an express abandonment of the original application and a timely request or petition to withdraw the request for a SIR prior to publication of the SIR, thereby providing the applicant with flexibility during the pendency period of the application. Until the SIR is published the application remains an application for a patent. However, the holder of a SIR will not be able to file a reissue application to recapture the rights to exclusive use that were waived by the initial publication of the SIR.

The waiver of the right to receive a patent, required of all applicants electing to receive a SIR, applies to those remedies provided for the enforcement of a patent under section 183 and sections 271 through 289 of title 35, United States Code. The waiver also applies to remedies under other titles of the United States Code including sections 1337 and 1337a of title 19, section 2356 of title 22, and section 1498 of title 28. This waiver of enforcement applies only to the claimed subject matter of the SIR and not to any foreign patent arising from an application which might have served as the basis of a priority claim under the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property. Likewise, the waiver does not prevent the holder of a SIR from asserting any defenses provided in sections 271 through 289 of title 35, U.S.C. with respect to a charge of infringement of any other patent.

The Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks can refuse to accept the waiver in certain cases. For example, the waiver could not be accepted if the waiver is not a waiver of all the previously mentioned rights. The Commissioner also has discretion, which has not been exercised at this time, to set time limits on the waiver. This would allow the Commissioner to limit the ability of an inventor to keep inventions secret through a series of continuing patent applications followed by a conversion to a SIR.

The waiver of patent rights in the SIR to the subject matter claimed therein may affect the patentability of a claim in other related applications, particularly divisional applications, since the waiver of patent rights would be effective for all inventions claimed in the SIR and would be effective as a waiver of the right of the inventor to obtain a patent on the invention claimed in the same application or any other application, but not in any patent issued before the date the SIR is published. Where an application containing generic claims is published as a SIR, the waiver in that application applies to any other related applications, including divisions, continuations, and continuations-in-part, to the extent that the same invention claimed in the SIR is also claimed in the other related application.

The Patent and Trademark Office will apply standards similar to those which it applies in making determinations of "same invention" double patenting for purposes of determining whether or not a waiver by an inventor to claims in a SIR precludes patenting by the same inventor to subject matter in any other related application.

Therefore, the waiver would preclude patenting of an invention claimed by an inventor in a related application which is the same as the invention claimed by the same inventor in the SIR. When making this determination it is the claimed subject matter of the related application. Where the subject matter claimed in the related application is the same as the subject matter waived in the SIR, i.e., the "same invention" in the double patenting sense, the claims of the related application will be rejected as being precluded by the waiver in the SIR and cannot be overcome by a terminal disclaimer. The limitation of the scope of the waiver to the claimed invention would not affect the application of existing §1.658(c) should the SIR become involved in an interference. If a divisional application is filed and published as a SIR claiming only a method, publication thereof will not normally effect a waiver on an application for a patent claiming only an apparatus. The waiver in a SIR would not affect any rights in a patent which issued prior to the date of publication of the SIR, but would preclude an already issued patent from being broadened by reissue if the rights to the subject matter to which broadened claims relate have been waived by publication of the SIR. The waiver applies to any rights of the same inventor in any application pending when the SIR is published even if the inventor is a joint applicant in the pending application and was a sole applicant in the application published as a SIR. The waiver would not affect the rights of any other inventor even though those rights are commonly owned by the same person.

The holder of a SIR containing the required waiver will be left without the offensive rights associated with a patent. In other respects a SIR will be the same as a patent, including the application which is published as a SIR serving as the basis for a priority claim in a foreign application under the Paris Convention. A SIR will be treated the same as a U.S. patent for all defensive purposes. The application, and the SIR published therefrom, could become involved in an interference; the SIR would be a "constructive reduction to practice" under 35 U.S.C. 102(g); it will be "prior art" under all applicable sections of 35 U.S.C. 102 including section 102(e); and it will be classified, cross-referenced and placed in the search files, disseminated to foreign patent offices, stored in the Patent and Trademark Office computer tapes, made available in commercial data bases, and announced in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. A published SIR is intended to be a fully viable publication for defensive purposes, usable as a reference as of its filing date in the same manner as a patent. A SIR will also serve as a basis to initiate or participate in an interference or priority proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 291 in a manner similar to a patent and can be used as a reference in defense of an infringement suit.

A SIR is based on a regularly filed application for a patent. Therefore, the filing date of the application will be a sufficient basis for a priority claim in a foreign application. Article 4, section A(3) of the Paris Convention states:

> "By a regular national filing is meant any filing that is adequate to establish the date on which the application was filed in the country concerned, whatever may be the subsequent fate of the application."

After a SIR is published, markings such as "patent pending" are improper under section 292 of title 35 of the United States Code.

The SIR will serve as a replacement for the current "defensive publication program" which was established by regulation under 37 CFR 1.139. Although publication under the "defensive publication program" was intended to provide rights similar to those of the SIR, publication under that program has been held not to be available as evidence of prior knowledge as of its filing date under section 102(a) of title 35, U.S.C. (Ex parte Osmond, 191 USPQ 334 (P.T.O. Bd. App. 1976)). The use of a "defensive publication" as a reference to prevent a patent from issuing on a subsequent application is therefore limited. A SIR, on the other hand, will have a clear statutory basis in title 35, U.S.C. The SIR will be "prior art" and a "constructive reduction to practice" under section 102(a) and section 102(g), respectively, as of the filing date of the application on which it is based.

A SIR will not be subject to reexamination under sections 302 to 307 of title 35, United States Code.

The Commissioner is authorized to issue SIRs for defensive purposes, but is not required to do so. The Commissioner has discretion in determining whether or not a SIR should be issued on a particular application. In circumstances where the subject matter is obviously not an invention, is too informal to print, and so forth, the Commissioner has the right to refuse to publish the SIR.

SIRs will be published sooner than patents because no substantive examination will normally be required for SIRs. To the extent that examination is required, it will be conducted in the same manner as in any other patent application. Maintenance fees will not be charged for SIRs.

Since the fees set by the Commissioner for the new SIR procedure under section 157 of title 35, U.S.C. are not established under section 41(a) or (b) of that title, they are not subject to reduction if the applicant has small entity status.

If the fee for requesting publication is not paid at the time of filing of the waiver of the right to receive a patent, the Commissioner may set a period within which the fee must be paid to prevent abandonment of the application. Such a period would be subject to petitions and fees for extensions of time. If abandonment should occur, the application may be revived.

In the final analysis, the SIR procedures set forth in the law should give inventors defensive protection more cheaply than they could get by obtaining a patent. The procedure will allow the government and the private sector to make inventions public knowledge. Last, the SIR would be particularly useful to those with limited resources such as universities and small businesses, who have a new, less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 361, 366, 371, 372 and 376 - Miscellaneous provisions relating to the applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty.

Section 361(d) of title 35, United States Code, was amended effective May 8, 1985, to provide a one-month grace period from the date of filing an international application for payment of the basic international fee and the transmittal and search fees.

Section 366 of title 35, United States Code, was amended, effective May 8, 1985, to clarify the effect of withdrawal of an international application on claims for the benefit of its filing date. The withdrawal of an international application designating the United States will not deprive an applicant of the right to claim the benefit of the filing date of such an international application in a later filed application, provided the claim for benefit is made before that international application is withdrawn. Stated otherwise, this clarifies that withdrawing the designation of the United States in an international application is comparable to abandoning a national application as far as a claim for an earlier filing date is concerned.

National Stage

As a general proposition, the amendments made to 35 U.S.C. 371 set forth a legislative scheme, effective May 8, 1985, to provide greater flexibility in the Patent and Trademark Office for the handling of international applications. In addition, by relaxing the requirements which international applicants must satisfy by the commencement of the national stage, the amendments give international applicants benefits similar to those given national applications by section 111, 35 U.S.C. as amended by Public Law 97-247 with respect to the time for filing the national fee and oath or declaration.

Section 372(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended, effective May 8, 1985, to authorize the Commissioner to require a verification of the translation of an international application or any other document pertaining thereto if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English. An authorization for the Commissioner to require verification in appropriate cases is necessary since subsection (c)(2) of section 371 was amended to remove the requirement that the translation be verified in all cases.

Section 372(c) of title 35, United States Code, was deleted thereby discontinuing the requirement for payment of a special fee to maintain claims in an international application which were not searched by an international searching authority. This deletion was made to place international applications processed in the national stage on the same footing as purely national applications.

Section 376(a) of title 35, United States Code, was also amended by Public Law 98–622 to delete mention of the special fee in order to conform with the amendment of section 372(c).

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.11 is amended as proposed to add a reference to published statutory invention registrations in paragraph (a) to indicate that they are available to the public. The portion of present §1.11(a) which deals with interferences is transferred to a new paragraph (e) and rewritten.

The amendment to paragraph (b) deletes reference to § 1.139, which is being deleted in favor of the SIR, and inserts language which covers opening to the public defensive publications published under §1.139 as well as other applications laid open to the public such as the previously published abstracts and abbreviatures.

Section 1.11 is amended as proposed to delete the word "general" before public as unnecessary.

New paragraph (e) of §1.11 is added to cover the availability to the public of all interferences, including those which involved a statutory invention registration. This paragraph applies to interferences declared under the new rules which became effective on Feb. 11, 1985, 49 F.R. 48416, (Dec. 12, 1984) as well as the rules formerly in effect. The term "award of priority" is intended to refer to those decisions of the Board of Patent Interferences, or Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, awarding priority in interferences conducted under the former rules. The term "judgment" refers to judgments entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in interferences conducted under the new rules. The language of the proposed rule has been slightly modified for clarity in the final rule.

Section 1.14 is amended as proposed to delete reference to §1.139 since that section is being removed.

Section 1.17 paragraph (h) is amended as proposed to include the petition fee required by new §1.295.

Section 1.17 is amended to add new paragraphs (n) and (o) to establish fees for requesting publication of statutory invention registrations. Paragraph (n) establishes a $400.00 fee for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration where no first examiner's action pursuant to §1.104 has been issued in the application. The amount paid for basic filing fees under §1.16(a), (f) or (g) will be credited against this amount. For example, if a $300.00 filing fee was paid, only $100.00 additional would be required for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration.

The addition of paragraph (o) to §1.17 is similar to the addition of paragraph (n) but establishes a fee for requesting publication of applications, which have received any examiner's action pursuant to §1.104, as a statutory invention registration. The higher fee of $800.00 set in paragraph (o) is necessary in view of the expenditure of additional Office resources in examining the application prior to the filing of the request for a statutory invention registration.

Section 1.19 is amended as proposed to provide in paragraph (a)(1) a reference to the cost of a printed copy of a statutory invention registration and in paragraph (e) to provide reference to statutory invention registrations listed by subclass.

Section 1.20 is amended as proposed to delete the requirement to pay maintenance fees in all plant patents in view of the amendment in Public Law 98–622. Paragraph 1.20(m) is amended as proposed to provide that non-timely payment of maintenance fees may be accepted in patents based on applications filed prior to Aug. 27, 1982, in accordance with Public Law 98–622.

Public Law 98–622 provides that no maintenance fees are charged for plant patents, regardless of when filed. Without this provision that no maintenance fees be charged for plant patents, plant patent owners whose applications were filed between the dates of enactment of Public Law 96–517 and Public Law 97–247 (Dec. 12, 1980 to Aug. 27, 1982) would be subject to payment of maintenance fees, while plant patent owners whose applications were filed outside those dates would not be subject to such fees. Public Law 98–622 eliminates that inconsistency.

Section 1.45 is amended as proposed to reflect the change made by Public Law 98–622 in 35 U.S.C. 116. The previously existing paragraph is designated as paragraph (a). New paragraph (b) incorporates the wording added to 35 U.S.C. 116 by Public Law 98–622. New paragraph (c) indicates that each named inventor listed in an application must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter of at least one claim of the application and that the application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116.

Section 1.48 is amended to add new paragraphs (b) and (c). New paragraph (b) provides for deleting the names of persons originally properly included as inventors, but whose invention is no longer being claimed in the application. Such a situation would arise where claims have been amended or deleted because they are unpatentable or as a result of a requirement for restriction of the application to one invention, or for other reasons. Public Law 98–622 and §1.48(b) change the result reached in Ex parte Lyon, 146 USPQ 222, 1965 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 362 (Bd. App. 1964). The final rule has fewer requirements than the proposed rule for correction of inventorship in this situation. The proposed rule would have required, in addition to the requirements of the final rule, an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by §1.63 and the written consent of any assignee. The final rule requires only a petition and fee with the petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application. The amendment would have to be diligently made under paragraph (b).

The final rule adds a paragraph (c) in response to a comment to provide for the situation where an application discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application as filed. In such a situation, the application may be amended pursuant to paragraph (a) of §1.48 to add claims to the subject matter and also to name the correct inventors for the application. The claims would be added by an amendment and, in addition, an amendment pursuant to paragraph (a) of §1.48 would be required to correct the inventors named in the application. Any claims added to the application must be supported by the disclosure as filed and cannot add new matter.

Section 1.60 is amended to include wording which would permit an application to be filed under this section only if it named as inventors the same or less than all the inventors who were named and signed the oath or declaration in the prior application. This addition is necessary in view of the new provisions of 35 U.S.C. 120, as amended by Public Law 98–622, which permit continuing applications to be filed by different inventors. Under §1.60 additional inventors are not permitted to be named since the oath or declaration from the prior application is relied upon.

Section 1.61 is amended as proposed to incorporate the ability to file the translation, oath or declaration, and national fee after the 20 month deadline set forth in PCT Article 22(1) for entering the national phase in the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Public Law 98–622 amended 35 U.S.C. 371(a) to provide greater flexibility for the PTO handling international applications. Also, 35 U.S.C. 371(a), by relaxing the requirements which international applicants must satisfy by the commencement of the national stage, gives international applicants benefits similar to those given national applicants under 35 U.S.C. 111 by P.L. 97–247 with respect to the time for filing the national fee and oath or declaration.

Paragraph (b) of §1.61 is amended to delete the 2 month time period to conform with the decision concerning PCT Article 22(2) adopted by the Assembly of the International Patent Cooperation Union (PCT Union) on Feb. 3, 1984. The amendment to the Article took effect on Jan. 1, 1985.

PCT Article 22(2) as amended, reads as follows:

> "Where the International Searching Authority makes a declaration, under Article 17(2)(a), that no international search report will be established, the time limit for performing the acts referred to in paragraph (1) of this Article shall be the same as that provided in paragraph (1)."

The additional wording to paragraph (b) of §1.61 sets forth the ability to comply with the requirements for entering the national phase before the Patent and Trademark Office as a Designated Office within 22 months of the priority date. If the national fee or oath or declaration is submitted later than 20 months after the priority date, a surcharge as set in §1.445(a) (5) is required to be paid. If a required English translation of the international application is filed later than 20 months after the priority date, a processing fee as set in §1.445(a) (6) is required to be paid.

New paragraph (c) of §1.61 provides that any amendments under PCT Article 19 which are not received along with any necessary English translation by the end of 20 months from the priority date will be considered as cancelled. This change is required in view of amended §371(d) of 35 U.S.C.

Paragraph (d) is added as proposed to §1.61 in view of §372(b) of title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 98–622, which authorizes the Commissioner to require a verification of the translation of an international application or any other document pertaining thereto if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English. An authorization for the Commissioner to require verification in appropriate cases was necessary since subsection (c) (2) of 35 U.S.C. 371 was amended to remove the requirement that the translation be verified in all cases.

Section 1.62 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c), and (h) to include wording which would permit a continuing application to be filed under this section by the same or less than all the same inventors who filed and signed the oath or delcaration in the prior application. This addition is necessary in view of the new provisions of 35 U.S.C. 120, as amended by Public Law 98–622, which permit continuing applications to be filed by different inventors. Under §1.62, additional inventors may be added only in applications in which a new oath or declaration is required because additional subject matter is being claimed. Paragraph (h) has been amended to also request applicants to furnish the title of the invention and the names of the applicants in the continuing application to permit the Office to enter this information in its records in the Application Branch.

Section 1.78 is amended to provide in paragraph (a) that the inventorship in the continuing application may be different from the inventorship in the prior copending application and that the prior application must disclose the invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. The requirement that at least one claim be fully supported in the prior application to be entitled to priority benefit is not new, but is included to serve as a reminder that information such as foreign patenting, publication, or public use or sale in the United States which occurred more than one year prior to the filing date of the later application is available as prior art where the claims of the continuation-in-part application are not fully supported by the disclosure of the parent application so as to be entitled to an earlier effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120. See In re Ruscetta, 255 F. 2d 687, 118 USPQ 101 (CCPA 1958); In re van Langenhoven, 458 F. 2d 132, 173 USPQ 426 (CCPA 1972), and Chromalloy American Corp. v. Alloy Surfaces Co., Inc., 339 F. Suppl. 859, 173 USPQ 295 (D. Del. 1972).

Paragraph (c) as amended provides for the reply to an examiner's inquiry as to first inventor of conflicting claims in commonly owned applications or an application and a patent to be either (1) a statement that the inventions were both commonly owned at the time the later invention was made or (2) an indication of the first inventor. Paragraph (c) has been changed from that proposed in response to comments to clarify that common ownership or an obligation of assignment to the same person has to exist at the time the later invention was made. New paragraph (d) provides for making a double patenting rejection where an application claims an invention which is not patentably distinct from an invention claimed in a commonly-owned patent with the same or different inventive entities. An obviousness-type double patenting rejection could be overcome by the assignee by submitting a terminal disclaimer complying with §1.321(b).

Section 1.101 is amended as proposed to delete reference to applications filed under §1.139 since this section is being removed.

Section 1.103 is amended as proposed to refer in paragraph (d) to a request "for a defensive publication" rather than a request "filed under §1.139" since §1.139 is being removed. Paragraph (d) is amended as proposed to also refer to "patent interference proceedings under Subpart E" rather than to "proceedings under §1.201(b)" since §1.201(b) has been removed.

Section 1.104 is amended as proposed to add a new paragraph (e) to specify the nature of the showing necessary before the examiner would consider co-pending applications to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person for purposes of 35 U.S.C. 102(f)/103, 102(g)/103, and paragraph (d) of §1.106. The rule permits the necessary showing to be made in different alternative ways. The necessary showing will be considered by the examiner to be present if the application files refer to assignments which are recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with §1.331 as long as the assignments conveyed the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization. A second alternative which can be used, if assignments have not been recorded, permits the examiner to consider copies of unrecorded assignments filed in each of the applications by the applicants as long as the unrecorded assignments convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization. A third alternative permits an affidavit or declaration to be filed by the common owner stating that there is common ownership and stating facts which explain why the affiant or declarant believes there is common ownership. Under this alternative, sufficient facts will have to be presented in order to enable the examiner to conclude that a prima facie case of common ownership exists. The fourth alternative permits other evidence to be used which would establish common ownership of the applications, e.g., a court decision determining the owner. The terms "person" and "organization" in the rule would include circumstances where the ownership resided in more than one person and/or organization as long as the applications are owned jointly by the same owners. Paragraph (e) also provides that where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration averring common ownership may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization who is empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization. A mere power of attorney to prosecute a patent application will not make an individual an official of the corporation or organization or empower the individual to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.

The wording of §1.106(d) amends the rule to reflect the change in 35 U.S.C. 103 and refers to the "entire" rights to the subject matter and the claimed invention to make it clear that the term "commonly owned" means wholly owned by the same person, persons, or organization.

If the person, persons, or organization owned less than 100 percent of the subject matter which would otherwise be prior art to the claimed invention, or less than 100 percent of the claimed invention, then common ownership would not exist. Common ownership requires that the person, persons, or organization own 100 percent of the subject matter and 100 percent of the claimed invention. As long as principal ownership rights to either the subject matter or the claimed invention reside in different persons or organizations common ownership does not exist. A license of the claimed invention to another by the owner where basic ownership rights are retained would not defeat ownership. The requirement for common ownership at the time the claimed invention was made is intended to preclude obtaining ownership of subject matter after the claimed invention was made in order to disqualify that subject matter as prior art against the claimed invention. The question of whether common ownership exists at the time the claimed invention was made is to be determined on the basis of the evidence presented and the facts of the particular case in question. Actual ownership of the subject matter and the claimed invention by the same individual or organization or a legal obligation to assign both the subject matter and the claimed invention to the same individual or organization must be in existence at the time the claimed invention was made in order for the subject matter to be disqualified as prior art. A moral or unenforceable obligation would not evidence common ownership.

The burden of establishing that subject matter is disqualified as prior art under the section is intended to be placed and reside upon the person or persons urging that the subject matter is disqualified. For example, the examiner would normally make what appears to be a proper 35 U.S.C. 102(f)/103 or 102(g)/103 rejection and the burden would be on the patent applicant to establish that subject matter is disqualified as prior art because it was commonly owned at the time the claimed invention was made. To place the burden upon the patent examiner would not be appropriate since evidence as to common ownership at the time the claimed invention was made might not be available to the patent examiner, but such evidence, if it exists, should be readily available to the patent applicant or the patentee.

The invention is made for purposes of the amendment to §103 when the conception is complete as defined in Mergenthaler v. Scudder, 11 App. D.C. 264, 1897 C.D. 724 (C.A.D.C. 1897), and in In re Tansel, 117 USPQ 188 (CCPA 1958).

> "The conception of the invention consists in the complete performance of the mental part of the inventive act. All that remains to be accomplished in order to perfect the act or instrument belongs to the department of construction, not invention. It is, therefore, the formation in the mind of the inventor of a definite and permanent idea of the complete and operative invention as it is thereafter to be applied in practice that constitutes an available conception within the meaning of the patent law."

Mergenthaler v. Scudder, supra, at page 731.

Paragraph (e) of §1.106 has been added in response to a comment that the rulemaking should leave no doubt as to the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver in one application on a related application. Paragraph (e) of §1.106 provides that the claims in any original application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the same subject matter is claimed in the application and the statutory invention registration. Paragraph (e) of §1.106 also provides that the claims in any reissue application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the reissue application seeks to claim subject matter which was not covered by claims issued in the patent prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration and which was the same subject matter waived in the statutory invention registration.

Section 1.108 is amended as proposed to delete the reference to filing a request under §1.139, which is being removed, and insert in its place a reference to a defensive publication.

A new section 1.110 is added as proposed to allow the examiner or other Office official to make inquiry as to the invention date, inventors and ownership at the time the invention was made when necessary for purposes of an Office proceeding.

Section 1.131 is amended to require that affidavits to overcome a rejection of a claim on a cited patent or publication be by the inventor or inventors of the subject matter of that claim. Section 1.131 has also been amended in response to a comment to permit the person qualified under §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 to make the required oath or declaration in appropriate circumstances.

Section 1.139 is being removed in view of the new statutory invention registration. The proposed rules made clear the intent to remove this section which established the defensive publication program although the section per se was not published as being removed. The defensive publication program is being replaced by the ability to obtain a statutory invention registration.

Section 1.193 is amended as proposed to change from twenty days to one month the time for filing a reply brief in response to an examiner's answer which raises new points of argument. This amendment is intended to simplify the docketing of this time period and make it consistent with the time period fixed for requesting an oral hearing in §1.194(b).

Section 1.293 is added to provide who may file a request for a statutory invention registration (SIR) and the requirements of such a request in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 157 added by Public Law 98–622. Paragraph (a) of §1.293 indicates that a request for publication of a statutory invention registration in a complete pending patent application for an original patent may be filed and be signed by the applicant, and any assignee of record, or the attorney or agent of record in the application. Paragraph (b) sets forth the requirements for a request for a statutory invention registration. Such a request must include:

(1) a waiver of the applicant's right to receive a patent. This waiver will become effective upon the date of publication. Therefore, it will be possible to petition to withdraw a request for publication of a statutory invention registration until such time that publication can not be terminated;

(2) payment of the fee for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration as set forth in §1.17(n) or (o). The fee is set at two levels to reflect the amount of resources used by the Patent and Trademark Office;

(3) a statement that the application meets the disclosure requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. This provision is considered desirable in order to prevent publication of defective and insufficient disclosures; and

(4) a statement that the application complies with the formal requirements of the rules of practice relating to printing. This provision is required in order to provide the printer with drawings and specification which are suitable for printing in substantially the same format as a patent.

A suggested format for use in filing a request for a statutory invention registration is as follows:

Paragraph (c) of §1.293 is added to define the effects of a waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration. The waiver is effective, upon publication of the SIR, to waive the inventor's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed in the SIR in any application for an original patent which is pending on, or filed after, the date of publication of the SIR. The waiver will affect pending or later applications the inventor filed as a joint inventor with others, but will not affect an application of another person, even if the application and the SIR were commonly owned. The waiver will affect a reissue application of an earlier patent of the inventor only to the extent that the reissue application seeks to enlarge the scope of the claims. Paragraph (c) of §1.293 has been modified from the proposal by inclusion of a reference to §1.106(e).

Section 1.294 is added as proposed to provide in paragraph (a) for a review of the request for publication of a statutory invention registration and the patent application to which it is directed. The request will be examined to determine if the requirements of §1.293 have been met. The application to which the request is directed will be examined to determine (1) if the subject matter of the application is appropriate for publication, (2) if the requirements for publication are met, and (3) if the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 and §1.293 are met. Under 35 U.S.C. 157, the Commissioner is authorized to publish a statutory invention registration, but is not required to do so. Thus, the Commissioner has discretion in determining whether or not a statutory invention registration should be issued on a particular patent. In circumstances where the subject matter was obviously not a patentable invention, was too informal to print, and so forth, the request to publish the statutory invention registration will be refused.

Paragraph (b) of §1.294 provides for notifying applicant of the results of the examination of the request for publication of the statutory invention registration. Paragraph (c) of §1.294 provides for the issuance of a notice of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration once the request has been examined and approved.

Section 1.295 is added to provide for the review of a final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration. The review would be by petition to the Commissioner for matters other than those arising from a rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 and by appeal for a rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112. The language of the final rule is slightly different from that proposed to emphasize that the Board either affirms or reverses decisions rather than rejections. Paragraph (a) also differs from the proposal by including, in response to a comment, a provision for requesting return of the petition fee if the necessity for the petition resulted from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.296 has been modified from the proposal to provide a specific period during which a request for a statutory invention registration may be withdrawn. Under §1.296, as modified, a request for a statutory invention registration may be withdrawn, at applicant's option, prior to the date of the notice of intent to publish a statutory invention registraiton issued pursuant to §1.294(c) by filing a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration. An applicant filing such a request to withdraw may also, under §1.296, request a refund of any amount paid in excess of the application filing fee and a handling fee of $100.00 which will be retained by the Office. Any request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration filed on or after the date of the notice of intent to publish pursuant to §1.294(c) must be in the form of a petition pursuant to §1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h).

Section 1.297 is added to provide for the publication of the statutory invention registration and of the notice of its publication in the Official Gazette. In response to a comment, §1.297 has been modified so that the statement on the statutory invention registration will specifically state that the statutory invention registration is not a patent.

Sections 1.301, 1.302 and 1.304 are amended as proposed to delete the requirement to give reasons for appeal when filing an appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in accordance with §414(a) of Public Law 98–620 which amended 35 U.S.C. 142, 143 and 144.

Section 1.378 is amended as proposed to delete from paragraph (a) the limitation that only applications filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982 may have the maintenance fee accepted after expiration of the patent. This change follows the change made by §404(b) of Public Law 98–622.

Section 1.431 is amended as proposed to provide for the later payment directly to the Receiving Office of the basic fee portion of the international fee and the transmittal and search fees within one month of the filing of an international application. The rule follows §361(d) of title 35 U.S.C. as amended by Public Law 98–622, to provide a one-month grace period from the date of filing of an international application for the payment of the basic international fee and the transmittal and search fees.

It should be noted that the designation fees continue to be required by 12 months after the priority date and that no subsequent grace period is provided in the Receiving Office for designation fees.

New paragraphs 1.431(d) and (e) incorporate into the regulations the provisions of PCT Rule 16 bis. Under these provisions the Receiving Office will charge any unpaid or insufficient fees to a deposit account maintained by the International Bureau. The applicant will then be notified by the International Bureau and be given one month to reimburse the amount charged plus a surcharge of 50%. The surcharge would not be less than 248 Swiss francs or more than 624 Swiss francs under the current fee schedule.

Section 1.445 is amended as proposed to clarify paragraph (a) (4) to clearly indicate that the national fee is credited by an amount of $250 only one time where a $500 search fee has been paid to the Patent and Trademark Office to act as an international searching authority. This is consistent with current practice. The special fee provisions in paragraph (a) (5) are being deleted in view of §402(g) of Public Law 98–622 which deleted the fee in 35 U.S.C. 376(a) (5). The wording of §1.445(a) (5) sets forth the surcharge required for filing of a national fee or oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date. Paragraph (a) (6) of §1.445 is added to require a fee of $20.00 for filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date. This makes the practice in international applications consistent with that in national applications where a fee of $20.00 is charged under §1.17(k) for processing an application filed with a specification in a non-English language.

Section 1.446 is amended as proposed to clarify the refund of a portion of the $500 search fee toward payment of the national fee.

Section 1.451 is amended as proposed to correct a rule citation in paragraph (b) and to amend paragraph (c) to provide for supplying a copy of the priority document to the Receiving Office in conformance with revised PCT Rule 17.1.

Section 1.461 is amended as proposed to delete provisions which relate to the applicant transmitting the record copy to the International Bureau. Provisions for such alternative transmittal were deleted from PCT Rule 22, effective Jan. 1, 1985. Accordingly, since the PCT rules no longer provide for such transmittal, the provisions therefor in the U.S. rules are also being deleted.

Response to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the proposed rule changes. Six letters submitting written comments were received. Oral testimony was presented by four persons at the public hearing conducted on Feb. 8, 1985 and the oral testimony of two of these persons (representing the American Intellectual Property Law Association and Intellectual Property Owners, Inc.) was supplemented by written statements. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. Comments suggesting modifications to the proposed rules appear below with responses thereto.

Comment: One Comment suggested that 37 CFR 1.11 be amended to create a waiver of secrecy of an application as of the date of filing of a notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The comment suggests that secrecy could be maintained upon request by the appellant in such a situation.

Reply: The change was not published in the proposed rulemaking and is considered to be too substantial a change to be adopted without publication as a proposal to allow public comment. Further, if the suggestion were adopted appellants might simply include a request for secrecy with every notice of appeal.

Comment: One comment suggested that the $120.00 petition fee under §1.17(h) for review of a refusal to publish a statutory invention registration under §1.295 be returned to the petitioner if the refusal to publish is found to have occurred only through an administrative error of the PTO.

Reply: This suggestion has been adopted by an additional sentence being added to §1.295(a).

Comment: Three comments suggested that the proposed fees for a statutory invention registration were too high. One comment suggested the elimination of the fee proposed in §1.17(o).

Reply: Although lower fees would certainly be preferred by the public, the Office must recover its costs of processing and publishing statutory invention registrations. The two levels of fees permit an applicant whose application has not had a first Office action mailed to pay a minimum amount while those filing a request for a statutory invention registration later would share the average additional costs. The amounts proposed are the current estimates of expected costs and cannot be reduced. This will become apparent when it is realized that about $250.00 of the $400.00 fee which has been established for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration prior to the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to §1.104 is the cost of printing the statutory invention registration and does not include in-house publication staff costs. The remainder of the fee is used to cover the administrative processing costs and the limited examination which is required to be given pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 157. The higher fee of $800.00 which has been established is necessary to cover the additional costs to the Office when an applicant requests publication of a statutory invention registration after the office has begun examination of the application on which the applicant is requesting publication of a statutory invention registration. Since the rules permit the request to be filed at any time during the examination process substantial additional examination costs, including possibly appeal costs, may have been incurred in a particular application prior to the date on which the request for publication is made. Accordingly, the additional $400.00 is required to cover the extra costs to the Office where the applicant belatedly requests publication of a statutory invention registration. Applicants can avoid the higher costs to themselves and the Office by requesting publication of the statutory invention registration in a timely fashion prior to the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to §1.104. The possibility of reducing fees below costs to the Office does not exist since the legislative history of 35 U.S.C. 157 does not reflect any intent that other Office fees or appropriations be used to defer the costs of statutory invention registrations. Further, most of the comments received urged that the fees be set as low as possible, but not below the level necessary to recover costs.

Comment: One comment suggested that the Patent and Trademark Office should investigate less expensive procedures for printing statutory invention registrations to reduce the costs and thereby lower the fees.

Reply: If the registrations are not printed by a system using computer tape, the subject matter of the registrations would not be easily searchable in paper form and would not be fully available for searching under the planned automated "paperless" system. Further, the "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H. R. 6286 on the floor of the House stated that the statutory invention registration "would be classified and cross-referenced, disseminated to foreign patent offices, stored in the Patent and Trademark Office computer tapes, made available in commercial data bases, and announced in the Official Gazette of the PTO." (130 Cong. Rec. H 10526 (1984), column 3). These uses of the statutory invention registrations preclude use of any informal method of printing which would be different from the method used for the printing of patents.

Comment: A number of comments were received concerning §1.48(b). The comments related to (1) the propriety of the fee required, (2) the incorporation of paragraph (b) into current §1.48, (3) the inclusion in the rules of a fixed and definite time period to correct inventorship, (4) the inclusion in the rules of a provision to add inventors claiming previously disclosed but unclaimed subject matter, and (5) a suggestion that the change in inventorship be simplified and possibly effected by a statement by applicant's attorney.
